WHY IS IT THE BEST COTTON GIN IN THE SOUTH ?- Because it is WHY IS IT THE BEST COTTON GIN IN THE SOUTH ?-Because it is built apon improved principles, having Revolving Heads in the ends of the Cotton Box, which revolve with the roll of seed cotton, thus preventing that fric-tion which occurs at the end of the cotton box in all other gins. Hence the PRATT GIN does not break nor choke, carries a harder rall of seed cotton on the saws than other gins, and, in consequence of this, cleans the seed better, and of course, yields more lint cotton. This is common sense, and if you don't believe what we say, write to any of the gentlemen whose names and postoffices appear be-low, all of whom are using the Pratt Gin and will have no other.

THE SNOW.

BY CYNTHIE.

The snow is falling sofdy. It has come up unawares, And little flakes from lofty skies. Drive 'way all our cares.

Now the snow is shining brightly. As it covers all the landscape, For the sun shines out upon it And the children snow-men make.

Snow-men make, with sticks for noses. And the eyes of buttons are, While the tongues of old red flannel, Dangle from the lips afar.

They are innocent, the children, Thus the snow-men which they build Are good lessons for the older, Who in life's arts are skille i.

For the snow-men when they build them Stand there, oh, such merry sights, But the sun comes out and melts them. Fades them eyer from our sight.

Thus it is we build castles, In the portals of the air, But alas! they fade and leave us, Leave us wondering, pondering there.

A Scope of the Conspiracy.

New York Star.

The Republican conspiracy to criminally retain power by subverting the Federal Union of States contemplated the defeat of the will of agencies:

Democratic representation in Congress was to be cut down by a false census.

Republican gerrymanders in States now Democratic were to be enforced by Federal law against the reformatory action of State authorities' pending a general gerrymander of the whole country by Congressional action.

The State direction of elections to Federal positions was to be abrogated so that the Republican Machine leaders might carry out their purpose "to manage the voting, the coun ting and the returning of the votes ourselves," in order to clutch "with the mailed hand' the prizes of all close contests.
