No. 26

WILL NOT SERVE WITH ILLEGAL COMMISSIONERS.

Greenville, N. C., June 18, 1904.
HON. H. W. WREDDER, Mayor.

DEAR SIR:—I have been notified that I was elected by the board of aldermen one of the dispensary commissioners for the town of Greenville. This is to notify you as the chairman of the board of aldermen, that I decline to accept the appointment and to qualify as a member of that board.

My reason for this action is this: The law requires that only those who voted for a dispensary shall be elected commissioners. I voted for it, and am willing to take my share of the responsibility when I can do so according to law. The other two persons chosen voted against the dispensary, and are therefore disqualified to act as commissioners.

I have nothing against either of these two gentlemen. They are my friends, but knowing them to be disqualified, I cannot act with them. Had it been the pleasure of the board of aldermen to have chosen men who were qualified under the law, I would have felt it my duty to co-operate with them, but I repeat, I cannot act with men whom I know to be disqualified under the law.

I am Yours Truly,

C. D. ROENTREE

Married Twice in One Day.

Mr. B. P. Summerlin, the popular carrier of R. F. D. Route No. 2, and Miss Maggie Kelly, of Duplin county, were married last Sunday evening, Rev. B. F. DeLoach performing the ceremony.

It was a run-away marriage, and the couple experienced considerable trouble before they were happily joined together. A license was secured in Duplin county, after which the ceremony was performed in Mount Olive. A little later they learned that the marriage would not be legal by reason of the fact that the license was secured in Duplin county and the ceremony performed in Wayne county. They then went back to Duplin county and were married the second time.—Mount Olive Tribune.

New Cotton Pest.

Selma, Ala., June 16.—A kind of cotton bug, not known to any farmers or cotton men in this section, has been found in the cotton fields and specimens of the pest were today sent to New Orleans. The new bug is not a member, so far as known, of any weevil families so far reported. It is very small but masses in such quantities that it seems like a blight. It was prevalent all over the county and already has done much damage. It kills every leaf and branch it attacks and is said to have alarmed some planters.

Dr. Hyatt Farmville.

Dr. Hyatt, of Kinston, will be at Farmville at the hotel July 5th, 6th and 7th, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for the purpose of treating diseases of the eye and fitting glasses. Those who are not able to pay a fee will be examined free.

Editor Stevens Assaulted.

Newbern, June 18.—Having become offended over editorial that appeared in today's Journal relative to the appointment of delegates to the State Democratic convention, Mr. A. W. Clark, Journal Editor C. L. Stevens, of The Journal, on the principal street here this morning and asked Stevens if the editorial referred to him (Clark) in general regarding the appointment of delegates. Stevens replied that it did, whereupon Clark slapped Stevens in the face with his right hand followed with a swing with the left, and as he was leaving gave him a kick.

In the meantime Stevens went into a music store, where Clark followed him and again struck him with a music rack that was within the store. D. W. Bailey, who was standing with Clark while the difficulty was going on, followed the two principals in the store, and after Clark was through with his fistful, Bailey made a dash at Stevens, but missed his aim.

Friends of the Toud.

The agricultural department comes to the front as the friend and defender of the toad. To show that these reptiles are friends of the farmer and gardener the department made post-mortem examination of one hundred and fifty of them, to find out what was their chief food. It was found that two-thirds of what they had eaten was insects injurious to the plants. The department has issued a pamphlet on this subject.—Wilmington Messenger.

Wrong Name.

In mentioning the name of the man who had lost his mind and had been placed in jail until arrangements can be made for getting him in the asylum, it should have been W. C. McLawhorn and instead of John McLawhorn as printed. Our informant gave us the wrong name.

FIRE AT WASHINGTON.

Atlantic Coast Line Depot Burned. (Special to Reflector.)

Washington, N. C., June 20.—A little past 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon lightning struck the passenger and freight depot of the Atlantic Coast Line. Agent Barnes was in the office writing at the time. The lightning set fire to some tissue paper in the office and from this the building was quickly in flames.

After two hours hard fighting during which six or seven streams were playing on it, the fire was subdued, but not until the building had been gutted. There was a large quantity of freight in the depot and much of this was badly damaged. The loss on the building was covered by insurance. The loss to freight has not yet been estimated. More damage was done by water than by fire.

Much disappointment is expressed here over the inefficiency of the water works. It was thought that the city had a modern system of water works but at no time during yesterday's fire could a pressure of more than 50 pounds be reached.

Fortunately for all the Atlantic Coast Line has a new depot, a handsome brick building costing $70,000, nearly completed and can move in without experiencing much inconvenience from the fire. This is the third time the company has suffered by fire here.

Washington Defeats Greenville.

Greenville was defeated by Washington in the latter town Tuesday in a one-sided, yet interesting game of Base Ball, to the tune of 7 to 1.

Washington succeeded in picking up her runs in the first four innings.

After that the received five successive goose eggs. Costly errors at critical stages of the game was the cause of Greenville's defeat.

The following is the score of the game:
Greenville 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 1
Washington 3 1 2 1 0 0 0 0 7
Latterly—White, James and King, Greenville.
Davis and Maxwell, Washington.

The same teams will play in Greenville the latter part of next week. Let everybody turn out and cheer our boys to victory.

Marriage Licenses.

Register of Deeds R. Williams issued licenses to the following couples last week:

Roy C. Flanagan and Helen Perkins.
Ralston F. Betts and Myra L. Moore.
J. R. Rawls and Adell Marshman.
Fernando Bland and Mertie Holland.

Improving Lawn.
The lawn next to the court house and Masonic temple is being leveled and put in good condition. A stone coping will be put around it.

7,000 Russian Casualties.

New Chwang, June 20.—A Russian officer, no was wounded in the battle at Vafangow, (Telisseu) told an Associated Press correspondent that the losses on both sides were severe. He placed the Russian casualties at at least 7,000. He says no soldier in the world could withstand the Japanese as they have been fighting lately. Their artillery fire, he claims, is marvellously effective. The Russians fought stubbornly but were unable to withstand the enemy's dashing persistency. Several hundred wounded Russians have been sent north owing to a lack of hospitals and surgeons. All the available transportation has to be used for supplies at the expense of the sick and wounded. The Japanese buried most of the Russian dead after the battle.

It is estimated on information obtainable that the Japanese force moving northward is 70,000 strong, with 90,000 men in the aggregate engaged in the operations at Port Arthur. Several Japanese spies have recently been captured a few miles south of New Chwang. The Russians are becoming more vigilant and are watching newspaper messages closely.

Masonic Opera House 30th.

The presentation of the beautiful drama "I forgave" will take place in the Masonic opera house on Thursday night, June 24th. This is a most beautiful play, full of romance, love, pathos and sarcasm. The parts are well taken and practice rehearsal is being had regularly. It is indeed a most attractive and interesting play. The Masonic fraternity with the ladies and helpers are to be complimented and congratulated for selecting such an artistic attraction.

Considering the cool and dry weather, cotton is doing very well. The plant is rather small, but has a good healthy color; chipping is about over, complaints of lice are very few. The oat crop is fair in a few central counties, but in general it is not doing very well. Corn is being worked the second time and is doing quite well in most sections.

Bidding On Water Works and Electric Lights.

Today was the time for the board of internal improvements to receive and open bids for the construction of electric lights and water works for Greenville. Representatives of about twenty-five different construction companies are here. The board met at 11 o'clock this morning but the result of the bids cannot be given yet.—Daily Reflector, 22.

Five Years in Prison.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 16.—Lawrence Pulliam, convicted of defaulting while cashier of an Asheville bank some years ago, and who appealed and gave bond, was turned over to the court by his bondsmen and sentenced to five years in the Federal prison at Atlanta, where he was taken to-night. The case has been in court a number of years. Pulliam stood well before his conviction and many efforts were made to secure his freedom.

Metalf to Succeed Cortelyou.

Washington, June 20.—It can be stated with definiteness that Representative Victor H. Metalf, of the third California district, will succeed Secretary George B. Cortelyou, as the head of the Department of Commerce and Labor. No change will be made in the department until the close of the present fiscal year on the 30th instant.

How it Works in Union.

"There needs," said a gentleman, "to be a little clarification in the political methods existing in Union county. The use of money is getting so common in the employment of 'workers' that a man needn't start out for office unless he is prepared to spend a good deal. The primaries are practically open to everybody, qualified or unqualified voters, and the man who can send the most workers out to pull in the weakneck, the indifferent and the don't-care-vote, is apt to lead the race. But, too, there is another thing for which the candidates themselves are responsible: that is, the systematic robbing of those who are running for office by the deadbeats who go to every one and say, 'Lend me $2 and I'll help you.' Most of the candidates will hand over the money to such fellows, who in many cases can't even vote in the general election, and who go straightway and sell themselves to an opponent."—Montroes Journal.

Crop Report.

The weekly Crop Bulletin for week ending Monday, June 20, 1904, says: During the first half of the week the weather over the entire state was too cool for the growth of all crops, and their progress was retarded slightly; but the latter part was warm, and all vegetation made a fresh and vigorous start. The amount of rainfall was deficient, especially in the eastern half of the state where the crops in general are suffering for want of moisture.

The wheat harvest is in full progress. About three-fourths of the wheat is cut, the weather being very much in favor of this work. The crop is excellent, and is considered the best for years.

Lightning Sets Fire to House.

In the rain and electrical storm that passed over Griffin early Sunday morning the house of Mr. Tom Gardner was struck by lightning and set afire. The fire occurred about sunrise and was put out by neighbors and friends with buckets of water. The rain was one of the heaviest that ever fell in that section and the water with which the fire at Mr. Gardner's house was put out was dipped up from the streets with buckets.

Mr. Gardner and family were in the house but were not injured by the lightning stroke.—Kinston Free Press.

Prof. J. B. Carlyle, of Wake Forest, will be the orator on the occasion of laying the corner stone and dedication of the Masonic temple here on the 30th. Prof. Carlyle is an eloquent speaker and a treat is in store for all who hear him.

Angle Cake and Deviled Eggs Barred.
Because the officers of St. Paul's Reformed church, Fort Washington, Penn., voted against deviled eggs and angel cake the woman's auxiliary society has abandoned its annual June fete. To have deviled eggs, the officers argued, would be to bring profane objects within the sacred edifice, and to have angel cake would be sacrilegious.

The church is now divided into two camps, one favoring the women and the other the committee.—Chicago Tribune.

Bold Robbery at Hobgood.
A few nights ago some one entered the dining room of Rev. G. L. Merrell in Hobgood and stole some very valuable articles. A trunk with some of Mr. Merrell's wearing apparel had been placed in the dining room and the thief carried away a new suit of clothes and other articles, besides quite a number of dining room utensils. Some spoons were found on the outside, the robbers seeming to have taken out more than they could handle.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

London, June 10.—A dispatch to The Daily Express from Tokio, dated June 15, says news has been received there, but has not yet been officially published, of a great Japanese victory near Fu Chow, on the railway, 70 miles north of Port Arthur. The Russians, it is added were overwhelmed, lost a thousand men, left all their guns on the field and retreated in disorder.

THE STAR LOVERS.
Ancient Japanese Legend of the 7th of July.
Have you ever read in the "Stories
From the Wonderlore of Japan" about "the meeting of the lovers?"
The legend runs thus: On the banks of the silver river of heaven (which we call the Milky Way) there lived a beautiful maiden, who was the daughter of the sun. Her name was Shokujō, and she was so serious and so busy that all called her the "weaving princess." At last the sun king thought to marry his daughter to Kingin, a young man who kept a herd of cows on the banks of the celestial stream, but no sooner was she married than her character seemed to change utterly, and she became idle and forsook her loom and needle.
The sun king thought the husband the cause of this and determined to separate the couple. So he ordered the husband to remove to the other side of the river of stars and told him that hereafter they should meet but once a year, on the seventh day of the seventh month. The sun king then called myriads of magpies, which formed a bridge over the flood of stars, over which the lover-husband sorrowfully crossed the river of heaven. Then the magpies flew away, filling the air with their chattering.
After this the young wife returned to her loom and worked diligently every day, but every evening the two would go and stand by the banks of the river and gaze longingly at each other. Once a year they were allowed to cross the bridge of birds, except if it rained, when the magpies would be swept away. But usually the sky was clear on the seventh evening of the seventh month, and the lovers met with great joy. So in ancient times the people of Japan celebrated this date, hoped for clear weather and wealth and happiness for all, while the girls made a wish that they might be skilled in needlework.
This is the legend of the 7th of July, when the herdsman star and the spinning maiden star cross the Milky Way to meet each other.

Thieves' Cunning.
An ingenious trick was played by a gang of burglars in Sheffield, England. About 7 o'clock at night news was received by telegraph at the fire station that a large timber yard in the suburbs was on fire.
The message purported to be from the owner, who added that there was not much flame, but plenty of smoke. The brigade immediately turned out, but on reaching the scene of the alleged outbreak found it had been hoaxed. The wires were at once put into operation, and it was found the message had come from a silverware manufactory almost opposite the fire station. The officers on gaining an entry found that thieves had ransacked the place.
Large quantities of silver goods had been packed, ready for removal, and the burglars doubtless hoped to escape during the excitement caused by the brigade turning out. They had, however, been alarmed and fled empty handed before the arrival of the police.

On Feb. 12, 1875, an exceedingly brilliant meteor in the form of an elongated horseshoe was seen throughout a region of at least 400 miles in length and 250 miles in breadth, lying in Missouri and Iowa.
It is described as "without a tail, but having a flowing jacket of flame."
Detonations were heard so violent as to shake the earth and to jar the windows like the shock of an earthquake as it fell about 10:30 p. m. a few miles east of Marengo, Ia. The ground for the space of some seven miles in length by two to four miles in breadth was strewn with fragments of this meteor, varying in weight from a few ounces to seventy-four pounds.
Not the Person Desired.
He had just consulted a story book detective, who told him how old he was, the number of his watch, the size of his shoes, how many children he had and what he had eaten for breakfast. Dazed, he groped for the doorknob and started to go.
"What's the matter?" asked the eagle eyed pursuer of the guilty.
"Don't I get the case?"
"No," was the answer. "I want a detective, not a fortune teller."

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR

SEMI-WEEKLY—TUESDAY AND FRIDAY.

D. J. WHICHARD,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Entered in the post office at Greenville, N. C., as second class matter. Advertising rates made known upon application. A correspondent desired at every post office in Pitt and adjoining counties.

Truth in Reference to Fiction

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, JUNE 24 1904.

This week will tell who is in the lead.

With seventy negro delegates in the republican national convention Roosevelt ought to be very happy and feel at home.

The Raleigh Post has added Sanford L. Potter and Willis G. Biggs to its local staff. Both have had good experience as newspaper writers.

Up to Sunday night a total of 624 bodies had been recovered from the burned steamer, General Slocum. More than 300 persons are yet unaccounted for and it is supposed most, if not all, of them perished.

You cant down "Dixie." Playing that ever popular air in a crowded theatre at Americus, Ga., when a cry of fire had been raised outside the building, checked a stampede for the door and quieted a panic.

The real estate dealers of the state are to effect an organization for the purpose of encouraging immigration. A meeting with this object in view will be held in Greensboro this week.

What is the matter with Charlotte and Greensboro. From both comes the announcement that it is the quietest time in police circles ever known. And both cities are in the midst of an anti-whisky campaign. Is this unusual quietness for effect?

It takes such disasters as the Chicago theatre holocaust and the burning and drowning of six hundred people in New York harbor to arouse public officials to a sense of their duty. If vigilant inspections were always made disasters of this kind might not occur.

Every execution that takes place in the state strengthens the sentiment that they should be private. Too many disgraceful scenes have occurred around hangings and the state should discourage the display of such morbid tastes. Executions should be strictly private, and it would be better if all condemned criminals were taken to the penitentiary and the sentence of the law carried out there.

Norfolk is having a trouble that is quite like Greenville's case, though the dispensary is not the point in controversy. In that city a reform board was elected for the coming fiscal year, and the board soon to retire has taken advantage of every point possible in an effort to tie the hands of the incoming administration. Reading an editorial on the subject in the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot we could feel that it applied almost as well to the situation in Greenville.

Greensboro is the mecca.

The Greensboro racket begins tomorrow.

The gentlemen have not much longer to wait.

Great will be the disappointment of somebody at Greensboro.

The gentlemen will soon know which foots up the biggest column.

If a dry June makes a big corn crop there should be full cribs when next harvest time comes.

No, the agony will not end when the state convention is over. The squabble will then wax warm for places on the county ticket.

The republican national convention meets in Chicago this week and will consume three days in carrying out a program that is already cut and dried and might be done in an hour.

It is strange that men who are citizens of a town and ought to have the good of their town at heart, will sometimes act in a way that is detrimental to the interest of themselves and the town.

The Greenville aldermen have named opponents of dispensary to conduct it. Raleigh tried that game but had to back down.—Raleigh News and Observer.

There will be some backing loose here, too.

A dispensary campaign is in progress at Wilmington. The Messenger of that city has declared that it is neutral on the subject and will take sides neither for nor against it. That is a rather dodging position for a newspaper to take on a great moral issue. It would be more manly to get on one side or the other—if it favors the whisky side say no, and vice versa.

As an illustration of the uncertainties of speculation a striking story is related of an Atlanta man who made $40,000 by dealing in cotton futures. When he had received the check, his wife suggested that it was an opportune time to buy the home they had been wanting for years. After a desirable residence had been selected, the husband decided that, since the purchase price would just about consume the amount he had made on cotton, it would be better to re-invest his money and make enough to furnish the place handsomely and live in grand style ever afterwards. He did so—and the next day cotton slumped and he was left penniless and homeless. Another case of a man not being able to let well enough alone.—Charlotte Chronicle.

STOP AND CONSIDER.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

Is the law of the land worth anything in Greenville?

How long will the people be silent under the open flagrant violation? What may we expect of the ignorant and vicious when those high in authority openly set the law at defiance?

A poor unfortunate fellow who cannot resist the temptation of strong drink and the open bar room staggers along the street. He is arrested, fined or sent to the lockup. Five of the board of aldermen conspire together to set at defiance a plain act of the legislature and they walk the streets and laugh in our face. Is there no remedy? Yes, Listen! Section 13, chapter 233 of the laws of 1903 reads: "That whenever it becomes lawful under the provisions of this act to establish a dispensary in any city or town, the governing body of said city or town shall appoint the commissioners from the voters of said city or town, who, in the election, voted for said dispensary, whose duty it shall be to conduct such dispensary under such rules and regulations and with such officers and employees, as may be prescribed and allowed by the governing body of said city or town, who shall fix the compensation of said commissioners and their officers and employees."

Here is a plain positive duty imposed by law upon the board of alderman of the town of Greenville to appoint three commissioners "who voted for said dispensary." It is well known that they appointed two men who voted against the dispensary. Did they confederate, combine and agree to do this before the election took place? It is a well known fact that the aldermen voted by ballot, that the names of the two persons elected had not been mentioned in the open meeting, but yet by some sort of a strange coincidence (if there had been no previous agreement) the names of these two persons were found on the five ballots cast by five of the aldermen.

Section 2, chapter 270 of the laws of 1901 reads: "If any clerk of any court of record, sheriff, justice of the peace, county commissioner, county surveyor, coroner, treasurer, constable, of any official or any of the state institutions, or of any town or city shall wilfully omit, neglect or refuse to discharge any of the duties of his office, for default whereof it is not provided that he shall be indicted, the said officer so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. And if it shall be proved that such officer, after his qualification shall have wilfully and corruptly omitted, neglected or refused to discharge any of the duties of his said office or shall have wilfully and corruptly violated his oath of office according to the true intent and meaning thereof, such officer shall be guilty of misbehavior in office and shall be punished by removal therefrom under the sentence of the court as part of the punishment for the offence; and shall also be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court."

Can anyone doubt that these five aldermen confederated to violate this law, and set at defiance its provisions? They did not stop there, but they undertook to say by an ordinance passed at the same night that these disqualified persons should continue to hold this place, which the law says they are disqualified to hold, until the first day of July, 1906.

Did these two disqualified persons have any previous knowledge of this arrangement? Had they previously agreed to enter into this conspiracy to set at defiance this plain provision of law and to defeat the expressed will of the people of Greenville?

These are questions which those concerned had better be considering if there is ever to come a day of reckoning for these flagrant violations of law.

These conditions will impose upon the incoming board of aldermen grave duties and responsibilities. Will they meet them like men? I trust and believe so.

I would suggest that the aldermen and the disqualified persons they have chosen stop and think before it is too late, but it seems they are bent upon doing whatever they can to obstruct and defeat the results of the election on the second of March, 1904. A majority of the people voted for a dispensary. So the present board of aldermen themselves declared. The law says that the dispensary shall be put in the hands of its friends to run it. The board of aldermen and the two commissioners appointed to run it have undertaken to place it in the hands of its enemies. Two of the commissioners chosen to run it voted against the dispensary. The manager and assistant manager, chosen by these disqualified commissioners, also voted against it. It is a well known fact that these two commissioners appointed to run it and the manager and assistant manager chosen by them, not only voted against the dispensary, but they were among the most active workers against it.

Can it be possible that these aldermen, and these disqualified commissioners, and the manager and assistant manager chosen by them, suppose for one minute that the people of Greenville will quietly submit to this outrage? If they do, then indeed will the law of the land be worth nothing in Greenville.

It is to be hoped that the persons referred to in this communication will not take this as a threat, but that it may cause them to stop and think and to retrace their steps before it is too late. CITIZEN.

The Liberty of the Press.

Nearly ever newspaper man who can write at all has been trying his hand on the above subject of late. Many good things have been said, others not so good, and some rather indifferent, not to say bad. There is, however, a whole clunk of truth contained in the following from Durham Thrift:

We are not of those who regard the license of the press as an unmitigated evil. The great sin of the press (in our opinion) is its silence when wickedness is seated in high places. Even the best editors shrink from the duty of denouncing the wrong-doing of party leaders, whom they must support under penalty of being charged with disloyalty to their friends.

Some prominent and useful papers are swift and persistent in the detection and exposure of wrong-doing by men of the political party whose injury they wish to effect, while they pass by in silence or with faint rebuke, if they do not openly defend, similar practices of their own party men.

The press is now the first estate in this realm, and well would it be if its purity and disinterestedness were equal to its ability and opportunity.

We know where the chicken got the axe, but we would like to know where it got the radium that makes its price so high.—Wilmington Star.

Raw onions are said to cure the rheumatism, but no doubt your friends would prefer that you continue to eat the rhubarb.—Durham Sun.

What the Dispensary is not.

The whiskey business is getting warmed up in Charlotte. Wherever a campaign of this sort is conducted will be seen and heard a lot of impractical utterances. In all temporary movements the men least capable of leading are apt to get into the saddle. That is why sensible, conservative men have, for the most part, staid out of the fights. The dispensary, as conducted in Raleigh, is the proper and permanent solution of the liquor business. We say "as conducted in Raleigh," because we happen to know how the business is done here. The dispensary is no sickly, sentimental, temperance movement. It is rather a demonstration of how a bad business may be done in the least harmful manner possible. To make a dispensary successful, there are three things necessary. First, it must be in the hands of honest, upright men, who will see to it that the business is properly conducted. Second, it must keep a pure article of goods the best that can be had anywhere. Third, it must be a financial success, and tend to reduce the taxes of the property holders in the city and community where it exists. Whiskey is here, and here to stay. It will be sold in some form till the millennium dawn, and the dispensary is the medium through which it can be done with the least harm to all concerned. Prohibition for cities like Charlotte, Raleigh or Wilmington would, as it has always been, a delusion and a fraud; a breeder of "blind tigers," and all sorts of back-door, dark-alley devilment. We have no thought of the conservative business contingent of these places will favor it for a single minute.—Raleigh Times.

North Carolina, in common with other Southern states, goes through the form of pensioning the most needy of her ex-confederate veterans—doing, perhaps, as much as she is able for them; but unfortunately, very little. An item in our Raleigh letter published yesterday, stated that it is not thought there will be much increase, if, indeed, any, in the number of pensioners this year. "The death rate," it is added, "has increased considerably and is greater this year than ever." There is nothing strange about these facts until we go to contrast them with Uncle Sam's experience in the matter of pensions—then it seems that there is something wrong. And there is.—Charlotte Observer.

The report of the State board of health on smallpox shows that for the year ending May 1st there were 5,300 cases of the disease in North Carolina, the largest number in any year since the disease made its appearance in January, 1898. The number of deaths was the smallest during any season.

For the first time there were more cases among the whites than among the negroes, the number of whites cases being 2,800 against 2,500 colored. The total number of cases since the disease made its appearance in this state is nearly 15,000. It is thought the disease in all probability came in 1898 from Mexico, being brought from that country by railway employes.

In the Democratic platform John Sharp Williams places special emphasis upon honesty in all the departments of the government. "This same emphasis would not come amiss when the national platform is made.—Raleigh Times.

The report of the sheriffs of the various counties to the corporation commission show that in North Carolina there are 828 lawyers, 1,278 physicians, 289 dentists, 116 photographers, 355 hotels, 9,132 merchants and 1,064 corporations.

The other day the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. received an order for a buggy with an especially urgent request that the work be completed at once.

Later the following facts developed: Somewhere there was a girl and the gentleman who wanted the buggy was in the last stages of a delightful delirium. But one silent spectre came to disturb his dream. He had a rival and this buggy was to aid in his defeat.

Knowing the style and finish of Hunsucker's buggies and also the harness which he always carries in stock, although as you would suppose, in a desperate hurry, he preferred to wait until this buggy could be built here, rather than buy his outfit from the stock of the manufacturers near.

Wise young man! Needless to say his job was done promptly and in such style as to satisfy his critical taste, made more so by his position. His expectations were fulfilled and today he is singing the praise of Hunsucker buggies. Try one.

Come Home, Father.

Father, dear father, come home with me now, For mother is out to the club, You said you were coming right home from your work To get the dear children some grub, The cook has gone out—her club also meets—

The janitor's gone on a spree, And poor brother Bennie has swallowed a nail, And no one to help him but me.

Father, dear father, come home with me now; There's scrubbing and sweeping to do, While mother is solving the problems of state

The children are crying for you, The socks must be darned, the patches tacked on, The beds must be turned back to air, And mother's shirt waist must be ironed tonight, Or she will have nothing to wear

Father, dear father, come home with me now; It's lonely without any man; And mother will grieve when she comes from the club

If things are not fixed spick and span, Don't swear, dear poppet; it isn't polite: The children in heading might be, So let business slide, for dear mother, you know.

May bring home a few friends to tea.—Council Bluffs Nonpareil.

Monroe Hotel Destroyed.

Monroe, June 19.—Last night at 12:20 o'clock fire was discovered in the roofing of the Gloucester Hotel. Several guests were assigned to their rooms about 12 o'clock and had hardly retired when the doors of their rooms were broken down and they were informed that the hotel was on fire. The building was destroyed. The loss is estimated to be $19,000 or $12,000, with insurance of $3,500 on the building and $1,200 on furniture and fixtures.

Experienced travellers have found great benefit by taking with them a bottle of Dr. Seth A. Wright's Balsam. It cures illness caused by impure water and sudden changes of climate.

It is painful to see how ready very many people are to incur debt. Really the majority of men will buy anything if the purchase of it is urged on a credit. Not only so but if the buying is pressed vigorously enough folks will buy and bind themselves by liens that cover valued personal property and even realty. This is a weak point in human nature. In our section "you can pay in the fall" is the prevailing argument of the traveling seller of this and that thing from a clock up or down. Sales on a credit are under certain conditions better for the vender than for cash and worse for the buyer. It is a sad thought that so many should come to the marketing, yea, to the picking of the first bale of his cotton crop with a debt that covers it all. The year's work expended before its results are garnered. Let us all resolve that we will not, if possible, march on to the end of the year to incur the painful experience of having no extra cash in our tills.—Rev. P. R. Law in Lumberton Robesonian.

Minus Breakfast.

Blount Pearce was complaining of an emptiness this morning where his breakfast should have been. He goes out early in the morning to his work, and if he is not back when the family breakfast his meal is placed inside the stove for him. It seems some one else beside Blount had learned of this arrangement, for when he went to get his breakfast this morning he found only empty plates.

BETHEL DEPARTMENT

We are in receipt of The Bingham School Catalogue for its 11th Year, the best year financially in its history. We note that besides its North Carolina contingent it has attracted more than ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY (140) pupils from outside of the State, representing an area which reaches from Conn. and Neb., through Florida and Texas, Mexico City and Tehuantepec, to British Honduras; and we note also that it is refusing pupils instead of increasing its accommodations. We congratulate Col. Bingham that the success of the school is even greater at Asheville than it was in Orange County.

The high standing of this salve has given rise to counterfeits, and the public is advised to look for the name "DeWitt" on the package, and accept no other. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.
