THE PAY OF CONGRESSMEN.

During the two years which constitute a term in the House of Representatives a member draws $10,000 in salary, $2,400 for clerk hire $250 for stationery and whatever amount his mileage may come to. His period of attendance at Washington is about nine months out of the twenty-four. There are few representatives whose devotion to public life interrupts seriously their pursuit of private business—although it is true that when Thomas B. Reed finally quit Congress he said it was because he had to make a living.

Prestige comes with a single election to the House; much more reelection. Service in the national legislature affords an education useful in many occupations particularly valuable to a lawyer. For a senator the pecuniary attachments to his post extend themselves over six years instead of two. His seat in the chamber calls him twenty-seven or twenty-eight months out of seventy-two, but his attendance record may be weak without subjecting him to fine or removal. As a member of the upper house he acquires a prestige greatly multiplied over that of a representative. There is no clause of the senatorial courtesy code which binds him to spend his time between sessions exclusively in the contemplation of his toga.

Why be Honest?

A lady bought half a dozen handkerchiefs at a store in town. When she opened the package at home she found she had seven. The next day, when down town, she called at the store to pay for the extra handkerchief, for she concluded she wanted seven; and when she spoke to the clerk of the mistake and her purpose to pay for the extra handkerchief the clerk looked up amazed. She was startled, but caught her breath enough to say it was very unusual.

Of course it was unusual, because mistakes of this kind are not frequent. People would surely not keep as their own what came into their hands by mistake. For that would be the same as stealing. It is morally just as bad, and legally, too, as if they put their hands into a till and took out money. If that lady had kept that seventh handkerchief, and said nothing about it, she would have been just as guilty as if she had slipped an extra one under her cloak when she left the store.

She might not have been put in jail, for it, but she would be punished for it somehow, sometime. The penalty might not come in a stroke of misfortune or sorrow, but it would in loss of character, of noble purpose, of lofty ideals. We cannot escape retribution. Murder will out. A person cannot even appear honest, square and above board if his conduct is tainted with faults and meanness. One of the worst mistakes we are guilty of is the belief that we can cover up mistakes. One of the noblest faiths we can practice is to be honest for the sake of honesty. — Ohio State Journal

Doing Better.

The local passenger trains must have turned over a new leaf for the new year, as they came in pretty near on time on the first. They could not please the public better than to keep it up.

SECRETARY SHAW'S WARNING.

While careful to avoid the use of any language which might be quoted with grave effect, Secretary Shaw, in his annual report, permits it to be seen that he regards the present financial condition of the country as containing a large element of danger. All will be well he intimates, if the country is wise in time, but otherwise he will not be responsible for the consequences. Speculative fever cannot rage indefinitely without a disastrous reaction, and already money stringency is world wide. As Mr. Shaw stated the other day in reply to the stupid charge that stock gambling is responsible for tight money, people are gambling not only in stocks and bonds but in cotton, grain, pork, land—everything that has a market value—and this at a time when the world needs all its money and other facilities for the unprecedented volume of legitimate business. In short, he believes that the boom will burst if much further inflation occurs. To re-enforce his warnings he does not hesitate to point to the possibility of such things as closed factories and stopped pay rolls. It should be said that Mr. Shaw is far from being alone in his fears; the financial journals have been sounding the same note. All agree that if the country can only be made to listen to reason the danger will pass. This is the financial situation today, in the opinion of so eminent and so responsible an authority as Secretary Shaw, and The Observer commends his warnings to its readers as worthy of their thoughtful consideration. — Charlotte Observer.

The Old and New.

The custom of ringing out the old year and ringing in the new year was observed as usual in Greenville Monday night. A few minutes before midnight the bells in town began tolling solemnly a requiem to the dying year, and on the stroke of 12 the tolling changed to merry ringing in greeting to the new year. The electric lights also took part in the observance this time gradually growing dimmer until extinct just at 12, then suddenly flashing out in all their brilliancy. It was a solemn moment.

THE WONDERFUL PASSING OF THE OLD YEAR.

Editor Reflector:

What a solemn—sad, beautiful passing of the old year at 12 o'clock Dec. 31st. The silver moon had bedecked herself in a misty haze of sorrowful gladness. Directly over head at 12, midnight, she stood still, seemingly, and looked down on the most silent world, waving an adieu to the old, and throwing a luster like kiss to the new year. Indeed it was a beautiful, grand sight to the thinking mind to see the pale moon standing as it were in the very dividing line between the old and the new years. It was a sight that was soul inspiring. Such a scene has possibly never been looked upon before. Upon examination of the chronology the moon has not stood as it did that night in half century. What does it omen? It must be something good. Such an occurrence is not luck. There was a great power behind the silent utterances of the moon. X.

January is leading off well in weather.

STATE NEWS.

Interesting Happenings in North Carolina.

Andrew Joyner, a Wilson county farmer, was killed by a passing freight train Saturday night.

John Nelson, an 18-year-old negro, of Anson county, weighs 300 pounds, is 7 feet 4 inches tall, wears number 18 shoes, and is still growing.

A run away train on the Seaboard Air Line jumped off the track and ran into the street at Louisburg. A negro in passing was caught by the engine and killed.

A wreck occurred on the Seaboard Air Line near Wadesboro, Saturday night, in which Engineer S. E. Maxwell lost his life. The engineer stuck to his post until he saved the passengers, but was himself caught between the engine and tender and roasted to death.

When the house defeated last week the bill to raise congressman's pay to $7,500 a year the action was attributed to a frightening thought of what happened to the "Salary Grab" Congress of 1873. It is much more pleasant to assume that members were influenced by such items of fact as have just been stated here. Besides, the scandal of thirty-three years ago did not consist in the mere passage of a salary-increase bill but in the making of the measure retroactive so that congressmen could collect the additional allowance for two years back.—New York Sun.

Died.

Mr. S. H. Spain died early this morning at his home six miles from town. He was about 80 years old and had been in feeble health some time. He was an upright man and excellent citizen and was once a member of the board of county commissioners. Several children survive him, one of them being Mr. D. S. Spain, of Greenville.

Greenville Will Grow.

The prospect looks like much building activity in Greenville this year and desirable building lots will demand good prices. If you want proof of this, just ask any man who has property what he will sell you a lot at. Prices for lots are not going to be any cheaper, but the tendency will continue upward. Those who contemplate building but defer buying a lot may expect to pay more the longer they wait. There are no more desirable lots on the market than on the Sam White property, and the prices there are yet reasonable. That property is going to be one of the prettiest parts of the town.

Fire Near Shelmerdine.

We hear that the store and entire stock of goods of R. G. Chapman & Son, near Shelmerdine was destroyed by fire a few nights ago. The loss is reported at $5,000 with insurance about $3,000. It is not known what caused the fire.

Parker-Flanagan.

On Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Neta Whichard, on Pitt street, Mr. Watt Parker, of Greenville and Miss Marietta Flanagan, of Farmville, were married by H. Harding, Esq. A sumptuous wedding supper was served after the ceremony.

WHISKEY STILL SEIZED.

Pitt Getting Bad Reputation.

U. S. Deputy Collector R. J. Lewis with Sheriff L. W. Tucker and his deputies, seized a sixty gallon moonshine still Tuesday about 8 miles from town. It had not been in operation for several days, owing to the cold weather. No one was at or about the still. No doubt this is one of the smallest of the many in the county. It is said the woods are full of them.

We are sorry that Pitt county is getting into disrepute on this line. A gentleman remarked the other day, that Wilkes in the West and Pitt in the East, were the worst counties in the State.

Is Not a Marriage License Sometimes in the Nature of a Chattel Mortgage?

Last Sunday a gentleman who had made arrangements to get married and who wanted the ceremony performed that evening located Deputy Register of Deeds Armfield, who went to the court house and issued the papers. When filled out the license was put in an envelope and laid on a table. After paying for the license the gentleman picked up the envelope and went his way, but by mistake he carried away a chattel mortgage instead of the marriage license, and the mistake was not discovered until Rev. C. A. Jenkins, who was to perform the ceremony, glanced at the paper to see if it was all right, and found a chattel mortgage instead of a marriage permit. Realizing that a mistake had been made, the applicant again looked up Mr. Armfield and procured the proper instrument and the ceremony was performed.—Statesville Landmark.

GARDEN-ROGERS

On the afternoon of December 19th, at five o'clock, in Darlington, S. C. there took place in Trinity Methodist church one of the prettiest and most elaborate weddings that has occurred in Darlington for quite awhile, when Miss Neva Rogers became the bride of Mr. John Daudridge Garden, of Greenville.

The church was beautifully decorated in white and green, while just in front of the chancel was erected a large white canopy, elaborately trimmed in bride's roses and smilax from the center of which was suspended a large white bell, while the center aisle was cut off by a double gate decorated in yellow roses. On the right of this canopy there stood a white pillar on which was placed a large G of blue, while, while on the left pillar was placed a larger R of pink.

The ushers were Messrs. T. M. Hooker and J. J. Laughinhouse Jr., of Greenville, N. C., W. D. Merritt, of Roxboro, N. C., C. E. Dunn and L. M. Lawson, of Darlington, S. C., while Mr. Frank Wilson, of Greenville, N. C., was the groom's best man.

The handsome pipe organ was gracefully presided over by Miss Marie Bristow, and while the wedding march was being rendered, first of the bridal party to enter was Miss Bessie Blackwell, wearing cream mull over taffeta silk, carrying white carnations and opening the gates for the bridal party. Misses Anna Allen, Greensboro, N. C., Oniel Saunders, Port Royal, S. C., Inez McCullough and Nettie Rogers, of Darlington, attending in pink and blue mull over taffeta silk carrying wands made of roses, the shade of each dress forming an arch through which the bride and groom passed.

The dame of honor Mrs. R. E. Hall, of Miami, Fla., a sister of the bride then entered carrying white carnations, attired in green silk acolian over peau de chine trimmed in real lace, with a touch of dark green velvet in its princess effect. She wore a large black hat trimmed with ostrich plumes and green roses. The bride beautifully gowned in white crepe de-chine over taffeta trimmed with real lace in princess effect, carrying bride's roses, lilies of the valley and ferns made in shower effect, entered with the maid of honor, Miss Bessie Rogers, who wore white silk crepe elaborately trimmed with val lace and white panne velvet, carrying pink carnations.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Preston Wells, the pastor of the church, assisted by Dr. St. Clair Hester, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is a cousin of the groom.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. N. W. Garden, Greenville, N. C.; J. C. Hester, Washington, D. C.; A. L. Miller, Bennettsville, S. C.

The popularity of both parties was manifested in the many handsome and beautiful presents which were received by them.

Mr. and Mrs. Garden left on the 6:29 train for their future home Greenville, N. C.

Furs are High.

Furs of all kind are selling high and the trappers are reaping a harvest when they can make a batch. Today Mr. S. M. Schultz showed us two large mink pelts that he paid $1.50 each for. They were extra large which added to their value. All other skins are selling well.

FLUE CURING IMPROVES TOBACCO LIKE ROASTING IMPROVES GREEN COFFEE

Flue Curing Develops the Stimulating Aroma and Taste Found in Schnapps that Satisfies Tobacco Hunger

There are three ways used by farmers for curing and preparing their tobacco for the market; namely, sun cured, air cured and flue cured. The old and cheap way is called air cured; the later discovery and improved way is called flue cured.

Hundreds of imitation brands are on sale that look like Schnapps; the outside of the imitation plugs of tobacco is flue cured, but the inside is filled with cheap, flimsy, heavily sweetened air cured tobacco; one chew of Schnapps will satisfy tobacco hunger longer than two chews of such tobacco.

Expert tests prove that this flue cured tobacco, grown in the famous Piedmont region, requires and takes less sweetening than any other kind, and has a wholesome, stimulating, satisfying effect on chewers.

Schnapps is the best tobacco chewers formerly bought, costing from 75c. to $1.00 per pound; Schnapps is sold at 50c. per pound in 5c. cuts, strictly 10 and 15 cent plugs.

Not Her Personal Sentiments. Apologies have just been made to Marie Cordell by the London Daily Mail, which quoted as a personal expression the following passage from her novel "Temporal Power": "I have never loved any man, because from my very childhood I have hated and feared all men. I loathe their presence, their looks, their voices, their touch, their breath, they touch my hand in ordinary courtesy, my heart is so offended and revolted, and the sense of outrage remains with me for days." Those, it seems, are not her personal sentiments.

Flourishing Texas. The state of Texas has a bonded debt of nearly $1,000,000, but less than 100,000 of the bonds are held outside the state. Nearly all the bonds that have been issued by the state are now deposited in the vaults of the various special funds, mainly the school fund, and in a few instances with good financial administration Texas will not owe a dollar to any one but herself.

The Editor's Gift from the Force. The Reflector always feels an attachment for its employees and appreciates the feeling of good will and friendship that exists between them. These chords were drawn closer this Christmas by the kindness of the force to the editor. They caught him up stairs after the paper had gone to press Christmas eve and with Clyde Morton as spokesman presented him with an elegant silk umbrella with handsome pearl and silver handle. We could not say much, but it makes our heart beat warm toward the faithful boys and girls up stairs.

Secret of Success in Journalism. The first fundamental quality for success in journalism is a keen interest in everything; the power of throwing yourself into any subject, finding a way in handling it. The second quality is a capacity for forming a very clear idea as to what it is that you want to say and a passion for expressing your ideas so clearly that the greatest idiot in the world cannot misunderstand them. Thirdly, I should be inclined to put a capacity for the same thing as the first, the power of a sharp and the ability to sleep in a chair. I do not say anything about what ought to be taken for granted—namely, good health, industry, consistent business, and so on. All that I should say a journalist must be keen—W. T. Stead in Great Britain.

Count He Goshawk. A case of the recovery of a stolen and hearing is reported in the London Daily Mail. A man named Goshawk, who had been in the United States for some years, had been arrested as a thief and had been sentenced to a term of imprisonment. He was released on bail and returned to his home in England. He was found to have a large sum of money hidden in a secret place. He was arrested and the money was recovered. He was sentenced to a term of imprisonment.

CHANGE OF CUSTOM.

Sunday Schools Make Gifts for Orphans. The entertainment in the opera house, Christmas night, by the several Sunday schools of the town was of an interesting and profitable nature.

Greenville Moving to Have it Located Here. Some days ago The Reflector told of an enthusiastic meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of Greenville to discuss plans for securing an institution for the town that will mean more for development and progress than anything that has ever been located here.

After other songs the children filed across the stage, each one depositing a package to be sent to the orphans and most of the packages were of various kinds of toys and articles of clothing.

As many of the committees could be easily brought together for a short notice met in the mayor's office Wednesday night and were organized for work by electing W. H. Ragsdale chairman and A. L. How secretary. What is to be known as a central steering committee to have charge of the detail work was chosen from the larger committee.

Another committee, consisting of H. W. Whobee, F. C. Hardin and F. G. James, was appointed to draft a paper bill and have it ready to submit to the legislature on the assembling of that body.

The next Legislature will locate a normal and industrial school at some point in the eastern part of the State and Greenville has captured the race with a determination to win the prize. On the points of location, accessibility and healthfulness Greenville has advanced a claim of any other town that is entering the race, and as to site and cash donation (this town is going to leave nothing undone to enhance her possibilities of securing the school).

It is important that every other citizen do his part in aiding the movement. It is work, work all together, and work right now that is needed. Every shoulder to the wheel and success is assured. Greenville cannot afford to miss getting this school.

Residence Has Narrow Escape. Mr. E. G. Flanagan came near losing his home Christmas morning. Between 4 and 5 o'clock Mrs. Flanagan was awakened by the smell of smoke which was almost stifling her. She awoke Mr. Flanagan, who upon opening the door between their bed room and sitting room, found the latter filled with dense smoke. He called Messrs Tom and Will Hooker, who occupy a room up stairs, and they went in with him to look for the fire and found a considerable hole burned through the floor and one still nearly burned in two. By prompt work the fire was put out without an alarm being given. The floor caught on fire by coals falling out of the grate that was kept burning through the night in the sitting room.

Mississippi has been considerably wrought up the last few days over race troubles in the town of Scooba in that state. Riots occurred in which several people were killed and the governor had to send troops to restore order.

NORMAL AND INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

Greenville Moving to Have it Located Here. Some days ago The Reflector told of an enthusiastic meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of Greenville to discuss plans for securing an institution for the town that will mean more for development and progress than anything that has ever been located here.

After other songs the children filed across the stage, each one depositing a package to be sent to the orphans and most of the packages were of various kinds of toys and articles of clothing.

As many of the committees could be easily brought together for a short notice met in the mayor's office Wednesday night and were organized for work by electing W. H. Ragsdale chairman and A. L. How secretary. What is to be known as a central steering committee to have charge of the detail work was chosen from the larger committee.

Another committee, consisting of H. W. Whobee, F. C. Hardin and F. G. James, was appointed to draft a paper bill and have it ready to submit to the legislature on the assembling of that body.

The next Legislature will locate a normal and industrial school at some point in the eastern part of the State and Greenville has captured the race with a determination to win the prize. Count He Goshawk. A case of the recovery of a stolen and hearing is reported in the London Daily Mail. A man named Goshawk, who had been in the United States for some years, had been arrested as a thief and had been sentenced to a term of imprisonment. He was released on bail and returned to his home in England. He was found to have a large sum of money hidden in a secret place. He was arrested and the money was recovered. He was sentenced to a term of imprisonment.

HORSESHOES.

Doubt as to What Nation and Age First Used Them. Horseshoes were not known to the ancients, and their use was first used them. An authority on the subject says: "The first kind of shoe known was not a shoe at all. It was a species of sock, often made with woven or plaited hemp. Cattle in ancient times wore these shoes, and so were mules and horses when their hoofs were hurt. In time of heavy snow these shoes were necessary to prevent the horses from sinking up to their girths in the snow, according to an old writer. Similar socks are used by the Russians in Kamchatka for their sled dogs, and this kind is provided with little holes for the claws. Horse soles were also made of woven brown, reeds and bast strung on such as are still used in Japan, where they are made by the children, who wait about the roads offering them for sale at a low figure. The next step made by the old Romans and Greeks seems to have been the use of metal shoes, but the great drawback to all these hoof protectors was the galling of the straps, and they were really only of substantial use in the case of baggage animals or when the road was rough or stony. Delays were often occasioned by the shoes sticking in the mud and leaving the horse to go on in pain.

"So the 'old world doctors' had to devise means of hardening horse hoofs, and this was done by the use of iron nails and iron shoes, but the great drawback to all these hoof protectors was the galling of the straps, and they were really only of substantial use in the case of baggage animals or when the road was rough or stony. Delays were often occasioned by the shoes sticking in the mud and leaving the horse to go on in pain.

Truth in Preference to Fiction

GREENVILLE NORTH CAROLINA FRIDAY JAN. 4. 1907

Third Assistant Postmaster General Madden must have it in for the newspapers and want to put a lot of them out of business.

Do not let the water wagon run in the mud. Let's make this year 1907 a record breaker in Greenville's progress.

Watch Greenville hump herself to get a normal and industrial school located here.

Let nothing get in the way of securing that normal and industrial school in Greenville.

If Greenville is to be represented in the exhibits at the coming Jamestown exposition there should be an early move in that direction.

With sixty-one saloons in the city, Wilmingtonians need not stand in fear of snake bite, though many of them may see snakes.

The Indians on the western frontier are getting on their war path again, and giving some trouble. When they get bad they are bad sure enough.

The newspapers that have been coming since Christmas report the usual number of holiday casualties. In this fortunate section there were none of consequence.

The people have in the past contended with bad train schedules, but the railroads never gave poorer service than in the present holidays.

The postoffice is one place you have to pay as you go, or, to be more exact, pay before you go. Therein Uncle Sam sets a good example to his children.

Another great railroad system has lost its official head. President Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania road, died suddenly in Philadelphia Friday.

Some folks think it is smart to speak sneeringly at a collector just because they know collection cannot be forced in their case.

Spencer Blackburn made a long step beyond the bounds of decency in the charges against Governor Glenn in connection with the contest matter.

Blackburn must have fallen down in his hopes of getting a big Federal appointment, as he has given notice that he will contest Hackett's election.

Secretary Taft says he is not seeking the presidential nomination and does not expect to be the Republican candidate. All the same he would not object to having it.

Are your resolutions holding water?

The big event for 1907 is the Jamestown exposition.

It is hard to get accustomed to the 1907 date, and slips a year back are yet frequent.

The number of fatalities from the wreck on the Baltimore and Ohio road near Washington City, Sunday evening, has increased to fifty two.

A Seattle woman tried to free herself from a husband who mistreated her, by attempting suicide, but failing in that she tried a divorce court and won out.

Governor Glenn has given the falsehood to Blackburn's charges. That was to be expected, as no one knows better that they are false than Blackburn himself.

Marion Butler says he expects to be in the United States senate again in less than ten years. He will have to change his residence from North Carolina if he does.

A Roosevelt Third Term League has been organized in Chicago. Trying to force it on him any way, it seems. Better let him stick to his proposition not to be a candidate any more.

Greenville Getting Interested in the Matter. Mr. J. Lyman, Babcock, of Norfolk, who has charge of the exhibits to be made by the Norfolk & Southern railway at the Jamestown exposition of the resources of the section traversed by this railroad, was in Greenville today and met with the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce with a view of getting exhibits from this section. After talking over the matter the committee invited Mr. Babcock to return to Greenville on the 9th and address the Chamber of Commerce at the banquet to be held that date. The invitation was accepted and every member of the organization should be present. This section should be well represented at the exposition, and the plans presented by Mr. Babcock offer an opportunity that should be embraced.

Another great railroad system has lost its official head. President Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania road, died suddenly in Philadelphia Friday.

Some folks think it is smart to speak sneeringly at a collector just because they know collection cannot be forced in their case.

Spencer Blackburn made a long step beyond the bounds of decency in the charges against Governor Glenn in connection with the contest matter.

Blackburn must have fallen down in his hopes of getting a big Federal appointment, as he has given notice that he will contest Hackett's election.

Secretary Taft says he is not seeking the presidential nomination and does not expect to be the Republican candidate. All the same he would not object to having it.

Spencer Blackburn has served notice on Congressman-elect Hackett, of the eighth district, that he will contest the election. Blackburn charges more fraud than he is going to be able to prove.

Owing to an arrangement with Mr. C. E. Spear, his successor in the watch and jewelry business, Mr. J. W. Taylor, our optician, will be in Ayden Hill about February 1st, and will do eye or optical work at the same old stand for those desiring his services till then.

Heart Strength

Heart strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Failure of the heart is not a disease, it is a symptom of a disease. It is almost always a result of some other disease. It is not a disease in itself, actually. It is almost always a result of some other disease. It is not a disease in itself, actually. SHOT AT LEEING PRISONER.

Negro Breaks for Liberty but is Recaptured.

Two pistol shots drew a crowd to the vicinity of the court house Saturday afternoon. A negro had been arrested on the charge of stealing a turkey and while officers had him at the court house awaiting investigation he gave them the slip. It was while the darkey making for the alley behind the Reflector building that Deputy sheriff Dudley fired the two shots after him that attracted the crowd. The negro disappeared in the alley and in the hope of losing his pursuers though the Greenville Banking & Trust Co's building to Evans street. Seeing people running out there the negro put out down Evans street crying "catch him, catch him" as he went, thinking by this to take attention from himself as being the party wanted. This did not work, for Mr. S. T. Hooker tripped him up, jumped on him and held him until the officers caught up. The negro was taken back and locked up. He was not struck by either of the shots from the pistol.

Bomb Thrower Wrecks Bank.

Philadelphia, Jan. 5.—Dermanding a loan of $5,000 and failing to get it, a man who has not yet been identified dropped a bomb in the Fourth Street National bank today, blowing himself to pieces, instantly killing Cashier W. Z. McLean, and injuring six others, one or two of whom may die. The only clue to the identity of the bomb-thrower was a bunch of keys found in a portion of the clothing attached to which was a plate inscribed "R. Steele, Garner, Iowa."

Two Probable Candidates.

Washington, D. C. Jan. 5.—Fairbanks will be the presidential nominee of the two parties in 1908 in the opinion of Representative Poy. "Of Bryan's nomination by the Democracy there seems to be no doubt," observed Mr. Poy, "and it looks now as though all the great influences in the Republican party which stood by Hanna are striving for the nomination of the vice president. Mr. Fairbanks is the real choice of the conservative element. Of the G. O. P. the conservatives compose the majority of the party and that is the reason Fairbanks will be the nominee for the presidency. I predict that with Fairbanks and Bryan as the candidates, the Nebraska man will be elected president by a bigger majority than was Roosevelt." —T. J. Pence in News and Observer.

Pitt's Part.

Pitt county's part of the first one hundred thousand dollars apportioned by the State to lengthen school terms in the various counties where the school fund does not run the schools the required time, is $1,616.14. The number of children of school age in this county is 11,462.

Handy Book.

The Bank of Greenville is distributing an almanac that is a very handy and useful book. Besides the calendar of the different months it contains a complete directory of all officers, State, county and municipal, in the States of Virginia and North Carolina, gives the dates for holding county and state elections, etc.

The Prosperous South.

The South is prosperous as it never was before. It has more material advantages than it ever had before. Except for the matter of lynching it is probably as well governed as it ever was before. Before the war its political affairs were dominated by a little handful of wealthy slave-owners, whose devotion to public duty was often more pretended than real. Now the South is ruled by all its white men, and even such evils as come from corrupt corporations are less menacing to good government than these which grew out of the supremacy of a class corporation of fewer than 8,000 rich slave-owners.—New York Times.

Confessed His Guilt.

Huntington, W. Va. Jan. 7.—Percy Martin, of Atlanta, Ga., was arrested by Chief of Police Dawson of this city, charged with being one of the bandits who held up a Seaboard Air Line train, 80 miles south of Richmond New Year's eve. In an hour after his arrest he confessed his guilt and delivered to the officer a five hundred dollar diamond ring which had been taken from one of the passengers, and he tells where most of the money can be found. Martin says that he and his partner, arrested in Richmond, and now in jail in Mecklenburg county, Va., planned the robbery in Washington, D. C. After committing the crime they walked all the way to Norfolk, Va.

No Fire.

A foul fire at the home of Mr. H. A. White, on Greene street, caused an alarm of fire to be given Monday afternoon. The fire department responded to the alarm but found no fire. The fire had become choked and filled the room with dense smoke, causing the occupants of the house, to flee.

ASK PENSIONS FOR WORTHY NEGROES.

Request of Confederate Veterans of Raleigh.

Confederate Veterans of Raleigh Southern to the core, by resolutions adopted yesterday, make a new record in appreciation of service and ask the General Assembly of North Carolina to give pensions to the negroes who as servants followed the fortunes of the Southern Confederacy, and were true and faithful. Resolutions requesting that fifth class of pensions be established to be those of negro servants faithful to the Confederacy were last night adopted by L. O'B Branch Camp of Confederate Veterans, and are as follows: Whereas, L. O'B Branch Camp U. C. V. believe that some recognition should be given the worthy negroes who followed the fortunes of the Southern Confederacy as faithful servants. Resolved 1. That all negroes, resident of this State, who as servants in the Confederate army, rendered true and faithful service to their owners, shall be entitled to a pension in proof of such service. Resolved 2. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the General Assembly with request that provision be made for said pension by adding a fifth class to the pension act. Commander Stronach was appointed a committee to present the resolutions to the General Assembly.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Capturing Skills.

Sheriff Tucker, Policeman Clark and Revenue Officer Miller captured an illicit distillery in the Reidy Branch section on Sunday. We hear that the distilleries were broken up in the county in the past week. We hope the good work will go on, until there is not one left in the county.
