

ABOUT THE STATE.

Some Interesting Happenings Given in Brief Form.

The Western North Carolina Conference is in session at Mt. Airy.

Auditor Dixon says the State will make a fine financial showing at the end of the present fiscal year and that there will be a balance of $300,000.

New Bern, Nov. 13.—A white man was brought to New Bern from Vanceboro on the boat last night who had been arrested on the charge of criminal assault. He is said to have escaped from the officer, but he was soon caught and is now in the county jail.

Waynesville, Nov. 12.—The first snow of the season began to fall here last night and it has been snowing all day. A great many are blue and shrewdly over the situation, there being no coal in town. It seems that the town will have to go into the confiscating business.

Wilson, Nov. 12.—A negro calling himself John Dempsey secured about $40 worth of clothes from Mr. W. W. Whitehurst, a Tarboro street merchant, late Saturday afternoon on a forged check. The amount of the check was $87.80, and purported to be given by G. G. Conner on the Branch Banking Company, and in favor of Dempsey.

Tarboro, Nov. 13.—On Monday afternoon, this week, Mr. W. R. Abrams, superintendent of the Dupree farm, near Old Sparta, had his hand badly lacerated while ginning cotton. The condenser was choked up and in an effort to relieve the trouble he ran his hand into the gin making the mistake of thrusting it too far.

Large Owl.

Tuesday Mr. S. I. Fleming brought in a large horned owl which he killed at his home, 4 miles from town, the night before. The owl was a very large one and measured 4 1/2 feet between tips of wings. Mr. Fleming says he has been losing many chickens and thinks this owl was killing them.

Curtain Catches Fire From Lamp.

Tuesday evening there came near being a fire at the home of Mr. J. S. Tunstall, just west of the railroad. From a lamp sitting near the window the curtains caught on fire. Parties about the depot saw the blaze and ran across to the house to help put the fire out. No damage was done except to the curtain and carpet.

"Joshua Simpkins."

The humorous comedy drama, "Joshua Simpkins," accompanied by a fine band and an excellent orchestra, will be seen at Masonic opera house, Wednesday, Nov. 21st. It is a rural play in four acts, bound together by an interesting plot and produced with special scenery carried by the company. In the third act a realistic saw-mill scene is introduced when a real buzz saw is seen cutting through a real log at terrific speed upon which a human being has been helplessly bound by his enemies and left to an evident death. There is an abundance of comedy in the play, while there are many fine singing and dancing specialties incidentally introduced.

Two Kinston gentlemen on a recent hunting and fishing trip in Onslow county, captured a 9-foot alligator alive and took the saurian back home with them.

A 5-year-old daughter of J. W. Price, near Battleboro, was choked to death by getting a piece of raw potato which she was eating lodged in her windpipe.

Saving For a Rainy Day.

A New York man with a propensity for saving tried to impress upon the mind of his wife in the beginning of their married life the necessity of laying up for a rainy day. Two years later things ceased to go well with the man. The firm he worked for failed, a defalcation wrecked the building and loan company in which his savings were invested, and then his mother died, thereby throwing on his hands heavy funeral and doctor's bills. For weeks he spent most of his waking moments rushing around trying to borrow money, and when at last he negotiated loans sufficient to pay his debts he settled down to the luxury of nervous prostration. One day when on the road to recovery he happened to look through his wife's account book. "Great Scott!" he cried. "Is it possible that you have $300 of your expense money put away in a saving bank? Why on earth didn't you offer to help a fellow out of some of the awful holes I have been floundering in lately?" "Why, dear," said his wife in genuine surprise. "I am saving up for a rainy day."—New York Sun.

Mrs. Hetty Green, the richest woman in the world, sees the end of rule by trusts, for she says: "There is going to be a revolution in this country, and the people are going to revolt against the oppressions of the trusts. There will be a deluge, and these streets will run with blood. The people are aroused. The people are gradually finding out about the trusts, and when they realize a little more fully how they are running the chances of the public, there is going to be a revolution. It will be a deluge, I tell you."

Defeated Candidate Honored by His Associates on the Ticket.

New York, Nov. 12.—A complimentary dinner was given to William Randolph Hearst to-night at Delmonico's by Louis Stuyvesant Chanler, W. S. Jackson, John S. Whalen, Julius Hauser and F. W. Skene, his associates on the Democratic and Independence League State tickets.

Besides Mr. Hearst there were 26 other guests, all of whom were either associated with him during his recent campaign for governor or were successful judicial candidates on the Independence League or other tickets. The banquet was private.

Original Observations.

The law of love has no statute of limitations.

Eat, drink and be merry to-day—tomorrow you may be married.

When November's skies are murky they come the feast on the Thanksgiving turkey.

Defeated candidates can now go out and wrangle their tears with the wailing winds of November.—Orange, Va. Observer

Mrs. Russell Sage says she has had seven thousand letters begging for money since her husband died. She answers no begging letters, and it is said she will not leave any money to educational or charitable institutions but give it all to deserving individuals. But how does she know who are the "deserving?" Next to having no money, having too much, like Mrs. Sage, brings most trouble.—Raleigh News and Observer

THE REASON WHY

It is only by reason of the maker's intimate, thorough knowledge of women's tastes and the requirements of her feet that "Dorothy Dodd" Shoes have achieved their marvellous success. First, they satisfy the eye and the sense of distinction to the foot. Secondly, they fit women's feet as only "Dorothy Dodd's" can fit. Thirdly, their large sale permits them to be sold at a moderate price. This store secured and controls the sale of these splendid shoes, because it believes them to offer the wearer more real value and satisfaction than any others possible to procure. New styles now ready. Glad to show even though you do not care to buy.

NEGRO DESPERADO COMMITS TRIPLE MURDER.

Asheville, Nov. 14.—Fighting bravely in defense of their police captain, Patrolmen Charles Blackstock and William Baily two of the most efficient members of Asheville's police force, were shot to death on South Main street at 11:30 o'clock to-night by a negro who proclaimed that his name was Will Harris, of Charlotte, a desperado, for whom a large reward has been standing for some time. Prior to the death of the two officers, a negro restaurant keeper named Ben Allison, fell dead at the hands of Harris, who, handling a savage rifle, killed without provocation. Another negro named Tom Fell lies mortally wounded, he, too, being shot before the officers took a hand in the mele.

Harris started out on his death dealing tour from a negro house on Valley street. He fired into two houses as he made his way to South Main street, one of the principle streets of the city. As he reached Eagle street he fired at and wounded Allison.

On South Main street the desperado encountered Tom Neil and fired point blank at him. The noise of the shooting caused Police Captain Page and officers Baily and Blackstock to start from police headquarters on the run, blowing their whistles, as they went. Baily took his stand at the head of South Main street and the courthouse square, leaving his captain and Blackstock to go on ahead.

It is reported that Captain Page met the negro in the centre of Main street, the former receiving a bullet in the arm from the negro's rifle. The wounded captain called upon Blackstock to fire, but before the officer could do so he fell dead with a bullet in the chest. Harris then started on a run for the square, where Patrolman Baily was waiting for him. Baily fired twice, but missed his man, and the negro, turning his rifle on the officer, sent a bullet crashing through the latter's brain. The officer lived but a few minutes after he fell.

The negro then ran down South Main street toward Biltmore, and at midnight was still at large.

Six Causes for Divorce.

Philadelphia, Nov. 13.—The national congress on uniform divorce laws held its second meeting in this city today. The first meeting was held at Washington nine months ago, at which time adjournment was taken to permit a committee to draft a bill on uniform divorce law to be presented to the Legislatures of all the States. The bill drawn by the committee names six causes for which divorces can be granted. They are infidelity, felony, bigamy, desertion, habitual drunkenness and intolerable cruelty.

The committee recommends that the various Legislatures be asked to agree on a period of residence before application may be made for divorce. It is expected by the committee that this recommendation, if adopted by all the States, will decrease the number of migratory divorces.

Ayden to do the Honors.

A district meeting of Odd Fellows will be held in Ayden on the 6th of December, and the Free Will Baptist says the Ayden lodge will leave nothing undone to make the meeting a grand success.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Proclamation by the Governor of North Carolina.

While the excessive rains have damaged our crops, and twice during the year the public peace was marred by acts of lawlessness, yet our manifold blessings have so far surpassed our temporary ill that they call to us for thanksgiving and prayer.

The per centage of increase in the State (agricultural, industrially, educationally, and morally) has been phenomenal, and far exceeded our fondest hopes. The prices of farming and trucking lands have largely increased in value. Industrial enterprises are being rapidly developed throughout the State and are paying good dividends. Peace and good-will now exists between labor and capital; no pestilence or scourge has visited our State, and with the above two exceptions law and order have been maintained.

Our educational progress is a source of congratulation, as longer terms, more efficient teachers, better school houses and equipment mark a new and progressive period in our school life, while the growing temperance and religious spirit of our people denote a moral condition never before witnessed. Thus in things material and things moral, we, as a State, have prospered during the past year as never before and it is therefore appropriate that a certain day be set apart for praise to the Supreme Ruler of the Universe for the blessings so abundantly given.

Therefore, that all shall have an opportunity of showing their gratitude, I, R. B. Glenn, Governor of North Carolina, join with the President of the United States in fixing Thursday, the 29th day of November 1906, as a day of general rejoicing and thanksgiving, during which day thanks for past mercies may be given and requests for future guidance made.

On this day I ask our people, as far as is practicable, to suspend all business and attend to their duties, and to assemble at 11 o'clock at their places of worship and offer up thanks to God for His numerous blessings, and to consecrate themselves afresh to His service, and to the protection and building up of the State.

I likewise ask the ministers of all churches on that day to especially hold up before the people the blessings to come from a life of soberness and industry, peace and good order, and by freely giving to the cause of charity, thus making us more loyal citizens and better Christians.

I also implore all while enjoying their holiday, to do nothing that will tarnish the fair name of the State or dishonor God, but that all they do may increase their love of country.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of North Carolina to be affixed. Done in our city of Raleigh, this 9th day of November, 1906, and in the one hundred and thirtieth year of our American Independence.

R. B. GLENN,
By the governor,
A. H. Arrington,
Private Secretary.

This cuts down the fuel pile but saves the ice bill.

Dr. D. B. CLAYTON DEAD.

Stricken While Preparing to Start on Journey.

Columbia, S. C. Nov. 13.—The Rev. Daniel B. Clayton, Universalist evangelist who has preached throughout this State and Georgia and North Carolina, dropped dead of heart disease at the home of his son, William P. Clayton, 1:07 Richland street, while being over to pick up a dress suit case and umbrella as he was about to start for the early morning train on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. R. T. Wheelright, at Mars Hill, N. C. Mr. Clayton was 89 years old.

Mr. Clayton was greatly beloved throughout the territory in which he had preached, and his sudden death will be a great shock to his thousands of friends. His home was at 1917 Assembly street, this city. Dr. V. P. Clayton, formerly postmaster at Columbia, but for the past several years in the revenue service, was his son.

Dr. Clayton was well known and beloved by many people in Greenville where he often visited and preached.

Salisbury, Nov. 13.—W. S. Gray, night money clerk for the Southern Express Company at Salisbury, was missed today, and simultaneously with his disappearance a shortage of more than one thousand five hundred dollars was discovered in the packages being handled today by the company here. Gray skipped Sunday night at a late hour.

Salisbury, N. C. Nov. 13.—Grover Cline, a foreman for Lane Bros. Co., contractors, on the double tracking of the Southern railway, accidentally shot and killed himself at Lake, twelve miles north of Salisbury, last night. With a number of other employees Cline had gone to the camp for the night, and in washing his face at a basin dropped his pistol from his belt. The revolver was discharged and the ball crashed through the chest of the young man, killing him instantly.

Wilmington, Nov. 13.—A warrant was sworn out Saturday night by Victoria Larkins, a colored woman, charging Preacher Shells, who officiates at Mount Zion church, on Fifth between Swann and Nixon streets, with the larceny of a trunk containing property valued at $700 and the warrant was placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff John W. Smith to be served. Mr. Smith looked for the ebony hued divine all yesterday morning and about 12 o'clock located him at the above mentioned church, where he was busily engaged preaching a sermon for the edification and delight of his interested audience. This, however, did not deter the strict disciple of the law who sent a messenger to the pulpit of the divine to tell him that his presence was desired. The divine reached for his hat and without the formality of a farewell to his dusky congregation accompanied Mr. Smith down town. He was released from custody a short while after as some one stood his bond of $100.

Burglars Moving.

The burglars visiting the towns along the branch of the railroad have got as far as Scotland Neck where they broke in houses in the same manner as at other places. The burglars are going to break a once too often, then there ought to be something doing.

For the first time in twenty years Ashe county has gone Democratic. The Republicans have very little left them in this State and if the Democrats will continue their splendid administration of affairs there will be no chance for them in the future. The people set their seal of approval on the Democratic administration of State affairs.—Charlotte News.

If the bird hunters are doing any big thing bagging game it has not been reported.

GIN HOUSE BURNED.

About Ten Bales of Cotton Destroyed.

Between midnight and one o'clock this morning the gin house on the farm of Mrs. L. W. Whichard, 2 miles west of town on the Tarboro road, was destroyed by fire. No ginning had been done there in several years but the building was used for storing crops. There was in it at the time of the fire about 10 bales of seed cotton, a large lot of cotton seed and a quantity of fodder, besides baskets and farm tools, all of this being destroyed. It is believed that the fire was the incendiary.

There was some insurance on the building but none on the cotton.

Wednesday Night, Nov. 21st.

The attraction at Masonic opera house, on Wednesday night, Nov. 21st, will be "Joshua Simpkins." It's a strong rural comedy drama, opening with a realistic scene of rural home life, showing Skinner Tavern with Uncle Josh's Briar Farm in the distance. The play progresses, abounding with interesting situations, until the climax is reached, in the third act, when a human being is helplessly bound to a log to be cut in twain by a mammoth buzz saw and is only saved by the timely arrival of Uncle Josh. "Joshua Simpkins" was written with a view of keeping an audience thoroughly amused, and it fully carries out the author's intention. The plot is not allowed to interfere with the comedy parts to an extent, thus producing a play that is thrillingly interesting and said to contain many laughs. The company carry a fine orchestra and a laughable burlesque band.

He's Your Husband

A great deal is said by lecturers and a great deal written by writers about how good husbands ought to be to their wives—and of course they ought. But sometimes it seems as if the wife being good to the husband is omitted. Here's a suggestion which we clip from the Rich Square Times:

Don't complain of your husband to anyone, not even to your own mother. If she is the wise woman you think her she will respect you all the more. Did you think when you married your Will or your Harry that he was the one perfect man in all the world, and now you have found out he is very human, after all? That it does seem sometimes as though he loved himself a little better than you? That he can even bear to differ with you sometimes in matters that concern you very much? And, oh, dear little woman, that he will forget just what you want him to remember sometimes? Now just take our advice and don't tell anybody. He is your husband—your other self—and you ought to cover his faults just like you do your own.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

Jim Bond Arrested for Threatening to Burn Judge Connor's House.

Wilson, Nov. 13.—One night last week some one put a note under Judge Connor's door, a mile from town, threatening to burn the house. The family was very much alarmed, but the officials wished to keep the matter quiet until they could find the guilty party. Sunday Mr. George Connor, son of the Judge, went to Raleigh to see his father and talk the matter over with him. He and the Judge returned here yesterday and found sufficient evidence to warrant the arrest of Jim Bond, alias John Dempsey, a former servant of Judge Connor. Bond was put in jail. He will probably be tried this week. He is the same negro who obtained goods on a forged check yesterday.

HIS USE FOR T.

A land agent's wife should be Lottie; All ministers have need of Grace; A shoemaker calls his wife Peggy; Though homely it quite suits the place. A druggist should choose Ann Eliza. And Betty's the sporting man's mate; A bachelor's choice should be Mary.

Before 'tis forever too late. A mail-man of course needs Carrie. A farmer for Tillie will quake; A fisher needs Nettle or Minnie. And Lena the fat man should take. A name for the wife of a lawyer Can plainly be seen by all eyes; I'll leave it to you and your conscience. Now wouldn't the best one be Lize?—Ex.

Stunning Prosperity.

A professional man of distinguished ability said a few days ago that the people of North Carolina and the South have not prepared themselves for the prosperity that has swept upon them. He said that it is too great for them to realize and manage. And there may well be some warning against such stunning prosperity. There are many dangers accompanying such a state of affairs. One danger is the probable, yet almost sure drift into extravagance which is always hurtful in the end whether considered for individuals or for people as a whole. Once into the drift of extravagance it becomes harder to adjust to the necessities of adversity when it comes. And it is not probable that any persons or people will always be free from adversity, however prosperous they may be for awhile. Then this great era of unusual prosperity may have a danger about it of causing people to forget everything else but money. Money-mad is a bad condition for any person or people to drift into and it would better be guarded against anywhere. Let us be glad for our prosperity and use it to the best advantage possible and guard against any dangers that may accompany it.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

NOBODY KNOWS BUT FATHER.

Nobody knows the money it takes To keep the home together. Nobody knows the debt it makes Nobody knows—but father. Nobody's told that the boys need shoes And girls hats with a feather; Nobody else old clothes must choose, Nobody—only father. Nobody hears that the coal and wood And flour's out together; Nobody else must make them good. Nobody—only father. Nobody's hand in the pocket goes So often, wondering whether There is any end to the wants of those Dependent—only father. Nobody thinks where the money will come To pay the bills that gather; Nobody else must make them good. Nobody—only father. Nobody comes from the world's cruel storm, To meet dear ones who gather Around with loving welcome warm. Nobody knows—only father. Nobody knows of the home life pure. Watched over by a mother. Where rest and bliss are all secure. Nobody can—but father.—Atchison Globe.

Miss Sally Cotten's Wedding.

Concerning the approaching marriage of a charming young North Carolina woman the Atlanta Journal says: "The wedding of Miss Sally Cotten, of Greenville, N. C., to Mr. Russell Wiggins, of Boston, will take place on the 21st of the month at the country home of the bride-elect, 'Cottendale.' "The plantation is fifteen miles from the railroad and during the week before the event Miss Cotten will entertain a house party of forty guests, a number of them being Mr. Wiggins' friends from the North, who will have their first glimpse of Southern life on the big plantation. "Miss Cotten visited Miss Louise Todd several years ago and has numerous friends throughout Georgia who are interested in her approaching marriage. Miss Todd will leave Friday and will be one of the bridesmaids.

Bachelors.

"Bachelors can be found roaming at large in all parts of the world. They inhabit apartments, clubs, open fields, bodies of water and music halls. They are also seen behind the scenes. They hover at times near front gates, and have been found in back parlors with the aid of a searchlight. "Bachelors are nomadic by nature and variable in their tastes, never going with a girl long enough to be dangerous. "Bachelors make love easily, but rarely keep it. Rich bachelors are hunted openly and shamelessly, and are always in great danger. Those who finally escape are, as a rule, usless ever afterwards."—Tom Watson, in the December Delineator.

To our mind, this display of ill nature is entirely unwarranted. Everyone familiar with the blue back speller knows what comes of keeping bad company, and when Tom Watson took up with the Town Topics man heated with his eyes open—Charlotte Observer

ABOUT THE STATE.

Some Interesting Happenings Given in Brief Form.

There was two inches of snow at Asheville and Charlotte Wednesday night.

On Tuesday Governor Glenn granted pardons to four prisoners in the penitentiary. Several other applications were refused.

Rocky Mount, Nov. 14.—Mr. San Allen had the misfortune yesterday to lose his gin house and about twenty-five or thirty bales of cotton by fire. His cotton press was out of fix and he heated an iron pin to drive in the wood to make it burn a larger hole. The fire set fire to it, which caused the conflagration. Several negroes had cotton there which was burned which was caused by the fire. There was insurance on the machinery or cotton and so it was a total loss.

Washington, Nov. 15.—It is reported from Hampton township that yesterday C. Spencer Davis shot and killed Hugh Weaver, both farmers in that section. It is alleged that Weaver threatened Davis' life and when Davis drove past Weaver's house yesterday Weaver took two shots at him with a shotgun. Davis returned the fire with a revolver and killed his assailant. Davis is at his home and has not yet been arrested.

Through a swamp the negro returned the fire with a revolver and killed his assailant. Davis is at his home and has not yet been arrested.

SUPPOSED WILL HARRIS KILLED.

Fought His Pursuers to the Finish.

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 15.—The negro, believed to be the noted desperado Will Harris, who killed officers Blackstock and Bailey and three negroes on the streets of Asheville Tuesday night, was surrounded near Fletcher's, ten miles from here, about 11 o'clock this morning and shot to death. After the negro had fallen with his hands still clasping the deadly rifle, members of the posse poured shot into his body until it was literally riddled with lead.

The negro was located near Buena Vista early this morning coming from an old barn in that locality where it is supposed he had been in hiding. The posse was quickly formed and the chase commenced. He was jumped by possums a short distance from Fletcher's and replied to the command to halt by opening fire on the posse. He was chased through the village of Fletcher and repeatedly returned the fire of his pursuers.

Everywhere, the labor problem is discussed. On a train recently, a Winston man, giving his views to The Chronicle, said: "The negro who does six days' work in the week is a good citizen; but the negro who will do only three days' work in the week, is not a good citizen." That expresses the situation quite tersely. The negro who will not work is going to find out pretty soon that there is no room for him in the South. The place of the industrious negro is secure.—Charlotte Chronicle.

FUL RAILROAD WRECK.

Nearly Half Hundred People Perish. Chicago, Nov. 12.—More than one-half the passengers on an immigrant train on the Baltimore and Ohio were killed or injured in a collision today between the passenger train and a freight near Woodville, Ind. One hundred and sixty-five passengers were on the train. Of these 47 were either killed outright or were burned to death in a fire that broke out in the wreckage immediately after the collision. The names of all of the dead will probably never be known as 55 of the bodies were consumed in the flames or were so badly burned that identification will be out of the question. Thirty-eight people were injured and several of these will die. Eighty others escaped unhurt but lost nearly all their baggage and clothing.

ROBBERS BREAK IN WHARF.

And They Make a Big (?) Haul. Wednesday night some one broke into the old building in which is located the office of the Norfolk & Southern at the wharf. Entrance was made by ripping off some planks on the old ware room part of the building through which the office was reached. No goods are kept in this ware room, and nothing of value to an outsider is ever left in the office over night, so all that the robber could find lying around was a penny box of matches. This is one time the robber got big (?) pay for his trouble.

A MAGAZINE FOR THE BLIND. Through the beneficence of a wealthy good lady in New York City, Mrs. William Ziegler, a monthly magazine of some fifty pages is soon to be published in print for the blind of the United States who can read, to be sent to the blind free of charge. It will be on the order of the regular monthly magazines for the seeing and will contain general news and literary matter of interest to the blind, as well as a correspondence column for the blind. The magazine is to be published in the New York Point print and in the Braille, so as to accommodate the blind who can read either. For the purpose of reaching every blind person in North Carolina who can read, it is earnestly requested that the full name and postoffice address of any blind citizen in any part of the State be sent at once to John E. Ray, Principal of the State School for the Blind, Raleigh, N. C., stating the preference of the person between the New York Point and the Braille print. This request should receive immediate attention.

Funeral Advertising. They have rather an odd custom in New Orleans of printing cards of thanks to the undertaking firms for well-conducted funerals. It is in the nature of an advertisement for the undertaking companies and the Sunday early columns of them. One card says: "We consider that our most earnest thanks are due to the fine funeral furnished and for the perfect manner in which it was conducted." The preacher was also thanked, and the man who sang at the grave was not overlooked. Another speaks of a funeral as having been "eminently satisfactory," while yet another funeral gave "entire satisfaction." A doctor is thanked for his painstaking, but unavailing, work to bring about a recovery. The firemen who turn out, the lodges that officiate and the people who send flowers are all given public acknowledgment. From the standpoint of the question of taste, the custom is not above criticism, but it is an easement for grief on the one hand and a promoter of pride on the other, and moreover, must be a source of considerable revenue for the newspapers.—Charlotte Chronicle.

More Trains Wanted. Williamston, N. C., Nov. 15.—The North Carolina Corporation Commission met here at 12 o'clock yesterday in the room of the Lotus Club to consider the petition of thirteen towns between Plymouth and Weldon for a double daily passenger and mail service over the Atlantic Coast Line. Every section in the east that is connected with Rocky Mount through the Coast Line branches has a double daily passenger service. That part of the Plymouth branch extending from Rocky Mount to Parmele a distance of 35 miles, has double passenger service, where that part of line from Parmele to Plymouth a distance of 39 miles, has not. That portion of these two lines that is discriminated against touches three county seats, even indirectly, thirteen towns and seventy-five thousand people.

W. H. Newell, of Wilmington, N. C., superintendent of transportation, and J. F. Council, of Norfolk, district superintendent, were present at the hearing and represented the railroad. Hon. Claude Kitchen, of Scotland Neck, and Messrs. Wheeler, Martin, and S. J. Everitt, each of Williamston, represented the petitioners. The petitioners proposed the extension of the Spring Hope train to Plymouth and the Plymouth train to Spring Hope, and that the Kingston train, running from Kingston to Tarboro, be put on from Kingston to Weldon. The railroad officials made a counter proposition to the effect that an additional freight train passenger accommodations be put on from Plymouth to Rocky Mount. This the petitioners refuse to consider at all. Another passenger train or no change was made the contention of the petitioners throughout.

Panlico and Tar Rivers. The following is an extract from the recent annual report of Gen. McKenize, chief of the engineers of the army: (One river, called the Panlico below Washington, and the Tar above that point.) The present project is that of 1875 for Panlico river and of 1879 and 1899 for Tar river, to secure a channel 100 feet wide and nine feet deep at mean low water at Washington; thence a channel 60 feet wide and three feet deep at low water for 22 miles further to Greenville; thence a channel 60 feet wide and 20 inches deep at low water for 26 miles further to Tarboro; thence to keep clear of obstructions the natural channel 34 miles further to Little Falls, two miles below Rocky Mount Commerce for the year 1905 amounted to 567,334 tons, valued at $13,894,541 and increases over the previous year of 62,000 tons. The amount that is recommended for further work is $3,792,500.

Truth in Preference to Fiction

GREENVILLE NORTH CAROLINA TUESDAY NOV. 20, 1906

San Francisco suffered much from the late earthquake and fire that destroyed a large part of the city, and since that awful disaster by devouring elements it has been the prey of human ghoul and vampire. Such rebuilding as has followed the destruction has been surrounded by great obstacles, laborers demanded unjust wages, material being held for extortionate prices, and even the necessities of life being sold for many times more than value. Worse than this is the disclosure following an investigation of the relief fund. Donations were sent from almost all parts of the world to help relieve the suffering and destitution in the city. The investigation has developed that as much as $1,000,000 of the funds sent for this purpose has been stolen by those through whose hands it passed. Robbing the dead would not have been more horrible.

This town, and almost every other town so far as that goes, suffers more for want of confidence and co-operation among business men and lack of public spirit, than from opposition or competition of neighboring towns. Get together, stay together and work, and you will see things come to pass.

The report is going around that Lumberton has a cotton mill which has paid for itself in dividends in three years. Yet so far Greenville has not seen the point in establishing an enterprise of this kind.

Zimmerman, the Cincinnati bank embezzler, got a sentence of two years in the penitentiary and a fine of $10,000. That was light. Any bank wrecker ought to be sentenced for life.

When North Carolinians run down to the Jamestown exposition next year they will have reason to feel proud of our State building and exhibits.

The president has arrived at the Canal Zone and the blow out is in progress, which will result in a corresponding blowing in of the appropriation.

FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

If Mr. Joyner Resigns, the Selection of Prof. W. H. Ragsdale is Urged.

To the Editor: The past few years has witnessed such a great improvement in the public school system of our State that it has not only become a matter of pride to ourselves, but has attracted the attention of those in public education in other sections of the country.

The advancement made along all lines, not only in the higher grade of teaching, greater length of school term, but also in the establishment of rural libraries and the replacing of the "old-field school house" with modern, well equipped buildings has been phenomenal. All of which has been the result of the close supervision of the county superintendents fostered by their association in their vital connection with the State superintendent.

This work has progressed so smoothly and so rapidly under the supervision of our present live and energetic superintendent that the possibility of his giving up the work to accept the presidency of the Normal and Industrial College at Greensboro, has been a matter of deep concern to those interested in the public school work. And there is a general feeling of reluctance on the part of all to give him up. However in the event of his resignation, it seems to me that the best field from which to select his successor, in order that the work should suffer least from the change, would be from among the county superintendents, who have been so closely associated with him in the present development of our school work. While there are many capable and efficient men in the State Association of County Superintendents, there is not one more deserving of recognition on account of long and faithful service and unselfish devotion to his work than W. H. Ragsdale of Pitt county.

The rural village of Toppsfield in North Essex has become prominent on account of a phenomenon in the births recorded there. During the last decade the great preponderance of girls born in the parish over the boys has been noticed, and at the present moment the scholars attending the village school comprise ninety-three girls, but only eleven boys. In consequence of this the county education authority is contemplating the substituting of a schoolmistress for the present schoolmaster.

But among those belonging to the place, the present state of affairs has aroused considerable concern, and the question is being asked where the farm laborers of the future are to come from if matters do not change. The medical officer for the district has been consulted, but he can ascribe no cause for the greater number of girls. --London Chronicle

Attention is called to the excellent showing of the Bank of Greenville in its statement made on the close of business on the 12th inst. Its strength is further shown in the surplus and undivided profits having grown so much larger than the capital stock.

he has several times declined professorships in colleges to which he had been elected, all these things render him eminently fitted for the office of State superintendent. Believing as I do, that Mr. Joyner's logical successor should come from the body of county superintendents, in case we lose him from the work, I am sure there is no one better qualified for the office, or one who would give more general satisfaction than Mr. Ragsdale.

ABOUT PERSONALS.

And a Word Personal With Our Readers.

The Reflector is always glad to print personal items, but in a town this size it is hard to get the names of all who come and go. Our main dependence for getting names has been in meeting the passenger trains, yet many are missed there, for with trains coming so irregularly as is the rule here, and with such poor lights around the depot at night that you can hardly recognize a person much less see how to write a name, the difficulty can be well imagined. Our readers could help us remove the difficulty if they would just take enough interest to do so. If you are going away tell us before you go; if you have been off on a trip tell us upon your return; if you have guests tell us when they come and when they depart. People like to read these items and the editor appreciates being told of them. With phones so convenient in every part of the town it would be easy to tell us. If you fail to do so, do not blame us if items in which you feel an interest escape us.

Mr. John Poythress will give another one of his moving picture entertainments next Thursday night in the auditorium of W. H. S. He has always given entire satisfaction and we may expect to be delightfully entertained. The rates are as heretofore.

How Father Tested Him.

One of our exchanges tells of an old German who had a boy of whom he was very proud, and decided to find out the trend of his mind. He adopted a novel method by which to test him. He slipped into the boy's room one morning and placed on his table a bottle of whiskey, a Bible and a silver dollar. "Now," said he, "when dot boy comes in if he takes dot dollar he's going to be a beezins man; if he takes dot Bible he's going to be a preacher; if he takes dot whiskey he's no good, and going to be a drunkard." Then he hid behind a door to see which his son would choose. In came the boy whistling. He ran up to the table, picked up the Bible and put it under his arm; then snatched up the bottle, took two or three drinks, picked up the dollar and put it in his pocket, and went out smacking his lips. The Dutchman poked his head out from behind the door and exclaimed: "Mein Got, he is going to be a politician."

Make a Cord a Cord.

The last legislature enacted a law requiring merchants when they sold a package of meal for a peck it should be a peck. Why not carry this law a little further and require all wood dealers when they sell wood for a cord, there must be a cord, and coal dealers to sell a ton when they claim to?

ADAM PASHA.

In a little house up a by street of the Mohammedan quarter, old, friendly, broken, lives the man who might have ruled Egypt. If you ask twenty people in Cairo today, "Where is Arabi Pasha?" fifteen will tell you that he is dead, while the other five do not know. In fact, after the bombardment of Alexandria he was sent to exile for life in Ceylon, but was allowed some four years ago to return to his native city. It was only after a week's hard forgetting that I discovered, through a native journalist, the whereabouts of the great man. Even now, in his seventieth year, he is a big man; in his prime he must have been immense—white hair and beard; a broad, thoughtful forehead, surrounded by the Turkish tarboosh; kindly eyes, dulled a little by age, but lighting up wonderfully when he talks about things which interest him; a straight, powerful nose; a large mouth, which must once have been hard and cruel, now softened by adversity. Though the day is warm, he wears an overcoat, and he walks heavily on a massive ebony stick.—Pall Mall Gazette.

A LITERARY JOKER.
The heartrending occurrence in question took place when Matthew Arnold was visiting the United States. He had just returned to New York from a lecture tour to Chicago, where he was made the honored guest of some of the richest pork and beef millionaires of the Lakeside City. On his return to New York, however, these were wired back to Chicago an article from the New York Tribune by Mr. Arnold, in which he spoke with the utmost scorn of Chicago's social and literary shortcomings. What most moved his scorn was the fact, as he said, that one evening at a Chicago dinner party he spoke of "Obermann," but his neighbor did not know who or what "Obermann" was. When he explained that it was the work of De Senneour, "To my amazement and disgust he added, 'not a single person in that assemblage, man or woman, had ever heard of Obermann' and had ever heard of De Senneour."

The grief and rage with which this philippic was received in Chicago could not be told in words. For several days the journals of that city were filled with letters denouncing Mr. Arnold and his "abuse of hospitality." Another curious manifestation of the Chicagoese resentment of foreign depreciation, together with their thirst for knowledge, was shown by the fact that the libraries of that great city were inundated by hordes of persons seeking for copies of "Obermann" and information about De Senneour. It goes without saying that they were mostly ladies.

About the fourth day the aggrieved Mr. Arnold picked the bubble with his pen. It seems that the article in the Tribune was a clever hoax. It had hoaxed all concerned, including the Tribune editor and the Tribune readers, for New York laughed heartily at Chicago's ignorance of "Obermann." It had also hoaxed Chicago, which was painfully sensitive over its own ignorance. The only American community which remained utterly unperturbed amid the ruins of America's pretensions to literary knowledge was Boston. Boston had heard of "Obermann." There was a copy of it in the Boston Public Library, the only one, it was said, in the United States.

The amusing part of this whole matter is that not one Frenchman in 5,000 ever heard of De Senneour, and not one Bostonian in 500,000 ever heard of "Obermann." The Tribune hoaxer had selected one of the most obscure of French novels and one of the most obscure of French writers. But he brought down birds with both barrels.—San Francisco Argonaut.

A Score Settled.
It was at a reception the other afternoon, and it was still so early and the comers so few that conversation was possible. They met, the two women who have been kissed and kissed each other these two years. "Yes," said one, "I've been so busy all week—sewing, you know, for my little girl." "You're so industrious, my dear," said the other, "and so ambitious to attempt so much. I'm sure I shouldn't dare, I sew so badly." "Oh! I'm sure you underestimate your skill," returned the one with a smile like a rapier thrust. "I'm sure that gown you have on looks very well indeed." And every eye within earshot knew that a score had been settled.

Such is Life.
"It doesn't seem altogether fair," observes the man with the introductive eyes. "What doesn't?" asks the man with the discouraged whiskers. "There's old man Meddlergrass on Sammel. He wouldn't stay on the farm and become a tiller of the soil like his father. Ran away from home and studied art, then came back and painted some views of the old farm. And he got $150 for a picture of a field that his father would be glad to sell for a five pound note."—London Answers.

Cleaning White Ribbons.
White Ribbons—stiff, unsealing, jaunty and the rest of the satiny kinds—which have become soiled may be washed in tepid water in which soap suds has been dissolved. Stretch them out upon a board to dry—an ironing board covered with clean muslin is splendid for the purpose—plunge the ends firmly, so as to stretch the ribbon beyond the need of pressing if possible.

SHE ALWAYS CONQUERED.

Susan B. Anthony's Experience With School Rebellions.

Susan B. Anthony, the eminent advocate of woman suffrage, was for fifteen years a teacher before beginning her more public career.

Her rule was mild, and she abhorred the rod. But she learned on taking the district school at Center Falls about seventy-five years ago that her predecessors, all men, had successfully, under active compulsion, left the schoolhouse in mid-session by way of the window, and that she herself--although in consideration of her peace principles and her sex she was to be permitted to open the door--was already overtaken by the young rebels.

As soon as their hulking ringleader entered upon a preliminary course of antics the new "school-ma'am," in sweet and even tones, came, and in a manner equally pleasant and untrifling she requested him to remove his jacket.

In sheer astonishment he complied, and before he quite knew what had happened he found himself skillfully applied the neatest and completest whipping of his life.

Colors That Cure Consumption.

The value of light as an agent in curing diseases is becoming increasingly recognized. The latest development of the idea is the assertion of a medical man that the clothes worn by consumptives should be of a color which will allow the light to penetrate the body.

Kubelik's First Fee.

Herr Kubelik, among the greatest of "musicians of the violin," owes his brilliant career almost entirely to his peasant father, who, although self-instructed, not only taught all his sons to play on every instrument, but by incessant toil gave them the best available musical training.

A Libel on Chicago.

I have been in some tough places in my time, but Chicago beats anything I have ever met. To go around in comfort you must carry a gun, and you must carry that gun in your right jacket pocket.

A Mandy Broom Holder.

A good broom holder may be made by putting two large screws into nails into the wall about two inches apart. Drop the broom between them, handle downward.

Dorothy Dodd

$3.50 4.00 $3.00 THE REASON WHY

It is only by reason of the maker's intimate, thorough knowledge of women's tastes and the requirements of her feet that "Dorothy Dodd" Shoes have achieved their marvelous success.

IMPROVED STOCK SALE.

An Innovation in Pitt County. The sale of stock at the Ingletarre Stock Farm Wednesday, Nov. 14th, was the first sale of the kind ever offered to the farmers of the county.

We understand that while the sale was very well attended, yet the bidding on some of the improved stock was rather slow and there was not altogether the life and spirit in the sale that was expected.

At this sale the stock that was offered consisted principally of hogs of the Poland China and Berkshire breed. No improved cattle were offered at all.

The principal difference between the value of a beef type animal and a native is in the rapid growth to maturity of the beef type and the larger proportion of dressed meat to the gross weight.

Think of it.

A dearth of local news often leads to murmurs on the part of those who prize local gossip above all else, and it is not all the fault of the publisher.

The National Bank.

The attention of our readers is called to the statement of the National Bank of Greenville made on the close of business Nov. 12th.
