DEATH OF MRS. R. L. CARR.

Young Wife and Mother Passes Away.

Death is so relentless. He lays his icy hands alike upon the old, the young and the middle aged, leaving in his dark trail hearts burst asunder with grief. Sad indeed are his visits under all circumstances, but inexpressibly sad when he invades a new made, happy home and robs it of the young wife and mother. Never a dream had people of Greenville when barely a year ago they followed a happy bride to the altar, strewing her pathway with the flowers of good wishes and congratulations, that today they would follow that same form to the tomb and wreathe her bier with flowers expressive of their sorrow and esteem. Yet such is the sudden change death has wrought, and where joy and happiness then reigned there is now grief and despair.

It was on the 15th day of October, 1903, that a host of friends gathered in the Memorial Baptist church to witness the ceremony that gave Miss Janie Flournoy in marriage to Dr. Robert L. Carr, and today loving hands bare her remains to the same edifice where she so recently became a bride, for the last tribute of esteem to be paid her memory, thence gently laid her in the tomb to sleep until awakened by angels on the resurrection morn, the same friends gathering to shed tears of sympathy with the bereaved.

Mrs. Carr was a daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Francis Flournoy, the latter now being Mrs. M. A. Allen. She came to Greenville a little more than three years ago when Mr. Allen moved his family here from Reidsville. She was a young woman of lovable character and gentle disposition, and rapidly won the hearts of friends in her new home. Hers was a sweet Christian life, shedding a fragrance of love and kindness upon all with whom she came in contact. Socially she was a favorite with every one, and when it was learned that her spirit had taken its flight at 9 o'clock Saturday night no eye could restrain a tear as the sad intelligence passed from one to another.

Words fail to express the sympathy felt for the heart broken husband and tender babe of eleven days who in her death lost wife and mother, and for the grief-stricken mother and other members of the family. All truly share their sorrow and it is heart-felt.

The funeral services were held at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the Memorial Baptist church conducted by Rev. T. H. King, of Ayden, assisted by Rev. W. E. Cox, and the interment was in Cherry Hill cemetery. The pall bearers were: Honorary--J. L. Little, J. R. Moore, R. W. King, T. J. Jarvis, J. G. Moye, W. H. Bugebale, C. D. Rountree, J. L. Wooten, F. W. Oure, W. B. Dove. Active--E. B. Ficklen, R. O. Jeffers, J. C. Tyson, D. J. Whichard, H. A. White, W. B. Wilson, F. M. Holmes, R. Williams.

The expressions of sympathy in floral tributes were many and beautiful, entirely covering the casket. Besides the individual tributes, there were appropriate designs from the Star's Social Club, End of the Century Book Club, Knights of Pythias, Baptist Sunday school, Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist church and the Tobacco Board of Trade.

SUPERIOR COURT.

September Term in Session.

The September term of Pitt Superior court began Monday afternoon with Judge W. B. Council presiding and Solicitor L. I. Moore representing the state. The court could not begin at the usual morning hour because of the train upon which the judge was coming being late. Judge Council explained this in beginning his charge to the grand jury, as he said he believed in opening court at the proper time, and only in one or two instances since he had been on the bench had he failed to do so.

Judge Council's charge to the grand jury was an excellent one. Besides being a clear treatise of law for the guidance of the grand jury, it was instructive, patriotic, and of a nature to help all who heard to a fuller realization of the duties of citizenship and give them a clearer conception of the principles of good government.

The grand jury for this term is composed of B. E. Patrick, foreman, W. R. Williams, Jr., Thos. Carson, C. A. Hyman, Jas. H. Joyner, Furney Laughinghouse, E. T. Roberson, Jacob McLawhorn, S. S. Worthington, J. B. Roebuck, W. F. Barnhill, J. G. Garris, W. B. Burney, J. A. Teel, J. B. Speight, John Nobles, Jr., Heber Briley, W. J. Mills.

The following cases have been disposed of:

Bristow Bryan, failure to list taxes, pleads guilty, judgment suspended on payment of costs and taxes.

Thad Askew, carrying concealed weapon, pleads guilty, fined $20 and costs.

Nasby Mills, carrying concealed weapon, pleads guilty, fined $25 and costs.

E. M. Cheek, gambling, pleads guilty, fined $10 and costs and recognized in the sum of $100 to appear at January term, 1905, and show that he has not gambled.

James Gardner, assault with deadly weapon, pleads guilty, fined $10 and costs.

Henry Harrington, assault with deadly weapon, pleads guilty, fined $10 and costs.

H. C. Kinsaul and Luke Henby, affray, plead guilty, Kinsaul fined $20 and costs, Henby fined $15 and costs.

Richard D. Pope, failing to list taxes, pleads guilty, judgment suspended on payment of costs and taxes.

John White, failing to list taxes, not guilty.

N. Eborn, Henry Eborn and Jesse Fleming, affray, not guilty.

Rufus Vines, carrying concealed weapon, not guilty.

Chas. Dawson, carrying concealed weapon, guilty, fined $30 and cost.

Chas. Evans, larceny, guilty, sentenced 5 years in state prison.

Chas. Evans, breaking jail, pleads guilty, judgment suspended.

William Dixon, failure to list taxes, not guilty.

Edgar Burney, failure to list taxes, not guilty.

J. H. Barnhill and Joe Barnhill, injury to stock, not guilty.

Hob Lindsay, assault with deadly weapon, pleads guilty, 6 months in jail and assigned to county roads.

G. A. Easley, larceny, guilty, 2 years in jail and assigned to roads.

Jesse Starkey, gambling, pleads guilty.

KILLED BY HIS UNCLE.

A. G. Fussell Shoots Sam Derr by Mistake.

A distressing accidental killing occurred Tuesday afternoon about 7 miles below Greenville.

A. G. Fussell and Sam Derr went out squirrel hunting together. After getting in the woods they became separated, and while creeping about looking for game Mr. Fussell saw a bush smoking. He thought there was a squirrel in the bush and fired on it when to his horror he discovered that he had shot Mr. Derr. The entire load struck him in the face and head and death resulted in a few minutes.

Mr. Derr was a young man about 22 years of age and his home was in Goldsboro. He had been down in this county for sometime visiting relatives. He was a nephew of Mr. Fussell.

GREENVILLE BOY RECEIVES NEW HONORS.

The Charlotte school commissioners met at the city hall at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and released Prof. J. A. Bivins, who will go to Durham to accept the headmastership of Trinity Park School. Mr. Harry P. Harding, now superintendent of the New Bern graded school, was elected to the place Mr. Bivins vacated. Mr. Harding is a young man of ability, learning and experience. He was graduated from the University in 1898 with honors. At one time he was principal of the Goldsboro graded school, and he organized the city schools at Oxford. The board did well to select Mr. Harding. He comes highly recommended. He is a married man; his wife was Miss Lulie Ives, of New Bern. He is a brother of Mr. W. F. Harding, of this city.—Charlotte Observer.

Carolina Club.

There was a delightful gathering in the rooms of Carolina Club, Monday night at the formal opening for the season of the club cafe. There were a number of invited guests. Many ladies were present among them being several visitors and they added much to the occasion. Music and games were features of the evening and the ladies delighted the assemblage with several delightful solos. Oyster were served in the cafe. The club has splendid quarters and it constantly grows in popularity. The membership is quite large.

Dr. Baker Acquitted.

The trial of Dr. Julian M. Baker for killing Dr. H. T. Bass occupied three days of the Superior court at Tarboro last week. The case was given to the jury Saturday evening and a verdict of justifiable homicide was returned Sunday afternoon.

Dr. W. H. Wakefield, of Charlotte, N. C., will be in Greenville at Hotel Bertha Monday Oct. 3rd and until noon of Tuesday Oct. 4th for one day only. His practice is limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat, and fitting glasses. 9 24w

ROBBED THE MINSTRELS.

And Got Two Years Sentence.

Here is an example of quick justice. While Faust Minstrels were showing in the opera house Tuesday night some one slipped up the back steps and stole the clothing of some of the actors. The thief was soon discovered and reported to Chief of Police Smith, and before the show was over he had G. W. Easley, colored under arrest. Easley said he came a few days ago from Knoxville but he was readily identified by the show people as one who was hanging around the rear stage entrance before the show started. This morning clothing belonging to one of the showmen was found in the room where Easley stayed.

Soon after court met this morning the grand jury found a true bill against Easley. Before noon the negro was tried, convicted and sentenced to two years in jail to be assigned to the roads.

Benefactors' Day.

Trinity College, September 19.—Ex Governor T. J. Jarvis has accepted an invitation to deliver the address of the occasion on Benefactors' day, of Trinity College, October 31. The exercises will be conducted in the Craven Memorial Hall in the evening of the holiday. Benefactors day probably the most important holiday for Trinity College, is the announcement of all benefactions that have been made to the institution during the year just past. The day was set aside as a holiday several years ago and the first benefaction announced was that of Mr. Washington Duke, who gave to the college $100,000 on condition that women be admitted to the institution. Since that time Benefactors' Day has been the real big day of the session for Trinity.

Truth in Preference to Fiction

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1904.

THIS TAKES THE CAKE.

A man up in Boston who has been a prominent Democrat announces that he will separate from that party and vote for Roosevelt. And here is the reason he assigns for this change of heart:

"Does not this dilemma face Mr. Parker? If elected president and if there were in Washington a gathering of the most eminent educators in this country, among whom Booker Washington would be classed, and the president wished naturally enough to show due recognition and honor to this gathering and invited them to the White House, would he bar out Booker T. Washington? Would he have a Jim Crow pantry behind the house to which Booker Washington would be shunted off?"

"On the other hand, if Parker as president should ask Booker T. Washington to the White House, would not the whole South again raise the cry that they had been wronged in their candidate?"

This man says he has dined with Booker Washington and would consider it a privilege to do so again. And he is so afraid that Parker would snub Booker in case that the opportunity offers that he does not want to take any risk about it.

National chairman Tom Taggart who is on a visit to Chicago, gives a cheering report of the prospects of Democratic success. He says the situation in New York is all that we could want. Indiana is in the best condition for Democratic victory since 1892. If Democrats in Illinois are harmonious that state is debatable ground.

The Populists have issued a call for a county convention. If they launch a ticket, as it is expected, it will merely serve to draw out the otherwise stay-at-home Democratic voters so that in reality it will make the party vote larger.

The demand by our enterprising business men on the advertising space of THE DAILY REFLECTOR bids fair to cause another enlargement in the size of the paper. That is what we hope for, and plans to that end are already on foot.

Moses did not appoint himself to lead the way to the promised land, and the man who appoints himself to lead the way to the general assembly will find when the roll is called that his name is mud.

The Raleigh Evening Times has developed wonderfully since getting installed in its new home and is a splendid paper. But it's new hat is not the prettiest looking part of it.

The announcement of one of the left candidates before the county convention that he will run independent takes no one by surprise. The people had just that opinion of him.

Republican candidate for governor C. J. Harris, or somebody for him has actually gone to the expense of having campaign buttons made. That was a pure waste of good money.

When a man fails to get a single vote from the township in which he was born and raised it does not look like the people were over anxious for him to be their candidate.

No, thank you, Greenville does not want any street carnival. When application was made for one to come in here every voice was against it.

The press of the state sympathizes with editor J. H. King, of the Durham Herald, upon the death of his little daughter.

As long as the weather continues so favorable to the straw hat it will likely remain in evidence till frost catches it.

Won't Lena be in a predicament when she is stripped.—Durham Sun.

Will they take off her Russian blouse, too?

United States Senator Simmons received a telegram today from Senator Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island, asking Senator Simmons to meet him at Beaufort on Thursday for the purpose of examining the harbor there with a view to seeing what can be done by the government in dredging the bar for the passage of large vessels into the harbor. R. S. Howland, lessee of the Atlantic and North Carolina rail road, will be with Senator Aldrich. In fact the conference is brought about through Mr. Howland, with a view to the promotion of his plans for developing the Atlantic and North Carolina road. The bar at Beaufort now admits vessels of from fourteen to eighteen feet and it is claimed that with the expenditure of a little more than $100,000 in dredging vessels of 25 or 30 feet draft can be brought into the harbor.—Raleigh Correspondent.

"Mr. Theodore Roosevelt desires no communication with Jefferson Davis." It is stated in a Democratic contemporary that this sentence was written by Mr. Roosevelt, the historian, "to the old man who had politely called his attention to some gross errors in his writings." We had no idea that Mr. Roosevelt was so brutal, and would be much gratified to see a denial that he ever penned such a sentiment. If he did so, no man whose heart is in the right place should desire any communication with him.—Charlotte Observer.

The Norfolk Landmark speaks of "Judge Winston, who has graced the Supreme court bench of North Carolina," as "the present aspirant for Democratic Governor of that State." Surely our friend has not lost his grip on North Carolina politics to the extent indicated. The editor must be taking his vacation.—Charlotte Observer.

The Great South.
Mr. Joseph G. Brown, the prominent Raleigh banker, who is in attendance upon the National convention of bankers, made a speech night before last which was characteristic of the man and one that reflected credit on this section of the country. Among other things, he said:

"A fact which is little understood here is the remarkable strides made by the Southern farmer. He has raised this year a diversified crop and with the enormous returns from truck farming he has made himself comparatively independent. As a result of this and the large profits made from high cotton last year, the people of our region are in the best condition that they have been in for years. Of course the banks reflect this prosperity, and are unusually rich, with heavier resources than at this time in former years. Just now we are drawing on our balances here, and shall need large amounts of money to move the cotton crop. The banks of the South will give good account of themselves this season."

This sounds mighty good and every word of it is true, not only of the South, but of North Carolina. It must have given Mr. Brown much pleasure to make such a flattering account of his section.—Wilmington Dispatch.

Not since the civil war has a presidential campaign been so devoid of interest or excitement as the present one. In years gone we began campaigns in North Carolina in presidential years by the 1st of July and by the middle of September the campaign was at its height. This year, however, we have adopted the sensible plan of waiting until September to begin and as a consequence politics will excite little interest until next month. The people are giving politics little attention at present. Indeed, a condition of apathy seems to exist, but there is plenty of time. We hope the plan of giving only two months or six weeks to a campaign will be permanently adopted. The Asheville Citizen says the chairman of both the Democratic and Republican committees in the tenth congressional district figure out that the present condition of apathy will be followed by an unusually large vote in November, arguing that the people are already well posted on general political conditions and there are no new issues to awaken their curiosity or make them doubtful as to how they will vote. This may be so, but the average politician would doubtless feel better if the people were manifesting a little more interest in politics.—Statesville Landmark.

Crawl For Appendicitis.
German medical journals are recommending a new and peculiar remedy for appendicitis, the employment of which, it is declared, obviates the necessity for the use of the knife in the great majority of cases. This remedy consists in walking on all fours 20 minutes four times a day. A contemporary states that this method is not only original, but almost aboriginal. However this may be, the method is certainly worthy of consideration. This method of treatment operates by strengthening the abdominal muscles. When the muscles have relaxed the bowels become displaced, congested and diseased; the disease extends to the appendix and thus an inflammation is produced. It is claimed that a well-known German diplomat has recently been cured of appendicitis by this method.—Ex.

I have just returned from Baltimore where I bought my fall millinery and notions. Opening Sept. 18, 1904. Mrs. H. L. Boyd, Greenville, N. C., has done it.

Why Man Defaults.
The insurance Press publishes a lot of letters from presidents of surety companies, discussing the causes of defaultations by clerks and other employees. The statements of these men may be accepted as authoritative. All sections of the country are represented.

In Cleveland, where heavy defaultations have been unusually numerous the most common causes assigned are three.

"1. New York stock exchange.
"2. Chicago board of trade.
"3. New Orleans cotton market."

In Cleveland, New York and Boston in all cases where speculation is not assigned as the first cause it is given second place.

In New York a cause that is put prominently forward is betting on the horse races.

In Boston, "extravagant expenditures on women" is given as a leading cause.

At the South card playing does the most harm.

In all the cities, intemperance is given as a prolific cause of defaultations, as it is also of business failures.

These officers all agree that only a very small proportion of defaulters deliberately set out to defraud their employers. The defaultations in nine cases out of ten come as a result of disastrous speculations or other losses.

The first step in defaultation is taken with the intention of returning the money. It is surreptitiously "borrowed" in an attempt to get out of a tight corner. But gambling, or speculation, even if successful at first, lures one on, deeper into it. And some day there comes losses that cannot be retrieved.

The showing made by these surety presidents leaves little cause for wonder that the largest companies have resolved to refuse to bond any man that gambles.—Atlanta Journal.

The Black Men's Eggs.

The other afternoon a woman entered a grocery store and, stepping up to the proprietor, said: "I want 50 cents' worth of eggs and prefer those laid by black hens." "Well, I'd like to accommodate you, madam, but as long as I've been in this business I never learned how to tell the eggs of a black hen from a speckled or a white one." "Yet," continued the woman, "there is a great difference, and eggs laid by black hens are easily distinguished." "If that is so just pick them out for yourself, please," said the grocer. Accepting the invitation, the woman carefully selected the eggs, and as she put the last one into a paper bag the astonished grocer exclaimed: "Gracious! Do black hens lay all the big eggs?" "Yes," replied the customer, gliding toward the door, "that's how you tell them."—New York Press.

A Useful Ladder.
Among the peculiar "geniuses" of Byfield, Mass., a place to be remembered, and of which J. L. Ewell has written a book, was a man in the north of the parish who was asked by a ladder vender if he would like to buy.

"How much are the ladders a foot?" he asked.
"Twelve cents," was the answer.
"Very well," said he, "I'll take a foot."

The ladder vender jumped down from his load, pulled down a ladder and sawed off a foot.

The purchaser took it, paid the price and remarked quietly: "That's just what I've been wanting to pick huckleberries with."—Youth's Companion.

Model Washed.
"Longhair has received a commission to paint one of those studies from still life for old Muebach," said the first artist.
"Good!" replied the second painter, "I am glad to hear of his good luck."
"But he says he has washed Muebach's study with a mop of a blue rag."—The Evening Star.

Humor of Napoleon I.
Great men have often been deficient in the sense of humor. This was markedly the case with Napoleon I, whose sense of humor, if he possessed it, was of a grim sort. It is recorded, however, that he had a certain sympathy with a pun, and several of his minor appointments were actually made because the appointees' names seemed to indicate their fitness for the place. He made M. Bigot, for instance, his minister of public worship at one time, and when he was looking about for a governor of the pages in the imperial palace he could think of no one so appropriate for the place as General Gardanne, whose name, in French, signifies a keeper of donkeys.

When he came to make Marshal Victor Beau-Soleil a duke, it struck Napoleon that the opportunity was an excellent one to make a sort of reverse or "back action" pun on the marshal's name. Beau-Soleil signifies "beautiful sunshine," so the emperor created the man the Duc de Bellune, which was very much as if he had made him the Duke Fine Moon.

International Amities.
The newly rich American looked across the table at the faded and shabbily dressed Englishwoman who she thought was trying to snub her, and it was plainly a hostile glance. "You admire this diamond," she said to her next neighbor in an unnecessarily loud tone. "It is handsome, I think. I bought it in London at one of the pawnshops where the English royalty dispose of their ornaments in times of need."

"I have no doubt of it," said the asperingly soft and clear English voice. "Our best people sometimes sell, but they never buy in pawnshops, madam."—Youth's Companion.

Their Many Children.
Two young women sat together in a Euclid car. "How many children have you?" asked one.
"Twenty-two," was the reply.
"How many have you?"
"Thirty-one," replied the other.

This attracted the attention of a motherly appearing woman. "Did I understand you to say that one of you had twenty-two children and you thirty-one?" she said. "Why, you don't look to be more than twenty-five years old apiece."
"We're schoolteachers," said one of the young women.—Cleveland Leader.

A Little Late.
Lawrence, the artist, was a very slow worker. Over his portrait of Lady Moxborough and her child he took an unconscionable time. Promise after promise was made, and at last Lord Moxborough insisted on fulfillment.

"Well," said Lawrence, "if Lady Moxborough will kindly bring the baby once more I will really finish."
"Well, Sir Thomas," answered the patron, "my wife will be happy to give you another sitting whenever you like, but the baby's in the guards!"—London Telegraph.

Force of Habit.
"John," said the cashier's wife, dropping into the bank in the midst of her shopping trip, "you forgot to leave me that money this morning."
"What name?" asked the cashier, without looking up.
"Name? Name!" exclaimed the lady. "I'm your wife!"
"No doubt, no doubt," answered the cashier mechanically and going on with his writing, "but you will have to bring some one to identify you."

Her Reproof.
"Did I understand you to say you courted investigation?" said Mr. Grafton Grab's wife.
"Yes," was the answer.
"Well, it is a very unfortunate phrase. Everybody who has read anything, from the classic poets to a seaside novel, knows that a man doesn't mean half he says when he's courting."—Washington Star.

A Starmark Story.
Prince Bismarck once received an application from a personal friend who desired a place in the imperial office for his son. "What can the boy do?" asked the prince. "He can speak seven languages," replied the friend.
"That's the man of blood and iron," said the prince. "What a splendid head wait for you!"

Narrow Escape.
W. L. Smith, a son of Mr. W. M. Smith, of Falkland, recently went to Poughkeepsie to take a course in a business college, and the first night after his arrival had a narrow escape from death by asphyxiation. When young Smith retired for the night he in some way left a gas jet open after turning off the light.

Not appearing for breakfast next morning his landlady sent to the room to have him called when he was found in an unconscious condition. Physicians were summoned at once and after several hours' work he was restored to consciousness and soon was out of danger. His parents and friends at home learned with regret that he met with such an accident that came so near costing him his life, but are glad that the prompt attention revived him.

To The Public.
Owing to the law recently passed by the town, forbidding any buggies to be left on the street, and our room being limited, we are forced to quit feeding or taking care of any transient horses. And as we are informed and believe that our stables is the cause of the law being enacted, we respectfully request the Board of Aldermen to repeal the law so that all stables except ours, that the public may be entertained.

A QUEER GAME.
Stone Fighting Is the National Pastime in Korea.
Every country has its national game. With Americans it is baseball. The Koreans prefer stone fighting or throwing. Travelers soon learn of the art acquired by some fighters, though there is but one day in the year given over to it. If any one offend a Korean, he answers with a stone. All classes indulge the habit. It is said of a Korean woman that she never fails to throw a stone straight. Within bounds she is as expert as a man. The childhood pleasure of skipping stones along the surface of streams is as well known to the Korean as to the Yankee. On stone throwing day, however, she is restricted to a certain time for her pleasure as upon other days. In the Land of the Morning Calm women are allowed on the streets only during curfew time, between twilight and early forenoon. During the day they are in seclusion.
In anticipation of the stone throwing fete the natives save all shaps and kinds of rocks. Even the smallest child has his stone pile and takes pride in it. They practice diligently, aiming at different targets. Often a hemp man like a scarecrow is rigged up, and the entire family use him for a fake enemy to be demolished by stones. Other targets are mandarin ducks, good luck cress and foreign soldiers made of cotton wool paper.
In preparing for the fete towns and villages put aside a goodly sum of money for the wounded and to buy prizes for the champions. Over bands, composed of strange instruments, mostly drums and moon fiddles, announce the opening of the festival. The participants are drawn up in two sides like an army in battle. At the signal stone throwing begins, and soon the rules are laid aside, and the game becomes hot and furious. It is called off by some member of the squire noble class, a village elder or a court official.—New York Times.

Fair Warning.
At one time Horace Greeley lived in a pleasant estate on the Hudson river. It was approached by a narrow lane from the street, says a writer in the Springfield Republican, and was four miles out from the city hall on the Harlem road. The ground from the house on one side sloped down to the river. On the other was a garden which bore fruit, accessible to boys. On Sunday, their day of freedom as well as Mr. Greeley's, the boys sought the orchard.
Mr. Greeley never saw or heard them. But Mrs. Greeley always saw them, and from her place on the piazza she would call to Mr. Greeley to put on his hat and "deal with them."
Mr. Greeley would never have disturbed them, but he always complied with his wife's wish—in his own time and way. As he slowly reached for his hat he shouted: "I'm coming after you, boys!"
Of course not many captures were made.

Eat Food Slowly.
Eat all cold food slowly. Digestion will not begin till the temperature of the food has been raised by the heat of the stomach to 98 degrees; hence the more heat that can be imparted to it by slow mastication the better. The precipitation of a large quantity of cold food into the stomach by fast eating may, and often does, cause discomfort and indigestion, and every occasion of this kind results in a measurable injury to the digestive functions. Ice water drunk with cold food of course increases the mischief. Hot drinks—hot water, weak tea, chocolate, etc.—will on the contrary help to prevent it. But eat slowly anyway.

A Judge of Human Nature.
"Doctor, tell me honestly whether my health is improving or not."
"By dear sir, you're getting on famously—famously."
"You are not speaking the truth, doctor, but I can tell without your assistance whether I am getting better or not."
"How can you judge?"
"By the behavior of my horse."
Paris Gaultier.

The Severe Part of It.
Actor—Perry, or we'll show the truth. Actress—I can't find my diamonds or my purse.
"Oh, what a nuisance!"
"To be sure, but it's the A. N. New York Herald."

Sulphur Baths
At Home Cure Rheumatism
Hot sulphur baths give relief at once, quieting the pains of rheumatism and gout. The sulphur treatment, external and internal, will cure both of these terrible diseases. Chas. M. Stieff,
9 Liberty St., Baltimore, Md.
Gentlemen:—We beg to enclose you herewith an order properly executed for the purchase of thirty new Upright Stieff Pianos and one new Stieff Baby Grand. We beg to advise that this will equip our school throughout, for teachers and pupils, with your celebrated instruments, excepting one Concert Grand. It is needless to say that we expect a great deal of the pianos which you shall send us, and from the thorough investigation we have given the matter and the great satisfaction which we find your pianos have given in other schools, we feel sure that we shall not be disappointed in our expectation.
The Baptist University for Women being among the foremost schools of its kind in the South, places us in such a position that our patrons expect of us the best equipment that can be had in this country, and we feel sure that they will not be disappointed in sending their daughters to our University to find it equipped with Stieff Pianos exclusively.
We trust you will be able to deliver these instruments to us not later than September 10th, so that they will be in place in ample time for the opening of our fall session.
Yours very truly,
R. T. VANN, Pres.

When the heads of such colleges with whom we entrust our children for their education select the Artistic Stieff Piano, would it not be wise for you to profit by their knowledge and experience? The Stieff Piano is a Southern production and sold direct from factory to fireside, thus saving all in between profits.
Besides our own matchless Stieff, we have several other standard makes at exceedingly low prices and lenient terms. Several slightly used upright pianos and organs at surprising low prices.
We are here for a limited time only. Take advantage of rare and timely opportunity.
CHAS. M. STIEFF.

LETTER TO R. WILLIAMS

Greenville, N. C. Dear Sir: You are so well known that the people have put you in office. They knew what they were about: They didn't do it by accident.

Wouldn't it be a handsome thing to do to paint your house? It is a nice house, has a good substantial commodious look and isn't rusty at all, you know; but a fresh coat of paint would make it so bright! it's a pity not to.

Devoe is beautiful paint, but the beauty of it is it lasts so long, and does so much more than adorn an already interesting and attractive edifice. House out-buildings and fences. There isn't a man or a woman in town, who wouldn't see them and make some pleasant remark.

Of course, you will paint the town property; nothing would mark your administration more, in the eyes of the people; and, having done the same thing at home, it is the most natural thing in the world to do it for them.

Yours truly, F. W. DEVOE & Co. P. S. H. L. Carr sells our paint.

Card of Thanks.

So many expressions of sympathy and deeds of kindness came to us amid the recent bereavement in our home, that we wish to return our sincere thanks therefor. We would like to thank each one individually, but as that is impossible we take this method of assuring the people of Greenville that we deeply appreciate their sympathy and kindness. M. A. ALLEN AND FAMILY.

BENSONIZER LUNG CURE

NO MORE EXILE, FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

A Cure as Last Obtained, After a Searching Investigation, by St. Louis Interests.

A few months ago the attention of a few scientific and philanthropic gentlemen of St. Louis was directed to an entirely new method of combating that most dreadful of all diseases, tuberculosis, commonly called consumption. Out of 115 test cases, 77 were completely cured and 28 have shown such improvement that their ultimate recovery is but a question of a few weeks.

So astonishing have been the results, and absolute cures in cases pronounced incurable by all old methods that a company has been formed, and is now prepared to furnish at a normal cost this cure to all sufferers of the "White Plague." One of its chief features is that patients can remain at home, surrounded by friends and relatives, and in a great many instances, especially in the incipient or early stages of the disease, pursue their daily vocations and still become completely cured.

Patients receiving the same treatment here in St. Louis have completely recovered as rapidly as those in Colorado, New Mexico and Texas. The wonderful results in question have been accomplished by the Bensonizer, and the company which controls this marvelous medical device have located their main offices at 417 North Seventh street, St. Louis. They have also located a laboratory on Easton avenue and a laboratory has been built at Hillside, Mo. The cure will be known as Bensonizer Lung Cure, and Mr. F. Benson, the discoverer of the fluid inhalants which are used, will personally have charge of the affairs of the company. Mr. Benson will personally meet all who call at the office of the company on Seventh street, and will answer all communications from sufferers who are unable to make a personal call. -From the St. Louis Globe Democrat.

POPULIST CONVENTION.

Republican Move to Capture it But Failed.

In pursuance of a handbill circulated the past week for a populist convention, there was a meeting held in the court house during the noon recess today. It was hard to locate who was who in the meeting, as it was somewhat of a mixture and medley. It came near winding up captured by the Republicans, but the effort got some water thrown on it.

A. J. Moye took charge of the meeting as chairman and made a speech in which he claimed that the Democrats were by degrees taking away the liberties of the people. Before closing he said the Democrats were a sectional party and paid a tribute to Roosevelt. He broke it off suddenly by declaring the convention was ready for business. Then he appointed D. T. H. secretary.

After a few minutes in which there was nothing doing, Shade Chapman arose and stated that the convention would not have time to do its work today, therefore he moved that adjournment be had to Saturday, Oct. 8th, and that a primary be held on the preceding Saturday.

This motion was a signal for Harry Skinner, Republican district attorney, to get in evidence. He hurried up in the bar and held a whispered conference with Chapman, then took a seat inside. In the meantime T. J. Stancill had the floor, and as soon as he had finished some who had seen him come in the bar began calling for Skinner. He was ready, of course, and how nicely he did lay it out for them. He abused the Democratic party in general and the Wages law in particular and had things whooping for awhile.

Col. Skinner took his seat and the question was about to be put when he took from his pocket a previously prepared paper from which he read a call which he offered as an amendment to Mr. Chapman's motion. The latter did not accept the amendment, and all the whispers and winks of the district attorney only served to make him shake his head. The amendment was for Republicans, opponents and dissatisfied Democrats to come together in a common mass meeting and nominate a ticket to beat the Democrats.

Then chairman Moye was heard from some more. He would like to see the democrats beaten but did not want to see the Populists lost in the mix-up. You could then see Republican countenances drop below par when the chairman said that the Wages law was on the table to be stayed there, and for the time being was most afraid of the Democrats on who that they would appropriate every cent of the money where a man would get a dollar for a job.

We have been so far in getting acquainted with the Populists that we cannot do them justice in this column. We will have to wait until next week for a full report on their proceedings.

SUPERIOR COURT.

September Term in Session.

The following cases have been disposed of since last report: Johnson Byans and Frank Battle, affray, guilty. Evans fined $30 and one-half the costs. Battle sentenced 4 months and assigned to roads.

William Williams and Warren Atkinson, affray, guilty.

The grand jury reported that they had examined the jail and court house and found all in good condition, except chairs and tables needed in court house. They also visited the county house and found it in good condition except one or two houses needed repairing.

Fall Opening.

J. B. Cherry & Co's. fall opening took place today and their store was a perfect dream of beauty. They have an artistic display of the season's newest goods that are most attractive and pleasing. Their featured goods consist of trimmings, j. velvet, dress goods, and many other goods that are in great demand.

We have been so far in getting acquainted with the Populists that we cannot do them justice in this column. We will have to wait until next week for a full report on their proceedings.

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY.

Reported for Reflector

Few houses are as commodiously arranged for large receptions as the beautiful new home of Mrs. J. J. Laughinghouse and her sister, Miss O'Hagan. And the suites of rooms with their lovely furniture and tasteful floral decorations could not fail to please the eye of an artist when on Thursday afternoon Miss O'Hagan entertained the Singletary Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy and a number of visitors to our town.

Miss O'Hagan was assisted in receiving by her nieces, Miss J. Bryan Grimes and Mrs. Charles Laughinghouse, and the evening was one of unusual interest and pleasure to the forty odd guests who were present to do honor to the occasion.

Reports for the state convention at Goldsboro were arranged and a plan of charitable work among the infirm and needy veterans was mapped for the new year. This was the first meeting of the chapter since the summer vacation.

His Delicate Sensibilities.

Daniel J. Sully, the dethroned cotton king, made a trip through the south last winter, and when he came back he told a story of an old negro who had been working for a cotton planter time out of mind. One morning he came to his employer and said:

"I've gwinter kick, boss."

"What's the matter, Mose?"

"Well, sah, yer manager, Mistah Winter, ain't kicked me in de las' free mums'."

"I ordered him not to kick you any more. I don't want anything like that around my place. I don't want anyone to hurt your feelings, Mose."

"If I don't get any more kicks I've goin' to quit. Every time Mistah Winter used ter kick and cuff me when he wuz mad he always git 'shamed of himself and gimme a quarter. I've done los' enuff money 'ready wid dis heah foolishness 'bout hurtin' ma feelin's."—Saturday Evening Post.

New Banks.

Farmville and Bethel in this county, will both open banks the first of October. This indicates prosperity among the people of those sections. These will make five banks in the county, there already being two at Greenville and one at Ayden.

Selling Fast.

From the way the market is coming to market some predict that the crop will be particularly sold by the end of November. The good prices for the cotton crop will be in the hands of the farmer by the end of the month.

A telephone exchange has been organized in this county. The exchange will be operated by the local citizens and will be a great benefit to the community.

GAME WARDEN NEEDED.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

Very few know that the law forbids killing squirrels until November, and the law has been violated by a great many. Some have been very unwise lately, while there are others who keep on violating the law every day, as you can hear shooting in almost every direction.

I have long since concluded that no game law will ever amount to much until the county has a game warden who will see that every sportsman fares alike.

A HUNTER.

Don't Worry, Try it This Week.

Let no day pass without personal secret communication with God. Begin each day by taking counsel from the Word of God, if but one verse while you are dressing.

Put away all bitter feelings and broodings over slights or wrongs, no matter from whom received.

Have on your heart some person or cause of which you are pleading God's blessings each day.

Let no opportunity pass to say a kind word, or do some kind deed or at least smile upon those you meet. Do this, not affectedly, but sincerely, as unto the Lord.

Guard well the door of your lips, that no unchaste word, jest or story, no slander or cutting remarks, no irreverent or untruthful statement, shall pass out.

LETTER TO SMITH & HOOKER.

Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sirs: The Fair Ground building, Cobleskill, N. Y., were painted Devoe last year.

Two other paint agents said the job would take 150 gallons (their price was 15 cents less a gallon.) Our agent said not over 125.

It took 115. We saved 'em at least $140 on paint and labor.

The American House, Tannersville, N. Y., was painted two coats last year; not Devoe.

Mr. Charles Haner, across the street, put on one coat Devoe.

Mr. Wiltse (American House) is sorry he didn't paint Devoe. Haner's one coat was better than Wiltse's two.

Depends on the paint. Yours truly, F. W. DEVOE & Co. P. S. H. L. Carr sells our paint.

Deserved Better.

Greenville shows a lack of appreciation of entertainments of real merit, and gave Miss Tomlinson and little Miss Viola Kippstick such a small audience in the opera house, Friday night, that the program could not be completed.

The same thing happened at the opera house, Saturday night, when the program could not be completed.
