PURNELL ROASTED. DR. BAXTER MATTHEWS A SUICIDE IN BALTIMORE.

Sheriff Stedman Replies to the Judge.
 Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 5.—Sheriff Frank H. Stedman, is out in a signed card in the morning papers today replying to the sensational charges as to the condition of the New Hanover jail by Judge Purnell in the Federal court last week. The card of Sheriff Stedman is as follows: "I wish to state that the reflections made upon me and my jailer in the United States court by Judge Purnell when I was not present were false and unjust in regard to the farce prisoners in my custody in New Hanover county jail. The report of the grand jury of our county made at the September term of our court, and also the reports of previous grand juries, all composed of our best citizens substantiate what I say. The question at issue is who is to be believed, the grand jury or the United States prisoners? Would not Judge Purnell have reflected more credit upon himself if he had investigated before he made such statements? I am willing for my record and his record to be published side by side and let the people of North Carolina say who is right in this matter."

KOSCUTH IN LONDON.

His Receptions Were Conducted With Friendly Familiarity.
 When he arrived in London the enthusiasm of the English people seemed to know no bounds. His entry was like that of a national hero returning from a victorious campaign—the multitudes crowding the streets were immense. He appeared in his private carriage, with his saber at his side and surrounded by an equally picturesque retinue. But when he began to speak, and his voice with its resonant and at the same time melodious sound, passed over the throngs in classic English, driving a peculiar charm from the soft time of foreign accents, then the enthusiasm of the Londoners reached its description.

Kosciuszko had been offered the hospitality of a house of a private citizen of London who took an especial interest in the Hungarian cause, and here during his sojourn, in the month he had received his address and friends. A kind of court surrounded him; his companions always followed him; his own national dress, maintained in a conspicuous way his pretension of still being the rightful governor of Hungary. He granted audiences like a prince, and when he entered the room he was surrounded by an aid-de-camp as the "governor." All persons rose and Kosciuszko saluted them with grave solemnity.

Among the exiles of other nations the undemocratic formalities created no little displeasure. But it was his intention to produce a certain effect upon public opinion, not in his own, but in the people's behalf, and as to that end it may have seemed to him necessary to impress upon the imagination of the Englishmen the picture of Hungary under her own government, and also to illustrate to them the firm faith of the Hungarians themselves in the justice of their cause, it was not improper that he should have used such picturesque displays as means for the accomplishment of the purpose.—Carl Schurz in "My Years."

Last Chapter in a Sensational Wife-Murder by a Greensboro Physician.
 Baltimore, Md., Nov. 5.—In a cheap lodging house on East Baltimore street at some time during the twenty-four hours preceding two o'clock this afternoon, Dr. J. Baxter Matthews, of Greensboro, N. C., blew out his brains with a shot from a 32 calibre revolver.
 Dr. Matthews was convicted March 9th, 1905, at Greensboro, of the poisoning of his wife December 1st, 1905. He had been out of custody under bail pending the decision of his appeal for a new trial, which was denied him, and relatives and bondsmen have been searching for him for some weeks that he might be taken before the court to be sentenced. In the absence of any definite reason for his taking his life, it is supposed that he did so rather than serve the sentence, said to be twenty years in the penitentiary, to be imposed on him.
 At the lodging house where he ended his life he gave the name of E. J. Graham.
 Immediately after his conviction, which was of murder in the second degree, Dr. Matthews became a patient at Mount Hope Retreat, near this city, and was there under treatment for the morphine and liquor habits for some months, finally being discharged as cured.
NOTICE
 The agency existing between J. E. Winslow and J. W. Mills from Sept. 1st, 1904 to this date is hereby discontinued. All persons owing notes or accounts through said agency for horses or mules, are hereby requested to come in at once and settle same. All notes and accounts will be found at my office in Greenville. This Oct. 29, 1906.

THE REASON WHY

It is only by reason of the maker's intimate, thorough knowledge of women's tastes and the requirements of her feet that "Dorothy Dodd" Shoes have achieved their marvelous success. First, they satisfy the eye and the distinction to the foot. Secondly, they fit women's feet as only "Dorothy Dodd's" can fit. Thirdly, their large sale permits them to be sold at a moderate price. This store secured and controls the sale of these splendid shoes, because it believes them to offer the wearer more real value and satisfaction than any others possible to procure. New styles now ready. Glad to show even though you do not care to buy.

SHOT BY SECRET ASSASSIN.
 Mr. L. Banks Holt the Victim.
 Graham, Nov. 6.—Mr. L. Banks Holt was shot by an unknown person in his house at 9:15 o'clock tonight.
 He was sitting in his bed room when the telephone rang. Mr. Holt went to the 'phone and called several times without any response. Then a shot rang out and when Mrs. Holt rushed into the hall she found Mr. Holt lying against the 'phone, his face streaming with blood. The hall was full of smoke. The alarm was given over the 'phone and soon the house was filled with an anxious crowd.
 Just to the right of the 'phone is an open hall door, from behind which the shot was evidently fired, the assailant escaping through the side hall door.
 There are foot marks on the freshly painted steps. The deed was evidently committed by one familiar with the house, who had secreted himself within. Suspicion is directed towards one, who is being traced. Mr. Holt is not regarded as being in a dangerous condition.

Another Cabinet Change.
 Washington, Nov. 7.—Secretary of the Interior Ethan Allen Hitchcock will retire from President Roosevelt's cabinet on the 4th of next March, and James R. Garfield, of Ohio, at present commissioner of corporations will succeed him. Herbert Knox Smith, now assistant commissioner of corporations will be appointed to Mr. Garfield's place. These changes and that of Commissioner Richards, of the general land office on March 4th, were announced from the White House today.

One Use for a Grave.
 William Gowdy, a nephew of John K. Gowdy, formerly consul general to Paris, is a candidate for county assessor in Rushville, Ind. Democratic leaders questioned his eligibility, charging that he had not been a free holder for four years, as required by law. Young Gowdy, however, proved that during the period named he had owned half a lot in the Rushville Cemetery, and Attorney General Miller has decided that the possession of this "six feet of earth" constitutes eligibility in the eye of the law.—Boston Transcript.

CAN SHOOT FIREWORKS.
 That Will Please the Boys.
 The board of aldermen held an adjourned meeting Wednesday night, to consider some matters left over from the last regular meeting. One of these was the matter of granting a franchise to the Raleigh and Pamlico sound railroad to run a track across Dickinson avenue and Clark street so as to reach the Atlantic Coast Line track north of the Imperial factory. A serious discussion the matter was again deferred to a later meeting.
 The ordinance prohibiting the shooting of fireworks in town was ordered to be suspended for the hours of 6 p. m. December 24th to 4 a. m. December 26th.
 There was much discussion and several motions regarding the hours of duty between the day and night police. This was settled by ordering the day police to be on duty from 6:30 a. m. to 9 p. m. and the night police from 9 p. m. to 6:30 a. m.

Far-Sighted.
 Little Margaret is a far-sighted child and she always provides in her thoughts for the future. Recently her father went to Boston on business; at the evening prayer time her mother suggested that Margaret should add "keep papa safe in Boston."
 "To this Margaret exclaimed: Goodness! I did not know God was in Boston." Then, pondering she continued, "But I'll ask Him, for papa is very important, isn't he mama?"
 "Oh, very, dear. If we did not have our papa, we would not have this pretty house and all our nice things."
 "Does papa give us all these?" queried the little maid; "and without him would we have to give them up?"
 "Yes, Margaret."
 "Goodness! I think it an awful risk to have only one papa in a family. I think there should be several, in case of accidents."

Black Jack Items.
 Black Jack, N. C., Nov. 6, 1906. Elder G. S. Johnston filed his regular appointment at Bear Creek Sunday.
 J. W. and Abram Dixon went to Winterville Sunday.
 Harry Dunn and Miss Mollie Godley, of Chocowinity, were here yesterday.
 G. S. Porter and others from here attended church at Salem Sunday.
 Several of the people from here attended services at Massadonia Sunday afternoon.
 Miss Lula V. Mills, of W. H. school, came home Friday and returned Sunday.
 Miss Maud Manker left Friday to visit friends near Haddock's X Roads.
 J. O. Johnston attended church at Bear Creek Sunday.
 Miss Mary Midgett, of Pamlico county, came in Sunday to teach school here.
 Mrs. G. S. Johnston spent Saturday and Sunday with her sister, Mrs. W. P. Buck.
 Abram Dixon lost a fine young horse last week with blind staggers.
 Charlie Mills, W. H. and Geo. Adams all went to Newbern last week.
 W. A. Hudson is very ill with typhoid fever. We hope he will soon get better.

Alas, if So!
 One who observes well often sees indications and suggestions that the "younger set," as the older people sometimes call them, are not altogether and uniformly courteous, which means that good manners are somewhat passing out. If this is true it is a pity; for nothing so commends one as good manners coupled with a good life. To be sure, some people whose lives are correct and whose characters are above reproach, have blunt and repelling manners. But even with these people it would be far better for all if good manners were coupled with the correct life and unsullied character. It is not always an intention to be blunt and discourteous, but oftentimes the spirit of flippancy gets such hold upon the younger people they forget to lay it aside when older persons appear to speak. Fun and frolic and jollity are all well enough, and sometime frivolity is really good in its place; but nothing should ever be carried so far as to make it seem a sacrifice of good manners.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

One Way of Paring Off.
 A number of years ago, at a small town in Maine, an important local election was to take place and there was strong rivalry between the Republicans and Democrats. Old Hiram Morse the blacksmith, was a strong Democrat, but many of the farmers were Republicans.
 On the morning of the election a farmer came into his horse shed. The blacksmith said to him: "We're both busy. You're a Republican and I'm a Democrat. Let's pair off. We'll neither of us vote, and it will amount to the same as if we both went to the polls."
 This was agreed upon. After the election it was found out that Morse had paired off with five Republican farmers.—Boston Herald.

CHAIRMAN SIMMONS TALKS.
 Fine Showing For Democrats.
 Raleigh, Nov. 7.—Chairman Simmons said today: "Our majority is going to be pretty nearly equal to, if not quite equal to that given two years ago. We have made gains in two-thirds of the counties, these being simply wonderful in the east. For example we have gained several hundred in Lenoir, in Wilson, in Robeson, and Harnett, and in Sampson, Marion Butler's own county. We have carried more by majorities varying from 300 to 600. That county had been considered doubtful. Columbus votes for it by 400. Jones by 400. Cumberland by 500. Martin by 1,000. Tyrrell by 100, this having been a doubtful county, Greene by 600 to 700, Chatham by 350. Up-State, the Republicans have carried Davie by 300 and Caldwell by 63, a falling off in both counties. I figure that Hackett's majority is well up, somewhere between 1,000 and 1,500. Crawford is elected by 800 majority. I have been talking to Locke Craig over the wire about that district and he tells me that is the figure in the 10th. We have carried Pitt by 2,000. The Republicans actually talked about carrying it. Wake leads in majority, but Pitt makes a fine showing. Splendid work was done in Sampson, where the Republican majority was only 550 and we reduced it by 250 votes. I want to say that Marion Butler carried the State in 1894 by a campaign of gross misrepresentation and deception and tried the same game this time, but failed utterly. The result is a great rebuke to him. The result will put an end to the campaign speaking and other work of the big postmasters, some of whom were actually running for State offices, and speaking here and everywhere, among these being Brines, of Raleigh, Reynolds, of Winston-Salem, and Meekins, of Elizabeth City."
 In the first four or five days after the San Francisco fire when people could get no money from the banks, many applied to the railroad for tickets on the promise to pay when they reached their destination, or when they could. They gave written promises and received tickets to all points in and out of the State. The officials took these promises to pay to an amount aggregating $60,000 from nearly one thousand persons. It is announced that within five months of the disaster no less than $53,000, or nine-tenths of the full amount, has been paid by remittances from the refugees to whom the credit had been extended. Much of this came from grateful sufferers who had not even been asked to sign a promise to pay.

Neck Broken.
 John Grant, of Snow Hill, was returning home from Kinston a few days ago when he fell off the cart on which he was riding and broke his neck.
 Leslie's Weekly discovers that editors are usually unfortunate when they try to get office. Sad but true. Yet editor is not a popular man. He is always praising the wrong man or failing to praise the right one. Yet editor had better keep out of politics if he doesn't want to find out how unpopular he is. He sees the seamy side of life as it is but it could, as a rule, be worse.—Greensboro Telegram.

Died.
 Miss Jane Moore, aged 68 years, died Tuesday morning at the home of her brother, Mr. Richy Moore, 4 miles below Greensboro, and was buried Wednesday. She had been in feeble health for some time. She leaves three sisters, one brother, and many relatives and friends to mourn their loss. She was a good, kind and obliging woman, and was held in high esteem by her neighbors.

Don't Wait.
 Again we would remind those who have received statements of what they owe The Reflector for subscription, and have not yet responded, to let us hear from them. We do not like to publish items of this kind, but the money due is needed to help us meet our obligations. All should appreciate this and be prompt in paying.

Preparing for Depot.
 The site for the Raleigh and Pamlico sound railroad depot, on Dickinson avenue, is being cleared and put in readiness for work to commence on the buildings.

How to be Great.
 Here is a little clipping that we found in one of our exchanges a few days ago that we take pleasure in publishing for the benefit of some of our criticizing friends:
 "If you don't just like everything you see in your home paper, go around the streets and howl. The editor is never supposed to make a mistake and of course cannot do so. Other people can, but the editor is ubiquitous omniscient, 'omnipresent.' If you can't see a good point, don't fail to see a bad one. If a thousand pleasant things are said of people, hunt for something unpleasant. If you don't find it, howl some more; if you do, howl away. Never mind your own business; watch for something to find fault with in some other man's business—this will make you great."—Smithfield Herald.

Trying to Steal Heart Vote.
 New York, Nov. 8.—Chairman Connors, of the Democratic State committee, today issued a call for a meeting of the full committee to be held here tomorrow. The object of the meeting is to devise plans to safeguard the interests of the Democratic State ticket.
 Chairman Connors said this afternoon that the Republicans were holding back the returns, that fraud was being practiced, and that in his opinion there were enough Independent League ballots not counted to reduce greatly Hughes' plurality and possibly to elect Ed. Hearst.

Fell Over Grip.
 This morning while the passenger train was at the depot some one set a grip on the ground right in the midst of the crowd. A lady while going from the train to the platform stumbled over the grip and fell, narrowly escaping injury. The person who set the grip in such a place ought to have had better sense.
 This part of November is quite dry, but will not likely stay that way long.

Respite Given Negro.
 Sylvester Barrett, a negro of Pitt county, who was to be hanged on the seventeenth of November for the murder of Walter Lovett, a constable, has been granted a reprieve till the eighteenth of December.
 Barrett's counsel took an appeal to the Supreme Court, but this was not sustained, and November 17 was set for the date of the execution. His counsel are now seeking for a commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment, and Governor Glenn has granted the respite till the 18th of December, so as to give a hearing in the case.—News and Observer.

Don't Want to Arouse the Juror.
 Mr. Chas. McKesson, of Morganton, was in town one day last week and dropped into the Superior court room to see what was going on. While there, a negro citizen was arraigned, charged with selling soap contrary to the form of a statute. The prisoner had a lawyer and Mr. McKesson, always kind-hearted, generously volunteered to defend him, which he did with tact and ability, but the evidence was too strong for him and his man went to the roads.
 While Mr. McKesson was arguing the case to the jury, Mr. R. J. Lester, who was one of the jurors, closed his eyes as if asleep, but he was only playing possum, for he knew what was going on. Seeing Mr. Lester's eyelids droop Mr. McKesson dropped his voice to a stage whisper. "You'll have to speak louder," Mr. McKesson," said Judge Ferguson. "May it please your honor," said Mr. McKesson with his blandest smile, as he turned to the judge, "one of the jurors has fallen asleep and I don't want to wake him up."
 And the court house roared.—Statesville Landmark.

Registered Letter With $3,000 Disappears.
 It has just leaked out that on the morning of October 26th the biggest postoffice robbery that has occurred in this section in years took place in the Fayetteville postoffice. A registered letter, containing $3,000 in currency, addressed to the Fayetteville National Bank by the Planters' National Bank of Richmond, arrived here on the 1.40 o'clock a. m. train, and was regularly accepted for it. The letter was supposed to have been placed in the vault or anywhere else, despite the most minute search. Postmaster McKaskill at once notified the postoffice authorities at Washington and inspectors are now making a thorough investigation. So far there is no clue to the theft.—Fayetteville Dispatch, 5th.

Truth in Reference to Fiction
GREENVILLE NORTH CAROLINA TUESDAY NOV. 13, 1917

A SPLENDID CAMPAIGN.

The campaign in Pitt which has just closed has been one that has been splendidly conducted on the part of the Democrats. Too much credit for this cannot be given to Mr. F. C. Harding, the chairman of the Democratic executive committee. He has been wise, prudent, energetic, and clean in everything he has done or had done. The majorities given the various candidates speak louder in commendation of the work than anything we can say. Nothing but the highest praise is given him for the manner in which he has done the work. All of the candidates on the Democratic ticket have been discreet and made a splendid canvass of the county. They had with them at several places Senator Overman, Hon. J. H. Small and Hon. J. Bryan Grimms, all of whom did splendid work. Mr. S. C. Wooten was also with them at Falkland, his home township, and pleased his friends with his maiden political speech. Mr. H. W. Whedbee spoke at a number of places and by unanimous consent did fine work for the party and made many votes for the ticket. The work of all these gentlemen coupled with some magnificent efforts by private citizens in every township did much towards rolling up the unprecedented majority which this county gave Tuesday. It was work well done and the county is blessed in the results that have followed.

The Greensboro Industrial News seems to derive some comfort from the fact that Marion Butler's county (Sampson) and ex-Governor Russell's county (Brunswick) both went Republican. "If they could not carry their home counties what could they be expected to carry? But the News is not having much to say about the way the Republican majority in them was cut down.

Our well-known inquisitive press prompts us to ask our Democratic contemporaries to tell us what in their opinion was the "paramount issue" in North Carolina this year?—Greensboro Industrial News.

Yes, whether its a dam for a ditch they bury money in the digging.

A fellow comes up with a fine story that the Japs are trying to pick a fuss with Uncle Sam so as to capture the Philippine islands. For goodness sake don't put them to that much trouble. If they want the islands Uncle Sam should jump at the chance to give them away.

If folks took as much interest in material development all the time, as they do in politics during a campaign, this old country would blossom like a rose.

As Blackburn lost out in the congressional race, perhaps he can get a job in the revenue service or move back to Wilkes and go to moonshining.

It happened like it did because most of them voted that way.

Didn't Pitt county do the thing up right?
Politics can settle down now until the legislature meets.
Wonder if Butler and Adams have heard yet how it went in North Carolina.
The Wilmington Star has been exercising its chicken rooster. Let them crow.Chicod township gets the banner in Pitt county. Good for Chicod!The Republicans did not get as many votes in Pitt county as two years ago.
Some candidates are yet wondering what struck them on election day.
North Carolina can feel proud of having a solid Democratic delegation in congress again.
They have buried Dr. Matthews at Durham, but Greensboro is not inclined to believe he is dead.
Wonder if the Republicans will get over the shock time enough to enjoy Thanksgiving.
The Republicans have seed left in Pitt county, but that is about all. They elected a constable and magistrate in Belvoir township.
In one respect Mr. Hearst is like another fellow nearer home—does not know when he has seen his political finish.
Four to one! Does that look like the Republicans would ever get enough voters together in Pitt county to elect a man?

Are the people of Greenville and Pitt county an easy mark for agents and peddlers? It really seems so. Since The Reflector recently made mention of the washing machine right scheme, a number of cases have come to light where people fell easy victims to the game. In years past the lightening rod agent, and clock peddlers, the organ and picture sellers, and book agents without number have unloaded great quantities of their wares at double the prices the same articles could have been purchased for from regular dealers. Just offer anything on the installment plan and it is dead easy to get a contract and note signed for the amount. But this washing machine right seems to be about the slickest game yet worked on them.

Talking about what the peddlers and agents can do in the way of lifting money from the pockets of the people in this section, we recently heard of a book agent who made the boast that he took orders amounting to $2,500 in four weeks. And the books covered by these orders could have been bought from dealers for half the sum. Have our people got money to throw away? The oily tongued agents certainly find it easy to work them.

Proceedings of the Board of Commissioners.

S. M. Jones tendered his resignation as member of the board of commissioners.
Chandler Wins.
New York, Nov. 8.—With the official vote of but three counties missing tonight, Lewis Stuyvesant Chandler apparently is elected lieutenant governor on the Democratic-Independence League ticket by a plurality approximating 1,700 over M. Linn Bruce, Republican.

Blackburn Don't Know He is Dead
Winston-Salem, N. C., Nov. 8.—Congressman-elect R. N. Hackett, of the Eighth district arrived here this evening and tonight responded to a toast "The Brotherhood of Man," at a banquet given by the Masons, who today laid the cornerstone for their $75,000 Masonic temple. Mr. Hackett, in an interview tonight, stated that according to figures furnished him, his majority over E. Spencer Blackburn the present congressman, is 1,107, and he thinks this is accurate. Mr. Blackburn declared today that he proposed to make a contest and that he would fight it out in congress if it took him ten years.

Are you proud of your home? Say so!
Do you think your wife, even in her kitchen apron, is queen among women? Tell her so!
Is your son a comfort to you? Say so!
Do you appreciate all the home folks do for your well-being? Say so!
Alas, we keep our compliments for those whom we see once or twice a year. A pretty picture card at Christmas draws from us profuse thanks, while for the home-folks who nurse us through sickness, bear household drudgery for us, exhibit the priceless patience needed in rearing children, we have seldom a word of thanks. We feel gloomy of an evening and we don't mind showing it, nor do we mind how contagious it might be to those we call the dearest on earth, but let a stranger call—a stranger with whose interests we are not connected a bit—and how quickly smiles and politeness succeed gloomy uncompanionableness.
Why is this? And among us, who has not been guilty?
If you have a good thought of anyone, speak it out. You will lighten life, replenish your own stock of sunshine—for the more we give the more we have—and forestall bitter regrets when opportunities to speak are passed. Say it!
Say it now!

Conquering the Colorado.
The first of the great American rivers to be completely held in bondage by a dam will be the Colorado. The Laguna dam, twelve miles above Yuma, Ariz., will be completed by the government in two years. It will be 4,800 feet long and will be secured at the ends in the mountains which compress the Colorado at that point into this narrow width. The dam will consist of three massive concrete parallel walls, the spaces filled with stones and the whole width of the dam on top 214 feet. This great barrier will weigh 600,000 tons, and although it will not rest upon rock, its weight will be such that not even the Colorado will shift its bed under it. In low water the dam will back the river up and afford irrigation for 100,000 acres of rich bottom land, and in flood time the Colorado will thunder over the top.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

CONDENSED STORIES.
Young Soldier Lost His Shavings in First Engagement.
At the Army and Navy club in Washington a number of veteran officers were telling stories, says Harper's Weekly, when General Chaffee told this anecdote of General Carr, who died in New York some years ago:
It appears that General Carr, at the outbreak of the civil war, had left Troy to take command of a regiment. The engagement in which, as colonel, he first figured

"I am always so unhappy when I go to a man's club. No wonder a man gets dissatisfied with his home. His wife may plead and threaten but she can't possibly compete with the service of such a place as this." Just at this moment the soft footed water gracefully tipped a plate of soup in her lap.
"Thank you," she said to him gratefully.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Picture Post Card Riot.
The craze for picture post cards led to extraordinary rioting in the streets of Tokyo when the picture post cards issued by the government in commemoration of the war with Russia were placed on sale at the postoffices. Double files of people a mile long were waiting outside most of the offices as soon as they opened. The riotous scene, the loss of control of the crowd, which became a desperate struggle to gain admittance. The fence round the postoffice was trampled down and the people climbed up the walls on to the roofs and fought their way in through the windows. Under the weight of people sent the roof fell in, while the walls were damaged and the windows were smashed. Those who could not get near threw stones at the building. To quell the disturbance soldiers were called out. They charged the crowd with fixed bayonets and the first brigade played streams of water on them.

VANDERBUILT IN WONDERLAND.

hanks the Lord it Ain't No Worse, and Gives an Invitation to a Feast. Grifton, N. C. Nov. 10, 1906.

May the good Lord bless us all, Fellow citizens. But, gentlemen of the jury, how did it happen that you should have rendered such a verdict after hearing the evidence of all our big speakers, from Vanderbilt down to Skinner, Dockery, and several other big guns in the campaign? I know all we fellows told you the truth in our argument, but you did not get the wax out of your ears sufficient for us to make you believe you understand. But gentleman of the jury, you should have set on that box as the great reservoir of American liberty and southern polytheism. You were to swing the great flag of justice over this immense community in hydraulic majesty and conjugal superfluity, you should have been the great triumphal arch over which evaporates the even scales of justice and numerical computation. You should ought to have assended the deep arena of nature and dispose of this vexed question with equiponderating concatenation with science its future velocity and reverberating momentum. But, gentlemen, you must understand that the question you have decided upon one of Democratic eccentricity which was not allowed to walk in the primeval shades of universal freedom of political society, but had to endure the red hot sun or political harangues of the heights of nobility and feudal eminence. But gentlemen, it is a true saying that it's a bad wind that blows no one any good, its my pie to tell you and everybody else, that I'm glad it was no worse, and we can cheerfully eat our Thanksgiving dinner, thanking our God it was no worse than it was. I see it very plainly that I've got to go to school again and study the Democratic arithmetic and learn how to count, for it looks to me like that with my old fashion learning I ain't no count on the count.

But, Mr. Editor, we have reason to thank God for another good blessing which everybody, regardless of religion or politics, can enjoy, and are specially invited to give their presence at an entertainment in the town of Grifton, on the Wednesday evening before the Thursday of Thanksgiving day, to enjoy a rich treat that is in store for all who come. There will be a grand entertainment by the good brethren and sisters of the M. E. church for the benefit of the new church they are erecting at this place. It is a good and worthy cause and should have the good will of all men religiously inclined. So every one is invited to come, and don't be afraid to come, for you know when that good old Methodist bell sounds the call for worship she says, "Room for All," "Room for All!" "Room for All." So come and serve the Lord the best you can. If you can't sing, pray. If you can't preach, pray. If you can't hand in building, pray to the Lord.

Only a month or so ago the North Carolina Chair Association refused to appear at High Point to complain of shortage of cars. To-day's treatment shows how much that was appreciated. General Shafter Dead. Bakersfield, Cal., Nov. 12.—Major General William Rufus Shafter, U. S. A., retired, died at 12:35 p. m. at the ranch of Captain W. H. Not the Right Parties. Officer P. Haney, of Charleston, S. C., arrived Monday evening for the purpose of identifying two negroes who had been arrested here on suspicion of being parties wanted in Charleston, and for whose arrest rewards are offered. The negroes here were not the parties wanted and the officer returned without them.

Quite a Walk. A crowd out for a walk took a tramp down the new railroad opening Sunday afternoon. When they stopped and took their bearings they were seven miles from town. It seemed like forty before they got back.

TOOK AWAY CARS.

Southern Railway Treats Thomasville Like a Dog. Thomasville, N. C., Nov. 9.—The Southern railway has treated Thomasville like a dog. Just after certain factories had secured some cars to load with chairs an order was sent to train every empty car, regardless of size, to Danville, Va. Some of the factories had all the chairs ready to put in the cars and some of them even had them on wagons ready to be put in the cars at once while others had goods on their platforms ready to go out. The citizens of Thomasville are exceedingly mad and rightly so.

Women Who Carry Pistols. "You would be astonished," said a manufacturer of firearms, "to learn how many New York women carry revolvers, particularly in the suburban districts. Mrs. Mackay is the proud possessor of one of the most beautiful revolvers in the world. Its barrel is silver of a hard alloy, the chamber is silver of a purer grade and the grip is of gold, engraved handsomely. Needless to say, it was made to order for her. AN HONORABLE SEXTETTE

Chicod Takes the Banner All Around. In the recent election Chicod took the banner by giving the largest majority of any township in the county. She is also entitled to the banner on the age of some of her voters. A bunch of six Democratic patriots walked up to the box at Black Jack together to put in their votes whose combined ages were 490 years. They were W. Haddock, aged 85; W. Hudson aged 84; James Elks, aged 84; W. H. Buck, aged 82; R. T. Wilson, aged 80; P. W. Arnold, aged 75. If a township in any county in the State can beat this sextette we are ready to hear from them. You can't down old Pitt as long as she has such Democratic voters as these.

Friday night there was some trouble between Mr. Joseph Rawls and Mr. J. M. Reuss in the latter's store. Mr. Reuss got his rifle, loaded it and started out after Mr. Rawls. Friends seeing there was about to be more trouble gathered around Mr. Reuss to disarm him, and while doing so the rifle was discharged. The ball struck the pavement and glanced and went through the calf of Mr. R. D. Gooch's leg. Mr. Gooch's wound was painful but not serious.

BURGLARY IN TOWN.

Home of Mr. L. H. Rountree Entered. There seems to be a gang of burglars working up and down the railroad in this section. One night last week some robberies were committed in Kinston. Saturday night the home of Mr. R. C. Cannon, in Ayden, was entered and several articles stolen. Sunday night the burglars struck Greenville and the home of Mr. L. H. Rountree, on Pitt street, was broken into. Entrance was made into the house by cutting a slit from the window blind, by which means the blind was unlocked, and the window was then raised. The burglar went to Mr. Rountree's bed room and took his pants from a chair, carried the pants in the parlor and rifled the pockets of $16.50 in money. Nothing else was missed.

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL TEACHER'S MEETING.

Report for The Reflector. "Tick, tock, tick tock, Sourd the click of the clock, And the grand old work goes on." If the October meeting of the Teachers' Association of Pitt county may be said to have been many quaint vignettes of interesting and helpful, the meeting held last Saturday was delightful and inspiring. October's meeting was the best that the association had ever known until last Saturday, when all previous achievements were surpassed, and the laurel crown was placed above the glorious record of November's success. The weather was superb, and a large number of teachers and ex-teachers, about one hundred and fifty in all, met in the auditorium of the graded school building, and enjoyed one of the best programs the association has ever rendered.

The meeting was called to order at 10:30 o'clock by the president, Prof. J. A. McArthur. A Scripture lesson was read and prayer was offered by Rev. J. E. Ayscue, after which "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" was sung by the audience. Prof. W. H. Ragsdale addressed the association for a few minutes, speaking encouragingly of the present and hopefully of the future. Mr. Ragsdale's happy tendency to look at the bright side of everything enables him to encourage and help the teachers of Pitt county as he alone can encourage and help them.

Prof. H. B. Smith's suggestions on "How to Teach Spelling" were timely and helpful. The teachers of this county are fortunate in having Mr. Smith as a counsellor in the work. Hon. T. J. Jarvis was then introduced with appropriate remarks by the president. An introduction was necessary only as a form, for we all know and honor Mr. Jarvis, upon whom have been wisely bestowed greater honors than upon any other living North Carolinian. During his inspiring and masterful address he held the audience spell bound. His comparison of the architectural and sculptural achievements as revealed in the magnificent edifices that must have been very interesting and helpful, and the outlook for the future is bright. If the best is revealed in character that shall live through the ages of eternity, was especially fitting and beautiful. Would that every teacher and pupil of this county, even of this state, could have heard that address. Those who did hear it will ever remember it, and its influence will be felt long after the lips that uttered it are silent.

Prof. McCall, in his paper on "Enthusiasm in School Work," spoke eloquently and earnestly of the need of interest in the great and important work in which we are engaged. He showed plainly that without deep interest in the work, a teacher can accomplish nothing. At 12:30 the Teachers' Meeting was at an end, and the Women's Betterment Association convened. A most interesting, though brief, meeting was held, after which the teachers were at liberty.

The two meetings of the Teachers' Association this year have been very interesting and helpful, and the outlook for the future is bright. If the best is revealed in character that shall live through the ages of eternity, was especially fitting and Opera House, Nov. 21st.

The "Joshua Simpkins" company, carrying their own special scenery, a band of music and fine orchestra, will produce the great pastoral comedy drama of that name at the Masonic opera house on Wednesday, Nov. 21st. The piece deals with country life and people, three acts of play being laid in one of the many quaint vignettes of interesting and helpful, the meeting held last Saturday was delightful and inspiring. October's meeting was the best that the association had ever known until last Saturday, when all previous achievements were surpassed, and the laurel crown was placed above the glorious record of November's success. The weather was superb, and a large number of teachers and ex-teachers, about one hundred and fifty in all, met in the auditorium of the graded school building, and enjoyed one of the best programs the association has ever rendered.

China Wedding. 1886 Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cobb invite you to be present at the Twentieth Anniversary of their marriage Friday evening, November 16th nineteen hundred and six from nine to twelve Greenville, North Carolina.

The oldest inmate of the Soldiers' Home, a man named Bunn, of Wake county, died a few days ago. He was 97 years old. One other inmate is 95 years old.

beautiful. Would that every teacher and pupil of this county, even of this state, could have heard that address. Those who did hear it will ever remember it, and its influence will be felt long after the lips that uttered it are silent.

Prof. McCall, in his paper on "Enthusiasm in School Work," spoke eloquently and earnestly of the need of interest in the great and important work in which we are engaged. He showed plainly that without deep interest in the work, a teacher can accomplish nothing. At 12:30 the Teachers' Meeting was at an end, and the Women's Betterment Association convened. A most interesting, though brief, meeting was held, after which the teachers were at liberty.

KEEPS GROWING.

Building and Loan Climbs Upward. The board of directors of the Home Building and Loan Association met Friday night in the office of the president. The report of the secretary and treasurer was very gratifying, both as to the old series and the new series just started. As two series of stock are now in operation, necessitating more work on the part of the secretary and treasurer, he was given a small increase in salary. Every person in the community who can do so, especially the wage earners, should take a few shares. As a savings institution nothing beats a well managed building and loan association. One share worth $100 at maturity, can be carried for 25 cents a week, and even any boy could lay aside that much.

Longworth's Re-elected.

The good-natured but weak-minded and bald-headed husband of Mrs. Alice had a close shave for re-election to congress, and a published telegram from his august father-in-law was deemed necessary to save him at all. Also a telegram of congratulation from that eminent relation by affinity, with "love to Alice," was given out after the result became known. Manifestly, a successful opponent of Mr. Longworth would hardly stand well with the administration, and all the Washington world and its wife would be pretty sure to snub him and his wife. Mrs. and Mr. Longworth are in a position to get more enjoyment out of representing the first Ohio district than any couple else, and likewise to afford the public more entertainment. Nor should we neglect to say that Mrs. Alice did strenuously during the campaign and deserved well of the Cincinnati electorate. She proved herself an ideal candidate's wife, going everywhere, shaking hands with thousands of voters, and never losing her smile when her fine frocks were torn or soiled by the eager multitudes. It is thus that the great ladies of England re-went to help their husbands in parliamentary elections. As for Nick, he is well fitted to shine in reflected glory. Lastly, Mrs. Alice's personal appearance deserves well enough of the country to have her wishes in a matter like this granted. All three of the party trio are greatly to be congratulated, but re-marks that both of the men should have had taste in the matter of those published telegrams.—Charlotte Observer.

Work on the Farm.

There was a time when work on the farm was largely work of the hands and only to a limited extent work of the head. Modern progress has changed all that. The introduction of machinery has lightened almost to the vanishing point what used to be the heaviest manual tasks. The farm has become a factory, in a sense, and the most successful farmers are as much system and find occasion for as much ingenuity in adapting means to ends and as much alertness in taking advantage of conditions as if they were running a business in town. Another phase of the revolution of farm life which is not overlooked in considering the modern farmer as farmer, is the improvement in living conditions which has taken place on American farms during the past generation. Farmers are no longer hermits. They are no longer cut off from the elegancies and enjoyments of life. It may be that a reaction from the rush of the cities is about due, and that there will be American men in the future, as well as American men, who will consider that life on a farm is neither uninteresting nor unprofitable compared in a large way with life devoted to urban suits.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

GRANTED THE FRANCHISE.

Aldermen Give Railroad Right of Way Across Streets. The board of aldermen held another meeting Friday night to consider the application of the Raleigh and Famoso sound railroad for a franchise to cross Dickinson avenue and Clark street in order to have a switch from their depot to the track of the Atlantic Coast Line at a point north of the Imperial factory. Six members of the board were present, and after much discussion the franchise was granted.

Don't Save This Way.

Don't save money by— Using cheap soap. You will ruin your complexion. Sewing in the dusk. Gaslight is cheaper than oculists' bills. Wearing thin clothing. Flannels are cheaper and better than medicine. Going without luncheon. You will injure your health and digestion if you do. Walking when overtired to avoid cabs. You save in money but undermine your constitution. Overworking. Nobody thanks you. You will be cross and irritable and your husband will wish you were not so zealous.
