Truth in Reference to Fiction
GREENVILLE NORTH CAROLINA TUESDAY, SEPT. 25, 1906

That was a terrible disaster at Hong Kong, China, in which 5,000 lives were lost and $2,000,000 of property destroyed.

The presence of Uncle Sam's bluejackets in Cuba, is having a quieting effect on the insurgents. But there is no promise as to how long they will be quiet.

Bank burglars are somewhat bold in Michigan. A gang of eight, heavily armed and masked went to a small town in broad daylight where they attacked and robbed a bank of about four thousand dollars.

Greenville has had an electric light system in operation for nearly a year and a half. It is a good system and the wires are located conveniently around the depot, yet it is necessary, and people have frequently been heard to speak of it, that the Atlantic Coast Line continues to use its smoky lamps in the waiting rooms instead of putting in electric lights. It is one of the officers of the road who have these electric lamps when a train is late, and how late the lamps are lighted and that they look about like the lighted torches which lighted, they would be envied that the passengers waiting at the depot are entitled to something better. The railroad should be public spirited enough to put electric lights in the depot.

The farmers of this section do not know what they are missing in not encouraging the development of the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company. We have seen several letters lately to Mr. O. L. Joyner from farmers in other parts of North Carolina begging him to go to their sections and organize the farmers in the consolidated movement. One party writing to him stated that if he would go to that section ninety five per cent of the farmers would at once join the movement. Watch our prediction as to the future of this Company. It is on solid ground and the men at the head of it propose to keep it there.

The Greensboro correspondent of the Charlotte Observer suggests that State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner is mentioned as the probable successor of the late Dr. C. D. McIver as president of the Normal and Industrial College. Before being chosen to his present position Prof. Joyner was connected with the Normal and Industrial College and was a co-worker with Dr. McIver. He is thoroughly familiar with the work of the institution and perhaps no man in the State is so well qualified for this position. Should Prof. Joyner be chosen as president of the college it will leave a vacancy as State superintendent, and in that event there is not a better man in the State to succeed him in the latter office than County Superintendent W. M. Ragsdale, of Pitt.

Auditorium talk is having its annual revival in Raleigh. Secretary Taft told the Cubans that they must either get quiet or be annexed.

A High Point boy has become insane from smoking cigarettes; they are usually crazy to ever begin smoking the things.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Standard Oil Company is now preparing to take over the distilleries. Evidently want to make a corner on fossil oil.

Seeing the experience that he has had with the insurrections in congress, it is no wonder that President Roosevelt looks upon President Palma as an amateur and the timester in Cuba as of the tea pot variety.

It has been suggested that a joint debate should be arranged between Mr. Jerome and Mr. Hearst. It is quite possible that if this is done Mr. Hearst will, as usual, turn over the job to his managing editor.

It done something thundering Friday evening.

WE ARE ONE.
Geographically the State of North Carolina is as different as any two States in the Union, but in love and loyalty for the commonwealth we are all one. The writer occupies a favorable position to judge of these matters. Living in the Piedmont region he travels widely through the eastern and western sections and mingles with the people of all. It is pleasant to know that the same spirit animates all North Carolinians, no matter where they live and the same high purpose to strengthen the State and make it what it should be one of the foremost of all the great sisterhood. We are not far apart as when our noble neighbors of Virginia, nor as boastful as our South Carolina friends, but in all matters affecting the honor and glory of the State we are practically solid, and as many defenders should rise up if her good name were assailed as could be found either to the North or the South of us. We never speak of our State as "Carolina" as is the custom among our South Carolina brethren, nor do we look with compassion upon those not born in Virginia, as the manner of some, but in sturdy State pride we dare say that our North Carolina people are not surpassed by those of any other section anywhere. The old motto that "North Carolina is a strip of land between two States," is no longer in our faces. The world knows better. Our people have built their cities, improved their farms, established their manufacturing plants and, best of all are educating their children. So long as we maintain our solidarity and stand shoulder to shoulder we shall be able to hold our own and keep pace with the strongest and most progressive of our sisters. Shame be to the man who underestimates the state, or who would breed dissension and sectional feeling among its people. We be brethren, United we stand, divided we fall. From Murphy to Manteo our commonwealth must be made old North Carolina—Charlotte, Raleigh and Columbia.

THE COOK! THE COOK!
Leaving out Hon. William Jennings Bryan and his idea of government ownership of railroads and the price of cotton, we believe the cook question comes in for no discussion than any other. In the social circle, at the front gate, on the train, in the newspapers and almost everywhere, people are discussing cooks. It seems that those who employ cooks are in constant dread of losing them, and it is reported from various quarters that the cooks have formed some sort of a league, or society, prescribing how they shall treat their employes—that they will not go before certain hours in the morning, and will bear an attitude of perfect independence if the employers have anything to say about their cooking late. All of which impresses the employers of cooks that they are at the mercy of the cooks, and must say nothing or be prepared to roll up their sleeves and do some kitchening themselves. But why have we agitated this question so much unless on our remedy? What would it do to send all your neighbors word that you have a "house fiend" on your flag, and have your finger lanced? Why then, the housekeeper, hold a convention to handle this cook question?—Seward News Columnist.

Friendship That Counts.
Much of the so-called friendship of the day is but pretence. It exists only in name and as soon as it ceases to be advantageous it is dropped. The friendship that continues the same in prosperity as in adversity, that prizes, but all other kinds are worthless. It matters not how hard a man may struggle to find right and make a success of life there is always some faithless reptile, some worthless wretch who is ready to drag him down, to blight his hopes and dash his fondest ambitions. The loss of money and property is not the greatest loss a man can sustain in the business world; far better to lose your money than to lose hope and ambition.

Some women are brave enough to be president of these United States. One of these is Miss Mary McDonald, of Brooklyn, N. Y. She was engaged to be married to a young man named Thober. A day or two before the date for the wedding she discovered that Thober was a scamp, but she kept her counsel. On the wedding day she appeared in her bridal outfit and at the proper moment, in the presence of all the guests, she drew back the folding curtains of the room and in walked a young woman and her mother; the young woman had been a friend and deserted by Thober. The minister was on hand. "Marry her," said Miss McDonald; "she does not want you, but she wants your name," and Thober had to walk up to the rack. When the ceremony was over Miss McDonald's mother took Thober by the arm, escorted him to the door and told him to go and go quickly. Then the guests had a big wedding breakfast, but Thober got none of it. This is the neatest and most sensible job we ever heard of. Instead of hanging to him to "reform" him, this young lady had sense; she was not even content with dropping to wed him, but she made him atone, in so far as she could, for the wrong inflicted on another.—Greensboro Record.

County Canvass.
The Democratic county candidates will open their campaign at Fountain, where they will speak on Tuesday, Oct. 9th. They will also speak at Bells Cross Roads, in Belvoir township, on Wednesday, Oct. 10th. The people should turn out and hear the candidates discuss the political issues of the day.

Every school boy knows that a kite would not fly unless it had a string tying it down. It is just so in life. The man who is tied down by half a dozen blooming responsibilities and their mother will make a higher and stronger fight than the bachelor, who having nothing to keep him steady is always floundering in the mud. If you want to ascend in the world, tie yourself to somebody.

When you sell your cotton or tobacco bring your check to the Bank of Winterville and start an account with us. It pays to have your money at work for you. A horse that does not work is useless so is money. We pay interest on time deposits.

Mrs. Annie Boushal, mother of Miss Elizabeth Boushal, our primary teacher, spent Wednesday here. She returned to Shelburne Thursday. She will return to her home at Belcross next week. The following students of W. H. S. left Friday to spend Sunday at their respective homes: Misses Louise Fleming, Mary E. Fleming, Soproms Whichard; Eula Hodges, Jessie Harrell, Katie Gold Warren, Dolores Mattocks and Jasper Taylor, Frank Taylor, Hassell House, Heber Savage and Richard Parker.

Joe Stokes, of Parmole, was here Friday on business. One of the strongest lines of shoes ever exhibited can be found at B. F. Manning & Co. Chassey Walker, of Seven Springs, was here Wednesday visiting his daughter, Miss Annie. We are offering special prices on trunks, grips and hand bags. A. W. Ange and Co.

Miss Minnie McGowan is spending a few days with Miss Hattie Kittrell. We have just received a nice line of horse collars. A. W. Ange and Co. Mrs. J. K. McGowan was a pleasant visitor at the boys' dormitory Friday.

A new lot of the latest styles of furniture just received at A. W. Ange and Co. "Laxo takes the place of Calomel." We sell it. B. T. Cox, & Bro. Mrs. Sarah Taylor is visiting relatives in Greene county this week. Miss Sarah Barker is staying in the millinery store in her absence.

Nicest line of dress shirts ever shown in Winterville at Harrington, Barber & Co. We regret to give up William Vincent, who has accepted a position as bookkeeper in Bethel. Bill was one of our most excellent young men. His place with Harrington, Barber & Co., will be had to fill.

We still have on hand a few copies of Teachers Bibles, we are offering to the trade at very low prices. B. T. Cox, & Bro. The Vance Literary Society gave an excellent debate last night on the query "Resolved that the negroes of the United States should be colonized."

Go to the drug store of B. T. Cox & Bro for T. W. Wood & Son's high grade turpin and rutabaga seed. A nice line of granite and tin ware at J. B. Carroll & Co. Frank Edmondson was at Greenville Friday evening.

A. G. Cox has purchased the Nichols lot near the girls' dormitory and is having the house completed. It will add greatly to the pleasure of the town when finished. All colors of paint, and yellow ochre at Harrington Barber & Co. A nice line of fancy groceries always on hand at J. B. Carroll & Co.

Harrington Barber & Co., ask their friends to wait a few days and examine their stock of goods before buying. They are in northern cities buying them. The A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. are still making this Pitt Co. School Desk and are in position to fill your orders promptly.

Have you Ausucker's new adhesive for fastening sun tops to your seat? Satisfying original and right. I will be to your interest to see him before purchasing your buggy.

WHITE CAP CASE.

Motion for Severance Allowed and J. K. Barnhill First Put on Trial.

There is such interest throughout the county in what is known as the white cap case, and the trial of it having been set for today, there was a large crowd in attendance and the court house was filled when court was called to order at 10 o'clock.

When the Solicitor called the case there was some delay because of certain witnesses not answering to their names. He announced that with the presence of two more who were expected to arrive on the 11:18 train the State would be ready to proceed, and notice was given that he desired to try J. K. Barnhill first.

Mr. Gilliam for the defense wanted to be heard relative to such separation and trying only one defendant at the time, when they were included in one bill of indictment.

Solicitor Moore argued that the State had its witnesses and was ready to proceed as to J. K. Barnhill, but might not be ready to certain others of the defendants.

Gov. Aycock for the State argued that he did not see why the defense should raise any point as to how he should be tried. If he is innocent he should be acquitted, and if he is guilty should be convicted. Under our statutes the defense has every advantage of the State.

Mr. Whedbee for defense stated that the only point made by the State was simply an objection to how it existed and he thought it unjust to ask the court to rule against the defendants a law already existing.

Judge Shaw stated that he could not see where any injustice whatever could be done the defendant Barnhill by severance, and the only point on which he hesitated regarding the motion was the able expense of two or more trials. He allowed the motion. The State announced its readiness to proceed.

ness to proceed. In the regular jury for the week were some related to defendants and one to parties on both sides. These were excused. Another who had been subpoenaed as a character witness, and one who had formed and expressed his opinion that the defendant Barnhill were excused.

Just as the jury was empaneled J. H. Poy, of Raleigh, and A. R. Dunning, of Williamston, who are of course for defense arrived.

I live 3 miles southeast of Bethel, 2 miles from Grindool, 5 miles from Oakley, 6 or 7 miles from Stokes. Eight members of my family. About 2 o'clock third Sunday night in April last the door at my house entering bed room was broken open; my wife and four little girls were asleep in room with me.

Mr. Whedbee argued that it would be very unjust and unfair if this late day to separate and try any one of the defendants; they had been indicted under one bill, had plead not guilty together and should be tried jointly.

Gov. Aycock for the State argued that he did not see why the defense should raise any point as to how he should be tried. If he is innocent he should be acquitted, and if he is guilty should be convicted.

After making investigation in my room I found two hats and one cap; one of the hats was shot through. Several switches were found in yard. The door to my room had an ordinary knob lock; when they burst open the door it broke one screw in the lock and drew out the others.

The State announced its readiness to proceed. In the regular jury for the week were some related to defendants and one to parties on both sides.

Cross examined—I have not told any person I did not recognize any of the parties attacking me. A number of names were called to all of which he answered no. I gave The Reflector an account of the attack a few days after it occurred; did not tell editor I did not recognize any one.

I went to bed about 8:30 o'clock the night of the attack. It was a dark night until about 1 o'clock. There were marks on faces of men in room showing they had been snuffed as if made with a burnt cork; a cork was found in yard next day.

I am wife of witness preceding me. I remember night of trouble. No one but family was in our house. A crowd broke open door, rushed in room, crawled over my feet after my husband.

I did not tell J. A. Staten that I did not recognize anybody, have said my wife did not recognize any body. Have never said the parties blew out the matches as fast as my wife struck them.

I have known Barnhill since he was a boy, it has been some 10 or 12 years since he moved from my neighborhood, but had seen him frequently. Have also seen Briley at times. I did not see particularly how they were dressed that night, except as they run off from my house; they either had on jumper jackets or had their coat tails in their pants.

Cross examination—Mr. Manning, Mr. Ward and Mr. Riddick are our nearest neighbors. Mr. Ward came there. I do not recall any conversation with him or making any statements in his presence.

When the Solicitor called the case there was some delay because of certain witnesses not answering to their names.

did not tell any one that one of the parties were driving a gray horse. I told Mr. Riddick that a man told me that he (Riddick) had said I had told him if any one had driven his horse the night before.

I did not tell Tom Whitehurst that I did not want to cap certain of the parties. I did tell Tom that if Zeb Whitehurst would tell the truth about it; I would do all I could for him.

Re-direct examination—(Shown hats and cap.) These are the ones I found in my room near bed. (Sack is shown witness.) This sack was found by my children near my house. After I tracked buggies, I went to Oakley; found Barnhill at Mr. Nelson's in bed. It was about 1 o'clock p. m. Briley and Walter Woolard lived near Sheppard's mill, about 5 miles distant.

for this attack, many people passed going to church. I did not notice clothing of parties making attack, was too excited, the man who looked me in the face looked like something had been struck across his face.

I remember the occasion of breaking in Mr. Teel's house. I saw defendant Barnhill that day, said he was going to Hickory Grove. I also saw him at Oakley that day coming from the old mill, and going in direction of Hickory Grove.

I live 2 miles from Parmele and 4 from Oakley. I remember date that assault was made at Teel's. Briley came to my house that day, he came that morning and took dinner. In the afternoon Barnhill also came to my house.
