GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, JUNE 2, 1905.

Truth in Preference to Fiction

A BIT OF SHOP TALK.

The war news that THE DAILY REFLECTOR gave Monday and Tuesday was a day ahead of the news that the people of Greenville could get in any other paper.

Some people have a queer idea of what is good character. At Wilkesboro this week a man was convicted of running a blockade still right on the public road.

That North Carolina needs more preachers is apparent on every hand—preachers who can produce the glorious results. The need of young men who are trained in heart and brain never was more needed than now.

One of the benefits to come to the South from the recent Southern Industrial Parliament in Washington City, will be attracting immigrants to this section.

The long looked for battle between Russia and Japan has actually taken place and the country can now take a long breath.

Friday night of this week primaries will be held in the different wards to nominate candidates for aldermen.

Looks like Greensboro is going to get that long-tailed Republican party. Marion Butler is helping to back it and may find it a good hole in which to sink some of the money he made by fooling the people.

FARMERS CONSOLIDATED TOBACCO COMPANY.

From its organization THE REFLECTOR has had faith in the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company.

We have watched the progress of the company and our faith in it has strengthened as it has developed.

1st. The object of the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Co., is to draw the farmers together into a successful business organization that will yield an annual profit to every farmer connected with the association.

2nd. To secure into its membership every tobacco grower in the whole country, satisfy them that it is their interest to join the movement and with their aid and support to build up the best, biggest and strongest industrial organization of farmers in the United States.

3rd. To bring about a better understanding and feeling between the buyer and seller and thus secure an orderly, legitimate and business way higher and more satisfactory prices for the farmers tobacco.

Wear All-America Shoes and your shoe troubles will end. We want you to concentrate on All-American Shoes—the chain with no weak links.

No. Rojstevsky did not divide his feet. That act was dear by Togo.

Washington, N. C., May 29, 1905. To save yourselves from heavy losses we earnestly and strongly advise you to put up your potatoes in better shape than ever.

It is well known now that too many potatoes were planted from Maryland to Texas. While the frost, rains and cool weather have cut down the yield the crop is still too large, especially of small potatoes.

Neligee Suits.

That's what the hot weather Suits really is—a two-piece negligee suit.

Our Summer Clothing is Tailored as well as our heavier weights, and made by the same Skillful Workmen.

There are Wool Crash, Tropical Worsteds, Homespun, Serges, etc., etc.

All are looped for belts, light in weight but dressy and built for long wear.

MEN'S FOOT WEAR.

"A chain is no stronger than its weakest link." Many people fail to realize the importance of this fact in the selection of their shoes.

Wear All-America Shoes and your shoe troubles will end. We want you to concentrate on All-American Shoes—the chain with no weak links.

All America Shoes. The All America $3.50 Shoes contains the greatest chain of values which has been offered for the money, each link having been newly welded into the snuggest, wearing shoe that brains, money and intelligent appreciation could develop.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Want'd: 1000 pig good fat light wool cart hubs. A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. Some try to meet Hunsucker buggies in prices. A few try to imitate them in quality and finish.

It would surprise you to see the number of wagons and carts that is being shipped and sold by A. G. Cox Mfg. Co., but we were in their shop yesterday and they had a nice lot of work just being completed and their timber was fine.

Notice—I have moved into my new store near the depot. I keep a good line of hardware. Have a black smith and repair shop and livery stable in connection.

Perfecting Patent. We will say that where it has been sold customers come back and call for more than that, we were requested to guarantee every pair we sold.

Ward Meetings. For the purpose of nominating candidates for aldermen of the town of Greenville, the Democratic primaries will be held in the several wards of said town on Friday, June 2nd, 1905 at 8:30 o'clock p. m., at the following places:

First Ward—In the grand jury room in the court house. Second Ward—In the mayor's office.

Quality vs. Quantity. Hard meats and strong bodies do not depend on quantity of food you eat, but on its perfect digestion and proper assimilation.

Wilmington saloon keepers are contesting the action of the aldermen to make them pay a city license tax of $600.

SHORTHAND IN MIDAIR. NATURE'S REMEDIES. CHINESE NEW YEAR'S.

When the Adirondack native has come afflicted with any of the numerous trilling ailments which mankind wretched, said the returned visitor.

The white beggars, organ grinders and loafers of San Francisco have assumed this, and they show the city more religiously than they observe the Christian holidays.

A Member of the Commercial Building Fraternity lately advised his creditors, regularly and steadily, that in settlement he would pay 2 shillings in the pound on their claims, payable in four months.

British Army Reminiscences. Lord Wolcott, in the lack of army reminiscences tells this story of conditions in the British service when he was young.

Two Sided Story. A yarn is told in Lowell, Me., about two men who were through going sports, and as they were riding by a river side one day one of them said, "I'll bet that I can prove to you that we are riding on the other side of the river."

Know Him. "Rivers, here comes Scaddleford. I'll bet you a dollar you can't make a simple remark to him about the weather without getting a good lesson from him."

What ails the Pinks. Little Pinks are suffering from a form of fever, and her mother had begun to suspect trouble.

Conduct Figure It Out. A woman went to a spiritualist's office and was told by the medium that the spirit of her husband wanted to communicate with her.

It is reported, the disappearance of the ship, the fact that it had been seen in the salt flats of South Wales.

PROVED HIS IDENTITY.
At Least the Newly Appointed Postmaster Was Satisfied.
A new postoffice had just been opened in a small country town in Canada. For want of a more likely applicant, a farmer's son, ignorant, yet ambitious, was appointed postmaster.
Shortly after the countryman's installation a commercial traveler appeared at the wicket, received a letter, opened it and produced therefrom a money order, which he immediately presented for payment. The postmaster took the order, read it and reread it, suspiciously scrutinizing the traveler from time to time over the sheet.
At length he ventured, "Are ye the fellow this thing talks about?"
"I am," replied the traveler.
"Well, have ye got anybody to identify ye?"
"No; but I don't see that it is necessary," replied the knight of the road, "as you saw me take the order from the letter. It could hardly be for anybody else."
"I don't just know about that, boss. I want somebody to identify me. Don't take me for no jay. No one but I know just a little about this biz."
The commercial traveler argued the point for awhile, but to no purpose. He must be identified. But the roadster never been within thirty miles of the place before. He was about retiring in disgust and had already reached the door when a brilliant idea flashed through his brain.
Quick as thought he was back at the wicket, where the rustic stood eying him suspiciously.
"Here," he shouted, apparently very excited, "I have it!"
He tore open his coat and produced his pocketbook. From this he took a photo.
"There," he said, showing it over to the postmaster, "there is my photograph."
The rustic took the card and carefully compared the features. A beaten look came into his face. At length he concluded:
"Well, no; I don't think we've built the right way for economy. That book agent was here and sold me one too."—Philadelphia Press.

Beginnings of Literature.
Some stories are unchanged to the end of time, but more grow in the telling. "Have you ever heard Brown tell about the time he got halfway up Mount Blanc with one of his little nephews and no guide?" asked one man of another.
"How long ago did he tell you about it?" was the evasive reply.
"Last October, when he'd just got home," said the first man.
"Well," said the other, "in the four months since then he has climbed the rest of the way, succeeded a fainting guide and sustained a snowstorm on the summit, accumulated two benumbed strangers on the way down and pulled the entire party to the foot, where a group of frantic relatives were waiting."
The Home Nest.
"Papa," asked his youngest, "what do you call these little places in your desk?"
"Pigeonholes."
"What's the reason you call 'em pigeonholes?"
"Because, puss," replied the literary person, with a dreamy far-away look, "birds what they are for housing pigeons, you know—little holes in literature, as it were, 'ave come back to me."
"Why, papa, I thought she to be expected to be a bird."

Freddy's Diplomacy.
"Father," inquired Freddy as he put down the top he was spinning, "what is diplomacy?" "Diplomacy, my boy," replied the old man proudly, "is being exactly the right thing at the right moment." "Then I reckon I used diplomacy last night." "What did you do?" "Why, I heard mother say that she was going to give me some medicine. Now, you know, I generally sleep on the outside of the bed, but last night when I heard mother coming upstairs I had Johnny into my place and he had Johnny into the bed." "Why, Johnny?" "Why, Johnny?" "—London.

Rain Interfered.
Rain takes its own time for coming, and the merry-go-round ride Tuesday night for the benefit of the public library got caught in a shower that put a damper on it. The receipts were consequently small.

"A CROWD OF MERRY PICNICERS.
Reported for Reflector.
Miss Maggie D. Nigh's class of the Baptist Sunday school had an enjoyable picnic near the banks of the beautiful Tar on Friday, May 26th.
There never gathered a merrier crowd of picnickers, and the day was spent in playing lively games that both young and old enjoyed.
Each member of the class was present with an invited friend. As the farm bell was ringing merrily we all gathered around the table where a sumptuous dinner was served.
After dinner we took delightful strolls in the woods, and the time passed so quickly that we were loathe to leave, but like all things pleasure must end.

Corporation Commission Clerk Removed.
In a letter to council for A. S. Lanier, late assistant clerk of the Virginia Commission, of Virginia, the Commission announces that Lanier has been removed from connection with that body.
Lanier's resignation had been asked for by the Commission because of charges made against him by the chief clerk of the Commission, alleging use of his official position for private purposes and refused by Lanier who emphatically denies the charges and announces that he will bring suit against the chief clerk for damages.

Weather Again.
The ladies were again confronted with bad weather at the lawn party and merry-go-round ride Wednesday night. The thunder squall and threatened rain a little past 9 o'clock hurried most of the crowd home and cut down receipts correspondingly, but under the circumstances they came out very well.

THE ALDERMEN.

Have a Busy Session Thursday Night.
The board of aldermen met at the midnight hour when they proceeded to a regular meeting, the volume of business to transact in administering the affairs of the town being large. It was six on Thursday night, being past midnight when the board completed its labors.
The street committee reported the streets in good condition. The line of things on Fourth street has been completed, and several drain ditches opened in different portions of the town.
The stock pound was reported completed and ready to entertain dogs or other quadrupeds found running at large contrary to the rules prescribing their liberties.
Matters in the lights and well department were reported in good condition.
The market committee reported that a few number of stalls are occupied, now that the dull season is on. Water connection has been ordered for the purpose of flushing the market house and keeping it clean.
The cemetery committee reported the summer house in the white cemetery about completed.
The special committee appointed to confer with the water and light commission relative to rates to be charged against the town for public water and light service, reported that the rate agreed upon was $50 per year for each water hydrant and $60 per year for each electric arc light. The present number of hydrants and arc lights, including eight additional lights recently ordered installed at locations given in Thursday's REFLECTOR, make a total cost for public service of $4,800 a year. This gives the town the use of water needed for sprinkling streets and public watering troughs, and lights for graded school building, market house, and other places used by the town without additional cost.

The fire department committee reported the hose reel stations nearly completed.
The chairman of the water and light commission, presented a statement showing expense of something over $1,700 incurred by the commission which it was thought ought to be charged to the construction account of the plant instead of to the operating account and requested that this be credited on the amount that had been advanced the commission out of the general fund of the town.
The board of internal improvements presented an itemized statement of the cost of construction of the water and light plants, which was referred to the finance committee.
The different officers filed their monthly reports.
The hand fire engine and street sprinkler were ordered to be painted.
A communication was read from the superintendent of the water and light plants showing the number of customers being furnished.
The finance committee was instructed to have all accounts of oiler properly examined and prepare financial statement of the town for the fiscal year for publication.
The suggestion being made that in order to give electric current a part of the day to operate fans and motors the plant be run from 11 o'clock in the day until 1 o'clock at night, the board expressed opposition to the lights being cut off any part of the night.
Accounts were allowed amounting to $631.71.

TO POTATO GROWERS.
As a buyer of potatoes on this market, I want to urge every potato grower in this section to put up their potatoes in good shape.
By reason of the large stock of old potatoes and the heavy increase in acreage of the new crop, the price of potatoes must necessarily fall. The situation, however, can be much improved, by shipping only large potatoes, filling the barrels full and keeping culms and small potatoes at home.
By shipping the small stock you will not only get next to nothing for them, but depress the prices on the larger potatoes as well.
Yours truly,
R. W. MOSELEY.

Flashed His Knife.
Washington, N. C., May 31.—The enforcement of the vagrancy law Monday night by the chief of police came near resulting in a tragedy in one instance. Armed with a warrant, the officer approached a young white man in one of the pool rooms on Water street and requested his company. The man refused to go, and, after some words, pulled a knife and threatened the chief, who promptly drew his gun and ordered the other to drop his knife. Upon his refusal to do so the officer shot at him, but did not hit him. The warrant then dropped the knife and was led off to jail, though protesting and resisting at almost every step.—News and Observer.

GLEE CLUB.

Wake Forest Boys Give Fine Concert.
The Wake Forest Glee Club, which appeared in Greensboro, gave a fine concert at the opera house, Tuesday night, and were given a most cordial reception. The program was well filled, and the boys were well liked by all present. The success of their trip has been the result of their untiring efforts. The audience was large and appreciative. Every number on the program was enthusiastically given and received with frequent applause.

Two members of the club could not appear in the entertainment here, one being taken sick while in Scotland Neck Tuesday and another after reaching Greensboro Thursday afternoon.
Notwithstanding this disadvantage to the young men, the audience was able to detect no incompleteness whatever in the program or any selection given.
The glee club is composed of splendid young men who reflect credit upon the college they represent.

Attempt to Assassinate King of Spain.
Paris, June 1.—An attempt to assassinate King Alfonso was made at midnight as His Majesty drove with President Lurot from a gala performance at the Grand Opera House. A bomb thrown by an anarchist exploded with deadly effect near the royal carriage. As if by a miracle, both the King and President escaped unhurt, but fragments of the missile seriously injured five persons, killed or maimed a number of cavalry horses forming the escort, and knocked out a child's eye. Intense excitement followed the incident.
The King and president retained their presence of mind. His Majesty sending back a member of his suite to make inquiry as to the condition of the wounded. The person who is believed to have thrown the bomb has been arrested, with two others who are thought to have been implicated in the plot.

MURDER ON TRAIN.

One Negro Sends Bullet Through Ear of Another.
On Friday there was a colored man named William Washington on the train. There were six colored men and all were well fixed. While the train was stopped at the depot in Raleigh a pistol shot rang out inside of the coaches and instantly a negro dropped over dead.
The negro who fired the shot was Fred. Daniel and his victim was Will Eburn, both of Palestine in this county. It seems there had been no previous trouble and the murder was cold blooded. Eburn was occupying a seat with a girl and engaged in conversation with her. Daniel came walking through the car and seeing Eburn sitting beside the girl drew a pistol and sent a bullet crashing through Eburn's brain, the ball entering the forehead. Daniel made his escape.
