EDITORIAL NOTES.

(By an Occasional Contributor.)
Mr. Tillman says they have gotten a great deal of light in their four days hearing on the rate bill, but the trouble with it has been that so much of it was "gas" light.

When Alex. Berkman and Em Golden were married the last time they neglected to announce when the next ceremony would be solemnized.

Efforts to dramatize the Jungle have broken down as the impressario could not get Chairman Wade worth for the leading role.

From the hasty preparations the Russian government is making to check the massacres at Bialystok, it is easy to infer that they are all over.

An Iowa farmer kidnapped five laborers, put them in an automobile and took them home to dine on fried chicken. Yet the oppressed farmer wants the tariff revised.

It looks as though "Mars Henry" had discovered a promising young man out in Nebraska.

"Prof" Billy Muldoon restores Chauncey Depew to us "as good as ever." Wonder whether that was intended for an advertisement or an apology.

Congress made a mistake about the boodle bill. What they meant was that it was a felony to contribute to anything but a Republican campaign fund.

And now some English correspondents express admiring surprise that the meeting of Mrs. Longworth and King Edward was like the meeting of equals. Well Alice always was more or less tolerant when she was over here.

The Democratic convention of Pitt county passed a resolution asking the corporation commission to compel telephone companies to reduce exorbitant charges. By this token, and the further fact that a case asking for a reduction of Bell telephone rates is now pending before the commission, it will be seen that Statesville people are not the only people who object to being robbed. —Statesville Landmark.

Hoboes leaving California.

Never in the history of railroading have the trainmen of the Southern Pacific Company had to contend with as many hoboes as have been steering their way over the lines in the past two weeks. Many of the brave men claim that they are unable to cope with the situation and if they attempted to keep the tramps off it would be impossible to run their trains on schedule time.

It is nothing to see trains pull in at a station carrying blind baggage passengers as thick on the car platforms as bees on the entrance of a hive. The railroad men do all in their power to force and compel these individuals to keep off, but they are traveling in "flocks" of fifty or twenty-five. To keep them off the railroad company would have to carry guards, with orders to shoot when a command is disobeyed.

As high as fifty hoboes have been seen one time in the Truckee yards. When a freight train pulls in a conductor and his two brakemen are as powerless to free their trains from this element as a lamb to get away from a pack of wolves. —Truckee Correspondence Sacramento Bee.

The Pitt county Democratic convention passed a resolution endorsing Hon. John H. Small, representative in congress, for "his industry and fidelity" in looking after the interests of his constituents, and instructing the delegates to the congressional convention to vote for his renomination, and then added: "We do not endorse his vote for the so-called fast mail subsidy to the Southern railway, but regret the same." That was sensible. Pitt county Democrats objected to Mr. Small's vote in this case and they didn't attempt to conceal their attitude by doubtful silence or by dodging. Neither did they try to oust a faithful and capable representative because they disagreed with him in a single instance.

A member of a legislative body should represent his people, but he is expected to have some ideas and convictions of his own. If he did not he would be unfit to represent any body. If he is satisfied his people are wrong about a matter it is his business to use his own judgment and if he is honest and capable and faithful it is nonsense to turn him down because of a disagreement in one or two matters. The man who agrees with everybody about everything is unfit to represent himself. —Statesville Landmark.

SOME FIGURES ABOUT WEDLOCK.

The census report on population, just issued, shows that in the total population of 75,994,575 in 1900, the number of "single" persons was 43,983,905, or nearly 58 per cent. The married were 27,770,101; the widowed, 3,895,847; the divorced, 198,914. In the Old World the proportion of single is different, being 41.4 per cent. in India, 54.6 in Spain, 60.8 in England and Austria and 64 in Scotland. In Australia the figure varies from 66 to 68 per cent. In the Southern States the percentage of unmarried persons is 60.8, of married 33.7, of widowed 5.1, of divorced .02, while in the North the corresponding figures are 56.4, 38.0, 5.2, .02. The twelfth census shows 21,494 more negro wives than negro husbands, the women reporting themselves married more freely, it appears, than the men. But the figures, as respect the colored population, are open to question, many reporting themselves married when not legally married. "Of 40 couples at Cinclare, La.," says the report, "who reported themselves as married, only 20 were legally married in the church or by the civil authorities. Numerous cases are seen of two persons legally married and yet each living with a different person and reporting as being married to the second." In Porto Rico the same state of things exists to a large extent, owing to the cost of the necessary religious ceremony. In Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont the divorced are half of 1 per cent. of the population, while in Maryland and West Virginia the divorced were two-tenths of 1 per cent. and in Virginia one-tenth of 1 per cent. In Nevada the divorced are seven-tenths of 1 per cent., and in Washington, Oregon and California six-tenths of 1 per cent. —Baltimore Sun.

SCHOOL FOR STAMMERERS.

Detroit, Michigan, June 23, 1906.
EDITOR REFLECTOR:

Will you allow me space to say a few words in regard to the school located at this place for the cure of stammer. I left my home on the 17th of this month filled with a little hope and doubt of finding a real cure for stammering and I think now I can shout "Eureka."

The school now has a few more than one hundred pupils which is about all that can be cared for at one time. I see in the school mothers and sons, brothers and sisters, all here seeking to be made free from the fearful malady. It seems to me when so much public money is being spent for erecting monuments to the dead that it would be much better to spend it in building and supporting an institution of this kind for the dead are in a better condition than the poor unfortunate victim of stammering. They have a place for the insane, while these creatures who are worse than crazy are entirely unnoticed. There is in the United States something near one half million and yet they have received no attention at all. They have so far received no state aid and the philanthropists as yet—like the priest and the Levites, have passed by on the other side.

ANOTHER DAY.

Another day of life is done—
Another day another setting of the sun
And twilight gray.
Another day of love and loss.
Another morning of gold and dross.
Another hearing of the cross.
Another day.
Rest comes to-night, but oh, what then.
Another day.
Too soon the tolls, the trials of men,
Another dawn of gray.
Once more the storm, the stress, the strife.
Once more the world with sorrow rife,
Once more the weary round of life.
Another day.
Dear Lord, at times I almost fear
Another day.
And fate would be resting here
At twilight gray.
So weak am I, so weary, worn,
So long the burden have I borne.
Dear Lord, I shrink from this return—
Another day.

AN IMPOSSIBLE TRINITY.

Francis Wilson, at the Players Club, was narrating reminiscences of the stage.
"In early youth," he said, "I went upon the road with a stock company. There was only eleven members of this company, yet we often produced plays involving twenty-five or thirty characters. Hence a doubling-up process; even, at times a tripling-up process, if such an expression may be used.
"Our repertory embraced nearly a hundred plays.
"One night the manager came to me and said:
"Get ready to rehearse 'The adventures' for next week, Frank I'm sorry for you, but you are cast for three parts in this piece—Manning, Grandpa Vane and Diamond Dick."
"I laughed scornfully.
"It is impossible for me to take the three parts of Manning, Grandpa Vane and Diamond Dick," I said.
"The manager frowned. He was a strict disciplinarian.
"Impossible! Why is it impossible he growled.
"Well," said I, "it is impossible because, in act four, scene two, Manning and Diamond Dick get into a fight, and Grandpa Vane rushes on and separates them with a club."

ELDER T. H. BARNHILL VINDICATED

June 16, 1906.—Quarterly Meet ing at Hickory Grove appointed a committee to investigate the charges made against Eld. T. H. Barnhill, a member of this church, by one L. C. James, of this county. He is charged with keeping whiskey on his premises, selling illegal, also drinking himself. The year committee have investigated the charges the best we can. We had before us B. M. Whitehurst, a member of the Educational Board W. G. Little, Ex. commissioner, Zeron Taylor and other, who have been acquainted with Eld. T. H. Barnhill, for years gone by. And they say the charges made by L. C. James is false and without foundation. The charges were made on account of some little personal difference. No one brought any charge against him.

Greenville Banking & Trust Company.

The statement of the Greenville Banking & Trust Company at the close of business on the 18th, as made to the Corporation Commission, will be found in this paper. While the virtual deposits are not quite so large as shown in the April statement, the loans and discounts are larger bringing the total up to about the same figure, and a large increase has been made to the surplus. This is a fine showing, coming in the midst of the dulllest part of the year.

EXPOSITION GROUNDS.

Those of the Jamestown Celebration Near Norfolk Rich in Historical Lore.

[By Charles Frederick Stansbury.]
Sewell's Point, the beautiful spot on Hampton Roads where the Jamestown exposition is to be held is rich in historic events and incidents that have occurred at and around it.

Within cannon-shot distance of the exposition grounds is Craney Island which has been used jointly by Norfolk and Portsmouth for some years as a detention station for patients with contagious diseases. Craney Island is rich in historical lore.

On the 22nd of June, 1813, a powerful British fleet made an attack on Craney Island, at the entrance to Elizabeth river, near Norfolk, and was signally defeated.

Before the British could enter the harbor of Norfolk and approach the town it was necessary to take possession of Craney Island. On the morning of the 22nd they were discovered passing around the point of Nansemond river, and landing on the mainland in a position where the passage was fordable intending to pass over and attack the works on the west side of the island, while at the same time a number of barges from the fleet attempted to land in front. These were attacked before they reached the shore, from a battery on the beach, manned by the sailors and marines from the Constellation and the gun boats. Three of the barges were sunk, most of the men drowned, and the rest compelled to retreat their vessels. The party which landed at Nansemond, were met and repulsed by the Virginia militia, and driven back to their ships, with the loss, including those in the barges, of upwards of two hundred killed and wounded.

The city of Norfolk and the neighboring villages of Gosport and Portsmouth owed their safety to this gallant defence of Craney Island.

BAILEY CAUGHT.

Information reached here this morning that the negro, Bailey, who on Thursday morning shot and killed Mr. John Lancaster near Vanceboro, had been captured. The capture was made about 4 o'clock a few miles from Vanceboro. The negro came out of a swamp and started to cross what is known as Palmetto bridge, when some of the posse who were guarding the bridge caught him.

And Carried to New Bern Jail.

Information reached here this morning that the negro, Bailey, who on Thursday morning shot and killed Mr. John Lancaster near Vanceboro, had been captured. The capture was made about 4 o'clock a few miles from Vanceboro. The negro came out of a swamp and started to cross what is known as Palmetto bridge, when some of the posse who were guarding the bridge caught him.

The negro surrendered without resistance and was first carried to Vanceboro. In his pocket was found a bottle containing a mixture with which he had saturated his clothes and rubbed his feet to keep the blood hounds from trailing him. He had spent the night in the swamp and started out as soon as daylight came.

There was much excitement at Vanceboro when the negro was taken there; and for a time there were threats of lynching. The sheriff of Craven county urged the people not to do violence but let the law take its course, promising to do all in his power to get a speedy trial and quick punishment. This quieted the excitement and the negro was taken to New Bern jail.

Which?

A man offered to bet us that June 21st was the longest day of the year. We always thought the 22nd had that distinction, but either is long enough. In fact several days at the turning point are very near the same length.

Cotton Blossoms.

Mr. H. K. Robinson, of Belvoir, sent us two red blossoms this morning and says he has plenty with three on a stalk.

Cotton blossoms are getting plentiful now. Mr. David Hymen tells us he had one on the 18th and now has them several on a stalk.

The police officers have received new summer uniforms.

MOORE FOR REGISTER OF DEEDS.

Grimesland, N. C., June 22.
EDITOR REFLECTOR:

We the undersigned citizens of Chiood township respectfully ask for space in your valuable paper to heartily endorse the candidacy of W. M. Moore for Register of Deeds of Pitt county.

We have known "Bad" Moore for a number of years and from boyhood, and know him to be a gentleman of the highest type and ability, a man who has been loyal to his party and a friend to the public. We believe that if honesty, politeness and perseverance speak for anything, then we should nominate and elect a man that Pitt county will be proud of.

YOUR BOY

You do not know what it is in him Bear with him; be patient; wait
Feed him; clothe him; love him;
He is a boy, and most boys are bad and I fear he is light-headed as well.
But remember he calls you father.
When he played in your lap, you fondly noped he would some day be a great and useful man.

Now that he has grown larger, and his young blood drives him into gleeful sport, and makes him impatient of serious things—rattle, play, thoughtlessness—you at most despair. But don't be snappish and snarl, and make him feel that you are disappointed in him. He is your boy, and you are to live in him. He bears your name, and is to send it on down the stream of time. He inherits your fortune and fame, and is to transmit them to generations to come.

It cannot be otherwise. A daughter divides your fortune, transmits less of your fame and loses your name. A boy is more nearly yourself than anything else can be. It is through your boy you go down in history; through your boy you are to live in the future; by him you are to act upon the generation that is to come.

It may be difficult to govern him, but be patient. He may seem adverse to everything useful and good; but wait.

No one can tell what it is a boy. He may surprise you some day. Hope. Let him grow. While his body grows larger and stouter, his mental and moral nature may expand and improve.

Educate your boy. You may think money spent in this way is money spent in vain. There is nothing in him; he has no pride, no aspiration. You don't know.

No one can tell what it is a boy. Besides, there may be a noddle bud sprout, an unbroken flame, a sparkling life, a latent energy, which the reaper's rod may stir, the association, which the books and men may arouse, develop and direct, and thus start a boy a going, with such energy and determination that no power on earth could stop him short of the topmost end in the ladder of fame.—Exchange.

The negro Lucy Bailey who killed Mr. John Lancaster, near Vanceboro has been taken to Wake county jail to avoid possibility of being lynched. His wife has also been arrested and taken to New Bern jail.

Willis B. Briggs, city editor of the Raleigh Times, is to be the new postmaster of Raleigh.

AN OPEN LETTER.

To the Honorable Board of County Commissioners of Pitt County.

The government of the town of Grimesland, N. C., is composed of the following officers:
Mayor—William Carson, ex-governor distiller.
Commissioner—W. E. Proctor, barkeeper.
Commissioner—T. F. Proctor, ex-barkeeper.
Commissioner—W. S. Mils, R. F. D. carrier.
Police or Constable—T. J. Talley, ex-barkeeper.
Treasurer—W. M. Moore, ex-barkeeper.

The selection and election of these officers was not by accident, but by design. It shows that the liquor interest is in absolute control of the town, and this accounts for so much disorder here. The barkeeper license is only $25 payable semiannually. The town pays the policeman $2 per week and he serves only every Saturday. The balance of the time we are without police protection.

The law requires a town to furnish constant police protection in order that liquor may be sold therein. In this town there are gross, flagrant and frequent violations of the liquor laws, and under the present conditions nothing else is to be expected.

With the construction of the new railroad in the near future, there will be an influx of foreign labor near here, and we will need constant police protection.

My object in writing this letter is to ask you not to issue any license to sell liquor in the town of Grimesland until the town government qualifies itself to have liquor sold within its limits, as required by laws enacted by our last Legislature. The liquor question should not be a political issue, but a moral issue. I think we have had enough liquor legislation, we need only to enforce the laws we already have on statute books.

Your honorable chairman is well acquainted with the facts above stated. He has seen much lawlessness and disorder here and I refer to him for verification of the above facts.

Most Respectfully,
Dr. C. M. Jones.

Sudden Death.

Mr. J. L. Keel, of Carolina township, died suddenly Friday evening of heart disease, a malady to which he had been subject for some time.

On Thursday Mr. Keel went to Williamston on business, returning from that town to Robersonville on train. He was not feeling well and stopped at the home of Mr. Ab Everett, near Robersonville. He had a sudden attack Friday evening and died in a short while.

Mr. Keel was 38 years old and leaves one child, four brothers and four sisters.

The National Bank.

On call from the Comptroller of the Currency the National Bank of Greenville makes a statement of the standing of its business on June 15th, which will be found in this paper. This statement commends itself to the public and shows the excellent standing of the bank. It is all the more remarkable when the fact is considered that the bank had been in business only two months. The stockholders have cause to feel proud of the work the bank is doing and that it was so quick to gain the confidence of the public. The bank has made a fine beginning and is admirably officered.

Shooting at Parmele.

Parmele, N. C. June 25.—W. H. Harper, a white man living here, on Saturday night shot and seriously wounded a colored woman named Bet Joley. Cause of the shooting is not known. The woman is in a serious condition.

Only a Dozen Were Present.

The Republicans of Greenville township held a primary in the court house Saturday afternoon. It was presided over by Postmaster R. C. Flanagan with W. J. Manning secretary. The only thing done in the way of business was the election of a township executive committee consisting of R. C. Flanagan, S. I. Fleming and W. J. Manning.

No delegates were selected by name to the county convention which meets on July 4th, but the chairman extended an invitation to every Republican of the township to attend that convention and consider himself a delegate. There were just an even dozen Republicans in attendance upon the primary, at least that many were inside the bar and were addressed as brother by the chairman when he called on them to see if any body would make a speech. There was no response to the invitation so the chairman had to do all the talking that was done. He said while they were very few in number these few were faithful and big things were expected of them. He also said that it would be better for the nation, the state and the county for the two political parties to be more evenly divided.

All those present at the primary were white, the colored element being conspicuous by its entire absence, making it vastly different from the Republican gatherings of days gone by when there were about the same number of white men surrounded by hundreds of black faces. While this fact may give some color

But, sir, when the lightning took to hittin' right at that binder I concluded to get out from there. I had a gallon-and-a-half bucket on my arm and I lit out for the male-shed. When I was about half-way there the thing begun to get heavy. I looked down and if the blamed thing wasn't full of water I'm a—"

Charlotte is recognized as the home of building and loan associations in North Carolina, and the above gives a good idea of what the associations are doing in that city. Some of these days we hope to publish as good results for the association in Greenville. The first of May this town began an association with nearly one thousand shares of stock issued and just think what it will mean when these shares mature to say nothing of the good to be accomplished in the meantime by helping people build homes.

The bank individual who had been leaning against a barrel broke in: "Well, now, I reckon that must 'a' been the day I am thinkin' about. What made me know it was rainin' some was seein' a flock of wild ducks go over. Gents, them ducks had folded their wings and was just naturally paddlin'."

For the space of two minutes not a sound was heard save the parring of the cat asleep on the counter; then silently, with bowed heads, the crowd dispersed. —Woman's Home Companion for July.

Speaking of the disposition of a number of fire insurance companies to evade payment entirely or discount their loans arising from the destruction in San Francisco, the Charlotte Observer says: The companies involved should pay the last cent for which they are liable, no matter if it results in putting them out of business. They received the premiums demanded and now that the property insured has been destroyed speedily settlement so far as the companies are able to make it should result. It is too often the case that fire insurance companies seek to evade full payment after fire, despite the fact that they have for an indefinite period collected premiums to the full amount of the policy. Of course, in a case like that of San Francisco concerns are not to be blamed for endeavoring to save themselves from bankruptcy by all reasonable or just means, but indefinite delay in making settlements and efforts to cut down policies in cases where companies are able to pay are to be condemned.

Greensboro gets many good things these days. The Retail Merchants' Association will meet there next year.

America is horrified at the reports of Jewish massacres in Russia, and Congress has adopted a joint resolution expressing sympathy for the heaved, but that is not doing anything to relieve the situation. The massacres ought to stop, and if nothing else will answer the other nations should demand that Russia put an end to the horrible butchery of innocent people.

AS TO FUTURE PUNISHMENT.

It is a rather ghastly joke for the newspapers to get gay in the discussion of the existence of a hell, where men are punished for their sins, when every man who can reason at all knows that the account is not squared in this life, but that in the other the Lord will adjust the matters that are so unequal here. As the Charlotte Observer well says: "Whatever else may be wrong about our belief in future things, there is too much evidence of a hell to be overcome." Aside from the plain teachings of the Bible on the subject, our inner consciousness tells us there must be a place of punishment in the future world, and the flip-pant skeptic commands the respect of nobody, not even to himself. —City and Country.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT
This department is in charge of F. C. NYE, who is authorized to represent the Eastern Reflector in Winterville and territory.

A good deposit at a bank will make you feel more independent. Make a beginning with what you have hidden away for safe keeping the next time you come to the Bank of Winterville. They can keep it safer than you can.

Nice line of fresh groceries always on hand Harrington Barber Co.

Miss Mimie Cox returned from Greenville Wednesday morning.

It is a little out of season to sell carts and wagons, but the Tar Heel parts and wagons sell at all seasons of the year.

Miss Ethel Carroll returned from Asheville Wednesday, where she has been attending the Y. W. C. A. convention.

All farmers anticipating oats sowing and wheat can be supplied with mowers, rakes, reapers and binders at Harrington, Barber & Co.

The Masons of our town and surrounding community met here Thursday morning in annual communication and elected the following officers for the ensuing Masonic year: E. W. Braxton, W. M.; J. F. Harrington, S. W.; B. F. Manning, J. W.; E. F. Tucker, secretary; A. G. Cox, Treasurer.

At the Masons with their families and friends all gathered in a vacant store and enjoyed a delightful dinner, consisting of barbecue, baked chicken, cake and lemonade. After serving refreshments all marched to our school building where we had the pleasure of hearing one of Pitt county's most honored citizens address us on this occasion, Maj. Henry Harding, of Greenville, which was very much enjoyed by all. Then with a hearty wish for each one's future welfare and another day like that one all returned to their homes to long remember the pleasures of that day.

Nice buggy robes at Harrington Barber & Co.

Nice line of boys suits at H. L. Johnson's.

Another large shipment of shoes all styles and sizes and prices very reasonable. Harrington Barber & Co.

J. J. May, G. T. Kittrell and Charley May attended the funeral of Mrs. W. J. Kittrell, at Grifton Wednesday.

A. W. Ange spent the day "down on the farm" Friday.

No need of not having good pants when Harrington, Barber & Co., have just received a new lot, that they will sell cheap.

If you need a nice Rag just call at A. W. Ange & Co and you can get one, and a cap too.

Straws tell which way the wind blows, just notice the stream of customers going in and out from Harrington, Barber & Co's.

Life is too short to fool with a common garden when A. W. Ange & Co., have wire of all heights.

If you want Hamburg at 4c and 10c Hamburg at 8c and 25c ladies collars for 15c, call at A. W. Ange & Co's. They have a large assortment.

The A. G. Cox Manufacturing Co tell us they get more orders for Tobacco Trucks and flues when the crop is doing well. Judging from their shipments of late we thin the tobacco crop must be improving.

Tooth and Disk Harrow at Harrington, Barber & Co.

Car load of flour just received nice and fresh, at lowest price. Harrington, Barber & Co.

Nicest line of dress shirts ever shown in Winterville at Harrington, Barber & Co.

The increasing demand for buggy bodies and seats made by the A. G. Cox Manufacturing Company seems to indicate that they are experts in this line of work.

All colors of paint, and yellow ochre at Harrington Barber & Co.

Miss Olivia Cox entertained a party of friends at her home on Wednesday night, complimentary to her guests. Mrs. G. H. Ford, of Aurora, Miss Peck, of Portsmouth, Va., and Miss Vincent, of Greenville. The evening was spent in playing games, music and various amusements. At 10:30 refreshments were served. The party dispersed at eleven wishing their hosts and each other many another such pleasant occasion.

TO OUR FRIENDS
THE TOBACCO GROWERS
We take this opportunity of extending to our friends and patrons our sincere thanks for the liberal patronage bestowed upon us the past season.

WHEN THE CENTRE BRICK WAREHOUSE
was first erected, three years ago, it was the intention of its management to build up a permanent business upon a sound business basis. Our business has increased with the years, and we trust to be favored with your patronage the coming season.

Each Customer, as well as each Pile of Tobacco shall have our Personal Attention, and we shall endeavor, as in the past, to make The Centre Brick headquarters for High Prices, Fair and honorable treatment.

It affords us pleasure to announce in this connection that
MR. W. T. LIPSCOMB,
THE VETERAN TOBACCONIST AND WAREHOUSEMAN
Will be associated with us the coming season. Mr. Lipscomb is too well-known to the trade, planters, buyers, or manufacturers to need any commendation at our hands, suffice to say with his judgment and experience at the command of our customers, with our facilities for conducting the warehouse business, assisted as we will be by an experienced and competent force, in every department, it puts us in better position than any other warehouse in Eastern Carolina, at all times, to secure for our friends outside prices for their Tobacco. When you come to GREENVILLE, always

Always make the CENTRE BRICK your headquarters, and when your tobacco is ready to sell, bring it where experienced judges will sell it to the best advantage for you. Again thanking you for your liberal patronage we beg to remain,
Your friends
BRINKLEY and LASSITER,
BRINKLEY, LASSITER and LIPSCOMB, Successors,

Much has been said about the best time to advertise, and it has been regarded as a sort of loss of energy to carry on an energetic advertising campaign during the hot summer months. This has all changed, however, and only the inexperienced advertiser bothers himself or anyone else about the time to advertise; for the experienced advertiser, regardless of what his line may be, is fully aware of the fact that the time to advertise is all the time. That this is thoroughly appreciated by the leading concerns of the country is proved by the expensive summer campaigns which they carry out. Of course advertising in the summer time should be different from that of the winter, but there should be no let up whatever in the advertising. Some people put forth the argument that the summer months are dull, but if these misguided souls will ask the man who has advertised with them and that he has not at all in dollars over the condition of trade, and the difference is the result of his advertising. If one time is better than another to advertise, it is during the so-called "dull months," made so partly by the lack of advertising. —Southern Publisher.

THE SUMMER TIME.

Summer time is reading time. People read all papers more thoroughly now than in the busy season. Use newspaper space often now than in the big season. Attractive cuts with well-worded advertisements offering a definite price that you know is a good value, can have only one effect—a stimulation of summer business. Then never let up even for a base ball game. Keep it all everlastingly and you won't know there is such a thing as a dull season. You won't even think of how hot it is. Mountain and sea-shore requisites, commencement dresses, and various other specialties are needed now. Advertise then and deliver them. Make the delivery part a feature. Comforts can be sold all the time if properly advertised. And the majority of people now look to the newspaper advertisement to tell them what you have and what the inducements are.—Merchants Journal and Commerce.

The mayor of Haverhill, Mass., is a friend of the children. A circus is billed to appear in the town shortly and the mayor ordered that the public schools be closed so that the children might witness the parade and performance attend the performance and the tents. The school committee refused to close the schools to allow them to attend and the mayor declared he would take the case upon at every second house door to bid the children to enter. The school committee at the school backing in the courts asked for an order restraining the mayor from interfering with the running of the public schools. The mayor says he has authority to order the schools to be closed. It is to be hoped that the court will side with the mayor, for school children are entitled to a holiday with the circus in town, and the visits of the circus showmen are a great benefit to the town. The mayor of Haverhill is a friend of the children. —Louisburg Times.

R. T. A. Person, who regret to announce will be absent during the coming tobacco season, he having accepted a position tendered him as buyer for the Japanese tobacco manufacturing, on the Greenville market. He and his good wife will leave in a few days for Greenville, and the good wishes of the community will follow them. We hope their stay in Louisville will be of short duration. —Louisburg Times.

Adam is not the only man who ever made a fool excuse for sin; others are living all around us. Today Policemen Causey and Stedman arrested Sam S. Osborne on a charge of bigamy. Osborne lives on South Davis and is a telegraph operator for the Southern at Hendrix's a few miles from the city. He came here since Christmas and about two months ago married the daughter of Robert Gulechist, living not far from where he works. How the information was secured that Osborne has another wife is not known, but this makes no difference, for when arrested today he made no denial of the fact, saying that he did not know he was violating any law, for his first wife had two husbands and he thought he was entitled to two wives. He was locked up. He is about 25 years of age.

Another incident in connection with the second marriage of Osborne may make interesting reading. The wedding took place only a few Sundays ago at the country home of the bride, Miss Mattie Gulechist, who is a daughter of County Surveyor Gulechist. A few hours after Miss Gulechist was married to Osborne, another young man, to whom she was engaged to marry on the same day, arrived to claim her for a bride. This was W. S. Wyrick, a popular young man of Greensboro, who was engaged to the young lady in good faith, and, having armed himself with the license and the other arrangements being complete, he was expecting easy sailing. His chagrin when he found that his expected bride was married to another man can be more easily imagined than described. He can now find solace in the fact that he is clear of the present domestic infelicity of the unhappy couple. —Greensboro Record.

A recent order issued by the general passenger agent of the Norfolk and Southern railroad, entitled all delegates attendant upon the congressional and judicial conventions to a rate of one half the regular fare when returning. To obtain this rate it is necessary to pay full fare when going to the convention and secure a certificate of attendance from the secretary for presentation to the railroad ticket agent. Blank forms have been issued by the general passenger agent and will be in the hands of the secretaries.

From what we have seen in advance the July number of Plantation Life is going to be a gem. Though Plantation Life is young its circulation is growing rapidly. North Carolina has had no better agricultural magazine, and while every farmer especially should have it in his home, it contains interesting matter for the business and professional man as well. The office of Plantation Life is in the same building with The Reflector, and you can always find some one to wait on you when you wish to subscribe or have other business with it.

AROUND GRIFTON.

enderbilt Sees and Hears Things.
GRIFTON, N. C., June 28.—We were visited with a wind and rain storm Sunday evening which blew down a great deal of vegetation.

Sometime or other, or some other time about 5:30 o'clock p. m. the 1st Sunday in July, at the graded school building in Grifton, the young folks, old folks and all the folks that is folks, who want to see what the "Big 4" of Grifton will be doing, can be spending their Sunday evening by lending their presence to the Episcopal school services, which will begin at the above named date and place, under the superintendency of our friend, C. J. Tucker. Come one, and all and join in with us in these Sunday evening exercises, thereby profiting by the means of salvation offered in this line.

We do this not to detract from the other Sunday schools of this place who hold their meeting in the forenoon of each Sunday, but to give our people a service of employment and enjoyment of religious exercises Sunday evenings.

At the last meeting of Grifton Lodge No. 452 A. F. & A. M., the officers elected for the ensuing year were W. M., C. J. Tucker; S. W., C. T. Gaskins; J. W., W. H. McQuire; Sec. J. C. Gaskins. It is a sad duty to chronicle the death of Mrs. W. J. Kittrell, who died since our last. A good woman is gone and our loss of her in the community is her loss. We sympathize with the bereaved ones. May the protecting hand of our Father God ever be over them through life.

We notice for the first time in years (nearly fathers are posting the town laws and ordinances which does away with the plea of ignorance in his honor's court. The victim's ears will no longer ring with the echoes of "I told you so" when he is hauled up for his transgressions.

We had the pleasure of a call from our gentle, clever friend, L. O. Hicks, of Atlanta. Luther is one our Tar Heel boys whom everybody likes.

The Bank of Greenville.

The statement of the Bank of Greenville at the close of business on the 18th, as made to the Corporation Commission, appears in this paper. This bank makes a remarkably fine showing for the full time of year. At the annual meeting in May $2,827 was paid in dividends to the stockholders, which slightly lowered the surplus and undivided profits are yet one-and-a-half times as large as the capital stock. The Bank of Greenville is an institution that stands high.

Who Counts in a Town.

Small men with small purposes do not help to make a town lively and progressive. The man who never contributes to public enterprises or voluntarily assists in supporting any of the public enterprises is not worth coaxing to remain in a town, and should be decreed to move out it is always a matter of congratulation. It's units and not mere eiphers that count for something. "Be a unit." —Rock Hill Record.

Fine Crop.

It is interesting to go out and look at Mr. D. D. Haskett's crop of growing tomatoes, just south of the town. He has a large patch of them, several varieties and they grow in great clusters. They are beginning to ripen and in a few days he will have plenty of them.

PRETTY MORNING MARRIAGE.

Miss Mamie King Becomes the Bride of Mr. W. J. Turnage.
At 8 o'clock this morning in the Christian church a pretty marriage was solemnized, the principal parties to the happy event being Mr. W. J. Turnage and Miss Mamie King, with Rev. H. H. Moore as officiating clergyman.

The decorations of the church were in splendid keeping with such an occasion and most pleasing to the eye. From the ceiling across the pulpit were festoons of white and green from the center of which hung a mammoth horse shoe of white flowers. Both the pulpit and choir platform were covered in white, the latter being banked with palms, ferns and pot plants.

Just previous to entrance of the bride party Miss Blanch Reid King, of Goldsboro, skillfully rendered "Merry Moments" processional on the organ. This was followed with a beautiful violin solo, Reubenstein's Melody in F, by Miss Mabel King, of Goldsboro, who is only 13 years of age. Mrs. H. H. Moore in sweet voice sang "O, Promise Me."

The organ then under the touch of Miss Blanch Reid King swelled into Lohengrin's wedding march, changing into Mendelssohn's when the bride party entered in the following order:

First the minister, Rev. H. H. Moore, then the ushers up the opposite aisles, Dr. D. L. James and Mr. E. A. Moye, Sr., Mayor F. M. Wooten and Mr. C. E. Rountree. Following these came Miss Lena King, sister of the bride and maid of honor up one aisle, and Miss Verneesa Smith, bride's maid, up the other. Each of these ladies were gown in white china silk and carried white and pink carriages.

The bride, robed in a handsome going away suit of blue taffeta silk and carrying bride roses, entered with her brother Mr. S. D. King, while opposite them came the groom with his best man, Mr. J. W. Speight.

The ceremony that made the couple man and wife was impressive, the soft strains from the organ adding solemnity to it. Mr. and Mrs. Turnage received a large number of beautiful bridal presents. The couple left on the morning train for a bridal tour to Asheville.

OKMONDSVILLE ITEMS.

OKMONDSVILLE, N. C., June 28.
Raymond Turnage, of Ayden, visited his parents here yesterday.

Henry Stanley of Shelmerville, is spending a few days in this section.
Miss Margaret Ormond returned home last week after spending several weeks in Kittrell visiting at the home of Rev. A. L. Ormond.

Miss Mary Craft and Frank McGlohorn of Kenston visited at the home of A. L. Denton Saturday and Sunday.
Mrs. N. J. Ormond is visiting her son Rev. A. L. Ormond, of Kittrell, and we regret to learn that she has been unwell since leaving home.

Mrs. E. L. Denton left last Friday for Oxford where she will spend about three weeks visiting friends. And Earnest does not like to keep back either.
Eld. J. M. Barfield of Ayden, attended services at St. Delight last Sunday.

Work is progressing on the residence of F. W. Clare, on Fifth street. It will be a magnificent building when completed.

ROMANCE OF A HOSPITAL.

How Mr. Cherry, of North Carolina, Won a Maryland Bride.

Mr. James B. Cherry, of Greenville, N. C., who is well known in this city and an intimate friend of Mr. John Switzer, Jr., secretary to Marshal Farnam, announced today when he visited headquarters that he was the hero of a real romance. But Mrs. Cherry only smiled, for she declared even her own mother knew no thing about the romance.

It seems that Mr. Cherry, whose family have been readers of The Sun for many years, came to this city shortly before Christmas and was admitted to the Church Home and Infirmary on North B roadway.

Mrs. Cherry, then Miss Blanche W. Scott, of Burlington, Harford county, was there too. She was not ill and she always was a cheery smile as she flitted about caring for the sick.

The little cap and gown of the nurse uniform and the gentle manner of the nurse left such a deep impression upon the heart of Mr. Cherry that when he returned to his home he did not remain well long, and his first thought was of the nurse who was so kind to him in the hospital in Baltimore. Finally, it became necessary that he have a nurse, and, of course, no one else would do.

Miss Scott, always willing to take care for the sick—to say the least—accepted the call to North Carolina. That was in April and as the patient grew stronger Cupid became a troublesome warrior. His darts flew thick and fast and both Mr. Cherry and the little nurse from Harford county were struck.

As Father Time tore off the days from his calendar the new ailment of the patient grew worse and the nurse found she could not even attend her own wounds, so Cupid just laughed and added two more victims to his list.

Finally matters reached a crisis on Thursday, and the same old treatment that had been heaped down since "ye olden time" was prescribed for the nurse and her patient. It was a hopeless case, and Rev. Dr. William E. Cox, rector of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church, of Greenville, could do nothing but tie the knot.

For a wedding tour the couple decided to make Baltimore their destination. Mr. Cherry has to go back to the hospital, but Mrs. Cherry says she thinks it mean because she cannot go back to her old home and nurse her husband—Baltimore Sun.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Nick Gorman Passed away.

News reached the city this morning of the death of little Dorothy Gorman, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Gorman, who occurred in Richmond, Va., at an early hour this morning. The child was severely burned a month or more ago, and never recovered from the terrible ordeal. —Durham Sun.

Gallant Conductors

We do not believe the Atlantic Coast Line has any better or more faithful officials than Captain Hawks and Wooten of the passenger trains on this road. The way they handled the crowd to and from Kinston was pleasing to every passenger. Crowded trains never ruffled them, and their bearing is marked by such courtesy and thoughtfulness as to win deserved esteem.

It is now up to the Panama Commission to show that a lock canal can be built on a level.

GUION AND MOORE.

Democrats of Third Judicial District Select Judge and Solicitor.

The Democratic judicial convention for the third district was held in the court house in this city this afternoon and nominated a judge to succeed Judge Henry R. Bryan, and a successor to Hon. L. I. Moore, solicitor for the district. There was a pretty good attendance considering the fact that the convention was held outside the district, and Pitt and Craven sent very full delegations. It was a fine body of men which composed the convention and the spirit of harmony prevailed throughout.

In the absence of the chairman, Mr. L. V. Morrill, of Greene, who was absent on account of sickness, Mr. A. D. Ward, of Newbern, was selected as temporary chairman, and called the convention to order. Mr. Ward made a speech setting forth the object of the convention and then Capt. W. T. Ocho, of Paullico, was made secretary of the convention. Capt. Swift Galloway, of Greene, was made permanent chairman and the convention settled down to business.

A roll call of counties showed every one of the counties represented as follows: Carteret, Craven, Greene, Jones, Pamlico and Pitt.

Nominations for judge were declared in order and Carteret yielded to Craven. Mr. James A. Bryan of Craven, in a very happy speech, placed in nomination his countyman, Hon. Owen H. Guion, H. T. D. Warren, of Jones, seconded Mr. Guion's nomination and read resolutions of Jones county convention endorsing him.

Mr. F. C. Harding, of Pitt, arose and stated that by request of Mr. Morrill he would withdraw the name of Mr. Morrill as a candidate for judge, and moved Mr. Guion's nomination be by acclamation. Capt. Galloway then called Mr. Harding to the chair and after paying a splendid tribute to his countyman, Mr. Morrill, seconded Mr. Harding's motion and Mr. Guion was unanimously nominated by acclamation.

In the roll call for nominations for solicitor, Carteret yielded to Pitt, not having a candidate, and Mr. F. C. Harding in a very pretty speech placed before the convention the name of the present incumbent, Hon. Larry I. Moore. Mr. Ernest Green, of Craven, seconded the nomination of Mr. Moore, and moved that it be made by acclamation, which was carried unanimously. Hon. T. D. Warren, Jones, seconded Mr. Moore's nomination, also.

Mr. Moore was present and a loud call being made for a speech responded in a very graceful speech of acceptance, which was applauded loud and heartily.
Mr. Ernest Green, of Craven, then, in the absence of Mr. Guion, on behalf of the nominee and the delegation from Craven, made a short speech accepting the nomination for Mr. Guion.

Just before adjournment Mr. Green introduced a resolution endorsing the official record of Judge Henry R. Bryan, who has been a judge for 16 years and who voluntarily retires from the bench, which was unanimously adopted.

The following executive committee were named for the several counties to serve for the next four years: Carteret, W. M. Webb; Craven, Ernest A. Green; Greene, B. W. Edwards; Jones, T. D. Warren; Pamlico, W. T. Ocho; Pitt, F. C. Harding.

The convention then adjourned sine die. —Kinston Free Press, 26.

MASONIC CELEBRATION.

Kinston Had a Great Day Wednesday.

Kinston does not do things by halves, and that progressive town did herself splendid credit in the manner of entertaining the large number of visitors there Wednesday. Stores, residences and vehicles were gaily decorated with bunting flags and Masonic banners, and the words "Welcome" hung out everywhere. Thousands of people were in attendance, and notwithstanding the inability to get a special train to go over, Pitt county was well represented. Had our people known earlier that the regular noon train would reach Kinston in ample time for the exercises and how well the Atlantic Coast Line would handle them by special train to return at night, the number from here would have been many times larger.

A session of the Grand Lodge of Masons was held in the opera house before noon, and following this a great procession of Masons, military, firemen and citizens moved to the park surrounding the Robert Bruce McDaniel memorial hospital in East Kinston. Here an immense platform and harbor had been erected for the speaking, and with Dr. H. D. Harper, Sr., as master of ceremonies the program was carried out smoothly and as interestingly.

Addresses of welcome were made by Mayor N. J. Kouse on behalf of the city and Mr. J. W. Jernigan on behalf of St. John's Lodge A. F. & A. M., which were responded to by Lieut. Gov. Frances D. Winston. Then the grand lodge laid the corner stone of the charity annex to the hospital which had been erected to the memory of Mrs. Elizabeth Parrott by her sons, the Drs. Parrott. This was followed by addresses formally presenting the charity annex to the board of lady managers of the hospital and acceptance.

Then came the principal address of the day which was delivered by Gov. R. B. Glenn. This address was simply magnificent, both in expression and delivery. It was worth taking the journey to Kinston several times over to hear it. The heart of every North Carolinian who heard it swelled with emotions of pride at the noble utterances of our governor and the high tribute he paid to the state. While much of his address was mainly to Masons, emphasizing the great principles of industry, temperance and charity, it was none the less pleasing and beneficial to every man, woman and child in the vast audience, for no one could listen at such a speech without feeling a desire to live better, do nobler and grander deeds, and be more helpful to his fellowman. It was such a speech as inspires to marshall and character.

The people of Eastern North Carolina are great admirers of Governor Glenn and their esteem for him became even higher after listening to this address. His noble expressions were the utterances of no ordinary man, and the people love him for the great good he is doing in behalf of his state. The second regiment band, assisted by several Greenville young men, made music for the occasion, and the part our boys took added much to its excellence.

After the exercises at the hospital a bounteous dinner was served in one of the town's warehouses. About the only thing wanting in this was enough people to eat all that had been prepared, for while thousands partook off there was plenty more to spare. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in entertainment by the

BAILY WOMAN RAN AWAY.

Wife of the Vanceboro Murder Makes Threats and is Arrested.

The wife of Henry Baily, the Vanceboro murderer, began to act queerly in that city yesterday, and it was necessary to arrest her. She was using abusive and threatening language to the effect that she would shoot everybody in Vanceboro. She was brought to New Bern last night and lodged in jail and she will be examined next week to ascertain her mental condition. It is said she attempted to shoot a white woman there.—New Bern Journal.

SOLICITOR LARRY I. MOORE.

The Judicial Convention of the third district did itself honor in renominating Hon. Larry I. Moore, of Pitt, by acclamation. He is a native of Wilson county. He was first elected solicitor in 1895 and re-elected in a new district in 1899. He is an able lawyer and has made a faithful and popular official.

Mr. Moore is one of the wisest and most progressive of the younger leaders of Democracy in the State. He has several times represented his district on the Platform committee at the State Convention and has always run true. He is well-grounded in Democratic principles and is ready to fight for his conviction, believing that Democratic government means the death of special privilege and subsidies, that public service corporations should be regulated, passenger and freight fares reduced, and such powers conferred on the Corporation Commission as to make it an effective agency in serving the public. The people ought always to honor such men if they would have their interests protected.—Raleigh News and Observer.

DEATH OF MISS WILKIE JAMES.

Near midnight on June the 19th the dark angel of death visited the home of B. W. & Rillie James of Pitt county and took away their 13 year old daughter Wilkie.

She had been sick only two days, but oh, how she suffered, yet she was patient and sweet to the last, knowing each one that came to her bedside. No death bed scene could have been more beautiful or heavenly. Once after a paroxysm of pain she exclaimed, "Oh, papa I thought Gabriel had me by the arm," and with hands clasped looking heavenward she sang little verses of songs she had never heard singing before. And we that listened though we were singing with the angels. Besides a father and mother, she leaves four brothers and four sisters to mourn her absence. The grief of the entire family is most distressing to all, but you should not grieve dear ones, she is in a more beautiful home watching and waiting you. Auntie.

Miss Annie White returned from Kinston Wednesday evening.

Lenoir Commercial Club, Governor Glenn held a short reception there which could not be as long as anticipated because of his departure on an early train to meet another engagement. The club has elegant quarters and on this occasion proved that it could entertain royally and generously. The spirit that seemed upon among the Kinston people was that they could not do enough for their guests.
