Dear Sir: You all about shoes. How many customers have you who know anything about 'em? You have longed and sold shoes for years, and have learned what your customers like and what they don't like. They find out by wearing 'em.

ASURETHING
It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for Constipation is a sure cure for all lung and throat trouble. Thousands can testify to that. Mr. J. B. Van Meter of Shepherdstown, W. Va., says: "I had a severe case of Bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely. It is infallible for Croup, Whooping Cough, Grip, Pneumonia and Consumption. Try it. It is guaranteed by J. W. Wooten, Druggist. Trial bottles free. Reg. sizes 50c, $1.00.

THE "MARTIN FAMILY."
Program of Services for Sunday. A crowded house again greeted the "Martin Family" Friday night at the Christian church and the evangelist delivered a strong gospel sermon on "The Greatest Question of Life."

Miss Genevieve delighted the congregation with one of her fine violin solos and Miss Edna sang with deep pathos Mr. Fillmore's famous hymn, "Tell Mother I'd Be There."

A STARTLING TEST.
To save a life, Dr. T. G. Merritt of No. Melonway, E. A. Pa., made a startling test resulting in a wonderful cure. TIBET'S TEA TIPPLERS.

Salt, Soda and Butter Go to Make Their National Drink. Tea forms one of the principal articles of commerce throughout Tibet and Mongolia. The native is miserably without it and when it cannot be obtained is willing to cheat himself by various expedients, such as boiling dried onion heads, herbs or even an infusion of chips of wood in water, in order that he may not be at least without a suggestion of the thing which he craves. The tea imported from China is pressed into small oblong shaped bricks, made up into cases of nine bricks, securely sewed in cowhide, and not only is it used as a beverage, but in fact forms a staple of currency as negotiable as Bank of England notes or American paper currency.

The native method of preparing this delicacy is not appetizing. The tea is first ground to a fine powder by vigorously pounding it in a mortar until no splinters of wood or other impurities are visible to the eye; it is then put into the kettle, when the water is hot, to boil ten or fifteen minutes. By way of giving increased flavor, salt or soda is added, and this part of the operation being completed, the all important business of drinking it commences. The family being gathered around the fire of yak dung, in order that atmosphere, as the painters would say, should not be lacking, each one draws from some hidden recess in the folds of his voluminous sheepskin coat a little wooden bowl, and with a satisfaction which must be seen to be appreciated, fills his private dish with the liquid. All this, however, is by way of preliminary. From a skin full of butter placed within convenient range, each person takes a piece of oleaginous compound and lets it melt into his bowl of steaming tea. Then, oh joy! oh rapture! with furious gusto he draws the nectar to his lips and "heaven is opened unto him." The bowl is again filled; into the steaming liquid he throws a handful of tsamba (parched barley meal), and, drawing forth the soddan dough, works it into a ball of brown dough with a deft movement of his left hand, and successively bites off and eagerly looks forward to the moment when gods and fate shall again become propitious.—Outing.

Properly Appared.
"The evening wear on," continued the man who was telling the story.
"Excuse me," interrupted the would be wit. "But can you tell us what the evening wear on that occasion?"
"I don't know that it is important," replied the story teller. "But if you must know, I believe it was the close of a summer day."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

MEMORIAL DAY REUNION.

Large Attendance of Confederate Veterans—Interesting Program of Exercises—Splendid Addresses by Gen. Roberts and Dr. Martin—Bountiful Dinner for Old Soldiers.

Each recurring Memorial day brings back memories of the past. It recalls vivid scenes and incidents of the greatest struggle known in the history of our country as the few survivors of the bloody war of 1861-'65 come together again to greet their comrades in arms and rehearse the thrilling events through which they passed and which cemented them as a band of brothers. It is an occasion of both sadness and pleasure—sad because the hand of time conti ues to thin the already depleted ranks and leaves fewer to participate in each successive reunion; pleasure because those still left are permitted to come together and clasp hands once more, while those too young to be participants in those trying days and know of them only as handed down from our ancestors or through history, can do our part in honoring these surviving heroes and scattering sunshine about them in their declining days.

We are glad to have the old soldiers with us on this memorial occasion. We are proud to greet them as heroes. It is a privilege to march with them to the home of the dead and there spread fresh garlands of love upon the graves of the departed. Greenville has done herself proud in the entertainment provided for the veterans.

The early hours of the morning saw many of them coming into town from all directions—some in private cars, some in the battle field, others battle scarred, many with feeble steps, but all with buoyant hearts and gallant spirits. At 9:30 o'clock the members of Bryan Grimes Camp of Confederate Veterans met in the court house and held a short business session. When the roll was called seventeen deaths were reported since last meeting. Maj. H. Harding was elected commander of the camp, E. A. Moyer first lieutenant and H. A. Blw secretary.

At 10 o'clock the procession in command of Maj. Henry Harding formed and marched to Cherry Hill cemetery and faced in around the Confederate monument. After a song "Memorial Day" by a quartette the camp was addressed by Lieut. E. A. Moyer. The monument and graves of soldiers were then decorated with flowers.

The line again formed and returned to the Masonic temple opera house where the remainder of the exercises were held. The opera house was crowded to overflowing. The veterans occupied the center tier of seats, the Singletary Chapter Daughters of the Confederacy to their right and the T. J. Jarvis Chapter were on the stage with the choir and speakers. The following program was carried out:

Song, "Dixie Land Battle Hymn," by choir.
Invocation, by Rev. J. A. Hornaday.
Song, "America" by choir.
Welcome in behalf of Mayor.
Instrumental selection by Martin Family.
Introduction of speaker, by Col. I. A. Snug.
Address, by Gen. W. P. Roberts.
Song, "The Old North State."
Address, by Dr. R. S. Martin.
Song, "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," by Quartette.
Benediction, by Rev. H. H. Moore.

Handsome and largest stock of Iron Bedsteads at S. M. Schultz.

At the conclusion of the song "Dixie" Maj. Harding called the veterans to attention and they responded with the "Rebel Yell."

The veterans and audience also broke in several bursts of applause during the rendering of "Dixie" by the Martin Family.

Gen. Roberts was called the boy general of the civil war, being the youngest to reach that distinction. Yet in valor, heroism and bravery he was the peer of any. In his address he went over again many of the incidents of the war, gave due praise to the Confederate soldiers and paid a brilliant tribute to the noble women of the South, declaring them to be the real soldiers of that great war. His speech delighted the veterans and was frequently applauded.

Dr. Martin's address was a genuine spoke eloquently of Americans and particularly of Southerners. He said that in all his travels he found in the Carolin's the purest American blood in the land. His beautiful tributes were greeted with bursts of applause.

After the exercises were over a sumptuous dinner was served on the court house square. This was abundant and elegant and all ate to their hearts content. Many of the veterans declared that they had attended no more enjoyable reunion.

The committee in charge of arrangements deserves much credit for the success of the day. They performed their duties well.

"Beaufort Plow Boys."
Governor Glenn has received notice from the governor of New Jersey to the effect that it had been decided in connection with the ceremonies for unveiling a monument to the Ninth New Jersey volunteers, at New Bern, May 18th, to present to governor of North Carolina the "Beaufort Plow Boys" battle flag that was captured by the Ninth New Jersey regiment at the battle of New Bern when a gallant charge was made by the Jersey volunteers. It is to be restored by Governor Glenn to the survivors of "Beaufort Plow Boys" or to "Ladies of Beaufort," by whom it is inscribed as having been made.

To Establish Tobacco Factories.
The North Carolina Farmers' Protective Association had a well attended meeting at the Guilford-Beechwood this afternoon and discussed the establishment of tobacco factories at various points.

It was decided to open subscription books for a $50,000 factory at Madison and one may also be started at Rocky Mount. President John S. Cunningham, of Person county, presided and Mr. J. M. Sharpe, of Rockingham county, acted as secretary.—Greensboro Record.

THE MARTIN MEETINGS.

Large Attendance at Sunday Services. Sunday was a busy day with the evangelistic family, morning at the Christian church, afternoon at the opera house, and at the church again at night.

Nearly all of Greenville was on hand at the services, so it would be indeed superfluous to attempt to write it up.

The address at the opera house on "America, its dangers, delights and delusions" was a brilliant effort, and the full house attested its interest by listening most attentively for one hour and a quarter as the able orator unfolded his theme.

Miss Genevieve and Mr. Elbert Martin favored the large audience with one of their beautiful violin duets.

At the church at night Dr. Martin made a strong appeal to the young men and young women on the text "Come up higher." At the close four young men made the good confession and several promised to do so later.

The musical features were of the usual high order and aided much in the success of the service. The Number of Confessions has Reached Eleven.

The subject of Dr. Martin's sermon in the Christian church, Monday night, was "The certainties of the judgment." His argument was strong and delivered with his usual earnestness. The sermon was followed by one confessing, making a total of eleven up to this time. The musical selections by the family were most edifying.

TWO MUSIC GRADUATES.

Miss Irma Cobb and Miss Annie R. Long at Peace Give Recital. A graduating recital was given at Peace Institute last night which was charming, and which showed the value of the instruction given and the capability of the two young pianists, Miss Irma Lee Cobb and Miss Annie Reade Long. In the charming recital they were assisted by Miss Corinne Henkel, Mezzo-soprano.

There was present a most interested audience and the program began with Eu Re-act, Op 35, (Duet) by Misses Cobb and Long. During the recital Miss Long rendered selections from Scarlatti, Bach, Mendelssohn and Sapphimo, while Miss Cobb's were from Schumann, Moszkowski, Leschetzky, Ole Olsen and Weber.

LETTER TO D. B. HASKETT.

Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sir: Here are two paints that are sold at the same price; Devoe and another almost equally known. Six gallons Devoe is as much as twelve of the other, when on.

Mr. N. Avery, Debit, N. Y., painted two houses, both exactly the same size; one with Devoe and one with that other paint. Devoe 6 gallons; the other 12.

There are thousands of just such cases. The houses, being alike, bring out the fact of the paints; one covers twice as much as the other.

It cost $27 to paint Devoe; $54 for the other; as painting costs two or three times as much as the paint.

Go by the name; Devoe is yours truly, F. W. DEVOE & CO. P. O. Box 11. L. Carr sells our paint.

IRRATIONAL MANKIND.

The Reasons Why So Few People Die of Old Age.

It has been said that few men die of old age and that almost all persons die of disappointment, personal, mental or bodily, or accident. The passions kill men sometimes, even suddenly. The common expression, "choked with rage," has little exaggeration in it, for, even though not suddenly fatal, strong passions shorten life. Strong bodied men often die young, weak men live longer than the strong, for the strong use their strength, and the weak have none to use—the latter take care of themselves, the former do not. As it is with the body, so it is with the mind and the temper. The strong are not to break, or like the candle, run; the weak burn out. The inferior animals, which live temperate lives, have generally their prescribed terms of years. Thus the horse lives twenty-five years, the ox fifteen or twenty, the lion about twenty, the dog ten or twelve, the rabbit eight and the guinea pig six or seven.

The numbers all bear proportion to the time the animal takes to grow to its full size. But man, of all animals, is the one that seldom comes up to the average. He ought to live 100 years, according to the physiological law, for five times he has scarcely reached an average age of four times the growing period. The reason is obvious. Man is not only the most irregular and most intemperate, but the most laborious and hard working of all animals. He is also the most irritable, and there is reason to believe, though we cannot tell what an animal secretly feels, that more than any other animal man cherishes some himself with the fire of his own reflections.—Health Culture.

Absent-minded.

"A certain mathematician," said a college professor, "is so absent-minded that once he walked along for a quarter of a mile in the gutter instead of on the sidewalk. He would have kept on in the gutter indefinitely had not the polished back of a Broadway hat been drawn up before a street lamp and he had seen it. The mathematician stopped within a foot of the branch. He looked at the back, smooth, lustrous surface before him, and his eyes turned to his mind. He thought, 'This is a very nice hat, a piece of chalk from his pocket and began to work out an abstract problem.

"On and on he worked, covering the carriage with figures, until finally it started off. Still working, the mathematician followed it. He held on to the body with his left hand, and not until the piece became too small for him did he realize that something was wrong. Then he sighed, looked about him in a dazed way, pocketed his chalk and started home."

Woman's Home Companion.

Why Her Guests Balked.

A writer tells how a building scolded away the guests bidden to a ladies' reception. "The hostess was waiting in her parlor. She heard carriage wheels, heard the front gate open, but no guests appeared. The situation became puzzling. At last the lady of the house went out to see what was the matter. She saw the steps leading suddenly crumpled and saw a man, who had been sitting at the table, had fallen face down. Not at all. On opening the front door she found herself confronted with the cause of the phantom visitors— Rex, in his most amiable and complacent mood, sitting peacefully and contentedly on the top step, while he had dragged his kennel, a feather-thrower to so powerful a creature, after him. No pedestrian visitor, no card laden delegate, no carriage full of guests had ventured to affront that lordly presence."

Some of those interested say Greenville will be having some good ball before long.

VOL. No. XXIV

ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

No. 39

GREENVILLE WATER AND LIGHT COMMISSION.

Rules and Regulations for the Supply of Electric Current for Lights and Power.

Section 1. All matters pertaining to the use, rentals and placing of electric current shall be under the direction of the water and light commission, of the town of Greenville, or their authorized representative, the superintendent of the water and light plant.

Section 2. The water and light commission will make all necessary connections from its main line to all buildings free of charge, but all other wiring and appliances for the purpose of utilizing the current from that point shall be at the cost of the consumer, and all such work shall be done according to the rules and regulations of the Underwriters' Association, and shall always be subject to the approval of the inspector of the town.

Section 3. All repairs and renewals of incandescent lamps shall be paid for by the consumer. Town will furnish supplies, labor, fixtures, and lamps at cost—use of meters free.

Section 4. The subscriber shall use due care to prevent any waste of the electric current, so that the town may properly guard its interests, it shall at all reasonable times, by its authorized agent have free access to the premises in which light or power is used, to examine wires and fixtures, or to remove wires and lamps.

Section 5. The Commission reserves the right to shut off the supply for any of the following reasons: 1st, for repairs; 2nd, for want of supply; 3rd, for non payment of bills when due; 4th, for fraudulent representation in relation to consumption of light or power.

Section 6. The subscribers are not permitted to use the current for any purpose, or any place other than provided for in contract without having first obtained the written consent of the commission, or Superintendent, and arrange to pay an additional compensation therefor.

Section 7. In case of deficiency of light or power, or defective lamps, notice of the fact should be given forthwith at the office of the commission.

Section 8. All lights furnished for the public use, including street lamps, public buildings and the like shall be assessed at such rates as the commission may establish, and the service shall be in the same manner as private service, limited to the uses for which it is assessed. It is intended by this section to set a just value on all public service rendered as a base on which to account for the revenues and expenditures of the electric light plant in all details.

Section 9. Bills are due on the 1st day of each month for the previous month service, and must be paid at Commission office, or ten per cent additional will be added after ten days.

Section 10. Contracts are not transferable. New occupants are required to make application in person at the office of the Commission, at the time they commence to use the current, to avoid being liable for back dues for light or power used until such notice was given.

Section 11. Any failure on the part of the subscriber to comply with these rules and regulations shall nullify this contract, and the commission therefor, without further notice, may shut off the current and remove its property from the premises.

END OF CENTURY BOOK CLUB.

Reported for Reflector.

One of the most delightful meetings of the End of the Century Book Club was held at the hospitable home of Mrs. M. H. Quinerly on Tuesday afternoon, May 2nd, 1905.

The president being absent the vice president Mrs. L. C. Arthur, presided.

The literary program was unusually interesting and was as follows: "Sketch of Kate Douglas Wiggin," Mrs. Fodie Harding. "How the women of Postova Corner formed their Club," Mrs. E. B. Fickles. "Woman's Mission and Woman's Clubs," Mrs. J. L. Wooten. "Susan B. Anthony's criticism on Cleveland's Article," Mrs. J. L. Little. "What is a Woman's Club," Mrs. E. A. Maye, Jr.

Delicious refreshments were served after which the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Richard Williams on May 16th, 1905.

The visitors present were Mrs. James Munford, L. Carr, S. T. White, E. G. Flanagan, Mosely, Dail and Galloway, Misses Ed Skinner, Glenn Forbes, Edna Cox, Conner, Moore, Cowling, Sattile, Taylor and Brown.

A Beautiful Silk Banner.

A reporter called at the office of Manager E. H. Wilson, of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., yesterday and was shown the beautiful silk banner which is to be presented to the county that shows the largest proportionate gain at the next state election.

The banner is about four feet long by two and three-quarter feet wide, and is made entirely of the purest white silk. It is mounted on a polished oak staff, six feet long, and is trimmed in gold. The inscription on the banner is: "White Supremacy and Democratic Rule in Forsyth county," in three-inch letters of red and gold.

The banner will be the personal gift of Mr. Wilson to the county which shows the greatest proportionate Democratic gain, based upon the last election for governor. Forsyth will not be eligible. One county will be permitted to keep the banner of "White Supremacy and Democratic Rule" only so long as it shows the greatest proportionate gain over other counties governed by the vote polled at the preceding election.—Winston Journal.

The Revival Meetings.

The threatening weather Wednesday night did not deter a large audience from assembling at the Christian church to hear Dr. Martin preach an eloquent sermon on "Similarities of Soldiers and Saints."

The evangelist outlined the career of a soldier from the moment of decision to enlist until the end of the war, and then demonstrated how the position of the Christian is analogous to it.

The family held the enraptured attention of the audience with their selections of beautiful music.

The subject for tonight will be "The Soldier of the 20th Century." Special musical features will be presented at each service. Service tonight 8 o'clock, tomorrow 3:30 and 8 p. m.

Whiskey in Horse Collars.

The officers have just discovered a new method of smuggling liquor. A tender waiting on a railroad grade received the plan. He has two very large horse collars made water tight. He would make regular trips to Texas and back and would return the liquor would be drunk. After watching him for a long time the officer discovered that he would take the extra horse collars with him and bring them back full of whiskey. Each collar would hold about two gallons of liquor. The man is under arrest.—Topeka Capital.

Johnston Farrow.

At 9:30 o'clock this morning a quiet wedding took place at the residence of the pastor of the Christian church, Mr. Walter C. Johnson and Miss Fannie Farrow being the parties to the solemn contract.

The affair was an informal one, only a few friends of the bride and groom being present. Rev. H. H. Moore of the Christian church performing the ceremony.

The bride is one of Greenville's popular young ladies and the groom carries with him the congratulations of a most of friends. They will reside here.

Nan Patterson Free.

New York, May 12.—After more than eleven months in prison and three miscarials on the charge of murdering "Casar" Young, Nan Patterson walked from the Tombs today a free woman. As she left the great building which has been her home since a few days after Young was found dying in a cab in lower New York 2,000 people greeted her with cheers, for she was District Attorney Jerome's most notable case.

She had moved from her dismissal from custody had spread throughout the vicinity of the court house. But the accused girl had but a few moments to see and hear the demonstration, before she was whisked away in a cab with her attorney, Abraham Levy.

One of the old soldiers attending the reunion here on the 10th, left his walking cane in the open house. He can get it at Fitz Ritzgeron's office.

Sheriff L. W. Tucker is wearing a generous supply of bandages on his head, the result of a collision with a barbed wire fence.

A TAR RIVER DEMONSTRATION.

Of the Beauty and Benefit of Bible Baptism BY RICHARD S. MARTIN.

Thursday on the banks of the beautiful Tar river a fine audience early assembled to witness one of the prettiest baptismal services it has ever been our privilege to see, every part of the service being conducted with neatness, dispatch, grace and ease.

During the vocal selections nine persons were baptized by Rev. H. H. Moore the minister of the Greenville Christian church, who is being assisted in special meetings by the Martin Family evangelists. Each a devotee a believer in Christ and like him "went down into the water" was baptized and "came up out of the water" and like the chief officer of Queen Candace "went on their way rejoicing" for each had been "buried with Christ by baptism." Bonus 3:35. Acts 8:36-40. Matthew 3:13-16.

Such a baptism is final, full and satisfactory and answers every claim of Christian scholarship and every requirement of the Bible. Dwight L. Moody, the greatest evangelist of this century was so baptized. Dr. Talmage, the greatest Presbyterian preacher, so baptized a young man in the River Jordan, and every person so baptized is forever at rest on the subject. Of the Bema it is written "These were more noble than those of Thessalonica in that they searched the Scriptures daily to see whether these things were so." Go thou and do likewise.

Delegates Appointed by the Governor.

Col. I. A. Sugg and Hon. J. J. Laughinghouse have been appointed by Governor Glenn as delegates to the Southern Industrial Parliament which meets in Washington, D. C., on May 23rd, continuing to 26th. Col. Sugg informs us that he will attend and thinks Mr. Laughinghouse will also. We are glad the colonel is a delegate and that he will attend. This parliament is specially in the interest of cotton growers and cotton interest, and the colonel has for a number of years been a very intense advocate of higher prices for the staple and that it might be managed so as to have more uniform reasonable prices. Pitt county will have two splendid representatives, Col. Sugg expects to take his daughter, Miss Jessie Lee, with him.

Interest in "Setting Continues."

Thursday night was a repetition of former ones at the Christian church—large crowds, good music, and strong and able preaching.

The subject for the sermon was "The soulery of the 20th century." This was an exceptionally strong and able plea for Christian union and a kindly protest against the divided condition of Christendom.

The evangelist deplored the conditions brought about by the existence of 263 different churches, all claiming to be "Christians," yet wearing a distinctive name which formed more or less a dividing line between the members of the body of Christ.

He did not argue for the denominations to leave their own and enter any particular church, but for all to eliminate the divisive feature and unite in one name, one faith, and one rule of practice—that rule of faith and practice to be the Bible only.

ROUTE NUMBER SIX.

Rural Free Delivery Service Extending.

Another rural free delivery route has been established to go out from Greenville, making six routes that are served from this point. This new route, designated No. 6, will go in effect June 1st with J. W. Brown as carrier. It goes from Greenville out the old Plank road to the pine tree corner where the road turns by the Evans place, then to a southerly direction to English chapel, thence south-west to Noah Forbes school house, thence west to Jesse Baker's corner, thence northwest to T. Allen's corner, thence south to Tyson corner, thence southwest to Frog Level, thence south to Kittrell's corner, thence northwest to the Plank road, thence southwest to Crawford's corner, thence north-west to McArthur's corner, thence north to R. A. Willoughby's corner, thence east to J. F. Pollard's corner, thence north to E. M. Smith's corner, thence east to W. H. Flake's corner, thence south to J. W. Allen's corner, thence east to race track road and via depot back to postoffice.

The route covers a little more than 23 miles and serves 722 people.

Postmaster R. C. Flanagan advises that persons to be served by this route should proceed at once to procure approved boxes and put them up, as their mail cannot be delivered until the boxes are up.

Strawberries and Rheumatism.

Strawberries are excellent in the treatment of rheumatism and gout, and in this statement we voice a popular sentiment. There is not a gardener who will not state this assertion is well founded and that all varieties of berry are good for this disease. Much time has been taken in seeking to discover the nature of the remedy and two chemists have just succeeded in clearing up the difficulty. M. M. Bates and Desmouliere have discovered in the savory juice of nearly all the varieties of the berry one of the most efficacious remedies for the relief of rheumatism, namely, salicylic acid. Rheumatism and the gouty attack the very thing that they need in eating as many as possible of the luscious strawberry.—Green's Fruit Grower.
