Words

Words are the slaves alike of the wise and the foolish, the weak and the strong, the true and the false. They must serve him who calls them forth by lips or pen, whether the purpose be to inform the world of that which it should know or deceive the unwary by parroting the expressions of others whom they would fain to resemble.

Fortunately for the public, words are good when backed by deeds, and only so.

Deeds are not such servile subjects, and when the public learns to know whose words are constantly allied with deeds they know where and when to place confidence in words.

Our Raleigh Letter

Notes from the State Capital

RALEIGH, March 9, 1903.

By the time these lines are read the general assembly of 1903 will be a thing of the past.

Its closing hours were marked by active hard work—and "dead loads" of it was accomplished. The legislature was practically in continuous session during the last three or four days, adjourning only for meals and completing the day's work at a late hour, keeping both branches in session until midnight and after.

While this legislature on the whole was an "eminently respectable" one with a number of decidedly able men in both branches, and was "above the average"—especially if we include the recent populist legislature and those which in years gone were controlled by the republicans—still, the number of "big men" was comparatively small.

In the senate, for instance, after excepting about a half dozen gentlemen of real ability and valuable experience in public affairs, the average senator was not up to the standard in North Carolina, and did not compare favorably with the one of two years ago especially. Indeed, some of the men who occupied senatorial seats ought never to have been sent here.

This writer has been reporting the legislature for many years, and is in a position to speak intelligently on this subject. But I shall not hurt any one's feelings by referring even by inference, to any individual.

As usual the work of the session was directed by the leading spirits—and it speaks for itself. The liquor question has not been agitated so much in a generation as during the last two months—and the "liquor devil" made his presence felt even unto the last expiring breath of this legislature.

The most effective piece of real temperance legislation was the passage in the house last Friday of the bill to compel all licensed saloons all over the state to close business at 8 o'clock p. m. It is the night drinking and "treating" in saloons that starts the appetite in ninety per cent. of the young men of the South, and it is responsible for ninety nine per cent of the debauches and "protracted spees" indulged in by men of maturer years. It is the starting point of the downward course that leads to wrecked constitutions, financial and moral poverty, "the jim jams" and to hell—on earth and hereafter.

Not much from a temperance standpoint is expected from the Natts law—or, rather, the Simmons-Aycock law—except in the country and unincorporated villages, and the stronghold of the saloon has never been there. But it will turn the distillers from the country to the towns, and if one hundredth part of what some people said is true the country is to be congratulated on that, at least, and the cities and towns correspondingly pitted.

But politics always plays the most important and winning part in these fights, and in this case there was no exception to the rule. So the senate referred the 8 o'clock closing saloon bill of the house to the judiciary committee, instead of acting on it directly as it had done in the closing days on other measures of moment. This action settled its fate, and the 8 o'clock saloon bill did not pass the senate, as many hoped it would.

The legislature will adjourn sine die today (Monday) at noon unless the present plans miscarry. For which one hard worked newspaper man will be duly thankful.

Charles W. Fairbanks' new anti-Roosevelt republican party in North Carolina will find no trouble in selecting a presidential candidate while Charles W. Ives. Roscoe Mitchell's Elizabeth City Carolinian put it out as a feeler in this state. It felt—from subsequent proceeding.—Durham Sun.

The Scab of the Irish Potato.

The potato scab is readily recognized by all growers of the potato by the scabby depression in the normally smooth skin of the potato. These scabs may be single or scattered, but are often so abundant as to involve nearly the whole surface of the potato. To the consumer they are of considerable importance, since they necessitate very thick paring, and a consequent loss of the edible portion of the potato. To the farmer who wishes to sell his potatoes, the loss is even greater, as the scabby tubers command in the market a much less price than clean, healthy potatoes.

The scab is due to fungus which grows in the skin of the potato. This fungus is old fields, which have been used repeatedly for potatoes, may be thoroughly distributed through the soil. In ground which has not been used for potatoes so much, the scab causing fungus may be absent. If, however, scabby potatoes be planted in a clean soil the scab will be carried to this soil by such planting, and a scabby crop will result.

One method, then, by which the scab gains access to the field is through the seed. This means of entrance is under the control of the farmer, and may be readily cut off by soaking the seed in a chemical which will kill the fungus adhering to the surface of the potato, and yet not injure the potato itself. Such a chemical is formalin.

To treat your seed potatoes mix eight ounces of formalin with fifteen gallons of water, and soak the seed in this solution for two hours. Then cut and plant them. The solution may be used repeatedly, but it is well after it has been used two or three times, to either lengthen the time of immersion or to add a little more formalin to make up for any loss in strength. Formalin is a harmless non-poisonous substance (when used externally) which can be used with safety anywhere. It can be purchased at any drug store for about 80 cents per pint.

Or Run Trains on Schedule.

The New York Sun notes the fact that George A. Miller, a professor of law in the New York University and a member of the law firm of Carter & Ledyard, has begun an action in the Supreme Court against the Erie Railroad Company for damages on account of delayed trains. Mr. Miller says that the train taking him home was constantly late from ten to twenty minutes in arriving and he enumerates five specific occasions in December when the train was from three quarters to an hour late, without any apparent cause. By reason of these delays, he sets up, he suffered annoyance, inconvenience and excessive fatigue. He was deprived of his necessary rest and leisure and the comforts of the society of his family, and furthermore, his meals were delayed and their quality impaired. For all these discomforts he demands $100 damages. Should the principle be established that this plaintiff is entitled to recover, the roads in this section might just as well arrange to go into the hands of receivers.

Teachers' Institute.

The question as to where the institute shall be held the coming summer will be submitted to a vote of the teachers at their meeting Saturday. Several places are asking for it, and after consultation with some members of the Board of Education it is thought best to leave the matter as to the place to the teachers as they are more directly concerned than any one else. Come and vote your choice.

PROCLAMATION

BY THE Mayor of Greenville,
Giving Notice of an Election to be held in said town on the 7th day of April, 1903.

Whereas, the General Assembly of North Carolina, at its present session has passed an act entitled "An act to authorize the town of Greenville to issue bonds," to an amount not exceeding sixty-five thousand dollars, for works of internal improvements, if approved by the voters of said town;

And another act entitled "An act to establish a graded school in the town of Greenville," and providing for the issuing of ten thousand dollars of bonds for the erection and equipment of the necessary buildings therefor, if a majority of the qualified voters of the said town shall so direct;

And whereas, by the terms of said acts, the board of aldermen of the town of Greenville were required at a meeting to be held on or before the first Thursday in March, 1903, to appoint a registrar and two judges of election for each of the wards of said town, to hold and conduct said election;

And whereas, the mayor of said town is required by said acts to issue his proclamation at least 20 days before said election, giving notice of said election and designating therein the persons chosen to conduct the same, and the exact place in each ward where said election is to be held;

Now therefore, I, Harry W. Wheeler, mayor of the town of Greenville, do, in accordance with said acts, issue this my proclamation giving notice to the qualified voters of the said town of Greenville as follows:

1. That an election will be held in the town of Greenville, at the several places in the several wards of the said town, on Tuesday, the 7th day of April, 1903, in being the first Tuesday in April, 1903, for the purpose of taking the sense of the voters of said town on the ratification or rejection of the provisions of said acts. Fifth ward, at the Farmers' warehouse on Dickinson avenue.

That at said meeting on said 5th day of March, 1903, the said board of aldermen appointed the following named persons as registrars and judges of election, to register the voters and conduct the said election in the several wards as follows to-wit:

First ward—Henry Harding, registrar, B. T. Bailey and W. J. Cowell, judges of election.

set each day, for the purpose of registering and persons entitled to register, and who have not been registered; but the said registrars may, for convenience, register any person entitled to register at his home or at any other place in said town. Notice is therefore given that all who desire to vote must register before the day of election, as only those can vote whose names are found on the registration books.

It is provided by the 9th section of the act entitled "An act to authorize the town of Greenville to issue bonds" that at the same time and places as above set out there shall be elected five citizens of the said town, who shall be known and designated as the Board of Internal Improvements for said town. Notice is therefore given that all persons who are entitled to vote for or against the schools will be entitled to vote in separate boxes for trustees as above set out.

Given under my hand at the mayor's office in Greenville this 5th day of March, A. D. 1903.

Mr. G. W. Venters Dead.

Mr. G. W. Venters, a prominent farmer of Choccoland township, died at his home near Calles at 10:30 o'clock Saturday night. Mr. Venters once represented this county in the legislature. He was also a Mason and Messrs. J. M. Reuss, Charles Cobb and Wiley Brown, a committee from Greenville lodge, went down today to attend his funeral.

The largest mortgage ever recorded in this county was filed at the court house Wednesday. This was given by the Suffolk & Carolina Railroad company to the International Trust Company of Maryland, in the sum of one million dollars, the instrument covering 48 printed pages and containing 25,000 words.—Elizabeth City Economist.

PRIDE, NOT REGRET.

The following from the Manufacturer's Record is true.

Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the Tulane University, in his late oration at the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, seemed to regret that the old South could not produce an Emerson. Why regret? Suppose the South would the South have done with him? What would have been done with the South? Who was Emerson, anyhow? We all know that he was the author of works which are soon to appear in a new edition and that his name is being mentioned all over the world. It is not surprising that the world is so full of his name, for the fact is that he was the author of works which are soon to appear in a new edition and that his name is being mentioned all over the world. It is not surprising that the world is so full of his name, for the fact is that he was the author of works which are soon to appear in a new edition and that his name is being mentioned all over the world.

The path of the South's Overseas seems not to be strewn with roses. According to report from Washington, the new senator is unable to dislodge some of Pritchard's appointees and place men of his own selection in their place. This is one of the rights of senators, but rights seem to have more weight with the 56th congress than with the 57th. Under the circumstances Senator Overseas would be justified in giving the republicans some trouble when the matter of the ratification of certain treaties comes up.

We are pleased to note the rampant spirit of the democracy at Washington. There is no denying that the party has lost something of masterful force and intelligent activity of late years, but with such men as Simmons, Overman, Cramack, DeArms, the Kitchen and others on the scene, we may look for some old-time democracy that will shake the structure of radical tyranny and cowardice to its rotten foundations.

Senator-elect Clarke, of Arkansas, is having a strenuous sample of that cold, hungry stare handed to him. It is customary for a new senator to be introduced to his fellow-honorable by his colleague, but it happens that he is not on speaking terms with the other Arkansas traveler in the senate, Senator Berry. Senator Carmack was asked to introduce him, but he declined for the same reason as Senator Berry. Arkansas will have to send a chaperone along with the fellow she sends to Congress.

If there is one thing in North Carolina that needs reforming it is the present jury system, and there ought to be such a discussion of the subject, both by the press and people of the state, as to lead to the election of a legislature two years hence that will enact this reform. If the present jury system is analyzed there must be little surprise that it is so hard to correct. In the present jury system there are many things that are wrong, and it is hard to correct. If the present jury system is analyzed there must be little surprise that it is so hard to correct.

Asthma

"One of my daughters had a terrible case of asthma. We tried every remedy, but without relief. We then tried Ayer's Cherry Cough Cure, and three or four bottles cured her."—Emma Jane Keminger, Langaville, C.

Ayer's Cherry Cough Cure cures many cases of asthma. And it cures bronchitis, whooping-cough, lung, winter coughs, night coughs, and hard colds.

The following from the New Post News Times Herald contains many good things to make a battler for the three cents rate:

"Miss Alice Roosevelt returns from the South today, where she has been the guest of some charming and nice people."

J. Pierpont Morgan is visiting Cuba. As he carried nothing but a cigarette box with him he will probably bring back only a few thousand acres of real estate and a half dozen sugar plantations.

The plant of the Ekin Times was totally destroyed by a fire which visited that town Friday night. This is the second news paper in the state to suffer from fire in a week.

We recommend that the new Senate for restoring sight to the blind be tried on the gentleman from Oyster Bay. If it works all right these institutions for the blind can be dispensed with.

There isn't much propriety in censoring out the 57th congress for lavish expenditures when our own state appropriates so much money. The difference is that we do it to pay debts.

Those Alabama radicals who wish to kill off the "hilly whites" will make a mistake if they begin business without getting plans and specifications from one Jimhays.

A lazier to light the way by night is good enough for some folks, but those who prefer some thing else ought not to be bound by the wishes of the lazier carriers.

It will doubtless be a difficult undertaking to convince the owners of those distilleries which failed to become towns that the best legislature was anything but a failure.

Considering the condition of its finances, the state is spending too much money for colleges and too little for schools. What is a college to the boy who cannot go to a public school?

The Springfield Republican says: "No harm is likely to be done by an extra session of the senate." "It is, not to the trust."

We'll never be satisfied until we have a trolley line to Winterville. Think what a grand trolley party those Winterville High school girls could get up.

A VALUABLE VOICE

The manager had made rapid strides in his profession. He was only thirty, yet was well prepared for a successful business career.

One morning he was receiving applications of candidates for the office. A girl with a good education and a fine figure was admitted.
