"White Letters."

Every day is a "RED LETTER" day with us. Don't wait a minute. There is reason in all things. There a Good Substantial Reason why I can sell you the same goods for 1-3 less than you can buy them elsewhere, and make our competitors wonder how we do it. It is simple—Why are Wholesale Prices less than Retail Prices—"QUANTITY" That's The Whole Story. Don't be blind or misled—Stop, Think, Look and Use the good Common Sense with which nature has endowed you. We have now in full blast a most RECORD-BREAKING SALE which has done more to boast Greenville throughout this and circumjacent counties than any trade event of recent years.

The Tremendous Money-Saving Proposition

has been hailed with every evidence of popular approval everywhere. It has garnished the name and fame of Greenville as the most liberal and Progressive Commercial Center in Eastern North Carolina.

The Mercantile Magnet will Continue to Draw Crowds Where Bargains are BEST AND BIGGEST. Were you at the RUSH that visited our store during the past week? If so and you couldn't get waited on come again, call our attention to the fact and we will see that you get what you want. Yours Respectfully, STRAY TAKEN UP.

I have taken up a stray about that has been running with my stock about two months. The stock is sandy red color, weighs about 30 pounds, has slit in right ear and bob tailed. Owner is notified to call for same and pay charges. MOSES EVANS, near Greenville.

The Death Penalty.

A little thing sometimes results in death. Thus a mere scratch, insignificant cuts or puny boils have paid the death penalty. It is wise to have Bucklen's Arnica Salve ever handy. It's the best salve on earth and will prevent fatality when burns, sores, ulcers and piles threaten. Only 25c at J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Puts an End to It All.

A grievous ailment comes as a result of unbearable pain from over taxed organs. Dizziness, Backache, Liver complaint and constipation. But thanks to Dr. King's New Life Pills they put an end to it all. They are gentle but thorough. Try them. Only 25c. Guaranteed by Jno. L. Wooten, Druggist.

End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abscess on my right lung," writes F. Hughes of Du Pont, Ga., "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all coughs, colds, and throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist. Price 50c, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Suicide Prevented.

A startling announcement that a preventive of suicide had been discovered will interest many. A run down system, or despondency invariably precede suicide and something has been found that will prevent that condition which makes suicide likely. At the first thought of self destruction take Electric Bitters. It being a great tonic and nerve will strengthen the nerves and build up the system. It's also a great stomach, liver and kidney regulator. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by Jno. L. Wooten, Druggist.

TOWN MATTERS.

Proceedings of the Board of Aldermen

The board of aldermen met in regular monthly session Thursday night with all the members present. There was not a large amount of business to transact and the session did not last as late as usual.

The street committee made a majority report recommending the opening of a street from Dickinson avenue through the Sutton property, and an order was made accordingly. This action will bring on litigation, as the owners of the property will resist the order.

The ordinance prohibiting screens and painted windows in front of pool and billiard rooms was amended so as to include restaurants.

J. F. King, who recently purchased the J. J. Turnage livery business, was given permission to continue under the same license. In a discussion following this the board agreed that hereafter no transfer of license will be granted when a business changes hands, but the purchaser of such business must obtain new license.

The white cemetery committee reported the work of cleaning Cherry Hill cemetery in progress and that the summer house had been painted. There was some discussion relative to appointing a committee of three representative colored citizens to co-operate with the committee in work done in the colored cemetery, but no action was taken.

A street light was ordered placed on Pitt street near the hose reel station.

The salary of the assistant police was increased from $35 to $40 per month and an overcoat was allowed him.

The finance committee stated plans were about perfected for borrowing money to construct the sewerage system and it is expected that work can soon begin.

The different officers made report for the past month. In the dispensary report sales for October were $5,826.60 and the purchases $4,403.40.

Orders on the treasurer were issued amounting to $901.55 which included $400 for water and light service to the town.

TABACCO SALES.

Nearly Two Million Pounds in October.

Secretary C. W. Harvey, of the Greenville tobacco board of trade, furnishes us the following figures of sales of leaf tobacco on the Greenville market:

Sales for the month of October 1,932,466 pounds at an average price per hundred of $8.43. Total sales for three months—August, September and October—6,419,631 pounds. For the same three months of 1904 the sales were 3,885,874, showing that the sales of this year have been nearly twice as large as last year.

The general opinion is that the crop of this year is over two-thirds sold.

Had the Other Kind.

A lady walked into a grocery store and asked the clerk if he had any grape nut. "No, ma'am," he replied, "but we have plenty of the other kind, walnuts, pecans and almonds." He had to get somebody else to tell him why the lady laughed.

Thanksgiving Entertainment.

The C. W. B. M. of the Christian church will give an entertainment on Thanksgiving night. Plans are now underway and full announcements will be made at an early date.

PROGRAM FOR TEACHERS MEETING.

Saturday, Nov. 11, 1905.

10 a. m. Devotional exercises—Rev. Mr. Viehe.
10:15, Reading minutes and roll call.

10:30, Difficulties encountered in rural school work, five minute papers by Misses Della Smith, Florence Patton, Daisy Carman and Nancy Coward.

10:55, How can we overcome these difficulties? Five minute talks by G. E. Linsberry, W. H. Ragdale, G. W. Prescott and I. Cook Carleton.

11:20, Difficulties encountered in graded school work, five minute papers by Misses Ada Tyson, Neva Rogers, Dora Hornaday and Olivia Cox.

11:40, How these difficulties may be overcome? Five minute talks by Thos. T. Candler, W. B. Dore, W. G. Amick and J. H. McIver.

12:00, Report of Literary committee.

General discussion of this report. It will be seen from the above program that its purpose is to aid every teacher in the county in his or her work. I want to request again that every teacher attend these meetings, and call your attention to the fact that the rules governing the schools in this county require you to do so. The penalty attached for non-attendance is that I am not allowed to approve your vouchers. I hope no teacher will force me to have to do this. I repeat what I have said before that your interest in your work is measured by your interest in these meetings. Let us have more than one hundred teachers present at this meeting.

Little Margaret Moyer Dead.

A second shadow has fallen across the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Moyer. Their little daughter, Margaret Howard, aged nearly 22 months, was taken from earth at 10:30 o'clock this morning. All her life the sweet little girl had been delicate and for some weeks she had been declining. All that love and skill could do were exerted to save the life of the little one, but these could not stay the hand of death. Many hearts throb in sympathy with the parents in their great sorrow and pray that they may have divine comfort in this trial.

The interment will take place in Cherry Hill cemetery at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Broke an Arm.

While running along from dinner on his way back to school today, David Whichard, Jr., son of the editor, fell and broke one bone near the wrist in his right arm. The little fellow showed grit, and instead of turning back home after the accident walked on down to Dr. Bagwell's office for the limb to be set.

END OF THE CENTURY CLUB.

The End of the Century Book Club was very delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Mark Quinley on the afternoon of Oct. 31st.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Cotten, the Chair was well filled by the first vice president, Mrs. J. L. Little, who presided with grace and dignity.

Among those present were Mesdames White, Dall, Clark and Mrs. Brown, of St. Louis, Mrs. Brown, who has but recently returned from abroad, entertained the club very charmingly by an interesting account of some of her European experiences. This was especially enjoyed by the club members as European travels is the subject for study this year.

Two very excellent papers on Scotland were contributed by Mesdames Langhoushouse and Williams.

The club members were delighted to welcome back into their number Mrs. F. J. Jarvis who was one of the first members.

After partaking of delicious refreshments, the club adjourned to meet on Nov. 14th, at the home of Mrs. Chas. Langhoushouse.

"Cotton Going His Way".

We do think Col. Suggs is a happy over the fact that cotton has been taken as any one we have ever seen. The colored keeps in touch with cotton, and he has been saying all the fall that the "Jay birds" would have their day ended soon. He has maintained all the time that cotton was short and prices should run high. They are vindicated his opinion. The colored says cotton will sell for 14 cents before the 15th of April 1906, and he really fears it will come before January 27th. That there is about to be a panic in the cotton market seems very evident. Col. Suggs says to all the farmers who are not compelled to sell, and can get money any where else, don't sell until after the 15th of January.

The Loneliness of Age.

How few of us treat with tenderness and consideration those who have outlived their generation and whose early companions and friends have been taken from them. They necessarily live to a great extent in a world of their own, with which those around them are not familiar. The communing of their hearts are with the scenes of the past and the companions of other years who have long ago passed away. Lover and friends have been taken from them, and their acquaintances laid in darkness. The forms they admired and loved are gone, the eyes that looked into theirs with the tenderest affection are sightless and the voices that cheered and stirred their souls have long been silent. Their early world of hope and joy has become a desolation, and they sit in silence contemplating the ruin that has been wrought. They are "only waiting till the shadows are a little longer grown" to pass on to the reunion that awaits them and the glad greetings of those they love. Who would not do what he can to cheer the loneliness of the aged, to smooth their pathway and comfort them in their declining years?—Ex.

Some Pitt County Folks.

Archibald Johnson, editor of Charity and Children, attended the recent meeting of Neuse Baptist association held at Ayden. From his notes on the association in the last issue of his paper we take the following:

At Winterville there is a school that is doing a work that cannot be measured. At its head is a man whose value is far above riches. He is one of those rare persons who can make things move, and his influence in all that region is like heaven which heaveneth the whole land. His name is Linsberry—G. E. Linsberry—and the Lord only knows how much he is worth to the world.

Behind the Winterville school and the orphanage and every good word and work stands A. G. Cox—the Noah Biggs of the Neuse association. He sells the famous cotton planter, bearing his name, and every planter that rolls out of the ship leaves a part of the profit it makes to the treasury of the denomination. Mr. Cox has money and we are glad of it, for he knows what money was made for. We wish he had a million. He loves the Lord and shows that great love by his generous gifts to the cause.

We were the guest of an orphan boy—Mr. J. R. Smith—who honors the memory of John H. Mills. Mr. Smith is now one of the most prominent merchants of Ayden and one of its fine and foremost citizens.

BIG DANCE TO BE HELD NOV. 10TH.

Invitations at Coward & Wooten's Drug Store.

Handsome engraved invitations for the big dance Friday evening November 10, are on sale at Coward & Wooten's Drug store at 10 cents each.

The dance will begin at 9:30 instead of ten o'clock as announced before, all couples are requested to be there by the appointed time, as it is strictly a card dance, and those getting there late will probably have trouble about getting their cards filled.

Levin's orchestra of ten musicians will give many musical selections from 8:30 until 9:30, for the pleasure of the audience. The public is cordially invited. Admission 15 and 35 cents.

There will be visitors here from all parts of the state, and it is well worth the price of admission to hear the splendid music, and see the many beautiful figures led with fifty or more couples participating.

The young ladies wearing beautiful evening gowns, carrying American Beauties, and all the gentlemen in full dress. It will be one of the most beautiful dances ever held in this part of the state.

The opera house will be lighted by electricity, and decorated appropriately for the occasion. Let everybody go.

Small Fire.

There was a little fire Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. Cousins, on Cotnam street in South Greenville. A lamp had been lighted and left sitting too near a window curtain. The curtain caught fire and from this the flames were communicated to a baby carriage and some table covers. An outcry was made when neighbors rushed in and extinguished the fire before any damage was done to the building. No general alarm was given.

Theatrical Hunger.

Hunger for theatricals will come to the show goer as sure as the clouds gather rain and that hunger is not satisfied until those theatrically inclined have seen a play suited to their appetites.

Such a play is Elmer Walters' "A Thoroughbred Tramp", which comes to the opera house Friday Nov. 3rd. This play has served as a stimulant for five years and seems more popular this season than ever, for rarely is the curtain raised, which reveals the picturesque atmosphere of Colorado, but what a crowded house is installed within the walls of the play house, ready to laugh and applaud the many funny situations and each climax throughout the play.

Partiment.
Charles II. was altogether in favor of extempore preaching. On one occasion he asked the famous Stillington how it was that he always read his sermons before him, when he was informed that he always preached without a book elsewhere. Stillington answered something about the awe of so noble a congregation, the presence of so great and wise a prince, with which the king himself was very well contented. "But pray," continued Stillington, "will your majesty give me leave to ask you a question? Why do you read your speeches when you can have none of the same reasons?" "Why, truly, doctor," replied the king, "your question is a very pertinent one and so will be my answer. I have asked the two houses so often and for so much money that I am ashamed to look them in the face."

Why the Bell Told.
A gentleman who was traveling from the north had occasion to stop at a country village some fifty miles from London. Having a few hours to spare he went around inspecting the places of interest in the neighborhood to pass the time pleasantly away. About midday the bell of the village church began tolling. His curiosity being aroused, he stopped a boy who happened to be passing at the time and said, "Can you tell me, my little man, why that bell is tolling?" "Course I can," said the promising rustic, "cause the sexton's pulling the rope."—London Spare Moments.

Lighter Than.
"You say Atlas held up the world?"
"I did."
"Carried it on his shoulders?"
"Yes, sir."
"He must have been a remarkable strong man. No man could do that nowadays."
"But things are different now."
"In what way?"
"Well, you see, there was but a small part of the world discovered when he held it up."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Proverbs of the Chinese.
The verbal wisdom of the Chinese has become proverbial, and, appropriately enough, it shows itself prominently in their proverbs. Many of these have already been translated into English, but here are a few more from a collection by Herr Bruno Navarra, published in Heidelberg, which may be welcome:
"It is better not to be than not to be anything."
"Repentance is the dawn of virtue."
"Even the highest tower stands on the ground."
"Man thinks he knows everything, but woman knows better."
"Even the mandarin of the first class has poor relations."
"The carver of idols never worships idols. He knows too well what they are made of."
"A day of grief is longer than a year of joy." And so on.

Two Puzzling Signs.
"Two strange signs in France and Italy have always puzzled me," said a globe trotter. "One is the sign to be seen in front of every barber's. This is a brass saucer, with a semi-circular nick in one side. Why should a nicked saucer signify a barber's shop? I have asked many people, but none could answer me."
"The other sign waves before the shops of dyers and scourers. It consists of two long, slim curtains of cloth, one on each side of the door. The curtains may be of any color, red or blue or yellow, and they are eight or nine feet long and about four feet wide. What do they mean, I wonder?"—New York Press.

The Ways of Sweden.
In Sweden a barber will shave you for 6 cents, but you have to wash your own face and comb your own hair. Women shine your shoes, shave you, cut your hair and even give you a bath unless you rebel. Policemen salute the street car conductors and are saluted by them. You take off your hat when you enter a shop and return the shopman's low bow. The comedians crack jokes on the rich Swedish-American who has come home to spend his money. There are more telephones in proportion to the population in Stockholm than in any other city in the world.

FEMININE FINANCIAL MIND.
Women Cannot Grasp the Realness of Money in Large Sums.
"The reason women rarely make a success as financiers is that they have absolutely no conception of money in bulk," said a well known broker of this city in discussing this question recently. "We have examples of it every day. We have a few women patrons, but we don't like them. I guess you'll find that chivalry dies out when it comes to a question of taking care of women's money for them."
"Men think of large sums of money in the abstract; women only in the concrete. If you tell a woman she will profit $10,000 in a certain day she thinks you are honest and not trying to get ahead of her. If you tell her there's going to be a big coup of $100,000 or so she looks at you in childlike bewilderment. The Indian possessed him by his bosom, kissing him and crying at the same time. As we moved toward the spot the Indian approached us, still holding the child in his arms, and, falling on his knees, made us a long speech, which we understood only through his signs. He was the father of this boy, whom we saved from being burned by the Pawnees. He gave us to understand by his signs that his child was carried off by his enemies."
"When the paroxysm of his joy was past we explained as well as we could how we had obtained the child. Upon hearing the name Pawnee he rushed into his hut. He soon came out, bringing two Indian scalps and his bow and arrows, and insisted that we should look at the scalps, making signs to tell us that they were Pawnee scalps which he took at the time he lost his child."
"After he finished this explanation he would lay the scalps a short distance from him and shoot his arrows through them to prove his great capacity to this nation. He then presented to my father a pair of leggings and a pipe both neatly decorated with porcupine quills, and, accompanied by his child, withdrew to his tent for the night."

O'Connell's Legal Wit.
O'Connell once defended a man of the name of John Connor on a charge of murder in Cork, and the principal witness for the crown was a policeman who found the prisoner's hat, which he left behind him in his flight from the scene of his guilt. After traveling backward and forward, as was his habit in cross examination, from the all important question as to the identity of the hat he thus continued: "Now, then, you swear that the hat in my hands is the hat you found—in every particular the same?" Witness—I do. O'Connell—And inside the hat was written the prisoner's name (looking into the hat and spelling the name very slowly), "J-o-h-n C-o-n-n-o-r?" Witness—Yes. O'Connell (holding up the hat in triumph to judge and jury)—My lord and gentlemen of the jury, there is no name in the hat at all. This made a sensation, and ultimately the prisoner was acquitted.

Professor Huxley.
Professor Huxley was a man of very simple and direct manner. In the classroom he made his lectures graphic by fine illustrations of scientific truths in everyday examples, as when in treating of animals that change their color he referred to the fact that when he was tired or nervous he faded like a flower under the sun. He was gallant to the fair sex. One of them, who attended his South Kensington lectures, asked him to introduce her to Herbert Spencer and was amused by his mock serious response, "I thought I was your first love." To this same lady he said, in talking about the death of Agassiz, the news of which he had just heard, "I wonder where he is?" He made the remark in a tone of profound sadness.

Wanted His Money's Worth.
An Albany woman the other day took her small grandson to service. As they approached the poor boy the grandmother handed the boy a dime with directions to drop it in the slot.

A FRONTIER STORY.

Indian Incident of the Early Days of the Last Century.
In the year 1824 Sylvester Pattie and his son James went from St. Louis southward into New Mexico. At one village of the Pawnee Indians the caravan found a war party with a prisoner, a child, whom Pattie and his son bought in order to keep it from torture. Some days later the whites came upon a small party of Indians, consisting of between twenty and thirty women and children, besides three men. The story as written by James Pattie goes on: "Suddenly our attention was arrested by loud screams or cries. Looking up, we saw our little boy in the arms of an Indian, whose neck he was closely clasping as the Indian pressed him to his bosom, kissing him and crying at the same time. As we moved toward the spot the Indian approached us, still holding the child in his arms, and, falling on his knees, made us a long speech, which we understood only through his signs. He was the father of this boy, whom we saved from being burned by the Pawnees. He gave us to understand by his signs that his child was carried off by his enemies."

THE TARTARS.
They Are Mostly of Turkish Stock, but Very Mixed Physically.
A word about the Tartars and Armenians in the Caucasus region: In the first place the former are not "Tartars" at all, but "Tatars." The word is practically the same in Persian and Chinese and probably means a nomad or an arrier. The letter "r" has crept into the spelling doubtless through the ignorant confusion of "Tatar" with "Tartar," which means hell, because the Tartars were supposed to be such ferocious people. According to the encyclopedia "the term Tatar is loosely applied to certain Tungusic tribes originally inhabiting Manchuria and Mongolia." The Manchus, the reigning race in China, are Tartars. In the course of the westward movement of the Mongols the term Tartar obtained vogue among the civilized people of western Asia and eastern Europe and came to be applied with little discrimination to the hordes of Mongols who descended from time to time upon the frontiers of occidental civilization and to the civilized peoples subdued by them. Ultimately it came to be used almost if not quite as a synonym for Turkish. The Tartars of European Russia are of diverse origins. Most of the peoples styled Tartars are of Turkish stock, but very mixed physically.

In their own tongue the Armenians call themselves "Haik," and according to their language, they are entitled to rank as a very old branch of the Aryan stock, in some respects intermediate between the Aryans of Europe and the Aryan peoples of greater Asia. Physically they are of a primitive type, short and thickset, dark skinned and "exaggerated brachycephalic," or short headedness. They inhabited in early prehistoric times a considerable portion of Asia Minor and have contributed to or borrowed from Aryans of other types, Semites, Caucasian peoples and Turks. They are industrious and intelligent and good business men. In many cities of the east they are the principal merchants and money lenders. Most of them belong to the Armenian church.

Armenia at present is merely a historical conception. The ancient kingdom of Armenia, the Tars, the Russians and the Persians, and the Armenian people have been scattered over Asia Minor and much of Europe.—Chicago News.

"That's a portrait of your grandmother as she looked when she was a young lady, is it? How strongly it resembles you, Miss Bendorley!"
"You only say that to flatter me. Mr. Spoonmore. Grandmother was quite a beauty, and everybody knows that I don't make any pretensions of that kind."

"Indeed I am not trying to flatter you, Miss Bendorley. The family resemblance is striking. I've often known cases of that kind. There were two sisters I was acquainted with when I was a boy. They looked wonderfully alike, just as that portrait looks like you, and yet one of them was as beautiful as a poet's dream and the other was dreadfully—that is, I mean she wasn't at all, or, rather, she was lacking in that attractive quality, you know, that constitutes what I call a 'face'—hasn't it?"

Inconveniently Popular.
At one time the Duke of Wellington's extreme popularity was rather embarrassing. For instance, on leaving home each day he was always intercepted by an affectionate mob, who insisted on hoisting him on their shoulders and asking where they should carry him. It was not always convenient for him to say where he was going, so he used to say, "Carry me home, carry me home!" And so he used to be brought home half a dozen times a day a few minutes after leaving his own door.—Life of General Sir E. B. Hamley.

The Mississippi.
The Mississippi had over a dozen native names, different designations being given at different points in its course. The Algonquians called it the Meeche Sebe; other tribes termed it Chuquaga, Mico, Tumalasa, Tappala Ri and other names. The Algonquian name was finally adopted by the whites for the whole river. The meaning is "father of waters," or "the whole river." Twenty-seven different spellings are noted in the writings of the early explorers.

Bartholomew School.
Probably the average Babylonian child who has been dead for these 4,000 years could easily have passed for a contemporary for our modern primary schools in certain respects. Babylonian explorers tell us that the child was buried in a tomb, which he had to come to memory, and that he was buried in a tomb, which he had to come to memory, and that he was buried in a tomb, which he had to come to memory.

Two Dyspeptics
If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat-producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated.
Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach to properly digest and assimilate the food they eat.
Kodol Dyspepsia Cure
contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat
Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives firm flesh.

As investigations proceed Philadelphia is shown up to be about the worst graft hole on the globe.

Whether Hearst gets the office or not, he is getting plenty of advertising which may be worth more to him.

We have not mentioned it in several days, but Greenville's need of a building and loan association has grown no less.

That the month of October recorded the largest sale of the Raleigh dispensary ever had in one month, indicates that the fair beat the legislature.

The Raleigh News and Observer says "the place for crooks, fakers and pickpockets is on the roads," at recent events show that they thrive best at state fairs.

The annual talk about fakers, pickpockets, indecent side shows and graft at state fairs will soon cease and break out again just after Raleigh pulls off the next one.

A Berlin scientist comes forward with the statement that kissing causes consumption. Yes, consumption of time if the performance is properly done on a pretty subject.

Tom Dixon would do better by not undertaking to reply to every one who adversely criticizes his play, the "Clansman." There are enough who praise it to keep it going.

A strong man has been added to the editorial fraternity of North Carolina in the person of R. W. Simpson, formerly of South Carolina, who has recently become editor of the Raleigh Times.

With such luck as the North Carolina University boys are having at football, we cannot see what they expect when they go to Norfolk on Thanksgiving Day, unless it is to give the Virginians a practice game.

Perhaps some day a North Carolina legislature may awake to the wisdom of so amending the jury system as not to require the unanimous agreement of twelve men to reach a verdict. Some provision ought to be made to prevent the stopping of a prolonged case where a member of the jury happens to be taken sick, and also to prevent mistrials when one juror holds out against all the others.

Poor Russia is getting some hard knocks.

C. J. Devlin, a bankrupt coal miner of Chicago, is dead, and the dispatches say he leaves $5,000.00 of debts behind. Better to have left them than take such a burden along with him.

They are acting like hoodlums in the campaign in New York. When flags are put up in favor of certain candidates, opposition crowds gather and pull them down.

Though it has been forty years since the civil war ended and the negroes were freed, the old overworked slave swindle keeps cropping out in the city, or at least no chance to wear it. No matter what the day's programme is there is sure to be an occasion in it when you want your very best appearance, and as an occasion comes at a moment's notice, the only way to be prepared for it is to be well dressed all the time. This cost a lot of money. It isn't an item to the rich man (perhaps), but it is to the poor man, and the curious thing about it is that the latter has to be more particular as to his appearance than the former. The man of wealth is known to be alright. The poor man has to prove it by his appearance.

FUNERAL REFORM.

The pastors of the several churches in High Point came together in an association and adopted resolutions looking to reform in conducting funerals. It is evident that some reforms are needed on such occasions, but whether the suggestions of the High Point pastors meet popular approval remains to be seen. Their resolutions read as follows:

"Believing that there should be a uniformity in the manner of conducting funerals and further believing that some of the customs now followed are unnecessarily taxing to the family and friends of the deceased by exposure to the weather, etc., we are agreed to the following suggestions which we hope all will conform to as early as possible.

"First—That we recommend that as far as practicable all should avoid arranging for funerals to be conducted on Sundays.

"Second—That we discourage the use of black as an emblem of mourning.

"Third—That the funeral director be encouraged to take charge of arrangements and relieve the ministers of this duty, either at the church or elsewhere.

"Fourth—That excessive expense be carefully avoided.

"Fifth—That the casket be not opened after leaving the residence only in very exceptional cases, but that all who desire to view the remains go to the residence and that as far as possible the family should be alone when taking final view of the remains.

"Sixth—That the funeral services not be prolonged by unnecessary eulogies of the dead or by long discourses on immortality.

"Seventh—That if the weather is inclement men should not be expected to move their hats during the reading of the burial service.

"Eighth—At the grave when the casket is lowered and the burial services have been read, the congregation shall be dismissed by the benediction or prayer, leaving the filling of the grave to the sexton, who by taking his own time can do it much better—thus saving the exposure to the weather, also the family and friends the very severe strain of hearing the rumbling of the clouds which are to be the covering of the dead."

Friday Unlucky?

The following paragraph was printed in the news column of the Standard many years ago.

The shipwreck of the Hillman, which arrived here on Friday, seems to disprove the old superstition that Friday is an unlucky day in most matters. We learn from the first officer of the vessel that the Hillman sailed from this port on Friday, that she took the first black tide on Friday, her first wreck on Friday, made her first port on Friday, and finally arrived here on Friday, with 3,500 barrels of whale, 2,180 barrels of sperm oil and 61,000 pounds of bone on board and sent home. Is Friday unlucky? The owners of the Hillman, we presume, are inclined to the opinion that it is not.

A Man and His Coat.

The very considerable expense to the dweller in the city which he does not have in the country is the need of a ways appearing "well dressed," said a young Philadelphia man, who is making his way to fortune and probably to fame. "In the little country village where I came from we only wore good clothes on certain occasions of ceremony, but here one must wear them all the time. There is no such thing as a 'second best' suit in the city, or at least no chance to wear it. No matter what the day's programme is there is sure to be an occasion in it when you want your very best appearance, and as an occasion comes at a moment's notice, the only way to be prepared for it is to be well dressed all the time. This cost a lot of money. It isn't an item to the rich man (perhaps), but it is to the poor man, and the curious thing about it is that the latter has to be more particular as to his appearance than the former. The man of wealth is known to be alright. The poor man has to prove it by his appearance."

That trial is raising "Old Nick" among the lawyers at Greensboro.

WHAT YOU CAN OR CANNOT SHOOT

As the hunting season in this state has opened the Audubon Society has issued a circular naming the game and non-game birds under the laws of the state. There is no game warden in Pitt county, but all the same those who want to see the law observed can report any violations.

The laws of North Carolina protect at all times mocking birds, thrushes, woodpeckers, yellow hammers, wrens, native sparrows, red birds, orioles, chimney swifts, night hawks or bullbats, whip-poor-wills, swallows, martins, warblers, nuthatches, chickadees, gulls of all species, terns or strikers, skimmers, sandpeeps, herons and cranes, cormorants, pelicans, sea pigeons, vultures or buzzards, and all other wild non-game birds, and also their nests and eggs.

The following are by statute declared game birds and may be killed during the open season and in such manner as prescribed by law in the various counties, viz: Loons, grebes, swans, geese, brant, ducks, rails or marsh hens, coots, gallinules, plovers, shore or beach birds, snipe, woodcock, sandpipers, yellowlegs, chowch, curlew, wild turkey, grouse, partridge, pheasant, bob-white, dove, robin and meadow lark.

The following birds are not protected by law, viz: English sparrows, owls, hawks, crows, blackbirds, jack snipe and bee-birds.

A non-resident must secure a hunter's license from county clerk before hunting in the State.

It is illegal to ship from the State the bob-white or the partridge, grouse or pheasant, wild turkey, snipe, woodcock, or any protected non-game birds.

For additional information regarding bird and game laws apply to the State's bird and game wardens, or to the Audubon Society of North Carolina, Greensboro, N. C.

Limelight Virtue.

No sign of the times is more encouraging than this universal outbreak of righteous indignation over the disclosures of corruption in the three life insurance companies. Nearly all States have been heard from. In the West especially expressions of horror and demands for instantaneous reform have been emphatic.

This is good and stimulating, and is peculiarly regrettable that some States, which are now represented by their officials as being all a thrill with virtuous wrath against the conspicuous Wall Street culprits, have been exceedingly good natured, not to say lax and sticky fingered, in their own housekeeping. They have given a free field to life insurance companies and methods which would not have been permitted for a moment in Massachusetts or Connecticut, nor even in New York. Within their jurisdictions a singular kind of life insurance horse trading has been carried on, one wobbly company selling out to another, swapping its policyholders for almost anything from mining stock to dogs. They have kept the open door for rank savings bank swindles, and have been by no means marble hearted in other similar respects.

To denounce Wall Street corruption is not only good, but popular. Every body loves to make a firm stand for virtue when it is sure to bring bouquets and preferment. Putting up the bars on the inconspicuous insurance concerns and savings banks at home is a different matter.

It is suggested that all males above the age of twenty-one who grow up and themselves struck with amazement over the revelations of malfeasance in the "big three" and over a system State regulation which could permit such things, turn to the statutes of their own States and see what safeguards their legislators have provided for policy holders and bank depositors then look about and see how such laws as exist are enforced. They will find that the disease is by no means peculiar to the country east of the Alleghenies—Saturday Evening Post.

Distribution of Mulberry Trees.

The N. C. Department of Agriculture beginning November 15th, will distribute among the farmers of the state 20,000 seedling white mulberry trees.

This distribution is intended to encourage the growing of silk in North Carolina, but the trees will at the same time furnish shade and food for poultry and hogs. Every farm in the state should have a mulberry grove.

The trees should be planted 12x12 feet on dry soil and cared for like peach or plum trees.

These trees will be sent by mail, post paid, in packages of 50 and 100. Not less than 50 nor more than 100 trees will be sent to one address.

To cover cost of package and mailing applicants must enclose one cent for each tree. Postage stamps accepted.

This is probably the last distribution of mulberry trees that will be made by the Department. Those who want them should apply at once. Those who have not tried silk growing should send for a copy of Bulletin 181.

Address applications for mulberry trees to the undersigned, GERALD MCCARTHY, Biologist, N. C. Department of Agriculture.

LETTER TO W. T. GOWIN, Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sir: Here's a bully one, Mr. Dole (not of Chicago), painter, Lancaster, N. H., got the job of painting the Episcopal parsonage. He was used to a paint, as pure as Devoe, but weak and short measure—he didn't know it was weak or short measure. Dole surveyed the job, and said it would take 20 gallons.

Mr. L. F. Moore, our agent, offered to give 10 gallons Devoe. Accepted it of course.

Even gallons did it; the 10 plus one.

Mr. Moore isn't painting parsonages on shaves this year!

Your truly, F. W. DEVOE & CO. P. S. H. L. Carr sells our paint.

Among the Counties.

According to the reports received by the Commissioners of Labor and Printing, 65 counties produce cotton at $30.03 per bale of 500 pounds; 83 produce wheat at 74 cents; 37 produce corn at 49 cents; 65 counties produce tobacco at $7.11 per 100 pounds. Information indicates substantial profit on wheat, corn, cotton and tobacco. Ten counties report educational conditions good; 34 fair; 48 poor; 5 bad; 93 report improvement; 34 report financial conditions good; 49 fair; 19 poor; 88 report improvement; 82 counties favor compulsory education; 15 oppose it.

Miss Louisa Cox went to her home in Winterville Wednesday after visiting the family of W. F. Hart.

Several new families have moved here, but we have found it utterly impossible to learn their names. Anyway Ayden is growing and that is inspiring.

Nobody wants 101 cents for cotton. It is 12 cents or nothing and we believe that is going to be the price. There is but little used and surely that will demand a good price.

The fruit tree man is here delivering trees.

Things don't stand still in Ayden. Somehow there seem to be legs to it all and it walks right off and there's lots of walking too. Do you catch on? Well, then, a Pinkerton might.

Gambling at Fairs.

The annual howl is being made by the press of the State, through editorial and correspondence, about the gambling which is seen at the various fairs. And about as much is said in promises that such things shall not be allowed again. The public has come to believe that promises to keep out fakirs and gamblers mean nothing. The promises are made every year, but the next year when the game man or the man with tricks and devices applies for a license, by some means the license is granted and in goes the gambler and flip goes the promise made a year before that gamblers should no more be allowed. The editor of The Common Wealth has seen no fair this season except the State fair at Raleigh, and we thought it was about as easy for the gamblers there as we had ever seen it anywhere, notwithstanding there has been the annual promise almost "time whereof the memory of man runneth not to the contrary," that "next year they shall not enter." And likewise the incident shows how their accustomed place there, despite the promise that they shall not show again. It really begins to look like "fair" promises are not to be counted upon and that the fakirs are in for every fair, it matters not who says what—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

OUR AYDEN DEPARTMENT.

J. M. BLOW, Manager and Authorized Agent. AYDEN, N. C.

As authorized agent for DAILY and EASTERN REFRIGERATOR we treat pleasure in receiving prescriptions and writing orders for those in arrears. We have a list of all who receive their mail at this office. We also take orders for job printing.

Harvey Cox, of Winterville, has been to see us. The recent drop in prices has brought about a stay of business for a while. John Stokes was in town Wednesday.

Sam Dixon, an employee of the Livory stable of T. W. H. H. while riding a horse had been cut by a saw and mechanic tools at J. R. Smith & Bro.

For carpenters' tools, grind stones, pump rope and pulleys, at J. R. Smith & Bro.

For corn, oats, meal, hulls, lime windows locks, blower nails, cross cut saws and mechanic tools at J. R. Smith & Bro.

If you need anything in the way of Crockery, Tin or Graystone ware come to see us, Hart & Jenkins.

A beautiful line of crockery, glass and fancy lamps, and tinware at J. R. Smith & Bro.

E. E. Dill & Co's new market for beef, fresh meats, sausage, and fresh fish.

For can peaches, apples, corn tomatoes, etc, apply to E. E. Dill & Co.

Our load of salt for sale by Cannon and Tyson.

Samuel & McLawhorn have butter that is unsurpassed.

The store of J. R. Smith & Bro. is something pretty to look at, tastefully arranged, the best line of goods in all branches and if you want to spend a pleasant hour go to see them.

Mrs. W. C. Jackson and Mrs. T. H. King and children are visiting Mrs. W. J. Jackson in the country. Mrs. R. C. Cannon went to Greenville yesterday.

Miss Evelyn Sutton, of Winterville, has been visiting Miss May Smith.

Frank Lilly and D. S. Moore went to Grifton Tuesday.

Mrs. W. E. Hooks and children returned Thursday from a visit down the road.

Cannon and Tyson invites your attention to their car load of stoves and heaters.

TO EYE SUFFERERS.

Having just returned from the Philadelphia Optical College and graduating in a special course on the human eye, and in the science of refraction, I feel fully able and prepared to correct any form of error of refraction that any other man can correct with glasses. I will take any case of weak eyes, or eye strain, dull hurting, aching, burning or itching eyes, or eyes with bad or low vision, on a positive guarantee, to relieve the trouble and give entire satisfaction to the patient or not charge one cent. The largest per cent. of all chronic headaches and eye diseases originate from errors of refraction and eye strain. It is dangerous to procrastinate when your eyes call for assistance. Glasses are the only remedy for errors of refraction and weak eyes. Any style or form of glasses given desired. As good references as are in the county furnished on application.

Very resp't.

J. W. Taylor, Ref. D.

Our rugs and art squares are finer than the finest, Cannon and Tyson.

J. W. Taylor, our optician is now back again from the Philadelphia Optical College, where he graduated in a special course in the science of optics, ready to render better service than ever before to those suffering from weak eyes and in need of glasses.

We are receiving daily heavy and fancy groceries, also a nice line of confectionaries, cigars and everything kept in a first class grocery. J. H. Tripp & Bro.

Bedsteads, mattresses, springs, single and double, rockers, dining and split-bottom chairs wash stands dressers centre tables at J. R. Smith & Bro.

Selz shoes are the best. Every pair sold under a strict guarantee. W. C. Jackson & Co. control this line for Ayden.

Calico and Gingham at 4 cents per yard, great reductions in white slippers and summer goods, at J. R. Smith & Bro.

We call your attention to our splendid line of harness, Cannon and Tyson.

Wear Corliss Coot-Collars. 2 for 25 cents. — J. R. Turnage.

Lorenzo McLawhorn is having two more offices built adjoining our's. The occupants, so we are informed will be our friends: William Hardy, col. who is in the insurance business, and John Andrews and Henry Durdin, who will conduct a wholesale butcher shop. Our neighborhood is becoming to be sort of a miscellaneous affair, a general mixture of all breeds and colors, as well as home and occupations.

Preserve your build by painting them with Harrison's Town and County Paint—oil based and full line of colors, kept at J. R. Smith & Bro.

Buy your furniture of Cannon and Tyson, they have the best and cheapest.

W. C. Jackson & Co. are showing the most complete line of men's, youths, and childrens suits ever shown in the town of Ayden. Give them a trial. They are sure that they can please you as the style and quality.

Cannon and Tyson have the strongest line of dress goods and shoes in town.

"White Letters,"

Every day is a "RED LETTER" day with us. Don't wait a minute. There is reason in all things. There a Good Substantial Reason why I can sell you the same goods for 1-3 less than you can buy them elsewhere, and make our competitors wonder how we do it. It is simple—Why are Wholesale Prices less than Retail Prices—"QUANTITY" That's The Whole Story. Don't be blind or misled—Stop, Think, Look and Use the good Common Sense with which nature has endowed you. We have now in full blast a most RECORD-BREAKING SALE which has done more to boast Greenville throughout this and circumjacent counties than any trade event of recent years.

SUPERIOR COURT.

Civil Term in Session.

The November term of Pitt Superior court, for the trial of civil cases, began this morning with Judge E. B. Jones presiding.

In calling the eighteen jurors for the first week only one failed to answer. Of the seventeen there were five with excuses. One who was sick and another who was running a public gin, which had to close during his absence, were excused for the term. Two clerks in town and one tobacco warehouse man were let off for the time being, the judge advising them they would be sent for when needed.

When the calling of cases set on the calendar for the first day began, it was found that one side or the other was not ready and it looked for a time that there would be little doing. Judge Jones advised the bar that he wanted them to give them something to do, and that after dinner he would regularly take up the calendar as arranged and the cases must be tried or the cost would be levied.

One case was non-suited because of failure of plaintiff to appear. Judgment was entered in a railroad case that had been compromised, a divorce case occupied a few minutes more, and recess was taken until afternoon.

There is a very small attendance at court, civil terms not usually having much interest about them.

Wilmington Mutiny Trial On.

Wilmington, Nov. 4.—The trial of Arthur Adams and Robert Sawyer, two of the three negro seamen charged with mutiny and murder of Captain E. R. Russell and four members of the crew of the schooner Harry A. Corwin, off this coast early in October, began in the Federal court today. A true bill was returned this evening against Henry Scott, the third of the alleged mutineers, who was the principal witness today against his shipmates, charging each of them with the murder of one man and with firing simultaneously at the third and throwing all their bodies overboard. He confessed to the killing of one negro seaman himself, but claimed that it was in self-defense after the mutiny was over. The trial of Adams and Sawyer will be continued Monday, and Scott will be placed on trial Tuesday, counsel having been assigned by the court today.

The witness today, besides Scott, were Captain J. W. Taylor, master, and Mate Simmon, of the schooner Blanche H. King, which took the negroes off the schooner at sea, and Captain I. F. Hewitt, of New Jersey, managing owner of the Berwind. The cases are being prosecuted by District Attorney, Harry Skinner, while the prisoners on trial are being defended by Attorney George L. Heschau, of Wilmington.

Negroes Bolt Party.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 4.—Developments today have confirmed the report of an organization among the negroes, the immediate result of which will be the practical elimination of the Republican negro vote from the State election next Tuesday. The organization is that of an independent negro party, the idea being for the members to absent themselves from the polls for the present as a rebuke to the white leaders of the Republican party in the State for ignoring the "brother in black." The white leaders say they are glad to get rid of the element represented in the new party, as their present effort is to build up a white Republican party in the State.

LITERARY MEETING.

Epworth League Highly Entertained.

The monthly literary meeting of the Epworth League, of Greenville Methodist church, was held Friday evening at the home of the third vice president, Miss Beattie Harding, an elaborate program had been prepared and a large number of the leaguers were present and every one enjoyed the evening.

The spacious parlor had been supplied with additional chairs to furnish seats for these lovers of literature and music, and the large crowd present was evidence of great interest in this department. The league is fortunate to have at the head of the literary department Miss Beattie Harding, who not only possesses a highly cultivated taste for and knowledge of literature herself, but also possesses a rare ability and willingness to interest others in this great work she is so ably doing.

The program rendered consisted of choicest selections of music, reading and recitations. The instrumental music was furnished by Miss Marye Haskett with a charm and ease that showed gracefulness and talent of rare possession. Mrs. H. C. Hooker sang several songs much to the delight of all present. Mrs. Hooker possesses a voice of beauty and richness which always commands admiration and applause.

The reading of selections from Riley's poems, and comments by Miss Beattie Harding were especially pleasing and instructive. Miss Harding also delighted the audience with a recitation, which was equally pleasing.

"The Foreign View of the States" was recited by Miss Dora Hornaday, who was called again and recited. "That Old Sweetheart of Mine."

The entire program was interesting and instructive, and all who attended the meeting Friday evening are delighted to note the progress the literary department is making. F. M. Hornaday, Corresponding Secretary.

Wheel Run Off.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. F. M. Hodges and her two little girls were out driving and as they started up Third street at the corner of Cotacuch one of the front wheels run off, throwing one of the girls out in the street and the other one fell and caught in the foot of the buggy. Mrs. Hodges, fortunately, being on the opposite side remained in the buggy and stopped the horse in a short distance. None of the occupants were hurt at all.

It Was All Right.

There was a large and well pleased audience in Masonic temple opera house, Friday night, to witness Elmer Walter's "A Thoroughbred Tramp." Every part of the performance was good. Manager Reuss is to be congratulated on securing this excellent play and can always expect a large house when he has this kind.

DANCE AND BANQUET FRIDAY NIGHT

All Arrangements are Made and a Pleasant Evening Assured All Who Attend.

Everybody who is looking forward to the big dance and banquet to be held here Friday evening, Nov. 10, Perkins Hall is lighted by electricity, and being decorated appropriately for the occasion. Over sixty couples have been checked beside the visitors that are coming with partners. Mrs. H. A. White is manager of the banquet committee and is doing things up in a style, and we are going to have one of the swellest banquets ever held in this state. C. S. Farnsworth is taking orders for flowers, reports over 150 dollars worth of American Beauties ordered for the dance and banquet. Everybody here, even to the business men seem to be taking interest in the dance and it is going to be a Went just in receipt of a letter from Leo's Orchestra of Raleigh, saying "it will be a treat to have us there Friday evening Nov. 10, with full orchestra and guarantee satisfaction." Prof. Levin's orchestra is considered by far the best music in the state.

This is strictly a card dance, and couples are requested to be there at nine o'clock sharp. The dance will begin at 9:30 promptly if there are only five couples participated.

Lets all come together and get there promptly on time and secure good engagements for the hop germ.

Several selections from Babes in Toyland, Potatoes, and Believing Girl will be rendered for the pleasure of the audience from 8:30 until time of dance.

Handsome engraved invitations are on sale at Oward & Wooten's Drug store at 10 cents each.

Large Fish.

The water has been turned off of Sheppard's mill pond and people in the neighborhood caught large quantities of fish, many fine chub being taken. L. R. Whitehead brought us one that measured nearly 2 feet in length.

Died.

Mrs. Sallie Ann Moore, wife of Worrell Moore, of Carolina township, died this morning. Mrs. Moore was quite old and had been in feeble health for sometime. Last Saturday she was painfully burned, by accidentally falling against a stove. She leaves a husband, who is also very old, one son and four daughters. All the children are grown.

The Columbian Club requests the presence of

at a German to be given November the tenth nineteen hundred and five in the Perkins Hall Greenville, North Carolina. The invitations are very handsome and can be secured by calling at Coward & Wooten's Drug Store at 10 cents each.

Get Ready for the Dance.

Alex. Port, of Baltimore, an expert tailor, has opened business in Greenville in the room above Frank Wilson's store. He is prepared to do all kinds of work on men's clothing. Those who want their dress suits neatly pressed for the dance should call on him. All work guaranteed at reasonable prices. 118 2nd

Back in His Old Place.

W. F. Burch came in from Baltimore Tuesday evening. "Billie" returns to Greenville to take his old place as foreman of THE REFLECTOR, a position he once filled for nearly twenty years. He is glad to be in Greenville again and his host of friends are equally glad to see him back in our midst. He is here for business and our patrons will find him ready to serve them with his old time cordiality.

Six and One-Half Millions Bales Ginned
The government ginners' report issued today, places the number of bales of this season crop ginned up to the first of November at 6,500,000 bales. The future quotations took considerable drop after the report came out.

W. F. M. Society

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. Church will hold an informal reception at the home of Mrs. Wiley Brown Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the occasion being the opening of the mite boxes. Every member is expected to be present and all the ladies of the church are cordially invited. Offerings will be thankfully received.

Marriage Follows Divorce:

At this term of Superior court there was a divorce followed quickly by a marriage. Mrs. Margaret Ann Forbes obtained a divorce from her husband, Manassas Forbes, to whom she was married about a year ago. James Curtis Harrington was in attendance upon the trial and as soon as the judgment in divorce was signed he and Mrs. Forbes went to the register's office and obtained a license. Squire C. D. Rountree was called in and married the couple.

Dear Sir: If you paint two houses alike with two different paints, and one takes twice as much paint as the other, you know which paint to buy after—that so far as go goes—don't you?

One of these paints is Devco; the other is any average paint; the worst are worse than that; the better are not much better; no other paint than Devco is anywhere near Devco in go far. Devco is go further; the rest are go short go middling and go three quarters.

Your truly,

TUESDAY'S ELECTION.

It Was Close In Some States—Amendment Defeated in Maryland.

Returns from the elections held Tuesday have been hard to get, owing to the result being so close in some states.

Both sides claim to have carried Ohio.

Stratton was elected governor of Virginia by 45,000 majority and there were large Democratic gains all over the state.

Penny van der was elected by the Democrats.

The amendment was defeated in Maryland.

New York was in doubt for a time, the election being very close, but the last report stated that McDaniel is elected mayor, and Jerome district attorney.

ORONOVILLE ITEMS.

ORONOVILLE, Nov. 7th, 1905.

Quite a number of our people went to Snow Hill yesterday.

J. R. Smith, of Ayden, passed yesterday enroute for Snow Hill.

Will Edwards spent yesterday here visiting friends.

Mrs. Wannie Hardee is sick at the house of her uncle, Mr. Patrick.

She was there on a visit a few days ago and has not been able to return home. We trust her illness may now prove serious.

The Children's Day held in the M. E. Church last Sunday was a success and reflected much credit to the managers.

R. I. Corbett and wife leave today for the Free Will Baptist Conference to be held with Gum Swamp church Pitt county, beginning to-morrow and closing Friday.

"That's just like Tyte Phist."

What is?

"You know, he's been a sufferer from uralgia for years and never has had anything done for it. Well, his wife has it now, and she makes such a fuss about it that he had to get a doctor for her, but he makes her divide the medicine with him. He gets two courses of treatment for the price of one. See?"

Witte Reported Assassinated.

A rumor was sent from London today that M. Witte, the Premier of Russia under the new order of things there, had been assassinated. The rumor lacks confirmation and is not believed.

Will Hang.

The negro, Preston Daniels, who in June last shot and killed another negro named Will Eborn on an excursion train at Parnele, will be hanged at Williamston on December 2nd.

LETTER TO J. S. HIGGS.

Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sir: If you paint two houses alike with two different paints, and one takes twice as much paint as the other, you know which paint to buy after—that so far as go goes—don't you?

One of these paints is Devco; the other is any average paint; the worst are worse than that; the better are not much better; no other paint than Devco is anywhere near Devco in go far. Devco is go further; the rest are go short go middling and go three quarters.

Your truly,
F. W. DEVCO & CO.

P. S. H. L. Carr sold our paint.
