

Much has been said about the best time to advertise, and it has been regarded as a sort of loss of energy to carry on an energetic advertising campaign during the hot summer months. This has all changed, however, and only the inexperienced advertiser bothers himself or anyone else about the time to advertise; for the experienced advertiser, regardless of what his line may be, is fully aware of the fact that the time to advertise is all the time. That this is thoroughly appreciated by the leading concerns of the country is proved by the expensive summer campaigns which they carry out. Of course advertising in the summer time should be different from that of the winter, but there should be no let up whatever in the advertising. Some people put forth the argument that the summer months are dull, but if these misguided souls will ask the man who has advertised with them and that he has not at all in dollars over the condition of trade, and the difference is the result of his advertising. If one time is better than another to advertise, it is during the so-called "dull months," made so partly by the lack of advertising. — Southern Publisher.

THE SUMMER TIME.

Summer time is reading time. People read all papers more thoroughly now than in the busy season. Use newspaper space often now than in the big season. Attractive cuts with well-worded advertisements offering a definite price that you know is a good value, can have only one effect—a stimulation of summer business. Then never let up even for a base ball game. Keep at it everlastingly and you won't know there is such a thing as a dull season. You won't even think of how hot it is. Mountain and sea-shore requisites, commencement dresses, and various other specialties are needed now. Advertise then and deliver them. Make the delivery part a feature. Comforts can be sold all the time if properly advertised. And the majority of people now look to the newspaper advertisement to tell them what you have and what the inducements are.—Merchants Journal and Commerce.

The mayor of Haverhill, Mass., is a friend of the children. A circus is billed to appear in the town shortly and the mayor ordered that the public schools be closed so that the children might witness the parade and performance attend the performance and the tents. The school committee refused to close the schools to allow them to attend and the mayor declared he would take the case upon at every second house door to bid the children to enter. The school committee at the school backing in the courts asked for an order restraining the mayor from interfering with the running of the public schools. The mayor says he has authority to order the schools to be closed. It is to be hoped that the court will side with the mayor, for school children are entitled to a holiday with the circus in town, and the visits of the circus showmen are a great benefit to the town. Adam is not the only man who ever made a fool excuse for sin; others are living all around us. Today Policemen Causey and Stedman arrested Sam S. Osborne on a charge of bigamy. Osborne lives on South Davis and is a telegraph operator for the Southern Railway. He came here since Christmas and about two months ago married the daughter of Robert Gulechist, living not far from where he works. How the information was secured that Osborne has another wife is not known, but this makes no difference, for when arrested today he made no denial of the fact, saying that he did not know he was violating any law, for his first wife had two husbands and he thought he was entitled to two wives. He was locked up. He is about 25 years of age.

Another incident in connection with the second marriage of Osborne may make interesting reading. The wedding took place only a few Sundays ago at the country home of the bride, Miss Mattie Gulechist, who is a daughter of County Surveyor Gulechist. A few hours after Miss Gulechist was married to Osborne, another young man, to whom she was engaged to marry on the same day, arrived to claim her for a bride. This was W. S. Wyrick, a popular young man of Greensboro, who was engaged to the young lady in good faith, and, having armed himself with the license and the other arrangements being complete, he was expecting easy sailing. His chagrin when he found that his expected bride was married to another man can be more easily imagined than described. He can now find solace in the fact that he is clear of the present domestic infelicity of the unhappy couple. —Greensboro Record.

A recent order issued by the general passenger agent of the Norfolk and Southern railroad, entitled all delegates attending upon the congressional and judicial conventions to a rate of one half the regular fare when returning. To obtain this rate it is necessary to pay full fare when going to the convention and secure a certificate of attendance from the secretary for presentation to the railroad ticket agent. Blank forms have been issued by the general passenger agent and will be in the hands of the secretaries.

From what we have seen in advance the July number of Plantation Life is going to be a gem. Though Plantation Life is young its circulation is growing rapidly. North Carolina has had no better agricultural magazine, and while every farmer especially should have it in his home, it contains interesting matter for the business and professional man as well. The office of Plantation Life is in the same building with The Reflector, and you can always find some one to wait on you when you wish to subscribe or have other business with it.

AROUND GRIFTON.

enderbilt Sees and Hears Things.
GRIFTON, N. C., June 28.—We were visited with a wind and rain storm Sunday evening which blew down a great deal of vegetation.

Sometime or other, or some other time about 5:30 o'clock p. m. the 1st Sunday in July, at the graded school building in Grifton, the young folks, old folks and all the folks that is folks, who want to see what the "Big 4" of Grifton will be doing, can be spending their Sunday evening by lending their presence to the Episcopal school services, which will begin at the above named date and place, under the superintendency of our friend, C. J. Tucker. Come one, and all and join in with us in these Sunday evening exercises, thereby profiting by the means of salvation offered in this line.

We do this not to detract from the other Sunday schools of this place who hold their meeting in the forenoon of each Sunday, but to give our people a service of employment and enjoyment of religious exercises Sunday evenings.

At the last meeting of Grifton Lodge No. 452 A. F. & A. M., the officers elected for the ensuing year were W. M., C. J. Tucker; S. W., C. T. Gaskins; J. W., W. H. McQuire; Sec. J. C. Gaskins. It is a sad duty to chronicle the death of Mrs. W. J. Kittrell, who died since our last. A good woman is gone and our loss of her in the community is her loss. We sympathize with the bereaved ones. May the protecting hand of our Father God ever be over them through life.

We notice for the first time in years (nearly fathers are posting the town laws and ordinances which does away with the plea of ignorance in his honor's court. The victim's ears will no longer ring with the echoes of "I told you so" when he is hauled up for his transgressions.

We had the pleasure of a call from our gentle, clever friend, L. O. Hicks, of Atlanta. Luther is one our Tar Heel boys whom everybody likes.

The Bank of Greenville.

The statement of the Bank of Greenville at the close of business on the 18th, as made to the Corporation Commission, appears in this paper. This bank makes a remarkably fine showing for the full time of year. At the annual meeting in May $2,827 was paid in dividends to the stockholders, which slightly lowered the surplus and undivided profits are yet one-and-a-half times as large as the capital stock. The Bank of Greenville is an institution that stands high.

Who Counts in a Town

Small men with small purposes do not help to make a town lively and progressive. The man who never contributes to public enterprises or voluntarily assists in supporting any of the public enterprises is not worth coaxing to remain in a town, and should be decreed to move out it is always a matter of congratulation. It's units and not mere ciphers that count for something. "Be a unit." —Rock Hill Record.

Fine Crop.

It is interesting to go out and look at Mr. D. D. Haskett's crop of growing tomatoes, just south of the town. He has a large patch of them, several varieties and they grow in great clusters. They are beginning to ripen and in a few days he will have plenty of them.

PRETTY MORNING MARRIAGE.

Miss Mamie King Becomes the Bride of Mr. W. J. Turnage.

At 8 o'clock this morning in the Christian church a pretty marriage was solemnized, the principal parties to the happy event being Mr. W. J. Turnage and Miss Mamie King, with Rev. H. H. Moore as officiating clergyman.

The decorations of the church were in splendid keeping with such an occasion and most pleasing to the eye. From the ceiling across the pulpit were festoons of white and green from the center of which hung a mammoth horse shoe of white flowers. Both the pulpit and choir platform were covered in white, the latter being banked with palms, ferns and pot plants.

Just previous to entrance of the bride party Miss Blanch Reid King, of Goldsboro, skillfully rendered "Merry Moments" processional on the organ. This was followed with a beautiful violin solo, Reubenstein's Melody in F, by Miss Mabel King, of Goldsboro, who is only 13 years of age. Mrs. H. H. Moore in sweet voice sang "O, Promise Me."

The organ then under the touch of Miss Blanch Reid King swelled into Lohengrin's wedding march, changing into Mendelssohn's when the bride party entered in the following order:

First the minister, Rev. H. H. Moore, then the ushers up the opposite aisles, Dr. D. L. James and Mr. E. A. Moye, Sr., Mayor F. M. Wooten and Mr. C. E. Rountree. Following these came Miss Lena King, sister of the bride and maid of honor up one aisle, and Miss Verneesa Smith, bride's maid, up the other. Each of these ladies were gowned in white china silk and carried white and pink carriages.

The bride, robed in a handsome going away suit of blue taffeta silk and carrying bride roses, entered with her brother Mr. S. D. King, while opposite them came the groom with his best man, Mr. J. W. Speight.

The ceremony that made the couple man and wife was impressive, the soft strains from the organ adding solemnity to it. Mr. and Mrs. Turnage received a large number of beautiful bridal presents. The couple left on the morning train for a bridal tour to Asheville.

OKMONDSVILLE ITEMS.

OKMONDSVILLE, N. C., June 28.—Raymond Turnage, of Ayden, visited his parents here yesterday.

Mrs. N. J. Ormond is visiting her son Rev. A. L. Ormond, of Kittrell, and we regret to learn that she has been unwell since leaving home.

Mrs. E. L. Denton left last Friday for Oxford where she will spend about three weeks visiting friends. And Earnest does not like to keep back either.

ROMANCE OF A HOSPITAL.

How Mr. Cherry, of North Carolina, Won a Maryland Bride.

Mr. James B. Cherry, of Greenville, N. C., who is well known in this city and an intimate friend of Mr. John Switzer, Jr., secretary to Marshal Farnam, announced today when he visited headquarters that he was the hero of a real romance. But Mrs. Cherry only smiled, for she declared even her own mother knew no thing about the romance.

It seems that Mr. Cherry, whose family have been readers of The Sun for many years, came to this city shortly before Christmas and was admitted to the Church Home and Infirmary on North B roadway.

Mrs. Cherry, then Miss Blanche W. Scott, of Burlington, Harford county, was there too. She was not ill and she always was a cheery smile as she flitted about caring for the sick.

The little cap and gown of the nurse uniform and the gentle manner of the nurse left such a deep impression upon the heart of Mr. Cherry that when he returned to his home he did not remain well long, and his first thought was of the nurse who was so kind to him in the hospital in Baltimore. Finally, it became necessary that he have a nurse, and, of course, no one else would do.

Miss Scott, always willing to take care for the sick—to say the least—accepted the call to North Carolina. That was in April and as the patient grew stronger Cupid became a troublesome warrior. His darts flew thick and fast and both Mr. Cherry and the little nurse from Harford county were struck.

As Father Time tore off the days from his calendar the new ailment of the patient grew worse and the nurse found she could not even attend her own wounds, so Cupid just laughed and added two more victims to his list.

Finally matters reached a crisis on Thursday, and the same old treatment that had been heaped down since "ye olden time" was prescribed for the nurse and her patient. It was a hopeless case, and Rev. Dr. William E. Cox, rector of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church, of Greenville, could do nothing but tie the knot.

For a wedding tour the couple decided to make Baltimore their destination. Mr. Cherry has to go back to the hospital, but Mrs. Cherry says she thinks it mean because she cannot go back to her old home and nurse her husband—Baltimore Sun.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Nick Gorman Passed away.
News reached the city this morning of the death of little Dorothy Gorman, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Nick Gorman, which occurred in Richmond, Va., at an early hour this morning. The child was severely burned a month or more ago, and never recovered from the terrible ordeal. —Durham Sun.

Gallant Conductors

We do not believe the Atlantic Coast Line has any better or more faithful officials than Captain Hawks and Wooten of the passenger trains on this road. The way they handled the crowd to and from Kinston was pleasing to every passenger. Crowded trains never ruffled them, and their bearing is marked by such courtesy and thoughtfulness as to win deserved esteem.

It is now up to the Panama Commission to show that a lock canal can be built on a level.

GUION AND MOORE.

Democrats of Third Judicial District Select Judge and Solicitor.

The Democratic judicial convention for the third district was held in the court house in this city this afternoon and nominated a judge to succeed Judge Henry R. Bryan, and a successor to Hon. L. I. Moore, solicitor for the district. There was a pretty good attendance considering the fact that the convention was held outside the district, and Pitt and Craven sent very full delegations. It was a fine body of men which composed the convention and the spirit of harmony prevailed throughout.

In the absence of the chairman, Mr. L. V. Morrill, of Greene, who was absent on account of sickness, Mr. A. D. Ward, of Newbern, was selected as temporary chairman, and called the convention to order. Mr. Ward made a speech setting forth the object of the convention and then Capt. W. T. Ocho, of Paullico, was made secretary of the convention. Capt. Swift Galloway, of Greene, was made permanent chairman and the convention settled down to business.

A roll call of counties showed every one of the counties represented as follows: Carteret, Craven, Greene, Jones, Pamlico and Pitt.

Nominations for judge were declared in order and Carteret yielded to Craven. Mr. James A. Bryan of Craven, in a very happy speech, placed in nomination his countyman, Hon. Owen H. Guion, H. T. D. Warren, of Jones, seconded Mr. Guion's nomination and read resolutions of Jones county convention endorsing him.

Mr. F. C. Harding, of Pitt, arose and stated that by request of Mr. Morrill he would withdraw the name of Mr. Morrill as a candidate for judge, and moved Mr. Guion's nomination be by acclamation. Capt. Galloway then called Mr. Harding to the chair and after paying a splendid tribute to his countyman, Mr. Morrill, seconded Mr. Harding's motion and Mr. Guion was unanimously nominated by acclamation.

In the roll call for nominations for solicitor, Carteret yielded to Pitt, not having a candidate, and Mr. F. C. Harding in a very pretty speech placed before the convention the name of the present incumbent, Hon. Larry I. Moore. Mr. Ernest Green, of Craven, seconded the nomination of Mr. Moore, and moved that it be made by acclamation, which was carried unanimously. Hon. T. D. Warren, Jones, seconded Mr. Moore's nomination, also.

Mr. Moore was present and a loud call being made for a speech responded in a very graceful speech of acceptance, which was applauded loud and heartily.

Mr. Ernest Green, of Craven, then, in the absence of Mr. Guion, on behalf of the nominee and the delegation from Craven, made a short speech accepting the nomination for Mr. Guion.

Just before adjournment Mr. Green introduced a resolution endorsing the official record of Judge Henry R. Bryan, who has been a judge for 16 years and who voluntarily retires from the bench, which was unanimously adopted.

The following executive committee were named for the several counties to serve for the next four years: Carteret, W. M. Webb; Craven, Ernest A. Green; Greene, B. W. Edwards; Jones, T. D. Warren; Pamlico, W. T. Ocho; Pitt, F. C. Harding.

The convention then adjourned sine die. —Kinston Free Press, 26.

MASONIC CELEBRATION.

Kinston Had a Great Day Wednesday.

Kinston does not do things by halves, and that progressive town did herself splendid credit in the manner of entertaining the large number of visitors there Wednesday. Stores, residences and vehicles were gaily decorated with bunting flags and Masonic banners, and the words "Welcome" hung out everywhere. Thousands of people were in attendance, and notwithstanding the inability to get a special train to go over, Pitt county was well represented. Had our people known earlier that the regular noon train would reach Kinston in ample time for the exercises and how well the Atlantic Coast Line would handle them by special train to return at night, the number from here would have been many times larger.

A session of the Grand Lodge of Masons was held in the opera house before noon, and following this a great procession of Masons, military, firemen and citizens moved to the park surrounding the Robert Bruce McDaniel memorial hospital in East Kinston. Here an immense platform and harbor had been erected for the speaking, and with Dr. H. D. Harper, Sr., as master of ceremonies the program was carried out smoothly and as interestingly.

Addresses of welcome were made by Mayor N. J. Kouse on behalf of the city and Mr. J. W. Jernigan on behalf of St. John's Lodge A. F. & A. M., which were responded to by Lieut. Gov. Frances D. Winston. Then the grand lodge laid the corner stone of the charity annex to the hospital which had been erected to the memory of Mrs. Elizabeth Parrott by her sons, the Drs. Parrott. This was followed by addresses formally presenting the charity annex to the board of lady managers of the hospital and acceptance.

Then came the principal address of the day which was delivered by Gov. R. B. Glenn. This address was simply magnificent, both in expression and delivery. It was worth taking the journey to Kinston several times over to hear it.

The heart of every North Carolinian who heard it swelled with emotions of pride at the noble utterances of our governor and the high tribute he paid to the state. While much of his address was mainly to Masons, emphasizing the great principles of industry, temperance and charity, it was none the less pleasing and beneficial to every man, woman and child in the vast audience, for no one could listen at such a speech without feeling a desire to live better, do nobler and grander deeds, and be more helpful to his fellowman. It was such a speech as inspires to marshall and character.

The people of Eastern North Carolina are great admirers of Governor Glenn and their esteem for him became even higher after listening to this address. His noble expressions were the utterances of no ordinary man, and the people love him for the great good he is doing in behalf of his state.

The second regiment band, assisted by several Greenville young men, made music for the occasion, and the part our boys took added much to its excellence.

After the exercises at the hospital a bounteous dinner was served in one of the town's warehouses. About the only thing wanting in this was enough people to eat all that had been prepared, for while thousands partook off there was plenty more to spare. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in entertainment by the

BAILY WOMAN RAN AWAY.

Wife of the Vanceboro Murder Makes Threats and is Arrested.

The wife of Henry Baily, the Vanceboro murderer, began to act queerly in that city yesterday, and it was necessary to arrest her. She was using abusive and threatening language to the effect that she would shoot everybody in Vanceboro. She was brought to New Bern last night and lodged in jail and she will be examined next week to ascertain her mental condition. It is said she attempted to shoot a white woman there.—New Bern Journal.

SOLICITOR LARRY I. MOORE.

The Judicial Convention of the third district did itself honor in renominating Hon. Larry I. Moore, of Pitt, by acclamation. He is a native of Wilson county. He was first elected solicitor in 1895 and re-elected in a new district in 1899. He is an able lawyer and has made a faithful and popular official.

Mr. Moore is one of the wisest and most progressive of the younger leaders of Democracy in the State. He has several times represented his district on the Platform committee at the State Convention and has always run true. He is well-grounded in Democratic principles and is ready to fight for his conviction, believing that Democratic government means the death of special privilege and subsidies, that public service corporations should be regulated, passenger and freight fares reduced, and such powers conferred on the Corporation Commission as to make it an effective agency in serving the public. The people ought always to honor such men if they would have their interests protected.—Raleigh News and Observer.

DEATH OF MISS WILKIE JAMES.

Near midnight on June the 19th the dark angel of death visited the home of B. W. & Rillie James of Pitt county and took away their 13 year old daughter Wilkie.

She had been sick only two days, but oh, how she suffered, yet she was patient and sweet to the last, knowing each one that came to her bedside. No death bed scene could have been more beautiful or heavenly. Once after a paroxysm of pain she exclaimed, "Oh, papa I thought Gabriel had me by the arm," and with hands clasped looking heavenward she sang little verses of songs she had never heard singing before. And we that listened though we were singing with the angels. Besides a father and mother, she leaves four brothers and four sisters to mourn her absence. The grief of the entire family is most distressing to all, but you should not grieve dear ones, she is in a more beautiful home watching and waiting you. Auntie.

Miss Annie White returned from Kinston Wednesday evening.

Lenoir Commercial Club, Governor Glenn held a short reception there which could not be as long as anticipated because of his departure on an early train to meet another engagement. The club has elegant quarters and on this occasion proved that it could entertain royally and generously. The spirit that seemed upon among the Kinston people was that they could not do enough for their guests.

Truth in Preference to Fiction

GREENVILLE NORTH CAROLINA FRIDAY, JUNE 29, 1906

The decrease in the use of canned goods may be followed by fewer cases of ptomaine poisoning.

If anything is offered you out of the can it might be well to inquire if it came from Chicago.

If a guard is not to shoot a convict who tries to escape we see no use in having a guard.

What to do to the streets is a problem we hope the incoming board of aldermen can solve.

Those Selma negroes would be about as safe playing with dynamite as to be pursuing the course they are.

The anarchists will not even let the young heir of Spain get through his honeymoon without getting after him.

The suicide mania is attacking even the colored people of Durham, one of that race trying to the job with a razor.

It is announced that President Roosevelt will make a trip to Panama in the fall to see for himself what is going on about the canal.

Greenville has been remarkably free from burglaries, but this is more the less a reason that our people should be careful not to invite any.

Zion City, Dowie's famous town, is over two millions short in accounts. That beats the shortage some of the rest of us have to lug around during the dull months.

When Greenville wakes up with an active chamber of commerce or board of trade there will be more going in the way of improvements around town than at present.

A reading of the bank statements in the Reflector ought to convince people that the banks are safer places to keep their money than to hide it around their houses.

Marion Butler continues to catch it all sides. H. C. Dockery dubs him the Judas Iscariot of the Republican party. That was the same role he played in the Populist camp.

The heavy fines imposed on the Kansas railroads for violating the rebate laws, and the way they are going for the ice trust in Ohio, is refreshing. Let the good work continue.

When the next board of county commissioners is selected the town of Greenville should have a member on it and that member should be chairman of the board. It has now been years since the town had a representative on the board.

We see it stated that the number of State convicts has been reduced to 700 with only 128 in the penitentiary and no more available for any kind of work. When the fall courts get busy there will be something in the way of recuperating the number.

"What is consistency?" inquires a contemporary. Well, for a good example there's Roosevelt trying to "bust" the trusts and standing pat for a tariff that creates and bolsters up what he is trying to do "bust"—Washington Star.

The annual cry is again raised in Kansas. A larger wheat crop than there are hands to harvest. Pity that so much grain goes to waste with so many loafers in the country and so many half fed people.

In the public building bill reported in Congress Monday, several North Carolina towns are stated to get buildings. The lucky places are Washington, Salisbury, Kinston, Fayetteville, High Point and Henderson. Some of these days we hope to see Greenville named in a list like that.

Greenville must not feel small because Washington on one side of us and Kinston on the other side are going to have public buildings. This burg must get to doing some thing on its own account. If the railroads will hurry up and deliver the goods we will be first to have day electric current.

In his speech at Kinston Wednesday Governor Glenn said North Carolina spends annually for liquor $10,000,000 while only $2,500,000 is spent in conducting the affairs of the state administration and $2,000,000 for education. Men of North Carolina, this is something to think about. It is appalling that we spend $8 for whiskey to every $1 for education, and that the drink bill taxes the state nearly eight times as much as the administration of the state costs, to say nothing of the increase of crime, poverty and suffering that drink produces. Can any rational man look at such a condition and not favor temperance?

TEN THOUSAND RED MEN COMING

Preparing for a Unique Building at the Jamestown Exposition -- Uniform Rank of Red Men's League on Camp Grounds.

(By Frank Eberle.)

Norfolk, Va., June 27.—On the beautiful grounds of the Jamestown Exposition, where in years gone by roamed the native red men of America, monarchs of all they surveyed, will be encamped 1,000 to 2,000 uniformed members of the "Red Men's League," who come to visit the exposition next year. In addition to the uniformed Red Men will be about 10,000 members of the "Improved Order of Red Men" at the exposition during Red Men's Day, September 12th. The red men of the time of Powhatan and Pocahontas have passed away and the pretty point of land, which was once their favorite camping ground, has been transformed into the Jamestown exposition grounds. The famous old live oak tree, where in centuries past the original red men held their powwows, stands like a grim sentinel. It has stood for nearly a thousand years, a connecting link between the present and the past.

Under this old oak tree Chief Powhatan and his Indian warriors often assembled, three hundred years ago. On Powhatan street, about three hundred yards distant, the Red Men's wigwam will be built in the time of the exposition. A site has been selected for the building by John W. Cherry, of Norfolk chief executive of the Improved Order of Red Men, and Great Inebriety of all the tribes of Red Men. It is now up to the Board of Control of the Red Men's League, to approve the selection made by the Great Inebriety. This will probably be done at the meeting to be held in September, 1906.

The Red Men's building at the exposition will be unique and attractive in many ways. It will be an immense woodman's lodge, constructed with logs and decorated with trophies of the chase and all kinds of curios and Indian relics. Furs and skins will take the place of carpets and rugs and the entire building will conform as nearly as possible to the ideal hunter's lodge. This quaint building will be used by the Red Men as a reception hall, museum and resting place for the Red Men and their friends.

In the United States are more than 480,000 members of the Improved Order of Red Men. Many of them will visit the Jamestown exposition and the Red Men's building will be their headquarters. This order had a building at the St. Louis exposition, two years ago, but it was on a small scale and nothing like the commodious and handsome building to be constructed at the Jamestown exposition. The uniformed members of Red Men will camp on the regular military camping ground. They will wear the old colonial uniform worn

A Few Words to MEN

It doesn't make much difference what stores say about their Men's Clothing, if they can't prove to their patrons that what they say is true.

Nothing makes a man so disgusted as to be sent on a fool's errand—to waste his time on a wild goose chase.

If we weren't certain that our Clothing was better than other makes, you can make up your mind to one thing—we'd never risk exciting your ill-will by saying so.

We'll say this, though, that we've got Spring Suits to sell at 7.50 10.00 12.50 and 15.00 that you say, when you come to see them, that we didn't blow enough about.

We're interesting a great many Men these days and we would be pleased to talk the Clothes question with you.

Willis T. infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Whitchard, died at 2:49 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at their home of cholera infantum. The funeral was held this afternoon. The service being conducted by Rev. J. L. Aycock, of Greenville.

Before they had gone to sleep, Miss Jones hearing another noise like a man stumbling on the porch in front of her room, shot through her window, but unfortunately the culprit escaped, the ball entering the railing around the porch. He was heard to jump from the porch and the night being unusually dark no one could see him. There was a heavy rain soon after which covered up his tracks if he left any.

Her Ill Luck.

A fashionable lady saw in a shop window a beautiful fur coat that she liked. She went in and sought the furrier. "What is the price?" she said, "of that fur coat in your window?"

"Four hundred and seventy dollars, madam," he drew forth the fur coat and displayed its beauties to the dazzled lady. She took out her check book. "I'll tell you what I'll do," she said, "I'll give you my check for two hundred dollars and I'll send my husband here to see the fur coat this afternoon. Don't tell him it is four hundred and twenty dollars, tell him it is two hundred dollars. Then maybe he will buy it for me." The furrier bowed and smiled. He had seen this sort of game played many a time before. "I wish you luck, madam," and the lady departed. Her husband she found in a mood unusually tractable. "He had said certain stocks at a great profit that morning. He consented readily, therefore, to go and look at the coat. That evening his wife dressed with unusual care. She seemed her most beautiful gown. She glanced at the dress of an affectionate husband helping her on with that beautiful fur coat. "And I thought that fur coat were the man's first words when he got home. 'You don't,' she exclaimed. 'Let me see it.'"

"Let me see it," said he. "I had it sent to my mother. You know it is her birthday tomorrow."

HACKETT-SMITH.

Marriage Near Grimesland.

At historic old Trinity church to day Mrs. Mary Grimes Smith was married to Mr. James Gordon Hackett, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. N. Collin Hughes.

The bride was given away by her brother, Col. J. Bryan Grimes, and the groom's best man was the Hon. R. N. Hackett, Democratic nominee for Congress in the Eight Congress.

The maid of honor was little Miss Helen Elise Grimes, daughter of Col. J. Bryan Grimes. The ushers were; Messrs. Wm. Demise Grimes and Junius D. Grimes, of Washington, N. C.

This is a marriage of unusual interest to all our people. Mrs. Hackett is the daughter of the late General Bryan Grimes, and her family for many generations have been closely identified with this section.

Mr. Hackett is a successful business man of Wilkesboro, is chairman of the State Prison Board, and his family have been prominent in Western North Carolina since its first settlement.

The organ was presided over by Miss Carrie Hughes, of Chocoma, N. C.

The church was tastefully decorated with evergreens and flowers. After the wedding a breakfast was served to the bride party at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Bryan Grimes, at Grimesland.

A. in the county are urged to send delegates. The meeting will be open to the public, and all who are interested in the work of the association are cordially invited to attend.

GOOD ROADS.

Splendid Driveway Will Be Built to Jamestown Exposition Grounds From Norfolk Va.

Norfolk, Va., June 29.—One of the show features of the Jamestown exposition will be beyond its gates. The entire country is taking more interest every year in the subject of good roads, and the six mile stretch from the exposition grounds to the city of Norfolk will contain an object lesson in improved road construction.

Vehicles by the thousand will travel between Norfolk and the exposition grounds every day from May until December, 1907. More than one hundred thousands to pass over this roadway. It will be subjected to all kinds of usage, and if it stands the strain of the hard wear which it must necessarily endure, the solving of that weighty problem the best road for general purposes will be well advanced to its finality. It is the vehicles were rubber-tired, a macadam road would last indefinitely, but narrow steel tires, not entirely opposed to pleasure carriages, but often attached to the heavier vehicles for merchandise transportation, wear the ordinary road into strings.

Experts from the good roads division of the Department of Agriculture will probably supervise the construction of this boulevard, which will be built by Norfolk county. From the city limits to the heart of Norfolk the boulevard will be asphalted, and the whole length will be not less than one hundred and twenty five feet wide at any point.

It is anticipated that this exhibition boulevard will give a great momentum to the good roads movement in the South. The initial cost of a first-class road is greater than that of an ordinary roadway, but the costs of maintenance is far less and repairs are much more infrequent. The South has not paid as much attention to avenues of communication between country settlements and villages as have other sections of the country, and good roads enthusiasts figure that millions have been lost by this neglect of opportunities.

Every element which enters into the cost of the exhibition boulevard will be recorded, and visitors to the Ter-Centennial who will use this highway from Norfolk to the exposition in 1907 can learn at any time exactly what the road cost to build and what is being spent on its maintenance.

THE PROPER MAN

Governor Glenn has inaugurated the best plan of securing desirable immigrants for North Carolina. He is going to go throughout New England and perhaps the northwest and tell people about North Carolina, and her possibilities, in his own eloquent way. Thus he has exact his line to those people who are likely to make the best of all citizens, and when he meets them face to face, looks them in the eye and grasps their hand, he will arouse an enthusiasm that other means could scarcely produce.

The governor too is well equipped for this mission. He has studied the State, and knows conditions that prevail throughout. In private conversation as well as in public appearance nothing seems to please him better than to tell his friends of the progress and possibilities of North Carolina.

He is the proper man to preach the gospel of the Ter-Centennial. —Kinston Free Press.

HALF NOT BEEN TOLD.

Newspapers Accused of Exaggerating Hall Storm a Week Ago.

Time was when newspapers giving the first accounts of any disaster had to afterwards draw in their horns and come down a few pegs, but within the past few years it has been the other way. The first accounts are hardly ever as bad as the facts afterwards disclosed.

Some of the papers away from Greensboro have been making all manner of fun of the stories of that hall storm here a week ago; they don't intimate they were over-drawn; they just say we are all liars. Why, brothers, hardly the half was told; it was worse than depicted. Only today Dr. Battle remarked that the hall killed a big fat turkey for him—just knocked her head off. (It is unnecessary to say that the Dr. Battle in question is not the minister; a preacher would never allow a turkey to live long enough to be killed by hall if it were fat and ready for eating.)

Another story comes from an estimable Christian woman; she said she was ashamed to tell it for some time, but after hearing from others she lets it out. She says her children are very fond of croquet and play every day in the large yard at home. She teaches them method in everything and has learned them to always place the balls on a long shelf beside an out-house so that they will be handy when next wanted. While the storm was at its height one of the little tots ran to her mother and said: "Look, m-m-m-m, the croquet balls are all falling." The child took the ballstones to be croquet balls.

One of the linotype operators in this office has a fine cow; she was in an open lot and the hall simply cut her back to pieces. That night he says the milk taken from her was as cold as ice. After the storm was over a piece of ice twelve
