An Opossum Steals Nine Eggs.

The festive opossum is a queer marsupial with a prehensile tail, but last week he was in a new role and was caught stealing pigs from K. Kendall's sow in Shelby. The sow had a dozen piglets, but the number was by one diminished every night mysteriously. One morning Mr. Kendall, who lives in the main part of Shelby, found one pig partly devoured, but he could not at first solve the mystery. One morning one pig was in the stable apart from its mother, then he searched diligently and found under a log in the stable the thief, a big opossum, which had devoured nine pigs. The opossum was killed and he had "opossum and taters."

He was a member of Withlacoochee Tribe of Red Men, of Greenville, and was buried Sunday afternoon with the honors of that order. He was also a member of the Masonic fraternity and was held in high esteem not only by the fraternities to which he belonged but by all our people.

A young lady having asked a surgeon why a woman was made from the rib of a man in preference to any other bone, he gave the following gallant answer: She was not taken from the head lest she would rule over him; nor from his feet lest he would trample upon her; but she was taken from his side, that she might be his equal; from under his arm that he might protect her; from near his heart that he might cherish and love her.—Exchange.

Nearly everybody who is subject to attacks from the stomach suffers from a morbid acid of a dietetic treatment for relief, that is three-fourths starvation, and one-fourth milk and toast. On the other hand you can eat as you please and digest the food by the aid of a good digestant, thus giving the stomach equally as much rest. Eat what you please and take a little Kodol for indigestion after your meals. It digests what you eat, and corrects the deficiencies of the digestion. Kodol conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold here by Jno. L. Wooten.

Food don't digest because the stomach lacks some one of the essential digestants or the digestive juices are not properly induced. Then, too, it is indigestion that causes constipation and painful indigestion. Kodol for indigestion should be used for relief. Kodol is a solution of vegetable acids. It digests what you eat, and corrects the deficiencies of the digestion. Kodol conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold here by Jno. L. Wooten.

Weak Kidneys

Weak kidneys, early point to weak kidney nerves. The kidneys, like the heart, are the seat of life. They filter out the waste matter from the blood, and if they are weak, the waste matter accumulates in the system, and the result is a general debility. A medicine specially prepared to reach these points, and to strengthen the kidney nerves, is the best remedy for this trouble. It is a waste of time, and of money, if you do not take it.

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR

HC HARD, Editor and Owner. Truth in Preference to Fiction. ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR. NO. 5. GREENVILLE PITT COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY, 1907.

THE LEGISLATURE

What the Law Makers Are Doing.

In the Senate Thursday there was animated discussion on the bill of Senator Buxton which is to prevent usury and extortion. It prohibits parties lending money on household and kitchen furniture from charging over six per cent on such loans, the charging of more to be a misdemeanor, and the party to forfeit double the interest.

Senator Odell introduced a bill to limit the poll tax in North Carolina to not exceeding two dollars in cities and towns, and not in excess of two dollars for State and county. This not to affect special school districts or for municipal bonds now in force.

To prohibit corporations from holding more than 100 acres of land in North Carolina. Drewry: To regulate the running of automobiles, locomotives and like conveyances without animals as motive power over roads of the State.

Officials of the railroads appeared before the senate committee in regard to bills proposing to reduce rates.

In the house Representative Laughinghouse introduced a bill to create a shell fish commission. Murphy, by request: To give railway conductors authority of arrest.

Neal: To furnish protection from fire at the Soldiers' Home. Dillings: To require attendance on public schools for 16 weeks each year of children between the ages of 8 and 14 years.

Raleigh: N. C. Jan. 25.—The lower house of the general assembly today tabled the Douglas bill designed to prohibit the sale of dope drinks at soda fountains after a lively discussion during which Douglas, introducing the bill, referred to dunder of children's bar-rooms and engaged in sharp tilts with a number of members.

The Senate devoted most of its session to the discussion of the bill to pay solicitors $2100 each instead of fees, with the final result that so much opposition developed that the vote was deferred and the bill made a recess order for Thursday of next week. There seems to be considerable question as to the ultimate fate of the bill.

From three to six o'clock this evening the senator committee on railroads and house committee on public service corporations heard arguments on the pending bills for railroads rate reduction and railroad regulation, whole time being taken up with a masterful speech by A. P. Thom, general counsel for the Southern Railroad Company, Washington, D. C.

In the senate a bill was introduced to increase the salary of the governor. There were a large number of local bills in both the senate and house.

At Saturday's session Senator Turner introduced a bill to fine judges $50 for failure to be present to begin court on Monday morning, unless they can show by certificate of physician that they were detained by sickness. After some discussion the bill was tabled.

Senator Drewry offered a bill proposing the issuing of $500,000 four percent thirty year bonds to enlarge the State capitol and to build a library.

Most of the other new bills introduced were only of a local nature.

RICHARDSON TRIO.

Will Appear Here March 25th.

Beginning March 4th the Richardson Trio, of Charlotte, composed of three of the best known musicians in the South, will begin an eight weeks' tour of North Carolina, to include all the cities and towns of importance east of Charlotte. The tour will be directed by Mr. O. V. Kessler, who has engaged the musicians at considerable expense. The trio will appear at Greenville March 25th. In announcing the tour of the Richardson Trio, The Charlotte Observer had the following:—

"Never before now has North Carolina had a musical organization of sufficient reputation and artistic ability to attempt a tour of the State, but Manager Kessler is confident that the tour planned will be a financial as well as an artistic success. Each of the musicians in the trio are well known and they have no superiors in the State. Mr. Richardson, leader of the trio, is one of the best known musicians and violin soloists in the South. He has been in Charlotte several years, during which time he has built up an enviable reputation for himself and the musical organization that bears his name, the Richardson Orchestra Concert Band and the Richardson Trio. Besides being a musician he is a music composer of no mean ability. Mr. Karl Von Lwrens, the piano soloist, is probably without a peer as a piano player in the State. His technique and tone are superb. Herr Peters, the third member of the trio, is a cello player who made an enviable reputation at Washington and other large cities before coming to Charlotte and with whose work no Charlotte critic has found fault."

New bills of general importance in the house were: To require banks holding deposits of state money to pay interest on same; to give relief against unreasonable restrictions in fire insurance policies to prescribe prison bonds for convict camps; to provide a firemen's relief fund.

In the senate Tuesday Senator Bruse introduced a bill to build an entirely new State capitol at a cost of $750,000.

No new bills of special importance were introduced, but quite a number of bills passed third reading.

The house did a heavy day's work on the calendar, disposing of a large number of old bills. The most important new bill introduced was by Representative Laughinghouse to enlarge the powers of the corporation commission.

Getting the Jury.
New York, Jan. 25.—Fifty-one talesmen were examined in rapid fire order today in the effort to complete the jury which is to try Harry K. Thaw for the killing of Stanford White, and at the end of the day's session two names had been added to the jury roll, making seven in all. One hundred and one talesmen have thus far been examined.

That there is an increasing difficulty in finding men who are willing or competent to serve was evidenced by the fact that on the first day of the trial three jurors were sworn from among nineteen talesmen, one of them being excused subsequently by the court. On the second day three jurors were secured from among thirty-one talesmen, while today it required the winning of more than one-fourth of the entire special panel of two hundred men to secure two members of the necessary twelve.

A perfect town is that in which you see the farmer patronizing the home merchants, the laborers spending the money they earn with their own tradesmen, and all animated by a spirit that will not purchase articles abroad if they can be bought at home. The spirit of reciprocity between man and the mechanic, tradesman and laborer, farmer and manufacturer, results every time in making the town a perfect one to do business in. "Perfection" should always be desired, even where attainment is barely possible, we presume, but a perfect town must be denominated a great rarity until we reach a more advanced stage toward the millennium.

Miss Carrie Bullock returned Sunday after a visit of some weeks to friends in Goldsboro. Mrs. Willie Carson visited friends in Tarboro last week.

W. L. Frowning, of Ayden, spent Sunday in Bethel on his way to his former home near Jamesville for a short visit to his folks.

C. S. Harris, of Raleigh assistant State Chemist, was here Saturday on business.

Born on the 16th, to Mr. and Mrs. X. L. Mayo, a son, E. L. Mayo, Jr.

Hon. S. M. Jones paid a brief visit home last week. He is a member of several important committees, and though a new member of the house is already well posted on the ins and outs of legislation and is alive to Pitt's interests.

The people in this section are preparing for the potato crop. The Bethel Manufacturing Company is shipping out lots of barrels and is installing machinery to greatly increase their capacity.

The Etchenian Literary Society of Bethel graded school has offered a gold medal to the best debater. A medal for the best recitation has been offered by the superintendent of the school.

We notice from recent statement of the Bethel Banking & Trust Co., that their earned surplus equals one half of the capital stock. This is a good showing for so young an institution, having been in business less than two and one half years, and the citizens of the community are justly proud of its fine record.

The Boot of our Boyhood.
A travelling salesman for a boot and shoe house carries with him as a mascot a boy's boot with red leather top and a copper toe.

"I found it in Fort Dodge, Kan," he said. "It was among the stock of a shoe dealer there and I asked him for it. It is a great curiosity now, but in my early days on the road I sold thousands of them."

The red topped, copper toed boy's boot has dropped out of existence. No store in Kansas City sells them. The salesman said they were not manufactured.—Kansas Star.

MRS. JACKSON DECLINES.

Expression of a Noble Woman.

A bill was introduced in the legislature to give a pension to Mrs. Stonewall Jackson of $100 per month. This was prompted by the love the people of North Carolina have for this distinguished woman and their reverence for the memory of her hero husband. After the bill had been introduced Mr. John W. Graham, a member of the legislature and a kinsman of Mrs. Jackson, wrote advising her what had been done and in reply received the following letter:

Major John W. Graham,
My Dear Cousin:
You are of the 24th apprising me of the introduction of a bill in the legislature, to allow me a pension of $100 per month was certainly a great surprise. I most earnestly appreciate this loyal tribute to the name of my hero-husband, and tender my heart-felt thanks for the professed honor and benefit, but I do not feel that I would be justified in accepting it. I am informed that the laws in North Carolina limits all pensions to those who have not $500 of personal property, and as I do not come under this law I respectfully request that the bill be withdrawn. I would also suggest that the pension which has been so magnanimously proposed in my behalf be appropriated to the relief of the destitute widows of Confederate veterans. It would also please me far more to see our honorable assembly take measures for a reformatory for the good of the State.

Trusting that I have not been ungracious or unappreciative, I am, with love, your affectionate cousin,
M. A. JACKSON.

Horze That Goes to Church.
H. B. Smith, of this town, has a remarkable bay horse, Muggins, which appears to have more religious instinct than the majority of animals.

The horse has been used by Mr. Smith for the last 25 years to draw the family to the village church. In the last 20 years there have been only two Sundays on which Muggins didn't have to carry some member of the family to church. The second occasion was a few Sundays ago.

A year ago the horse was turned into the yard for a little Sunday recreation and nothing more was thought of Muggins until the far distant toll of the church bell was heard. Then the horse pricked up his ears, and realizing that he was late started off at a quick pace for the church. He went directly under the shed and took his accustomed place where he remained until it was time to go home.

A couple of weeks ago the horse made his second appearance at the church alone. Mr. Smith had placed Muggins in a stall and had left the stable door slightly ajar. The old bell tolled exceptionally loud and long and Muggins could not resist the call. In some manner he slipped his halter and made his way from the stable to the church, where he remained until the service was over. The parson patted the horse affectionately as he trotted up to the door, and then he started on his homeward journey.

A Thought for the Day.
The aphorism, "As a man thinketh in his heart so he is," not only embraces the whole of a man's being, but is so comprehensive as to reach out to every condition and circumstance of his life. A man is literally what he thinks, his character being the complete sum of all his thoughts.—James Allen.

Light Snow.

Raining Their Business.
A western paper reports the following: "The other day a local merchant happened to see a farmer receiving some goods at a freight office at the depot, and noticed that they came from a certain mail order house. He noticed that the goods were right in his line and same he carried in his store for years. He immediately approached the farmer and said: 'I could have sold you every article you have there for less money than you paid the Chicago house and saved you money besides.' 'Then why didn't you say so?' answered the farmer. 'I have taken two county papers for a year and have never seen a line about you selling these goods. The Mail Order House sent advertising matter asking for my trade—they got it. If you have any bargains why didn't you put them in the paper so we can see what they are.' That ended the argument and the merchant went to correct other non-advertising merchant and explained to them that the mail order house was ruining their business.

MAKING 'EM KEEP CONTRACT. Representative Morton has introduced a remarkable bill in the house of representatives to apply only to his own county.

CONVICTS ON SEWERAGE. The county commissioners have hired the county chain gang to the construction company that is putting in the sewerage system in Greenville.

A BIG TOBACCO CROP. So thinks Mr. L. C. Johnson. Mr. L. C. Johnson, of Grifton, today said to a Free Press representative that he thought the farmers of this and adjoining sections are preparing for a big tobacco crop this year.

Engagement Closed. The Williams Candy Company that has been playing in Masonic Temple opens house here all the week.

The Republican Party of the State. There may be some who will take advantage of the example set by the Democratic party has but practically speaking it is true.

In Asheville the police justice jurisdiction in the police court is being conceded weapons and other misdemeanors.

A few days ago a young man arrested in Greenville for forgery refused to give his real name, saying he did not want to clear his parents.

A Wife and a Cow. The illustrations of General R. E. Lee, in his advice to his children to be missed in society, he used to be missed in society.

NFWSPAPERS AND RAILROADS

Editors are not entitled to any more gratuities at the hands of railroads than other people, and we think a large majority of the editors of North Carolina neither ask nor desire such gratuities.

The biennial auditorium agitation in Raleigh has been revived. This winter is giving the ice man and the coal man both an airing.

It might be well to remind you again to watch Greenville grow. The South has faced bigger cannon than the one who is speaker of congress.

That the president should favor a ship subsidy is hardly more than was expected of him. The capers of Spencer Blackburn show the kind of man people can sometime send to congress.

Andrew Carnegie says he hopes to live to see Bryan elected president. He is not alone in the wish. The papers of Spencer Blackburn show the kind of man people can sometime send to congress.

If the trial itself does not progress faster than getting the jury in the Thaw case, it may be completed by the 4th of July. With the salary of $50,000 and congressmen almost twice as large as governors it is no wonder if the latter prefer a change in office.

The free seed distribution by congressmen having been cut out, people will have to look elsewhere for what they plant in their gardens. If we get laws to make honest men and women, I am convinced they would raise honest children, and there would be no use whatever of manual training schools and reformatories.

The suggestions in next to the closing paragraph are especially timely, and if adopted would be of far greater value to the State than a reformatory. According to The Reflector's way of thinking the Chamber of Commerce took the right step in recommending that for the present the corporate limits of the town remain as they are.

We have made no calculation in the matter, but a gentleman who has done so tells us that the territory embraced in the proposed new boundaries would add about $130,000 in valuation and about 1,000 people. The taxes derived from this addition would be practically nothing to the cost of the street improvements and the extension of water and light service to the acquired territory.

Until the town gets in better position to meet such expenses as this is it best to leave the boundaries as they are. Speaker Cannon expresses his displeasure at what North Carolina newspapers have been saying about him recently. He may boss congress, but he will learn some of these days that he can't boss the newspapers.

These may like it this way who want to, but some warmer suits us. Governor Swettenham has fallen in with the Spencer Blackburn class. He denies the authorship of the letter.

Senator Forsaker scored on the president when he got his resolution through the senate calling for an investigation of the discharge of those negro soldiers.

SOME THINGS BETTER THAN REFORMATORY.

A correspondent of the Charlotte News who signs "A Country Woman," writes that paper the following sensible letter: Although I am not a prominent person, I beg to be allowed to express my feeble views concerning the reformatory. I am not in favor of such an institution for two reasons:

1st. It will in nine cases out of ten encourage vice in the young criminal, as he or she knows there will be no punishment but a little work and confinement, but otherwise a very good home for a certain length of time. 2nd. In nine cases out of ten a youthful criminal is harder to convert than an old one.

Nothing like changes. It is not every section that can show spring, summer and winter weather all in one week. The weather man has been having his way about it for quite a while, but next Saturday the ground hog will take charge.

The report now is that Swettenham has sent in his resignation as governor of Jamaica that is what he ought to do or be put out. George W. Vanderbilt has cleared his skirts of the personal tax dodging charge. The mayor of New York says he is a resident of that city and pays taxes there.

The papers can palm off any old picture and call them incidents of the Thaw trial without their readers being much the wiser. If the pictures satisfy public curiosity it is about all the papers are after. Congressman W. W. Kitcher, of the fifth North Carolina district, announces himself as a candidate for governor in the next election.

There must be something attractive about being governor when a man is willing to give up a position with a salary of $7,500 attached for one that pays only $4,000. The Reflector is anxious to see Greenville larger, both in boundary and population, but we have serious doubts as to whether this is the proper time to extend the corporate limits of the town.

It has not been long since the town put in water works and electric lights, and just now a sewerage system is being constructed. Only a part of the money is in hand for the sewerage and it is not yet clear just how the balance will be provided.

A bond issue has been suggested, but as that will have to be submitted to a vote of the people the result is uncertain until an election is held. If the corporate limits are extended it will mean more expense for streets in the new territory and for extending the water and light service to people living in the sections that are proposed to be taken in.

If they are brought in the corporate limits and apply for water and lights the service will have to be provided for them. Now if the town is prepared to make the additional outlay necessary for this it is all right to extend the corporate limits, but if not, then it is better to defer a while. Of course we are open to argument on the question, but the present opinion of The Reflector is that the corporate limits had better be left as they are until the town gets the sewerage in and paid for.

More than likely Thaw wishes he could imitate the weather and thaw out of it. Mark it down that an investment in property in Greenville is worth while. No chance to lose on it. It is much easier to issue bonds than it is to pay them, and the legislature should go slow in that matter.

W. P. FIFE DIES SUDDENLY.

Stricken in St. Louis Hotel - St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 27.—W. P. Fife, capitalist, died suddenly at 11 o'clock today at the St. James Hotel. Mr. Fife was in the hotel lobby chatting with friends when he became suddenly very ill, and soon lost consciousness. Dr. William Behrens was hastily summoned from the Southern Hotel, across the street, but could do nothing for Mr. Fife, who died shortly after the doctor's arrival.

Dr. Behrens says the death was probably due to a heart attack, but is not positive. Coroner Baron has been notified of the death and will hold an inquest Monday morning. Mr. Fife's son who is now in Denver, Colorado, has been notified of his father's death. The body has been sent to the morgue and will remain there until the son has been heard from.

William P. Fife was born about fifty years ago in Newbern. His father was W. W. Fife, a trader. The elder Fife fled to Thomasville toward the close of the civil war and resided in the latter town until his death. W. P. Fife married about 30 years ago, Miss Whitford, a daughter of Col. John D. Whitford of Newbern, and is survived by two children, Miss Elmer Fife and W. P. Fife, Jr.

For years Mr. Fife was a successful tobacco salesman, traveling for several North Carolina factories. He was a man of the world and was given to dissipation. Twenty years ago this month, while Rev. R. G. Pearson was conducting revival services in Charlotte, he was converted. A little later he took a prominent part in a big Y. M. C. A. meeting at Wilmington. He then gave up his position on the road and threw himself earnestly into the cause of religion, holding large and successful revival meetings throughout this and other States, earning the sobriquet of "Drummer Evangelist." He was an attractive speaker, possessed a pleasing voice of great carrying power and preached to good crowds wherever he went.

After some years of this evangelical work his throat failed him and he was forced to give up preaching. He had accumulated some money and this he invested in the oil wells in the Beaumont region of Texas, which had then just sprung into fame, and later invested in Western mining stocks, becoming associated with the Great Western Oil Refining and Pipe Line Company and the Great Western Gold Mining Company, having offices in the Missouri Trust building in St. Louis.

His friends in this State, and he had many, believed that in all his dealings he was honest and trustworthy. He had frequently declared that the money he hoped to make out of his mining and oil speculations he expected to apply to the promotion of missionary work on the Dark Continent.

What success has attended these ventures is not a matter of common knowledge.—Charlotte Observer. The man who makes money in a community has a duty to perform to that community. It may be that he has made his money by his superior business ability, and that he would have had better never have been born. It is not an act of charity, but the performance of a simple duty for the man who has made money to pass a little of it for the benefit of the community, even though he never expects to see a dollar of his contribution back.—Ex.

That is a matter of much moment at present, and The Chronicle hopes to get Mr. Osborne's address for the benefit of its readers.—Charlotte Chronicle.

It is thought placing solicitors of the State on a salary in place of fees will at least put a stop to the practices of some solicitors of sending seventeen bills where one would have answered the purpose. Astute solicitors say this was done so that if one bill failed to land a person, another would, but it might be recalled that he got fees in all the cases, where nine times out of ten one was amply sufficient, and also nine times out of ten the county paid the cost.—Greensboro Record.

For Sale—Two gentle ponies well broke. G. A. Kittrell, Winterville, N. C. Four Shots Lodge in Clark's Body. Washington, N. C., Jan. 29.—News was brought to this city this morning of the murder of Will Clark, a negro, at Old Ford, two miles from this place. The homicide took place yesterday afternoon. It seems that Clark was in a wagon with some friends on his way home and when directed opposite Mr. R. R. ... into the road fired five shots at Clark, four of them taking effect in his body. Clark was brought back to this city and taken to the Washington Hospital where a surgical examination was made and his wounds were found to be very serious. He died this morning. A coroner's inquest was held at the hospital this afternoon and the jury brought in a verdict that the deceased came to his death by a pistol in the hands of one Andrew Wiggins, colored. The coroner, Dr. Joshua Taylor, stated that Clark made an antemortem statement, saying that he knew his assailant by sight, but didn't know his name. The murder seems to have been the culmination of some trouble arising over a woman. A posse of men are scouring the woods in search of Wiggins, but as yet he is still at large. Wagon Tries to Commit Suicide. Elizabeth City, N. C., Jan. 29.—Considerable excitement was created at the docks here this afternoon when a well-dressed woman a stranger in this city, attempted to commit suicide by jumping overboard, but was rescued by a spectator. In this city she found Vanaman aboard a schooner, and created a scene by declaring that he was her lawful husband, which he emphatically denied. The woman produced a marriage certificate in which the name had been scratched. Vanaman finally admitted that he knew the woman, and had lived with her in Norfolk and that they had one child, but they were not married. A reliable traveling salesman stated that he knew the woman and her people who lived in Camden, N. J., and that her parents were worth 300,000 dollars or more. You Can't Buy It.

A small kindness is better than a great apology. A stitch in time is the rarest work of woman.

Self-made opportunities are the only ones that are strictly reliable.

The louder a man shouts the more he is trying to hush up a weak argument with noise.

All the world's a stage according to the immortal bard, and it is better to be a good stage hand than a poor actor.

One of the greatest evils to which man is subject is to be too sure of himself.

There is no such thing as a free lunch.

It is not the man who has the most money who is the richest.

It is not the man who has the most power who is the strongest.

It is not the man who has the most knowledge who is the wisest.

It is not the man who has the most courage who is the bravest.

It is not the man who has the most strength who is the mightiest.

It is not the man who has the most skill who is the ablest.

It is not the man who has the most wit who is the cleverest.

It is not the man who has the most charm who is the most attractive.

It is not the man who has the most money who is the richest.
