LETTER TO L. I. MOORE

Greenville, N. C.
Dear Sir: The handsome residence of Oliver Gildersleeve on Main street, Portland, Conn., was painted in 1888 with Devco and again in 1901.
There's 13 years; there are hundreds of such; the difficulty is to hear of 'em.
Reminds of another. The Farrington residence, Rockland, Maine, was painted Devco 21 years ago; the paint was in fair condition 5 years ago, when we saw it; can't know any more. Our agents there, Messrs Farraud, Spear & Co., know. Enclose a stamp, if you write 'em.
Yours truly,

MADE HIS ESCAPE

Slips Away From Officers Between Court Room and Jail.

The negro George Easley, who on Tuesday night of last week stole clothing belonging to one of Faust's minstrels while the performance was on in the opera house was tried in court next morning, convicted and sentenced to two years on the roads, has made his escape. After being placed in jail Easley did a lot of talking, in which another negro was implicated in the stealing. The matter was sent before the grand jury on Friday, they found a true bill against the other negro, he was arrested and placed in jail to await trial. The case was called Wednesday before noon when Easley and several other prisoners who had heard him talking were brought from jail to the court room to testify. When the time for noon recess came officers took the prisoners back to jail, at least thought they did. It was then that Easley gave the officers the slip and his absence was not noticed when the other prisoners were locked up. When court set after dinner and the officers went to bring the prisoners out again it was found that Easley had made good his escape.

RESOLUTIONS BY SANS SOUCI CLUB.

The Sans Souci Book Club had a called meeting at Miss Pattie Skinner's, Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, when the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:
That whereas, by the dispensation of an all wise Providence, the Sans Souci Club has sustained an irreparable loss in the removal by death of our honored and beloved president, Mrs. Janie Flournoy Carr, whose shining virtues were at once a source of education and inspiration to our club, now, therefore, be it resolved,
1st. That the secretary be instructed to enroll on the books of this club a copy of these resolutions testifying to the beautiful qualities of head and heart of our lamented president whose memory we shall ever bear in tender remembrance while life lasts.
2nd. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to her stricken husband into whose life she was given as a benediction, and to the beloved mother and family who sit in the shadow of a great grief.
3rd. That the club in manifestation of their sorrow wear a badge of mourning for the next thirty days.
Respectfully submitted by Winnie Skinner, Nina James, Mary Dail, Rosalind Woodward.
PATTIE SKINNER, Vice Pres.
After the passing of these resolutions the club at once adjourned.

LETTER TO DR. CHAS. LAUNGING-HOUSE.

Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sir: For your house, no matter what the matter with it—it isn't a human you know—a prescription:

Devoe lead and zinc. Apply with a brush, from one to three coats—get a painter to do it.

Seven state chemists know all about Devoe; have analyzed it report it pure; will analyze it occasionally. They buy it in the open market wherever they like.

You know what the color and dryer are for: do you know what the lead and zinc and oil are for? Not being a painter, you may not choose to know; but we'll tell you.

Lead and zinc and oil combine to form a rubbery waterproof coat to keep out dampness. That's the whole business.

The oil would do it alone; lead and zinc would do it, without the zinc; zinc and oil without the lead; but the three together are best, because they wear best.

We say to you, "get a painter," as we'd say to him "get a doctor!"—every man to his trade. Can't all be painters and doctors; don't want to.

You will be more successful in a prosperous looking house; and be in good health. Take good care of one another.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & Co.

HE OBEYED ORDERS.

After They Had Been Interpreted by His Ingenious Finances.

A smart young officer belonging to a cavalry corps in India was sent on sick leave to the convalescent station of Simla and while recovering his health among the hills there was robbed of his heart and in return captivated the charming thief. The young fellow proposed and was accepted, and with all possible dispatch the wedding day was fixed. But the colonel of the expectant bridegroom's regiment was strongly opposed to the lieutenant marrying and telegraphed an unwelcome "Join at once" to the amorous sub.

The chagrined soldier handed the peremptory message to his fair one. She glanced at it and then, with a becoming blush of sweet simplicity, remarked:

"I am more than glad, dear, that your colonel so approves of your choice, but what a hurry he is in for the wedding! I don't think I can be ready quite so soon, but I'll try, for, of course, the colonel must be obeyed."

"But you don't seem to understand the telegram, sweetheart," said the lieutenant. "It upsets every plan we have made. You see, he says 'Join at once.'"

"Certainly he does, dear," replied the lady, looking up with an arch smile, "but it is you who don't seem to understand it. When the colonel says 'Join at once,' what does he mean but get married immediately? What else, indeed, can he possibly mean?"

"What else, indeed, darling?" delightfully exclaimed the ardent lover, rejoicing in the new reading, which he received with the utmost alacrity. So forty-eight hours had scarcely passed before the colonel received the following: "Your orders have been carried out. We were joined at once."—London World.

Not Very Interesting.

"Doctor," said the man who seemed to be cherishing a case of asthma, "you have doubtless read and heard of cases where a perfectly well man has developed a disease simply because somebody made him believe he had it?"

"Dozens of them," was the reply. "Then you must believe imagination plays a great part in disease?"

"Of course I do."

"Did you ever know of the imagination being appealed to to develop smallpox, for instance?"

"I did. I once made a perfectly healthy and sound man believe that he had smallpox, and he had as pretty a case of it as one ever saw. All came from his imagination, sir."

"It must have been an interesting experiment?"

"Not so very. I attended him for six weeks, and then it was his turn."

"How do you mean?"

"Why, he made me imagine he had paid me a forty-five dollar doctor bill, and I have never been able to get a cent out of him since."

Her Relations.

We note that the handsome young woman wears many military buttons, badges and other mementos.

"Are you the daughter of the regiment?" we ask.

"Oh, no, sir," responds the gentle thing; "but I have promised to be a sister to all the officers."

At this juncture we might have made a witty remark about a call to arms and the penalty for disregarding it, but because of her blushes we refrained.—Judge.

BIG PIANO PURCHASE. 50 STIEFFS---BARNAU COLLEGE.

Gainesville, Ga., May 16, 1904

Chas. M. Stieff,

9 Liberty St., Baltimore, Md.

Dear Sir: I beg to enclose you an order properly executed for the purchase of fifty (50) Stieff Pianos, to be delivered at Brenau Conservatory, Gainesville, Ga. This will equip the Conservatory with Stieff Pianos exclusively, with the exception of one Concert Grand which we have on hand.

When I began to investigate pianos with a view of taking out all and putting in an entirely new supply, the Stieff came to my notice. I have studied pianos closely during the last ten years and have purchased ninety instruments in that time. After visiting the factories in a number of cities, I inspected your plant in Baltimore. I felt sure that no factory in the United States was better equipped to produce a strictly high-grade piano than the Stieff factory.

We have had one of your instruments in the Conservatory for one year, and have tested the tone, quality and mechanical construction. After thoroughly testing it for eight or ten hours per day, I have placed an order for fifty new Stieff Pianos. I find the action of this piano in every way desirable to the artist and to the student.

While the cost of your piano is considerably more than I have to pay for others, it has greater merits, and I considered they were best none too good for Brenau Conservatory.

I take pleasure in saying that after we have secured the pianos ordered all of our practice rooms, both for teachers and students, will be supplied with your excellent instruments. Yours very truly,
A. W. VANHOESE.

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR

SEMI-WEEKLY—TUESDAY AND FRIDAY.

D. J. WHICHARD,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Entered in the post office at Greenville, N. C., as second class matter, Advertising rates made known upon application. A correspondent desired at every post office in Pitt and adjoining counties.

Truth in Preference to Fiction

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1904.

You will not have much more of the warm weather to complain of.

The nearer the election comes the more it looks like Parker will win.

There is no need of any alarm because a man with a case of small-pox wandered in town. It will be properly looked after.

You will not hear any better speeches in this campaign than the one Congressman W. W. Kitchen delivered in Greenville Wednesday.

Port Arthur has been allowed in the dispatches a three months longer lease to stand. That guarantees Christmas to the boys before they fall.

Rev. Dr. A. J. McKelway, who for the past year has been on the editorial staff of the Charlotte News, has resigned his position to take other employment.

The Charlotte Observer says several Mecklenburg farmers hauled their cotton back home when they got to market and found the price down to 10 cents.

If Secretary Loeb undertakes to deny every charge made against President Roosevelt, he had better be sure that they haven't got it marked in one of his books.

Cotton receipts are very heavy and there is a falling off in price. But Sully is quoted as saying that the supply is going to fall something like a million bales short of the demand.

In one section of Granville county farmers complain that deer are so numerous that they go into the fields and do much damage to crops. That section ought to be a mecca for hunters a little later.

There is enough truth to tell about the Republican candidate for president without resorting to misrepresentation. This should be a clean campaign. It is evident that Judge Parker wants that kind by his requesting that reflections on personal character be omitted.

Rev. Dr. Strange, bishop coadjutor-elect of the diocese of East Carolina, before a large audience in St. Thomas Protestant Episcopal church, New York, declared that the one set factor in any real and practical solution of the negro problem was the entire separation of the races in social, scholastic, religious and domestic affairs.

Of course President Roosevelt wrote in his book the reference to the "course and brutal" character of the Southern people. But what odds does it make? No Democrat will vote for him anyway, and every Republican will vote for him even if he should say their whole tribe were horse thieves. It does look a little strange, however, that any self respecting man born in the South could support him.

Some days ago we published two squibs as follows:

"Beards must be growing unpopular when men go four or five times a day to get a shave."

"Query—We have been requested to ask the question, what sort of combination does a blind tiger and a tonsorial establishment make?"

We are informed that Mr. S. J. Nobles feels aggrieved at this publication and he requests us to say if the squibs referred to him. We say they did not. We have no evidence that Mr. Nobles has engaged in any illegal sale of liquor and we do not charge it.

We were wondering the other day what had become of Colonel Harry Skinner and we are interested to learn that he is still in the middle of the road. At Greenville, recently, he made a speech in which he charged that taxes in Pitt county are twice as high at present under the Democratic rules as they were when the fusionists were in control several years ago. The Greenville Reflector tells Colonel Skinner that "when his crowd had control of Pitt county, the poll-tax was two dollars, against one dollar and ninety-two cents this year, and the tax on property was in the same proportion." But this is aside. What we wanted to say is that we are glad to know that Colonel Skinner is still an humble plodder in the Populist ranks and has not yet become one of the plutocrats.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Your felicitations are a little misplaced, brother Chronicle. You seem to overlook the fact that the Colonel is holding down the job of United States district attorney. His purpose in the Populist convention was to spring a nicely planned trap to catch them at the Republicans, and his failure at that time was quite amusing.

THE MESSENGER IS WRONG

The Wilmington Messenger prints the following in a recent issue: "The democratic convention of Pitt county adopted the following resolution before nominating its candidates for the senate and house of representatives: "Whereas, the state democratic convention in its platform adopted at Greensboro in June, 1904, suggests the wisdom of leaving all needful amendments to the Wats bill to be made by the democratic legislature, Now, therefore be it

"Resolved by the democratic party of Pitt county in convention assembled in Greenville, N. C., on the 15th day of September, 1904, That our senator and representatives, to be nominated by this convention this day, are hereby directed and instructed to cause the Wats bill to be so amended as to provide that the said bill shall be submitted to the vote of the entire people of Pitt county, and ratified by them before it shall become operative in Pitt county."

Then the Messenger goes on in a half column editorial to explain the position in which the Democrats of Pitt county placed themselves in adopting (?) such a resolution.

What THE REFLECTOR wants to know is where did the Messenger get its information? That it may be correctly informed and see how misplaced was its editorial, let us remind the Messenger that the Democratic convention of Pitt county adopted no resolutions whatever, neither before nor after making the nominations. After the nominations had all been made a delegate did introduce a resolution referring to the Wats law and to the road law, but the convention immediately adjourned without giving the resolution any attention whatever.

It might be well to also call it to the attention of the Messenger that Pitt county's nominee for the senate and one of the nominees for the house were delegates to the state convention and helped to make the platform of that convention, and are thereby pledged to support the action of the state convention upon the Wats law.

Living Beyond One's Means.

As Orrison Sweet Marsden has so aptly put it, "living beyond one's means is absolute dishonesty."

But there are people who practice it the world over, and Raleigh is no exception.

If you are trying to do what you cannot afford to do you are living a lie. If you are wearing clothes that you cannot afford, they are perpetual witnesses against you. They are labeled all over with falsehood. If your jewelry, your carriages, your furs and your costly gowns tell me that you are rich, when you live in a poverty-stricken home, and when your mother is obliged to make all sorts of sacrifices to enable you to make this false display, you lie just as surely as you would if you should try to deceive me by your words.

The consciousness of being well dressed and yet owing for it, of riding in carriages which one cannot afford, of wearing jewelry and tailor-made suits which are beyond one's means, or of patronizing expensive hotels and restaurants which one cannot by any stretch of imagination or sophistry afford, is destructive to self respect, to truthfulness, honesty, and to manhood and womanhood. You cannot afford to wear lies on your body or eat lies at expensive cafes any more than you can afford to tell lies with your tongue.

There is only one possible result upon character of falsehoods, whether acted or told, and that is perpetual deterioration and demoralization. No one can act a lie or live a lie without being dishonest.

When a man sacrifices his honesty, he loses the mainspring of his character, and he cannot be perfectly honest when he is lying by frequenting costly restaurants or hotels, by wearing expensive clothing, or by extravagant living in any of its varied expressions, when he cannot afford it.—Raleigh Times.

"People on the other side of the Atlantic," says a contemporary, "are said to be almost unanimously in favor of Roosevelt's election." That is because they are on the other side of the Atlantic.—Charlotte Observer

Training For Young Farmers.

The popular course for young farmers in the North Carolina A. & M. College, Raleigh, N. C., known as the short course in dairying and agriculture, opens this year January 4th, 1905, and continues for ten weeks closing March 10th, 1905.

On account of many improvements in the line of work introduced, the work will be far more interesting and important than before. A new course in farm engineering that will be given in connection with the other studies will add much to the importance of the work. This study will embrace rural architecture, and farm machinery, and special stress will be placed upon designing barns, houses, silos, etc.

Another course that will be added is that of Farm Management, which will include a discussion of the management of the farm in various details.

A third new course that will be offered will be the cotton course which will include cotton growing, judging, breeding, and soil management in all of its phases. It is believed that the cotton course will be especially important to the young farmers in our State, and it should receive the attendance of every young cotton farmer that can get away from home during the winter months.

No entrance examination is required in these winter courses and no tuition is charged at all. Practical courses are hereby open to all who desire to better themselves in the various lines of agriculture. The total cost for ten weeks, including board, room, light and fuel, etc., is but $30.00. Young men contemplating marriage should send in their application at once to C. W. Barkett, Professor of Agriculture, West Raleigh, N. C., as all students are registered in advance of the opening date.

There is considerably copied and commented upon, a recent article from The Sanford Express to the effect that "a man who recently moved to this place to put his children in the cotton mill, was asked the other day if he wouldn't send his children to school. 'No,' said he, 'I took care of my children when they were small; now they must support me.'" People who have read of the "vampire parent" without knowing exactly what was meant by them, can gather a perfectly clear idea from the narrative of this incident. This gentleman is a vampire parent right down to the ground. His young children must support him, which support includes all the whiskey he can drink, along with the other necessities of life. Every mother's son of them ought to be breaking rock on the roads.—Charlotte Observer

We want to call the attention of Confederate veterans to the fact that not a penny has ever been appropriated for them in this State except by authority of democratic legislation. The last legislature appropriated the handsome sum of $200,000 a year for pensions to Confederate soldiers, and since 1885, when they made the first appropriation for this purpose, they have paid the veterans the magnificent amount of $1,685,000. If the Republican party is a friend to the old soldiers it has never shown it. The only Confederate soldiers to whom they have given liberal pensions are those who deserted their colors in a pressing time of need and entered the Union army to fight against their own section and their own kin.—Concord Times.

I have just returned from Baltimore where I bought my fall millinery and notions. Opening Sept. 15, 1904. Mrs. H. L. Boyd, Grimsland, N. C., next door to Dr's. office.

Judge Parker Will Win.

In a speech made before Tammany Hall in New York recently Representative Wm. Sulzer said in part: "Judge Parker will win. In my opinion we will easily carry the State of New York. Everywhere I go I find public sentiment in favor of the brilliant New York jurist. He is popular with all classes of people, and I have no doubt he will be the next President. The Democrats are united and enthusiastic this year. They are alive to the task before them to wrest control of the country from the Republicans, and are working with vim, confidence and determination for a sweeping Democratic victory."

"The Empire State is safe for Democracy, and we will carry all the other doubtful States. The people know Judge Parker is an honest, an upright, an able and fearless man, a great jurist—and a Democrat through and through. The more the people know about Judge Parker the more they like him. He is growing stronger with the voters every day."

It is strange that some people will persist in becoming disgruntled every time their candidate fails of nomination and will take unusual pains to let people know of their displeasure in the matter. When a man goes into a political convention he virtually binds himself to acquiesce in its decision and to support the nominees of that convention in every possible way. The time for fighting is before the convention meets. After it has met it is the duty of every man to work for the ticket and for a man to allow his prejudices in the matter and his preference for a defeated candidate to prevent him from doing everything he can for success of the ticket does him little credit. All of which is suggested by the attitude of certain North Carolina newspapers toward certain candidates during the present campaign.—Winston Sentinel.

The Impossible Proofreader.

Former Employee—And what's become of old Ballemup, who used to be working in the proofroom?

Editor (sadly)—Gone. Hated to part with him too. But the pressure became unendurable. Although he made me say that old Munny-bags, who died, had "by industry and frugality accumulated a lonesome future," when I wrote it "handsome fortune," I forgave him and let him stay on. But when he had me say in a society item that Miss Fitznooodle's coiffure "was frightful by reason of the awful derangement of her soft brains," instead of "delightful by reason of the careful arrangement of her soft braids," the pressure brought to bear by influential citizens was something I could no longer withstand.—Baltimore American.

His Mistake.

A parrot in a country district escaped from its cage and settled on the roof of a laborer's cottage. The laborer had never seen such a thing before and climbed up with a view of securing it. When his head reached the level of the top of the roof, the parrot flapped a wing at him and said, "What d'ye want?" Very much taken back, the laborer politely touched his cap and replied: "I beg your pardon, sir, I thought you were a bird!"

Nothing White There.

Albert, the young man of the family, was undeniably ill. The doctor was sent for. He pronounced it a case of jaundice, as indeed the parents had suspected, from the patient's yellowish appearance. Albert's little sister was explaining to a caller. "He's got the yaller janders," she said. "The doctor says so." "But how could the doctor tell, Bessie?" asked the caller. "Easy enough," replied Bessie. "Anybody could tell by the color in' into the—the joints of his eyes."

Close Call For Jacob.
 Harcourt sat in his office discussing with a friend his plans for an old-fashioned Christmas at his grandfather's in the country. Just then a messenger boy brought in a telegram; it was from the grandfather.
 "Barns all burned last night. Only house and smoke house saved," it read.
 Harcourt looked gloomy for a moment. Then his face lighted up. "Anyway," he cried, "Jacob, the pig is safe! They cut him up and cured him before Thanksgiving."
 "That's good!" exclaimed his friend. "Jacob must be thankful that he escaped the fire."

Her Ex-Gon.
 Mrs. Wabash—There goes Mrs. Marmore with her stepson. What a homely boy he is!
 Mrs. De Vorse—Yes, and yet I remember several years ago I thought him quite pretty.
 Mrs. Wabash—Ah, but you were his mother at that time, were you not?
 Mrs. De Vorse—Why, yes, I believe I was.

A Great Drawback.
 "My tests show it to be a splendid medicinal water," said the analytical chemist.
 "Then there's only one thing wrong with it," said the owner of the spring; "the taste."
 "Why, the taste is delightful."
 "Of course; that's the trouble. No one would believe it was a medicinal water if it didn't have an unpleasant taste."—Philadelphia Ledger.

What's in a Name
 Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, discovered some years ago how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for Piles. For throb, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases, DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's, the genuine. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

A Power For Good
 The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Philpot, of Albany, Ga., says: "During a bilious attack I took one. Small as it was it did me more good than colored, blue mass or any other pill I ever took and at the same time the effect was pleasant. Little Early Risers are certainly an ideal pill." Five Persons are Bitten by Mad Cat.
 Dr. J. Allison Hodges will today begin to apply the Pasteur treatment at the Hygeia Hospital, in this city, to Mr. J. L. Baldwin and four members of his family from Mangum, N. C., who have recently been bitten by animals that died of hydrophobia.

Three negroes were also bitten but none of them have developed the dread disease, though the white persons come here to take the treatment, as a precaution.

The case is quite an interesting one though the full details could not be secured last night.

A dog in the town was suffering from hydrophobia, and before he could be killed he bit a cat. All these were either killed or died, but not until they had bitten all the persons mentioned above. The family physician of the North Carolina people accompanied them here, and will be with them during their treatment. Dr. Hodges will have them in direct charge.—Richmond Times Dispatch.

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some souse meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that his medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep seated on the lungs causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down down in weight from 148 to 92 lbs. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

Sour Stomach

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. Tribute to Judge Brown.

Wilmington, Sept. 30.—With the adjournment of Brunswick Superior court at Southport today, at noon, Judge George H. Brown closed a distinguished service of 18 years on the lower court bench in North Carolina, a fact which was adverted to by Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy in a pleasing and most complimentary speech as the final act of the term was about to transpire. Mr. Bellamy personally, and in behalf of the bar of the state, thanked Judge Brown for his uniform courtesy at all times during his long service as a Superior court judge, and referred in most complimentary terms to the urbanity and deference to others which had characterized his judicial course. His elevation to the Supreme Court bench of North Carolina was spoken of in gratifying terms, the remarks of Mr. Bellamy having been seconded by Mr. Fredell Meares and other members of the Wilmington and Southport bars in attendance, all of which was gratefully acknowledged. Judge Brown came up to the city this afternoon and is spending a short while with friends on the sound before going to his home in Washington.

To Cook Carp.

Many persons have been dubious hitherto about the food value of the carp, which is so abundant in the Columbia. As much of the flavor is lost through careless cooking, it is important, to enjoy the fish, that a good recipe be strictly adhered to. The following method, which is in use at a local restaurant, is the best—in fact, the only way to cook carp so that it will be appreciated.

Take a good sized carp and clean it well. Get some stiff clay, make a paste of it, and plaster around the carp to a thickness of two inches. Bake in oven until clay is very hard. Then get a hammer and knock off the clay. Throw the carp away and serve the clay.—Portland Oregonian.

Marriage Licenses.

Licenses were issued to the following couples last week:

- WHITE. Chas. J. Wheaton and Laura Parker. BERRY. Berry Jones and Caroline Morton. FRANK. Frank Williams and Katie Dickens. TRAVIS. Travis J. Allen and Lillie B. Cherry. PENDER. James Pender and Levella Parker. JOHN. John Sutton and Sular Dawson.

Dispensary Profits.

The total sales of the Greenville dispensary for the month of September was $3,743.76 and the net profit $1,252.40. This average for a year will give the county school fund $7,514.40 the county share of the profits. When Greenville had bar rooms they paid a tax of $2,200 that went to the county, so that it will be seen that a net gain of $5,314.40 is added to the county by the dispensary.

At the same time you only have to look about you on the streets of Greenville to see that there is not near the drunkenness here since the dispensary was established as existed when the town had eleven bar rooms.

NOTES FROM BETHEL.

Bethel, N. C., Oct. 3, 1904.

The share holders of the Bethel Banking and Trust Company met Sept. 30 and perfected the organization, by electing the following officers: President, M. O. Blount; vice president, J. R. Bunting; cashier, H. H. Taylor. The following gentlemen were elected as the board of directors: Dr. K. J. Grimes, chairman; Robert Staton; F. G. James and B. W. Moseley, Greenville; T. T. Cherry, Conetoe; S. C. Whitehurst, Grindool; S. M. Jones, J. W. Thomas, W. J. Teel, E. A. Cherry, J. J. Carson.

The Banking and Trust Company will be ready to accommodate the public in a few days. The cashier, H. H. Taylor, has had some experience in a national bank of Norfolk, and will conduct the business with that skill and honesty that characterize all his dealings with his fellowman.

Bethel is awaking from her lethargy and will not go into winter quarters 'till her army of busy toilers shall have won in the industrial strife.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Taylor have begun house keeping in their beautifully painted little cottage in front of the academy.

Mr. Blount's cotton gin has been running night and day this week. The farmers are selling their cotton as soon as they can get it ready for the market.

A new brick store on Railroad street will soon be completed, and will be occupied by Taylor, Smith and Thomas.

There is one born in the flesh of law-abiding citizens of Bethel. Unmistakable evidence was furnished that one certain man of Bethel has flagrantly violated the law against the sale of spirituous liquors in Bethel. The court found this man guilty and imposed a sentence of twelve months in jail. But within two days after this "certain gentleman," who has so persistently violated the said laws, found mercy in the court and returned to his home. This manner of procedure has been tried and failed to correct the evil until it seems time for the good people to inquire "who should have mercy shown them by the courts?" Shall it be those who try to protect the interests of the state and contribute to her industrial and intellectual and moral growth, or shall it be those who violate the laws and deal out those deadly influences that demoralize the citizen, and bring disgrace upon the community and the state?

The Bethel graded school has just completed a very successful month's work. With new piano, new desks and increased faculty the work goes on with increased interest and with increased success.

County Canvass.

The county candidates of the Democratic party will begin their campaign next week. They will speak at Fountain on Friday, Oct. 14 and at Farmville on Saturday, Oct. 15.

Commissioners Barnhill and Spier were appointed a committee with the superintendent of health as to the location of pest houses, &c.

An order was passed that physicians shall be paid ten cents for each vaccination, the county to furnish the vaccine matter.

A resolution was adopted ordering compulsory vaccination in infected towns or districts in the county.

Jurors for November court were drawn.

A Great Sermon.

There was another large audience at the Baptist church, Monday night, to hear Dr. Wharton. His sermon was on "The Prodigal Son" and made a deep impression especially on the many men present.

It could be seen that there was deep interest in all the speaker said. The sermon was strong and made even more effective by apt illustrations. Some of the obstacles met by a young man when he "comes to himself" and makes up his mind to "return to his father" were pointed out and helpful suggestions given as to how these may be overcome.

The service at 10 o'clock this morning was delightful. Tonight the service begins as usual at 7:30.
