A correspondent of the Raleigh News and Observer suggests the following Presidential ticket for 1910, to run on the Chicago platform of 1896: For President—William J. Bryan of Nebraska. For Vice-President—Robert A. Van Wyck of New York.

Rev. I. H. Hicks, who has made a reputation as a weather prophet, says we are to have wind and rain storms 7th to 10th; more storm conditions 11th and 12th; warm rains and thunder 13th and 14th; violent activity of the elements 24th. If this all comes true November weather is going to do about a plenty, and if we all come through safe, there will be more cause to observe Thanksgiving Day on the 25th than can be found in the President's proclamation.

Hon. W. J. Bryan took great interest in the elections last Tuesday. The week previous he was in Ohio and made several speeches with telling effect. Commenting on the result there the election, he says:

"The Republicans everywhere secured the Republican advantage, and in view of losses sustained by them in almost every State, it would seem that Republican policy are not being indorsed at the polls.

"The sentiment in favor of the Chicago platform shows a healthy growth throughout the country. It helps our opponents will now admit that silver is not dead.

"The attempt to secure international bimetalism has proved a failure, and it is now more apparent than ever that the people of the United States must fight for themselves on the financial question.

"Free and unlimited coinage at 16 to 1 is nearer now than it was a year ago. High tariff upon a gold basis has disappointed those Republicans who looked to it for aid.

"Taken as a whole, the returns are very encouraging. I think I vote the entire vote of Democrats, Populists and Silver Republicans when I say the fight will be continued with even more earnestness until the gold monopoly is broken and the money trust is overthrown. The fusion forces increase their percentage in Nebraska, and probably their actual majority."

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8, '07. Today's cabinet meeting was a somewhat gloomy gathering and Mr. McKinley was chief mourner. Secretary Sherman looked as mournful as the rest of them, but if he felt so it was because he feared that the official count in Ohio would not meet Democratic expectations by making Boss Hanna's return to the Senate impossible, and not because of the general rebuke administered to the administration by the increase in the Democratic vote and the decrease in the Republican vote in every State in which an election was held. When speaking for publication, the Republicans try to make light of the results and to claim that such is always the case at the first oil year election held under a new administration, but they do not talk that sort of rot among themselves. They know the extraordinary efforts made by their National Committee to hold together the vote given to McKinley last year and the enormous amount of money spent in those efforts, and they see the results for just what they are—a popular rebuke to Mr. McKinley and his administration. WICHARD ITEMS.

WICHARD, N. C., Nov. 3, 1907. Capt. J. W. Roberson went to Washington to-day.

"Eating" John Fleming and Joe Thigpen spent Saturday night here.

The wet weather for the last two weeks has raised the pea crop in this section.

A good many people passed through on the way to the mill at Parker's Chapel Sunday.

Miss Mary Whitehead, of Oatley, began a public school at Briery Swamp this week.

J. B. Edgerton, of Goldsboro, was here last week in the interest of the East Carolina Land and Improvement Company.

Miss Blanche Daughler, of Whiteakers, arrived Saturday night and began teaching at the school near ex-Sheriff Moore's, Monday.

Quite a number of people gathered around the depot yesterday and today to see Prof. Gentry's Pony and Dog Show as it passed through on the cars.

T. L. Joyner, Railroad agent, and Bruce Williams, of Bargaw, attorney at law, W. A. W. Hilliard, were here last Friday investigating some claims against their company.

There was a "cessant" bill posted in town this afternoon advertising the Washington fair. If they would get their judgment to do their work it would have more effect on our people.

NEEDS IMPROVING
EDITOR REFLECTOR:—Was there ever a better time than now for work on the Avenue to be done and the Avenue made a pleasure to drive upon? Will it be done or will it continue to be the most ugly street in town?

There is more travel on this street than any other street in town and its condition is abominable. The roads are now over. The winter promises to be a cold and severe one. This street will continue to be the most public thoroughfare and demands more attention than any other and there is no excuse why it should not receive the proper attention. If the Mayor and Policemen will drive over this street once a day for a week probably it will receive some attention. There are many holes that could be easily filled. The writer heard many comments this week upon the condition of this street as an all complimentary to the town government. I hope they will consider the matter at once. T.

Ernest Harding Dead
This was the sad news that flew through the community last Thursday morning and as it passed from one to another, the shacking intelligence carried with it a darkening gloom, which was probably intense. Although Ernest was only sixteen years of age, he had already worked his way to the front rank and stood there as one of the most energetic young men in the community. For his gentle, sunny disposition he had no equal. It was his highest and greatest pleasure to contribute to the happiness of his brother and sister and all others who came in contact with him.

He was taken by the Rev. Alan Graves in the Episcopal cemetery at St. John's beside his father and mother. His early childhood had become one of the most happy years in the Sun-derland and he grew rapidly in intellect. His family, the community, the Sunday school and all other friends united in preparing for his death and his good young man.

From which news every wake to weep.
A eulogy and funeral service were conducted by the last of 1907.

New Directory
Minister W. S. Ankin has just had a new telephone directory printed for distribution among subscribers. The exchange has more than a hundred names and we don't know how many other towns in the State has a better telephone service than Greenville.

Broke an Arm
Our quarterly correspondent informs us that Air J. J. Patrick, near Quinners, was badly hurt by a fall Wednesday. He was on a ladder painting his house and fell a distance of 20 feet, breaking his right arm and being otherwise badly injured.

STATE NEWS.

Gen. Theo. L. Clifton died in the State hospital at Morganton, Wednesday.

The Davis Military school at Winston, has gone into the hands of a receiver.

Two men have been sent to the penitentiary from Carter county for stealing turkeys.

According to the report of the secretary of state there are more than 2,000 insurance agents in the State.

Oxford has a Klondike store. Winston has a Pupkin Party and Greensboro is going to have Klondike Diggins.

Robert A. Van Wyck, who on Tuesday was elected Mayor of Greenville, New York, is a North Carolina by birth and graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

The Asheville Gazette says that last Friday a young man named Tanguan living in Jackson county, while playing with a school mate, attempted to jump a ditch and fell, breaking his neck. Death ensued a few moments thereafter.

The old town well in Richland, Oconee county, was cleaned out the other day, among the articles brought to the surface were 27 tin dippers, 19 pocket knives, 7 pounds of keys, 5 tuckers, 15 feet of chain, and what is supposed to be the remains of a glass factory.—Johannes Herald.

The Wilmington Star says that Tuesday afternoon, seven miles from Wilmington, Owen Harris, a young child of 15 years of age, while out hunting, shot his companion, John Craig, aged 15 years of age, in the left side of the head, which caused death four hours later. The shooting was accidental.

A. R. Wortham, a lawyer, from Henderson, who lately made this city his home, became violently insane, and was placed in the asylum last Saturday. Today he died, as they being the cause. His body was sent to Henderson. His wife got a telegram saying her brother-in-law had dropped dead and that her father was dying. It was surely a sorrowful day for her.—Charlotte Observer.

A True Bill.
Strong drink excites passion, drives the memory, dazes beauty, diminishes the strength, inflames the blood, causes external, internal and incurable wounds, it is a witch to the senses, a devil to the soul, a taint to the purse, the beggar's companion, the wife's wrong, the children's sorrow, makes a strong man weak and a wise man a fool.—Oxford Ledger.

B. Y. P. U.
The B. Y. P. U. held a meeting in the Baptist church Friday night. Interesting talks were made by Prof. W. H. Riddle and Rev. A. W. Sizer and the various committees for the proper work of the Union were appointed. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, 17th inst.

ORIGINAL OBSERVATIONS.

Made by the Orange Va. Observer.
"The tooth of time" is the one extracted on credit.

If ignorance is bliss, more ignorance is blisster.

As the evenings grow longer the oil bills grow stronger.

The cowboy supplies the fuel that warms the cattle range.

Lawsuits are too expensive for most people to go courting in.

A girl certainly waits her energy when she hugs another girl.

Many young ladies have students instead of pupils in their eyes.

Unway rests the number seven foot which wears a number five shoe.

When the offer goes out to sack the man he is generally within hailing distance.

And now the pop-corn evenings have arrived, but Orange girls prefer pop-the-question evenings.

Some old dinner customs still prevail. The Romans used to recline at their banquets, and the habit of lying at public dinner still continues.

Later Election News.
D. finite information from the election where the contest was close has been had to get. The latest we could learn from Ohio today was that the State is republican by a very small majority, Bushnell is elected Governor but there is yet doubt if the majority in the Legislature will be enough to elect Hanna.

Van Wyck's plurality has been increased to 85,000 in New York and Democrats have swept the entire State.

The Republicans will control the Legislature of Maryland by a very small majority on joint ballot. This will elect a Republican U. S. Senator from that State.

The Democratic majority in Kentucky is 25,000.

Democrats came near getting the whole of the Virginia Legislature.

Things in Kansas look Republican.
