Truth in Reference to Fiction

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., TUESDAY, APRIL 19, 1904.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR TEMPERANCE.

The Supreme court has handed down another interesting opinion that draws the rope tighter around the neck of the saloon business in the state. A majority of the people of Black Creek had voted in favor of whiskey, and the town commissioners granted licenses to retail to three applicants. The parties having these town licenses exhibited the same to the board of county commissioners to obtain county licenses, but the county commissioners refused to grant the licenses. The applicants took the matter to the superior court, and the court ordered the board of county commissioners to order the sheriff to issue the licenses, and if they failed to do so they must show cause why a peremptory mandamus should not be issued compelling them to issue the order for the license.

The Supreme court held that this was an error. The opinion of the higher court was that courts cannot control the county commissioners in the granting of licenses by mandamus. They can only compel them to act when they refuse to act and to exercise their discretion, but cannot compel them to issue licenses to any particular persons.

McBee can hardly declare himself a success as a railroad improver.

The potato bug is waking from his winter slumber and whetting his teeth.

Greensboro has shown better judgment. The city refused to give a second date for a street carnival.

There are not many days left in which you may think over the fact, that if your poll tax is not paid by May 1st you will not be allowed to vote.

The Mormons have an eye to business when it comes to wanting to scotch the Smoot investigation. Out in his State, Utah, they have endorsed Roosevelt.

You just can't please the public. Mr. Bryan talks and is accused of running his tongue too much. Judge Parker won't talk and is complained at for keeping his mouth shut.

Greenville is not by herself in speaking out against raffling. A news item from Elizabeth City says that Rev. D. H. Tuttle, pastor of the Methodist church there, warned his congregation Sunday that they could not approach the communion table with clean hearts having in their possession tickets giving them chances for a prize to be raffled off.

If Russia loses many more warships she will have nothing left to fight with.

It does not speak well for Heast's chances, that he did not get a single delegate to the New York state convention.

Two weeks more will decide the matter whether you want to qualify yourself to vote by paying your poll tax before the first of May. Better not let this escape you.

After making much of a stir over the female minstrels, Wilmington let them off with a $25 fine for giving an immoral show. The advertising they got is worth more than that.

There is much talk of connecting certain towns in the state with trolley lines. Electric railways will yet become popular for short distance travel.

Hobson made himself a hero by his exploits in the navy, but in his aspirations to be a congressman he fell down. He was defeated for the nomination in his district.

If the Russian report of the affair is true, the Japs have nothing to do but keep cruising around with their fleet and in due course of time the Russians will finish blowing themselves up and end the war.

The Russians may make the claim that their best battleship was blown up by one of their own mines, but we are inclined to the belief that the frisky Japs run up a torpedo boat and knocked a hole in her.

Robert E. Follin, a native North Carolinian who has been doing newspaper work in New York, succeeds the lamented I. E. Avery as city editor of the Charlotte Observer. The Observer is always looking for the best to be had.

The old sinner who gets off at those bright scintillations in the Wilmington Star is afraid he will lose his fun at the beach next summer, and gets off the following:

"A few days ago the W. C. T. U. of Newark, N. J., denounced the intermingling of the sexes in bathing at seashore resorts. They want a law passed to require the sexes to bathe separately. The naked truth is that a reform like that would not suffice to keep the spectators from going where the girls would do their bathing and there would be nobody in the gallery where the boys would bathe. We must look at this matter as a serious problem."

Does Secretary Sherrill, of the North Carolina Press Association, want to hoodoo the brethren? In a circular he sends out to the members, he advises them to make a start to the St. Louis exposition on Friday, May 13th. Think of that, will you—Friday and 13! No wonder he was jumpy that some of them could not go.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, D. C. April 15, 1904. The funeral abuses of congress cry loudly for reform. It is now believed that not less than $40,000 will be paid out of the treasury for the burial of Senator Hanna, although he was a millionaire. Congressman Oates, of Alabama, in one of his last speeches denounced the habit of sending committees of honor to accompany the remains of deceased senators and representatives to their place of interment, and said "These committees, instead of being genuine mourners, usually take pleasure-excursions or junkets at the expense of the public treasury. I never have served on one of them, but I note among the expenditures one funeral which cost $52,000 and another which reached near $80,000." The first of these was made up of the following items: Transportation and burial, $7,380.74; volume of eulogies, $20,000; expense of congress adjourned one day, $20,000; money voted to widow, $5,000; total, $52,380.74.

Congress is not only in the habit of giving $5,000 as a gratuity to the widows of all members who die in service, but of making a corresponding present to the widows and other relatives, of all clerks of congress who die in service. On April 25, 1888, the senate gave $1,286 to Mary A. R. Quinby, sister of the enrolling clerk; and when F. H. Sansbury, another clerk, died $1,095 was given to his family, "to be considered as including funeral expenses and other allowances." And so on for dozens of other clerks. The expense of burying a representative or senator is often sufficient to make any poor family rich. The eulogies of Senator Logan were printed by the government, at a cost of $14,000, exclusive of wrapping; addressing and postage, (some thousand more) and steel engravings costing $600 to $1,000 each. One hundred copies constituted an edition de luxe in morocco and gold for the widow. How does congress dare to inflict such expense upon the American taxpayer?

There is a national convention in this city every day in the round year, comprising people from every state in the Union. Today we fill into the hands of the Knights of Columbus, 10,000 of whom come flocking from every point of the compass to present to the Catholic University here $50,000 to endow a chair of secular history. This is probably the largest check ever drawn, for it is on card board ten feet long and four feet wide, ornate in high colors. The Knights might have stayed at home and by saving expenses have sent a smaller check four times as large, but they wouldn't have seen the capital or had the fun. We see them all coming before it is light, and salute them at sunrise, good morning, good knight.

The horrible accident to our warship Missouri following the loss of the Russian battleship, creates consternation here. It is felt that it resulted from rivalry to see which gun crew could fire the fastest and that it is only a part of the "strenuous life" whose champion and apostle is in the White House.

There are some papers in North Carolina that keep liquor advertisements constantly before their readers. They tell about how many "full quarts" can be had from somewhere out of the state for so many dollars. And these sucker advertisements usually have a clause "no marks to indicate contents of package." It is a well known fact that there are lots of folks who want to keep their liquor devilry a secret and these papers and these liquor sellers are working together to help on this calamity. The North Carolina paper that stands by the liquor business with the present lights on the question has got lots to answer for.—North Carolina Baptist.

Senator Simmons has placed himself squarely and actively on record in favor of government aid in the construction of good roads. The North Carolina Senator says he proposes to devote some careful study to the question this summer.

Diver Held Fast Under Sixty Feet of Water.

Boonton, N. J.—William Hoar a diver, is imprisoned and probably dead sixty feet below the surface of the Boonton water reservoir, having been sucked into an opening by the rushing water at that depth after having gone down in his diving armor in an endeavor to shut off the water. Divers say they cannot live more than twenty-four hours under water at that depth, but Hoar has been at the bottom of the reservoir since 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. All day divers and others have been trying to rescue Hoar, but in vain. His signals were heard up to noon today, but after that time no response came from him in answer to signals from above, although the air is still being pumped down to him in the faint hope that he may yet be alive.

In the middle of a four-foot pipe at the bottom of the reservoir is a gate valve which got out of order and could not be closed. A great ball was sent down in the expectation that it would be sucked into the pipe, and thus stop the rush of water so the gates could be repaired. The ball was sucked into the pipe, but a four-inch chain got entangled with it and there was still a big leak. Hoar was sent down to fill in the openings with sand bags. It was while putting these sand bags in place that Hoar's left leg was sucked into the opening and held fast by the sand bags. He signalled to the helpers above to pull him up, and they pulled, but they could not budge him, and finally another diver had to be sent down. He was brought from New York by special train and went down and endeavored to pull Hoar away from his perilous position. The diver, William Olsen, worked for five hours endeavoring to get Hoar loose, but he finally had to give up and go to the surface for more help. Hoar recognized Olsen when he went down and shook his hand as a token that he understood him and that he knew Olsen was doing his best. Olsen himself was caught in the suction and had one hand crushed. More divers are at work tonight. It is believed Hoar is dead.

As the time for the various municipal elections over the country draws nigh, it is well enough for the conservative and thoughtful citizens of each town to give the matter some care. The tendency to treat a town election as an occasion for having fun is one that should be checked.

A town's business is as serious a matter as any other business, and should be approached and managed seriously and practically. Of course unseemly and hurtful factional bitterness should be avoided, but to do this does not require that an election be turned into a frolic.—Gastonia Gazette.

A Horseship Might Help.

The New York Times notes the case of a young woman who has taken steps to prevent the use of her picture as a magazine advertisement, wherein she is represented in a bathtub with only one arm and her face visible. Nevertheless, this outraged young woman is informed in advance by the Court of Last Resort that the offense of which she complains is not one of which the law can take cognizance, and that she cannot maintain an application for injunction or for damages. In which case she would seem to be justified in resorting to a horse-ship.—Boston Herald.

A Lion For Wives.

Nothing under heaven cuts the grit from under a man quicker than does discord and unhappiness in his home. Some men, but they are rare exceptions, are strong enough to be something in spite of home troubles. The man whose wife makes an unpleasant home for him knows a good deal about hell long before he dies. And on the other hand a man whose wife makes a pleasant home for him is thrice as sure to live and prosper for life's battles, and heaven will not seem strange to him.—Monroe Enquirer.

See H. L. Johnson for heavy and light groceries.

Tom Back, who was for several years an employee of the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co., but who is now living at Vanceboro, is visiting friends and relatives here.

Miss Augusta Haddon and Miss Dora Manning went to Greenville Thursday.

The line of ladies dress goods in the store of R. G. Chapman & Co. is unusually attractive. Call and see.

Mr. Pender, of Richmond, was here Thursday.

Harness as well as buggies! Don't go some where else to get your harness when you can get harness, where you can get any style just as cheap (perhaps cheaper) just as nice (perhaps nicer) right here from Hunsucker, the man you get your buggies from.

Harvey Stokes was here buying goods Thursday.

To our friends and customers: Having very near lost our entire stock of merchandise in the recent fire, we are now making arrangements as rapidly as possible to open again. We earnestly solicit a continuance of your valued patronage. Thanking you one and all for past favors, we remain Yours to serve, Harrington, Barber & Co.

A plow beam manufactured by the Winterville Mfg. Co. always gives satisfaction when you go to them and have one put in your plow. They can also furnish handles for your plow.

Here is our next democratic ticket for city government: For mayor, R. G. Chapman; for police, F. G. Tucker; for aldermen, R. H. Hunsucker, J. W. Harper and L. L. Kittrell.

The best prices for the best goods can be had at H. L. Johnson's.

Boarding house—Mrs. J. D. Cox. Board $1 per day. Best house in town.

We are now occupying W. L. House shop on Main street and are in the position to furnish our customers as heretofore.

Harrington, Barber & Co. Bud Joe Blow was here Friday always glad to see him.

The A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. reports that this has been the best season to sell cotton planters and gunno distributors that they have ever known. The company will soon begin to make tobacco trucks again. Their truck is the best on the market. Receiving orders daily from other States, but hardly expect our home demand will be large this season.

CAS-TO-RINE is the on perfectly Tasteless CASTOR OIL sold. Taste as good as Maple Syrup.

MEETING CLOSED.

Best Meeting Held Here in Years.

The meeting conducted in the Baptist church during the past two weeks by Rev. J. E. Hutson, of Richmond, closed Friday night. It was the best meeting that Greenville has had in many years. There were quite a number of professions, and while the meeting was in progress eighteen people united with the church and others have expressed their purpose to join soon.

This was the fifth meeting Mr. Hutson has held in Greenville, and he has become very much endeared to the people here. He preaches the gospel plainly and with power. This town is better from his having come here. From Greenville he went to Franklin, Va., to hold a meeting, and after closing there he will return to this state for meetings at Winston-Salem and at Morgantown.

Farmers are now getting cotton seed in the ground.

STATE NEWS.

The little town of Barnardville, in Buncombe county, has almost been wiped out by fire.

Nine of the negroes who participated in the recent trouble at James City have been sentenced to terms of one and two years each.

A colored couple, aged 80 and 50 years respectively, were married in Durham Wednesday night.

Rev. W. M. Vines, for several years pastor of the first Baptist church at Asheville, has gone to Norfolk to take charge of Freemason street Baptist church in that city. The Asheville church has extended a call to Rev. W. Lunsford, D. D. of Waco, Texas.

A large Petersburg concern will establish a manufacturing plant in Winston-Salem.

The Davis hotel, a wooden structure, at Fayetteville, was destroyed by fire Thursday.

The stores of Charles Whitty and J. W. Shepard, at Pollocksville, were burned Thursday night.

Clean Run Away.

A horse belonging to Claude Thigpen run away today. The animal started about Five Points, ran up Evans street to Third, then up Third to Greene and on around the different corners to the bridge in the direction of home. It is remarkable that all these corners were turned without any damage being done, coming out clear at the end.

Ratbags just received at S. M. Schultz.

The bodies of the two men who were drowned near Red Banks, Wednesday evening, have not been found.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas it has pleased our Heavenly Father in His unsearchable wisdom to remove from our midst our much loved brother and co-worker, W. B. Pierce therefore, be it, Resolved 1st. That we bow in humble submission to the will and power of Him who doeth all things well, always for our betterment and His glory.

Resolved 2nd. That in the death of Brother W. B. Pierce, Pitt Council No. 112 of the Jr. O. U. A. M. has lost one of its most faithful members and promising young men.

Resolved 3rd. That while from his stay with us we had learned to love him and his honest life, to realize that it is only another ripened sheaf gathered for the Heavenly garner, therefore we sorrow not as those who have no hope, but look forward with patience to the reunion in that Council beyond, where all will be happiness and where parting will be no more.

Resolved 4th. That we commend his loved ones to Him who is able and willing to heal all their sorrows, and comfort them in time of sorrow.

Resolved 5th. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our minutes and published in the papers of the town, also a copy be sent to the bereaved family.

LETTER TO W. T. FLEMING

Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sir: Two years ago, Mr. Grant Smith, Erie, Pa. painted three frame houses, and the wood-work of brick house.

The painter estimated $116.50 for the paint, lead and oil.

He bought Devos $97.49 and returned $11.66. Saved $31.10 on the paint.

Don't know the cost of the work. By the rule, the saving of labor would be from $60 to $90.

On all, from $90 to $120.

This is the tale, as it comes from Messrs. W. F. Nick & Son, our agents there for 40 years.

Yours truly
F. W. Dwyer & Co.
P. S. H. L. Carr sells our paint.

Marriage Licenses.

Last week Register of Deeds R. Williams issued licenses to the following couples:

WHITE

J. R. Mills and Ola Eiks.
J. E. Warren and Lula Cogins.
Jas. T. Nelson and Electa Barnhill.

COLORED.

Stricken at Work.

Warren Tucker, a colored man in the employment of Mr. F. M. Hodges, was stricken with paralysis while at work in a field near town, Monday afternoon, he is in a serious condition.

GRIMESLAND ITEMS.

GRIMESLAND, N. C. Apr. 16, 1904.

Tobacco crop this year is cut one-third in this section. We don't hear the farmers say much about tobacco. We hear of some engaging for 10 cents. That is better than 5 cent tobacco.

J. F. Harrington and E. A. Cooper, of Winterville, were in town a short while Wednesday.

Mrs. Bettie Britt would be pleased to have the ladies to call and examine her millinery before buying.

El. Holiday, who lost his residence by fire, is laying the foundation for a new house.

Dr. C. M. Jones returned from Baltimore Friday.

Shad are not so plentiful now. They have been very scarce all the year. Some of us think, by the next generation there will not be many fish.

Mrs. W. S. Galloway is on the sick list. We hope to see her out soon.

The young lodge of Goodwill Brotherhood in this section is growing rapidly. Their number is near a hundred.

The best Myrtle will run on excursion the Fourth Sunday to Falkland. We hope to have a nice day.

Hearing Changed to Greenville.

The restraining order against the mayor and aldermen of Greenville to enjoin them from establishing or attempting to establish a dispensary in accordance with the recent election here, that was made returnable before Judge M. H. Justice at Wilmington, on the 20th, has been changed for hearing in Greenville on the 25th before Judge Thos. A. McNeill.

Shelton L. I. Moore went to Wilmington Saturday and requested Judge Justice to make this change to avoid the inconvenience and expense of the parties to the action having to go to Wilmington for the hearing there, and Judge Justice changed the order accordingly.

Tonight at The Opera House.

There will be no doubt be standing room only Monday night when The National Stock Co. will present for their opening performance Westley Mantell's dramatization of Marie Corelli's wonderful story "The Vendetta," a play that has been witnessed by more people than any on the American stage today.

High class specialties will be introduced between the acts.

Seats now on sale at Sheppard's Prices 15, 25, and 35c.

Special ladies and childrens matinee Wednesday.

Laundry for Greenville.

Today R. Greene showed us a letter notifying him of the shipment of a complete outfit of machinery which he has ordered for the purpose of establishing a steam laundry here. Mr. Greene tells us the laundry will make a specialty of family work. This will be a great convenience.

Smashed The Buggy.

We got the wind up of Claude Thigpen's runaway horse, Saturday afternoon, a bit wrong. Before reaching the bridge the horse tangled the buggy with a corner post and smashed it.

FARMERS' CONSOLIDATED TOBACCO COMPANY.

Growing in Favor With the Farmers.

The stockholders of the Farmers' Consolidated Tobacco Company, that was organized here last fall for the purpose of conducting a tobacco warehouse business and purchased the Farmers warehouse for that purpose, held a meeting Monday to close up the business for the season. The stockholders were more than gratified at the showing made by the books of the manager, the business having been even larger than was anticipated. After paying all expenses in full a large cash dividend was paid the stockholders.

The company has planned for a much larger business next season, and has acquired control of two other warehouses, the Star and Jeffress, so that next season they will operate three houses instead of one. The Farmers warehouse will be managed by Joyner & Dail as before. The Star warehouse will be managed by H. A. Timberlake. The Jeffress warehouse will be managed by S. B. McDowell. All three are experienced in the warehouse business and will manage the affairs of the company well.

A Beautiful Entertainment.

Reported for Raleigh.

Barely has an afternoon been more widely attended, or more beautiful with various entertainments than was the reception given by Mrs. Dr. E. A. Jones in Tuesday afternoon to the Ent of the Century Club and a large circle of friends.

As an early hour the reception room attested the popularity of the young hostess and from start to finish the entertainment was enjoyed to the fullest extent by every one present.

Mrs. R. R. Cotton, the gifted president, gave new inspiration to the occasion after an absence of some months.

The literary programme was followed as usual by Mrs. Quinberry, sister of the hostess, furnishing an interesting paper on Richard III and his chequered and very remarkable career. Mrs. F. G. Jones reading selections from Shakespeare's play of the same king.

Among the visitors present were Mesdames Geo. Hadley, T. J. Jarvis, Vines, Hodges, Burch, Munford, L. A. and R. L. Carr, Sam Parham, A. E. Tucker, E. A. Moye, Sr. and Miss Mary Moye.

After the reception a varied and enjoyable menu was served in the handsome dining room.

The club will hold its next regular meeting with Mrs. Quinberry on May the third.
