HOTEL SLEEPERS.

It is Much Easier to Awaken Women Than Men.

"It is immeasurably harder to awaken men in the morning than it is women," said a hotel proprietor. "A tap or two at a woman's door in the morning is sufficient. No matter how late she may have retired, no matter how exhausted she may have been, no matter how faint the 'yes' in answer to the knock that comes from the bed, you can bank on it that within a half hour or so that woman will walk into the dining room bright eyed and cheerful, but with a man—well, it's different.

"A man may leave a call for 7 o'clock in the morning with the warning that he must be up at that hour. A few minutes before 7 you detail a boy for the purpose and tell him not to stop pounding until the man awakes. The room may be on the top floor, but you can hear the thump, thump, thump on the door and scramble out of bed? Not he. The boy knocks until his knuckles are sore, and then suddenly a stentorian voice roars from the room: 'Yes, yes; what in blazes is the matter with you? Do you think I'm dead?' The boy retires, turns in his report at the office and goes to ease his hand in cold water.

"Three hours later a swollen eyed individual with wrinkles in his brow walks up to the desk. 'I thought I left a call here for 7 o'clock in the morning,' 'You did, and the bell boy woke you promptly at 7.' 'That's a little too strong,' is the answer, and after you've argued with him for half an hour you haven't convinced him that he was actually awakened as he had ordered. So it goes day after day. The women get up promptly in response to a call, while the men invariably turn over to have another nap."—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Settled Society.

After the war a Boston man was stepping at the Planters' house, the principal hotel of Leavenworth, and coming down to breakfast late one morning he partook of that meal with the landlord.

"Well, Mr. —," said the landlord, "how do you like our western country?" "I'd like it very well," said the Boston man, "or would it society here were in a more settled state."

"Nonsense!" said the landlord. "Our society is as settled as that of Boston."

Just then Anthony burst into the dining room and out of a back door, with Jennison pumping lead at him at every jump and following him out into the outbuildings in the rear of the hotel.

"How about society being as settled here as in Boston?" said the Boston man as he and the landlord crawled out from under opposite sides of the table.

"I had forgotten about that Anthony-Jennison matter," said the landlord, "but if Doc Jennison has caught up with Anthony that is settled by this time."—Boston Herald.

A Bookkeeping Triumph. "Now, dearest, just see," said Mrs. Newlywed, "since I commenced keeping our accounts we haven't got nearly so many bills to pay. Now, see, you haven't got any butcher's bill or milkman's bill to pay at all this month."

"But, darling, we certainly had plenty of meat and milk all this time."

"Yes, dearest," replied Mrs. Newlywed, "but I bought them from the grocer."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Tough Eggs. Mrs. Newlywed—I really must complain of the eggs you send me on Wednesdays. They were perfectly fresh when I bought them.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Saturday, October 8th, 1904.

The first meeting of the Teachers' Association will be held in Greenville, on Saturday, October 8th, at 10 o'clock a. m. All the teachers in the county are earnestly requested to be present at this first meeting. J. D. EVERETT, Pres.

The following program will be had:

10 a. m. Devotional exercises by Rev. F. G. Hartman.

10:15 a. m. Enrollment of members.

10:20 a. m. Election of officers and permanent organization.

11 a. m. Address: "The people, the teacher, the school," by Rev. J. A. Hornaday.

11:30 a. m. The work of the association during the coming year. General discussion.

12:15 p. m. Informal social gathering.

Above will be seen the call of president for the first meeting of teachers' association. I desire to say to the teachers of county that the board of education has passed an order making attendance upon these meetings compulsory and in the signing of vouchers I shall be governed by this order. A little later will be published the rules and regulations which may be adopted for the government of schools. You will also be furnished with a copy of these at this meeting. It is important for you to be present to get these rules or you will not be able to conduct your school in accordance with them. I desire also at this meeting to get an accurate list of where each teacher will teach and when her school will begin. Many of the teachers have been faithful in attending the meetings of this association. Some have been very negligent. This year it is proposed that all shall aid in making this association what it has already proven to be, the greatest power in the county for its educational progress.

Let every teacher in the county know now that attendance upon these meetings is as much a part of their work as that which they do in the school room and no one will be regarded as sufficiently interested in the work who does not aid by his presence in making efficient this organization. You are invited cordially, and expected to be present on Saturday, October 8th. Will you come? We await your answer on the above named day.

A Car Full of Tramps

A negro man 'poked' his head out of the small window of a sealed box car at South Rocky Mount last Monday and pleaded for water. A dipper full of the blessed fluid was given him, but lo and behold more and more was called for and it became liken unto pouring water into a rat's hole, and it was then found that the car was full of men. The car was pulled up to Rocky Mount and opened and eight men, three white and the others colored, were arrested. They stayed in the calaboose until Tuesday, when upon paying what the fare from Richmond would be and costs they were released. They were carnival attaches and were making their way to Washington, N. C.—Rocky Mount Record.

Young Reporter.

The editor's little daughter, aged 11, wanted to try her hand at reporting Monday afternoon, and went to the train to get personal items. She came back with a well filled note book, but one of her first remarks about it was "Papa, I believe some of the folks told me stories about where they were going, but I took them all down just like they told me." Her first lesson in reporting was a good one, and we print the items in personal columns just as she got them. If there are any "stories" as she says, the reader can locate them.

Meeting at Baptist Church.

Dr. M. H. Wharton, of Philadelphia arrived Saturday evening to hold a meeting in the Baptist church. The meeting began Sunday services being held morning, afternoon and night. Dr. Wharton is a delightful speaker and preaches the gospel plainly and forcibly. He is known throughout the country as a great evangelist, and much good is hoped to result from his work in Greenville. Services will be held each night this week beginning at 7.30 o'clock. Those who fall to attend the services are the losers.

Miss Tomlinson and the Baby Elocutionist.

It was indeed a pleasant entertainment given in the chapel of the graded school building, Tuesday night, by Miss Rachel Tomlinson and the baby elocutionist, little Miss Viola Kilpatrick. The latter is a little Pitt county girl, only 6 years old, and her gift of elocution is wonderful. Her selections were rendered in a manner that would do credit to a person of many years' practice. Miss Tomlinson is an elocutionist of rare power and her selections were much enjoyed. She is the teacher of the baby elocutionist. A large audience enjoyed the entertainment.

A Nuisance to Any Community.

The mayor of Raleigh is making war on public profanity, and why not—it is one of the worst crimes against a municipality for people to stand around on the streets cursing and using indecent language. Sometimes in the heat of passion otherwise good men let slip an oath, but it is over with in a minute and he is sorry for it. But the professional "cussers" is a nuisance to any community and should be made to pay the penalty.—High Point Enterprise.

MR. KITCHEN'S SPEECH.

He Arraigns the Republican Party.

Congressman W. W. Kitchen, of the fifth North Carolina district, spoke to a large crowd in the court house this afternoon during the recess of court. He was introduced by Solicitor L. I. Moore, chairman of the county executive committee.

Mr. Kitchen made a strong and telling speech, his theme being principally on national issues. He drew striking comparison of the principles of the two parties, showing the Republican policy of high protection to be robbing the people and fostering monopoly and trusts. Practical illustrations were given to show how this is done.

The extravagance of Republican administration also came in for a sharp thrust from the speaker as he pointed out the alarming rate at which government expenses are piling up burdens on the people. President Roosevelt's negro policy was severely arraigned, and he said that while the president in one sense may have had the right to ask a negro to dine with him, the criticism following had done good in that it had prevented a repetition of the performance. This incident, the president's selection of a negro to second his nomination at the Chicago convention, the appearance together on the platform of that convention of a white girl and a negro boy, the persistence of forcing Crum in the position of collector of the part of Charleston, the Indianola post office affair, were all referred to as showing the utter disregard of the president of a fixed Southern sentiment.

Mr. Kitchen is an entertaining speaker and was heard with much interest by the large audience.

This lecture has been delivered in many towns and cities in the United States and has never failed to draw a large audience.

Defending His Hens.

It was commonly said of Silas Boggs that after he had talked on any subject for awhile he "got so wound up he didn't know which way he was facing."

"Do those three old Plymouth Rocks of yours do much besides scratching up the neighbors' gardens?" demanded an irate citizen of Centerby one day. Mr. Boggs looked at him with mild reproach.
"Them three hens?" he said quickly. "Why, they don't scratch, not to amount to anything; they like to walk round here and there and kind of feel the ground, but I don't believe they've ever hurt a flower seed; no, sir, or anyway not excepting where there was so many planted they actually needed thinning out. And as for laying eggs, why there ain't a hen hereabouts I'll wager that can beat 'em on size.
Why, that biggest one, sir, she'll lay eggs as big as—as big as halibutons, right along. You can believe me or not, just as you choose!"—Youth's Companion.

Warning to Poor Penmen.

There should be no excuse for illegible handwriting, yet there is much of it. A certain Columbus club woman, having a friend who is an indifferent scribe, attempted to break her of the habit in a very novel manner.

Receiving a note from her friend one day which was exceptionally hard to decipher, she conceived the idea of pretending it was an invitation to dine, and accordingly wrote this reply: "I shall take great pleasure in accepting your invitation to dinner tomorrow evening. A short time after this note had been answered the telephone rang and an answering it she recognized the voice of her friend at the other end of the wire.
"Hello!" she said. "You were mistaken in my note. I asked you if you would subscribe to the 'Home Fund.'
"Oh, was that it?" answered the woman. "I couldn't make out your note, and I wanted to answer something."—Columbus Dispatch.

The Remoants.

"When you talk about enterprise, I never saw anything to beat the Indians of the old northwest," said a regular army soldier who was in the campaign against the Sioux after the Custer massacre in 1876. He explained Indian enterprise this way:

"We had a lot of Crows employed as scouts, and they were quite useful.
They had their own ponies, but sometimes they would wake up in the morning with nary a pony to their credit. They would start out afoot, and they always came back at night with plenty of ponies. Nobody ever asked where they got the ponies."—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

9 Liberty St., Baltimore, Md.

Dear Sir: I beg to enclose you an order properly executed for the purchase of fifty (50) Stieff Pianos, to be delivered at Branau Conservatory, Gainesville, Ga. This will equip the Conservatory with Stieff Pianos exclusively, with the exception of one Concert
Grand which we have on hand.

When I began to investigate pianos with a view of taking out all and putting in an entirely new supply, the Stieff came to my notice. I have studied pianos closely during the last ten years and have purchased ninety instruments in that time. After visiting the factories in a number of cities, I inspected your plant in Baltimore. I felt sure that no factory in the United States was better equipped to produce a strictly high-grade piano than the Stieff factory.

We have had one of your instruments in the Conservatory for one year, and have tested the tone, quality and mechanical construction. After thoroughly testing it for eight or ten hours per day, I have placed an order for fifty new Stieff Pianos. I find the action of this piano in every way desirable to the artist and to the student.

While the cost of your piano is considerably more than I have to pay for others, it has greater merits, and I consider the very best none too good for Branau Conservatory.

I take pleasure in saying that after we have secured the pianos ordered all of our practice rooms, both for teachers and students, will be supplied with your excellent instruments. Yours very truly,
A. W. VAN HOOSE.

Rarest display of these artistic pianos now on at Greenville, N. C., direct from the factory at factory prices. Terms to suit.

CHAS. M. STIEFF.

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR

SEMI-WEEKLY—TUESDAY AND FRIDAY.

Truth in Preference to Fiction

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1904.

There is a feeling in the air that this is a Democratic year.

Sully is getting back on the market and there will be something doing in cotton circles.

Election forecasters are now setting New York down in the certain Democratic column.

Georgia cotton planters because of a scarcity of hands have been picking cotton by moonlight.

The Monday paper got ahead of the push again by being first to print Judge Parker's letter of acceptance.

With two evangelists holding meetings in Greenville, the stronghold of Satan should be thoroughly shaken.

The people will not be allowed to grow dull during October for the lack of speaking. It will be the warmest month of the campaign.

Webster's Weekly, of Reidsville now comes domed in a bright new dress that gives it a handsome appearance. The Weekly is an ably edited paper and is a power for good.

The colleges hardly get opened before the foot ball announcements become the most prominent information emanating from the institutions. The colleges need reputation in other directions.

Awful disasters continue to occur with startling frequency. A wreck on the Southern railway near Knoxville, Tenn., Saturday morning, killed upward of fifty people and injured many more.

One of the cheekiest things going is that the fellows who tried to wreck the Atlantic & North Carolina railroad with the receivership snag, now want the state to pay their lawyer fees and other expenses.

New York is giving the best of her judiciary as Democratic candidates this year. The bench of that state has furnished a candidate for president and one for governor. Both of them will be elected.

Raleigh and Greensboro are both up in arms against the disreputable women that infest those cities. Every town is more or less afflicted with the undesirable class and it would be better for morals to get rid of them.

This is the time when you draw up to read some notice on a tree or bill board only to find it is a warning to pay your taxes or an announcement for public speaking. The tax collector and campaigner are both abroad in the land.

In this time when the party seems better united than ever before, we do not see where it will accomplish any good to be saying that the nomination of any particular candidate is a concession to any particular faction of the party. There are no factions now, but it is one great party united to win.

The best improvement of a good thing is to have more of it. That is the case with the Scotland Neck Commonwealth. It was good as a four page paper, and now since it has enlarged to six pages it is increasing a good thing. It is the kind of paper that does good wherever it goes.

Spencer Blackburn, Republican candidate for congress in the eighth North Carolina district, has been to New York conferring with the chairman of the Republican committee. Doubtless from the confidence Blackburn expresses of his election he got the promise of campaign funds to use in his district.

Listen to this song from the bard of the Raleigh Post:

"The most beautiful season of the year is just now opening up. Delicate splashes of gold and crimson are beginning to show through the fading green of the forests, and uncultivated fields are bright with waving goldenrod. There is still more substantial beauty in the corn field, meadow, apple orchard and turnip patch."

And he left the golden hued pumpkin clear out of it.

The dispatches say that Russia is preparing to double her forces in the war against Japan. Notwithstanding she already has a much larger force in the field than the Japanese can number, she found herself unable to defeat the determined little fighters, and has set to work to raise another army to send to the front against them. Japan may be finally overwhelmed with the great number of Russia's forces, but we hope to the contrary.

Charlotte has made an innovation that ought to be given the glad hand throughout the state, especially in every town where there is an opera house. The manager of the academy of music, the leading play house in that city, has announced that hereafter no one will be ushered to their seats after the curtain rises and the play is going on. Late comers are given seats on the back rows. The greatest nuisance about theaters is those persons who wait so late to go that they disturb others who have gone to their seats in time and are trying to enjoy the play.

Judge Parker's letter of acceptance has been given to the public. It is a clear, frank, manly discussion of the issues that are before the American people. It is not over-wordy, but goes straight to the point on every topic considered. He states the issues and asks the people to choose between them. In concluding his letter Judge Parker says: "Shall economy of administration be demanded or shall extravagance be encouraged?"

"Shall the wrongdoer be brought to bay by the people, or must justice wait upon political oligarchy?" "Shall our government stand for equal opportunity or for special privilege?"

"Shall it remain a government of law or become one of individual caprice?" "Shall we cling to the rule of the people, or shall we embrace beneficent despotism?"

"With calmness and confidence, we await the people's verdict." "If called to the office of President, I shall consider myself the chief magistrate of all the people and not of any faction, and shall ever be mindful of the fact that on many questions of national policy there are honest differences of opinion. I believe in the patriotism, good sense and resolute sincerity of all the people. I shall strive to remember that he may serve his party best who serves his country best."

"If it be the wish of the people that I undertake the duties of the presidency, I pledge myself, with God's help, to devote all my powers and energy to the duties of this exalted office."

Stop Thinking of Yourself.

Thousands of people are out of good positions and cannot keep good places when they get them because of the weakness of oversensibilities. Many a good business man has been kept back or even ruined by his quickness to take offense or to resent fancied slight. Oversensitiveness, whether in man or woman, is really an exaggerated form of self-consciousness. It is far removed from conceit or self-esteem, yet it causes one's own personality to overshadow everything else. A sensitive person feels that whatever he does, wherever he goes or whatever he says he is the center of observation. He imagines that people are criticizing his movements, making fun at his expense or analyzing his character when they are probably not thinking of him at all. He does not realize that other people are too busy and too much interested in themselves and in other things to devote to him any of their time beyond what is absolutely necessary. When he thinks they are aiming remarks at him, putting slights upon him or trying to hold him up to the ridicule of others they may not be even conscious of his presence. A man who appreciates himself at his true value and who gives his neighbors credit for being at least as good as he is cannot be a victim of oversensitiveness.—Colorado Springs Telegraph.

Gen. Corbin's recommendation that army officers be not allowed to marry until they have secured the consent of the Secretary of War, which is not to be given unless they show to that official's satisfaction that they can support their families, has caused wide-spread comment. At first blush this looks like an interference with the army officer's liberty, but there is no doubt that there is good reason for such a measure. Army officers are supposed to be entirely under the government's control and if single men are better suited for the places they should fill them—just as is the case with the enlisted men. One good thing about it, one need not become an army officer unless he wants to.—Charlotte Observer.

Fruit jars, jolly tumblers and stone jars at Sam'l M. Schults.

Widows and Pensions.

The most amazing fact about the pension disgrace, says American Medicine, is the professional widow business. Women may live a year or so longer than men on the average, but what shall one think of the ludicrous fact that only one pensioned soldier of the war of 1812 now lives, while 918 soldiers' widows continue to draw pensions?

The old soldiers of the civil war are evidently in greater demand as husbands than the youngest and handsomest men. During the last five years the number of civil war invalids has decreased by 50,476, but there has been an increase of 27,457 widows, and the less the number of the pensioned the greater the amount of the total disbursements. What a demonstration of demagogism is made by this showing! Nothing would be easier than to stop the humbuggery of these adventuresses mocking at death, patriotism, love and decency, with their waving marriage certificates.—Ex.

The Chiefs of Police of North Carolina To Meet October 19th.

Raleigh is to be honored on October 19th by the annual meeting of the chiefs of police of the state. Referring to the plans for the meeting, the Asheville Citizen says:

"Chief of Police Jordan, of Asheville, who is secretary and treasurer of the state organization of chiefs of police, is today mailing to all members a notice of the annual meeting of the body at Raleigh on October 1st. The meeting of the chiefs of police at Raleigh next month will be the second annual gathering. The association was formed at Durham last year with the election of J. A. Woodall, of that place as president, and Chief Jordan, of Asheville, secretary and treasurer. In speaking of the approaching meeting of the chiefs the secretary and treasurer said that the indications pointed to a good attendance. He said that while the organization was scarcely well formed, that much good had already resulted and that still greater good would yet result from the annual gathering of North Carolina's chiefs of police."

Unthoughtful Disrespect.

The town of Wilson has a good mayor in the person of Hon. Doane Herring. The Wilson News almost daily heads its reports of the mayor's court: "Doane's Doings." In that the News does not mean to be disrespectful, but it is just the same. A mayor, in the trial of causes, is a judge, and is entitled to respect and dignity. Indeed, these things he must maintain if he would be effective in the discharge of that part of his duty.

The mayor of Raleigh is Hon. A. M. Powell, called Sandy Powell by some of his intimate friends. How would it look for the papers in Raleigh to report the mayor's court under the heading: "Sandy's Seance"? And how long could we keep out of jail if, when Judge M. H. Justice comes to town to hold court, we served the proceedings under "Mike's Matinee"?

A mayor is entitled to as much dignity and respect as a superior court judge, and newspapers and others should accord the same to him. He should so conduct himself as to command respect, and when he ceases to do so he should be removed from office.—Raleigh Post.

Dr. Hyatt at Farmville.

Dr. H. O. Hyatt will be in Farmville, at the hotel, October 17th, 18th, and 19th, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, for the purpose of treating diseases of the eye and fitting glasses. Those unable to pay a fee will be examined free.

The Democratic candidate for Governor of New York has a peculiarity of name such as probably nobody else in the country enjoys. It is D Cady Herrick—no period after the D to indicate that it is an abbreviation, for it is not. This results, we are told, from a difference between the father and mother about the name for the baby. The latter wanted him named simply Cady Herrick. The father wanted a double name. The old man got the better of the controversy and the boy, when old enough, wrote his name D Cady Herrick and the man continues to so write it though the D stands for nothing except parental difference. It is an odd case, isn't it?—Charlotte Observer.

It is a matter of general gratification to note the improvements either under way or in contemplation by the Atlantic Coast Line. The news columns of this paper the past few days have told about the proposed expenditure of a million dollars in improving the terminal facilities at Jacksonville, Fla., in order that the company may have perfect exporting facilities. Then double-tracking is going on on the second division and south of Rocky Mount. All of this goes to show not only the continued prosperity and growth of the Atlantic Coast Line but also the increasing business of the South.—Wilmington Dispatch.

"Some one wants to know what Mr. Roosevelt has left for his inauguration address." It was not necessary to leave anything. He will have no use for it.—Durham Sun.

The trouble is that too many farmers have to consult the guano man as to when they shall sell their cotton.—Durham Herald.

An enthusiastic Democratic friend tells us he has very little use for an independent, no matter what sort of a Republican he is.—Raleigh Post.

The Pot and the Kettle. A young woman who lives in a southern state met recently another young woman whose home is in New England.

"What place do you come from?" inquired the New Englander, with polite interest. The southerner answered that her native town was called Horsehead, where her acquaintance went off into peals of merriment. "And where do you come from?" asked the southern girl.

"Horse," was the indifferent answer, "I come from Seetico-on-the-Scantie."—Harper's Weekly.

Hard to Kill. Cats, according to the old tradition, have nine lives, but they are not the only creatures that enjoy such a plurality. Infusoria have been dried and restored to life by moistening after remaining inert dust for twenty-seven years, and the drying resurrection has been successfully tried eleven times on one lot of rotifers. Frogs and many fishes suffer no injury from freezing solid, while in a few cases even warm blooded animals have been restored to life after apparent death from freezing.

A Little Too Short. A story is told of a well known preacher who went to a barber and said: "Now, I want you to cut my hair as short as you would like a sermon." On rising from his chair and ruefully surveying his bald and shining head he was staggered to observe that the barber wanted no sermon at all.

Greenville's Great Department Store

THREE times a day you sit down with your China and Glass. That is the best we can think of for having plenty and for having it dainty and attractive.

There is a saying that "Appetite off-bred on dainty China," and if this should prove true in your case and you not be able to fill the vacuum, just call in our Grocery Department where the very best is kept for the inner man, and if you should eat too much (and we expect you will if you buy our Groceries) examine our immense Furniture Department where you will find Couches, Lounges, Beds, Chairs, &c., on which you can rest until you are cured of the Gout. A Great Drawback.
"My tests show it to be a splendid medicinal water," said the analytical chemist.
"Then there's only one thing wrong with it," said the owner of the spring: "the taste."
"Why, the taste is delightful."
"Of course; that's the trouble. No one would believe it was a medicinal water if it didn't have an unpleasant taste."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Brown, of Leesville, Ind., endured death's agonies from asthma, but this wonderful medicine gave him instant relief and soon cured him. He writes: "I now sleep soundly every night." From 148 to 92 Pounds
One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down down in weight from 148 to 92 lbs. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

Fearful Odds Against Him
Bedridden, alone and destitute. Such, in brief was the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Havens, Versailles, O. For years he was troubled with Kidney disease and neither doctors nor medicines gave him relief. At length he tried Electric Bitters. It put him on his feet in short order and now he testifies: "I'm on the road to recovery." Best on earth for Liver and Kidney troubles and all forms of Stomach and Bowel Complaints. Only 50c Guaranteed by J. L. Wooten, druggist.

What's in a Name
Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, discovered some years ago how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for Piles. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases, DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's, the genuine. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

Stoeks have a peculiar way of slumping the slump immediately after you.

A Power For Good
The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Phillips, of Albany, Ga., says: "During a bilious attack I took one. Small as it was it did me more good than calomel, blue mass or any other pill I ever took and at the same time this effect was pleasant. Little Early Risers are certainly an ideal pill." Sold by Wooten's Drug Store.

MADE HIS ESCAPE

Slips Away From Officers Between Court Room and Jail.

The negro George Easley, who on Tuesday night of last week stole clothing belonging to one of Faust's minstrels while the performance was on in the opera house was tried in court next morning, convicted and sentenced to two years on the roads, has made his escape. After being placed in jail Easley did a lot of talking, in which another negro was implicated in the stealing. The matter was sent before the grand jury on Friday, they found a true bill against the other negro, he was arrested and placed in jail to await trial. The case was called Wednesday before noon when Easley and several other prisoners who had heard him talking were brought from jail to the court room to testify. When the time for noon recess came officers took the prisoners back to jail, at least thought they did. It was then that Easley gave the officers the slip and his absence was not noticed when the other prisoners were locked up. When court set after dinner and the officers went to bring the prisoners out again it was found that Easley had made good his escape.

RESOLUTIONS BY SANS SOUCI CLUB.

The Sans Souci Book Club had a called meeting at Miss Pattie Skinner's, Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, when the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:
That whereas, by the dispensation of an all wise Providence, the Sans Souci Club has sustained an irreparable loss in the removal by death of our honored and beloved president, Mrs. Janie Flournoy Carr, whose shining virtues were at once a source of education and inspiration to our club, now, therefore, be it resolved,
1st. That the secretary be instructed to enroll on the books of this club a copy of these resolutions testifying to the beautiful qualities of head and heart of our lamented president whose memory we shall ever bear in tender remembrance while life lasts.
2nd. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to her stricken husband into whose life she was given as a benediction, and to the beloved mother and family who sit in the shadow of a great grief.
3rd. That the club in manifestation of their sorrow wear a badge of mourning for the next thirty days.
Respectfully submitted by Winnie Skinner, Nina James, Mary Dail, Rosalind Woodward.
PATTIE SKINNER, Vice Pres.
After the passing of these resolutions the club at once adjourned.

LETTER TO DR. CHAS. LAUGHING-HOUSE.

Greenville, N. C.
Dear Sir: For your house, no matter what the matter with it—it isn't a human you know—a prescription:
Devoe lead and zinc. Apply with a brush, from one to three coats—get a painter to do it.
Seven state chemists know all about Devoe; have analyzed it report it pure; will analyze it occasionally. They buy it in the open market wherever they like.
You know what the color and dryer are for: do you know what the lead and zinc and oil are for? Not being a painter, you may not choose to know; but we'll tell you. Lead and zinc and oil combine to form a rubbery waterproof coat to keep out dampness. That's the whole business.
The oil would do it alone; lead and zinc would do it, without the zinc; zinc and oil without the lead; but the three together are best, because they wear best.
We say to you, "get a painter," as we'd say to him "get a doctor!"—every man to his trade. Can't all be painters and doctors; don't want to.
You will be more successful in a prosperous looking house; and be in good health. Take good care of one another.
Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & Co.
