Truths that Strike Home

Your grocer is honest and—if he cares to do so—can tell you that he knows very little about the bulk coffee he sells you. How can he know, where it originally came from, how it was blended—or with what—or when roasted? If you buy your coffee loose by the pound, how can you expect purity and uniform quality?

LION COFFEE, the LEADER OF ALL PACKAGE COFFEES, is of necessity uniform in quality, strength and flavor. For OVER A QUARTER OF A CENTURY, LION COFFEE has been the standard coffee in millions of homes.

LION COFFEE is carefully packed at our factories, and until opened in your home, has no chance of being adulterated, or of coming in contact with dust, dirt, germs, or unclean hands.

In each package of LION COFFEE you get one full pound of Pure Coffee. Insist upon getting the genuine. (Lion head on every package.)

(Save the Lion-heads for valuable premiums.)

The Cent is Disputed.

One of the coming-waywardnesses of our human nature is the habit of being sure that facts in general are not as they appear, but that they are as they seem to be. It is not so with the cent, however. It is not so with the cent, however. It is not so with the cent, however.

The engine turned over and Witherspoon was crushed to death. Clearly it, his body not being bound until several hours afterwards.

Engineer Caudle also went down with his engine, but fell clear of it, his injuries being the result of a fall. He was removed to King's Mountain, where he died at 5:30 o'clock this morning.

Here Run Away.
On Thursday evening as Dr. J. L. Jones and his son were returning from the base ball park, his horse became frightened at some children playing on Dickinson avenue and ran away.

The man besieged Baron Rothschild's house in Paris during the revolutionary upheaval in 1818, and the Baron begged the ring-leader to enter. They demanded an equal distribution of his wealth among all the male adults of France. It was clear that the safest way for Baron Rothschild was the simplest, and the Baron, working out the sum, found that it came to much less than a franc a head. "We will, however, call it a franc," he said. "Accept the first installment with my compliments. And now, gentlemen, you will allow me to resume my business." There was no longer any need to be violent, and for 2 shillings a Rothschild bought the good will of an angry mob.

Forger, but Not Criminal.
"Do you see that man over there?" asked the detective, with an air of mystery.
"Yes," said the citizen eagerly, "I see him. What of him?"
"That man," said the detective slowly, "that man is a professional forger."

"Good gracious!" exclaimed the citizen in surprise, "why would ever have thought it? Why don't you arrest him, then?"
"Can't," said the detective wearily. "He left against the law to make himself invisible."

What Did the Mean?
"Yes," said the man, "making up a good deal of that sort and made me become a witness. It is some of our disreputable individuals who do it. Now, there's the doctor, for instance. I very seldom give across on any."

"Don't you," said Mrs. J. "That is strange. Why, I see one nearly every day."
Johnson is still wondering if she meant anything personal.

Washington, June 14.—The United States monitor Puritan is aground and fast aground on a sand bar at Point Lookout, Md., where the Potomac river enters into Chesapeake Bay. She has been there since Monday night. Puritan is owned by, and all its organizations of Washington and is its regular practice ship. She has taken part with other vessels of Rear Admiral Dickins' squadron in the attack on Fort Mifflin, and was on her way to participate in the attack on the forts, defending Washington when she struck the bar. A fire, which spent the greater part of yesterday endeavoring to pull her into deep water, was obliged to abandon the effort. More tugs have been sent out.

CHILDREN'S DAY EXERCISES.

Excellent Program Rendered by the Children of Methodist Sunday School. Children's day exercises were held at the Methodist church Sunday night. The church was filled to overflowing with smiling children, beautiful women and handsome men. An interesting program had been prepared by Mrs. Overton. Mrs. Hooker and Miss Dona Hernandez, and without the slightest hitch or jar the exercises moved along from the first to the last moment of the evening.

The program consisted of: Voluntary Hymn—179 in S. S. book—by whole school. Song, "Ninth His Banner Glorions"—by school.

23rd Psalm read in concert—by school and congregation. Prayer—by pastor. Recitation, "Welcome"—by Gertrude Critcher.

Recitation, "Only a Baby"—by Maud Hoover. Recitation, by Mary Towell. Song, "Praise Him"—by school.

Class recitation—by Ellis Brown, Adelle Congleton and Mary George. Recitation—by Wilfred Congleton.

Recitation—by Sadie Evans. Motion song—by class girls. Recitation—Bernice Hornaday. Song, "Bring them in"—by school.

Recitation—by Nina Harris. Song—"Oa this happy children's day"—by school. Reading—by Mrs. Overton. Recitation—by Mary Brown. Collection.

Antiphone—"Nearer my God to Thee", Dogology, congregation. Too much cannot be said in praise of those who prepared the program and trained the children, neither can too much be said in praise of the bright-faced, sunny-hearted children who acted their parts so well. With such talents available for such occasions there should be no trouble about any sort of children's exercises in the church. We are of the opinion that many will look forward with increased pleasure to the next children's day exercises.

ORMONDSVILLE ITEMS.
ORMONDSVILLE, June 19, 1905. Regular services were conducted in the M. E. church Sunday by the pastor.

Some say a rail road will soon pass Ormondsville. We hope so, but it is too far away to hear the whistle yet.

The showers of last week gave the grass the advantage of our energetic farmers.

Q. Will Ormond have been the sick list but is now about his work.

Miss Pearl Ouel, who is visiting Mrs. R. L. Cebert, attended services at Bethany last Sunday.

Ed. M. A. Woodard filled his regular appointment near Winterville last Sunday.

The eight-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Carr died last Friday and was buried Saturday. Our sympathy is with the bereaved parents. Rev. R. L. Corber conducted burial services.

B. Y. P. U.
The B. Y. P. U. society of the Baptist church is increasing in attendance and interest. At the meeting Sunday evening in addition to short talks by older members, there were recitations by Johnnie Hamber and Irene Whichard, both of which were well rendered. Miss Bertie Jackson has been elected secretary of the society in place of Miss O'Connell, resigned.

Horrible Revelation.
Valdosta, Ga., June 17.—A climax came today in the Rawlings Carter tragedy with the arrest of Alf. Moore at Leona, Ga. He is one of negroes alleged to be connected with the killing of the Carter children. He told a startling story. He declares that he was employed by Rawlings to aid in the bloody work. He says that before leaving Valdosta, the day the children were killed, Rawlings carried his supper to him in the woods in order to keep him from going home. He also said that the programme was to kill the whole family and burn the house. He says that Miss Rawlings had Carrie Carter and that Jesse Rawlings killed Willie Carter. The man with "which one of them was killed," was also found today. Examination over the disclosure is high and heavy guards will remain in the jail tonight.

Boy Badly Hurt.
Sunday afternoon, Oscar Brown, son of C. O. Brown, in attempting to jump off a boat at the landing, had the misfortune to get his leg cut very badly by jumping against the edge of the boat. A deep gash just below the knee was inflicted, and it required 13 stitches to close up the wound. Dr. J. E. Nobles performing the operation. It was necessary to put him under the influence of chloroform. General John G. Watson had the misfortune of receiving a very painful injury. Mr. Warren was running his rounds for a few days.

Body Hurt in Street Fight.
Goldboro, N. C., June 17.—A little battle on our streets today between Mr. Richard Besley and Mr. Will Parker, Mr. Parker received a terrible wound on the side of his head just above the ear. He and Mr. Besley were clinched and fell, and Mr. Parker's hand struck the sharp stone curb, cutting a deep gash. They were taken to the hospital.

Why Cotton is Rising.
On December 29, cotton sold for spot delivery at 9 7/8 cents per pound. A month ago, it brought 8 1/2; a week ago 8 1/4; yesterday 9 1/4, the highest price since the crop estimate of December 3. This violent rise is variously explained. Division of speculation from stocks to cotton; expert manipulation; or the heavy European buying in the autumn of 1904, the heaviest in years before. The shortage of the crop was the largest ever in New England, and it was not until the July crop was set under way that it was possible to make. To the English buyers of this season, 7 1/2 cent cotton was cheap after 17 1/2 cent cotton was sold in the market. They had also disposed of stock and a heavy profit. The American trade, since September, they have taken 2,100,000 bales more than a year ago. Our spinners moved more slowly even in Wall street, there was a disposition to look for a 100,000,000 bales crop, and they decided that a selling policy was the wise one. They have thus far bought no more than they did a year ago.

The question still stands open. Whether the American spinner will be "bought" or not, but the planter is "bought" in Wall street. The best year in cotton borrowed from last year's crop, or the other hand, it is probably developed in the growing crop will be the question.—New York Evening Post, 17th.

NEW PAPER FOR GREENSBORO.

Last Saturday morning "The Daily Tar Heel and Industrial News," Vol. 1, No. 1, made its appearance in Greensboro. At Fairbrother, editor, and C. G. Harrison, business manager. It is a 4 page 6 column sheet. It contains both the salutatory and valedictory of the two proposed Republican papers to be run in Greensboro combined in one publication. The following is a specimen of the foreign news items "cabled direct" to the Tar Heel: (By cable to Daily Tar Heel and Industrial News.)

St. Petersburg, June 15.—Our correspondent called upon the czar this evening and was pleasantly received. I was informed that his highness has had the prospect of peace with great joy. We talked about several things of a national and world wide importance. Just as I was leaving the czar called me back, and taking me down into the cellar of the palace, asked me by whispering in my ear:

"Is it true that Marion Butler has something to do with your paper?" I assured him that the report was false, and taking me by the hand, in a mighty grasp, said "It is well—but I was prepared for the worst."

Again we call attention to the necessity for perfect cleanliness in all sections of the town. We hope our authorities will make right investigations weekly, and see to it that the sanitary laws are strictly observed. This is the worst season of the year, for it is easy for diseases to spread if the utmost precaution in reference to cleanliness is not strictly observed. Greenville is, and enjoys the reputation of being a healthy town, but this should not cause any one to lose sight of the fact that real danger to health can exist here as well as anywhere else.

That America is the greatest country in the world is proven by a recently published statement. The statement shows that while they have been picking cotton in one county in Texas, planting cotton was going on in another. The demonstration shows the wonderful diversity of the soil and climate in this country. In a recently published cotton report the indications are that the acreage has been decreased 50 per cent. If this is true, it will give us some where in the neighborhood of 8,000,000 bales, thus insuring the farmers good if not fancy prices for their cotton.

It certainly is time steps were taken to provide more safety for the men who work on trains. In almost every collision that occurs the men who get killed or maimed are the engineers, firemen and men in the baggage cars. A terrible wreck occurred near Baltimore a few days ago by the collision of two trains. Eighteen men were killed, every one of them employees of the railroad, and not a passenger was injured. There are safeguards around the people who travel in these latter days, but none for the men who handle the trains.

Judge Moore was right in sentencing the two men to jail for attempting to influence certain juror in the Gattis-Kilgo case, tried last week in Raleigh. Notwithstanding the examination of the defendants and counsel in the case failed to disclose the fact that the men had been employed by some one interested in the defense to tamper with the jury and try to create influence for the defense, there is hardly a doubt that it was done. The two men who are in jail for such an offense, were no doubt influenced by others to do the unlawful act.

If there is a town in North Carolina where a building and loan association would prosper, it strikes us that it is Greenville. Our people for some reason or other, are very slow to take hold. We have noted the attention of our people to the movement on several occasions, but so far there has been little or nothing said or done in regard to such a movement. We will continue to agitate this question until the association is established.

Reading trashy novels of those James and other kindred names, often results in the undoing of boys. Several youngsters near Wilmington who had led their minds with this kind of literature and been further inflamed by witnessing moving pictures of the deeds of bandits, indulged in a street carnival. Started out to imitate such deeds and were soon in the clutches of the law.

Men who instigate the crime of influencing and buying jurors in the Gattis vs. Kilgo case, deserve to be hanged. It will not do to stop with sending two men to jail for a month.

We differ from Browder in the direction which they should go. They should go further, not about the pecuniary.

The business of Greenville is hindered greatly by inadequate and irregular railroad service. As the town goes right on submitting to this pull back when Arrington, General Johnson was here, ready to give the merchants' association some good suggestions as to how these troubles might be remedied, but it will take some action to bring it about.

Five tombstones have been purchased by Carrie Nation, the joint snasher. One of them will mark the grave of her divorced husband, while another will mark the last resting place of Mother Gloyd, who lived with her until her death. The three others, each surmounted by a marble lamb, will be sent to Texas to mark the graves of Mrs. Nation's children.

The next meeting of the Confederate Veterans will be in New Orleans. After that in 1907 it will meet in Richmond when the Jefferson Davis monument, which will also be a monument to the Daughters of the Confederacy will be unveiled.

France is seeking Russia's aid against Germany, and Germany is trying to get her grip on Mexico, while Britain struggles to shut Germany's advances, Hungary, Austria and Norway warns Sweden to keep off the grass.

Possibly the women never practice the habit of sleeping in church seats by the time they get through sitting up what kind of a dress or hat the other women have on the preacher has finished his sermon.

Accidentally a man in an English village has shot after killing the officer responsible for just thirty years, and in all that time never made a mistake. Whether who shot a man or a woman, the result is the same.

It is not work such a great week in the State of North Carolina, that it is Greenville. Our people for some reason or other, are very slow to take hold. We have noted the attention of our people to the movement on several occasions, but so far there has been little or nothing said or done in regard to such a movement. We will continue to agitate this question until the association is established.

Ideal Clothes are not easily defined, but it's easier to define than to make them. Ideals vary, what satisfies one man doesn't please another. That's what makes ideals an index to character, and also what makes ideal clothes difficult to produce. There are some general principles, however, and good quality is one of them. The Style of Your Clothes the pattern, the price you pay disclose your taste and common sense, but the quality is an index of character. If you pay an all wool price for "mercerized cotton" fabrics that shows that you are really "fin-flamed," but your ideals may be good. If you willingly buy and wear the "mercerized cotton" adulteration, because it looks good, and nobody knows the difference, that's another indication. Maybe you govern your conduct by the same test. State of North Carolina, Pit County, vs. Superior Court, Town of Farmville, Notice of summons against E. J. Pollard, defendant, and J. J. Polard, plaintiff, in a certain case, to wit: The defendant, E. J. Pollard, will take notice, that on the 14th day of June, 1905, a summons was issued against him, in the above entitled action, by the undersigned clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County, returnable to the said Superior Court, at the second Monday after the first Monday in September, 1905, being the 19th day of said month, which summons was not executed and with this endorsement, "Decendant E. J. Polard not to be found in my county." The purpose of said action as alleged by the plaintiff is to recover of the defendant the sum of three hundred dollars for breach of his warranty of a certain deed executed to him on the 25th day of January, 1890, for a certain lot of land situated in Wilson county, in the town of Farmville, and fully described in the deed recorded in Book "V. 6" page 21 of the register's office of Pitt County, North Carolina. The said E. J. Polard, defendant, also takes notice that a warrant of attachment was issued by the undersigned clerk on the said 4th day of June, 1905, against the property of the said E. J. Polard, defendant, and returnable to the said Superior Court, at the second Monday after the first Monday in September, 1905, being the 19th day of said month, which warrant was not executed and with this endorsement, "The said E. J. Polard, defendant, will take notice that a warrant of attachment was issued by the undersigned clerk on the said 4th day of June, 1905, against the property of the said E. J. Polard, defendant, and returnable to the said Superior Court, at the second Monday after the first Monday in September, 1905, being the 19th day of said month, and answer to the same on or before the said 14th day of June, 1905." Clerk of the Superior Court, JAMES S. BLOW, Plaintiff's Atty.

NOTICE:

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain Mortgage deed executed and recorded in Book 11, Deed and a wife Mervin Dixon to H. C. PRECIOUS CRUMBS.

An Old Turkish Folklore Tale Told Since Mohammed's Days.

This is a story which the old Turkish grandfathers tell their grandsons, a folklore tale that was told about the fires in the days of Mohammed.

A young man was about to set out to seek his fortune in a strange land beyond the rugged northern mountains. So he went to every member of his family and asked them to present him with a brick, and a number of the family expressed a desire for some particular present, and the young man carefully noted them down. When he had done so, he noticed that his old father had not yet expressed a wish.

"And what shall I bring for you, father?" he asked.

"My son, I shall make one request. I would like you to save all the crumbs that you fall and bring them to me when you return." The son thought this a very strange request, but nevertheless he promised to fulfill it.

So he journeyed on to the land beyond the mountains, where he entered into trade and in a few years became a wealthy merchant. Then he determined to return to his native land. His belongings he sold and converted into gold, and with this, including the presents for his family and the crumbs he had saved for his father, he joined several other travelers, and together they set out to cross the mountains into Turkey.

But in the mountains a great storm overtook them, and they were lost for many days. Finally their provisions gave out, and they were on the point of starvation when the young man thought of the crumbs he had saved for his father.

"Alas," he cried, "I cannot carry my father's present I promised him, for hunger compels me to use it for ourselves."

When the young man reached home and he had embraced all the members of his family, he distributed the presents. But when he came to his father he had nothing to give, and he cried:

"Alas, father, I have not been able to fulfill my promise to you. In the mountains I was overcome by hunger and was forced to eat the crumbs I had saved for you to save my life and those of my companions."

And the old father replied: "Thy well, my son. The object of my request has been fulfilled."

She Knew "Backin'."

"Missus, what's dis yere man Backin' anyhow?" asked an old family servant of her mistress, a Baltimore lady, recently.

The lady took from the old lady a certain brand of wine and saw the merry god, Bacchus, mentioned. She then explained to the old negress that Bacchus was a god of the ancients.

"Ah, knowed Ah done heeled out dat man bein'." Ah roared about him in de Bible, 'bout him and de male, Backin' wuz er ridin' de male, and de male seed er blast' and got sart, and Backin' he seed de male, and de male he frook er Backin'. Yesum, Ah knowed all 'bout dat man."

The mistress had some difficulty in explaining that Balaam was an entirely different personage from the god of conviviality.—Baltimore Sun.

Known by Different Names There.

The late Dean Everett of the Harvard divinity school missed a train at a country station and started to go a long, dreary day in the town "hotel." Finally in desperation he asked the proprietor to bring him a checkboard. To the aged dean's consternation the man returned with a bottle of whisky and two glasses.

"Why, what's this? I asked for a checkboard," said the dean.

"Oh, I knew what you wanted, all right," was the reply. "We call it by lots of different names down here."—Boston Record.

Profit Sharing.

"Harkins," said the head of the firm to the foreman, "the firm has decided to inaugurate a system of profit sharing with its employees."

"Good!" replied the foreman. "What were the firm's profits last year?"

"Last year the firm lost $700. That necessitates a reduction of 10 per cent in wages under the new system. Tell the men the new arrangement comes into effect immediately."—London Telegraph.

Really a Wonder.

"Yes, Mr. Binkson is one of the most wonderful men I ever knew. He is really a genius."

"I didn't know he had ever written anything."

"Oh, he hasn't, but he can take a railroad time table and tell just when a train will start, where it is going and when it will get there."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Peace Institute.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Peace Institute which appears in another column of this issue. Peace is one of our oldest and best known schools, and has for years been one of the most influential in the South. The courses of instruction are modeled after those of colleges for men and careful training is given in each department. The Music and Art departments, together with that of Expression, are under the charge of specialists and offer superior advantages and attractive courses. With its cheerful home like surroundings and its high standard, Peace appeals to those parents who desire the best for their daughters. The number of resident students is limited to 85 and early application is necessary in order to secure a place on this list. Write to President James Dinwiddie for further particulars.

THE LIE GIVEN, A BLOW, A SHOT.

Mr. L. W. Batchelor in Sanitarium. Van Sharp in Jail.

Wilson, N. C., June 19.—Mr. L. W. Batchelor, a Wilson man, is lying in the sanitarium with a bullet wound in his left hip inflicted by another white man named Van Sharp, of Wilbanks. Mr. Batchelor was brought here Saturday night and is resting comfortably.

The trouble occurred about three miles from Selma at the saw mill Mr. Batchelor is located on the Neuse river, where the Southern railroad crosses. Sharp has been cooking for his fore, and Saturday afternoon Mr. Batchelor, after paying, informed him that he had not been doing his duty of late and therefore his services were no longer required. Sharp, so Mr. Batchelor says, at once disputed his word and was asked if he intended to call him a liar. The words were repeated and Mr. Batchelor struck at Sharp who pulled his pistol and fired with the above results.

Sharp is now in the Smithfield jail and having had his preliminary hearing Saturday afternoon, was imprisoned in default of bail for $1,000.—News and Observer.

Sent to Penitentiary.

Raleigh, N. C., June 17.—J. B. Powell, of Norfolk, Va., found guilty yesterday in the Federal court of attempting to defraud by use of the United States mails, was today sentenced to two years and six months imprisonment and to pay $300 fine. He used the name of "Jones and Powell," a well known firm here, in order to defraud wholesale merchants.

Was Too Previous.

An innocent photographer pitched his tent on the lot fronting the court house, Tuesday afternoon, and took the wagon. He pitched his tent without first ascertaining what the town was, and after learning that it was $10 per month he fled and took his departure.

Codine a Winner

Haywood Dail's trotting mare, Codine, arrived Tuesday from Baltimore, where she was entered for a series of races. She won first, second and fourth money respectively in her three races entered. With her came Mr. Dail's new horse, Little Ned, a trumper of a rep.

Light Out.

The electric lights all over town went out for a few minutes early Sunday night, due to a plug dropping from the station board at the station. The services had just started in the Methodist church and for a moment there was some consternation in the congregation. The lights were soon on again.

C. C. Vines of Hotel Bertha, is replacing his old hot water boiler with a new one and is more modern one. Its capacity is to be something near a hundred gallons.

First Artist—You know the picture, "A Storm at Sea." Well, a man and his wife were viewing it, and I overheard the fellow say: "Come away, my dear. That picture makes me sick!"—London Standard.

Teasing Friend: "What makes that new baby at your home cry so much, Tommy?" Tommy (indignantly): "It don't cry very much and anyway, if all your teeth were out and your hair off and your legs so weak you couldn't stand on them, I guess you'd feel like crying yourself."

REWARD FOR HEROISM.

Capt. Ola Forbes Receives Beautiful Gold Medal.

Capt. Ola Forbes, of the gas boat Altego, that plied between Greenville and Washington, was made very proud by the receipt of a package that came to him Wednesday evening through the express. It was a handsome case containing a beautiful gold medal, and was presented to him by G. B. Gomprecht, of Baltimore.

The pin from which the medal is suspended bears the name in gothic letters Capt. Ola Forbes. The front of the medal bears the inscription in script letters arranged as follows:

Presented For his heroic deed in saving my life in Tar River Tar River N. C. From G. B. Gomprecht.

On the reverse side of the medal is engraved a launch and the date May 5, 1905. The design and workmanship of the medal is exceedingly beautiful and Capt. Forbes is justly proud of it.

It will be remembered that Capt. Forbes was coming up from Washington on May 5th, and had several traveling men on board his launch, and a mishap on the way gave them a thrilling experience. He bravely rescued Mr. Gomprecht from drowning. A graphic account of the rescue was given in THE REFLECTOR at the time. Mr. Gomprecht was very grateful to Capt. Forbes and felt that no praise was too great for his heroic deed. He sends the medal as a mark of his appreciation.

A PLEASANT GAME.

Greenville Gives Suffolk a Shut Out.

It was a good game you missed if you were not at Arthur's park Wednesday. It was one of those unusual one hour and thirty minute games; resplendent from start to finish with thrilling, hair raising, sensational plays.

Yes, indeed, it was a snappy game, a game that was thoroughly enjoyable. Doubles and lightning singles made it fast, and there was fun enough to amuse the grand stand. The funny man in left field was a rare treat to the ladies and babies. Well, didn't he have bushy hair and couldn't he jump!

It is a pleasure to have a team like Suffolk come to Greenville. They play fast, clean, gentlemanly ball, and can take a defeat gracefully, and in good humor. They are planning for another trip up this way.

ARE THEY "COCK OF THE WALK?"

The Score Was 5 to 3 in Favor of Greenville.

It was an ideal, yes, a perfect afternoon that greeted the twelve hundred fans Friday at the park; not too warm, not too cloudy, and with a soft, cooling breeze beating itself through the wires of the grand stand. Indeed it seemed an afternoon set apart for the Washington base ball game.

The grandstand was a scene of inspiring beauty. It was filled to overflowing with the rosters of each team. It was gay and beautiful with its pure women standing for their favorites, bidding them to do or die. And the colors of the opposing teams lent beauty to the scene; pally they were clapping and fluttering in the breeze from the hands of pretty women. Megaphones entwined with blue and red and megaphones entwined with orange and black were fruitful with encouragement and shouts of approbation.

Washington, the "queen of the marshes" had come to administer defeat to the insignificant city on the Tar. Yes, Washington, the queen of the mosquito producing boggy, unhealthy marshes of the Tar, with their two hundred human souls, proud, important, and confident they came. The proud, self-considered beautiful city had come with their invincible Wooten, their absolute King, who nails them all at second, and Patty Gilles, the erstwhile leaguer. Hulleig wasn't it jarring to them Oh, citizens of Greenville, just think of it, the "little insignificant hamlet on the Tar," five runs, the "cock of the walk" just three, Oh, couldn't you shut that day!

If you ever say Bert James can't play second you tell me, well somebody will tell you he can. Turner, J. became overhyped and was out of the game after the first inning; out of one time at the bat he bagged one single and scored one run.

Deck White, on first, went in the air after 'em like he had springs in his shoes, and he handled the stick like a veteran. "Patty" Harris, in the central garden was a caution. He paddled his shovels at racing speed, and took everything that went his way.

Turner, E. covered the third sack in fairly good style, with the practice he's had, and beat out a couple of bunts.

And are we forgetting "Farmer" Gus and old "Bull" Thompson? Not on your life. Suppose "Hull" had hit one of those he missed! He saved a 3 base hit by one of his stops, and Gus was there with the goods every single time.

Walker in the box was a proposition too tough for those "Cock of the Walk" batters. They fell before those sweeps of his like weary travelers by the country way side.

Rowe, the redoubtable ladies' man. Are you wondering why he was saved for the last? Well, he is pretty near the best, and that always comes last; you know. He is verily a tower of strength. His throwing was exactly to the point, and he was in the game from the jump.

Now a word about our opponents. Did you ever see a Canadian thirty cent piece? Well, that was Wooten. Oh, my, didn't he get a thirty cent piece that Canadian thirty cent piece there looms up a beautiful American certificate for $20.00 in gold. Well, that's Walker. He's good for his face value.

Nine hits were made against that thirty cent Washington considered invincible pitcher. Isn't it amusing that the little "Tar river hamlet" should have done that!

The feeling between the towns

Washington Man Drowned.

Attacked With Vertigo and Fell Overboard.

There was a sad ending to the Washington base ball excursion to Greenville Friday. As the extension boats were returning to Washington A. J. Mitchell, who was on the gas boat Magnolia, had an attack of vertigo, fell overboard and was drowned. The accident occurred between Pictou and Grimsland landings. Mr. Mitchell was between 45 and 50 years old and leaves a wife and four children. The body had not been recovered at last report.

GOVERNMENT CROP REPORT.

Washington, June 20.—The weather bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions says:

Further improvement in the condition of cotton is very generally indicated throughout the cotton belt. The crop is now in a good state of cultivation, although some fields contain foul in portions of the central and western districts and in Florida. While, as a rule, good growth is reported, the plant continues small. Lice are still prevalent in North Carolina, but are less numerous in South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama. Considerable damage by web worms is reported from Oklahoma and Indian Territories, where some fields are being devoted to other crops. Boll weevils are spreading in northwestern Texas but generally the damage is not great. Tobacco planting is largely finished except in the more northerly sections and the crop is generally doing well.

Thompson to Stay.

It will be a source of pleasure to the base ball fans to know that "Bull" Thompson the man who pitched the Suffolk game, has decided to stay with the Greenville team. He is a strong man, and will strengthen the team in several ways. He is a pitcher and a hitter.

RARE OLD MONEY.

United States Confederation Bill of 1778.

There are many specimens of rare coins and currency in existence, but we have not seen a more unusual one than has been shown us by E. A. Moyer, Sr. It is a $10 bill, printed in black on white paper, and is 21 x 31 inches in size. It is a United States note and says on its face "This bill entitles the bearer to receive forty Spanish milled dollars, or the value thereof in gold or silver, according to a resolution passed by congress at Philadelphia, Sept. 26th, 1778."

This bill of currency is so old that some of the printing on it has become indistinct, as has also the written signature. On the side bearing the certificate printed above is a disc with an altar in center and an eye above shedding rays upon it. In a circle around the altar are 13 stars, the word "Confederation" circling the lower half. On the other side is a picture of plants that resemble tobacco.

Mr. Moyer has had this old bill of currency many years and prizes it highly. He also showed us an old 5 cents shilling plaster.

Julius Ellobe, a white man, serving a 4 months sentence was pardoned Tuesday by Governor Glenn. Ellobe is dying with consumption.
