The Ladies Home Journal

began to sell paper patterns we began to investigate. we said to ourselves,

THE LADIES HOME JOURNAL

Is the leading Womens Magazine. It is first class and has never done anything in a second class way. We knew that its reputation was at stake. Our investigation convinced us that the patterns are as high grade as the Magazine

Furthermore the Ladies Home Journal added a new feature which makes these patterns much more desirable than any other pattern. They furnish a Guide Chart free with each pattern. This Chart shows exactly how the pattern is to be put together. It is so comprehensive that a child can understand it. It is a boon to ladies who are inexperienced in garment cutting and garment making. Mothers advise us that by the aid of the Guide Chart furnished with each they train their daughters to do their own sewing

But there is still another point to consider. The patterns are all new, no old styles, no ancient creations; all new, all up-to-date and perfect in fit and style, and so much more easily understood than other patterns that one trial will convince you and make you a regular customer

Tar Heel Baptists Moving Upward.

Rev. Livingston Johnson returned yesterday afternoon from the Southern Baptist convention, which closed its session at Chattanooga, Tennessee, Monday night. In speaking of the convention Mr. Johnson said it was the largest he has ever attended. There were over two thousand delegates enrolled, and fifteen hundred visitors who were not delegates, making the whole number in attendance between three and four thousand.

Mr. Johnson said:

"There were more from North Carolina than for many years. The reports of the boards were the best ever made; $315,000 for foreign missions and a large number of converts this year than in any previous year. The home board reported $167,000, and four thousand more baptisms this year than last. There is a twenty thousand dollar debt on the foreign board, but the home board reported no debt. The debt on the foreign board was brought about by enlargement. A number of new missionaries were sent out last year in answer to urgent calls for more workers. No retrenchment will be made because of this indebtedness. On the other hand the board was ordered to increase its operations by twenty-five per cent. Foreign missions evoked great interest. Fourteen new missionaries were under appointment, and twenty-eight others expressed themselves as ready to go as soon as the way opens. The greatest meeting was on Sunday afternoon, when the subject of 'Evangelism' was being discussed. A Committee on Evangelism brought in a report recommending that the home board secure the services of one man, or more, if thought best, to hold evangelistic meetings where they are most needed in the South. There was considerable opposition at first but the meeting Sunday afternoon, removed practically all this from the minds of those who understood the way in which this work is to be carried on. Perhaps a meeting of such spiritual power as that of Sunday afternoon, was never known in the history of the convention. It was keyed up to the high, the all-important work of 'evangelism,' and addresses of unusual power were made by George W. Truett and J. B. Gambril, of Texas; F. C. McConnell, of Kansas City, and Len G. Broughton, of Atlanta.

North Carolina's Part.

"It is gratifying to North Carolinians to know that our State has gone up from seventh to fourth in the list of States in contributions to foreign missions. But she has made a richer contribution in men and women. The greatest preacher in the country, George W. Truett, was born in North Carolina, and many of the leading pastors in other States are from North Carolina. J. F. Love, assistant secretary of the Home Board, is from North Carolina. When it became necessary to elect a president of the Woman's Missionary Union, auxiliary to the Southern Baptist convention, all eyes turned to Miss Fannie E. S. Heck, of Raleigh.

"The next convention goes to Richmond, but Greensboro made a plucky fight for it and will get it some day before long.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The town of Kinston and the Western Union Telegraph Company are at odds over the question of removing poles from the principal business street. For failure to comply with an ordinance ordering removal of the poles the telegraph company has been indicted by the town.

GREENLAND ITEMS.

A. O. Clark had a fine time at the Black Jack Smokers, just outside of the town of Greensboro.

Rev. B. E. S. A. had a fine time at the regular appointment of the Smokers and gave a fine sermon. J. C. Galloway, with his sister, Miss Irene, and Miss Ward there spent Sunday with Mrs. Jesse Wilson.

Secretary of State J. Bryan Grimes was in town Friday. We are always glad to see him come around.

Quite a number of our people attended the reunion at Greenville the 10th, but one poor fellow forgot the day and lost it all.

The farmers report much suffering for the want of rain. Tobacco corn and cotton all in very bad condition.

Hon. Jno. Warren and Miss Ada Ward were out calling Sunday.

I. J. Gibson and wife spent Sunday with W. S. Galloway and family.

B. G. May stayed home Sunday and played with a white kitten. Levi Holliday attended services at Parker's Chapel Sunday.

J. W. Edwards, wife and little son spent Sunday with T. F. Proctor and wife.

Mr. Einstein, of Kinston, attended the skating rink here Friday night.

Mrs. J. O. Proctor with her company, Mrs. Jennie Forbes, has just got home from a several day visit over near Old Ford.

What the Hen Does.

We are frequently—too frequently—told of the great things men do; how they dig into the earth or build upon the earth or dam up the waters and irrigate the earth, but the great enterprises of which we boast so much sink into insignificance when compared to the records achieved by the ordinary hen.

The cackle of the hen that has laid an egg is modest and unobtrusive compared with man's noisy bluster about his business.

But in comparison to the noise made, the hen has the far more genuine substance.

In two months she lays more value than the annual production of all the gold mines of the United States.

Every three months she produces more than the year's production of pig iron.

Her eggs for six months are worth more wealth than the capital stock of all the banks in New York clearing house.

In less than two years she could pay off the national debt.

The annual report of the secretary of agriculture shows that last year the eggs of the United States were worth more than the cotton or the wheat, more than all the potatoes, the barley, the tobacco, the sugar cane and the rice. They practically equal the dairy produce and are surpassed by the corn crop of a bumper corn year.

And the hen made a new record last week. On one day there were received in New York over 40,000 cases containing 15,125,000 eggs.

The hens business for one day in one city amounted to $250,000.

Fun and Serial Stories.

An admirer of The Reflector writing from "Kow Swamp," wherever that is, and signing a name other than his own, though we think the "ear marks" are detected, says he "wood lak it more if it wood print sum serial stories and sun fun." Well, here's a bit of fun right here printing what he says, and as he extends to "role long erla," may be there will become more fun from the same quarter. As to the "serial stories," these are being arranged for office hours, and will be of electricity rather than of any other kind.

But to be serious, The Reflector has a serial story of a man who has a great deal of money and is a great deal of fun, and is a great deal of fun, and is a great deal of fun.

LEAGUE RECEPTION.

Delightful Program and Delicious Refreshments.

Reported for Reflector:

The Epworth League of the Methodist church held their usual monthly literary meeting Friday night, after which a reception to the entire membership of the church was given. The program was rendered in the church, and was followed by the reception on the church grounds.

The exercises of the evening were exceedingly interesting and instructive, the subject being, "Longfellow, His Life and Works." Several favorite quotations were voluntarily given by members of the league, and much interest was manifested in the subject. A carefully prepared paper was read by Harry White, the subject being, "The Courtship of Miles Standish." This was followed by a recitation, "The Children's Hour," by Miss Helen Laughinghouse, who greatly delighted all present.

The address of the evening was delivered by Prof. H. B. Smith, who spoke forcibly on the subject of the evening. Prof. Smith spoke of the pure, clean life of Longfellow, contrasting it with the lives of other great poets of this and other countries, holding this life up as something real in history to be emulated by others.

At the close of the literary program the congregation was ushered to the church grounds, where a delightful reception was given. The large grove was brilliantly lighted by electricity, with seats and tables placed tastefully about it. The refreshments were bountifully served by a committee of ladies from the league, who gave every attention to the wants of all present.

The occasion was very much enjoyed by all until the lateness of the hour compelled them to leave for their homes.

Too much cannot be said in praise of those who had in charge the making of arrangements for this occasion.

Railroad for Snow Hill.

Hon. Larry I. Moore and Mr. Haines of the Raleigh and Pamlico Sound Railroad Company were in town last week. It is their intention to give Snow Hill a branch line to Farmville, connecting with the main line now under construction. They ask that Snow Hill and vicinity give $5,000 and right of way to Farmville and they will locate the depot at "high water mark" on the north side of the creek, or for $7,000 they guarantee to cross the creek and locate the depot in town. Mr. W. J. Jordan is endeavoring to raise the amount by subscription and at present has more than $5,000 raised.—Snow Hill Laconic.

Charlotte will occupy the band wagon this week and there is no fear but what she will acquit herself handsomely.

TO RECLAIM SWAMP LANDS.

Representative Small has introduced a bill which may be of great importance in the drainage and reclamation of the swamp lands, particularly of Eastern North Carolina. Recently Representative Steenerson, of Minnesota, introduced a bill appropriating the receipts from the sale of public lands in certain States to the drainage of swamp lands in those States. The number of States which now have public lands is comparatively small. Mr. Small has redrafted this bill, making many substantial changes, the principal of which is that the funds can be used for draining swamp lands in any State whether having public lands or not. The bill provides that the United States shall be reimbursed by easy payments for the expenditure required in the reclamation. The bill of Mr. Small further provides that lands located in the State and susceptible of reclamation may also be drained under provision of the act at the option of said State.

As North Carolina still owns large bodies of swamp lands which are valueless after the timber has been removed, unless they can be reclaimed, it will be seen how the State could utilize this act for its benefit. These swamp lands in North Carolina are owned by the State Board of Education, and any improvement or enhancement in value would increase the assets of our public schools.

Mr. Small states that the idea is not at all impracticable, and that really conditions may be such in the near future as to result in the passage of the bill. Texas, which has no public lands as well as the delegations from other influential States, is actively favoring this legislation.

And why not? We are utilizing the proceeds of sale of public lands, and there is no possible reason why we should not use part of the same funds for taking the surplus water from swamp lands and, thereby, open up to settlement lands which will be infinitely more fertile and valuable.—Washington Cor. Raleigh News and Observer.

OVER THE STATE.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Dr. James Atkins, of the Western North Carolina Conference, was elected as one of the three new bishops by the general conference of the Methodist church at Birmingham.

The man Hodges, who so brutally killed his wife at Durham, was convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to be hanged June 29th.

Little Lucretia Gibbs, aged 9 years, was accidentally shot in the head by Edward Manny, a 14 year old boy, yesterday afternoon, near this city. She was killed instantly. It is said they were playing and that the boy didn't know the gun was loaded.—Morehead Coaster.

Fine Shoe Exhibit.

In the north window of C. S. Forbes' store is an attractive exhibit of the famous "Queen Quality" shoes. The shoes are displayed on glass shelves, and behind them is a handsome picture of the factory in which the shoes are made. The display and picture are especially beautiful under the effect of electric lights at night.

Charlotte will occupy the band wagon this week and there is no fear but what she will acquit herself handsomely.

MISS SMITH ENTERTAINS.

Reported for Reflector.

Thursday evening at her home on Washington street Miss Mary L. Smith charmingly entertained a number of her friends in honor of her birthday.

The guests were met at the door by Miss Smith who graciously received them and invited them to the parlor.

After the guests arrived they all went out on the lawn where a number of games were enjoyed.

After tiring of that they went back to the parlor where the time quickly passed away by music both vocal and instrumental.

Delicious dainties were served by the hostess assisted by Miss Lillian Carr and Bessie Wilson and Cecil Cobb.

At a late hour the guests departed declaring Miss Smith an ideal hostess.

Those present were Misses Mary Smith, Lillian Carr, Mary Shepherd, Lillian Burch, Lillian Whitfield, Honnie Whichard, Margaret How, Lucille Cobb, Mattie Moye King, Susie Warren and Allie Estelle Greene, and Carl Wilson, Cecil Cobb, Bessie Wilson, Norman Warren, Oscar Greene, William Wilson and Tom Tuberlake.

FARMVILLE ITEMS.

Farmville, N. C., May 19, 1905.

Misses Rose Moore and Mary Moye have returned from A. C. college at Wilson.

A. J. Moye, Joel Moye and Willie Barrett returned yesterday from A. C. college commencement. The closing exercises of the Farmville graded school were held in the opera house last night. The school marched up in a body, and after singing "America" were led to prayer by Prof. Ragdale. Then followed the awarding of the prizes, by Mr. Henry Jackson. Out of the 200 pupils enrolled, only six were winners of prizes which were awarded for punctuality. These six, Misses Nannie Darden, Vernice Lang, and Fields, Hal Turnage, Jack Long and Harvey Turnage have not been absent or tardy during the school year. Those who made the highest average were allowed the privilege of being ushers on this occasion and wore the school colors.

Lieut. Gov. F. D. Winst was then introduced by Prof. Ragdale, who spoke of him in none of the flattering terms. Judge Winston gave us a strong and able speech on "Education." Every man in the country should have heard it. It is to be hoped that his message to the Farmville people will sink deep into their hearts, and that they will go forward with the enterprise, and give their children every advantage, improving the school and making it possible for every child to attend.

Prof. Ragdale then added a few impressive words, urging the people to persevere in the good work, and thanking the faculty for their good work during the year. Miss Annie Perkins, one of our graded school teachers, left for her home in Greenville Saturday.

The 4 Pickets Comedy Co. of New York, will give three nights performance in the Lady Turnage opera house this week beginning Thursday night. Those who were present, during their last trip to Farmville have only to be reminded of their coming. For the entire community have never enjoyed seeing any company so much as the clean and popular Pickets Co.

Mrs. Smith gave a very enjoyable party to her music class, Wednesday evening.

WASHINGTON LETTER

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., May 17. The tariff has come up in another guise or rather in an old disguise.

A few months ago it will be remembered there was a threat on the part of the Secretary of War backed by the administration to buy ships and material for the Panama canal with the world as a market. All the infant industries of the United States set up a lusty squalling at this un-American business. The idea of buying anywhere for cheapness when by paying a double price the infant giants could be fed. Well in some way the agitation was silenced. The brave words of the Secretary of War proved to be an idle threat. American ships and American goods were bought and thousands of dollars more were paid than if they had been bought in the open markets of the world. Now it appears that some steam dredges needed for the canal be bought in Scotland for sixty or seventy thousand dollars less per dredge than in the United States and Secretary Taft who has a frugal mind is after these foreign machines and is arguing that the Panama canal is not in the United States and is not affected by tariff restrictions and that the manufacturers of this country have no claims that the government in an enterprise like this need respect. The President in a letter to Congress states that the course of Secretary Taft has his full approval.

The Pure Food bill which passed the Senate some time ago and which it was supposed would go through in reality opposed by a powerful lobby working night and day. All of the interests which will be injuriously affected by the passage of a bill against adulteration of food have combined to fight the measure and so far their fight appears successful.

While the movement against the drug trust which unlawfully controls and influences the price of drugs and patent medicines has its origin in Indiana, Attorney General Moody and others in the administration here are really back of it. The drug trust it is alleged have been guilty of violations of the Sherman anti-trust laws and the movement to break up the monopoly is one of the most beneficent movements of this administration.

This week has been one of sensations in the Senate in which Senators Bailey, of Texas, Tillman, of South Carolina, and Lodge, of Massachusetts, the President of the United States, the Attorney General and ex-Senator William E. Chandler were the principal figures. Tillman in his disgust and desperation over the alleged desertion of the President in an alleged legislative deal or conspiracy by which it was expected the Southern Senators would have the prestige of passing a drastic railroad rate bill accepted the President of double dealing, bad faith, and mendacity and let out that he had told his plenipotentiary (ex-Senator Chandler) some ugly things about the senatorial constitutional clique as represented in that heavy league triumvirate Foraker, of Ohio, Spooner, of Wisconsin, and Knox, of Pennsylvania. Senator Lodge was not in the Senate chamber during the mutterings of Senator Tillman but the echoes reached him from afar and rushing to the nearest telephone he got no less a person than Theodore Roosevelt at the other end of it. Hastening back to the Senate chamber Senator Lodge took the floor and amid great excitement, said that the story alleged to have been reported by ex-Senator Chandler was unqualifiedly false. The President has been supposed to be exact phrasology.

A. & M. COLLEGE NOTES.

West Raleigh, N. C., May 18, 1906.

The base ball team has elected Frank Thompson, captain for next year.

The ball team will play the last game of the season today with the Raleigh Athletic association team. In spite of the set back to the team early in the season, it has made quite a creditable showing, having won a game with three State universities during the season.

Drill has been suspended for this year and the time for drill is taken up by the cadets in target practice, which is required by the government. An excellent target range has been provided by Lieut. Leaton, the commandant of the cadets. Some of the cadets have made excellent shots at long range.

All the classes and literary societies have elected their officers for next year. The work of all three of the literary societies has had unusually good attendance and much more interest has been shown in the society work than during any year before.

The final examination will close on the 26th. Commencement begins 27th and closes on the morning of the 30th. Gov. Glenn is to deliver the address this year to the graduating class of fifty-two young men.

GENERAL NEWS.

Happenings of Interest Over the Country.

Selma, Ala., May 19.—A shock, supposed by some to be an earthquake shock, occurred in Myrtlewood, Marengo county, early today. The tremor lasted about a half a minute and woke the residents of the town. No damage was done.

New York, May 19.—Mrs. Jefferson Davis' condition was reported today as greatly improved, and it was said that she had spent the most comfortable night since her condition became serious. The family are now hopeful of a complete recovery.

Norfolk, Va., May 19.—Irwin Tucker, president of the Saving Bank of Newport News, Va., committed suicide in his room over the bank in Newport News today just as Chief of Police Reynolds, of that city, upon his door to arrest him upon a warrant charging him with defaulting in the sum of 10,000.

Washington, D. C., May 19.—The House today killed the bill making it a crime for any one giving out advance information of the official reports of the agricultural and other executive departments which was designed primarily to stop "leaks" on crop reports. The bill was tabled by a vote of 107 to 66, rejecting the conference report.

Died.

The infant son of Mr. A. L. Potter, who is carrier of the mail on R. F. D. No. 1, died Sunday morning at his home about a mile west of Greenville. The burial took place today.

in a very awkward position for everybody has believed that he said what Chandler said what he said about Foraker, Spooner and Knox. In short that he took no pains to conceal his thoughts. The President is nothing if not talkative and when he opens his mouth to talk discretion goes to the winds. His discreet friends do not report even the purport of half they hear him say much less do they repeat his exact phrasology.

THE WITCHES' CALDON.

"The Devil to Pay" on the Republican Ship and "the Boss Caught With No Pitch Hot."

"Trouble, trouble, toil and trouble fire burn and caldron bubble" and this might be Shakespeare's description of the Republican situation, were he waded back to this world again.

The Radical caldron is turbulent, both national and sensational.

Judge Pritchard refuses to say "Good morning" to the "Drummer boy." Mary Ann Butler thinks hard thoughts about the "Drummer boy" and in turn the "Drummer boy" has his pack hard on the trail of the "Organization," and father Rollins, growing weary of the chase, is looking for some friendly tree to climb. Mr. Blackburn insists on calling a State convention and Romulus Zig Zag Linney comes along saying that there is grave danger that if such one is held it will be inside the walls of the penitentiary. Then comes that staunch old Republican brave, Judge Bynum, calling many of the leaders of the party "cut throats and rascals, always in war, never at peace and always with their hands in the pockets of the people."

But not only does the turmoil and the strife exist in this State but it extends into national realms, and the immaculate bell wether, Teddy, is in the toils. He is in divers straits. Senator Bailey says he is "Clay and very common clay at that." Mr. Tillman has him fast on one prong of his pitchfork, and ex-Senator Chandler accuses him of double dealing. In his traits he rises to a point of order. Sphinx like, and in tones stentorian declares, "Sir Angus thou hast lied," notwithstanding the proof is there in black and white against him. Like Nero who got his inspiration to write a poem from sight of burning Rome, so this state of Radical upheaval has had like effect upon one of our townsmen, who is sometimes visited by the Muses, and this morning he gives us the following sample of his musings.

The poem is an heroic with pin fairly the chaotic state of affairs in Republican circles. It is entitled, "An ode to Teddy" and goes as follows:

"Everybody lies but Teddy.
And he is a man of clay,
He fires his words out steady,
But he cannot make them stay.
Chandler he takes up talking
And so does Till man
Everybody lies in this bunch
But our Big Man.

"Teddy and Aldrich fall out
They fuss and fuss all day
They cuss a while and then pout,
No one cares what they say.
George is keeping quiet—
Believing like a man.
Everybody scraps in this bunch—
But Mary Ann.

"Blackburn says, 'Good morning,'
In tones of mirthful glee.
Jeter says, 'You rascal,
Don't dare to speak to me.'
Moody takes to joking,
So does Till man
Everybody jokes in this bunch—
But our Big Man."

—Charlotte Observer.

GREENVILLE NORTH CAROLINA MONDAY MAY, 21, 1906

One thing about this way they are eating each other's flesh is they are doing it easily.

What Senator Bailey said about President Roosevelt seemed to fit the bill.

As they have at last decided to make a change in the constitution, they can have a few years more.

The judges are being exchanged and the same number in which they are out for a few years more.

Play for what people in other sections of the town cannot have. One benefit from street sprinkling. On some streets residences suffer as much as the stores.

President Roosevelt's Look Alike to be brought to mind again by the number of Ed. Davises they are moving for the negro by that name named in Salisbury.

A gentleman who was feeling pretty much run down was telling his old-fashioned friend, and among other things said it gave him a disinclination to work. "Oh, don't worry over that," confidently said the philosopher of the town in which he was sitting. "I have had that ailment for thirty years."

A learned gentleman was talking to us about the bad plight President Roosevelt has got in over the Tillman-Agnew matter concerning the rate bill, and added "It recalls the fact that we have never had but one President who would not lie." "Which one was that?" we asked without thinking. "Why, George Washington, of course."

The Scotland Neck Commonwealth copy to the middle which we reproduced from the Wilmington Star and asked the former paper to help us unravel, and commented.

The above is by the juvenile editor of the Greenville Reflector. We are sorry for him in his ignorance, but it has been a principle with the Commonwealth all these years to encourage self-dependence. Perhaps Editor Whichard's ignorance comes of his failing to take San Jose's advice when he was down in Greenville. He told them they ought to travel and learn something. He wished that some of them, doubtless, should take a trip to Europe and that.

Wood and other Whichard has "traveled" but he has not, perhaps, after all, traveled he can measure up with the new unknown tongue to him in which the Star and Post occasionally speak.

N. S. that is a pretty way to come back at a "searcher for truth," give him "a stone for bread." The venerable ex-pedag. editor of the Commonwealth has been so long out of the school room as to forget the principles of "square" root, and dodges what he can't answer by making out that he is encouraging self-dependence. Yes, we have "traveled," and did not go far before finding a man who could not tell us the way, though, he made out he could.

It was only the writer's pleasure to make a few remarks before the school.

Pitt county shows signs of pleasing prosperity in all interests. The towns, schools and churches are all prosperous and peace and plenty and happiness abound with those good people, with whom it is always a pleasure to mingle.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

History of the Progress of the I. O. R. M. in Greenville.
Withlacooche Tribe 35 of the Improved Order of Red Men was instituted at Greenville N. C. on the 23rd of April, 1903, with a charter membership of twenty-one. Since that time one hundred and eleven pale faces have been added to the tribe. It has expended for the sick and distressed and other purposes $1,336.72. It has in the wampum belt $380.60 and over $500.00 worth of regalia paraphernalia and etc.

It has recently fitted up a library and club room that is open every evening for the use of its members. From the influence of this tribe, tribes have been instituted at Falkland, Farmville, Snow Hill, Tarboro, Ormondville, Winterville, Grimesland, Williamston and Bu. Haven, with a total charter membership of two hundred and thirty-nine.

In May, 1903, just three weeks after the Withlacooche Tribe was instituted, it sent brother F. M. Jones as representative to the great council of N. C. who was elected to the committee on law. At the next great council in 1904 he was elected great Senior Sachem, and in 1905 Great Sachem, and for filling the honorable position with credit to himself, and the order, he was in 1906 elected Great Prophet, and Great Representative to the Great Council of United States. Brother S. T. White has also been honored by being put on the Great Board of Appeals.

PITT COUNTY PROUDER.

It was the privilege and the pleasure of the editor of the Commonwealth to spend a night in Grifton last week. We found that town live and prosperous with every indication of better things to come.

The occasion was the closing of Grifton graded school which for some time has been under the management of that prince of school men Rev. T. H. King. He was superintendent of the Ayden graded school until this year when he gave up school work and devoted his entire time to the ministry, settling at La Grange. When some months ago they needed a man to take charge of the school interest at Grifton Mr. King kindly came and finished up the school year successfully.

He had a good corps of teachers and the exercises at the closing showed results of the work. Mr. King is held in high esteem in Grifton, as well as wherever he is known, and when he is announced that he would not be in the school next session many of the pupils were deeply moved and passed by and bade him farewell in tears. The board of trustees did all they could to keep him but he felt impelled to return to his work.

Prof. W. H. Ragdale, county superintendent of Pitt, is one of the most progressive and efficient superintendents in the State, and giving his entire time to the work he has succeeded in building up a most excellent system.

During the past three years the writer has had occasion to make observation of four points in Pitt county and we believe that no county in the State has a superior system of public schools, and we doubt if any other county has its equal. Prof. Ragdale has made a veritable revolution in the school interests of Pitt county. He made a pleasing address to the people of Grifton in the interest of their school.

Pitt county shows signs of pleasing prosperity in all interests. The towns, schools and churches are all prosperous and peace and plenty and happiness abound with those good people, with whom it is always a pleasure to mingle.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

Don't purchase elsewhere until you see and try the NEW ROYAL. By so doing you will save yourself money, besides getting a machine that will positively please you better than any other.

The three days' exercises of the commencement of Winterville High School came to a close Thursday night. The closing day was perhaps the most notable in the history of the school. There was an immense throng of people present, the patronage of the school covering such a large territory as to make interest in it wide spread.

In the past Winterville High school has had as orators on commencement and other occasions men of national reputation—senators, doctors of divinity, congressmen, presidents and professors of colleges, editors of great daily papers—but the school and people assembled there have heard no more able and scholarly address than the one delivered Thursday by Hon. E. E. Hilliard, of Scotland Neck. His theme was "Searchers for Truth." He handled his subject masterfully, his beautiful eloquence and oratory enraptured the large audience. He said there is nothing great unless founded upon truth. Take away truth and this old world would soon crumble into nothingness. We may stand on the brink of the mighty ocean and be enraptured with its greatness as we watch the rolling billows of the wide sea come in and lash the shore; we may stand at the foothills of some majestic mountain and look with admiration to its lofty peak which rises until it kisses the skies; we may sit in some magnificent hall and be entranced with the music of a superb orchestra, but these delights lead into insignificance in comparison with seeking and possessing truth.

The introduction of the speaker to the audience was made by Rev. T. H. King.
At the conclusion of Mr. Hilliard's address the certificates of proficiency were presented to the class by Prof. W. H. Ragdale with most timely remarks. Those receiving these certificates in the college preparatory course were Misses Lida Chapman, Hattie Kirtrell, Bessie Mooring, Leila Roach and Ada Sutton, and J. H. Fry and T. F. Taylor, and in the English course Misses Hattie Blackman and Nannie House and G. C. Buck.

The debate by the Vance Literary Society in the afternoon was a treat. The query was "Resolved that the Philippine Islands should be granted a free government." The affirmative speakers were S. L. Parker, S. C. Carroll and J. H. Fry, the negative G. C. Buck, J. S. Cox and T. F. Taylor. These young men made speeches that would have done credit to men who had spent years to debate. They were full of vim and good argument. So evenly was the contest waged, that the judges—Messrs. E. E. Hilliard, H. B. Smith and J. S. Mooring—were about not to reach a decision. They did finally give it to the negative, but only by a narrow margin.

A splendid concert was given at night under the direction of the Philo-Alex Literary Society that was a fitting close to the exercises. Everything about the commencement from beginning to end was of a high order and reflected much credit on the school. Prof. Lumbergh and members of the faculty, as well as the people of the community and patrons of the school generally, have given their aid in the preparation of the excellent work Winterville High school is doing.
