SAFE CRACKERS ON TRIAL.

Lieutenant Governor Winston Will Not Interfere—Fisher and O'Day May Go to Roads.

Wadesboro, N. C., Sept. 13.—Fisher and O'Day, the alleged safe crackers, dressed in their Sunday clothes and looking quite sprick and span, considering their four months' confinement and the desperate illness of O'Day, appeared in court yesterday morning and pleaded guilty on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. A hitch came in the proceedings just here, however, for during the night previous Solicitor Henry, of South Carolina, came on the scene and demanded that the men be turned over to the South Carolina authorities to answer to the charge of robbing a safe at Heath Springs.

Judge Neal suspended sentence and pressure is again to be brought on the powers that be in North Carolina for extradition papers. The prisoners, through their attorneys, Messrs. Bennett & Bennett, claim their right to dismissal or sentence on the charge to which they plead guilty and are fighting hard against removal. Lieutenant Governor Winston has telegraphed that he will not interfere. Unless Governor Glenn honors the requisition before Solicitor Henry's departure the case will remain as it is until his return or Judge Neal will send Fisher and O'Day to the roads.

Pitt County "Peeping" Case.

The case of State vs. Davis, previously reported, in which an indictment was sent for eavesdropping, was argued by the attorney general and Harry Skinner, Esq. The attorney general stated that since the indictment did not allege that the conversation overheard had been repeated in the community, he did not think that it would lie for the charge of eaves dropping as recognized by the Common Law, but that it might be good to hold the defendant on a charge of disorderly conduct. Mr. Skinner, for the defendant, took the ground that the indictment did not charge any offense and that the acts complained of did not constitute disorderly conduct.

The state was the appellant in this case, the indictment having been quashed on motion of defendant in the lower court.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Aged Lady Killed.

Tarboro, N. C., Mrs. Susan Williams, aged 85 years, and a pensioner of Mexican war, was struck by the engine of a local freight train from Rocky Mount and instantly killed at Medora, three miles north of South Rocky Mount on the Atlantic Coast Line Railway this morning. The unfortunate woman attempted to cross the track in front of the moving train in an effort to save the life of a pet dog without apparent cognizance of the jeopardy in which she placed her own life. The deceased was a widow of John Williams, who served the Coast Line as section master for a number of years.

Bought a Stock in Tarboro.

C. L. Wilkinson & Co., of this town, have purchased the Morris stock of dry goods in Tarboro. It is the largest and finest stock there and occupies the best equipped store in Tarboro. Mr. Wilkinson has gone to Tarboro to take charge of the stock and close it out as rapidly as possible. The stock was bought at a sacrifice and will be sold accordingly.

WILL BREAK CONNECTION.

Greenville Shut In Worse Than Ever. A change has been made in the schedule of trains on the Atlantic & North Carolina railroad that will practically break connection with trains on this branch of the Coast Line, unless there is a change on this road also or the train is never behind time at all. The train that has been passing Kinston at 7:35, p. m., has been moved up to 6:52, p. m. This is just about the time the Coast Line train reaches Kinston if it is on time, and it seldom is. So passengers and mail getting around that way in the evening will be out of the question, and Greenville will have to jog along with one outfit a day.

What He Found.

During the South African War, when that country was under martial law, letters sent home by British soldiers had to pass through the hands of a censor. A private in a Yorkshire regiment had sent four or five letters home, telling his parents about the doings of his regiment, and portions had been obliterated by the censor and were therefore illegible on their arrival. At the foot of the next letter he wrote: "Please look under the stamp." At the censor's office the letter was opened and read as usual. The officer in charge spent some time in steaming the stamp from the envelope, so that he could read the message which he was certain he would find there. At last his patience was rewarded, but his feelings can be better imagined than described when he read these words: "Was it hard to get off?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Dead Put At 256.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The Bureau of Naval Intelligence today received advice by cable from the American naval attaché at Tokio, to the effect that the loss in killed and missing on the battleship Mikasa was 256. The cause of the accident cannot be ascertained until the Mikasa is floated.

Dr. Tait Butler Elected.

Guthrie, Oklahoma Territory, Sept. 13.—At the final session of the ninth annual meeting of the International Live-Stock Sanitary Board, today, the following officers were elected: President, Dr. H. Hankins, Texas; vice-president, Dr. Tait Butler, North Carolina; secretary-treasurer, Dr. S. H. Ward, Minnesota.

Big Crowd Went.

Hatch Bro's, excursions are always successful. The one that went this morning was crowded, every coach and even the baggage car being full. Quite a number of people went from Greenville and others wanted to go but backed out because it looked like they could not get seats.

Komura too ill to Sail.

New York, Sept. 13.—Baron Komura, the Japanese peace envoy, who was reported today to be suffering from typhoid fever, though the consulting physicians are not a unit on this point, was said to be in a satisfactory condition. Baron Komura is at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel and his return to Japan has been indefinitely postponed although most of the members of his suite will set sail for home tomorrow, the date originally planned for the departure of the mission.

DEATH OF MRS. E. A. MOYE.

An Excellent Woman Passes Away. Mrs. Delphia Moye, wife of Hon. E. A. Moye, former Superior court clerk, died at 8:30 o'clock Friday evening at their home on Dickinson avenue. She had been sick some weeks with an affliction from which there was little hope of recovery, but the end came sooner than expected and her death was a shock to the family and also the host of friends who held her in high esteem. She was one of our best women, a kind friend, charitable, and her life was filled with good deeds.

Mrs. Moye was a little past 48 years old, and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. King. She was twice married, her first husband being the late Mr. Samuel Quiney, of Centerville. She married Mr. E. A. Moye in November, 1895. Beside her husband and parents, she is also survived by four sisters—Mrs. Pattie Winstead, of Rocky Mount; Mrs. G. B. King, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. S. C. Wells, of Wilson, and Mrs. L. I. Moore, of Greenville.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. D. B. Clayton in the Universalist church at 9 o'clock Sunday morning, and from the church the remains were taken to the burial ground at the King homestead, near Falkland, the interment being about 1 o'clock, P. m.

Shot His Wife at Sight.

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 13.—A Tribune special from Tarpon Springs, says at six o'clock this afternoon G. E. Paul, a well known contractor, walked into the boarding house of Hiram Pent, of that place, and as his wife came to meet him at the dining room, Paul shot her down with a double barreled shotgun and then ran into the back yard, shooting himself with the contents of the other barrel. Paul was instantly killed, but his wife lived ten minutes. Paul had been drinking, it is said, for several weeks.

Patent Medicine Decision.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14th.—The commissioner of internal revenue today decided that the manufacturers of patent medicines composed largely of distilled liquors must, after December 1, 1905, take out licenses as rectifiers and liquor dealers, and that druggists and others handling the goods in question must pay the license required by law of their liquor dealer. In a letter of instructions just sent to internal revenue collectors Commissioner Yerkes draws their attention to the existence of a large number of compounds on the market that sell as medicines, but are chiefly composed of distilled spirits without the addition of drugs or medicines in sufficient quantities to materially change their character.

LETTER TO R. HYMAN.

Dear Sir: Do you know the cause of short measure and white wash in paint? The same as the cause of poverty; folks are kept poor by trying to get their money's worth. Price per gallon. They look at the price per gallon; not at the size of the can; and not at what's in it. Kept poor by trying to get their money's worth. Not you, but they. You know it of them. There is one safe name in paint; Devco.

Yours truly,

District Meeting.

D. C. Moore, L. H. Pender, W. L. Best, W. F. Evans, D. L. James, E. E. Griffin, C. E. Rountree and W. R. Parker, Jr., attended a district meeting of Odd Fellows in Washington Thursday night. The next district meeting of the order will be held in Greenville on the second Tuesday night in December.

STATF NEWS.

Mr. J. W. Marley, a postoffice inspector, has sworn out a warrant against Miss Sallie Kime, who until recently was a clerk in the Concord postoffice, charging the opening of mail. She was given a preliminary hearing at Concord last Wednesday, before United States Commissioner G. A. Kestler, and waived examination. She gave $300 bond for her appearance here for said commission: September 12.—Greensboro Patriot.

There are so many applicants for the postmastership at Kamsau that the Republican patrons of the office have decided to hold a primary to decide on the one to be endorsed for the position.

Pointed Paragraphs.

If a man has but one shirt he never owes a big wash bill. The mantle of charity is soon worn threadbare by a hypocrite. Any woman can keep a secret if you give her enough chloroform. A good many so called business pointers turned out to be disappointment. When a married man goes on a pleasure trip he leaves his wife at home. Recklessness of a young fool is only surpassed by an old fool's obstinacy. After acquiring an engagement ring a girl proceeds to reconstruct her ideal. A man doesn't have to be a philosopher in order to discover that all rich girls are handsome. Time may be money in some cases but many a man with nothing but time has managed to starve to death.

Governor Has Narrow Escape.

Winchendon, Mass., Sept. 15.—Governor Robert B. Glenn, of North Carolina, had the narrowest escape of his life this afternoon from serious injury or possibly death when an automobile containing several of the Governor's friends ran off a bridge near Royalston as the party were returning from the old home week celebration at Waterville.

Sawyer Awarded $1,000.

Elizabeth City, N. C., Sept. 13.—Superior court has been in session at Camden court house this week, and the criminal docket was concluded this morning, when the suit against the Norfolk and Western railway, by A. Sawyer was called. Mr. Sawyer is one of the most prominent men of Camden county. He is suing the railroad people for alleged slander. The case has created intense interest, and the court room was literally packed. The hearing consumed the entire day. The case was turned over to the jury about 5:30 this afternoon and they remained out about twenty minutes. They gave Mr. Sawyer one thousand dollars.

PERSONALS AND SOCIAL.

Thursday, September 14.

G. W. Baker returned to Lewis-ton today. Mrs. Charles Skinner went to Baltimore today. This feels like some equinox weather is cooling. J. F. King returned Wednesday evening from Atlanta. It will not take many days like this to finish the straw hat.

Saturday, September 16

C. E. Bradley went to Tarboro today. R. S. Evans went up the road this morning for a trip in South Carolina. Augustus Cotten, of Wilmington, Del., is visiting at Cottondale. Rev. J. E. Ay-cue went to Pictolus Wednesday and returned today. Mrs. J. A. Hornaday left this morning for Laurinburg to visit relatives. Mrs. G. M. Tucker, of Whites, came in this morning to visit relatives. Mrs. L. V. Morrill and daughter, of Snow Hill, are visiting Mr. W. B. Brown.

Miss Helen Forbes left this morning for Raleigh to attend Peace Institute. Miss Mary Gottlieb, of Baltimore, came Wednesday evening to visit the Misses Cotten at Cottondale. R. H. Williamson, city electrician, left this morning for Washington, D. C. to visit his mother.

Mrs. M. D. Higgs left this morning for the northern markets to purchase military goods for C. T. Munford. H. A. Timberlake has moved in town and occupies one of the McGlowhorn houses in South Greenville. Rev. J. H. Friezelle, of Sanford, who has been here assisting in a meeting in the Methodist church, returned home today.

Mrs. Josephine Taylor returned this morning from Ayden. Mrs. J. W. Taylor accompanied her home for a visit here. Mrs. M. A. Whichard, of Whichard and Mrs. C. L. Whichard and little son, Rogers, of Norfolk, spent today with Mrs. D. J. Whichard.

Friday, September 15. Mack Taylor, of Ayden, spent Thursday in town. A. M. Moseley returned this morning from Ayden. C. S. Forbes has returned from his trip North after new goods. Mr. and Mrs. H. McClellan left this morning for a trip to Pennsylvania.

Miss Ellen Proctor returned Thursday evening from a visit to Berkley. Mrs. Julia Wooten returned Thursday evening from a visit to Tarboro. Mrs. S. M. Schultz and son, Alfred, went to Rocky Mount this morning.

Miss Nonie Biow returned Thursday evening from a visit to Lewisburg and Littleton. Julian Timberlake, of Raleigh, who has been visiting at Cottondale, has returned home. Miss Della Smith, of Ayden, who has been visiting at Whichards, returned home Thursday. Fred Cox came in from Richmond Thursday evening, being called home by the sickness of his wife.

Delegates to Association. At a conference of the Baptist church, Wednesday, W. H. Baggdale, J. W. Bryan and D. J. Whichard were chosen delegates to the Tar River association which meets in Tarboro the second week in October.

Exonerates the Superintendent. A half dozen of the most prominent physicians in the state yesterday testified before the board of directors of the state hospital that in their opinion Thomas H. Nail died from acute heart dilation caused by violent muscular effort and that the blood clot found in his brain was not of a character to cause his death.

They agreed that the symptoms of compression of the brain given in the autopsy as the cause of death were totally different from those testified as having been exhibited by Nail when he was brought into the hospital before his death. The result will be in all probability a justification of Doctor McKee's diagnosis and failure to order an immediate autopsy and the release from jail of the four attendants now held on a charge of having caused the death of the patient.—Raleigh News and Observer.

At a conference of the Baptist church, Wednesday, W. H. Baggdale, J. W. Bryan and D. J. Whichard were chosen delegates to the Tar River association which meets in Tarboro the second week in October.

GREENVILLE'S GREAT DEPARTMENT STORE.

Must Remain the Minimum.
The executive committee of the Southern Cotton association held its meeting at Asheville, N. C., last week, and the question of fixing a minimum price of this crop was the matter of greatest interest to the people and country at large. The eyes of the whole cotton world were centered on Asheville during the 6th and 7th days of September, while the executive committee was in session.

The price finally agreed upon after long and tedious deliberation was 17 cents, basis middling, at all interior points in the South. The condition of the crop up to August 25th was found to be 73.63 per cent as compared with a condition of 84 per cent for the same period a year ago. The estimated yield of the crop as reported by over 15,000 correspondents from all the cotton growing counties indicated a yield this season of 9,783,133 bales, as compared with a crop of 13,600,000 bales last year. Letters from farmers all over the belt advised a minimum price all the way from 10 cents to 12 1/2 cents, some figuring as high as 15 cents. But the final result was 11 cents, and farmers all over the South will be expected to stand firmly together this fall and winter to maintain that price. By determined effort prices can be forced up above 11 cents later in the season. Let those who are able and can hold back do so, and thereby help those who are forced to sell to meet their maturing debts and obligations with the supply merchants and guano dealer. Bankers will be glad to advance from 8 and 9 cents a pound on cotton in storage, and thus assist in financing the situation. We are up against a hard fight, but it will be easier to get 11 cents for a small crop than 10 cents for a 12,000,000 bale crop. Sell but little cotton in September and October. Give the mills a chance to exhaust present supplies, which can be done in six weeks, and then we can easily dictate terms and win another big victory. Sell no middling cotton for less than 11 cents. HARRY JORDAN.

Small Farms.
Rev. P. R. Law has discovered by a study of the census reports, that more people in Robeson county own the farms they live on, and that there are more separate farms in Robeson than in any other county in the State. Robeson is, excepting Mecklenburg, perhaps, the most prosperous county in the State. Is not this an argument for the small farm? Mr. Law seems to think so. Writing in The Lumberton Robesonian, he says that for obvious reasons, these two facts—farm owning and many separate farms—are sources of strength, stability and prosperity. The sturdiness of France financially and politically is grounded in the fact that the average size of its farms is ten acres and therefore there are so large a number of farm buildings. It means more conservatism and more equitable business life and more general prosperity. The perils of our republic it is accepted as true lie in the extremes of more property holders on the one hand and the very large property holders on the other. The conserving element and these extremes that would rend and ruin is the farmer who owns and works his own land and possesses no large means.—Charlotte Chronicle.

There is to be an apple growers' convention in Asheville this fall. Such a gathering ought to bear good fruit. The daughters of Eve will be interested in the statement that there will be a display of apples.

Cicero Dudley has discovered a new kind of cotton boll on his land, in Neuse township, and one entirely undesirable. The boll is well developed but without a particle of lint in it.—Kinston Free Press.

Scientifically Constructed. ULTRA, A Shoe for Women.

THE ULTRA SHOE for women is made with careful reference to the most minute details and is so perfected in its numerous styles that there is no other woman's shoe on the market selling at the price the Ultra does, its superior, if its equal.

It is the fundamental basis of a perfect shoe. We employ our own expert designers, and every Ultra Shoe is made over almost scientifically constructed to meet the closest variations of width and size in woman's footwear. The Ultra Shoe meets every requirement of the many whims of womanship.

COWING A JANITOR.

A Case of Disciplining and the Way It Worked Out.

One day Wilkinson got mad and determined to discipline the janitor. "Why is it," he said, "that every time anybody in this building loses anything you ask us if we know what has become of it?" "Because," the janitor replied, "you are the only folks that never lose anything."

The next morning arrived. "We're short a bottle of milk," Wilkinson shouted down the dumb waiter shaft. "Where is it?" "I don't know, sir," the janitor answered humbly. "I'll see if I can find it."

"Why," said Mrs. Wilkinson, "we got our milk."

"Don't worry," said her husband. "Of course, he can't find it, but it will do him good to hustle and stew a little."

About fifteen minutes later Wilkinson was summoned to the dumb waiter. "Here's your milk," said the janitor. "I'm sorry I made a mistake before."

Wilkinson was bewildered. "Now, where on earth did the fellow get it?" "He has taken it from one of the neighbors," wailed Mrs. Wilkinson. "We will be jailed before we get through with this business."

The next day Wilkinson complained of the loss of a package of sugar, which, though purely imaginary, so far as the Wilkinsons were concerned, very soon materialized in the hands of the resourceful janitor. Even Wilkinson got uneasy then; but, being bent on vengeance, he subsequently reported as lost three boxes of bread, a head of lettuce and a bag of potatoes, all of which were immediately produced by the janitor. Before further deprecations on the part of that worthy were possible Wilkinson paid his grocery bill for the month. When he came home Mrs. Wilkinson, who is a systematic housekeeper, carefully scanned the itemized account.

"Why, they have made a mistake," she said. "They have charged us for milk and sugar and things we never got. You must go right back and see about it."

Wilkinson went. "It's all right," he said upon his return. "We got the stuff. The janitor ordered it."—New York Post.

Peebles Ham.
The Scotchman told the story. There were two old Scotchwomen, Mrs. MacWhirter and Mrs. McKeen, who met on the road one day, and Mrs. MacWhirter says: "Look me, woman, yer far frae hame the day."

"Aye," says Mrs. McKeen. "I was just yont at Peebles. Sanders MacNabb o' Peebles keeps rale guid ham. Or John, ye ken, likes a bit guid ham and is aye yantraer' about the ham bein' overat and overant."

"Or Tam," says Mrs. MacWhirter. "Is the same way. There's nae pleasin' o' him wi' his ham. Faith, I'll hae to gie MacNabb a trial."

So Mrs. MacWhirter journeys in to Peebles, and she says to Sanders MacNabb, the grocer: "Gie's a pound o' yer ham."

"What kind," says Sanders, "wad ye like?"

"Oh, just the kind that Mrs. McKeen gets," says the lady. MacNabb smiled faintly. "A'right," says he. "Whaur's yer bottle?"

Answering Abernethy.
Although one of the main characteristics of the famous Dr. Abernethy was the readiness with which he could administer a sharp and witty retort when occasion arose, he was once considerably nonplussed by the remark of a medical student.

"What would you do," the doctor asked the student at an examination, "if a man was placed in your hands with a broken leg?"

"Set it, sir," was the reply. "Good, very good. You are a witty young man, and doubtless you can tell me what muscles of the body I would move if I were to kick you, as you deserve, for your impertinence?"

"You would put into motion," replied the student, not in the least abashed, "the flexors and extensors of my right arm, for I would forthwith knock you down."

Wyoming's Natural Bridge.
There is a great and little known natural bridge twenty miles southwest of Douglas, Wyo., where La Piele creek breaks through the foothills of the Laramie mountains. In the span of its arch it is said to be the greatest in the world. It is 180 feet wide and 75 feet above the water. The stream flows through a canyon nearly 1,000 feet deep. The bridge is a ledge of rock near the bottom of the canyon. Doubtless once the water flowed over the ledge, but in process of time found softer material below and wore its way through, making the bridge.

IT CAME BACK AND BROUGHT TROUBLE AND MR. GREEN WITH IT.

"When I was new in the business," said the dentist, "I resorted to a good deal of freak advertising. My pet scheme was to send bills to people whom I pretended to have treated. All these people were total strangers. I simply selected their names from the directory and sent them bills for sums ranging from $5 to $50. Of course I never got any money—I didn't expect any—but I got plenty of advertising, which was what I was after. Finally the people that got the bills were hopping mad, and a large percentage of them came down to the office and demanded an explanation. During those interviews I put on my nicest professional manners, apologized for the mistake through which they had been bothered by a bill meant for somebody else, and not infrequently the affair ended by my securing a patron."

"But one day I met my match. I had sent a bill for $15 to a man named H. S. Green for services rendered to his wife. Green and his wife came down together. He did most of the talking, but she had a glint in her eye that told me she was capable of batting in if occasion demanded it."

"I received your bill this morning," said Green, "but I refuse to pay it on the ground that the work you did for my wife was not satisfactory."

"That attack took the wind right out of my sails. I was thrown completely off my guard. 'The work I did for your wife?' I exclaimed. 'Why, good heavens, man, I never saw your wife in my life!'"

"Green waved the bill right under my nose. 'Fifteen dollars for services rendered,' he said significantly. 'But I don't wonder that you are trying to cheat. It is an atrocious piece of work. But you can't get out of it. Here is your bill to prove that you are responsible for her condition. Will you kindly make an examination and see if you can't fix her up? If you don't I'll be tempted to sue you for malpractice!'"

"Well, I saw that I was in a tight place. Green knew as well as I did that I had never set eyes on his wife until that morning, yet he meant business, and as my little advertising scheme would not bear exposure just then I was forced to knuckle under. His wife really had suffered at the hands of a woefully incompetent dentist. It took me a week to get her mouth into shape; I must have done at least 800 worth of work before I got through, yet there was that contumacious bill for $15 staring me in the face, and the only thing I could do was to accept that paltry sum in payment and call the deal square."—New York Press.

A Mania For Pipes.
Recently a Parisian shoplifter was arrested and searched. To the amazement of the officials her plunder was not articles of feminine adornment, but several costly meerschaum pipes.

When her apartments were searched 2,000 pipes were found, some of which were handsomely colored.

Although for awhile she stoutly protested her innocence, she at last broke down and confessed that she was addicted to the use of tobacco and suffered from a form of kleptomania which led her to steal every handsome pipe which she could make away with without discovery.

She made no attempt to dispose of her pipes for profit, but kept them in cabinets in her home. Not one of the pipes, she admitted, had been paid for, but she declared that in taking them she was only obeying an irresistible impulse and was not morally responsible for her crimes.

Jefferson Was Not Qualified.
As is generally known, the late Joseph Jefferson and ex-President Cleveland were boon companions. Shortly after Cleveland was elected president the second time a friend of Mr. Jefferson met him and said, "I hear that President Cleveland may appoint you to an ambassadorship."

"Where in the world did you hear that?" was the response. "I wouldn't accept it. Did the papers say anything about it?"

"Yes," his friend replied. "They said you may be appointed minister to Cape Cod."

"Wouldn't do," said Mr. Jefferson. "I don't speak the language."—Boston Herald.

The Object.
"I want to put an ad. in your paper," said the weary looking man. "Make it. Wanted, a situation; any old job."

"Should I say, 'money no object?'" suggested the clerk.

"No, make it 'object matrimony.' If I could get acquainted with a decent job I'd be willing to marry it for life."

THE NEW WAY!

If you Had to Get Your News In the Old Way?

In the old times people had to go from house to house to tell the news or meet at the cross roads store once a week to find out what was going on. They were slow days.

It Is Not So Now

But in this day of numerous postoffices and rural free delivery mail routes you can get the news every day.

This is the reading age and no home is complete without a good newspaper. Every man ought to take his county paper and know what is going on.

The Reflector

can supply you with the news. We print two editions, Daily and Semi-Weekly.

THE DAILY REFLECTOR THE EASTERN REFLECTOR is a 4 page paper and costs (twice-a-week) is a large only $3 a year. 8 page paper, $1 a year.

EMINENT EDUCATOR'S ENDORSEMENT.
The North Carolina STATE NORMAL AND INDUSTRIAL COLLEGE Presidents Office.

Greensboro, N. C., August 24, 1905. Greensboro Life Insurance Company, Greensboro, N. C.

Gentlemen: Enclosed you will find a remittance for the full annual premium on my policy in your company, and with it I wish to send my congratulations upon the extraordinary record of the company during the first month of its life.

I have taken out this policy for three reasons: 1. Because I believe in the substantial business men who are backing the company. 2. Because I like the form of the Income Indemnity Policy. 3. Because I desire very much to encourage, so far as I am able to do so, the building up of strong insurance companies in North Carolina, in order that we may send 1 ss of our capital through insurance companies to build up other sections of the country instead of our own.

Very truly yours, CHARLES D. McIVER.

Truth in Preference to Fiction

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., TUESDAY, SEPT. 19, 1905.

The coal trust will soon have its inning at fleecing the people.

The failure of that Salisbury paper was an eclipse of the Sun not foretold in the almanac.

Mr. Bryan says he is not a candidate. Certainly not now, but that does not mean that he will not be in 1908.

Governor Glenn is making a fine impression on those New Englanders. This is no more than we expected.

The Durham Herald has begun the erection of a handsome building for a home for the paper. Congratulations.

A government report was not needed to let us know that the cost of living had greatly increased. We had all found that out.

The Filipinos in waiting to be released from heavy taxes are that much in common with Americans, all of us being built that way.

Rojevstevsky is about to recover from the wounds received when his fleet was captured and become himself again since peace has been declared.

Governor Glenn took in Boston Tuesday on his New England tour, but the dispatches do not state whether he took in any beans along with it.

Atlanta made more noise over one case of yellow fever than New Orleans made over a thousand. Nothing like getting notoriety out of a thing.

The investigations going on in New York as to the workings of insurance companies is giving the public some inside information that may be helpful.

A doctor now up and says that running after the dollar causes appendicitis. A good many other ailments can be attributed to the same cause.

The Charlotte Chronicle says Mecklenburg county gives $747,187 to the public schools. We just believe the Chronicle has too many figures in that bunch.

The man arrested at Kinston on the charge of being a participant in the late New Bern lynching, may learn the lesson not to talk so much next time he tanks up.

A Winston man being knocked into unconsciousness by the stopper flying out of a keg of beer and striking him shows that the stuff is dangerous from any aspect.

From the stray local tax districts are being established in the interest of longer and better schools, people are ascending readily to increased taxes to educate their children. When the same interest is aroused in public roads they will also see the wisdom of levying a tax to improve the thoroughfares. We take it that better education will soon be followed by better roads.

Wonder if the automatic girlless telephone exchange they are going to install up in Pennsylvania will have a contrivance that can say "busy now" when you ask for a number.

Witte has shaken the dust of America and is now on the high sea enroute to Russia. Among other things he will remember in this country is the mosquitoes of Ports mouth.

Under the ruling of the commissioner of internal revenue most druggists will have to take out license to deal in liquor or cut out some of the patent medicines they are selling.

Strange things happen in this world of ours. An old man in Connecticut who had been blind for several years suddenly recovered his sight and became so overjoyed that it ran him crazy.

Durham is on the back tax track, it having developed that several corporations doing business in that city have had a scheme by which they avoided paying as much city taxes as they ought to.

From the way he is holding down the seat in the absence of the governor from the state leads to the inquiry, what is the matter with Lieut. Governor Winston when a candidate for governor is wanted next time?

That recently discovered enactment of the last legislature that lumps folks and dogs in the same class when they become dangerous, and prohibits such running at large, may not have missed the mark so far.

Greensboro has not adopted a "goo-goo" ordinance similar to the one recently heralded from Houston, Texas, but all the same the mayor of that city says girls passing along the streets must be protected against annoyance by leeches.

A Chicago surgeon has given it out that he can cure crime by operating on the skull. It is not said whether his fist or a cudgel is used in the operation, but it is a novel method for collecting bills and will doubtless be interesting to the profession.

Just because the pension roll scatters a good bit of money throughout the country is no excuse for its existence at the present dishonest magnitude. To leave the money in the pockets of the people from whom it is collected would distribute it more effectively.

A correspondent of the Charlotte Observer says the town of Spray, in Rockingham county, has never been incorporated. The town has no mayor or board of aldermen and the people pay no town taxes. The nine large manufacturing plants there club together and pay a deputy sheriff to look after wrong-doers and all cases of violation of law are tried by a magistrate. Spray ought to be a happy town.

We read of building and loan associations meeting with much success in various towns, which reminds us that Greenville is not reaping success from the same source. Some day this town may awaken to the necessity of a building and loan association.

The refrigerator car companies may contend that they are not common carriers, but shippers do not take the same view of it. The way the strawberry crop was handled last season shows that they are common, and very common, too, though they charged anything else but common prices.

All manufacturers of patent medicines should be required by law to have the ingredients of such medicines printed on the packages. Thousands of mothers have ruined, and sometimes killed their infants by giving soothing syrups and other patent medicines, which nine times out of ten contain a large per cent of morphine and other opiates. People have as much right to know what kind of medicine they are swallowing as they do to know what kind of food they are taking into their stomachs.

Not a Receding Wave.

Four elections on the temperance question have been held in North Carolina during the past month and the temperance men won every time except one. In that instance, the vote was a tie, and the final outcome was a victory over the saloon.

Those people who imagined that the temporary temperance wave would shortly recede are learning that it is not a receding wave, but that it is growing steadily stronger in volume and in power. The youngest child now living will be a gray-bearded old man before intoxicants are permitted to be manufactured or sold in any rural district in North Carolina. That principal is as settled as the suffrage amendment to the constitution. As to the towns, the day of saloon domination is ended in all except a few, and their days are numbered. Of course there will be alternate victories in the larger towns, the saloon sometime giving way to a dispensary or prohibition, and sometimes a community will return to the saloon, but even the return will be followed by more stringent regulations and better conditions.

Our State Winning Fame

North Carolina is on the upward move in cotton mill industry. The Commercial Appeal declares that since 1890 the mills have increased from 91 to 236 or 158 per cent. The Winston-Salem Journal says that from the tar, pitch and turpentine epoch she has already passed to a great fame in cotton, grain and to hacco—opulent in her virgin forest, minerals, agriculture, an unsurpassed climate and a variety of scenery which invites thousands of tourists for health and pleasure as well as alluring to the best business efforts. Few of her sons and daughters realize all that their state really is.

We would add to this that North Carolina has also won fame not less for furniture manufacturing than its cotton mills, and all since 1890.—High Point Enterprise.

President R. T. Vann, of the Baptist University for Women, says that the enrollment is 265, just 14 more than were enrolled on this date last year. There are only about four places vacant in the university now.—Raleigh Post.

Don't Like Music. "Piano playing will drive flies from your apartments," declared a man who expounds odd theories. "That sounds like a joke, and, of course, there are some kinds of playing that will chase human beings from a room, but seriously I mean that music is objectionable to insects. In fact, all sounds annoy them. Whoever saw flies in a boiler shop? No one that I know of, because the vibrations caused by the continuous pounding are as deranging to the insects as are the atmospheric disturbances resulting from electric fans. Every one should be familiar with the intensity of the vibrations produced by the strings of a piano. For instance, many persons no doubt, have noticed that a loose glass in a picture frame will buzz when a certain note is struck. Well, when the strength of the sound wave which causes the ill fitting glass to hum, though it may be a dozen feet away, is multiplied a score of times in a second, as is the case when a spirited piano performance is in progress, the effect of the vibrations on the extremely sensitive insects may be imagined. They simply can't stand a prolonged sound.—Philadelphia Record.

Liberty and Food.

Lincoln said of slavery that a black woman might not in some ways be his equal, but that in the right to eat the food her own hands had earned she was the equal of himself, Judge Douglas, or any man. Economic independence is the basis of every kind of liberty that has worth. It was over an unjust tax that the colonies went to war. United States politicians are now engaged in talking about when the Filipinos are to have self-government. The Filipinos themselves are more interested in knowing when the United States will stop taking away their power to make a living. The Filipinos in 1907 are to have the right to express their opinions in an assembly, those opinions to be accepted or rejected by the American officials as those Americans may choose; which is nice and generous and pretty, but not quite so important as the repeal of laws which steal food from our poverty-stricken victims to put it into the distended bellies of domestic trusts. One liberty with which the Filipinos can dispense is liberty to starve.—Collier's Weekly.

What is Your Interest in Your Community?

The New Berne Journal asks this pertinent question and then proceeds to define it: "A citizen's interest in the community can be safely judged by his or her support of local institutions. There are hard working and enterprising, in the sense of money makers, citizens, whose interest in their community does not go beyond what they individually get out of it. They contribute to no charity, belong to no church, take part in no public meeting, and are not to be found if some public enterprise is to be started. Their local interest is purely and unqualifiedly selfish. They add nothing to the advancement or growth of a community. Let every citizen ask this question: What is your interest in your community, not in the mere benefits you receive, but what are you personally giving and doing to advance its best interests? For your answer is, so you may find your true position as a citizen among your neighbors."

One of the best ways to raise the general standard of intelligence in a state is through the education of the young people. In order that the young people may be well educated good teachers should be secured. In rural districts very often the salaries paid teachers are so small that really capable teachers will not take the places. The sooner people in many of these rural districts get over their prejudice against an increase in taxes and provide sufficient money to pay good salaries and to provide better school accommodations the better it will be for them and the intellectual standards of the state.—Winston Sentinel.

"Say Mrs. Jones what kind of a big day is that they are going to have at Winterville Sept. 23d."

"Why Miss Sattie, that's the day of the big Millinery and dress goods opening at Mrs. Sarah Taylor's. She is just back from Baltimore where she bought her fall stock and they do say she has goods to suit every body from grandmothers to the wee tot's and prices to beat the band! But you know she always has good goods and low prices and that accounts for her large trade."

The question of labor in the South is one that continues to demand attention. As negro labor becomes scarcer, more unreliable, and more worthless, the question becomes more acute. Farm labor is needed as well as skilled labor in other lines of production. What else but intelligent immigration is there that the South can resort to?—Gastonia Gazette.

RUNAWAY MARRIAGE.

Tuesday Miss May Brooks, of Grifton, came here to visit friends before leaving the following day for Alabama to teach school.

Tuesday evening W. Y. Dickerson from the same town, arrived and he and Miss May went out for an evening drive. They drove as far as Richard Wingate's where they were met by Squire Henry Blount who in short order made them man and wife. Wednesday relatives of the bride came to Ayden to bid her farewell, but alas, their eager knave no bounds when informed no adieus were necessary.

While the fond parent seemed disappointed, like a wise father he said: "What can't be helped must be endured and I send them my blessing!" What a happy termination for a happy couple.

If you need anything in the way of a Crockery, Tin or Greystone ware, come to see us, Hart & Jenkins.

H. W. Waters, a constable from LaGrange, came here yesterday for a prisoner that had been arrested by the constable in this town-day. Mr. Waters returned same day taking his prisoner along with him. The prisoner was a gentleman of color and was badly wanted at home by his spouse and wife who could not rest content with their fond one away. He proceeded for his abandonment and a free ride behind the iron horse.

A full supply of No. 1 Timothy Hay Oats, Corn, Bran, Cotton Seed Hulls and Meal, at J. R. Smith & Bro.

What a delightful visit yesterday from three of the prettiest girls, one ever did see. Misses Magdaline Cox, Janie Kittrell and Nina Dixon. They came to see us and they are all from our old home Winterville. We surely enjoyed their visit and hope they will so honor us again.

E. E. Dail & Co. will do all they possible can to please you with their new line of heavy and fancy groceries.

The condition of George Worthington is very critical and his many friends are fearful of the most serious result. Mr. Worthington is a very useful citizen and sends high in our community. The inquiries concerning him prove him to be universally popular.

Come to see Hart & Jenkins when you need something to dress your feet, we can save you money and give you something to fit the foot. We carry the nicest and best $5.00 shoe you ever saw. Try a pair and be convinced.

There are a large number of buyers on our cotton market and we believe we have one of the best markets in the state. There were about 6,000 bales shipped from this point last season.

At the home of the mother of the bride, Mrs. M. E. Cason, on last Tuesday morning, C. R. Price, of Baltimore and Miss Desse McKinney were united in marriage. Immediately after the ceremony they left for the home of the groom. They were accompanied by Mrs. Hugh Brooks, sister of Mrs. Price. We tender congratulations.

Surrell & McLawhorn have moved into their new brick store on south side of Main street.

We manufacture buggie seats for the trade, that are simply the smoothest seat on the market.

WINGATE FAILED TO SHOW UP.

Judgment Was Entered Against His Bondsmen.

Tarboro, N. C., Sept. 14.—Robert V. Wingate the young white man of Rocky Mount, who is charged with an attempted criminal assault and also a simple assault upon the person of Mrs. Joseph Knight of this place some weeks ago and who was removed to Raleigh from his place of incarceration in the county jail here through the fear of being lynched and was subsequently released through habeas corpus proceedings, failed to make his appearance at court when his cases were called and judgments nisi were entered against his bondsmen in each case; Wingate was in Tarboro Tuesday and Wednesday and is said to have gone to Rocky Mount preparatory to returning for trial Thursday. It is surmised his nerve failed him after missing the early morning train and much surprise was occasioned by his failure to appear.

LETTER TO DR. R. L. CARR.

Dear Sir: $20 difference. Two neighbors painted their houses—Devoe; lead and oil—difference $20; houses about alike.

Mr. A. H. Howard, Nelson, N. Y., is the one who painted Devoe's and saved the $20; don't know the other.

A neighbor of both, Mr. J. H. Hughes, expected to use 5 gallons Devoe; took 3.

Devoe goes further, its least merit; but that amounts to half sometimes. It costs two or three times as much to paint as to buy the paint. Good reason for not painting often. Paint Devon then.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & CO.

A Warning for Folks who Sign Petitions

Folks who sign petitions just to see their names on the paper may learn something. In the court here just closed a judgment for damages was entered against 51 men about over the county who had promiscuously signed a petition to open a public road into the eastern part of town. The commissioners opened the road on the strength of the petition and the man whose property it went through, S. F. Coakly, colored, sued the petitioners and they will have to pay the judgment, which amounts to about $2 each for the good and true men who were too careless with their names.—Monroe Journal.

Best tobacco made by Brown & Williamson's.

The cotton crop of 1904-05, according to the annual report of Secretary Hester, of the New Orleans cotton exchange, was 13,565,885 bales.

As some of the stockholders in the Greenville Manufacturing Company had disposed of their interest, a meeting of the stockholders was held Friday to reorganize. Dr. E. A. Moye was elected president, R. L. Davis vice president, and L. W. Tucker was added to the board of directors. Plans were discussed for enlarging the business of the plant.

Purchase of Pamlico Railroad Formally Announced.

Norfolk, Va. Sept. 14.—An announcement was made today of the purchase of the Pamlico, Oriental & Western railroad, running from Bayboro to Newbern, N. The Death Penalty.

A little thing sometimes results in death. Thus a mere scratch, insignificant cuts or pruny boils have paid the death penalty. It is wise to have Bucken's Arnica Salve ever handy. It's the best salve on earth and will prevent fatality when burns, sores, ulcers and piles threaten. Only 25c at J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Puts an End to it All.

A grievous wail often comes as a result of unbearable pain from over taxed organs. Dizziness, Backache, Liver complaint and constipation. But thanks to Dr. King's New Life Pills they put an end to it all. They are gentle but thorough. Try them. Only 25c. Guaranteed by Jno. L. Wooten, Druggist.

End of Suffering.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abscess on my right lung" writes J. F. Hughes of Du Pont, Ga. "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all coughs, colds, and throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed by Jno. L. Wooten, Druggist. Price 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

SUPERIOR COURT.

September Term in Session.

The September term of Pitt Superior court began this morning with Judge K. B. Jones, of Winston, presiding and Solicitor L. I. Moore representing the state.

In calling over the list of jurors every man but one answered to his name and he had not been summoned. More of the business men of the town than usual were on the list, and several excuses were asked for. Two of those wanting to be excused were cotton buyers, who one of the lawyers said were needed on the street to make as much competition as possible on the price of cotton. Judge Jones told them to go push cotton to 11 cents and he would excuse them. Another who is in the horse sales business made an excuse, and was told to go and trade horses for two days and be back in court Wednesday morning. One from the country had a sick mother-to-law and was told he could go home. A very busy insurance agent was also let off, and this ended the excuses.

The grand jury as selected and sworn is composed of the following: J. C. Lanier, foreman, T. H. Williams, C. M. Tucker, R. R. Whitehurst, J. F. Cox, Henry Harris, W. H. Kilpatrick, David Stokes, Joe. V. Cox, Oscar Tucker, S. G. Forbes, C. S. Forbes, S. B. Hardee, Richard Harris, S. I. Fleming, M. L. Turnage, J. R. Flake and W. C. Hines.

W. H. Smith is officer of the grand jury and L. W. Lawrence is court clerk.

The court room was crowded during the time Judge Jones delivered his charge to the grand jury, and such good attention was given that only once did the sheriff call for quiet. The people learn much of common law by listening to charges from learned judges, and they were amply repaid in following closely all that Judge Jones said.

Judge Jones said there are two kinds of crimes—those of omission and of commission—and men are alike guilty when they fail to do what the law says shall be done as they are when they do what the law says shall not be done. Then under six divisions he discussed the violations that should have the attention of the grand body of inquest. These were: offences against person, offences against property, offences against peace and order, offences against public justice, offences against health, offences against public morals. These were discussed clearly and practically, now and then with emphasis.

On carrying concealed weapons he said that the man who kept the law was left at the mercy of the man who failed to keep it, and this was a violation that should be rigidly enforced. The most frequent offences were by negroes who carry razors to the parties and carve up their best friends before they leave; or the young who think it takes a pistol in one pocket, a bottle in the other and a pack of cigarettes to make them grown.

Referring to lynching Judge Jones said he had already told the grand jury what murder in the first degree was, and that is what he thinks men commit when they band together, premeditate the deed, select leaders to demand the jail keys, enter the prison, take out a human being, hang him to a limb and fill his body with lead. It is murder, and there is no excuse for it in North Carolina.

Abandonment and the double lives some men lead were referred to under offences against public morals, and the effect of these upon

DEATH OF MISS MYRTLE WILSON.

Popular Young Lady Summoned From Earth.

Though she had lingered at death's door for several days and the end was not unexpected, the announcement this morning that Miss Myrtle Wilson was dead brought sadness to many hearts. She passed away about a quarter past three o'clock this morning, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Wilson, on Dickison avenue.

Nine weeks ago Miss Myrtle came home from Virginia Beach sick with typhoid, and through most of the time of her illness her condition was serious. Nothing that love or skill could perform for her restoration was left undone, but death conquered in the battle and claimed her for a victim, leaving the hearts of parents and relatives rent in grief, and friends bowed in sorrow.

Miss Myrtle Wilson was one of our most estimable young ladies and was popular with every one. She chose teaching for her life work and was more devoted to duty. Whenever she taught she was loved both by pupils and parents. She was a member of the Baptist church and ever faithful to her Christian duties.

Besides the parents she leaves three brothers and three sisters to mourn their loss. These are W. B. Frank and Eugene Wilson, Miss Olen Warren, Jr., and Misses Nannie and Lillie Wilson.

The funeral will take place Wednesday, services being held in the Baptist church and the interment in Cherry Hill cemetery. Daily Reflector 19.

Miss Myrtle Wilson's Funeral.

The funeral of Miss Myrtle Wilson, who died Tuesday morning, was held this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The services were held in the Baptist church, conducted by Rev. A. T. King, of Richmond, assisted by Rev. J. E. Ayscue, pastor of the church. The pall bearers were T. M. Hooker, C. W. Harvey, J. D. Garden, Wiley Brown, W. H. Ragsdale, W. L. Brown, J. L. Carper and D. L. James.

There were a large number of exquisite floral tributes that attested the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

IN MEMORIAM.

The Patient Circle of the King's Daughters met in special session Tuesday evening, September 19th, at the residence of Mrs. A. L. Blow to pay a last tribute of respect to the memory of a beloved and useful member of the order, Mrs. E. A. Moye, Sr., whose death has caused deep sorrow in our midst.

Since the organization of the circle Mrs. Moye has ever been one of its most useful, efficient and generous members; answering with heart and soul into every movement for the betterment of the needy within her reach. In the meetings of the state conventions Mrs. Moye has taken active part in the deliberations of that larger body and her name has figured honorably on its rolls. The circle as a whole tenders expressions of its deepest sympathy to the bereaved family where her loss will indeed be irreparable.

GAVE THEM A SCARE.

Too Much Crowding Around the Bar and Jury Box.

Yes, sir, it is warm in the court room, and Judge Jones is making it still hotter for those fellows who get $20 and costs or 90 days on the roads. And he made a quartette of darkies think they were in a sweat-box for a few minutes Tuesday.

There are times, especially if the court room is anything like full, that many crowd up in the cross aisle and hang on the bar and jury box railing and the officers frequently have to order them back to seats.

"Bring them right this way" Judge Jones commanded as he saw Sheriff Tucker with the bunch rounded up and forcing them through the entrance of the bar.

"What have those men been doing, sheriff?" asked the judge when the officer had lined them up before the bench.

"Your Honor, they were blocking the aisle and I told them several times to move back and they would not do so."

Turning to the quaking sons of Ham his Honor asked "Who do you think is running this court—the sheriff, the judge or yourself?" and with one cost they all began to make excuses.

The judge directed that the men be let go this time, but instructed the sheriff to bring up the next one who blocked the aisle or failed to obey orders, and he would let the offender try a white in jail. The lesson was a good one, and it goes without saying that there was a lesson in front afterward.

In Honor of Miss Margaret Blow.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Blow on the corner of Pitt and Fourth streets, Monday, a delightful evening was spent by the many friends of Miss Margaret Blow.

One of the amusements of the evening was a guessing contest. Percy Forbes and Miss Jane Bryan tried for the prize and the former drew it.

The prize was a nice box of candy which was very highly appreciated. Delightful refreshments were served.

It was Miss Margaret's birthday and she was the recipient of many beautiful presents.

"Where ignorance is bliss" it makes no difference. The colored woman here at court, Monday, who was wearing a last year's Parker campaign button for a brooch, was just as happy over it as any of the rest of her set.

His Night Off.

One of the attaches of the Ten Nights in a Bar Room company tried to take the whole ten nights in one after the play, Saturday night, and was not in shape to find his way to the car to get off with the troupe Sunday morning. He played his part (the both) too long.

Had Large Crowd.

A very large crowd gathered under the tent of the Frank E. Griswold company, Saturday night to witness "Ten Nights in a Bar Room." Some of the characters in the play were very good and the performance as a whole was much enjoyed.

Trains Don't Connect.

No use of mailing letters in the afternoon now, or going to the evening train with the expectation of making connection at Kinston. That thing is done for now, and it is wait until next day.

Want of Money.

Strangers coming down from the depot are sometimes heard to ask, "Why don't they do something to this street?" Because there is not anything to do it with, is the best reason we know.
