HEROIC TREATMENT.

The Remedies That Are Used by the Doctors of China.

Chinese doctors seem to delight in heroic measures. In several diseases, notably rheumatism, neuralgia, gout, dizziness, headache and muscular complaints, they are very successful. The method in treating these troubles seems to be a liberal use of hot teas and broths and a relinquishment of all other foods. In most of the food there is the simple tonic, ginseng. In others there are aperients which are apparently pure salts. One broth contained peppermint leaves, chopped almonds, bay leaves, honey, blood and wine.

The idea seems to be to drench the entire system with hot water, pushing out the body in that way, and relying upon the elements added to the water for medicinal action as well as nourishment.

Their treatment of most forms of dyspepsia is truly heroic. The patient is laid at full length and the doctor with his muscular hands pinches the body. The pinching is done with the thumb and forefinger. The method, though cruel, has excellent results, and there is immediate relief and a speedy cure.

For catarrhal troubles they use warm solutions of astringents, rendered aseptic by peppermint and similar oil, and where there is pain, as in nasal catarrh, they use oil, in which is put a tincture of opium.

For some forms of dyspepsia they burn paper. The paper burned is a thick yellow tissue, which when burned leaves a fluffy black ash, which is probably one-half carbon and the rest silica and mineral salts. Occasionally they write talismanic characters with colored pencils on the paper. Different pencils are used, and each is made of a different substance, which when burned releases a chemical or medicinal vapor.

When it is burned and diffused in a cup of tea the ingredients pass into the stomach along with the carbon of the paper.—Kansas City Independent.

ALPINE TROOPS.

Soldiers of Italy Who Maneuver Literally Above the Clouds.

William G. FitzGerald writes of the Alpine soldiers of Italy: "All these soldiers are crack shots, and it is difficult to see how one of the forts held by them amid the great granite boulders and terrible pinnacles and spires of the Great St. Bernard could ever be forced by an enemy in the face of these troops, who would act as scouts, crawling up precipices and planting themselves on wild and seemingly inaccessible spots, whence they would pour an invisible fire which nothing could withstand. These Alpine troops when scouting or reconnoitering in the mountains use a curious kind of rifle rest, formed by three alpenstocks and one of the pillows they use at night when they sleep in the snow. For, strange as it may seem, these men when bivouacking at great altitudes do not trouble to put up tents, but merely dig out caverns in the vast snow-drifts and line these with snow-proof sheets and blankets and then sleep amid dreary Alpine desolation as comfortably as though they were down on earth in a comfortable city bed.

"The life of the men is magnificently healthy and exhilarating, as may be seen by the bright eyes, rosy cheeks and clear complexions of a party of scouts that came glissading like lightning down the slopes of frozen snow on their long curving sleds, guided and supported by the alpenstocks. The troops also carry their own sleds for the transport of their gear, and sometimes realistic decorations are given, when one or several of men will lie at full length on their sleds and be dragged or pushed over glacier and snow fields.

Of Sunday in the Swiss Alps: "It is a fact that the Alps are a most beautiful and healthy place, and there is no more beautiful spectacle than a Swiss mountain service in some little bit of forest at 10,000 or 15,000 feet, when the thin line of the regiment mounts into a rude portable camp and discourses to the assembled soldiers who are shivering in their furs even though it be July or August. The members of the band play the hymns, which reverberate through the awful desolations of glacier and snow peak."—Chicago News.

Self-deception seems to be a common virtue of military heroes in Japan. In his parting address to his officers on the breaking up of the Manchurian army Marshal Oyama says, "That I, in spite of my defective ability, have been enabled to avoid any signal failure must be primarily ascribed to the loyalty and fidelity of the officers and soldiers under my command." Surely modesty could go no farther.

CONDENSED STORIES.

Congressman Champ Clark Is Moved to Tell a Story.

"The recent outbursts from the orators of the Republican party against tariff revision remind me of the story of the old Irish woman who thought her dying husband insane," Representative Champ Clark of Missouri said.

"The old woman, a neighbor of my soul, was in the room I told you of."

"HERE BROWN OWES ME $800."

her husband making his last will and testament.
"Now, tell me exactly what is owing you," the lawyer said.
"Timothy Brown owes me $800," answered the old man. "Casey owes me $175, and."
"Good, good," interrupted the prospective widow. "Rational to the last!"
"Luke Brown owes me $800," continued the old man.
"Rational, rational," again interrupted the old woman.
"To Mike Lafferty I owe $375," continued the old man.
"Ah," interrupted the old woman, "hear him rave, hear him rave!"—New York World.

Played a Next Game.

Congressman Ruppert of New York in one of the cloakrooms the other day told a yarn about J. L. Robbins of the Robbins shipyard, in Brooklyn. He was in the Adirondacks and developed into the worst golf player ever seen in those parts, and that is saying a great deal. They had a match for a silver cup and the championship of the Lake Placid links. Robbins entered, and the committee gave him a handicap of $5 for a joke.

Robbins went away for a couple of weeks before the match. Then he came back, played in the match and won the cup with a card that showed $25—that is, his net score after the handicap had been subtracted was three less than nothing, which, said Congressman Ruppert, "is going some."

"You see," Ruppert continued, "Robbins went to New York, put himself in the hands of a professional and did nothing but pay golf for the two weeks he was away. Then he went back and cleaned up the smart Alexes who handicapped him at $5."
"The weight of the World."
The world is to be weighed once more, doubt being entertained by scientists as to the accuracy of previous estimates. But whether the error be a case of short weight or overweight has yet to be settled. An expedition is to set out to Egypt, where, strange as it sounds, the great pyramid will be utilized by the investigators. First the weight of the pyramid will be ascertained and then the weight of the earth estimated from its proportionate size. The swinging of pendulums will be the gauge, for the pendulum is affected by the power of attraction exerted by a large or small body—a mere question of arithmetic.

Bombarding a Farmyard.
An Algerian farmer defied the police and barricaded his farmyard. Several rifle volleys were fired at his place in the hope of terrifying him. As this apparently had no effect, a three inch quick firing field gun and machine shell were brought into use. In all eighteen bombs were fired. The first two few wide, but the other sixteen reduced the farm buildings to heaps of rubble, and the farmer, when search was made, the farmer's body was found. He had evidently been killed by a rifle bullet on the preceding day, and that all the terror of artillery and machine gun fire had done was to frighten the poor man into firing heavy artillery at one lone man.

J. Bentley Harris was a visitor in Ayden Tuesday.

No dies, cut, hand and repair for all makes of sewing machines, at J. H. Tripp & Bro., Ayden, N. C.

It is terrible to contemplate, but there seems to be an epidemic among the babies in our community. Within the past week six infants have died and never so far as we can remember has such an incident occurred among us.

We deeply sympathize with the afflicted parents and sincerely hope the crises as far as others may be concerned has passed. We hope those who have lost their little ones will realize that their dear children have gone up higher and for them sorrows and pain are no more, and further may these parents remember the Lord chasteneth those whom He loves.

ANOTHER RUNAWAY.

Beaufort County Couple Married Here.

Greenville seems to have become the "Grim Green" for neighboring counties, judging from the runaway marriages taking place. There have been three inside a week. Two have already been noted, and the third took place Thursday morning. At an early hour Mr. Benjamin Bates and Miss Sydney Woolard arrived here together, having run away during the previous night. They had Register of Deeds Williams accused to issue the license, and as soon as this was obtained "Eugene C. D. Rountree was sent for to perform the ceremony. The couple came from Beaufort County.

One of Amos & Co's, grain elevators with a million bushels of wheat, corn and oats, was destroyed by fire Wednesday.

Died.

Mrs. Hattie Evans, widow of the late Mr. Amos Evans, died Thursday night, at her home about two miles from town. She is survived by three sons and one daughter. These are Messrs. G. A., G. T. and R. T. Evans and Miss Pearl Evans.

Having duly qualified before the Superior Court of this county as executor of the last will and testament of Mrs. Francis E. Evans, deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to the estate of said deceased to bring in their claims and all persons having claims against the estate to present the same to the undersigned, to be paid or satisfied as may be directed by the court, on or before the 15th day of May, 1936, or this notice will be filed in the office of the clerk of said court.
