Bar Rooms Produce Evil. EDITOR REFLECTOR:

The question of the dispensary is now the absorbing topic of the large mass of the citizenship of the town of Greenville, and it is one that is not fanatical or sentimental. It is a matter of good or evil for the town and its future. the real citizenship that must be the men and women of the town who are to make its success or failure

The records of the mayor's court as published are enough to satisfy any reasonable man or woman hat the town is in a bad state when four-fifths of the cases tried before that tribunal are for drunk and down or drunk and disorderly The reords of the criminal docket of the Superior court show that over 75 percent of the offences tried by that tribunal are the out growth of intoxicants of some kind. This alone, it does seem ought to cause the people of having this day been issued to the undersigned, and having duly quali-Greenville to think and set achereby given to all persons holding claims against said estate to present cordingly.

Dear Sir:

Replying to your favor of Feb. 17, will state that the dispensary here has been a good thing for our town and community. From a moral standpoint it is a great im provement on the saloon. While of course whiskey is sold and W. L. Hurst went to Greenville drank it is not done so much so by the younger generation. There is C. H. Kinston, N. C. Feb. 24, 1904. My DRAR MR. WHICHARD.

In reply to your favor of recent date relative to my opinion of the dispensary, I would say that as a change from the open saloou it is a decided success. I gain this impression from the operation of our local dispensary since January of this year.

The rigid restrictions under which liquor is sold in the dispensary takes away the attractiveness of the saloon. The social feature is entirely absent, for a well conducted dispensary is as "solemn as a prayer meeting."

Then what fluancial profit that is derived from the sale of the beverage goes to the community at large. And that is right and just, for the community has to foot the bills for all the deviltry caused by liquor.

Theu, too, the removal of the saloon as a factor in a community removes the saloon influence from politics, and this is a gain for good government. Not that all saloon men are corrupt, but that the saloon is a corrupt and corrupting institution.

In Kinston the change has worked well. Liquor is sold in our community, but the arrest for drunkenness have very largly decreased. Public drunkenness is reduced to the minimum. We hope that as time advances the dispensary will demonstrate to the most sceptical the wisdom of the change.

The success of the dispensary in a community depends upon whether it is managed by people who are in sympathy with the movement, or by its enemies. a comparatively small community, where the people are interested and feel the 'vital necessity of a well conducted local government, there need be no difficulty whatever in making the dispensary a success in every sense of the word. Some people will talk of the flight of prosperity with the but although we have aloon, baaished them from Kipston the future for our town from a business standpoint is very bright. Very truly yours,

DANIEL T. EDWARDS.

Wilson, N. C., Feb. 24, 1904. DEAR BRO. WHICHARD:

You: esteemed favor to hand with reference to the success of our dispensary.

Nearly every one is pleased with it except the most ardent antis, and some of them even say it is a great deal better than the open bar system.

Drumkenness is not near so common, and the police courts are reduced more than half, while the policemen all say the city is a great deal more orderly. Our people would not change for anything.

Wishing vou success we are, Very truly P. D. GOLD, Pub. Co.

In reply to a clipping from the North Carolina Christian Advocate of which Rev. H. M. Blair is editor, circulated this week in the interest of open saloons, as opposed to the dispensary in Greenville, we submit to the public the following personal letter to Rev. J. A. Honaday.

"Dear Brother: I regret to learn by your letter just received that bar keepers should attempt to use what I have said with good intent, to the advantage of their cause. I trust you may gain the victory I am today preparing an editorial which will appear in next week's Advocate, and I send you the advance sheet, so that you may use it and this letter as you may see best. H. M. BLAIR." THROWING UP EARTHWORKS OF SAND.

Such we denominate an attempt of the barkeepers and their syna pathizers in a few places to use what we have had to say against the dispensary, as a campaig document in favor of the open saloon. Whatever we have had to say against the dispensary ha been on general principles, an with no thought of giving comfort to the friends of the saloon. The dispensary is bad, but the open saloon is infinitely worse, and where it becomes necessary to make a choice between the two. there should be no hesitation on the part of Christian men.

The only question is that of expediency in dealing with a trafic that is sapping the very life of the reason why, in most communities, under the Wats Law, we should propose to stop at a half-way station in this matter. It is conceded by all real friends of temperence that the dispensary must finally yield to the demand of an enlightened Christian senti ment which will ultimately drive i out. Therefore, where we have a good fighting chance we should array all our forces in a mighty effort to bayish the whole business There may be some exceptions. but we are of the opinion that in nearly all our towns at present it would be almost as easy to drive out the saloons altogether as to drive the business into a dispensary.

As to any who have attempted to use what we had to say in opposition to dispensary, as in any way favoring the open saloon as a matter of preference, have only to say that they are a set of stupendous hypocrites, and, in keeping with the saloon element in general, would not hestitate at the door of any crime by which to foster their wicked business. Their business is to fill their coffers by taking the advantage of human weakness, and we need not be surprised to fin them distorting the utterances of ministers and religious journals to give strength for the time being to a sinking cause. Truly, they would steal the livery of heaven to serve the Devil in. Down with the saloon! If it comes to a choice between the two, take the dispensary a thousand times before the open saloon.
