Reflections of a Bachelor.

No woman ever tells the truth about what her clothes cost.

The women have got up a new story now that girls' feet are bigger at seventeen, and after that get smaller.

When a girl begins to talk much about her feet it makes you think that her stomach is out of order.

There are only two kinds of men in the world—one is afraid of every woman and the other is afraid of no woman.

A girl is never really satisfied with a new hat unless it looks either like an angel's wing or else like a cabbage.—New York Press.

Col. Carr For Senator.

In an interview in the Richmond Times of Saturday, Col. Julian S. Carr announces that he will be a candidate for election as United States Senator to succeed Marion Butler, whose term expires March 1901.

Col. Carr said in the interview with the Times:

"Yes, I am a candidate for the Senate to succeed Butler, and am in the race to win," said Col. Julian S. Carr, of North Carolina, at the Jefferson last night.

"I have some fine men against me," he continued; "there's F. M. Simmons, chairman of our State Democratic Committee, and a thorough-going politician; ex-Governor Jarvis, twice Governor of North Carolina, and a former Senator, and Mayor A. M. Waddell of Wilmington, who has also served in Congress; and where part in the late troubles gave him a good place in the hearts of the white people."

"If I win, I shall feel that I have been greatly complimented, for all the other aspirants are high-toned Christian gentlemen, who stand well with the people."

"Our campaign will not be characterized by a display of acrimonious feeling—certainly so far as I am concerned. My opponents are my personal friends."

Col. Carr felt confident that he could win a contest before the people, but he was not so sure that the opportunity would present itself for such an expression of the popular will.—Raleigh Post.

There will be more than 100 Democratic members of the Fifty-sixth Congress, an increase of forty over the Democratic membership of the preceding Congress, and already there is some contest over the Democratic leadership. It is wholly limited, however, to southern members, among whom are John H. Bankhead of Alabama, and J. D. Richardson of Tennessee.

Mr. Richardson has been in Washington off and on all the summer, and has made a number of trips to New York and to New England. He is a veteran of eight Congresses and is an excellent parliamentarian. Congressman Richardson, who is a resident of Murfreesboro, is a native Tennessean, and served in the Confederate army during the war, his legislative service having begun in the Nashville Legislature of 1871. He is one of the most distinguished Freemen in the United States, having been Grand Master of the Masons of Tennessee twenty-five years ago, and Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter of the Royal Arch Masons of that State ten years later. He has received the thirty-third degree.—New York Sun.

The largest Spanish mackerel seen in this market came on the W. & N. Railroad yesterday afternoon. It weighed 32 pounds and was purchased by Major Dixon. It was shipped from Jacksonville, Owsley county.—Wilmington Star.

Some people are spoken of as having "one foot in the grave," but there is a Michiganian who has a whole leg in the grave, and he goes to that grave once a week in the summer time to put flowers on it. That leg was attached to him, too.

AN ARIZONA WONDER. A PETERED FOREST THAT IS A MARVEL OF BEAUTY.

It covers a hundred square miles and is a case of GILBERTO'S MAGIC in a beautiful array of colors.

The territory of Arizona is a vast museum of natural curiosities, including many of the most wonderful in all the world.

The mountains, the soil, the climate, the forests are filled with phenomena of which the world has no conception, but if they were in Europe or Asia, thousands of our citizens would cross the ocean to see them.

Being within only two or three days' journey of Chicago and east of us, by frequent trains of sleeping and dining cars, and other modern luxuries of travel, they are overlooked by the multitude and are practically unknown.

To my mind, next to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, the most interesting and impressive of the natural wonders of this great Arizona museum is the petrified forest, which covers nearly 100 square miles, within easy distance, either on foot or horseback, from Billings station, on the Santa Fe railroad, but it can be more easily reached by carriage from Holbrook, Arizona. The government explores have christened it Chalko Canyon.

The surface of the ground for miles and miles around is covered with gigantic logs three or four feet in diameter, petrified to the core. Many of them are translucent. Some are almost transparent. All present the most beautiful shades of blue, yellow, pink, purple, red and gray.

Some are so translucent that the sun's rays can be seen passing through them. Some resemble the smoky logs and some are as pure and white as alabaster.

At Holbrook, Arizona, the petrified forest is a fine example of the work of nature. It is a fine example of the work of nature. It is a fine example of the work of nature.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From the local correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 9, '99.

There is a possibility that Admiral Dewey will be the republican candidate for President, next year, instead of President McKinley.

A movement has been started by prominent republicans which has that object in view, under certain contingencies.

Admiral Dewey has not been consulted and has nothing whatever to do with it.

The men in this movement are not honoring Admiral Dewey or turning Mr. McKinley down.

They are after keeping the republican party in power for another Presidential term.

They are afraid that Hamilton and Algerian will handicap Mr. McKinley to such an extent that it will be impossible to re-elect him.

Their idea is to get as many prominent party men as possible to agree that if after looking carefully over the ground, McKinley's re-election should be thought doubtful, they will nominate Dewey, with or without Mr. McKinley's consent.

The success of this movement will depend largely upon the outcome of the next campaign against the Philippines; if the war over there isn't ended soon, Mr. McKinley will be still further handicapped.

Although he has more than one declared that he would not accept the nomination for Vice President, it has all along been believed in Washington, that Gov. Teddy was after that very nomination, and that Boss Platt, who is anxious to get him out of New York politics, was actively assisting him.

The announcement that Roosevelt was to make a flying trip through Nebraska, speaking almost continually from the rear platform of his train, has added strength to that belief. Republicans who know the situations in Nebraska, are preparing a soft spot to fall on by saying that State pride in Col. Bryan may cause the state to go anti-republican.

In view of Col. Bryan's enthusiastic reception in this State, the use of "may" is real consideration on the part of those who know that the republicans are practically certain of defeat in the state.

In addition to Roosevelt, they are trying to get Mr. McKinley to go to Omaha while he is in the West, ostensibly to review the First Nebraska Volunteers, recently returned from the Philippines, but really to try to stir up a little republican enthusiasm.

That imperialism is costly will be shown by the estimates which will be submitted to Congress for the Army and Navy for the fiscal year beginning July 1st, 1900.

Although all the estimates of the War Department are not complete, enough is known to make it certain that the aggregate amount that will be asked for the support of the army Navy for the coming session of Congress will reach, and probably exceed $200,000,000, which will be about $2.65 or $2.70 per capita.

War Department officials say the total amount will be considerably reduced, if the war in the Philippines is brought to a close, before the appropriations are made, but that is very doubtful, if not a double sense. It is doubtful whether the war over there will be ended by that time, and doubtful, even if it should be, whether the American army on the islands can be materially reduced for a long time afterwards, if our present policy is to be continued. Every government which has tried to settles to go to Boston on the 12th inst. It was a shrewd play on Dewey's part, as it gives the administration a strong hint that he doesn't intend to allow himself to be used as a vote getter.

When Hans Hanna was in Washington this week every body noticed that a change had come over him. He no longer talked of the election in Ohio as a walkover for the republicans, but admitted that they had the hardest kind of a fight on their hands, and that Mr. Loan was a hard man to beat.

That the people seldom err in their judgment of men and things has been once more demonstrated in Washington during Dewey week. Second only to the cautious given to Rear Admiral Selley every time he has shown himself here there was a crowd. The Navy Department might as well shut their eyes if they cannot change the verdict of the people that the principal honors of the War with Spain belong to Dewey and Selley.

EASTERN REFLECTOR.
GREENVILLE, N. C.

D. J. WHICHARD, Ed. & Owner

Entered at the Post Office at Greenville, N. C., as Second-Class Mail Matter.

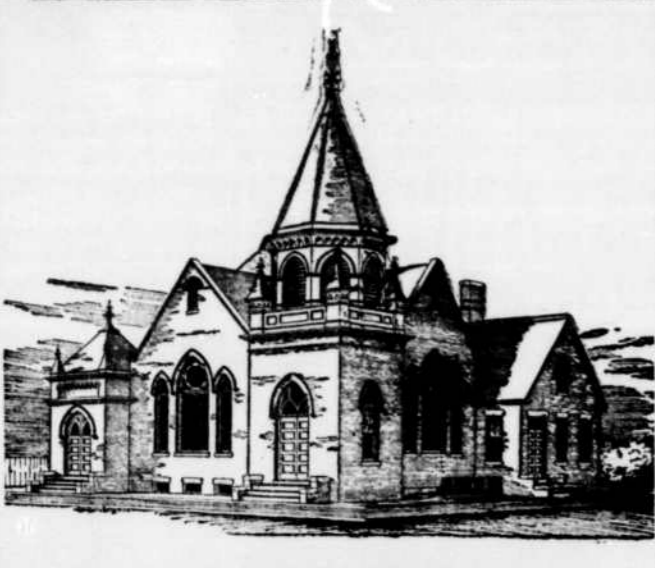

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1899.

The State Auditor has made estimates as to the State pension roll for this year, showing a decrease of nine first-class pensioners; an increase of 73 second-class; an increase of 126 third-class; a decrease of 279 fourth-class; a decrease of twelve widows. Total increase 478; total decrease 21; net increase 457. Of this 316 are placed on the roll by the acts of the last Legislature. The amount realized for the pension fund during the year is $122,000, of which $119,000 will be available. This will be distributed among 121 first-class, 311 second-class, 519 third-class, 2,234 fourth-class, 2,674 widows; total 5,889. The amount apportioned will be first-class $64; second, $49; third, $32; fourth, $16; widows, $16.

Alarmed by the critical prospects in Ohio this fall, the Republican managers have resorted to the desperate methods usually adopted only in Presidential campaigns. During the past few days every federal office holder in Washington has received a circular from Treasurer Burdell of the Republican committee, urging that immediate and liberal contributions be made. Burdell is treasurer of the Republican finance committee of Ohio. He explains to the office holders that they need not fear violating the civil service law in collecting and sending money for this campaign, and his circular implies very clearly that Mark Hanna and the President will stand by all who take hand in this work. The inference conveyed is almost equally clear that failure to contribute money will be to the disadvantage of the clerk receiving the notice.

It seems to have been an old saying or old idea that the work of an editor is never appreciated, and that he is entitled to no particular credit for whatever effort he makes toward building up his community or awakening a spirit of enterprise among his people. There has just been a case where an editor's experience was so different from this that it is worthy of mention. The town of Henderson has perfected plans to establish a graded school, and the school will soon open. The credit of securing it was due mainly to the efforts of Thad Manning, editor of the Gold Leaf, for in season and out of season he put forth every energy and effort in behalf of the movement. As soon as the trustees of the school were chosen, realizing the benefit of what Mr. Manning had done, they adopted fitting resolutions of thanks and appreciation of his services. Henderson is to be congratulated upon securing the graded school.

A few years ago when our neighbor town, Kinston, was so stricken by fire, the office of the Free Press was destroyed. In order to start his paper on a good footing again Editor W. S. Herbert had to have some assistance, and to secure this a stock company was formed, shares being taken by business men of the town. He went earnestly to work once more and in the last issue of his paper announced that the stock company was no longer in existence, he having taken up all the outstanding stock and being again in entire control and ownership of the paper. The Free Press rejoices with the Free Press in its success. Editor Herbert richly deserves all the prosperity with which he has met.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH, WILSON, N. C.

The above is a picture of the new Christian Church at Wilson where the Disciples State Convention meets Oct. 21-28. Two hundred delegates and visitors are expected. A great spiritual feast is in store for all who attend. Some of the best preachers in the State and several from a distance will address the Convention. All denominations of Wilson and the citizens generally are preparing to give the Convention a right royal old fashion welcome. The sessions of the Convention will be held in one of the most beautiful church buildings in the State. The Disciples who read THE REFLECTOR in Pitt and adjoining counties will attend this Convention in large numbers. Those who anticipate going should send their names to Rev. E. H. Melton at once and entertainment will be provided. On to Wilson Oct. 24-28!

POSSESS AS NEARLY ALL THESE REQUIREMENTS AS ANY WAREHOUSE IN THE WORLD.

- 1st. It is conceded by all that we have by far the best light of any house that has ever been built. There is no part of our sales floor that is not thoroughly lighted.
- 2nd. We have studied our business from every point of view to become masters of our art and our daily averages, as compared with other markets and houses, will attest the success we have achieved.
- 3rd. In selecting our help we have been careful to get only those thoroughly qualified to discharge the particular duties of their office and by our united efforts, all working for one common end, namely, to sell Tobacco higher than any one else. We are striving with all our might to get for those who sell with us the very highest price for every pound.
- 4th. There is no duty measure that affords us more genuine pleasure than to sell Tobacco at satisfactory prices for our patrons. We realize the heavy burdens that farmers have to bear and when we can sell your Tobacco at prices that help to lighten your obligations and gladden your hearts, in likewise proportion it gives us pleasure. During the last few days Tobacco has advanced considerably. All grades are selling much better than ten days ago.

Lastly When you get ready to sell, come to see us and pay no attention to those who try to lead you elsewhere, but come straight to THE FARMERS' and we will see to it that your interest is thoroughly protected.
Yours truly,
JOYNER & HUGHES.

THE NEW POSTOFFICE
The corner store up town that is being fitted up for the postoffice is nearly ready for occupancy and Postmaster King will move in sometime this week. An entire new set of lock boxes and drawers have been put in, and they are very convenient. But the general delivery and money order departments are entirely too small for the needs of the office and are cramped together so that people will be either in each other's way when at either of the windows.

Capable Prosecutor.
The Henderson Golf Club has the following to say of one of its own town men in speaking of the present term of Vance county court: Solicitor Larry Moore, of Greenville, is in his place as State's attorney. He is active and energetic in the discharge of his duty, aggressive without being acrimonious, the diligent, capable prosecutor ever, the persistent, unreasoning persecutor, never.

Few people can live without working. If they don't work themselves they usually work somebody else.
Some time Greenville may show an interest in factories, and until that time it will not be the town it should and can be.
The demand for dwelling houses is far in excess of the supply. This would make a good lot to pay for in back, but it's not a pleasant thing just to be a speculator.

They Better Quit.
It looks like the present series of yacht races for the cup cannot be pulled through successfully. It will take three out of five to decide the matter and the yachts have not yet made the first trip, though four efforts have been made to have a race today, but THE REFLECTOR received a telegram from New York timed at 11:15 A. M., saying the race had been declared off.

High Honor.
We have heard the expression in court vernacular, "justice tempered with mercy," but we have never heard before of the temple of justice being sweetened with honey. A swarm of bees have taken possession of the top of the tower to the Court House and seem to be working away at it industriously as if they were in it. There may be honey in it, but just how to take it is the question.

Strayed.

Depot Robbed And Set on Fire.
Sunday morning about five o'clock the Atlantic Coast Line depot at Partlow was discovered on fire. Several people who were aroused hurried there, and by hard work they kept the fire confined to the office portion of the building and soon put it out. The interior of the office was badly damaged. An examination after the fire showed that the desks and drawers had been broken open and the contents taken, which leads to the conclusion that there was first a robbery and then the building was set on fire to cover up the first crime. It is said that about $7,500 in money, several express packages and a quantity of express stamps were taken.
This is the second fire at the Partlow depot. A few years ago it was struck by lightning and destroyed.

Lead With a Fucker.
Mr. A. P. Murray, of Quinley, left a peculiar lead of tobacco at THE REFLECTOR office Tuesday night. It was a large leaf, and near the tip was a well rounded pocket, large enough to hold a goose egg.
Passing of a Pauper.
A poor man died suddenly in the city of New York. The newspapers have been telling about it since. He had had struggle for happiness. He was poor indeed. There was trouble in his home constantly. Death took his oldest boy at manhood's threshold. Another son was estranged and lived apart. A brother's home was clouded in scandal. Paralysis put its grim touch upon his own body and he walked these years nerveless and flung. He secured some land for rest, worked overtime and spent ten minutes only for a full lunch hour. His home was threatened by envious fools. His small possessions—a few millions, more or less, of money—brought him care and vexation. Insomnia banished sleep, rheumatism raked his frame, and at the board meetings he sat as helpless as a nummy in its grave clothes. His name was Vandine Hill, and his poverty was great. There are a hundred men in this great town of Orange who had large, or wealth than he who held larger wealth in his enfeebled grasp—larger wealth in all that makes life worth living. And now Death has claimed the poor man. Yesterday, a millionaire, and worshipped by the silly fools whom gold dazzles as the candlelight the moth; today, a pauper and tomorrow, dust. A sick slave has died. And the sick slave has died. And the sick slave has died. And the sick slave has died.

Just for Fun.

ORIGINAL OBSERVATIONS.
Made by the Orange Va. Observer.

Conscience is the searchlight of the soul.
Water is always musical when the fountains play.
Men of might are those who can help you but won't.

If all the fools were dead a great many fakers would lose their occupation.
The Lord gets the worst of the bargain when some people join the church.

The counter-irritant is the woman who goes shopping but never buys anything.
The weather has been very Dewy
in New York and Washington during the past week.

Love is a plant of spontaneous growth, blooming to perfection in any soil, and hath all seasons for its own.

What a great saving to the farmer
it would be if bugs could follow the old adage of "laugh and grow fat."

The question of arbitration always strikes those whose interests would be passed upon differently from what it does a rank outsider.
In other words, most men will always agree that the other folks ought to arbitrate their disputes.
Even ministers of the gospel share that bit of human nature. That is why there was quite a hubbub and a chorus of no's from the English ministers present when Rev. C.

Cort, of Maryland, offered a resolution at one of the sessions of the Pan-Protestant Alliance, now sitting in Washington, declaring against war between England and the Transvaal Republic and that the dispute should be arbitrated.
Every minister who spoke against the resolution declared himself in favor of arbitration on general principles, but he had some special reason for opposing it in this case.
Among the delegates are ministers from both the countries named and to a man they believe war to be unavoidable.

Candidates are not always able to carry out their anti-election promises even when they make an honest effort to do so. Mayor Mc-Call, of Charlotte, was elected on a platform one of the planks of which declared for the early closing of the saloons. A few days ago he endeavored to carry out his promise by having an ordinance enacted compelling the saloons to close at 8 p. m., but the board of aldermen sent down on him by two-thirds majority. The saloon men will now doubtless have it in for the mayor because he tried to close them up at 8 p. m., while the folks who want them closed at that hour will probably feel aggrieved because the mayor didn't succeed in fulfilling his promise. The fewer promises a candidate makes the better for him, and if he can get along without promising anything at all, it is better still.—Statesville Land mark.

The people of North Carolina will, in a few short months, be casting about for a suitable man for Governor of this great State.
There are numbers of true and tried men all over the State and the people of this section would be delighted to honor all of them. But if there is one man among all these and shoulders above his fellows, that man is Chas. B. Aycock, of Goldboro. In every campaign he has thrown himself into the hottest of the fight, and whenever there was a Goliath in the ranks of the opposition, Aycock has been the David to do the business for him.
If the wishes of the voters of this section have any weight in Democratic conventions that matches campaigner and true, loyal North Carolinian, C. B. Aycock, will be the next Governor of this State.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

The Dennis Simmons Fund for the establishment of a large mill at Blm City.

The crops on the State farms on Roanoke river are estimated at 2,500 bales of cotton, 10,000 bushels of peanuts and 8,000 bushels of rice.

OVER THE COUNTRY.

There were 21 new cases of yellow fever reported Monday at Key West, and three deaths.

Four thousand dollars in gold were stolen from a United States paymaster's wagon in San Francisco.

School, just returned from Europe, expects war between England and the Transvaal.

A terrific hurricane swept the coast of Nova Scotia Friday night and shipping men are anxious about the vessels in that locality.
E. J. Cunningham, an ex Postmaster General William L. Wilson is reported dangerously ill.

Andrew Carnegie will give a public library building to Carnegie, O.
Dwight L. Moody, the average light, is ill with a severe cold at Northfield, Mass.

Admiral Dewey has promised to visit Atlanta, Ga., not later than November 1.

The New England Beet Sugar
Company will erect a $300,000 plant at North Judson, Ind.

The Evangelical Conference in session at St. Paul, Minn., has invited President McKinley to address its meeting.

The author of "In His Steps," the famous religious book, of which over three million copies have been sold, has been induced to answer, in an article which he has sent to the Ladies' Home Journal, the question which unconsciously comes to the mind after reading his book: "Is this plan practicable in our present day life?" Mr.
Sheldon does not evade the question, but answers it in a direct and vigorous manner, and tells exactly what he believes would be the effect of his plan upon modern business methods and present-day social life.

Old Weather Signs.
Thunder on Sunday is considered by the weather-wise the signal of the death of a great man; on Monday, the death of a woman; on Tuesday, if in early summer, it foretells an abundance of grain; on Wednesday, warfare is threatened; on Thursday, an abundance of sheep and corn the farmer may reckon upon; on Friday, some great man will be murdered; and on Saturday, a general pestilence and great mortality.
Friday's weather shows what may be expected on the following Sunday; that is if it rains on Friday noon, then it will rain on Sunday, but if Friday be clear, then Sunday will be fine as well.

The Price of Cotton.
It is a commercial axiom that the surplus of a product fixes the price. The truth of this is obvious to any one who will think a moment.
Storms that clear in the night will be followed by a rain storm.
If the ice on the trees melts and runs off rain will come next; while if the wind cracks off the ice snow will follow.
When the leaves of trees show their underside there will be rain.
When the perfume of flowers or the odor of fruit is unusually noticed rain will be expected.
When the sky is full of stars expect rain.
If a cat washes herself calmly and smoothly the weather will be fair. If she washes "against the grain" take your machinist with you. If she lies with her back to the fire there will be a squall.
Cats with their tails up and hair apparently electrified indicate approaching wind.
If pigs are restless there will be windy weather. Pigs can see the wind.
The direction in which a hood-less in the morning will be the direction of the wind next day.
Magpies flying three or four together and uttering harsh cries predict windy weather.
Flocks of crows signify a cold summer.
When the owl nests look out for storm.
When the swallow flies low rain will come soon; when they fly high expect fine weather.
Six weeks from the time the first katy-did is heard there will be frost.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Increase of Factories.
The indirect benefit of the increase of factories in North Carolina is not yet appreciated. Some have even so concerned themselves with the "factory problem" that they are unable to be glad for the increase of industrial population.
That there is a problem is not de-niable; but that it is of such importance as to bid us falter in our encouragement of industrial activity in this respect, only one who has not thought into the subject will hold.
Any one who appreciates the advantages for the better already changed by the better already changes for the increase of factories they have a fair amount of should go to the town and business men there and say, "Now we have factories that will mean 25,000 jobs a year to the producers to say nothing of dividends and stock, and the increased demand for farm and garden products.

If the entire South would do as suggested more than 25,000,000 would be gained from the sale of cotton.
Nor is this all. The foreign mills must have cotton, with a demand here for all we make the foreign need must of necessity increase the price.
Instead of a surplus of cotton fixing the price the same will be engaged by a surplus of demand.— Tarboro Southerner.

Care and the Senatorship.
We are in a position to state that
Col. J. S. Carr, who is at present in New York, feels very much worried that he is reported as having announced himself as a candidate for the United States senatorship.
Col. Carr has not, nor does he propose to make any such announcement. He feels that for the fitness as in the past, the democratic party has known his

how to avail himself of his services should they be needed, and he is entirely content to let it go at that.
Francis is the editor of the News and Observer, Col. Carr says the paramount question to all Independents of North Carolina just now, is not who is to be the next United States senator, but one of the increase of industrial activity in this respect, only one who has not
thought into the subject will hold.
Any one who appreciates the advantages for the better already

changes for the increase of facto-

The Passing of Populism.
In all the accounts we get of political conditions in the West there occurs practically the same statement as to the decay of the Populist party. In Kansas it has already disappeared. The divisions there are again under the names of the two old parties. In Idaho, Wyoming, the two Dakotas, even in Washington, the Republican and the Democratic seceders have in large numbers returned to their old associations. Only in Nebraska are the Populists now strong, and there they have quite absorbed the Democrats, and are at head of the opposition to the Republicans.—Washington Star.
