

NAPOLEON'S HATS.

Seven hats once worn by Napoleon are in existence. That is settled by Prince Victor Napoleon, who has answered an inquiry. One of the seven was bought for 17,000 francs by Gerome, whose monument at the "Broken Eagle" was unveiled at Waterloo last summer. Three are owned by the Empress Eugenie, Prince Victor Napoleon and Prince Louis Napoleon. Two are at the Invalides and one in the Military museum.

Prince Victor Napoleon owns bills for hats supplied to the great emperor. They cost 60 francs each. Napoleon sent them back at times to the hattermaker to be done up. In the bills figures the item: "For repairs, 6 francs." The Gerome hat may now be seen at the Conde museum.

Sounds From Stars.

That the stars ring as they move in their courses is a poetical idea which is not so extravagant as it seems. A distinguished astronomer in fact has devised an ingenious apparatus for recording the sounds which come from them. The instrument by which the sounds are recorded is a combination of phonograph, telephone and telescope and is the outcome of the discovery that light rays falling on a polished steel plate produce a musical note. The machine, which is too complicated to describe in detail, is declared to convey musical sounds from the stars and planets, the sweetest tones being produced by the most distant of the fixed stars. The notes given out by the bright stars are stated to be far less pure and clear.

The Poet Laureate's Salary.

It may be some comfort to laboring men to know that the salary of the poet laureate of England is $350 a year and a hoghead of wine thrown in. Of course this represents only a fractional part of what Mr. Alfred Austin really earns. Still it is all that he gets for being poet laureate to the English speaking race. This salary is without any prospect of a raise, although it was increased to its present munificent proportions when Lord Tennyson died. Some time before his death it was decided to increase his salary to that amount, but the government did not decide till after his death. Thus the present poet laureate came in for the rise intended for Lord Tennyson.

His Brother's Widow.

"In our mail this morning a writer asks if a man can marry his brother's widow," says the editor of the La Harpe (Kan.) Review. "We reply that he can, but that it generally ends badly. Men do many things in this world which at first thought seems unlawful, although it is not in fact prohibited by statutory law. That is why King Herod had John the Baptist's head cut off. John said it was unlawful for the king to marry Herodias, his brother Philip's wife. But John was mistaken."

Raisuli, the Brigand.

Raisuli, it seems, is rather small potatoes at home and not the terror he was thought to be. He made large demands while his captive was in his hands, and this tended to increase the outside estimate of his importance. He got none of the provinces which he asked for in his terms of settlement, but did get the money—$70,000—and hangs on to it yet. There is a price on his head, and the prospect that it will stay long on his shoulders is held in Morocco to be a slim one.

Oratory at a Discount.

There is no legislative body where oratory is at a smaller premium than in the senate of our time. In the house the few men who control business gained their mastery in the first instance in open debate. But in the senate the influence of speech-making is at its lowest mark. The proceedings of the chamber are largely a show. Most of the real business is transacted in the committee rooms, in the cloakrooms and across the dinner table. — Boston Globe.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

He Knows No English, She No French, Yet It Mattered Not.

"I don't see how the count could propose to you when he can't speak any English and you don't speak French."

"Oh, it was very easy. We were sitting in the parlor. Pointing up at an oil painting of papa, the count took out a piece of paper and a pencil. Then he set down a dollar mark and after it placed a figure 1. Looking at me out of his big, deep, eloquent, lovely eyes, he began making ciphers after the dollar mark and the figure 1. When he had made four ciphers, which with the other figures meant $10,000, he stopped. I nodded my head for him to go on. Then he made another cipher. That meant $100,000. I nodded my head again. He made another, which raised it to $1,000,000. I nodded for him to go ahead. He put down another cipher, making it $10,000,000. Then I smiled and took the pencil from him, and he caught me in his arms and—end, ah, it was so lovely! It almost seems like a dream to think that in three weeks I shall be a real countess."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Self Evident.

The boy with the grimy countenance leaned over the back yard fence and made faces at the boy with the new suit of clothes, whose father was a soapmaker.

"Huh!" he said. "Yer dad's soap paid fur them clothes!"
"That's all right, dirty face," responded the other boy. "Your dad didn't help pay fur 'em."—Chicago Tribune.

IN THE "GOOD OLD TIMES."

Facts Which Show How Much Better Off We Are Today.

Not until February of 1812 did the people of Kentucky know that Madison was elected president in the previous November.

In 1834 one of the leading railroads of the United States priced on its time table: "The locomotive will leave the depot every day at ten o'clock, if the weather is fair."

The first typewriter was received by the public with suspicion. It seemed subversive of existing conditions. A reporter who took one into a courtroom first proved its real worth.

In England, some centuries ago, if an ordinary workman, without permission, moved from one parish to another in search of work or better wages, he was branded with a hot iron.

When Benjamin Franklin first thought of starting a newspaper in Philadelphia many of his friends advised against it, because there was a paper published in Boston. Some of them doubted that the country would be able to support two newspapers.

One hundred years ago, the fastest land travel in the world was on the Great North Road, in England, after it had been put in to its best condition. There the York mail coach tore along at the rate of ninety miles a day, and many persons confidently predicted Divine vengeance on such unseemly haste.

When Thomas Jefferson was elected president of the United States, on February 17, 1801, after one of the most exciting political campaigns in our history, the gratifying news did not reach the successful candidate for as many days as it now takes hours to transmit the result of a presidential election to the whole civilized world.

When, in 1809, Richard Trevithick uttered the following words, there were many who considered him an insane, dangerous person: "The present generation will use canals, the next will prefer railroads with horses, but their more enlightened successors will employ steam carriages on railways as the perfection of the art of conveyance."—From "Success Magazine."

FINE WORK.

Below will be found an outline of a talk made by Prof. G. E. Lineberry at the recent meeting of the Pitt County Teachers' Association on "The Art of Questioning." It ought to be preserved and studied by every teacher and followed closely in their work so that the very best results may be attained.

Qualities of a good question—(1) State question, then name pupil. (2) Have no regular or predictable order. (3) Avoid repetition of a question well asked. (4) Pause after asking question before naming pupil. (5) Avoid questions that "yes" or "no" can answer. (6) Should be clear. (7) Should be brief. (8) Should be colorless, not suggestive of answer. (9) Should be definite. (10) Question on the lesson should be individual. (11) Should be adapted to the individual capacity of the pupil asked. (12) Question should exercise judgment as well as test memory. (13) Question should be logical. (14) Should be suggestive, stimulate, and arouse.

Recommendation—(1) Be as ready to answer as to ask. (2) Examine and criticize yourself. Quit bad habits. (3) Occasionally write out the question. (4) Read and study best literature on the subject. (5) Confidently ask ourselves if these things be so.

Return Engagement.

By special request the Osman Stock Co. has given Greenville a return engagement for three nights, commencing on Thursday, 24th. This play on Thursday (Thanksgiving) night will be for the benefit of the Masonic temple and our people should give them a crowded audience. The Osmans are the best popular price troupe that have been here and their coming again should meet a liberal patronage. Tickets go on sale Tuesday morning at Coward & Wooten's.

Foolish to Resist Law.

People living in smallpox infected districts had best think twice before they rebel against being vaccinated. Another man was Tuesday taken under a warrant for refusing to be vaccinated, and had to pay the costs as well as submit to have his arm scratched. Wherever vaccination is ordered it is a misdemeanor to refuse to comply with it.

Reported for Reflector

At the home of Mrs. J. B. Cherry, on the afternoon of Nov. 15th, the End of the Century Book Club held a most delightful meeting.

The subject under discussion for the afternoon was the Women of Russia and many valuable and interesting items of information concerning their manners and customs were contributed.

Among the visitors present were Mesdames Monteiro, Pritchard, Hadley, Clare and Moyer, and Misses Skinner, Cotten and Miss Dickinson, of Richmond.

After heartily enjoying the tempting repast furnished by the hostess, the club adjourned to meet on November 29th, at the home of Mrs. W. A. Bowen.

Some Fitting Rot.

A good deal of rot is going the rounds of the press about the South's declaring its political independence of the Northern and Western wings of the party. Of course, it is all nonsense but some Northern papers take it seriously.

The time was when the South was glad to have the Northern Democracy and independents to come to the rescue, and the badly digested editorials which pass current for the real stuff now is no indication that the Southern Democracy as a whole is not grateful for the elbow touch of Northern Democrats, many of whom are more fundamentally Democrats than some of our Southern howlers whose nogginns are stuffed full of socialism and paternalism while they don't know it.

There is no occasion for the South to further alienate itself from its Northern friends, and of course, there is no serious movement along that line, for the South will keep its shirt on and await issues that the next four years will bring to the front, calling for its co-operation with similar political sentiment and convictions in the North. That is what we will do, too, flop-doodle editorials to the contrary notwithstanding.

The New York World, the New York Times and other Independent and Democratic newspapers in the North are wasting time in seriously taking note of some of the sore-head idoleisms emanating from some Southern newspapers. The South is going ahead with its business and is neither crawfishing, flinching or alarmed. The political hash up to date is settled, and Dixie will wait for the 1908 developments. All talk of the South's further isolating itself from either the respect or co-operation of its friends in the North is merely fitting rot.—Wilmington Star.

Sour stomach, belching, gas on stomach and all disorders of the stomach that are curable, are instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. S. P. Storrs, a druggist at 297 Main street, New Britain, Conn. says: "Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is giving such universal satisfaction and is so surely becoming the positive relief and subsequent cure for this distressing ailment, I feel that I am always sure to satisfy and gratify my customers by recommending it to them. I write this to show how well the remedy is spoken of here." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was discovered after years of scientific experiments and will positively cure all stomach troubles. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

Now needed, ladies, fitted dresses, cotton, curtains, a host of suits. S. M. Schultz.

Cured of Lame After 15 Years of Suffering
"I had been troubled with lame back for fifteen years and I found a complete recovery in the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm," says John G. Bishop, Gilliam, Ind. This liniment is also without an equal for sprains and bruises. It is for sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

A Cold Complexion.
"Soaking eyes and rosy cheeks restored by using DeWitt's Little Early Balm," so writes S. P. Moore, of New Orleans, Tex. A certain cure for biliousness, constipation, etc. Small pill—easy to take—easy to act. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

ACADEMY AND COLLEGE.
REV. J. H. CLEWELL, Ph. D., Principal.

WINSTON SALEM, N. C., March 9th., 1904.
Mr. Chas. M. Stieff, Charlotte, N. C.
Dear Sir:—It is a little unusual to file an order this late in the season, but we find that the more Steiff Pianos which we add to our music department, the better the results attained in the work. We have added quite a number of your instruments during the last few years, and they have all given good satisfaction. It requires a piano of unusual merit for the constant use which all practice pianos have within our school, but we are glad to be able to say that your instruments have stood the test, and we will continue to purchase from your firm from time to time as the need arises. I think there are about a dozen now in the school. J. H. CLEWELL, Principal.

A rare and magnificent display of these pianos can now be seen and heard at Greenville, at lowest factory prices and easiest terms. We also have on the floor several slightly used upright pianos at prices ranging from $175.00 to $395.00. Each instrument is guaranteed for 10 years. We also have a fine display of organs at surprising low figures ranging in price from a tune.

They are fully guaranteed. This factory sale will positively close before many more days, when factory prices will promptly withdrawn, and if you have on the floor several slightly used upright pianos at prices ranging from $175.00 to $395.00. Each instrument is guaranteed for 10 years. Besie Patrick, who is associated with us during our stay here, will be glad to give you

AYDEN ITEMS.
AYDEN N. C., Nov. 22, 1904.
Never in our lives have we appreciated anything more highly than the kind invitation extended us by our sweet little seven year old friend, Miss Thelma Mumford to attend the party to be given Wednesday evening by the pupils of the graded school. Each student is allowed to invite a friend. Little Thelma asked her mama to let her invite Mr. Blow saying he would be home all alone with no one to talk to and she wanted him to go and have a nice time. How thoughtful. How kind. She is indeed our friend and never will we forget her kindness. Such remembrances are rare in one so young and to be the friend, thus remembered is pleasing indeed. Little Thelma is as pretty and sweet as she is kind.

As authorized agent for DAILY and EASTERN REFRIGERATOR we take great pleasure in receiving subscriptions and willing receipts for those in arrears. We have a list of all who receive their mail at this office. We also take orders for job printing.

PARHAM, FOXHALL, BOWLING.

THE REFLECTOR, FOR FINE JOB PRINTING.

The Lumberton Argus, in talking about the custom of leaving cotton bales out in the weather, makes this argument: "You not only risk a loss for yourself in loss of weight by removal of rotten cotton and lower price, but you do the world a wrong. You are ready enough to complain when the merchant sells you rotten goods, but how about the man who lets the cotton injure from which the goods are made? How long would your shirt last after lying on the ground all winter? Just so long will one made of cotton that has laid on the ground all winter last."

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some some meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better: he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale at Wooten's Drug Store.

Mothers Praise It.

Mothers everywhere praise One Minute Cough Cure for the sufferings it has relieved and the lives of their little ones it has saved. A certain cure for coughs, croup and whooping cough. A. L. Spafford, Postmaster of Chester, Mich., says: "Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of croup. One Minute Cough Cure quickly relieved and cured her and I cannot praise it too highly." One Minute Cough Cure relieves coughs, makes breathing easy, cuts out phlegm, draws out inflammation, and removes every cause of a cough and strain on lungs. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

A woman isn't necessarily a good cook because she roasts her neighbors.

Sour Stomach

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach, after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

A woman isn't to exaggerate about everything except her age.

Thousands cured.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has cured thousands of cases of Piles. "I bought a box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve on the recommendation of our druggist," so writes C. H. LaCroix, of Zavalla, Tex., "and used it for a stubborn case of Piles. It cured me permanently." Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

UNDERGROUND LAKES.

The Revue Francaise says that underground lakes have been discovered in the district of Eucla, in Australia, situated nine or ten meters in the surface and probably containing large volumes of pure drinking water and generally usable water. They are in arid regions, which they will help to fertilize as soon as their waters are brought to the surface and applied. This will open to cultivation and colonization quite extended territories now practically desert. Many Australian rivers sink into the earth and are lost, and it is thought that the waters of some of them gather to form the lakes discovered. Similar phenomena are found, though on a less extensive scale, in France and other European countries, but Australia will probably be able to turn hers to better account than any of them.

Distinction Sans Difference.

An enterprising merchant tailor, over whose shop on Third avenue, near Cooper Union, a sign reading, "We Make a Specialty of Custom Orders," appears in combination gilt and silver lettering, does his level best toward catering to trade of both high and low degree. At the base of his display window, which is liberally adorned by fashion plates, this announcement is placarded: MEN'S PANTS PRESSED EQUAL TO NEW—18 CENTS.

Directly above is posted the following notice:

GENTS' TROUSERS PRESSED 25 CENTS TO PRESERVE PRISTINE SANITARY ELEGANCE. 25 CENTS.

The presiding cross-legged artist says that the latter bait pulls two to one.—New York Press.

The Kaiser's Latest.

Having already stamped his personal impress upon most things summary, according to the London Globe, and there being at hand no Hephaestus to find him, like Alexander, "other worlds to conquer," the kaiser is going to take in hand the minor field of forestry bugling. His majesty recently shot an elk at Paith and ordered the huntsman to sound on the bagle "Elk dead." On the man complying the kaiser stopped him with, "That's Stag dead." Being told in reply that there exists no particular morte for elks, the emperor said, "Then I'll have one specially composed for next year."

The Decree in Salt.

The latest government statistics state that the United States produced 18,968,089 barrels of salt during the year 1903. This is the smallest output since 1898 and shows that the use of salt is decreasing. This is probably due to the recent disclosures of eminent scientists that people eat too much salt, that there is sufficient natural salt in the water we drink, in the air we breathe and in the fruits and vegetables we eat to supply the human system without sprinkling it plentifully on every dish. Many diseases are now traced to the use of salt.—Success.

A Dead Sea Monastery.

"The Prison of the Ten Thousand" is the name given by the wandering Arabs of the district across Jordan to the fortress monastery of Mar Saba, on the Dead sea. Not many years ago there were actually 10,000 monks living in this grim retreat, and even today there are more than a thousand left. The monastery is one of the oldest in the world, having been founded about 1,300 years ago by Euthymius.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

Twirl the Trencher is a Good Game For a Large Party.

This is a game which almost any number of children can play. The players seat themselves in a circle, and each takes the name of some town or flower or whatever has been previously agreed upon. One of the party stands in the middle of the circle with a small wooden trencher, or waiter, places it upon its edge and spins it, calling it out as he does so the name which one of the players has taken. The person named must jump up and seize the trencher before it ceases spinning, but if he is not very quick the trencher will fall to the ground, and he must then pay a forfeit. It is then his turn to twirl the trencher.

A very similar game to this is my lady's toilet. The only difference is that each player must take the name of some article of a lady's dress, such as shawl, earring, brooch, bonnet, etc.

Bouquet.

Bouquet is a jolly game for a number of children to play. Sit down in a circle around your leader. Let the leader give each one a flower for his name—violet, daisy, sweet William, black-eyed Susan, etc. Then let her tell you a story "made up out of her own head," in which she brings in every one of the flower names. Whenever a child hears his flower name mentioned he must get up, turn around and sit down. Whenever the leader uses the word "bouquet" all the children must jump up and change places, at which time the leader tries to capture a seat. Whoever gets "left" must then become leader.

Blowing Contests.

Arrange the players with their hands behind them along the sides of a long extension table, down the center of which a row of pingpong balls is placed at intervals of about two feet. Appoint two judges and place them at the ends of the table. At a given word the players on both sides begin to blow the balls, endeavoring to blow them off their opponents' side of the table and to prevent any balls from being blown off on their own side. Each ball blown off counts five points. The game is 100 points.

Picture Proverb.

In the picture there is hidden a certain well known proverb. Can you read it?

A Queer Creature.

A South American amphibia is a queer creature, and to affix its species has been a stumbling block to many naturalists. To look at it any one would take the creature for a large earthworm. It has no ears, as other lizards have. No eyes are apparent, and it progresses with equal ease forward or backward in its subterranean burrows.

GREENVILLE'S THANKSGIVING.

Day Well Spent—Orphans Liberally Remembered.

Though the previous day gave a forecast of something different, Thanksgiving day brought pretty weather with it in this section. Greenville entered heartily in the observance of the day, and enjoyed it perhaps more fully than any like occasion in the past. With the exception of the hunting parties the day was very much like a Sunday. Business generally was suspended the stores and offices being closed.

Services were held in two of the churches—Baptist and Methodist—with large congregations at each. In the Baptist church the sermon was by Rev. H. H. Moore, pastor of the Christian church, his congregation joining with their Baptist brethren in worship. Greenville people have had the pleasure of hearing no better or more appropriate Thanksgiving sermon. It was thoughtful, eloquent, one that made each individual feel his indebtedness and gratitude to God for His innumerable blessings.

Pastor A. T. King made a brief appeal for the Thomasville orphanage and the collection was exceedingly liberal, amounting to $35.86. The music at the service was splendid.

At the Methodist church there was a large audience and the pastor, Rev. J. A. Horroady, preached an excellent sermon in keeping with the Thanksgiving spirit. The collection for the orphanage was indeed a liberal one, amounting to $76.30. There was special music for the occasion which was much enjoyed.

Beside what was done in the churches there were other generous Thanksgiving offerings. The pupils of the graded school contributed $18.26 to the Oxford orphan asylum, and the sixth and seventh grades took a feast to the inmates of the county home.

The Masons sent $40 in cash and a valuable box to the Oxford orphan asylum. The noble women of The King's Daughters, following their annual custom, took a feast to the county home and brought gladness and cheer, as well as thanksgiving, to the hearts of the inmates.

Lost a Hand.

A young negro living across the river met an accident, Thanksgiving day, that cost him one hand. He was out hunting, and while sitting on a fence with the butt of his gun resting on the ground a rail fell and caused the gun to discharge. The load went through his left hand and tore it so badly that it had to be amputated.

Heat Turned On.

The furnace in the Masonic temple was fired up Friday for the first time and heat turned on the opera house. The apparatus worked all right and made the house thoroughly comfortable.

Dr. H. O. Hyatt will be in Greenville at Hotel Bertha December 5th, 6th and 7th, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for the purpose of treating diseases of the eye and fitting glasses. Those not able to pay a fee will be examined free. 11-14 3:11 a wk 4 sw

DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY

Reported for Reflector

The Daughters of The Confederacy were entertained on last Thursday by Mrs. Joseph G. Moyer at her delightful home on Third street. This beautiful hostess received the Daughters and a large circle of visiting guests with easy grace and charm of manner, and soon the rapidly growing chapter was busily at work. After collecting the voluntary donations for the suffering families of old soldiers, the officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

President—Mrs. T. J. Jarvis. 1st Vice-president—Mrs. Joseph G. Moyer. 2nd Vice-president—Mrs. L. C. Arthur. Recording Sec.—Mrs. Jno. L. Wooten. Corresponding Sec.—Mrs. J. B. Cherry.

Treasurer—Mrs. R. J. Cobb. Historian—Mrs. C. O'H. Laughinghouse. Three new members were added to the chapter, Miss Lennie Fleming, Mrs. T. W. Skinner and Mrs. E. H. Taft.

After all business was disposed of a spirited contest was entered upon for the quickest reader of certain enigmatic questions based upon a watch or clock, Miss Moore of the graded school twenty, winning the prize as she did at the last meeting held with Mrs. David Hines.

The chapter adjourned to meet with Mrs. Edward Flanagan on the second Thursday in December.

Presiding Elder Involuntarily Immersed.

Last week while the funeral procession was conveying the remains of the late Mr. J. H. Higgs to the burying grounds, near Smith's church, Presiding Elder G. F. Smith was accidentally overturned in Crockett creek, near Tilghman's cross roads, and was thrown into the cold waters of the stream. The creek was much swollen on account of the rain storm the day before, and the buggy in which the presiding elder was riding got into a washout and turned over. Mr. Smith was at once assisted from the water by those nearest to him at the time of the accident, and he has suffered no serious attack of cold on account of having to remain for some time in wet clothes before he could be driven to a place where dry garments could be procured.—Weldon News.

Opera House

Another good sized audience greeted the Osman Stock Company in the opera house Friday night to witness the "Two Orphans." While this is an old play the company presented it so excellently as to make it very pleasing. All the parts were well taken. The specialties between the acts were of a high order. "East Lynn" will be presented tonight.

The Osmans have a meritorious company and deserve to be well patronized. Only praise of them is heard from all who attend their plays.

THE CZAR'S ESTATES.

Morgan's Empty Bird Cage.

A good story is told about Mr. Pierpont Morgan. For three consecutive days the great financier carried an empty bird cage in his hand to and from his office. On the third day one of his junior managers ventured to ask why he carried that apparently needless article. "To see," replied Pierpont Morgan, "if any one would have the impudence to ask me why I did so." "I beg your pardon," began the inquirer. "You needn't do that," said the chief, grimly smiling. "I had a bet with a man that I had at least one employe with some curiosity. I've won the money, but in future don't ask questions about things that don't concern you."

Indian Territory Farm Land.

The available farm land in Indian Territory is estimated at 15,000,000 acres. These figures are taken from the records of the Dawes commission. Of this 15 per cent was in cultivation last year. There are about 2,000,000 acres of land where pine is found in commercial quantities, and there is an abundance of hard woods of all kinds. The latest statistics obtainable give the value of farm animals at $55,000,000. The per cent of the population engaged in agriculture is exceeded in only three states—Mississippi, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

He Caught the Kaiser.

One of Emperor William's favorites is a young man named Doerflinger, a theological student, says Ambassador Charlemagne Tower. He found his way to the war lord's friendship in an interesting manner. William, walking one day in the street near the palace, met the student and said to him abruptly, "Where do you come from?" "I am a Berliner," was the reply. "Pshaw!" said the emperor. "The Berliners are good for nothing." "I know two Berlin boys who are exceptions to that rule," returned the student. "Whom?" "Your majesty and myself." The emperor commanded him to attend at the palace.

German Puns.

The Germans are given to punning after a ponderous sort, and their language is well adapted to it. The eastern war gives them plenty of opportunities. At Berlin the newest name for the commander of the Russian armies in Manchuria is General "Kuroki-paekten," meaning thereby that he has been "colored" (gepaecht) by Kuraki. At the time of the Dreyfus "affaire," too, the Berlin wit asked, "Wie tief hat Frankreich gesunken?" ("How far has France sunk?") "Drey-fus," was the answer—"three feet."

Sheep For Warm Climates.

The department of agriculture has recently imported five woolless sheep—four ewes and a ram—for use in the extreme southern states. A heavy crop of wool is a burden in hot, dry districts, resulting in a direct ill effect on the quality of the mutton. These sheep are being experimented with by the bureau of animal industry. They are hardy and are easy keepers. They were brought from the Barbados, where they proved profitable.—Country Life in America.

Golf Links in the Desert.

Golf links are to be found in many out of the way corners of the globe. At Bagdad there has been a golf club for nearly ten years. The eighteen hole course, which is laid out in the desert three miles from the city, is said to be of a decidedly sporting character, which means, according to some, that one loses an immoderate number of balls there. Golf may be played at Zanzibar, Beir ("the city of blood," it will be remembered), Crete, Bangkok, Honolulu, Perak and also at Weibawai.

A Wonderful Woman.

Perhaps the most remarkable digestive apparatus on record, so far as human beings are concerned, passed out of existence recently when a certain Mrs. Williams died at Bristol, England, at a good old age. One time, it is said, the lady seized a box of dominoes and swallowed twenty-eight pieces. On another occasion she consumed one and a half pounds of gravel, and later she swallowed thirteen iron screws. None of those things apparently harmed her.

Loftiest Library.

There will shortly be inaugurated upon the Alps peak of Ollen, on Monte Rosa, the most elevated literary and scientific institute in the world. Its altitude will be 10,000 feet. The library, which will take the name of Queen Margherita, owes its organization to her majesty, supported by ministers and many eminent persons in Italy and abroad. It will comprise all the books, sculpture, landscapes and photographs obtainable relating to the Alps.

Automobiles in the Desert.

In the matter of Sudanese communications much interest is taken in the expected arrival at Khartoum of experimental motor cars for passenger service in the desert. The difficulty has been to find motors which are capable of traveling over the sand, but it is hoped that the recent experiments will lead to a solution of this problem.
