ORIGINAL OBSERVATIONS.

Made by The Orange Va. Observer.

Every man who is seely is not a farmer.

Its good chestnut that doesn't catch a worm.

The photographer is the man who is an expert at making faces.

The average little fellow who comes to this country has no other way.

Unkind words are the briars that choke the flowers in the garden of the heart.

If some people were to tell the truth they would be looked upon as great humorists.

Take love out of life and there would be no sunshine in the soul or happiness in the heart.

The supply of truth is getting so very small that it is now used mostly for veneering falsehood.

Queer Case Before a Magistrate.

A remarkable case was tried here yesterday morning before Squire Eckel. W. L. Hanner and F. M. Keith are contractors living in this county. Some days ago Hanner owed Keith $10, and gave him a check for this amount, payable to Keith, or order. Keith received the check after the banks were closed and asked Hiatt & Lamb, Greensboro merchants, to cash it. They did so, but found out shortly afterwards that the check had not been endorsed by Keith. Mr. Lamb then sought Keith, but was unable to find him. He happened, however, to meet Hanner, and thinking the matter might be simplified, he got Hanner to change the check from "or order" to "or bearer." But, strange enough, so soon as Keith heard of this he had both Lamb and Hanner indicted for forgery. They were tried before Squire Eckel yesterday and found out to court. —Greensboro Cor. Raleigh Post.

A Washington man has received a letter from a republican friend in Ohio, from which the following is extracted: "You ought to see Hanna. He has the scars of his life, and believes that McLean is going to win, unless he can get the disgruntled republicans back into the traces. Heard his speechman have dropped their bulldozing tactics to wards republicans and are talking as sweet as pie to them. We are enjoying his scare, and will decide later whether we'll stay at home or election day."

Mr. George Klutz, a well-to-do distiller and a good farmer, from below Salisbury, was in town yesterday, laboring under the delusion that he was the richest man in the world. He gave a barber one hundred dollars to shave him, three money right and left in the streets, and sent telegram after telegram to Pierpont Morgan, George Van derbilt and other financiers in New York telling them to buy up all the railroads in the country for him. Some wag in New York telegraphed a reply to him that the Southern railroad had been purchased for him, and that he now was sole owner, which he finally believed. Klutz cashed some six hundred dollars worth of the Southern's pay checks and afterwards lost them. An effort was made to have him placed in the state hospital at Morganton.—Salisbury special to Raleigh Post.

Pays to Keep Cotton Clean.

It is a mistaken idea that some farmers have that it does not pay to keep their cotton clean. Mr. Jere Brown, one of our good farmers who has always been careful to keep the cotton as free from dirt and trash as possible, had two bales sold in Norfolk two or three days ago that sold above the market price. Messrs. W. D. Bonafree and Company, who sold it wrote that it brought the "highest price" and that he had sold it for $100.00. It is the best cotton I have ever seen. —Patron and Observer.

A Cincinnati drummer happened to put up at a table at Columbus with a number of legislators, and the curiously way in which they addressed each other greatly amused the commercial traveler. It was, "Will the gentleman from Hardin do this," and "the gentleman from Franklin to that." They invariably spoke to each other as the gentleman from whatever county they happened to land from. For ten or fifteen minutes the drummer bore it in silence. Then he suddenly crushed the statesman by singing out in stentorian tones to the water, "Will the gentleman from Ethiopia please pass the butter?" That ended the "gentleman from" business.

Rough on the Old man.

A good story is told of a young man who, besides being of the spendthrift order, is a splendid mimic and can imitate his father's voice to a nicety.

Not long ago the young man went, without delay, an amount of money, and he knew that the father would treat a request for the same with cold contempt. Waiting till he knew that his father would be away he went to a telephone call room and rang up the office, calling for the cashier. The cashier was forthcoming, and when he was at the other end the young man imitated his sire's voice: "I say, Blank, if that scapegrace of a son of mine comes round and asks for $20 don't give it to him. Only give him $10."

The cashier promised that he would fulfill the demands. Not long after the son called at the office and demanded $20. He was refused by the conscientious cashier, and, apparently in anger, the young man contended himself with the $10.

When the old man reached the office there was a scene.

The circus people are complaining very bitterly at the high taxes on shows fixed by the last legislature. The Robinson circus cut out its riding to get rid of part of the tax, and they say they will not come into the state again until the tax is reduced. The Wallace people are paying their full tax everywhere, but they say it will not be possible for them to visit us again until it is reduced. In Raleigh for instance, their taxes amounted to $657. Orinda the state got $200; the county $240; the United States $100 and the city $157.—News and Observer.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

No woman ever tells the truth about what her clothes cost.

The women have got up a new story now that girls' feet are bigger at seventeen, and after that get smaller.

When a girl begins to talk much about her soul it makes you think that her stomach is out of order.

There are only two kinds of men in the world—one is afraid of every woman and the other is afraid of no woman.

A girl is never really satisfied with a new hat unless it costs either like an angel's wing or else like a cabbage.—New York Press.

Col. Carr For Senator.

In an interview in the Richmond Times of Saturday, Col. Julian S.
Carr announces that he will be a candidate for election as United States Senator to succeed Marion Butler, whose term expires March 1901.

Col. Carr said in the interview with the Times:

"Yes, I am a candidate for the Senate to succeed Butler, and am in the race to win," said Col. Julian S. Carr, of North Carolina, at the Jefferson last night. "I have some fine men against me," he continued.

"There's F. M. Simmons, chairman of our State Democratic Committee, and a thorough-going astute politician; ex-Governor Jarvis, twice Governor of North Carolina, and a former Senator, and Mayor A. M. Waddell of Wilmington, who has also served in Congress; and where part in the late troubles gave him a good place in the hearts of the white people."

"If I win, I shall feel that I have been greatly complimented, for all of the other aspirants are high-toned Christian gentlemen, who stand well with the people."

"Our campaign will not be characterized by a display of acrimonious feeling—certainly so far as I am concerned. My opponents are my personal friends."

Col. Carr felt confident that he could win in a contest before the people, but he was not so sure that the opportunity would present itself for such an expression of the popular will.—Raleigh Post.

There will be more than 100 Democratic members of the Fifty-sixth Congress, an increase of forty over the Democratic membership of the preceding Congress, and already there is some contest over the Democratic leadership. It is wholly limited, however, to southern members, among whom are John H. Bankhead of Alabama, and J. D. Richardson of Tennessee.
Mr. Richardson has been in Washington off and on all the summer,

New York and to New England.
He is a veteran of eight Congresses Congressman Richardson, who is a resident of Murfreesboro, is a native Tennesseean, and served in the Confederate army during the war, his legislative service having begun in the Nashville Legislature of 1871. He is one of the most distinguished Freemasons in the United States, having been Grand Master of the Masons of Tennessee twenty-five years ago, and Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter of the Royal Arch Masons of that State ten years later. He has received the thirty-third degree.—New York Sun.

AN ARIZONA WONDER.

A PETRIFIED FOREST THAT IS A MAR-VEL OF BEAUTY.

It covers a hundred square miles and is a place of astonishing beauty in a beautiful country of green valleys and mountains.

The territory of Arizona is a vast museum of natural curiosities, including many of the most wonderful in the world. The atmosphere, the climate, the mountains, the soil, the rivers, the forests are filled with phenomena of which few have heard else. In the desert, 200 miles square, with Flagstaff as a center, are spread out a variety of wonders of which the people of this country have little or no conception, but if they were in Europe or Asia thousands of our citizens would cross the ocean to see them.
Being within only two or three days' journey of Chicago and east of access by frequent trains of sleeping and dining cars and other modern luxuries of travel, they are overlooked by the multitude and are practically unknown.

To my mind, next to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, the most interesting and impressive of the natural wonders of this great Arizona museum is the petrified forest, which covers nearly 100 square miles, within easy distance, either on foot or horseback, from Billings station, on the Santa Fe railroad, but it can be more easily reached by carriage from Holbrook, where better accommodations can be found. The government explorers have christened it Chaco Canyon.

The surface of the ground for miles and miles around is covered with ge-lantic logs three or four feet in diameter, petrified to the core. Many of them are translucent. Some are almost transparent. All present the most beautiful shades of blue, yellow, pink, purple, red and gray. Some are like ge-lantic amethysts, some resemble the smoky topaz and some are as pure and white as alabaster. All show the characteristic of petrified wood, and if the material were not so abundant it would be a most valuable commodity.
Where you can get a carload of petrified logs for nothing you are not likely to pay 125 cents for it.

A bird's eye view of the petrified forests on a sunny day reveals a scene of kaleidoscopic beauty. The surface of each resembles an infinite variety of patterns. The logs are of all sizes, from a few inches to a foot, and are scattered all over the place. They are so numerous that they form a sort of carpet. The logs are so numerous that they form a sort of carpet. The logs
