Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sir: It's the same everywhere; can't guess little enough Mr. C. O. Brown, Columbia, S. C. employed an experienced painter to paint his house. MANFORD'S OPENING.

The scene of openings in Greenville has been the fall display at C. T. Munford's big store the last two days. Hundreds of ladies have visited his store and they all express delight at the superb display. Not only are the latest styles in millinery shown but also the very newest of fashion and shade in dress goods, trimmings, laces, ornaments, jackets, coats and furs and just such pretty things as the ladies admire.

Especially attractive were the trimmed hats, among them being noticed one of broadtail velvet in the shade of mahogany. Another large velvet hat in four shades of purple violet. Another is a French turban in brown and four shades of Cognac de Rouche. Then a very large hat in mahogany velvet and the burnt onion shades. One of the handsomest was a large black velvet hat with high collar of ecru lace edged with large black beads, handsome ostrich plume and tulle ties.

Still another attractive feature of the display are the exquisite center tables.

THE BAZAAR.

The executive committee of the Ladies Guild, of the Episcopal church, met at Hotel Macon Wednesday night and perfected plans for the bazaar which they expect to have about the middle of December. The various booths were definitely determined and assigned to the several ladies who are expected to have charge of them. Sub-committees were appointed to attend to the details of the work. The ladies who are managing the bazaar have the matter well in hand and their forces organized. Judging from present prospects the bazaar will be a success, and it is hoped that their many friends will help to make that success assured.

Hon. Thos. E. Watson, of Georgia, Populist party candidate for president, will address the people at Tarboro on Thursday, Oct. 27th. Everybody is invited to hear him.

The Pitt county corn fair will be held on the 13th. Every farmer should bring a sample of his best corn.

CAME THE WRONG DAY.

Corn Fair Speech Would Not Do For Populist Convention.

Prof. C. B. Williams connected with the state agricultural department at Raleigh walked in at THE REFLECTOR office this morning to inquire when the Pitt county corn fair would be held. When told that the 13th was the date for the fair a look of astonishment came over his face. "Why," said he, "I thought it was today. Some one wrote the department that it would be held on the 8th and requested that I be sent here to make a speech, and here I am." It was explained to him that today, 8th, was the date for a Populist convention here and that as the chairman of the Populist convention was the leading mover in the corn fair, he might have mixed things up in his letter and given the department the date of the convention instead of the corn fair.

Chairman A. J. Moye was looked up later in regard to the mistake, and the joke was on him. The speech Mr. Williams had for the corn fair would not fit a Populist convention, even if his political faith had not been different.

Mr. Williams will come again on the 13th when the corn fair will be held.

POPULIST CONVENTION.

The Populists met here in county convention today as advertised, but had a smaller attendance than at the mass meeting in September.

The convention started off its work without any speech making. A. J. Moye was elected permanent chairman and F. Ward secretary.

A committee was appointed to retire and select candidates.

While the committee was out there were two or three efforts to get a speech, but the calls met with no response. They called on W. J. Pope, one of the Republican nominees for the house of representatives only to find that he was not loaded either.

The committee after a long session returned and recommended the following ticket:

For senate, A. J. Moye.
House Representatives, Shade Cox and Dr. R. J. Grimes.
Sheriff, no recommendation.
Treasurer, W. J. Thigpen.
Register, D. T. Housa.
Coroner, Dr. J. E. Nobles.
Surveyor, J. S. L. Ward.
Commissioners, H. S. Tyson, W. L. Smith, J. F. Tyson.

THIS KIND COUNTS.

You may talk about good sales of tobacco, but the Liberty warehouse makes the kind that count. G. W. Venters sold at the Liberty today (Thursday) and here is the way his lots and prices run:

130 pounds at 15 cents, 54 at 25, 56 at 31, 45 at 36, 55 at 36, 25 at 50, 56 at 45, 34 at 46, 55 at 35, 115 at 30, 61 at 25, 31 at 15, 100 at 24, 63 at 20, 66 at 30, 68 at 36, 56 at 21, 28 at 37, 15 at 30, 14 at 30, 56 at 40, 18 at 12, 18 at 50, 30 at 20, 38 at 40, 14 at 24.

This was an average of about 34 cents a pound. It shows what W. T. Lipscomb & Co. do for those who sell at the Liberty.

RODS GO DEEP.

While digging a well, Wednesday, Willis Clark found a lot of long mulberry roots at a depth of 37 feet. There was a considerable mass of the roots and it shows to what a depth they will penetrate the earth.

I have just returned from Baltimore where I bought my fall millinery and notions. Opening Sept 15, 1904. Mrs. H. L. Boyd, Grimesland, N. C., next door to Dr's. office. 1m.

FIRST MEETING OF THE CENTURY BOOK CLUB.

Reported for Reflector

As has been the custom for years the End of the Century Book Club held its first meeting at the residence of its president, Mrs. R. R. Cotton, Tuesday Oct. 4.

The club as usual spent the day delightfully with their exceedingly charming hostess.

It is needless to say that the swift gliding hours were saddened by but our regret, the fact that the club is to lose one of its most valued members in the departure of Mrs. M. A. Allen from Greenville.

The club loses a valuable and highly prized member, while regretting our own loss we feel that her usefulness is only transferred to another community which will receive additional blessings by her presence.

The tenderest expressions of sympathy were embodied in resolutions to be forwarded to Mrs. Allen touching the death of her beloved daughter, Mrs. R. L. Carr, who previous to her demise had been filling so acceptably the office of president in the young ladies book club of Greenville.

The End of the Century Club wishes to push with vigor every effort to make their newly established library a source of enjoyment and instruction to the citizens of our town. The members are pleased with the evidence already manifested by our people.

The next semi-monthly meeting will be held with Mrs. L. C. Arthur Tuesday, Oct. 18th.

"FLAT AS A FLOUNDER."

Something of the Life History of an Interesting and Curious Fish.

The expression "As flat as a flounder" has become proverbial, but it does not apply to very young floun-ders, which differ so much from the adult ones that they can hardly be recognized as belonging to the same family as their parents.

The flounders begin life as do ordinary fishes. When they first emerge from the egg they swim vertically, with the head turned upward. Their bodies are symmetrical, and their eyes are on opposite sides of the head. Gradually the position of the body changes from vertical to horizontal, and the fish remain thus for some time, swimming like ordinary fishes. But while still very small there is foreshadowing of the bottom life they are destined for,
and they enter upon a series of remarkable changes. The most striking of these changes is in the position of the eye. The eye of one side or the other slowly but steadily moves over to the opposite side of the head and takes a place beside the other eye. In some flounders the eye moves around the front of the head; in others it moves directly through the head. This shifting of the eye's position is accompanied by a change in the position of the body, which ceases to be upright and becomes more and more oblique. The side of the body from which the eye is moving gradually becomes inferior to the other until by the time the change of the eye is complete the fish swims with its blind side underneath, and this position is ever after maintained. The flounder then ceases its free swimming habit and sinks to the bottom.

Some species of flounders are right sided, and others are left sided. In the right sided forms the left eye moves to the right side and the left side becomes undermost. In the left sided species the opposite conditions prevail. It rarely happens that right sided species have left sided individuals, and vice versa. In a few species both right sided and left sided fish occur in about equal numbers.—St. Nicholas.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., March 9th., 1904.

Mr. Chas. M. Stieff, Charlotte, N. C.

Dear Sir:—It is a little unusual to file an order this late in the season, but we find that the more Steiff Pianos which we add to our music department, the better the results attained in the work. We have added quite a number of your instruments during the last few years, and they have all given good satisfaction. It requires a piano of unusual merit for the constant use which all practice pianos have within our school, but we are glad to be able to say that your instruments have stood the test, and we will continue to purchase from your firm from time to time as the need arises.
I think there are about a dozen now in the school.

J. H. CLEWELL, Principal.

A rare and magnificent display of these pianos can now be seen and heard at Greenville, at lowest factory prices and easiest terms. We also have on the floor several slightly used upright pianos at prices ranging from $175.00 to $225.00. Each instrument

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR

SEMI-WEEKLY—TUESDAY AND FRIDAY.

D. J. WHICHARD, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Entered in the post office at Greenville, N. C., as second class matter. Advertising rates made known upon application. A correspondent desired at every post office in Pitt and adjoining counties.

Truth in Preference to Fiction

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1904.

Just a month and the ballots will tell their own story.

There is yet a place on the map indicating the presence of Port Arthur.

The state fair at Raleigh begins on the 17th and continues through the week.

Tom Watson is lifting his voice in North Carolina, but he finds Populism too dead to arouse.

Roosevelt will have fewer teeth to show when he gets the news of his defeat. The dentist is already at work on him.

The Populists did not carry a single county in the recent Georgia election. And that in Tom Watson's state.

Secretary Loeb has not yet shown the honesty to apologize to R. B. Glenn. He knew that he was wrong when he denied that Roosevelt said it.

Postmaster General Henry C. Payne died Tuesday night in Washington. He had been in poor health for two years but his last illness covered only a week.

The most encouraging news is coming out from New York. The coming together of all factions in united support of Parker and Herick indicates a sweeping victory for Democracy. The prediction is made that the majority in that state will be anywhere from 75,000 to 100,000.

The county commissioners have taken a commendable step in arranging for the working of the roads of the county by convicts. Not only will convicts of Pitt be worked on the roads but those from some of the neighboring counties will also be sent here. Better roads are much needed and the work is begun none too soon.

Greenville seems to be doing the correct thing in regard to vaccination. The people are readily going to the physicians for the application and very little objection is heard to the rule ordering vaccination. That is the wise course to pursue and the best safeguard against an epidemic. Carry out this spirit and there is no danger to apprehend.

Chas. F. Murphy has given it as his opinion that New York state will give Herick and Harrison a majority of 75,000. There is reason to believe that this is accurate and cause to hope that the State will also go for Parker and Davis. If it does—well, as goes New York so goes the nation, is a pretty reliable prediction. All in all, there is no doubt that the outlook has recently materially improved from the Democratic standpoint.—Charlotte Observer.

"OUR SHIPS."

This writer will not forget a scene he witnessed at Morehead City this summer. It was a banquet given to an association of editors. That noble son and splendid citizen of North Carolina, ex-Governor Jarvis, was responding to a toast relative to the proposed Jamestown Exposition in 1907. The speaker supposed there would be gathered in the waters of Hampton Roads from all nations of the earth to engage in some maritime displays. Gathered on the shore as spectators are representatives of the different nationalities. Amid other ships is some proud monster of the sea flying the colors of Russia. "Whose ship is that?" queries some one of a Russian citizen standing by. "That ship, sir," in reply, "belongs to his majesty, the czar of all the Russias." Yonder in the distance is another proud vessel, flying the colors of Germany from her staff. "Whose ship is that," queries some one of a German standing by. "That, sir, is the ship of his royal highness, the Emperor of Germany," speaks the Dutchman. Another ship heaves into view. It bears the triumphant colors of Great Britain. "Whose ship is that?" queries some one of an Englishman standing by. "Why, that ship is a part of the English navy and belongs, of course, to his Royal Highness the King of England," responds the Englishman. And then there comes by in parade a noble rover of the sea flying from her staff the stars and stripes. "Will you tell me," says some one to an American standing by, "whose ship that is?" And then, though it be the humblest American in all this broad land, he proudly and truly responds, "Yes, sir. That is our ship." And when Governor Jarvis had finished the word the hall resounded with applause. No wonder. They were true words, fitly spoken. The sentiment that such words convey makes such citizens as the noble Jarvis and make this our land and country, the greatest and most beloved on the face of the earth. This is our country. No czar or emperor or king owns or can rule it. We are freemen. Which means that we possess our own souls, our own minds, and we dare to think some and develop some on our own account. If this thought will not make true men, strong men, patriotic men, nothing will. God bless our native land with its boundless opportunity, its infinite promise, its buoyant hope, its splendid traditions, its noble citizenship.—Rev. J. O. Atkinson in Christian Sun.

The get-together attitude of the whiskey men is not without its suggestiveness to the opposing forces. It is noted the Virginia Liquor Dealers' Association has planned to raise $20,000 to fight Judge William H. Mann, who is seeking the democratic nomination for governor and whose temperance views are so well known. Brewers and wholesale liquor dealers all over the United States having agents in Virginia are to be assessed to raise the proposed "defense reserved fund," the amount assessed against the brewers being $150 and that against the wholesalers $100. This is certainly a practical way to go about it and it shows that a successful opposition to these interests must be just a shade more practical and determined.—Greensboro Telegram.

The Washington Post, which is a truly independent, non-partisan paper, with no excess of admiration or affection for the Democratic party says in summing up the present political situation, that "it would appear that the Democrats are making perceptible progress, although victory for them is far from being assured," that "the party is certainly in better shape than it has been since 1892," that while it is difficult "to heal serious factional differences in a few hours" "the results which have already been accomplished along this line are remarkable" and "are at least calculated to give the Republican managers some concern." All of which, coming from The Post, signifies a good deal.—Charlotte Observer.

The top crop is an inconsiderable factor in cotton estimates for the present season. The harvest will be practically over by November 1, and it is plainly evident that instead of overproduction, there is barely enough of the fleecy staple to meet the minimum demands of commercial consumption.—Atlanta Constitution.

The emphasis with which Judge Parker insists that the government must be run on a more economical basis is attracting the attention of those quiet men who think before they vote.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

What a Rat Did.

A small-sized riot was caused in the West End last evening by a rat. A neighbor's boy captured a rat in the cellar of his house. The rodent was alive, the trap being a sort of cage. Two rat terriers were on hand to do the killing, and a score of men, women and children to see the sport. The rat was released and managed to escape both dogs. The dogs ran into each other, because angry and started to fight. The rat meantime was chased by the youngsters, and given one or two blows with stones, but kept ahead of his pursuers. He finally ran into the open door of a house near by, and the woman occupant of the room entered faintly. The boys caught the rat and killed it. The blood of the rat splattered over the carpet, and the muddy shoes of the boys added to the scene of destruction. The fainting woman recovered and chased the boys from her home. It was over an hour later before peace was restored. The woman whose carpet was soiled says she will sue the father of the boy who caught the rat.—Albany Journal.

Consolidation Stopped.

"Exactly at 11 o'clock yesterday, the hour set for a meeting at the Seaboard Air Line Railway general offices here, by which the majority stockholders of the Seaboard and Roanoke Railway, the parent line of the present Seaboard system were to vote to merge the Seaboard and Roanoke properties fully and completely with the Seaboard Air Line, destroying the corporate existence of the smaller road D. A. Kelsey, special court agent, served upon President James A. Barr and General Counsel Watt, of the Seaboard Air Line system an injunction granted by Federal Judge Waddell, stopped the stockholders' meeting called for today, and enjoining any acts that might result in the formal merger of the Seaboard and Roanoke railroad with the Seaboard Air Line and the destruction of the corporate existence of the Seaboard and Roanoke.—Raleigh Post.

The Father of 34 Children.

Mr. William Richardson, ex-Senator from Johnston county tells a story of a big family in that county that have been writing to Roosevelt about big families. Here is the story: Mr. Richardson says that Mr. Applewhite Richardson, a distant relative of his, who lived in Johnston county and died a few years ago was married three times and was the father of thirty four children and at his death had thirty two living children, 360 grandchildren, 190 great-grandchildren, and over 90 great-great-grandchildren.

This is a partial explanation why the Democratic majority in Johnston is so large.—Raleigh News and Observer

A case has just come to light that rivals the old story of wooden nutmegs. A company that has been furnishing the government with cork for life preservers has just been indicted in the Federal Court. It appears that some time ago the chunks of cork were suspiciously heavy for the size and an examination resulted in finding that each one had a piece of iron imbedded in its center, iron being cheaper than cork. The discovery has raised a racket and the courts will see who has been getting the graft. Steamboat inspectors have been set to work to try to find out how many life preservers are loaded with iron. The indications are that somebody is going to get hurt. A life preserver loaded with iron would be a valuable thing.—Greensboro Record.

Every North Carolinian of the age of 21 years should vote for the party which conserves the best interests of the people and ensures the future growth and prosperity of his State. Everybody with as much brain as can be poked into a gnat's eye with the point of a cambric needle knows that party is the one with Bob Glenn's white plume waving at the head of the procession.—Wilmington Star.

In a heart to heart talk with the girl freshmen of Radcliff College the other day Dean Irwin gave them this advice: "Stand up straight; don't look at the boys; keep your shoes tied; don't let your skirts drag." There may be a bundle of wisdom in that; but why should a girl have to go to college to learn something that her mother ought to be able to tell her?—Savannah News.

The establishment of the department of agriculture; the creation of the experiment agricultural stations; and inauguration of the rural free delivery—all originated under Democratic rule; and yet the Republicans have the cheek to claim credit for everything good that has come through the government to the masses.—Raleigh Post.

Russia, it is said, recently contracted for a supply of bullet-proof breast-plates for the protection of her men in the far east. Recent events would seem to indicate that the other side of the body is in need of the greatest care.—Charlotte Observer.

Our special representative, Mr. J. A. Turner, will be in Pitt and the adjoining counties for some time for the purpose of collecting for the The Tobacco Planters' Mutual Hall Insurance Co. SOLVED THE PROBLEM.

How the Skipper Named His Boat and Observed the Proprieties.

There is something singularly captivating to the imagination in the names of many of the old time sailing vessels, coastwise and ocean going, which once spread their white wings so plentifully against the blue skies and bright waters of the New England harbors.

Who can help at the mere sound of such names as the Lively Jane, the Lovely Peggy, the Laughing Lucy, the Modest Ann, the Constant Mary, the Three Fair Sisters, creating a mental picture of the sailors' sweethearts so honored in all the flour and freshness of their forgotten charms? Many indeed are the suggestions for the romancer hidden away in the brief compass of old shipping lists preserved here and there in faded and tattered newspapers. Sometimes, too, one catches elsewhere an echo of their name and fame.

In one old New England seaport there was a few years ago an aged seaman whose favorite tune among the many chanteys he was in the habit of humming as he went about the domestic chores of his tiny, solitary house was a scrap of refrain set to a taking air, all he could remember of a once popular sea song in honor of some fair unknown:

Hey, the charming Sally O!
Boston bound who'd daily O!
Sally of the foam to my Sally safe at home—
And we'll speed her home from Calico!

Perhaps the most curious story of any vessel named for a sweetheart is that pertaining to neither fishing craft nor merchantman, but to a little skiff familiar in the long ago to the waters of Narragansett bay. It was owned by the good elder of a little shore village, who for fifty years had persistently courted a shy maiden of the name of Rhoda Baker. So shy was she that often when he called she would not even see him. He would find the sitting room empty and the chair from which she had fled at the very moment of her "Come in" yet rocking by the window.

At length Rhoda died, still a spinster, and her bereaved lover desired to honor her memory by bestowing her name upon his boat. But he encountered a difficulty. Rhoda's permission could not be asked, and since in life she had never accepted him was it fair or courteous to her to dispense with it? He solved this problem of chivalry and avoided the least shadow of presumption by naming the vessel and painting the name in conspicuous black letters on the stern, Rhoda Wouldn't.—Youth's Companion.

Warning to Poor Penmen.

There should be no excuse for illegible handwriting, yet there is much of it. A certain Columbus club woman, having a friend who was an indifferent scribe, attempted to break her of the habit in a very novel manner.

Receiving a note from her friend, one day which was exceptionally hard to decipher, she conceived the idea of pretending it was an invitation to dine, and accordingly wrote this reply: "I shall take great pleasure in accepting your invitation to dinner tomorrow evening." A short time after this note had been delivered the telephone rang, and on answering it she recognized the voice of her friend at the other end of the wire. "Hello!" it said. "You were mistaken to subscribe to the 'home land.'" "Oh, was that it?" answered the woman. "I couldn't make out your note, and I wanted to answer something."—Columbus Dispatch.

Preaching and Practice.

Father—I hear, my boy, that you have lately told your mother several falsehoods. This grieves me to the heart. Always tell the truth, even though it may bring suffering upon you. Will you promise me?

Boy—Yes, father.
Father—Very well. Now go and see who is knocking at the door. If it's the rate collector, say I'm not at home.—London Tit-Bits.

A Willing Substitute.

"I am very much bothered. I can marry a rich widow whom I don't love or a poor girl that I do love. What shall I do?"
"Listen to your heart and marry the one you love."
"You are right, my friend. I shall marry the girl."
"Then can you give me the widow's address?"—Fliegende Blätter.

SHOES $4.
UNION MADE

It is easy enough to cry "Best" but that which convinces is the test. We make strong claims for this Shoe, and ask a trial that our claims may be proven. We claim a unique, common sense sole construction, found in no other shoe. A system of last modeling which makes a shoe that fits the foot as nature intended.

We also claim that while quality of material and workmanship may possibly be equalled, they cannot be excelled at the price, and that as good a shoe cannot be made and is not sold for less. They are, however, the tangible results of many years study of the highly complex needs of the human foot. They appeal to common sense and warrant a trial by every one who desires foot comfort and good service combined.

Hopeless.
The newly married man looked at the old bachelor and there was a sadness in his eyes.
"George," he said, "you are living a wasted life. You are all wrong, old fellow. But it isn't too late; some woman may yet be found who will love you and be willing to take your name. By Jove, old boy, come home with me tonight and I'll introduce you to the sweetest young woman you ever met. She's my wife's sister, the dearest and gentlest girl. Why, they still call her by the pet name of her babyhood, 'Lamb.'"
The old bachelor moistened his lips and his eyes brightened.
"I like lamb," he said, "more especially with mint sauce."
And then the newly married man knew it was useless to waste any further words on the confirmed old celibate.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Remounts.
"When you talk about enterprise, I never saw anything to beat the Indians of the old northwest," said a regular army soldier who was in the campaign against the Sioux after the Custer massacre in 1876. He explained Indian enterprise this way:
"We had a lot of Crows employed as scouts, and they were quite useful. They had their own ponies, but sometimes they would wake up in the morning with a pony to their credit. They would start out afoot, and they always came back at night with plenty of ponies. Nobody ever asked where they got the ponies."—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Suitable Name For It.
The artist was of the impressionist school. He had just given the last touches to a purple and blue canvas when his wife came into his studio.
"My dear," said he, "this is the landscape I wanted you to suggest a title for."
"Why not call it 'Home?'" she said after a long look.
"Home? Why?"
"Because there's no place like it," she replied meekly.

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some souse meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Cholera, Colera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale at Wooten's Drug Store.

Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

LETTER TO W. B. WILSON.

Greenville, N. C.
Dear Sir: Have you found out you can paint a job with fewer gallons Devoe than of anything else, lead-and-oil or anything else? Mr. Floyd Almy, House and Sign painter, Greenwich, N. Y., found it out three years ago; he writes: "I have used Devoe lead-and-zinc for the past three years, and cannot say too much in its favor. I am using it now on a big job that I took by contract, and it has saved me at least $25 in the cost of material."
Devoe is the strongest paint we know of; goes furthest; takes less of it to do your job.
Lead-and-oil is pure; lead-and-zinc is stronger; covers more; goes further.
Have you found out you can paint a gallon Devoe in less time than a gallon of anything else? That means less time for the job. Less time; less money.
Less paint; less money for that; less time, less money for that. Devoe lasts longer; do you mind the less money for that? You are sure of it.

Yours truly

Dr. Wharton's Lecture.

There was a large audience in the opera house, Friday night, to hear Dr. H. M. Wharton deliver his famous lecture on his trip to Palestine. Our people had been hearing Dr. Wharton preach for nearly two weeks and were so charmed with him that they were anxious to hear his lecture. And he proved as delightful as a lecturer as preacher. For an hour and a half he graphically described many interesting scenes incident to a trip through the Holy Land, alternating from pathos to humor in a manner that held the closest attention of every hearer.

Dr. Wharton's coming to Greenville has been a blessing to the town and he will long be pleasantly remembered by the people here. The influence of his labors here will be a power for good through time to come.

BENSONIZER LUNG CURE

NO MORE EXPIRE FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

A Cure at Last Obtained, After a Searching Investigation, by St. Louis Inventors.

A few months ago the attention of a few scientific and philanthropic gentlemen of St. Louis was directed to an entirely new method of combating that most dreadful of all diseases, tuberculosis, commonly called consumption. Out of 115 test cases, 77 were completely cured and 28 have shown such improvement that their ultimate recovery is but a question of a few weeks.
So astonishing have been the results and absolute cures in cases pronounced incurable by all old methods that a company has been formed and is now prepared to furnish at a normal cost this cure to all sufferers of the "White Plague." One of its chief features is that patients can remain at home, surrounded by friends and relatives, and in a great many instances, especially the incipient or early stages of the disease, pursue their daily vocations and still become completely cured.
Patients receiving the same treatment here in St. Louis have completely recovered as rapidly as those in Colorado, New Mexico and Texas. The wonderful results in question have been accomplished by the Bensonizer, and the company which controls this marvelous medical device have located their main office at 417 North Seventh street, St. Louis. They have also located a factory on Easton avenue and a laboratory has been built at Hillside, Mo. The cure will be known as the Bensonizer Lung Cure, and Mr. C. P. Benson, the discoverer of the fluid inhalants which are used, will personally have charge of the affairs of the company. Mr. Benson will personally meet all who call at the office of the company on Seventh street, and will answer all communications from sufferers who are unable to make a personal call. —From the St. Louis Globe Democrat.

A. C. L. DOUBLE DAILY SERVICE.

An Effort to Get Coast Line to Put on Another Train to Reach Kinston in the Forenoon.

The business people and all citizens of this city will be interested to know that an effort is being made to get the Atlantic Coast Line to put on another train of the Scotland Neck branch, to reach this city in the forenoon and return to Hobgood in the afternoon. This will give the people along this road a double daily service in passenger and freight traffic that is much needed and if done will prove a great benefit to Kinston in many ways.

The advantages to be derived from the double daily service are many, among them, it will put in closer touch with Kinston the people along this line and enable them to come to our city and transacting their business return home the same day. This of course will turn to Kinston a large volume of trade that now goes elsewhere. Another advantage is that freight from Norfolk and the north will reach Kinston 26 to 30 hours sooner than now, besides remedying the manifestly inadequate facility for handling the freight on this branch of the road.

A great many other benefits and advantages will inure from this increased service, but folks don't get things just so, and it's up to our business men to get together and ask of the railroad officials this thing.

The Free Press is in a position to state that the officials would more than likely act favorably on the request if made with the proper backing. That would be the chamber of commerce, the Free Press suggests, hold a meeting and make the request formally and officially.

There is no doubt but the business men and citizens generally, of the city, are in favor of the proposition and the time to act is NOW—Kinston Free Press.

A little more than two years ago Greenville was interested in a movement of this kind. The REFLECTOR at that time sent strong petitions from the business men of Greenville, Winterville, Ayden and Grifton to the railroad officials asking for the double daily service and Capt. W. H. Newell, of the Coast Line came here for a conference about it. At the time it looked like the petitions would be complied with and the double service put on, but for some reason the matter was sidetracked.

The needs of such a service and the benefit it will bring to all the towns along this branch of the road is apparent to every one, and the railroad would also increase its own business by putting it on. The merchants association of Greenville should at once take steps to cooperate with the merchants of Kinston in the movement to get the double service. If all the towns along the road will work together for it we believe it can be secured.

Dr. Hyatt at Farmville.
Dr. H. O. Hyatt will be in Farmville, at the hotel, October 17th, 18th, and 19th, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, for the purpose of treating diseases of the eye and fitting glasses. Those not able to pay a fee will be examined free.

The Pitt county corn fair will be held on the 13th. Every farmer should bring a sample of his best corn.

NOT A CANDIDATE.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:
I see in the report of the Populist convention published in Saturday's issue of THE REFLECTOR that I was named as a candidate for treasurer by that convention. I wish to state that the use of my name by the convention was without my knowledge or consent, and I am not a candidate of that or any other party for any office.
Respectfully,
W. J. THIGPEN.

Reminder of the Good Old Days.

A good woman remarked this morning "I saw something in the Methodist church Sunday night that Greenville has not witnessed in years." When asked what it was she said, "A man went in penitence to the altar and was converted while kneeling there praying for the pardon of his sins." The incident recalls the good old days of the "mourner's bench."

Smallpox Patient Escapes.

The man named Rouse who came here from Greene county last week with a case of smallpox and was placed in the quarantine station, made his escape Sunday night. It is supposed that he went back to his home.

I have just returned from Baltimore where I bought my fall millinery and notions. Opening Sept. 15, 1904. Mrs. H. L. Boyd, Grimesland, N. C., next door to Dr's. office. 14.

BEAVER DAM ITEMS.

BEAVER DAM, N. C., Oct. 11.

Four families in this section are quarantined on account of smallpox. The doctors report all stricken with the malady as doing well. No new cases are reported. All suspicious parties will be watched and reported to the authorities. One poor fellow said he had nothing but the itch, and that he had rather go to the penitentiary than have smallpox. All the whites are becoming converted and being vaccinated, while the colored people are giving it the go by as they are busy picking cotton.

A colored association began at Warren chapel on the 10th. If the colored people should happen to have smallpox on the ground there would be more work for the medical fraternity.

Another bear has been seen and chased, but brain escaped all his pursuers.

A dog with hydrophobia passed J. H. Cobb's store going north. A phone message was sent to Ben Joyner, at Polk's rd., to look out for the dangerous canine. Ben armed with a gun stood on guard and quickly dispatched the dog when he came along.

Cotton picking is progressing with a vim. It will soon be over if fair weather continues, as the crop is ten percent short.

All sunshine and no rain enables the farmers to save lots of bright hay.

Cotton is being ginned and sold as fast as picked. If Sully can hold out thirty days he will again be a noted Southern bull.

There is a very poor crop of field peas but a fair crop of corn.

We want Uncle Sam to sprinkle our roads, as there is more dust than ever before.

Farmers are all smiling as they come home from Greenville. Tobacco is selling well. That is the fruits of a small crop.

The Graded School.

Those of our people who do not visit the graded school occasionally have little idea what they are missing. The splendid system by which everything is done and the excellent work of the superintendent and teachers is well worth witnessing. A visit to the school will increase your pride in it. Your presence occasionally will also be an encouragement to your children by showing them you are interested in what they are doing in school.

Services at Falkland.

There will be services in the Presbyterian church at Falkland every night next week, beginning with Sunday night, Oct. 16th. A cordial welcome is extended to all.

Some Improvements.

Lost Fifteen Years.

Mr. Luther N. White has located a handsome gold watch which he lost nearly fifteen years ago, and in a few days his property will be restored to him. The discovery of the watch after this lapse of time and the means by which it was accomplished furnishes quite an interesting story.

Recently a negro preacher in Louisburg carried the watch to a jeweler in that town to have it repaired. The jeweler noticed that it was of expensive workmanship and examined it closely. He found that it had at one time been repaired at the store of H. Mahler's Sons, so he wrote her making inquiries. Mr. Mahler, after referring to his books, reported the matter to Mr. L. N. White. Mr. White sent a full description to the Louisburg jeweler and he replied that the watch was the same one Mr. White lost. In this way Mr. White will soon recover the watch which is supposed to have been taken from his store or the premises years ago.—Raleigh Times.
