

Many stories have been told of Southern chivalry, but the palm appears to go to a story told by a former governor of Kentucky while visiting in this city recently.

A LIVE SOCIAL ITEM

It is getting fashionable for ladies on Sunday afternoons to wear a live Maltese cat, a buff-colored jacket, and other things.

Judge F. P. Long, who is here holding court, received information this morning that a big fire occurred last night in the business section of his home town, Statesville.

Isn't it Wonderful?
Greensboro, N. C. March 29, 1903.
Mrs. Joe Person:—I take pleasure in stating that your Remedy has entirely cured our little girl of a very bad case of eczema, which covered a great part of her body. She had eczema (periodically) from the time she was three weeks old, until she was six years old. She is now perfectly well and I feel that I cannot speak too highly of it. She has not had a symptom of it for six years. Respectfully,
J. W. COBB.

You Must Sleep.

If you cannot, it is due to an irritated or congested state of the brain, which will soon develop into nervous prostration. Nature demands sleep, and it is as important as food; it is a part of her building and sustaining process. This period of unconsciousness relaxes the mental and physical strain, and allows nature to restore exhausted vitality.
Dr. Miles' Nervine brings refreshing sleep, because it soothes the irritation and removes the congestion.
It is also a nerve builder; it nourishes and strengthens every nerve in your body, and creates energy in all the organs. Nothing will give strength and vitality as surely and quickly as Dr. Miles' Nervine.
"During the past few years I have been afflicted with a nervous condition which left me unable to sleep. I had tried many different medicines, but without success. My wife, after trying different remedies, was out and a neighbor recommended a bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine. I had not slept for some time, and had terrible pains in my head. After taking a few doses of Nervine, the pains went away, and I slept. I am now taking the second bottle, and am very much improved."
HENRY M. SMITH, Underhill, Vt.
Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the best bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Directions For Darning New Flannel Before It is Made Up.
New flannel should always be shrunk or washed before it is made up, that it may cut out more accurately and that the goods which is used in manufacturing it may be extracted.
First cut off the list along the salvage edges of the whole piece. Then put it into warm (not boiling) water, without soap. Begin at one end of the piece and rub it with both hands till the other end is reached. This is to get out the grease and the blue with which new white flannel is always tinged. Then do the same through another water. Rinse it through a clean lukewarm water, wring it lengthwise and stretch it well.
In hanging it out on a line do not suspend it in festoons, but spread it along the line straight and lengthwise. If dried in festoons the edges will be in great scallops, making it very difficult to cut out. It must be dried in the sun. When dry let it be stretched even, clapped with the hands and rolled up tightly and smoothly till wanted.

Garnish For Steak.
Slice firm, mild flavored onions a quarter of an inch thick, lay the slices for three hours in weak salt water, rinse dry and drop in hand-ful into deep fat, boiling hot, says Good Housekeeping. Watch them closely and skim out the minute they are browned and crisp. Drain on blotting paper, and either pile in a hot dish or use as a garnish. Potatoes cut lengthwise into straws, soaked and fried with the onions, help to make them among the best garnishes for a well broiled steak or good roast.

Removing Finger Rings.
When from any cause there is difficulty in slipping a ring over the finger joint pass the end of a piece of fine twine under the ring, pull an inch or so of the twine toward the hand and wind the rest of it around the finger upward nearly to the nail. Take hold of the end nearest the hand and unwind it gradually, when the ring will slide slowly off. If the experiment does not succeed the first time it should be tried again with a longer piece of string.

Toasted Bread and Bacon.
First cut the bacon thin, then cut as many slices of bread as there are pieces of bacon, leaving the bread nearly an inch larger all around than each slice of bacon. Trim off the hard crusts. Set the bread in a dripping pan, lay a slice of bacon upon each piece of bread and set in a hot oven, where it will cook in from two to six minutes. As soon as the bacon is well crisped transfer each slice to a hot plate.

To Clean Burned Dishes.
Baking dishes that become burned in the oven and plates that are blighted that become blackened with the food searched upon them should not go through the tedious process of scraping. Simply put a little water and ashes in the dish and let it become warm, and the burned and discolored portions may be easily cleaned without marring the dish.

Disinfecting a Water Cask.
Empty the cask, turn open end down and supported on one side so as to leave an opening. Fill some of sulphur in an old piece of iron and set fire to it and place beneath the cask. The fumes of the burning sulphur will do the disinfecting. Before using the cask again it will be well to coat the inside of the cask with treacle or honey.

A Laundry Hint.
Unless washed with great care black stockings will soon turn a greenish color. They should be washed with soap that is free from soda and rinsed in water to which a teaspoonful of vinegar has been added. When damp press them into shape, but do not iron, as heat tends to destroy the color.

Bleached Linen.
Milk is a good solvent for linen by a preparation of soft soap, powdered starch and salt, used in equal proportions and to which the juice of a lemon has been added. Paint both sides of the linen with this and let it stand out in the air until the spots disappear.

Soiled Linen.
When linen is much soiled or has been lying too long a thin piece of plaster dissolved in hot water will clean it with half the amount of soap required without the pipeclay.

To Skin Tomatoes.
Instead of putting tomatoes into hot water to loosen the skin when peeling them, try rubbing the skin with the flat edge of the knife.

Kid Boots and Shoes.
A mixture of cream and ink is good for keeping kid boots or shoes in good order.

Pool, deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to the estate to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and all persons having claims against the estate must present them to the undersigned on or before the 17th day of January, 1907, or this notice will be closed in bar of recovery.

of Mrs. M. E. Pool.

Born Blind.
A great criminal lawyer in New York, Mr. R. is a rich and lovely child, who is famous for her extremely haughty manner.
This noted beauty had run down a poor old woman in her auto and was arrested.
"Oh, Mr. R., do you think you will be able to get me out of this?" she asked piteously.
"Yes, indeed," said he, with a twinkle in his eye. "I'll prove conclusively to the jury that from the hour of your birth you've never been able to see any one worth less than $100,000."—Harper's Weekly.

Read's Ride "Round the Horn."
Tom Reed, accompanied by William Bryant, a well known politician in Waltham, took a Watertown branch (Pittsburgh) railroad train one evening for the Watch City, where he was looked to speak at a Republican rally. It was Reed's first experience going "around the horn." Stop after stop was made, and finally the brakeman sang out: "Bleachers! Bleachers! The next station is 'Chambers!'"
"Yes, Bill," drawled Reed, "this train is taking a regular high school course."—Boston Herald.

His Sore Spot.
The passenger who had come into the street car last for four times and regarding with some interest the exceedingly red nose of the man sitting opposite. The owner of the nose also appeared to find it, for he leaned forward presently and said, with evident irritation: "I know what you're lookin' at."
"I beg your pardon?"
"I say I know what you're lookin' at, and it ain't what you think it is at all. It's erysipelas. And what's more, it's none of your business anyhow!"

A Curious People.
That very curious race of "web footed," short legged Papuan dwarfs, the Agaitambes, is not quite extinct. Captain Barton, an official in New Guinea, tells of a visit he paid at the end of last year: "A rafter having reached Cape Nelson that these interesting folk had all been massacred, it was gratifying to find a few of them still extant. Six males and four females were seen and examined. They asserted that they have no children living, and it seems likely that in a few years the tribe will have wholly died out."

Donnor's Dead Kings.
The early kings of Denmark are pillars of the church in an unusual sense. They were entombed in the Cathedral of Roskilde, which may be called the Danish Westminster Abbey, where the late King Christian was buried last month. The roof is supported by large masonry pillars, and nearly every column is the tomb of a king. The dead monarchs were walled up in them in a standing posture, and their very figuratively be said to have been holding up the church itself for centuries.

STRAY TAKEN UP.
I have taken up a sow and seven pigs that were found on my property. These are not mine by proving property and losing evidence. A. H. HARRIS, 107 S. 1st St., Greenville, N. C. March 28th, 1906.

Tutt's Pills
will save the dyspeptic from many days of misery, and enable him to eat whatever he wishes. They prevent SICK HEADACHE, cause the body to assimilate and nourish the food, give keen appetite, DEVELOP FLESH and solid muscle. Elegantly sugar coated.
Take No Substitute.

MEDICINE IN THE KITCHEN.
Experiments have shown that drugs, which are most used only in formally prescribed mixtures or pills are capable of introduction into the more welcome output of the domestic kitchen. It is often difficult when a medicine has to be taken frequently and over long periods of time to be sure that the patient does not grow careless or forgetful. If, however, instead of taking his pill after his daily meals, that pill were, without altering the taste of the dish and without losing its own efficacy, combined with the patient's dinner instead of preceding or following it, the physician's orders would be more conscientiously carried out by compliance on the part of the cook than they are with the cooperation of the druggist. Such a relocation of the dispenser's duties to the hands of the chef can only be achieved by familiarity on the part of the medical man with the work of both his subordinates.

No Waiters, No Tips, No Delays.
Ingenious automatic restaurants have recently been introduced in Berlin. Cabinets with glass fronts line the walls, and through these glass fronts are to be seen rows and rows of little elevators, with the slots and mechanism for working them. Shelves all around on the little elevators bring up hot soups, hot roasts, cold meats, pies, sandwiches, tea, coffee—in fact, whatever is on the menu, and that is furnished daily. All the customer has to do is to decide what he wants, stop his coin in the little opening and await results. In less than a minute up comes his meal, raised by electricity from the kitchen in the basement, and it comes either steaming hot or ice cold, just as ordered, and clean, fresh and sweet, with no dirty handed waiter, with white cuffs and greasy apron to take your appetite away while hooding it to you.—Technical World.

Stevenson's Engravings.
It is a well known fact that Robert Louis Stevenson had artistic aspirations in more than one direction. He once while in Scotland engraved on wood and printed a lot of crude but original and striking illustrations for certain of the books which were given away to his friends. The only complete set of these curious little books belongs to Mrs. Charles Fairchild of Boston. The blocks themselves are, it is believed, in the Boston museum.

Queer George Bernard Shaw.
Some one offered to send G. Bernard Shaw a box of game, but he replied that he would rather die than live at the price of bloodshed. "Surely you must be fond of blood," Mr. Shaw? "So I am of children," he replied, "but I don't cut off their heads and stick them in pots about the room."

You Must Sleep.
If you cannot, it is due to an irritated or congested state of the brain, which will soon develop into nervous prostration. Nature demands sleep, and it is as important as food; it is a part of her building and sustaining process. This period of unconsciousness relaxes the mental and physical strain, and allows nature to restore exhausted vitality.
Dr. Miles' Nervine brings refreshing sleep, because it soothes the irritation and removes the congestion. It is also a nerve builder; it nourishes and strengthens every nerve in your body, and creates energy in all the organs. Nothing will give strength and vitality as surely and quickly as Dr. Miles' Nervine.
"During the past winter I had two attacks of Lethargy which left me very weak and in bed a long time. After trying different remedies, I used a quantity of your Nervine, and a neighbor recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine, and I bought a bottle. I did not sleep for some time, and had terrible pain in my head. After taking a few doses of Nervine my pain went and I felt better, and I slept. I am now feeling like a new man. I can now do my work. I am very grateful to you for your Nervine. It is a great blessing to me."
J. HENRY M. SMITH, Underhill, Vt.
Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.
Directions for Chinking New Flannel Before It is Made Up.
New flannel should always be shrunk or washed before it is made up, that it may cut out more accurately and that the grease which is used in manufacturing it may be extracted.
First cut off the list along the salvage edges of the whole piece. Then put it into warm (not boiling) water, without soap. Begin at one end of the piece and rub it with both hands till the other end is reached. This is to get out the grease and the blue with which new white flannel is always tinged. Then do the same through another water. Rinse it through a clean, lukewarm water, wring it lengthwise and stretch it well.
In hanging it out on a line do not suspend it in folds, but spread it along the line straight and lengthwise. If dried in festoons the edges will be in great scallops, making it very difficult to cut out. It must be dried in the sun. When dry let it be stretched even, clapped with the hands and rolled up tightly and smoothly till wanted.

Garnish For Steaks.
Slice firm, mild flavored onions a quarter of an inch thick, lay the slices for three hours in weak salt water, rinse dry and drop handfuls into deep fat, boiling hot, eggs Good Housekeeping. Watch them closely and skim out the minute they are browned and crisp. Drain on blotting paper, and either pile in a hot dish or use as a garnish. Potatoes cut lengthwise into straws, soaked and fried with the onions, help to make them among the best garnishes for a well broiled steak or good roast.

Removing Finger Rings.
When from any cause there is difficulty in slipping a ring over the finger joint pass the end of a piece of fine twine under the ring, pull an inch or so of the twine toward the hand and wind the rest of it around the finger upward nearly to the nail. Take hold of the end nearest the hand and unwind it gradually, when the ring will slide slowly off. If the experiment does not succeed the first time it should be tried again with a longer piece of string.

Toasted Bread and Bacon.
First cut the bacon thin, then cut as many slices of bread as there are pieces of bacon, leaving the bread nearly an inch larger all around than each slice of bacon. Trim off the hard crusts. Set the bread in a dripping pan, lay a slice of bacon upon each piece of bread and set in a hot oven, where it will cook in from two to six minutes. As soon as the bacon is well crisped transfer each slice to a hot plate.

To Clean Burned Dishes.
Baking dishes that become burned in the oven and plates and platters that become blackened with the food scorched upon them should not go through the tedious process of scraping. Simply put a little water and ashes in the dish and let it become warm, and the burned and discolored portions may be easily cleaned without injuring the dish.

Disinfecting a Water Cask.
Empty the cask, turn open end down and supported on one side so as to leave an opening. Place some sulphur in an old piece of iron and set fire to it and place beneath the cask. The fumes of the burning sulphur will disinfect. Before using the cask again it would be well to wash the inside of the cask with five percent lime.

A Laundry Hint.
Unless washed with great care black stockings will soon turn a greenish color. They should be washed with soap that is free from soda and rinsed in water to which a teaspoonful of vinegar has been added. When damp press them into shape, hang up to dry, as heat tends to destroy the color.

Amnesia Cures.
Miles' Nervine is a powerful and safe remedy for amnesia, and is used in equal proportions with water. A little of a strong tea has been added. Point being the fact that with this and a little rest in the air and a little sleep.

Snake Lings.
When lings are much puffed or have been injured by a snake bite, a pipeclay dissolved in hot water will clean it with half the amount of soap required without the pipeclay.

To Skin Tomatoes.
Instead of putting tomatoes into hot water to loosen the skin when peeling them, try rubbing the skin with the flat edge of the knife.

Kid Boots and Shoes.
A mixture of cream and ink is good for keeping kid boots or shoes in good order.

Born Blind.
A great criminal lawyer in New York, Mr. B., has a rich and lovely client, who is famous for her extremely haughty manner.
"This noted beauty had run down a poor old woman in her auto and was arrested.
"Oh, Mr. B., do you think you will be able to get me out of this?" she asked pitiously.
"Yes, indeed," said he, with a twinkle in his eye. "I'll prove conclusively to the jury that from the hour of your birth you've never been able to see any one worth less than $100,000."—Harper's Weekly.

Reed's Ride "Round the Horn."
Tom Reed, accompanied by William Bream, well known politician in Waltham, took a Waterbury branch (Fitchburg railroad) train one evening for the Watch City, where he was booked to speak at a Republican rally. It was Reed's first experience going "around the horn." Stop after stop was made, and finally the locomotive came out "bleatery! bleatery! The next station is Chemistry!"
"Say, Bill," drawled Reed, "this train is taking a regular high school course."—Boston Herald.

His Sure Spot.
The passenger who had come into the street car last found himself regarding with some interest the exceedingly red nose of the man sitting opposite. The owner of the nose also appeared to find it out, for he leaned forward presently and said with evident irritation: "Bleatery! bleatery! The next station is Chemistry!"
"Say, Bill," drawled Reed, "this train is taking a regular high school course."—Boston Herald.

No Waiters, No Tips, No Delays.
Ingenuous automatic restaurants have recently been introduced in Berlin. Cabinets with glass fronts line the walls, and through these glass fronts are to be seen rows and rows of little elevators, with the little elevators bring up hot soups, hot roasts, cold meats, pies, sandwiches, tea, coffee—in fact, whatever is on the menu, and that is changed daily. All the customer has to do is to decide what he wants, drop his coin in the little opening, and await results. In less than a minute up comes his meal, and he is eating in the kitchen in the basement, and it comes either steaming hot or ice cold, just as ordered, and clean, fresh and sweet, with no dirty handed waiter with black cuffs and greasy apron to take your appetite away while handing it to you.—Technical World.

Stevenson's Emperors.
It is not very generally known that Robert Louis Stevenson had artistic aspirations in more than one direction. He once while in Switzerland engraved on wood and painted a lot of cards but on an occasion striking illustrations for a cartoon in the books which were given away to friends. The only complete set of these curious little books belongs to Mrs. Charles Fairchild of Boston. The blocks themselves are, it is believed, in the Boston museum.

Queer George Bernard Shaw.
Some one offered to send G. Bernard Shaw a box of game, but he replied that he would rather die than live at the price of bloodshed. So the anxious donor offered flowers. "Surely you must be fond of flowers, Mr. Shaw?" "So I am of children," he replied, "but I don't cut off their heads and stick them in pots about the room."

Danmark's Dead Kings.
The early kings of Denmark are pillars of the church in an unusual sense. They were entombed in the Cathedral of Roskilde, which may be called the Danish Westminster abbey, where the late King Christian was buried last month. The roof is supported by large masonry pillars, and nearly every column is the tomb of a king. The dead monarchs were walked up to them in a standing posture, and they may figuratively be said to have been holding up the church itself for centuries.

by his client. This represents the true lawyer. Now for the other kind, and I believe they are greatly in the majority. The lawyer that will pervert the truth, foment discord, tamper with witnesses and bribe jurors, knowingly mislead the judge, knowingly use false testimony and make himself a party to the crime. Principle with this class are things to use, to trade on and desert. Truth, honor and patriotism are so many stage habits which he may or may not assume, as occasion requires. There is a much larger part of the latter class now than there was 30 or 40 years ago. It is the latter class that a prominent Southern railroad official is credited with saying that "we must control the Senate. We prefer to elect our own attorneys, but we must have attorneys for certain part of them can be made railroad attorneys after they are elected—d-d quick!"

J. J. LAUGHINGHOUSE, Greenville, N. C., March 31.

The foregoing letter from Mr. J. J. Laughinghouse, of this town, appeared in the Sunday issue of the Raleigh News and Observer. It is in line with an editorial that appeared in The Reflector a few days ago, and the letter also drew forth a strong editorial in the News and Observer warning the people against the danger of electing corporation lawyers to our legislative bodies. The people cannot be appealed to too strongly along this line, as there was never a time in the history of our State and Nation when this danger was greater. The trusts, the railroads, the great insurance companies and large corporations generally are using every effort to control our legislative bodies, and they can readily accomplish this through their lawyers and employees being elected to seats in these bodies. The people can check this if they will.

The Charlotte News thinks Asheville might discard wrestling matches and try bull fights. Morally speaking the bull fight might be no worse, but it comes under the ban of cruelty to animals. The dumb brute is driven into the fight, while the human brute goes in voluntarily. It is a little strange that refined people look on and applaud such things.

Pulley & Bowen THE HOME OF WOMAN'S FASHIONS

Old Indian Saying. The coward shoots with shut eyes. Small things talk loud to the Indian's eye. The paleface's arm is longer than his word.

No Indian ever sold his daughter for a name. When a fox walks lame, old rabbit jumps. A squaw's tongue runs faster than the wind's legs.

There is nothing so eloquent as a rattlesnake's tail. The Indian scalps his enemy; the paleface skins his friends.

Before the paleface came there was no poison in Indian's corn. There will be hungry palefaces so long as there is any Indian land to swallow.

Man an Accident. The great majority of men are accidents. I mean that they are creatures of circumstances and victims of environment. How small indeed must be the number who set out in life at an early age to become this, that or t'other and are now switched off the track with just a little incident.

Some of us are switched off early and some late; nay, some too late. I do not believe it advisable for a man to change his occupation after he is forty five. Yet many men do make a change, and for the better, even after fifty or fifty-five.

A man should be settled down at about thirty three. At that age he is old enough to have some sense, and should know pretty well his bent and capabilities. Most of us, however, are the straws of every wind that blows.—New York Press.

WORK FOR HIS OWN SAKE. WHAT TAXATION SHOULD BE.

Get work! Get work! Be sure 'tis better work than what you work to get. While this advice might have been that of any wise man to youth in our own day, the words are Carlyle's to the youth of all time in his "Sartor Resartus." The young man who loses his appreciation of the fact that the work which develops his mind, his will, his power of appreciation and persistence of purpose, is in itself worthy of his love, and will some day come to be, according to loyalty of disloyalty to it, either his happiest memory or his most dreaded recollection, does not know real values. The time comes to every man to whom business has been a career and not mere bread-and-butter affair, when the enjoyments incident to his work and not the scattered plums which he has managed to secure from the proceeds of his work, are the real jewels of his collection.

The fun of the fight—the more playing the game—is satisfaction such as one can make sure of as he works, and to fail to secure it because of the common misconception that happiness dwells apart from the paths of the worker and must be reached only at the end of a long climb, is in the nature of tragedy. It was well back in the last century says The Bulletin of the American Institute of Bank Clerks, when the socialism of today took on a somewhat different phase, and the doctrine of state and community-ownership of lands was openly preached. All your work in accumulating acres is wasted. What do you think of the redistribution scheme, "Uncle John's"? The old man was prompt with his reply: "By glory, I just wish they would do it; I'd like no better fun in this world than to get the land all away from the fools again." No one could accuse the old man of not playing the game to the limit from pure love of the game.—New York Commercial.

EASE SUSAINED ON TECHNICALITY.

ough Tenor of Judge Long's Opinion Seems Favorable to Annulment. The decision of Judge B. F. Long in Hill et al vs. A. & N. C. Company and Howland Improvement Company, for the annulment of the lease of the A. & N. C. Railroad, was filed with the clerk of the Superior Court at New Bern, yesterday evening. The decision is sealed envelope, as placed in charge of Mr. June Stephenson, local agent of the Southern Express Company, Sunday morning, and taken to New Bern by Mr. Stephenson personally and delivered to the clerk of the court.

Upon request of several and in the presence of counsel, the decision was read last night. The opinion is construed to be a victory for both sides and though sustaining the lease on a technicality the whole tenor of the document seems to be favorable to plaintiffs' counsel are much pleased with the opinion and express themselves as preferring the favorable opinion to a decision for them in technicalities. The matter was finally referred to the Supreme Court of North Carolina for final adjudication, and will probably set with the State court's decision, as plaintiffs would have no cause to remove to federal court should the opinion be against them and the only grounds for defendant to remove the case from the State court is that stockholders in the lease corporation are non residents.

The opinion handed down by Judge Long is a lengthy one and he holds the pivotal point to be the clause in the A. & N. C. Railroad's charter, as to the State's right to lease, which is held to be in favor of the State. He cites court decisions and statutes and refers frequently to the allegations made in plaintiff's complaint. The case will go up on appeal to the Supreme Court.—Kinston Free Press, 2nd.

Ten-Story Light House On Diamond Shoals.

The lighthouse which Captain Eels has contracted to place on the Diamond Shoals is to be a ten-story structure, the floors of which are to be occupied as follows: The first will be equipped with three lifeboats, with a crane for hoisting or lowering on the outside. The second floor will be divided into four rooms, and contain the fog-signaling apparatus and two oil engines. The third floor will contain the hoisting engine for operating the crane, two large provision rooms and a bedroom. The fourth and fifth floors will each have two bedrooms, a writing room and a bathroom. One-half of the sixth floor will be devoted to the dining-room, the other half to the kitchen, pantry and refrigerator. The seventh floor will have a double sitting-room or library, and a laundry. On this floor also will be a tank holding 1,000 gallons of fresh water. The eighth floor will be properly equipped for the lighthouse service. The ninth floor will contain the watchroom, and it will have a gallery extending all the way around it. The floor above this will contain the light itself, visible in storm or calm for about twenty miles.

COUNTY MATTERS.

Proceedings of the Commission ers. The board of county commissioners were in session on the first Monday, all the members present. The following sums were paid out of the treasury: For paupers $152.75; county home $181.78; superintendent health $25; coroner $36.10; court costs and officers $57.05; bridges and ferries $442.60; record books and stationery $51.45; jail $99.50; court house $121.37; conveying prisoners and insane $18.40; roads $41.39; register of deeds $18.60; clerk court $2; jurors $170.95; commissioners $21; Chief road $9.30; Greenville roads $205.31; county stock law $188.03; Winterville stock law $0.40; Belvoir stock law $0.40.

The treasurer, sheriff and superintendent of health filed their monthly reports. A petition was presented for a public road in Falkland township from a point on the Center Bluff and Farmville road to a point nearly opposite Waiter Corbitts residence on the upper Farmville road.

The public road in Beaver Dam township petitioned for at March meeting was ordered laid out. A counter petition having been filed regarding a public road in Contentnea township petitioned for at March meeting, action was deferred to the May meeting.

An illegitimate child at the county home was ordered bound out to J. A. Hardee. J. R. Davenport was authorized to purchase pulleys for the ferry flat at Pactolus.

T. B. King was authorized to purchase certain tiling for Farmville roads. The following were appointed list takers in the several townships to list the taxes for 1906: Beaver Dam, J. W. Smith. Belvoir, J. A. Thigpen. Bethel, S. A. Ganoor. Carthage, H. G. Nobles. Contentnea, C. J. Tucker. Falkland, F. G. Dupree. Farmville, R. L. Joyner. Greenville, R. Hyman. Pactolus, Brascoe Bell. Swift Creek, R. F. Johnson.

His Career Ended.

Information reached here today that Mr. John W. Carson died Tuesday at his home in Bethel. There are many people in Pitt, Beaufort and Edgecombe counties who knew him, as he was one of the most notorious operators of blind tigers we have ever known. It seemed second nature with the old man to sell whiskey. Few courts come that he was not indicted. Time and again he served terms in jail and once lost a leg while hauling a barrel of whiskey to a meeting on Sunday, but none of these things seemed to stop him. At January court he was sentenced to jail and was released only a few days ago. The county never had a man whose influence was worse.

Got Six Years.

The negro who a few weeks ago robbed a store in the edge of Jones county and was run down by Mr. W. C. Hines' blood hounds, has been convicted and sent to the penitentiary for six years. Judge B. F. Long held the court at Trenton in which the negro was tried and convicted, and said the blood hounds did good work and he was glad some people would think that could track criminals so well. This week Mr. Hines has been over in Duplin county running criminals with the hounds.

DOINGS AT GRIFTON.

"Vanderbilt" Tells of Things as He Sees Them. Grifton, N. C. April 4th. Last Saturday was a gala day for the visitors at Grifton. Your correspondent took a short walk up the street, and the first he ran up against was Mr. David Moore with a pulpit in his cart for the church at Live Oak. Spot cotton we found going all the way from 10j to 11j which shows the great competition among our buyers. The Grifton Manufacturing Co. have placed a grist mill in the plant and now lay ye epicurion artists can come and get your fill of corn dodgers and "petticher" most any time.

"Spring salit" is all at a bloom. One of our esteemed friends not far from Grifton, was told had two babies, one old baby, and one young baby, the oldest too old to cut teeth, and the other too young to cut teeth, therefore neither had teeth. Someone was telling "Vanderbilt" about it and he said in a case of that kind there would be no danger of their "gashing teeth" in the world to come. But they could have a good time gumming it like the D-1.

And now there is something I want to call the attention of the Democrats to. The negroes are going to make a raid on the Democratic party. If straws indicate the way the wind blows they "shure am goin to do dat thing." How? Why? How you know "Vanderbilt"? Why jess case you see de darkies have quit taking Bumpulican and independent papers, and scribbling for de Greenville Reflector, Kinston Free Press, Raleigh Evening Times, &c., all Democratic papers. Well, now, how is that for high, Vanderbilt "Pretty dad-dim high."

Some one asked old man Sam the other day, how it was fixed that a 2 cent stamp would carry a letter here, there and everywhere in the United States, and a one cent stamp only to one place? He said one cent carries it to one place and the other cent just took it all over the country until it found the one it was looking for.

Now look here folks, I am here to tell you all something and don't you forget it, Grifton was struck with a mighty whirl wind and cyclone last night. Everything had the bark torn off from the top to the roots, jess did leave life and dats all.

The Rev. Walker, state evangelist for the Dioceses of North Carolina, preached in this town last evening one of the best sermons ever fell from the lips of man. He unloaded his artillery of eloquent thunder upon the congregation and literally peeled the form of our poor souls, until we didn't feel like we had ever been a Christian at all. Our going out to hear him was like a certain fellow who had stole a sheep before the war, went up to New Bern court to answer for his sin, and got through his case and was the first man back home. His neighbors asked him how he managed to get back so quick? He said well, he just took 30 lashes and got off clear. They had the whipping post then. So when I was asked how I liked the sermon I told them first class, that the more of my hide the preacher took of the better I liked him, and I would to God we could have just such preaching all over the whole world, then some people would think Saint Paul had risen from the dead. Selah. "Vanderbilt."

Rowan county has a law suit in which $113 derived from the sale of an acre of land is to be divided among 75 heirs. If the action has not progressed too far we respectfully suggest that acre be retained and used as a family burying ground.—Greensboro News.

J. C. Gorham, a young man of Beaufort county, was found dead in a well near the camp of the Greenleaf Johnson Lumber Co.

SAM SLAUGHTER CAUGHT.

Officers Came Near Getting His Brother, Newman, Also. Two negroes that the officers here have been very anxious to get their hands on were Sam and Newman Slaughter. There are three of these brothers, Sam, Ham and Newman, all pretty tough characters. Newman Slaughter, it will be remembered, was serving a term of imprisonment in New Jersey. He made his escape and came here where his brothers, Sam and Ham, were staying. After some watching and a good bit of work officers here captured Newman and the New Jersey authorities were notified. An officer from that state came for the prisoner, and while at the passenger depot here waiting for the train Sam and Ham cut the rope with which Newman was bound and helped him to escape. For this offense Ham was sent to the penitentiary for 18 months and Sam was sentenced to the roads for 12 months.

Sam had only served about one month of his road sentence when he made his escape and could not be found. This was several months ago. Recently Superintendent Joe McLawhorn, who has charge of county convict camp, received information from citizens of Oxford that Sam and Newman Slaughter had been living near that town since Christmas and were a terror to the neighborhood.

Superintendent McLawhorn accompanied by Officers G. A. Clark and J. J. Harrington, went to Oxford five days ago to investigate. They first called on the officers there and learned that the negroes occupied a log house about a mile and a half from the town.

They were also advised by the officers there that it would be dangerous to try to arrest the negroes, as they were heavily armed and somebody would be killed. Superintendent McLawhorn was not daunted by this, and after some persuasion induced the deputy sheriff and two others to accompany the officers who went from here to the scene. A scout was sent on ahead and as he passed close to the house one of the negroes shot at him. Later the officers surrounded the house when Newman made a break for liberty. Several shots were fired but he got away. There was better success as to Sam and he was captured. The officers reached here with Sam Wednesday evening.

Viche. 10:45 a. m.—Roll call, and reading of minutes. 11 a. m.—Paper, The Social Life of the Teacher—Miss Alice Taylor. 11:15 a. m.—The Future of the Teacher and her Work—Supt. W. B. Smith. GENERAL DISCUSSION. 11:45 a. m.—Paper, The Preparation of the Child—Miss Agnes Moore. 12 m.—Vacation—How Shall We Spend It?—W. H. Ragsdale. GENERAL DISCUSSION. 12:30—Adjourn. Those will be seen the program for the next teachers' meeting. We want every teacher in the county present at this meeting. Your presence will show your interest in the work and that you have not been attending just simply to draw your salary. A large number of your schools will have closed before the meeting. This should not keep you away. Your opportunity to come will be better, your obligation greater. I shall be disappointed if the meeting is not largely attended. There are some things I wish to say to all of you and I hope to do so this day. I will make this proposition to you. Every teacher who will attend the next meeting will be excused from any further attendance until next fall. Those who do not attend, unless satisfactory excuse is rendered, will be notified to attend a special meeting held for them and for them alone in May. Teachers, show your interest in the work and progress of the county by being here promptly on Saturday, April 14th. W. H. RAGSDALE, Co. Supt. Schools.
