Truth in Reference to Fiction

GREENVILLE NORTH CAROLINA TUESDAY, JUNE 19, 1906

Great is North Carolina. Asheville reports a light snow on the 13th.

The Charlotte News has a cartoonist who is putting in some good licks.

Some parts of last Saturday's primary and Thursday's convention looked too much like a cut and dried affair.

We do not believe the Republicans themselves are going to be sorry when Hackett beats Blackburn in the eighth district.

After he gets beaten it will not make so much difference whether Mr. Blackburn makes his home in Wilkesboro or Greensboro.

If there was not so much thought of politics and more attention given to improving the town there would be more rapid development.

The county convention Thursday was a field day for county candidates. They were all at work to get friends in the nominating convention.

If the Greensboro hotel would connect the dining table telephones with one in the kitchen the guests might be able to make the waiters get a move on.

The Greensboro hotel that has put telephones on every table in the dining room should go a step further and put one in every bed. Then the guests could be absolutely sure of getting no rest at all.

Congressman Small's bill for the draining of Dismal Swamp has been given a favorable report by the committee in Congress, and an appropriation of one million dollars arising from the sale of public land is named for the purpose of draining the swamp. The bill stands a good chance of passing, and is keeping with Congressman Small's policy to do everything possible to develop his district. The district never had a more useful representative.

The installing of day electric current is going to be a factor in the development of Greenville. The Water and Light Commission has ordered an additional dynamo for the plant by which the day current can be supplied, and this will be received and in operation before many days pass. By the means of the day current many enterprises that need small power can be developed. Electricity is the cheapest power for small plants that can be had. Some months ago The Reflector, anticipating the coming of day current, bought a 3-horse power electric motor to operate its presses. The cost of running the motor is only about 7 cents per hour, and we never saw a better-working piece of machinery. From this experience we can see that this "experience" power is a good thing. It is a pity that the electric motor is not used more extensively in the city.

The recent judicial convention at Durham nominated J. Crawford Biggs for judge, defeating Judge Shaw. What would mistakes the Democrats of North Carolina sometimes make. While we know nothing against Mr. Biggs, it looks like a better-working piece of machinery. Judge Shaw is one man North Carolina could least afford to retire from all any "experience" power. An exchange in the convention on his defeat for the nomination of Judge Shaw is a good thing. It is a pity that the electric motor is not used more extensively in the city.

This renewed enthusiasm for Bryan is making Hearst and his followers throw spasms.

As Chicago is now taking a hand in it and issued a cleaning up order the packing houses may get busy.

Mrs. B. L. Duke says she had no her brother Brodie than his money. She places too high estimate on the man.

Wonder why Abernathy never took hold of the idea of going to Utah. He might not have been in jail if he had gone there for his four wives.

On Saturday Oklahoma and Indian Territory were admitted jointly to statehood under the name of Oklahoma, and the flag gets one more run on it.

Some of the men folks around Selma should follow the example of the young lady telephone operator and learn how to use a pistol. By this means they might stop store robberies there.

Outrages against the Jews in Russia have again broken out. It seems that upon the slightest pretext these offenseless people are set upon by infuriated mobs and brutally maltreated many of them being killed. And the civilized nations of the world look on without a protest.

We were beginning to think something of the recent excessive rains in North Carolina, but they are small as compared to the floods that have struck portions of South Carolina and Georgia. In portions of the latter State crops are reported practically ruined by inundation.

The outcome of the recent controversy between the State Corporation Commission and the Southern railway over the commission ordering the railroad not to change a schedule and the order being utterly ignored, shows that the commission is wanting in authority. The next Legislature should give this authority or else abolish the commission.

In treating the authorities of the State with contempt and ignoring orders issued to it, the Southern railway is making trouble for itself when another Legislature gets a chance at it. Possibly the railroad is taking chances with the idea of getting control of the Legislature by securing the election of those under its influence. This is a matter the people should guard against.

The Responsibility of Disease Laid to the House-Fly.

The musca domestica or house-fly, says Mary Hinman Abel in her paper on "Flies and Food," is the Delineator for July, is known to convey cholera in the East, and is under suspicion as to other diseases.

Its origin and habits are such as to put us on our guard. It lays its eggs in excrement, preferring horse manure, but if that does not offer, readily using any other. It feeds on the same and on the sputum of diseased throats and lungs, on refuse of all kinds, and it bears on its hairy feet and legs particles of these substances.

Unlike the mosquito, the house-fly is not a biter—but it has its own way of carrying contagion. It deposits, wherever it goes, disease and disease germs may abound in its breeding and feeding places. On the joint of meat exposed for sale by the butcher, on the bread and sweetmeats of the confectioner, on the edge of the milk pail, on the kitchen and dining room tables, they have been found. The epidemic of typhoid fever in Chicago in 1902 fixed guilt on the fly. It was especially severe in the nineteenth ward, which furnished one-seventh of the deaths, while containing but one-tenth of the city's population. This locality did not differ from the rest of the city in its water or its food supply, but it did differ in having more than fifty per cent. of its houses without sanitary plumbing, the water being unfiltered, the drainage in untraded cesses, the latrines, and in the rooms of patients were proved to carry the germ.

THE BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION.

The North Carolina State League of Building and Loan Associations is one of the most active organizations in the country. The league held a few days since an annual convention of delegates from local associations from all parts of the State. There was very full discussion of matters relating to building and loan associations and the following may be considered cardinal principles developed by discussion and debate.

- (1) Each association should be local in the sense of limiting all loans to home property in an area close to the home office and within which property values are well known to all directors and to many of the members of the association who are not directors.
- (2) Each member should have one vote as a member and no vote on stock held.
- (3) No limit should be put upon the number of shares any one member may carry.
- (4) A moderate fine should be imposed for failure to pay dues and interest on time.
- (5) Interest rate should be 6 per cent.
- (6) New series should be started in small towns once each year. In large towns and cities once in six months.
- (7) There should be no premiums, forfeitures, nor discounts on loans and but one kind of stock.
- (8) Total expense of conducting an association should not exceed 2 1/2 per cent. for the smaller ones, nor 1 1/2 per cent. for the larger ones. Some of the well conducted associations keep the expense account inside one per cent.
- (9) Building and loan associations should not be taxed, because the association never holds money property. It acts as a trustee to accumulate money from members and at once turn the aggregate over to one or more members who at once builds a house or puts it in other taxable form.
- (10) In a properly organized building and loan association, all profits are distributed to members in proportionate payments. The only profit is the interest paid on loans, compounded and what little the fines make. The only expense is the compensation paid for actual services rendered by secretary and treasurer, cost of stationery and books. Presidents, directors and committees serve without pay. The building and loan presidents and directors and committees serve for the same motive that the church boards and school boards serve, viz: For the general good. Wherever the motive becomes one of personal advantage the institution ceases to be a building and loan association and becomes an ordinary profit making concern for the benefit of those who are in the scheme of personal advantage.

(11) All foreign inter-State, national and other associations making loans outside of local home territory, should be avoided by the people and prohibited by law. — Charlotte Chronicle.

45 TO FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES.

The demand for special legislation is generally an unjust demand, because it is in the interest of a few people rather than the public good. Unfortunately there is too much of it, and so much that it has become accepted as the proper thing. Special legislation is generally an effort to secure just as much in behalf of particular parties as can be secured without a protest from the public. It is often merely the use of the power of the State in the interest of a few or a class. Such a law as the present so-called landlord and tenant act, for example, is, in effect, giving to an employer the power of the State to punish criminally a laborer for violating a contract.

In the making of which the strong man, in the person of an employer, has all the advantage. After making an agreement to his advantage, the landlord can invoke the power of the State, not to see that his rights to liberty and property are not violated, but that a penniless and perhaps ignorant laborer shall carry out an agreement that he has become to believe deprives him of his rights. North Carolina is in need of harking back to some fundamental principles. — Monroe Journal.

Driving Out Saloons.

The Anti-Saloon League is probably accomplishing more in the work of driving saloons out of business today than all other organizations combined. In some states where the saloons are strong, the work of this organization has been most aggressive and effective. Local option is its method of driving saloons, and that, with the law, is the same, practical method of handling the whisky question. — David A. Gates, in the Washington Post.

The late rains have broken up the ice in the river for the time being, and also gave enough water to the boats to navigate.

AN ADIRABLE PLATFORM.

The Democrats of Indiana at their last convention adopted an admirable platform, which deserves success by the support of all honest citizens. The following plank is especially worthy of our attention by Democrats and independent voters in every State as a fair statement of the conditions imposed on the people through Republican legislation and the remedy proposed when the Democrats are entrusted with power. The platform said:

"For nearly ten years the Republican party has been in absolute control of all departments in the national government, with power to change unjust conditions and to rectify evils. Yet during that time colossal combinations of capital have dominated the people and have stifled competition and unfairly limited the opportunity of the individual citizen. Wealth thereby illegally obtained has been sparingly used to control legislation and corrupt elections. No honest effort has been made or is being made by Republican legislation to cure or eradicate these evils. We denounce the hypocrisy of the Republican party, which while pretending to legislate against these conditions, deals only with the symptoms and not with the disease. The unfair, tyrannical features of the so-called 'protective tariff' have made these things possible, and no permanent relief can be secured until its obnoxious features are removed. We demand that this be done by a tariff for revenue only.

"The growth of the trusts and other inordinate and dangerous combinations of capital, the tremendous and rapidly increasing absorption and centralization of the wealth of the country in the hands of a chosen few, all due to premeditated and systematic legislation in behalf of special interests by the Republican party, demand a change in the policies imposed upon the country by that party and make the passage of respective laws an imperative necessity."

Uncle Sam has done a big business with the reign of terror this year. With fifteen more days of this kind of year to come, the receipts of tariff duties have reached nearly a million dollars more than they did last year. Last year they were only $28,351,333. The previous record-breaking year was 1904, when the customs receipts amounted to $28,447,581. The indications are that the internal revenue receipts for this fiscal year will reach two hundred and fifty million dollars, or fifteen million greater than last year. Uncle Sam can afford to spend good money on new buildings, rivers and harbor improvements, and other work for the benefit of the people. — Wilmington Messenger.

The discovery that there are only sixty-one laboratories in the British army might be more alarming for England if we did not usually have some other action to our fighting. — Washington Post.

Greenville, N. C.

This is a season which tries many a mother and father, and which means much to many a boy. The schools have all closed, and the boys who live on the farm are peculiarly fortunate in having right about them something to do. But the town boys are a problem just now. The average boy from eight to eighteen years of age is apt to see the great importance in having something to do, and so if some one else does not find it for him he will generally do very little. What can a man in town do with the boys during vacation? Well, this is a hard question, and has to be settled in every home where there are boys according to the particular environments in each case, but it ought to be settled down by every parent that it is best for the boy to give him something to do. Regular duties at regular times will serve to develop the boy into something better than a loafer. The tendency is to let the boys "go to the wild" rather than take any trouble to put them at some duty. This is not best for the boys, and no sane parents let their boys drift about while their neighbors put theirs to work. Such parents ought to be careful not to allow their boys to "exist" too much. Nothing so annoys a boy as to have some visitors come and find a wild child. He is a wild child. It makes him feel like he is doing a harder time than the boys who are allowed to go visiting a day, and so he becomes dissatisfied, sulks and is unhappy. Most boys have to be looked after if you get any work out of them, and most boys are better off, as we say, with such duties as keep them at home and give them something to do. AROUND GRIFTON.

Vanderbilt Sees and Hears Things.

GRIFTON, N. C., June 18.—We had the pleasure of listening to a lecture at the Disciple church last evening on the subject of "Push," by Mrs. Meta Sagra, of Indian Territory. Mrs. Sagra was formerly Miss Chestnut, born and raised near Grifton, who by herculean efforts on her part and great energy and push, has succeeded most admirably in the life work she has undertaken by advancing the cause of education in both the practical and theoretical standpoints. Honoring honest labor, both physical and mental, that the right of this exercise of both body and mind is God given, and that it is obligatory upon us as little boys and girls, men and women, to educate our hands to honest toil, which is both healthful and expedient for the development of the physical and spiritual man. On that we could have all our men and women of the present day, hearty, healthy and strong in physical, mental and spiritual exercise. After the address all her former friends and acquaintances gathered around and greeted her and husband with a warm welcome. Wish we could know all our people were filled with the spirit of pushing along to the utmost until successful in all our honorable undertakings.

SUGG FOR REGISTER OF DEEDS.

Bethel, N. C., June 19th, 1906.—EDITOR REFLECTOR: As a Pitt County farmer I desire to say that we want Mr. J. L. Sugg for our next Register of Deeds for Pitt County. Mr. Sugg is a man we all want to honor and a democrat who has always stood for the best interest of the public good.

OVER THE STATE.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

R. G. Hewitt, a street conductor in Charlotte, was run over and killed by his own car Tuesday afternoon. The car had been reversed and was running backward at the time of the accident.

Fayetteville, N. C., June 19.—The Victoria Manufacturing Company, organized sometime ago with $300,000 capital, broke ground today for the construction of a large cotton mill on the main line of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad two miles from this city.

Charged with a criminal assault upon a little white girl, just eight years of age, a negro boy, aged fifteen, is in Wake county jail. The negro boy is named Clement Rowland and the attempted assault took place in Panther Branch township. The little girl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Britt, of that township.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Wilmington, June 19.—Growing out of charges preferred against him in opposing his election to the police force at last night's meeting of the board of aldermen, former Policeman M. E. Guy, this morning made an attack on Alderman E. F. Johnson, near the place of business of the latter, on Dock street. A fistfight ensued in which the ex-policeman's eye was blacked and the alderman's vest and shirt suffered to some extent. Friends of the two men interfered before the final result of the affray was apparent.

Littleton, N. C., June 19.—An organized man hunt is in progress here today. Men and dogs are thought to be on the right trail of a band of burglars. Night before last a number of residences were entered and robbed of money and valuables. The Hon. S. G. Gurnell lost his handsome gold watch and a sum of money. An attempt was made to enter the residence of Sheriff John R. Patterson. His little boy Charlie, who was watching his sick grandmother, heard the window opening and frightened them off. One hundred dollars or more was stolen from R. L. Riggan. Numerous attempts were made to enter houses where the occupants were awakened by the noise and the burglars were frightened off.

Crew of the Sweeney Safe.

New York, June 19.—The schooner Maggie M. Keough, Captain Tilton, which arrived here today from Savannah, brought into port the crew of the schooner Jennie Sweeney, which struck on the twenty-one foot lump of Frypan Shoals, off Cape Fear, in a heavy northeast Tuesday, June 12, and went down two hours later. The crew of eight took to their boat, and after a night exposed to the severe weather, were picked up by the Maggie M. Keough.

Souvenir Cards.

At the drug store of Coward & Wooten are displayed some very attractive souvenir postal cards. The cards contain pictures of buildings and scenes around Greenville that were taken with a kodak and mounted by a local amateur artist. The work is well done and the card makes a pretty souvenir as can be had. They are also a good advertisement for Greenville sending to people at a distance.

MURDER NEAR VANCEBORO.

Mr. John Lancaster Killed by a Negro.

A telephone message reached Greenville this morning asking Mr. W. C. Hines to take his blood hounds to Vanceboro to run the trail of a negro who had committed murder.

The particulars of the murder as far as we could learn them, was that about 8 o'clock this morning Mr. John Lancaster was shot and killed on his farm near Vanceboro, by a negro named Bailey. The negro lived in a house on Mr. Lancaster's farm, and wanted the latter to lend him a horse to plough his garden. Mr. Lancaster refused to let the negro have the horse when the latter went in his house, got a double barrel gun and shot Mr. Lancaster as he was in the field, killing him almost instantly.

Mr. Lancaster was about 40 years old, and was a good citizen. He once lived in Greenville and was well known here. The murder has caused much excitement around Vanceboro and every effort will be made to capture the negro.

CITY WATER GOOD.

It is Examined Every Thirty Days.

Right now when there is considerable sickness and people investigating to discover the cause of it, some one has asked us how often the city water is examined by the State chemist. Such examinations are made every thirty days, and Superintendent Dunlap tells us that the last analysis was the best that has yet been made, and all have been good. The city water is the safest that can be used.

Shop Shots.

The two best mediums for store advertising are without doubt the window and the local newspaper. Cheap or slack treatment of either will prove to your satisfaction that advertising is not a failure.

Business follows the crowd. In other words, business makes business. Get the people coming to your store, whether it be to buy, to look or to ask for souvenirs. At all events, keep the store looking busy.

Printer's Ink is the best tonic for a business that has got that tired feeling. Use it in winter, summer, spring and fall. Use it as a preventive as well as a cure.

Newspaper advertising, reduced to its lowest common denominator is simply with reference to the goods, what, where and how much? Cover these three points in plain language and you have made paying advertisements.—Printer's Ink.

Things Will Soon Be Moving.

Greenville has been duller in the last few months than we ever knew it. But it is not going to remain that way long. First thing you know the town will wake up and be going forward with great bounds. If you have been contemplating the purchase of a building lot it is not worth while to wait long about it, unless you want to pay a higher price than it can be had at now.
