REAR ADMIRAL BOWLES IS OUT.

Chief Naval Constructor Resigns and W. L. Capps is His Successor.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—Announcement has been made today of the resignation of Rear Admiral Bowles, chief naval constructor of the United States navy. The resignation takes effect November 1st, when Admiral Bowles will join the Four Rivers Ship and Engine Building company, of Quincy, Mass., which company is building the battleships Vermont and New Jersey, the protected cruiser Des Moines and the destroyer MacDonough. Washington Lee Capps has been appointed successor to Admiral Bowles.

GIRLS AS STRIKE-BREAKERS.

Boston Messenger Boys Hang Around and See Girls Carry Messages.

Boston, Oct. 26.—Still locked out as messengers by the A. D. T. Co., two hundred or more boys discharged last Friday today witnessed an increase in the force of the girls now doing the work. It was estimated today that more than two hundred girls are carrying messages. The idle boys formed groups at various points near the State street office of the W. U. T. Co., but no acts of violence were reported.

North Carolinian Badly Beaten.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 26.—Robert B. Welch, a young man from Charlotte, N. C., applied to the Norfolk county jail yesterday for medical aid. He reported that two men held him up near Mount Hermon, Norfolk county, Friday night, and after robbing him of $16, beat him into insensibility and threw him in a deep ditch to die. The victim's eyes are so badly swollen he cannot see, and his head and face are terribly bruised. The authorities have taken up the search for the high waymen and would be murderers, who are thought to be negroes.

Bloody Tragedy in New Bern.

New Bern, N. C., Oct. 26.—Chas. Meadows was murdered by Will Phillips Saturday night, so says the coroner's jury. Some time ago Phillips ran away with Meadows' wife. The two men met in a saloon Saturday night and quarrelled. It is stated by witnesses that Meadows offered Phillips a sum of money to allow Meadows' wife to return to him, which Phillips refused. The two men were seen together at ten o'clock Saturday night. Sunday morning Meadows' body was found near the junction of the A & N. C. railroad shops and National avenue.
His throat bore marks which indicated conclusively that the man had been strangled to death. Intense feeling has developed. Phillip is in jail awaiting trial at November court.

CHRISTIAN CONVENTION IN ANNUAL SESSION.

A LARGE NUMBER OF DELEGATES AND VISITORS HAVE ARRIVED AND ARE BEING ENTERTAINED BY OUR PEOPLE.

A number of delegates to the North Carolina Christian Missionary Convention arrived Monday evening and many more came in this morning, giving promise of a large and most interesting meeting. Monday night a social meeting was held at the church to give the delegates and others opportunity of greeting each other. A brief praise service was followed by an informal mingling together with hand shaking and exchange of greetings. The cordiality of the meeting was delightful.

The work today was devoted to the Christian Woman's Board of Missions, an auxiliary to the convention. This was largely attended and the proceedings revealed the excellent work the women have done and are doing in giving the gospel to the world and planting the standard of the cross in every land.

The exercises began at 9:30 with a praise service led by Mrs. J. R. Tingle. Mrs. H. L. Coward then delivered the address of welcome which was most beautifully worded and carried to the hearts of all delegates and visitors the warm welcome accorded them. This was most appropriately responded to by Mrs. Phil Crawford, of Kinston.

Then came the address of the president, Mrs. T. B. Jones, of Wilson. This was exceedingly interesting and told much of the noble work the women are doing and that the money used by them is well invested. The address closed with several recommendations to enlarge the work of the C. W. B. M. and enable the accomplishment of even greater results in the future.

Miss Payne Kilpatrick, of Kinston, the secretary, read her report showing the number of auxiliaries and giving detailed statistics of each. These showed considerable gains during the past year.

The treasurer, Miss Rosa Lo ten, of Kinston, reported the receipts and disbursements for the year and Mrs. L. M. Omer, of Asheville, the state organizer, made report of her work and the auxiliaries organized.

The president announced the following committees:
Future Work—Mrs. C. Grainger, Mrs. N. J. Rouse, Mrs. Draugh, Misses Mary Whitehurst, Daisy Carman, Katie Barnes.
Young People—Mrs. Sallie Hines, Mrs. J. F. Taylor, Miss Katie Snakenburg.

Enrollment—Misses Rosa Lofton, Minnie Tunstall, Nancy Coward, Anna Howard.
Literature—Mrs. Mary Kilpatrick, Mrs. H. D. Merrill, Mrs. Phil Crawford, Mrs. P. B. Hall, Misses Mary Mays, Alice Lang.

A paper entitled "The Children's Home" was read by Miss Mary Mays.
Following this came five minute reports from the mission fields: Miss Snakenburg spoke on the work in Porto Rico; Miss Lofton on the work among the Chinese in Portland, Oregon; Mrs. Omer on Mexico; Miss Carman on the mountain work; Mrs. Crumpler on the work at Deogher, India, and the life of Miss Jane Wakefield Adams; Miss Luckey also spoke on the work in India.

Mrs. Omer took her tiny boy, whom she called her little missionary, on the rostrum before beginning her talk on Mexico and he recited the 23rd Psalm in a clear, strong voice.
At the conclusion of these interesting talks, which were very interesting, it was suggested as an opportune time for a season of prayer in behalf of the foreign missionaries and their work. Rev. J. B. Jones was asked to lead this prayer and responded with much fervor.

The session adjourned with benediction by Rev. J. J. Harper.

The night session began at 8 o'clock with praise service led by Mrs. W. J. Crumpler.

A handsome banner was presented to the Little Builders of Farmville church for the best record during the past year.

Miss Annie Agnes Lackey, a returned missionary from India, where she spent four and a half years, made a most interesting address upon the habits and customs of the people among whom she labored and the result of the work there.

This was followed by "The Sunset Song," by Miss Annie Joyner, with Miss Mary Mays accompanist. This song was written by one of the missionaries in India, and its sweetness and pathos made a deep impression on the large audience.

Rev. J. B. Jones then took charge of the meeting, and referring to the pleasure all had derived from Miss Lackey's address, said he felt sure the audience would be glad of an opportunity to contribute toward helping the C. W. B. M. pay her expenses in coming here. A collection was asked and met with a liberal response.

Mr. Jones also said he had been to several C. W. B. M. meetings in other states, but this one in Greenville was the best he had ever attended.

Dr. Coggins, of Wilson, offered an earnest prayer for the mission work and laborers in foreign fields. Miss Newman, vocal teacher at Atlantic Christian College, sang "Face to Face" with much expression.

The president, Mrs. Jones, in fitting words returned thanks to all for their attendance and interest in the meetings, and declared this meeting of the C. W. B. M. finished. She made a most excellent and graceful presiding officer and won many compliments.

Adjournment was had with the benediction by Mrs. Grainger.

The North Carolina Christian Missionary convention proper met this morning at 9 o'clock. Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. J. R. Tingle, of Ayden.

Rev. J. E. Powell, pastor of the Greenville church, in behalf of the church and people of Greenville cordially welcomed the delegates. This was responded to with much feeling and eloquence by Rev. C. W. Howard, of Kinston.

Following this Mr. E. A. Mays, president of the convention, delivered his annual address. This address gave a brief resume of the work done in the past conventional year and gave earnest admonition to the churches for co-operation in their work and concentration of the efforts of all to greater endeavor in spreading the gospel at home, in the state and foreign fields.

The secretary, Mr. S. H. Bright, of Kinston, called the roll of churches for the reports and enrolling of delegates.

Miscellaneous business was next in order.

A letter was read from the church at Darden, Greene county, asking to be enrolled with the churches of the convention. On motion this was ordered.

The church at Frisco, Dare county, was also enrolled.

Rev. J. B. Respass stated that the church at Buxton, Dare county, had disbanded and a neighboring church, Frisco, needed assistance, and he moved that the convention order a sale of the Buxton church property, the proceeds to go to the benefit of the Frisco church. The motion carried.

Rev. D. W. Davis made a forcible talk on the decline in contributions for state missions, and attributed the cause to the convention having changed the management of state missions from the hands of an evangelizing committee to a state board. He urged a return to the former custom of having the evangelizing committee to attend to this matter which would result in the delegates again coming up with liberal pledges for state missions.

The question of making this change was turned over to the evangelizing committee to be embodied in its report. The president appointed the following as this committee: W. J. Crumpler, K. E. Tunstall, A. J. Mays, W. R. Parker, D. W. Davis, H. D. Harper, George Hackney.

Rev. J. B. Jones spoke in approval of the suggestion and urged stronger co-operation and grouping of the churches.

The following committees were appointed:
Auditing—S. B. Taylor, L. H. Cox, John King.
Examination and Ordination—J. L. Burns, J. J. Harper, C. W. Howard.

Publication and Literature—D. H. Petree, J. R. Tingle, W. R. Williams.
Resolutions—M. S. Spear, P. B. Hall, C. D. Brown.

Obituaries—J. B. Respass, M. C. Smith, D. G. Berry.
Nominations—P. S. Swain, J. J. Harper, J. S. Tunstall.
Rev. J. W. Tyndall, of Wilson, made an address on soul winning, and the morning session closed with benediction by Rev. Mr. Leighton.

BOODLERS MUST GO

Masonic Grand Master of Missouri Speaks of Sorrow and Shame

St. Louis, Mo., 22.—Dr. William F. Kuhn of Kansas City, who was elected at today's session of the Masonic grand, lodge grand master of the state of Missouri, made an address, in which he said: "The fair name of our state has been disgraced by some of our civic officials. Public trust has been betrayed and sold to the highest bidder. Civic honor has been obliged to hide her face, while private and corporate greed has finched, like a bold highwayman, the purse of its victims. The civilization of the twentieth century has stood appalled and thought of the decadence of once proud Rome, which fell a prey to civic dishonor. Of the self confessed, convicted and sentenced boodlers of Missouri, six of thirty-two, to our sorrow and shame, were Masons."

After referring to several specific cases where members who had sold their honor for money had been tried and expulped with commendable zeal," the grand master concluded: "The edict has gone forth that the boodlers must go."

All Stand Together.

The best way to build up a town is to stand by each and every man in the town who does right. Whenever a man is doing well do not try to tear him down. All the residents of a town ought to be partners, not opponents. Their interests are, to a certain extent, mutual. What helps one helps others. In all likelihood the more business your rival does the more you will do. Every business man who treats his customers honestly, courteously and fairly will get his share, and the more business that can be secured by united efforts the better it will be for all. When a town ceases to grow it begins to die and the more the people do all to kill each other in their business or good names, the more rapidly will utter ruin come to all. Stand together for the advancement of every citizen—for the betterment of the community at large. If a man shows ability to prosper do not pull him back through jealousy or weigh him down with cold indifference.—Chapel Hill News.

"The Good Bacteria," by Eugene Wood, Everybody's Magazine.

When we were boys, we used to plan how we would scare some other fellow half out of his wits with "fox-fire" from a rotting stump. In the dark, he'd think a spook had come to get him. Just the other day I read how a miner's lamp had been invented that was entirely safe even in the midst of inflammable gases, because its cold shine came, not from combustion but from luminescent bacteria feeding upon a culture similar to decaying wood. So, with inveterate and unconquerable optimism, we may well believe the wit of man will turn these servitors of death into lamps to light the path of progress. Whether we look outward to the farthest reaches of the universe, or inward to where the microscope falters and turns back, we find tremendous forces working. We may hitch our wagon to a glimmering microbe, but we shall get on in either case, if only we be set on getting on.

Injuries accompanied by insults are never forgiven; all men on these occasions are good haters, and lay out their revenge at compound interest.—Colton.

Namby—Did she fall in love with you at first sight? Pamby—Yes, but she was quite a distance away, and when she got a better view of me it was all off.—Boston Post.

This world is like a puzzle page With problems ever new; They seem so hard to solve and yet So easy when you're through—Washington Star.

Miss Olivia Berry returned Friday from a visit to Scotland Neck. Mr. B. Spencer Brooks, of Quinery, died Friday. Mr. Brooks was a prominent man in his community and will be sadly missed by many friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Edwards arrived Saturday to visit friends and relatives. Rev. D. W. Davis conducted services in the graded school building Sunday night.

Rev. J. H. Griffith, of Kinston, conducted services in the Episcopal church Sunday. J. J. Stroud left yesterday for Greenville in the charge of Sheriff L. W. Tucker. He said he was heading for the convention.

E. V. Cox made a business trip to Greenville yesterday. E. S. Edwards has moved into his residence on the corner of 1st and Lee streets.

Rev. T. E. Beden conducted services in Marlboro Sunday. R. O. Anderson went to Farmville Sunday. D. G. Berry and daughter, Miss Olivia, left this morning to attend the convention in Greenville.

Wanted.—An experienced photographer, for particulars, write Lock Box 4, Ayden, N. C. In a sharp contest here last week between the Cable Co., and Steiff, the Cable easily won as they always ways do with a fair comparison, as they were placed side by side in this contest. W. L. Royster represented the artistic Cable and G. G. Fineman and L. M. Lanier the Steiff.

All we ask is a comparison of goods. The Cable Co. Yard Wide Homespun 4 1-2 cents. Don't that strike you as being cheap! Well it is, and give you an idea of the low prices of our goods. Big stock of General Merchandise to select from and everything as cheap as the homespun. If you need Dry Goods, Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, anything better see us before you buy. And if you want top price for your country produce bring it to us. Witherington & Lilly, Ayden, N. C.

Health Insurance The man who insures his life is wise for his family. The man who insures his health is wise both for his family and himself. You may insure health by guarding it. It is worth guarding. At the first attack of disease which generally approaches through the LIVER and manifests itself in innumerable ways: TAKE Jutt's Pills And save your health. Extinct. Bookseller—I have a very interesting work by a favorite author—"The Last Days of Pompeii." Customer—Pompeii? I don't know an author of that name. What did he die of? Bookseller—Of a eruption.

Animals Becoming Extinct. Every century sees several species of animal becoming extinct. In the race for life the weak must yield to the strong, and because they are persistently sought for food or for feathers cease to exist. The disappearance of the great auk can be laid to the nineteenth century. It became extinct on the American side of the Atlantic about 1840 and in Europe about 1844. The South African quagga disappeared about 1870 owing to the slaughter by hide hunters. The two shelled tortoise of the Galapagos islands became extinct in all probability about 1875. The black emu of South Australia was also exterminated during the century, though it was abundant in 1803. The great cornucopia of life in the tropics is being destroyed, and many other species of birds from all parts of the world have likewise been exterminated. In the Danish West India islands, for example, out of fourteen species catalogued in 1795 only six still exist, and a similar history can be told of many other localities.

Shelley Liked Bread. The poet Shelley was very simple in his tastes and found his chief pleasure in long, solitary rambles. Bread became his chief sustenance when a regiment attained to that austerity which afterward distinguished it. He could have lived on bread alone without repining. "Do you know," he said one day to a friend, with much surprise, "that Mr. G. does not like bread? Did you ever know a person who disliked bread?" His friend explained to him that Mr. G. probably had no objection to bread in moderate quantity at a proper time and with the usual adjuncts and was only unwilling to devour several pounds of dry bread at a meal.

Shelley had no such objection; his pockets were generally well stored with bread. Sometimes he ate with his bread the common raisins which he bought at small grocers' shops.

Sea Serpents Breathe Air. Like all other serpents, the sea serpents, though permanently inhabiting the sea, are air breathers. The lateral flattening of their tails greatly helps them to swim in any direction, and it especially enables them to rise rapidly to the surface of the water to breathe. That they may do this the more easily and securely their nostrils are placed at the very end of the muzzle and are furnished with valves, which secure them from being entered by the water in which they live.

Unlike other snakes, they cast their skins in small pieces. Their eyes are not adapted to see well out of water.

Primitive Sleds. From history we learn that the boys in the time of George III, consisted on sleds made of a small barrel with beef bones as runners. But these dropped out of sight when an inventive genius built one out of a barrel stave, for his invention was extensively copied. The barrel staves were called "jumpers" and "skippers" and were made of a single barrel stave of moderate width, to which were fastened two or three staves post about midlength. A piece of barrel head consulted the seat. To navigate this craft required no little skill, the revolutions performed by the rider while "gettin' the hang of the derved old thing" being akin to the antics of a tenderfoot on a bucking broncho. A more stable and docile jumper was made by fastening two or three staves side by side, but these were not considered as fast travelers as the single staves.—Outing.

Uncovered. Miss Steitz, of course, no one could truthfully speak of her as pretty. Mr. Lovett, well or perhaps not, but she has such a quiet, unobtrusive manner.

Miss Speitz, yes, but it has taken her several weeks to acquire the English diphthong.

A Faithful Servant. Carlyle told once of a lawsuit pending in Scotland affecting the succession to a great estate of which he had known something. The case depended on a family secret known only to one old servant, who refused to reveal it. A kirk minister was sent to tell her she must speak on peril of her soul. "Peril of my soul!" she said. "And would ye put the honor of an auld Scottish family in competition with the soul of a poor creature like me?"

Medical Versus Practice. "Medical versus practice," boasted the optimistic young doctor, "that for a patient to die we must take out his heart and kill it with a club." On his way home he caught a cold and for the next three weeks made every one miserable listening to his symptoms.

An Envy Order. Shopkeeper—What can I show you sir? Absent Minded Professor—I want to see what do I want? Dear me! I can't for the life of me remember what it is. Well, well, it doesn't matter. Give me the nearest thing you have to it.

Extinct. Bookseller—I have a very interesting work by a favorite author—"The Last Days of Pompeii." Customer—Pompeii? I don't know an author of that name. What did he die of? Bookseller—Of a eruption.

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR

SEMI-WEEKLY—TUESDAY AND FRIDAY.

Truth in Preference to Fiction

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1903.

INGRATITUDE.

One of the saddest sins of this and all other ages is the fault of letting those who have done their heart and hand and head's best for you go uncommended, unthanked and unappreciated. Money does not buy everything or pay for everything. The price you pay in coin for a service does not alone determine its value to you or the value the one who serves intended it to have. He who sells the skill of his hands for a price disposes of the part of himself that is least valuable. He who serves you with his heart as well as hand, gives you a service that your money alone could never buy. But who can put his heart into his work when he has the certain knowledge that whatever he does well, and however well he does it, it will never be noticed? There are very few hearts so stout, oh! ye generation of ungratefals. You can buy hand service with money, and it may profit you, but you can buy a far brighter jewel with a price that should cost you nothing—a word of thanks or appreciation.

The following is taken from the Concord Times. THE REFLECTOR has said the same thing in different words time and again, and we believe it still:

"Any man accused of any crime and known to be guilty as certainly as anything can be known, can if he has money, find plenty of lawyers who will undertake to acquit him—and, be it said to our everlasting shame, they nearly always succeed. From a moral standpoint no lawyer has a right to do this. Suppose, for instance, some guilty man should offer an influential newspaper a sum of money to use its editorial and news columns to accomplish his acquittal, and the paper should accept, what would public sentiment say of that newspaper? The editor would be driven out of the community, and should be. From a moral point of view, is there a particle of distinction between the newspaper and the lawyer who takes the case in the same way? No argument and no amount of reasoning can convince us that there is."

We again call the attention of advertisers to our Thanksgiving edition, which will appear Thanksgiving morning. It will consist of from 12 to 16 pages, will have a circulation of over 3,000, and will be the best advertising opportunity this year. Orders for space should be given in at once, as the first to order will be given the best positions.

The Norfolk Landmark pays a handsome compliment to Hon. John H. Smith and urges that he be placed on the rivers and harbors committee. There is no man on the South Atlantic slope so well qualified.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Which leads us to inquire which John H. Smith are you talking about?

There are a great many people who could rob the public just as successfully as Dowie does if they had his whiskers.

We are in sympathy with the News and Observer's contention that the salaries of judges ought to be subject to an income tax, but our contemporary nor anyone else has explained how to get around that part of the constitution which declares that the salary of a judge shall not be reduced during his term of office. We believe the judges ought to pay, but they have the constitution on their side, and nothing short of a constitutional amendment can bring about a change. The matter is not of sufficient importance to justify an amendment, so it looks as if it will have to rest where it is for many years.

Several hundred Portuguese laborers have been brought to the vicinity of New Bern and given employment. Reports state that they are an honest and industrious people, and if that is true we need them all over the South to take the place of the idle, shiftless negroes, who have always been unsatisfactory laborers.

We note from several industrial journals that North Carolina keeps well to the front among the Southern states which are constantly building manufacturing industries. And this in spite of the black ignorance attributed to us by the Southern education board.

Some fellow in one of the colleges up North gravely announces that American women will never become drunkards. Certainly they will not have time for such a diversion as long as they have to take care of such idiots as the one who made the above profound statement.

The Winston-Salem Sentinel says: "We have a compositor who will persist in setting up the President's name 'Boozvelt.' Over indulgence in the ardent is not one of Mr. Roosevelt's vices."

Maybe it is the compositor who looks upon the lager when it's yaller.

Everybody knows this has been a bad tobacco year and there is but little hope of higher prices, but Greenville will sell her full share of tobacco and get as good prices for it as any other market in the state.

The Norfolk Landmark pays a handsome compliment to Hon. John H. Smith and urges that he be placed on the rivers and harbors committee. There is no man on the South Atlantic slope so well qualified.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Which leads us to inquire which John H. Smith are you talking about?

There are a great many people who could rob the public just as successfully as Dowie does if they had his whiskers.

It seems that Virginia Confederates have grown weary of hearing of North Carolina's being first at Bethel and furnishing most of the Southern troops in the civil war, and they threaten to rise up and say it is not so right out in meeting. Well, boys, it has been a long time ago, and most of you are too old to quarrel. Surely there was glory enough for all, and now the twilight of life should find you serenely and calmly waiting, "with malice toward none and charity toward all."

Dowie admits that he has never known who his father was, but he need not let a little thing like that worry him. He has done fairly well without a father, and maybe if the old man could be brought to light now it might injure his son John Alexander's business.

We wonder if the penitentiary officials really could keep a man out of that institution if he insisted upon getting in. They certainly do not seem able to keep anybody in there.

The more or less esteemed Chicago Chronicle insists upon the enforcement of the fifteenth amendment, but fails to give its recipe for putting Southern white supremacy out of business.

A handsome sick handkerchief was picked up in front of the Presbyterian church one day last week.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

What made it sick, Thad? Had it been blown on too much?

Of course the yaw who says that a victory for Seth Loup this year means victory for Theodore next year thinks he knows all about it, and that is why he is a hopeless case.

Indiana has erected a statue to a horse, but the best Booth Tarkington has been able to do is in the photograph line.

Matt Quay's son has broken into the United States navy. Well, maybe that's as good as place as any for the boy to live it down.

It's about time for Admiral Cochran to "Hoeh der Czar" and fighting Bob Evans to cuss out the balance of the outfit.

As Prof. Langley's machine would have done no practical good if it had been a success, not much is lost.

The friend who cannot understand can destroy your peace of mind quite as effectually as the enemy who will not understand.

Many an earnest effort has brought only failure because of the certain knowledge that it would not be appreciated.

If Lieutenant Peary doesn't hurry up and discover the North Pole again, the bloomin' thing will get drift.

The war cloud in the East can't be very serious, as Richard Harding Davis hasn't butted in yet.

It is not exactly true that a woman has no sense of humor—she has no sense of a man's humor.

Santiago, in the Haytien republic, has surrendered to some insurgent general or other black fellow. We are glad we do not have to dispose of Santiago, as history sayeth that it will not stay put.

We hope the Morning Post will be as successful in enlarging the state capitol without extra expenditure as it has been in regard to the price of cotton—in which case we'll never say another word agin' it.

Mister Will Harris, of most any old place, is on the war-path again. Seems that he is bound to give the officers a run for their money.

Dowie says he has never kissed any woman (except his wife. Gee! what the others missed!

Times must be getting better, as W. J. Bryan has not injected politics into his legal business.

This "How old is Ann?" is becoming nerve-jarring. Who had such a grudge against Ann?

Bank robbers are busy out West, while the Eastern banks merely close their doors.

Judge Peebles is ill. Yes, what he got was fierce enough to make any man ill.

And by the way, we think there will be something to say about it when Judge Peebles comes up for re-election.—Greenville REFLECTOR. Most assuredly there will "if the court knows itself, and it thinks it does." It was a political deal by which Capt. Peebles secured the nomination over Judge Winston (who was justly entitled to it and ought to have received it by all that was right and fair) but we dare say no sort of political deal will save his bacon hereafter. Even though he should be nominated again the people of North Carolina will be very apt to see to it that he is not elected. The days of dancing to the crack of the party lash and obeying the behests of the party bosses regardless of men or measures, principles or policies, is done in this state. Mark that.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

A Cornell professor writes to The Atlanta Constitution that the writers who criticize and caricature President Roosevelt should be severely punished. The same issue of The Constitution contains a cablegram informing the world that a German priest has been arrested for lese majeste, because he criticized the empress for having her picture taken in a low cut dress. Such incidents give color to the fear expressed by Judge Reagan, of Texas, that this republic will be changed into a monarchy. When the crime of lese majeste becomes a part of our institutions monarchy is not far off.—Chatanooga News.

The Court of Appeals of New York has handed down a decision declaring dependence upon faith healing in the case of sickness to be criminal negligence. It takes a North Carolina legislature to license the practice of that kind of healing.—Greenville REFLECTOR.

Which reminds us that a North Carolina legislature can sometimes do as many fool things as any body of men that ever got together.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

It is probable Mr. Dewey's letter accomplished what was designed on the part of the writer, namely the withdrawing of the $500 reward which would of course end up the hunt for him by detectives. Our comment upon the letter when it appeared was, that it was a very weak document and was destitute of the courage which makes even a highway robber a more or less interesting character. This we thought traceable to a physical and mental collapse, and that he would at once put himself upon the mercy of the court. But this has not been done and as is suggested by some editors. It may be a scheme to blow off the dogs, and give Mr. Dewey a chance to make good his escape.—Raleigh Times.

Says the Greenville REFLECTOR: "The democrats (of North Carolina) are so confident of victory for years to come they do not even consider it worth while to split."

Which confidence involves the greater responsibility of selecting public servants and so administering public duties as to prevent any occasion for a desire to split. With certainty of power comes greater responsibility and obligation. Let us see that these are fully met.—Morning Post.

House and Home.

A house is built of brick and stones, of sills and posts and piers; but a home is built of loving deeds that stand a thousand years. A house, though but an humble cot, within its walls may hold a home of priceless beauty, rich in Love's eternal gold.

The men of earth build houses—halls and chambers, roofs and domes—But the women of the earth—God know! the woman build the homes, Eve could not stray from Paradise, for, O, no matter where Her gracious presence lit the way, lo! Paradise was there.—Nixon Waterman.

Considering the cost of wrecks and damage suits resulting from wrecks, it would seem that it would pay the Southern to double-track its whole system. While this would not prevent all wrecks it would prevent a good many of them.—Durham Herald.

Of course that Buncombe tragedy may have been a direct result of too much whiskey, still you cannot hope to pass a law that will prevent a man of his standing getting it if he wants it.—Durham Herald.

Unless there is a change three or four national democratic administrations would put up the republican party out of business in North Carolina.—Durham Herald.

We can understand why Mr. Dowie is engaged in his present occupation, but cannot understand why his followers allow themselves to be worked so easily.—Durham Herald.

South Carolina papers are boldly claiming that witnesses were bought in the Tillman trial, but it would make no difference now if they could prove it—the murderer is a free man.—Durham Herald.

It is not right to blame the negro every time a town goes wet. The whites have disfranchised him and if they cannot keep him disfranchised it is their own fault.—Durham Herald.

A Baltimore firm advertises for "a young man to serve at a lunch counter." This is evidently a new dish they are getting up.—Durham Sun.

What? No Soap? The writer of a letter in the London Times... The appearance of this letter was the signal for a general press investigation into the philosophy of soap.

The appearance of this letter was the signal for a general press investigation into the philosophy of soap. Physicians, dermatologists, complexion specialists and even recruiting sergeants have been interviewed on the subject, with the result that soap comes forth victorious and is declared to be an absolute necessity of life under modern conditions.

"Nevertheless," says the Lancet, "not a few people manage to maintain personal cleanliness without the use of soap at all."

Cotton Jumps.

New York, Oct. 26.—There was great excitement and activity at the opening of the cotton market today. More or less general frosts had been reported in the cotton belt over Saturday and Sunday, and with Liverpool this morning exhibiting great firmness, there was a scare of shorts here that started prices some 20 to 43 points higher.

October closing Saturday at 9 96 sold up to 10.40 on the call, while December touched 10.28, January 10.25, March 10.20 and May 10.20.

This enormous gain naturally attracted heavy buying, and after call prices were depressed several points on the more active positions.

Old Times Passing Away.

The poem that we old folks learned in the reading book at school

"Hear the children gaily shout, Half past four and school is out," will have to be revised to meet the present custom of turning out at half past two. The old blue back speller is not the only good thing that has given place to new ideas.

That is an important and gratifying statement that Colonel W. E. Holt makes through the medium of The News today. He is a recognized authority on the cotton mill business and a man of conservative temper and sober statements. It is doubly good fortune to the South that the cotton farmers should be getting such good prices for cotton and that the manufacturing outlook should be so bright at the same time. There is nothing whatever the matter with the South these days. As a favorite declamation speech for the school-boys used to say, "We are rising up, we are rising up."—Charlotte News.

A whitewashed reputation doesn't endure any longer than a whitewashed fence.

Real Estate Agency OF Millikan, Walker & Bain It is an admitted fact that Greensboro is rapidly forging to the front and it is only a question of a very short time when it will be the leading city in the state, her railroad facilities are unsurpassed and there is a constant influx of capital employed in the various kinds of manufacturing enterprises, which is constantly increasing the population of the city and a great demand for real estate has been created thereby and property is constantly changing hands, but considering the marvelous growth of the city, the price has been kept on a reasonable basis, persons who have money to invest can make no mistake if they come this way, provided proper care is taken in location and price of property. We make it our business to keep a vigilant watch over the interest of our customers and are in a position to save you money as we keep posted in values in city and near by, farming lands and can aid you in investing your capital where it will bring quick and satisfactory returns. Correspondence solicited. When in the city we extend to you a cordial invitation to visit our office. Room No. 6, over Sykes Drug Store. GREENSBORO, N. C. North Carolina, Pitt County. In Superior Court James H. Gray against Annie Gray. The defendant Annie Gray will take notice that an action entitled as above has been commenced against her in the Superior Court of Pitt County by the plaintiff for the purpose of obtaining a divorce from the bonds of matrimony upon the grounds of abandonment, and the said defendant will further take notice that she is required to appear before the Judge of our Superior Court, at a court to be held for the County of Pitt at the court house in Greenville on the ninth Monday after the first Monday in September, 1903, being the 9th day of November 1903, and answer the complaint, which will be deposited in the office of the Superior Court of said county within the first three days of said term, and then and there answer or demur to said complaint within the time required by law, or the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint. This the 26th day of September 1903. D. C. MOORE, Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County. North Carolina, Pitt County. L. B. Williams and T. L. Williams of Contentees Township, Pitt County, North Carolina hereby enter and lay claim to 30 acres more or less of vacant land in Contentees Township, store and described as follows: Lying between the lands of Jordan Nobles and Warren Nobles, adjoining the lands of Jordan Nobles, Warren Stocks, H. M. Williams, M. Williams, A. R. Wooten, T. L. Williams and Frank McLawhorn and heirs east of Henocopy swamp in west poconon. This the 28 day of September 1903. L. B. WILLIAMS, T. L. WILLIAMS, witnesses, R. Williams, Esq. county clerk. By E. A. Blow, deputy for Pitt County, N. C. Any person, or persons, claiming title to, or interest in the above described land must file their protest, in writing, within the next 30 days or they will be barred. NOTICE TO CREDITORS. The Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County having issued Letters of Administration to me, the undersigned on the 6th day of Oct. 1903, on the estate of J. A. K. Tucker deceased, NOTICE is hereby given to all persons indebted to the Estate to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and to all creditors of said Estate to present their claims properly authenticated, to the undersigned, WITHIN TWELVE MONTHS after the date of this Notice, or this Notice will be plead in bar of recovery. This the 6th day of Oct. 1903. DELIA V. TUCKER, Administrator of the Estate of J. A. K. TUCKER. LAND SALE. By virtue of a decree of the Superior Court of Pitt County made at Sept. term 1903 by His Honor Fred Moore Judge presiding, in the case of James S. Summrell et al vs Daniel Summrell et al.—The undersigned commissioner will sell for cash, before the court house door, in Greenville, on Monday the 9th day of Nov. 1903, the following described piece or parcel of land, situated in the county of Pitt, and in Greenville township, on the north side of Tar River—adjoining the lands of the late Sussan, Brown and William Whitehead. Beginning at a stake in the old Washington road and running thence south 60 west 16 poles to the fork of the Greenville and Tarboro and Gum Swamp roads, thence down the Greenville and Tarboro road south 24 east 40 poles, thence 34 west 38 poles to the beginning, containing 30 acres. This Oct 5, 1903, F. G. JAMES, Commissioner

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT This department is in charge of J. M. Blow, who is authorized to represent the Eastern Reflector in Winterville and territory. WINTERVILLE ITEMS. WINTERVILLE, N. C. Oct. 28 1903. A. G. and Mrs. Cox returned from the Raleigh fair Saturday evening. Realizing the advance of cotton goods we went north early and purchased our stock of fall and winter goods and feel sure that we can save you money as we bought bulk of our stock at old prices and sell the same way. Everybody cordially invited. Yours to serve, Harrington, Barber & Co. Another car load of that electrical ywelded farm fence square mesh, small at the bottom and getting larger all the way to the top, just received and unloaded by A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. This car is all 4 1/2 in. high, as that height is preferred in most cases. Other heights and styles kept in stock, however. See M. L. McGowan the jeweler. Repairing promptly done. Work guaranteed. Owing to the recent death of his father and the continued serious illness of his wife, Rev. C. W. Blanchard was unable to fill his regular appointment here Sunday. We have spared no time in selecting our stock and we think we can suit the most fastidious.—B. F. Manning & Co. Mrs. C. A. Fair and Mrs. Sarah Taylor were visiting friends in the country Sunday. We are now manufacturing a wash board out of the old North Carolina pine, also of gums. These are the very best kind of wood that can be used. Apply to Winterville Mfg. Co. Some folks not very far from here are going to have some painting done soon. It would mean money in the pockets of a whole lot more to do so. With a chance to bid on your material, we can save you still more money. If you don't believe it try us. Our paints, oils, leads, ochres &c. guaranteed as to quality. A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. R. L. Kittrell, who has a position with the A. O. line at Florence, S. C., after spending two or three days with his parents, returned yesterday. The Winterville Mfg. Co. make a specialty of horse shoeing Arthur Forbes, of Farmville, was here Monday. There were services in the Episcopal church Sunday conducted by Rev. Mr. Griffith, of Kinston. We saw and old razor back hog devour fifty cents worth of good live chickens in less than 30 minutes last Monday. We have a nice line of hats for both old and young, also trunks, valises, telescopes, &c. at prices we think very reasonable and always glad to serve you and save your money if possible. Harrington Barber & Co. Now a word to the wise. Go to see B. F. Manning & Co., before their bargains are exhausted. "Hunsucker" buggies don't grow on honeysuckle vines. They are carefully hand made of select material, under the direct supervision of E. H. Hunsucker, in charge of the carriage department of A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. Those who use them know the rest. Singletrees and Plow Beams made of the very best material by the Winterville Mfg. Co. All kinds of scroll and turned work done to order by the Winterville Mfg. Co. G. A. Kittrell & Co. have supply of seed rye for sale. We would call attention to the fact we have added dry goods to our line of merchandise and respectfully ask the public to call and examine—Winterville Mfg. Co. For Rent or Sale—My house and lot located between Josephus Cox and A. D. Cox on Academy street. Apply to C. A. Fair. B. F. Manning & Co., will pay the highest cash market price for your cotton seed. A prominent minister in this county says, speaking of A. G. Cox Mfg. Co's goods—"I have used a pair of the Cox cart wheels for ten years or more, and they are as good now as new. I have also used their wagons and can say that anyone intending buying won't make a mistake in purchasing the "Tar Heel," for they have proved all right in every way. Name given on request. J. H. Browning spent Sunday in Greenville. Will Quinerly, of Ayden, attended services here Sunday afternoon. For brick see G. A. Kittrell & Co. They have recently burned a kiln and will make prices reasonable to suit the times. The Winterville Cigar Co. don't belong to the trust. Send your orders right along and get the best cheroot in the world for the money and patronize home industries. Satisfaction guaranteed. Bring your cotton to Winterville and have it ginned. G. A. Kittrell & Co. will buy your seed at the gin and pay highest market prices or give you meal in exchange for them. Elder Fred McLawhorn has returned from his visit to Lake City, S. C. where he went as a delegate to the Southern Free Will Baptist Conference. Guy B. Taylor and wife, of Graingers, were visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Kittrell, last Saturday and Sunday. See M. L. McGowan, the jeweler. Repairing promptly done. Work guaranteed. Boarding House—Mrs. J. D. Cox. Board $1 per day. Best House in town. B. F. Manning & Co., will pay the highest cash price for your cotton seed. Mr. Dixon at the Drug Store will be pleased to show you their line of handsome gold and fountain pens. Miss Clyde Harrison, who was called to Raleigh last Wednesday by telegram to the bedside of her sick father, returned Monday morning. We are very much pleased to hear her father is considerably improved. Heber Munford, of Ayden, was here Sunday. John Cooper, Dane Cooper, J. W. Highsmith and G. A. Kittrell went to the Weldon fair yesterday. David Sutton and family, of Snow Hill, have been visiting L. F. Elliott for several days. We have in stock the best line of shoes ever offered here and can fit you in both size and price. Bring your family and we will keep this red on, so we will make your shoe squeal before you get it on your foot. B. F. Manning & Co. The public school for this district will open next Monday and be taught by Miss Eliza Harding at "Old Antioch church." E. G. and Mrs. Chapman and Miss Clyde Chapman spent Tuesday in Greenville. Rev. W. E. Cox spent yesterday with his mother here. Prof. J. L. Jackson, of Conetoe, spent Sunday with his mother, who lives near here. Ned McLawhorn, of Littlefield, has been here this week. Fred Buhman, of Ayden, came again last Sabbath. Ed Tripp, of Ayden, was here yesterday. Dr. Cox in addition to his drug stock always has on hand a complete line of free school books, pen and scratch tablets, pens, pencils, and the finest assortment of box stationery ever brought to Winterville. The old home of A. G. Cox, now owned by W. B. Wingate, is now one of the prettiest country places in the county. Wingate has generally renovated, changed and made things more in accord with this modern age. Misses Bertha and Clyde Dawson were in Greenville Saturday. Miss Cora Carroll spent a day or two visiting friends in town this week. A. D. Ruffin and Clark Both Honest but Wrong.

An esteemed friend of the News and Observer, in a private letter, says that recent editorial in this paper upon the decision of the Supreme Court with reference to the taxation of the income of judicial officers "is capable of the construction that you believe the judges were influenced in rendering their decision by a desire on the part of the judges to escape the payment of a tax on their own income."

It is a matter for deep regret that the court lost so splendid an opportunity of rendering a decision that would repudiate the absurd contention of ancient judges that a tax upon all incomes does not apply to judicial officers because such tax would tend to destroy the independence of the judiciary.

We have no doubt that the day will come when the present decision of the court will be reversed. We sincerely believe it is as wrong in principle of the monarchical decision enunciated in Hoke vs. Henderson.

When Mr. Butler resigns the chairmanship of the populist national committee can be taken as a sign that all the rest of them had as well join some other party.—Durham Herald.

The Only Way=

To get the confidence of the people of Pitt county by advertising is through the daily and semi-weekly editions of Carolina's Victorious Record Broken.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 24—North Carolina met her first defeat this season here today, Georgetown being the winning team. The game was played in two twenty minute halves, both teams fighting stubbornly throughout. Georgetown did fine work and showed excellent training. Carolina only reached the city a very few minutes before the game was called. Some of Carolina's best players were off the team, having been hurt in the V. M. I. and Carolina game last Saturday.

Carolina would rally at times, throwing Georgetown back for losses, but could not keep up such heavy work, as Georgetown outweighed Carolina by fifteen pounds to the man.

Asheville Auditorium Burned.

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 24—The Asheville auditorium was totally destroyed by fire this morning shortly before four o'clock, entailing a loss of $35,000. Along with the auditorium the residence of Mrs. W. H. Penland was burned, her loss being ten thousand dollars. Insurance on the two buildings amounted to twenty thousand.

At a meeting of the directors of the Auditorium Company today it was decided to immediately rebuild the structure and plans were put on foot to accomplish this end.

How the building caught is a mystery. All fires were extinguished shortly after eight o'clock, and after the performance of "Favor of the Queen," everything was carefully looked after. At three o'clock Manager Randolph passed the auditorium and everything appeared all right at that hour. With the burning of the building some valuable minutes and records were destroyed, also a trunk full of Masonic records belonging to J. W. Cortland, who is now in Washington at the Masonic conclave.

Further Remarks on Ingratitude.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

Your editorial of Monday on the subject of ingratitude was so well-timed it reflects great credit on the writer. There are few people who will read such an article, because people do not want to look into their own ungrateful hearts and even in secret confess their great and ignoble shame. The sin of ingratitude must be the sin against the Holy Ghost referred to in divine history, and yet it is the one prevalent crime of the great mass of mankind. Were it the reverse, what a happy, benevolent people there would be in this world, and if "fraternal love held all men bound," how beautiful this life would be. True religion would be as manifest as the morning sun after a stormy night. But the ungrateful do not care to let their thoughts dwell on such a blackening sin—they do not care to learn

"To teach me to feel another's woes
And hide the faults I see—or

"That mercy I to others show
The mercy shown to me."

A thoughtful remembrance of the long ago, a full recognition of benefits or other days—when the grasp of the kind hand, or the word from a kind heart; stimulated, refreshed and gave new courage—then we thought there were big hearts and kind voices that came to us and made the the heart feel glad.

In the midst of busy care as we are want to excuse ourselves, we pass the once friendly, kind-hearted, generous and not a word to cheer or a hand to help. This wantonness of mankind is a blight to the true religion that the craving soul so much needs.

The man who forgets the kindness of the past will some day wake up to a sad and sorrowful repentance and will remember that "it is more blessed to give than to receive."
