

In a New York mansion, filled with gold and silver plate, with numberless beauties of art, with scores of servants, a little boy is dying of internal hemorrhages. Physicians, nurses and the lady's father crowd around, but their skill is of no avail. The child is two years old and has never been very strong. As the cruel tide of blood rushes into his throat his little form writhes and turns in agony, and he cries: "Muvver, muvver; I want my muvver."

But his "Muvver" does not hear him—does not come. She is an actress, Grace George, and while her boy is dying she is on the stage of a theatre, kicking up her heels, singing bright songs, pleasing the great audience of pleasure-seekers. They tell us that while she sang and danced her heart was breaking, but who can believe she has a heart? Who can believe that one spark of mother love remains in her breast? It does not need money—she is the wife of a rich man. She does not need fame—her name has been applauded by thousands. But she loves her "art"—she must do her duty to the theatre management, even though her child's last cry on earth is for "muvver."

Every word of this tragedy is true. It is not set frame for a moral. It is horrible for moralizing. But may the Lord have mercy on that woman when she has grown old, when her "art" no longer pleases and excites the crowd, when her conscience cries out in the still hour "muvver." Lord have mercy upon her.

FABLES FROM OHIO.

The "situation" in Ohio is indeed laughable. Every day brings fresh stories of discord and warring breaches between Hanna, Foraker, Beveridge and other republican patriots. These stories may be good things for the Washington newspaper correspondents, but they are so ancient and bewhiskered they no longer fool the people, but are the subject of ridicule the country over. Anyone with a glimmer of the past and an iota of political gray matter can see that these stories are nothing but annual fables dished up to delude the public into the belief that there are really differences among the republican whip-carriers, when everybody knows that they never have split and never will.

One of the most amusing and palpable jokes is the beautiful yarn about Hanna's intention of becoming a candidate against Roosevelt. Now isn't that a Mother Goose story? The idea of Hanna being anything but a regular is it to laugh. If the demagogue has any horse sense left they will scorn these fables of republican discord and hustle from mortal lips.

The new editor of the Charlotte News must have gone up against a bunch of Christian Science nicrobes. He prescribes the following faith cure:

"The News is going to do what it can to get demagogues together. It will outline from time to time the various things and people that let us drop the quarrel words to begin with. There never was a Silver Crisis. There never lived a Gold Bug. Republican Plotters ever belonged to the democratic party. If both sides were partly wrong and both sides partly right, let both sides drop the wrong things and agree on the right things and so get together."

The purpose of the News is laudable. We admire its spirit but we haven't reached the sublime height of faith the News' treatment requires; and the balance of the party is probably with us "get together," certainly is a fine platform.

The Wilson News says: "The Wilson News is capable of enforcing the law. If those charged with the murder of Jones are in need they will be supplied; if punished, if, however, any of them are guilty, conviction and punishment will follow. The Wilson people are as law-abiding and law-abiding as a community as those of Greenville or Wilmington, and make no pretense of justice, whether it is in the form of condemnation or a vindication."

The News knows that the murderer of Jones is in jail or in charge of the law and it also knows that there is not one chance in a thousand that he will hang. That is the plain fact.

Dr. McKelway was a tollsome good before him, and there will be times when he will ask himself, "Is it worth while?" But the doctor is not a quitter, and we hope he may see something ahead that will show him how truly it is "worth while."

The massacre of Jews in Russia is horrible, of course, but we of this country are not extraordinarily righteous. We have our Home Stead.

Senator Simmons made a good speech on the negro question, but every word said upon that subject now makes it more of a nuisance.

That snapping, popping noise you hear is made by the cotton, corn and tobacco crops getting a bump on after Sunday night's rain.

A contemporary says, "How did the elephant get his trunk?" "I don't know, but suppose he got it from the baggage master."

We wish the Charlotte News success in its new financial arrangement, but we haven't much faith in a company of business men.

The post office investigation really amounts to something, as about a half dozen letters have been separated from their jobs.

Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis says he would gladly make up 100,000 words high in his best. See column beneath titled, "Doe."

Most of us have to go through it once, but few, very few, of us have to do a second edition of our movement stunts.

The dove of peace at last is winging off the beautiful Filipinos. Only a hundred natives in the last funeral.

The Charlotte morning paper falls to materialize, but it is thought the people can get along without it while longer.

As Judge Clark has not yet gone enthusiastic about it, it is supposed that he has a previous engagement.

The first two syllables of Governor Penneycker's name will give you an idea of the sort of man he is.

If there is any remaining for municipal offices the remnants are provided with rubber shoes.

Of course Sir Thomas Lipton has a place fixed up where he can keep that cup.

Mr. Thomas Independent Hill is rather slow in declaring to Judge Clark.

For dead city politics—Greenville, N. C., and no one seems to get sorry.

As you are a candidate?

The Greenville Republican rises to remark:

"Mary Ann up at Washington, bless it, the Morning Post is full of talk about the party's party. If Mary Ann has no respect for the dead, the Post should have."

The Post, here friend, cannot refuse kindly reference to the dead on the part of the aggrieved. We shall have a Mr. B. REFLECTOR, Raleigh Post.

The Strawberry Crop

To date the strawberry crop of strawberries in refrigerator cars has been about 1,812 cars, with express shipments reaching about 54,000 crates, against 1,119 cars and 41,200 crates last year. Beginning April 19th there has been a steady movement from eastern Carolina, a crop of 25 to 125 cars a day from this territory.

It is said that P. M. G. Payne is hot under the collar. Judging from the condition of affairs in his department, he ought to have received a few warm jolts under his collar long ago.

Those of our citizens who are paying no attention to municipal election matters will be the first to raise a howl if the aldermen do not act to suit them.

A German medicine man has discovered that the sting of the scorpion is a sure cure for rheumatism. It is sometimes drives away that fatigued feeling, also.

With such a splendidly prepared afternoon democratic paper as Charlotte has, most any city could manage to worry along without additions.

That very much overworked department at Washington, the bureau of explanations, is turning out some A No. 1 goods these days.

The massacre of Jews in Russia is horrible, of course, but we of this country are not extraordinarily righteous. We have our Home Stead.

Senator Simmons made a good speech on the negro question, but every word said upon that subject now makes it more of a nuisance.

That snapping, popping noise you hear is made by the cotton, corn and tobacco crops getting a bump on after Sunday night's rain.

A contemporary says, "How did the elephant get his trunk?" "I don't know, but suppose he got it from the baggage master."

We wish the Charlotte News success in its new financial arrangement, but we haven't much faith in a company of business men.

THE STATE PRESS
Closing Exercises of Carolina Dishonest Post Office Official Comes to Judgment.

Washington, D. C., May 26.—The closing exercises of the Christian University at Ayden, have given pleasure to a large number of prominent men and surrounding country. The exercises were of a high order and reflected credit upon the school and pupils.

This college was established several years ago by the Christian denomination and is the pride of the town of Ayden. It consists of a two-story building containing the chapel and class rooms, and a large dormitory, located in a beautiful and well shaded grove of oaks. The president of the college is J. Ryan, head of the Ryan Trust Investment Co., who it is said sent the money.

Named Oats—A Wonderful Production. Mr. John C. McEwan brought to town Saturday a bundle of oats that are the most wonderful ever seen here. They were from one single seed and there were 126 stalks about 1 1/2 feet high and a good heavy head on each stalk. On one head of an average stalk there were 74 seeds, making 9,324 seeds from one seed. Mr. McEwan says he has sown about 145 to the single acre, and does not know the name of these oats. The seed were purchased of J. B. Cherry & Co. It is possible that no other country in the world could grow so much from one seed as Pitt county. Owing to the very dry season the oat crop was almost a failure. Had there been a full crop there might have been 25,000 seed from a single seed.

A New Cotton Plot.
New York, May 25.—A new sort of worm is reported from Texas, Texas. It is said to be devouring everything green, leaving cotton until all else has been devoured, and then stripping the fields. The pest is said to resemble the tomato worm, but is not so large and is of a different color.

Makes Them Close Early.
The Free Press says the aldermen of Kinston have adopted an ordinance requiring barbers to close from 9:30 p. m. to 6 a. m., and during those hours all services or obstructions to a full view of room from the outside must be removed.

AGE LIMITATION.
There is a growing sentiment which precludes old age from enjoying the benefits of choice positions in the business world. Youth is everywhere preferred. In the recent Electric Bells is different from the old-fashioned one. It is a new kind of jawbreaker, from which I had suffered for years. It's a great tonic and nerve and cure for Liver, Kidney and Stomach troubles. Only 50c and guaranteed by Wooten's Drug Store.

Lightning Strikes Hotel.
In Wilmington, May 25.—The high clouds on the South wing of the Seashore hotel at Wrightsville Beach was shattered by a bolt of lightning last night. Fortunately there were no guests in the hotel, which will not be opened until June 1. Several of the servants around the hotel were badly frightened.

Another Fire at Waynesville.
