The Sunshine of Business.

There is some cause for the skepticism of the semi-occasional advertiser as to the good results of advertising. He has spent money for the publication of business announcements, and has had at the most merely a spurt of appreciable returns therefrom, after which his trade again stagnated. For this reason he is prone to jump at the conclusion that advertising does not make business grow. Naturally, in his case it does not. If the sun should shine only about six times a year, Nature's great scheme of development would be checked. It is that marvelous and never ending regularity of the great orb of day which produces the comforts and luxuries of mankind. In like manner persistent advertising stimulates and renders profitable the tradesman's business. —Philadelphia Record.

Think It Public Property.

A man who has built up one of the finest newspaper businesses in the State says: "My greatest difficulty in journalism is to make people understand that a newspaper is not public property, that it does not belong to the public, but is a private enterprise, under the control of its owner and manager. People insist on using the columns of a paper at their own will, and are angry if they are refused admission on their own terms. They dictate as they would not think of doing to any other business men, and cannot understand that their demands should not be acceded to, regardless of the policy or interests of the paper in question." —Newspaperman.

Love the Farm and Farm Home

"The only drawback to any intelligent country community enjoying educational and refining privileges is lack of co-operation between the farmers themselves," writes Mrs. John B. Sines, of "The Ladies' Home Journal." "Whenever a farming community realize that in themselves lie the means of educating their sons and daughters to love the farm and the farm home, and that because one does not have the privileges of the town or largeness there is no reason why he should stagnate either mentally or socially, they will have solved the problem of how to live happily and contentedly on a farm."

Confidence Leads to Success.

Self confidence is a mighty factor in the commercial world, as in all walks of life. The business man who has faith in his own ability and resources may be sure of ultimate success. The career of Benjamin Franklin is one of the most conspicuous of this fact. When this great American suggested his belief in the possibilities of electricity the Royal Society of London ridiculed his ideas; but after his memorable kite experiment he was made a Fellow of that same Royal Society. Thus it is, in the matter of advertising, with the doubting Thomases and the confident Franklins among the merchants. The latter are sure of the possibilities of profitable returns from good newspaper advertisements, and their confidence is never misplaced in this respect. —Philadelphia Record.

Democrats cannot be too careful in considering the moral character of the men, whom they appoint or elect to any office or position whatever. The Fusionists have been severely criticised, and deservedly so, because of the bad character of many of the men elected or appointed by them to office. The people have a right to expect the Democrats to do better than the Fusionists did. No man should be appointed to any position or elected to any office simply because he is a Democrat. And he should not only be qualified to discharge his duties properly, but he should also be a man of good moral character. We regret, therefore, to note that among the fertilizer inspectors recommended for appointment is a man, against whose moral character the most serious charges have been publicly made. We venture the prediction that he will be very promptly dismissed. —Pittsburgh Record.

Prevention

better than cure. Tutt's Liver Pills will not only cure, but if taken in time will prevent Sick Headache, dyspepsia, biliousness, malaria, constipation, jaundice, torpid liver and kindred diseases. TUTT'S Liver PILLS ABSOLUTELY CURE.

The Man Who Succeeds.

Success in business is not to be reached nowadays in the easy-going method that obtained a generation or two ago. Times have changed, and people have changed with them. Push is the only thing that will carry a man ahead, and it is the liveliest pusher that gets there first. As a general rule, the chronic pusher is a chronic advertiser. Printers' ink is the lubricating oil of his business, and he never allows them to lag or creep for want of it. Hard times and poor business are incentives to increasing his advertising, rather than any argument for him for cutting it down. It will pay the semi-occasional advertiser to ponder over the pusher's success.

NO RIGHT TO UGLINESS.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always be attractive, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down she will never be attractive. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong, healthy, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

It is a Warning.

During the tobacco season there are a number of dead bodies who make it their business to get money on the pretense of having tobacco. Last fall a negro tried that game, and got money from three or four of the warehousemen. This morning he was found dead on the road. His neighbor would have been made aware by the fact that he has a family to look after. —Wilson News.

A Remarkable Child.

J. E. Painter has quite a remarkable baby, daughter. Little Emma is eleven months old and weighed at the time of her birth 10 pounds. The little child is in good health and is bright and healthy. The remarkable point about little Emma is that she has succeeded in gaining one pound in weight during her life. She now weighs only 11 pounds. —Winston Journal.

A novel case was tried at the Federal Court at Charlotte last week. The defendant was indicted and tried for "obstructing the United States mail and punishing the mail carrier," but was acquitted as he ought to have been.

The facts of the case were that, last August, a negro mail rider stopped at a farmer's watermelon patch and stole some of his melons. The farmer saw him and whipped him. And for this he was indicted in the Federal Court. —Pittsburgh Record.

The man who puts up a ladder that does not quite reach the point he desires to reach is like the man who does just a little too little advertising. Both would be as well off if they did nothing at all.

By the explosion of an oil can with which he was trying to start a fire, Mrs. Enoch Bawinski and her little daughter were both burned to death at Pittsburg, Pa.

The dogs in Barnwell county, S. C., are returned at a valuation of $12,830, while the assessed value of the entire property of the entire county in sheep and goats is $201. That one half of the world does not know how the other half lives, proves that there are some persons who attend strictly to their own business.

TYPE AND PRESS.

WHO WANTS IT? SPEAK QUICK.

THE REFLECTOR recently purchased two printing office outfits and has a quantity of surplus material that will be sold cheap. There is a cylinder press large enough to print a nine column paper, in splendid condition, and a quantity of Small Pica, Long Primer, Brevier and Nonpareil body type. We can furnish a complete outfit large enough for a six or seven column paper.

Specimens of the body type are shown in this advertisement, the type being taken from the case just as it runs, so it shows for itself how well it prints. This is the Small Pica size of which there is a pair of cases.

Then here is a paragraph set from the Long Primer size. We have 4 pairs of these cases. In buying this type you do not get something that is worn out and cast aside, but a good serviceable type, capable of much wear.

Here is something a little smaller, Brevier size. There are 2 pairs of these and it is a bargain for anybody interested in printing. Any printer who can use any of this type can make in a week some extra work and type one of these type will be sold if no more is wanted.

THE FRIENDLY TIP.

A celebrated physician writes the following on nagging women: "Nine times out of ten the woman who nags is tired. One time out of ten she is hateful. The cases that come under the physician's eye are those of the women whose tired and who have been tired so long that they are suffering from some form of nervous disease. They may think they are only tired, but in fact, they are ill, and it is that sort of illness in which the will is weakened, and the patient gives way to annoyance they would ignore if in a healthy condition. In such case the woman often suffers more from her nagging than the husband or the children with whom she finds fault. She knows she does it. She does not intend to do it. She suffers in her own self respect when she does it, and, in the depths of her soul, she longs for something to stop it. "The condition is usually brought on by broken sleep, improper food, want of some other exercise than housekeeping, and of enough out-of-door and practical objective thinking. It is often the most unselfish and most affectionate of women who fall into this state. They are too much devoted to their families to give themselves a little cycle, for instance, or enough of any healthy exercise or diversion, enough of afternoon naps, perhaps. In such cases the husband is often to blame because he gives nagging instead of looking straight for the fundamental cause of the trouble. There are many cases where such a woman begins by showing a longing for a little more tenderness, an invitation to a concert, or a very little dinner out with her husband. The man who does not take that as a sign is responsible for pretty much all that follows, and sometimes it amounts to something very like criminal responsibility."

Three Members of a Family go Insane.

In the Illinois Northern Hospital for the Insane at Elgin there died on Friday last Ellen L. Gibson. In the same institution is her daughter, Gertrude, and her brother, Elmer E. Day. All of them lost their reason through the study of Christian Science.

All the victims were persons of apparently keen minds. Day was a druggist in Elgin and had a remunerative business. Mrs. Gibson lived in Blue Island, where she was much respected by her neighbors. Her daughter was a kindergarten teacher in the public schools of Chicago. In none of them was there any lack of mental balance until long after they had become devoted to the beliefs of Christian Science.

Mrs. Gibson and her daughter took up Christian Science in 1897 under the teachings of the Rev. J. C. F. Grumbine, then of Chicago, but now of Syracuse. The brother Elmer E. Day was at one time an alderman in Elgin. In June, 1898, he went to Chicago on a visit, and while there he was seized with acute mania, developing with homicidal and suicidal tendencies. One of Day's peculiarities was to advise customers of his drug store not to buy medicines or drugs, telling them they would not need them if they had faith in Christ. In this manner he ruined his business, but neither Day nor his niece can recover. —Elgin, Ill., Dispatch.
