WAGER OF BATTLE.

Been Fought In Italy.

The first duels were fought in Italy, some land crabs which | according to Millingen, who speaks of from the water as the a manuscript discovered at Cassel and a son in the reign of the Emperor Theodoric. When Charlemagne forbade wager of battle among the Lombards he encountered the fiercest opposition from the nobles. Early in the ninth century De Medicis, a knight, defeated in single combat the bandit Mugel, who devastated the Florentine district now called after him, Mugello, Otho II. granted the prayer of the nobility for the re-establishment of wager of battle in 988. Women and priests were not compelled to accept it. The Normans showed less gallentry. With them a woman had to accept, nor could she name a champion. Her male opwaist in the earth. Armed with a lub, he tried to strike her as she circled around him, his weapon being a ball of iron at the end of a tord. If he tempt he was vanquished, which meant to him death with dishonor. Beccarin says that the reason so many duels were fought in Italy in enemy to death ('ogni modo') is good
