THE EASTERN REFLECTOR

Truth in Preference to Fiction. ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR. GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, JUNE 7, 1907. VOL. No. XXV. NO. 22

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Noble Grand, and brothers of Covenant Lodge No. 17, I. O. O. F.: Your committee appointed at a special meeting to draft resolutions expressive of our loss in the death of our Brother Past Grand W. E. Burch—report. Whereas, "The white-winged messenger" death, has again poised his wings over our fraternal circle, and taken from us our beloved brother. Therefore be it resolved,

1st. That while we bow in humble submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well, we cannot but deeply deplore the untimely death of Brother Burch. Of his death we may say, paraphrasing terms used a thousand times before, that the suddenness of his passing in the very prime of his manhood, should be a sermon to all of us—telling us that no man knoweth the day or the hour when his account shall close. Even as we stand on the bank bidding our adieu to our good friend and brother who has so recently passed over to the other side, the spray from the dark river may be falling unnoticed upon our own brows. The passing of a man like this should be a lesson to us all to strive well for humanity while we are here, for at best our days are but a span.

2nd That we extend to the family of Brother Burch our heartfelt sympathy in this hour of bereavement, and assure them that among Odd Fellows they will always find friends.

3rd. That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes, a copy be sent to the family of our diseased brother, and a copy be sent to "The Eastern Reflector", to "King's Weekly", and to "The Orphan Home" with a request to publish.

Respectfully submitted, D. L. James, J. J. Cherry, C. D. Rountree.

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY.

We, the teachers of the infant class of the Methodist Sunday school, tender our deepest sympathy to our dear pastor and his wife in their deep bereavement. We miss our little one from our ranks, but we feel comforted when we think that another flower has been gathered and now blooms in the blessed sunlight of the eternal city. So while we mourn together here and our eyes are bedimmed with tears, we can still be joyous as we wait the resurrection morn when we shall all gather with our loved ones in a blessed peace that passeth understanding.

Ruth has bound us with the invisible cords of love and hope to a higher and better life and she is not dead but lives the perfect life of the redeemed, and with her angel face all wreathed in heavenly grace she beckons to us from the golden shore with such a thought of Ruth can we be sad for long or shall we meet just wait and in waiting meet again?

TO WORK WELL DON'T WORRY. The thing that kills effective work is worry. Don't worry. The way to kill worry is the way to kill weeds. No two objects can occupy the same space at the same time. If you indulge yourself in worry you fan the worry into a fury.

As a proof that you can experience moments in which worry is absent just mark this present moment. You are thinking about what you are reading, worry is absent, for no two things can occupy the same time.

When you worry everything is distorted. Nothing appears natural. The world looks dark to us. Our friends do not seem near us.

There is no hard luck in the world except sickness. All other so-called hard luck is temporary. If you lose your money, do not worry, make some more. If you lose a friend, do not worry, show him he was mistaken. If you lose an opportunity, do not worry, be ready for the next one.

Life is short. The end of life is death. What's the use of worrying? Worry is like drink; the more you give in to it, the more it fastens on you. Cultivate a cheerful disposition. Mix with people who are cheerful; learn to look at the bright side of things. Do not allow the garden of your mind to grow up with worry weeds.

Occupation kills worry. If your mind is occupied with uplifting work or brainmaking you can't worry.

Shoe Factory for Arkansas.

Special to Reflector.

Memphis, June 4—Goodbar & Co. of this city, have organized the Shoe Manufacturing Co., and propose the establishment of a large shoe factory at Mammoth Spring, Ark., a station on the Frisco system about 140 miles from Memphis. A deal has been closed with Memphis capitalists for a building 60 by 300 feet, and it is planned to have the plant in operation about the middle of this month.

A representation of the company is now in the East looking after the purchase of the necessary equipment and machinery.

Warships Return to Hampton Roads.

New York, June 4—Austrian Cruisers Sankt George and Aspern sailed today on their return to Hampton Roads to take part in the review of combined fleets of the United States and foreign countries by the president. Soon after they will return to European waters.

Three That Really Weeps.

Among the historical curiosities to be seen at Chatsworth House, the residence of the Duke of Devonshire, is a willow tree that weeps, very often to the personal discomfort of those beneath it.

To the casual observer it appears just an ordinary willow, but on closer inspection it is seen to be artfully artificial. It is made from a metal to closely resemble a living tree, and each of its branches is covered with innumerable holes. In fact, the whole tree is a monster syringe, being connected to a water main near by.

The key for turning on and off is close at hand, and many a "biting party" has enticed beneath its branches by practical jokers.—London Times.

LAND ASSESSMENTS. Difference in Townships Too Great. As this is the month for listing taxes, and also the year in which a re-assessment of all real estate must be made, the attention of the Reflector has been called to the differences in value of farm lands that have heretofore prevailed in the several townships of Pitt county. We confess some surprise at the showing the figures make, and expect it will also be a revelation to many of our readers.

The assessment of the last four years on farming lands owned by white people, not including any property in the towns, taking each township through has averaged as follows per acre:

Table with columns: Township, Assessment per acre. Values range from $7.00 to $11.50.

These figures represent the assessment per acre of the township taken as a whole, and it shows that there is too much difference between townships.

Take Belvoir, the lowest, and Farmville, the highest example—we can see no reason why lands in Belvoir township should be valued at little more than half what they are in Farmville township. There is also too much difference between other townships.

Of course there are individual tracts of land that are worth much more than others should be assessed higher. It is also true that lands lying near a town are worth more than in sections further away and these should be valued accordingly. But the point we are discussing is taking townships as a whole, and the difference between these is too great. There is good land and poor land in every township. It would not be a bad idea for the assessors of all the townships to come together and equalize this matter.

TOWN ELECTION.

The election of town officers was held Monday in the several wards of the town. Only the regular nominees were voted for, and the election was very quiet. Not two thirds of the registered voters were polled.

The candidates received the following vote: First ward, J. S. Moorins, 31; Second ward, C. S. Carr, 60; W. W. W. wen, 60.

Third ward, G. L. Woodward, 31; P. M. Johnson 30.

Fourth ward, E. G. Flanagan, 53; T. R. Moore 53.

Fifth ward, F. J. Forbes 33. The new board will take charge the first of July.

An Arkansas paper mourns the fact that "the paper that comes square out in the open and supports or opposes any measure treats on toes some where, and loses money." That is in large measure true, but it is also true that the paper that fears to tread on toes somewhere and is therefore mushy, loses more money. The papers that have strength and influence are those that have the confidence and respect of the people, and confidence and respect are only won by coming "square out in the open" when there is some issue to be discussed.

Wellman's Party Assemble at Spitzbergen.

London, June 5—Walter Wellman's party assembled at Spitzbergen today, to make preparations to start for the North pole, which will be made between July 20 and August 10. Mr. Wellman hasn't expressed much confidence of reaching the pole in recent interviews. He said: "Our first endeavor will be to reach the North pole. Once there, we shall return by whatever route is most favorable. You must not think we are overconfident of being successful. Far from it. I know so much about the nature of our expedition that I am almost afraid of it." Major Hersey, of the United States meteorological department, will be one of the three men who will accompany Wellman. Mr. Wellman's two boats will arrive at Spitzbergen at the end of July by a steamer, probably the Columbia, to see their father off.

Adopted by Memorial Baptist Church and Sunday School.

As it has pleased Almighty God in His providence to remove by death from our midst Brother W. F. Burch, resolved

1st. That we bow in humble submission to His divine ruling, although we shall miss him from our church, Sunday school and choir in which he was always a willing and cheerful member, and that while we sympathize with we commend his loving wife and children to Him who alone can give the comfort they most need in their affliction.

2nd. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of this church, and a copy furnished to the bereaved family, and a copy to The Daily Reflector with request to publish.

W. P. Edwards, Com. C. D. Rountree, Com. M. M. Pugh.

Character Alone Counts in the Long Run.

The Arkansas paper mourns the fact that "the paper that comes square out in the open and supports or opposes any measure treats on toes some where, and loses money." That is in large measure true, but it is also true that the paper that fears to tread on toes somewhere and is therefore mushy, loses more money. The papers that have strength and influence are those that have the confidence and respect of the people, and confidence and respect are only won by coming "square out in the open" when there is some issue to be discussed.

A violin teacher in the Washington College of Music has been dismissed for kissing "one of the prettiest and most talented young ladies in Washington society," a pupil of his. When arraigned before the indignant principal he "fessed right up" to his "crime," declined to repent, and gave the principal to understand that his recollection of the kiss was such that he would repeat the offense if faced by the same irresistible temptation.

For the most part they are bits of iron oxide, but sometimes the carbon is often a minute particle of metal.

The ladles that stir the precious metal, the big iron rods, the strainers and the dips are all tested in a most curious fashion.

Gradually the ladle, or whatever the implement is, will disappear, and in its place remains a hollow silver counterpart.

In one corner of the melting room there is a large tank, into which newly cast silver bars are dropped and left to cool.

"Junior," he asked, "have you ever in all your life felt you had all the buckwheat cakes you could get away with?"

"Yes, sir," replied Junior; "lots of times I've felt that I had enough."

"How do you know when you've got enough?"

"Oh, I just keep eating till I get a pain, and then I eat one more to make sure."

Truth in Preference to Fiction

GREENVILLE NORTH CAROLINA FRIDAY, JUNE 7, 1907

Birmingham gets the next Confederate veterans reunion. Eastern training school interest is centering around Raleigh today, the several towns competing for the school having representatives there to place bids in the hands of the State board of education. If Pitt county does not get the school we shall be greatly surprised, and everybody else likewise.

The Raleigh News and Observer has invited all of its twelve thousand subscribers, and some more besides, to the "house warming" in its new office building only in June. If they all should accept the house would certainly be overrun.

The North Carolina Press Association will meet at the Atlantic hotel, Morehead City, the middle of July. An excursion to the Jamestown exposition will probably follow the meeting.

Uncle Remus's Magazine, edited by Joel Chandler Harris and published at Atlanta, has made its appearance. We judge from the first number that it is to be a fine magazine and prove very popular.

The Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer says the large number of moonshiners recently in attendance upon the Federal court in Raleigh "seemed suspicious of each other; the revenue officers say they will steal from each other whenever they have an opportunity and that they have been known to steal stills." Nothing more natural than that, for when a man gets mean enough to engage in running a moonshine still he is mean enough to commit any crime under the sun. The moonshine distillery marks about the lowest depth of depravity.

They must have been afraid that there would be a dearth of hands to work on the canal, so the story has been started that the hills along the canal are full of rich veins of gold. That will catch the diggers.

Our Kinston friends had as well fall in line and learn how to write it. "Eastern Training School, Greenville, N. C." The balance of the folks are putting it that way.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon seems to have made a good impression on his visit to this State. We hope he carried a good impression back with him and will not forget it the next time North Carolina wants something.

The talking baby story has been hatched up again, and this time is sent out from Roanoke, Va., with glowing colors. The story says that a bouncing baby boy just nine days old suddenly began talking and astounded and alarmed all who heard it or heard of it. The story writer shut off an influx of the curious to see it, by reporting the subsequent death of the wonderful baby.

SLAPPED NORTHERNER'S FACE

An incident occurred during the Confederate reunion at Richmond that was not down on the program, and in which a Tennessee veteran, named Pearson, figured as the hero. According to the story, Pearson and several old soldiers were in a store on Broad street, when a New Yorker, whose name was not learned and who had evidently been drinking, began making himself disagreeable, cursing and applying even more offensive epithets to Confederate soldiers in general. Finally Pearson, becoming disgusted, approached the Northerner, and catching him by one ear with one hand, with the other soundly slapped his jaws and raked him for his offensive language and gratuitous insults. The man did not resent the slap. The conclusion of the incident was the expression of commendation and appreciation of Commander Pearson's act by a North Carolina veteran, who witnessed the incident. Approaching the manly Tennesseean, the Carolinian drew a gold ring from his own finger and slipped it on one of Pearson's fingers, with the wish that every time he looked at it he would recall the incident.

Mr. C. C. Moore, president of the North Carolina division of the Southern cotton growers' association, is being mentioned as the probable successor of Mr. S. L. Patterson as State commissioner of agriculture. Mr. Patterson's health is reported to be such that he will not be a candidate for re-nomination, and he may resign before his present term expires.

When an obstacle gets in your way, don't waste time and energy in complaining about it. If you can't push it out of your path, get over it, under it or around it anyway you can—and leave the obstacle behind you. The second obstacle will not appear half so big if you get past the first, but if you stand, wringing your hands and appealing to every one for help to do what you can do yourself, the first obstacle will look like a mountain after a while. This isn't the case, however, it's only the man becoming smaller because of his inactivity. --Merchants Journal

Newspapers are catching it on the price of paper now. A good grade of paper, such as the Land mark is printed on, has been selling for years at an average of 2 1/2 cents a pound. Since January 1st the price has advanced to 3 cents and just where it will stop we don't know. Some of the papers, which have yearly contracts, especially the big dailies which buy in large lots, will suffer little from the advance, but in North Carolina, for instance, the great majority of papers don't buy over a three months' supply a time and man at five weeks only for a month or a few weeks ahead. In short, the newspapers which can afford it least are hit hardest, and the worst of it is the advance is a dead loss to them. In the mercantile, manufacturing and almost all other businesses the price to the consumer is changed as prices fluctuate and in this way the dealer can take care of himself as a rule, when prices are advanced to him. But it is almost impossible for a newspaper to change an established subscription rate and almost as difficult to advance an advertising rate, once it is established. The average newspaper in this State, therefore, which finds the price of material or other things advanced, simply loses that much in profits and in most cases the profits are so short enough at best. --Statesville Landmark

Did you ever stop to reflect that it was one thing to talk about people and another thing to have people talk about you? If those of us who use our tongues a little too freely, about our neighbors, would stop and reflect about this matter and know the great evil that comes from too much gossip and tattling, we are sure we would call a halt and gossip no more forever. --Gastonia Gazette

Faith is believing what everybody else goes to prove isn't so.

Abe Ruef says his conscience "hurt." It was doubtless quite a shock to his nervous system to discover that he had a conscience.

The New York Herald claims that there are 198,000 young widows in that city. This suggests a revival of the old play "The Perils of New York."

Rev. Wm. J. Long, thenaturalist, is going to wake up one of these fine mornings and find himself a distinguished member of the Ananias club.

Senator Pettus says the Brownsline inquiry is making him tired. And he has the satisfaction of knowing that younger men than he are making the same complaint.

Quite a number of newspapers in this country are asking when we are to have tariff revision. We suspect it will be about the time airships are sold for a dollar down, and a dollar a week.

"What's the matter at Panama?" asks the Topetz Journal. "Nobody has resigned for three weeks." Just now, we understand they are too busy fighting mosquitoes to fill out resignation blanks.

Jack London, Chas. G. D. Roberts, and Rev. Wm. Long got theirs from the president all right. But we are at a loss to know whether they are "undesirable citizens" or just common liars.

The fact that "September wheat" reached one dollar in "the pit" will cause not even a ripple of excitement in Kansas. "September wheat" during the month of May, is not the market which interests the wheat growers. But "dollar" wheat in September will encourage Kansas to unloop its 90,000,000 bushels crop.

FARMVILLE AND GREEN SPRINGS.

Doings of the Week in That Section. Farmville, N. C. June 4th. There has been much of passing interest with us the past week.

Wednesday, May 29 fair and coal, crops looking very bad, cotton especially.

A quiet wedding occurred in Farmville about 3 o'clock. Mr. James Herring, of Wilson and Miss Ruth Beamz being married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Beaman, by Elder Moore, pastor of the Christian church.

Thursday--The little son of Arden Tucker, who died at Winterville of meningitis, was brought here and buried in the family burial ground of A. J. Tyson.

Friday--cool and rainy. B. M. Lewis visited Green spring and says the water is fine, and that his family has improved much from its use.

Mrs. Mary Tyson and daughter, Miss Ada, are visiting Mrs. Lucy Barrow, in Greene county.

Saturday--cool and rainy some more with showers growing heavier.

We had the pleasure of a hand shake from our old friend L. A. Cobb, of Kinston, who says it was the first visit to our town in thirteen years. Things don't look like they used to. He spent Saturday and Sunday with his brother, B. P. Cobb, at the old home place in Beaver Dam.

Mrs. S. W. Erwin and children spent Saturday with Mrs. Martha Joyner and enjoyed the pure waters of Green spring. She informs us of a somewhat strange coincidence at the home of her neighbor and father-in-law, S. P. Erwin. A little bird had wended its way into his sitting room and selected a spot to dwell for awhile. Among the many cozy corners no seemed to suit its fancy like the mantel, and in one of the niches of the clock it built a nest and deposited five little eggs upon which it is sitting with as much grace as Queen Victoria on her royal throne or Mrs. Roosevelt in the upholstered palace of Uncle Sam. Perhaps this may be one of the Norfolk & Southern secret service time keepers, or some of the descendants of Poe's raven that perched above his door.

Sunday--rain, rain, cold and colder. But the rains and winds are never weary and why should we be? for the sun may be shining tomorrow although it is cloudy today.

A little child of John Tyson, of Beaver Dam, died at his home on the T. A. Nichols farm.

What about the training school? We are getting anxious to hear. And another thing we want to see is better roads over which the teachers can get to the school. Unless roads around Greenville are better than up here, the teachers would have to fly or wade.

We are counting on Greenville.

Even if the weather stays fair only a day or two at the time, the fair days are appreciated.

On Friday night the citizens of the town and community tendered a most delightful but informal reception in the tastily decorated auditorium of Winterville High school. Ice cream and cake were served after some time had been spent in various games. Never have we had more pleasant visitors than these.

Mr. Spilman knows exactly how to conduct an outing tour to make it enjoyable not only to his class but also to those who have the pleasure of entertaining them. We were sorry indeed when the time came for them to leave. They returned to Kinston Saturday morning. They have a standing welcome to come and enjoy our beautiful school grounds whenever they wish. May this not be their last visit.

Both Were Collectors. A local newspaper artist got a letter one day from a man over in Indiana who said he was making a collection of sketches. I have drawings from well known newspaper artists in nearly every State in the Union," the Indiana man wrote, "but I have none from Ohio. I have seen some of your work and I think it is good. If you will send me some little sketches for my collection I shall have it framed."

The artist noticed from the letterhead that the Indiana man was connected with a bank in one of the small towns over in the State of Indiana. That gave him a hunch, and he wrote back as follows:

"I am making a collection of $10 bills. I haven't secured specimens from every State in the Union, but I have several tens and a few twenties, and I am particularly anxious to have a ten dollar bill from Indiana. I notice that you are employed in a place where ten dollar bills are kept, and if you send me one for my collection I shall be glad to have it framed."--Cleveland Plain Dealer

What Ails the Weather. Vigorously disclaiming responsibility for the much-cursed weather of the past two months and admitting that he can't fully explain just what ails the atmosphere, Weather Chief Willis L. Moore proceeds to give the public such information as he possesses regarding the main cause there seems to be no doubt. A succession of high pressure areas, producing clear and cold weather in the far North, have forced cold currents of air into areas of low pressure extending to the far South. High atmospheric pressure is common every year in the North and low atmospheric pressure in the South, especially during the spring and freakish weather is usually due to their failure to properly counterbalance each other. For two months past high pressure has had things all its own way; it has been like the stronger of two football teams, and all the playing has been in low pressure's territory. Hence the cold weather extending from Canada to the Gulf. It is this persistent superiority of high pressure which Mr. Moore can't explain; he understands the immediate but not the remote cause. We only hope it won't continue through summer, as was the case during the memorable year 1816, when winter kept on unbroken and December was the warmest month--Charlotte Observer.

An Alphabet for Boys and Girls.

Mr. J. S. Farmer, who is known personally—and to their advantage—to more Recorder Readers than to anybody, learned the following alphabet in his youth. Probably, if some of our young people will learn it now they will turn out to be as strong and useful as he:

A—A boy who feels timid about doing anything means is far from being a coward.

B—Be prompt in all your school engagements, that you may learn to be prompt in all your business engagements.

C—Conquer your bad habits, just as you conquer hard problems in arithmetic; the former is more important than the latter.

D—Do not eat after your appetite is satisfied, we are more apt to overeat than to eat too little.

E—Every time a boy lies he belittles himself, not only in the eyes of his school-mates, but also in his own estimation.

F—First make up your mind what you desire to do, be sure it is right, then do it, be it ever so difficult.

G—Get not in the way of cackling, even a donkey knows better.

H—Hasty tempers break good resolutions.

I—If ever unjust, be honest enough to admit it.

J—Join hands with no man who loves not his own country.

K—Keep promises, and you will never want for dollars.

L—Laziness and carelessness are twins.

M—Make no promise you cannot keep.

N—Never resign a position until you have secured a better one.

O—Object to be led into what you know to be wrong.

P—Profanity has never made a gentleman, and has ruined thousands.

Q—Quarrels are like eggs—they grow worse with age.

R—Refuse to do a mean act, be it ever so small.

S—Sympathy makes stronger and better friends than gold, silver or flattery.

T—The events of childhood will be remembered longer and better than anything else; so live and act then, boys and girls, that in the future when recalling them they can bring naught but pleasure.

U—Understand yourself, and you will the better understand others.

V—Vain people are seldom happy, from thinking of themselves too much.

W—When sweeping a room do not forget the corners.

X—Xenophony, prudence, activity and vigor made him a leader of ten thousand Greeks, when but a young man.

Y—Yield not to the flattery of one whom you have reason to respect.

Z—Zeal rightly applied will make comparison worth knowing.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, it hath pleased the Allwise Ruler of the Universe to send the Angel of Death into the home of our friend and brother, Joseph Rawls, and remove therefrom his devoted sister.

Whereas, we bow in humble submission to Him who doth all things well, yet we would extend to our friend and brother Pythian our deep and heartfelt sympathy in the loss which he and those near to him have suffered.

Resolved, therefore, first that the members of Tar River Lodge No. 93 unite in sending to Brother Rawls this expression of their sympathy for him in the death of his sister.

Second, that a copy of these resolutions be furnished The Daily Reflector for publication.

Third, that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of our lodge and a copy sent Brother Rawls.

A Dangerous Sermon

"My preacher said the other day that debt was a bad thing and that he wished the clothes that had not been paid for would fall off of the persons who wore them," declared a Charlotte church woman.

"Why, that was dangerous, for if they had begun to drop off right there I'm afraid the meeting would have closed with—the good old song, 'we are all smiles tonight,' or rather, 'We are nothing but smiles tonight.' I heard one man say that he would have left would have been his paper collar.

"I looked for a catastrophe there that night. But, all the same, the preacher spoke the truth. About half the people in this town live six months behind their debts."—Charlotte Observer.

R. F. D. Men Meet

Over 60 per cent of the R. F. D. carriers of the county were present Thursday, May 30th, and an enthusiastic meeting was held.

The absence of our promised speaker was regretted, but Mr. S. C. Wooten came to our rescue and entertained our association with an interesting and encouraging speech, for which the thanks of the association are returned.

We wish to say for the association that if we can claim the encouragement of our country patrons the height that we will attain can only be measured by the enthusiasm of the carriers.

END OF CENTURY CLUB.

Reported for Reflector: The End of the Century Club held its last meeting for this season at the home of Mrs. James Fleming on Tuesday afternoon, May 28th.

The program for the next year was discussed. The subject chosen was "Our Country" and was unanimously decided that this subject is great enough and broad enough to merit the attention and stimulate the mental activities even of the End of Century Club.

The only visitor present was Miss Hadley, of Wilson, who, with Miss Ruthia Whedbee assisted the charming hostess in serving the refreshments.

The purchase of new books and additional book shelves was discussed and the librarian instructed to place a good encyclopedia in the library.

The new officers were installed, and refreshments served after which the club adjourned until October.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

Adopted by Societies of Baptist Church. Our Heavenly Father in His unerring wisdom, having taken from earth to the celestial home above our sister, Emma K. Hart, the members of the Woman's Missionary Society and Ladies Aid Society of Greenville Memorial Baptist church wish to express this testimonial of love and esteem for her.

Mrs. Hart was a woman of sterling worth, whom we know to be appreciated by her church and its societies have never lost a more loyal or devoted member, as through life she was ever true and true to her duties.

We bow humbly to God's will in taking her, realizing that our earthly loss is her eternal gain. We extend our deepest sympathy to the sorrowing husband who has lost true and devoted wife, and to the three little children who are bereft of that most priceless of earthly possessions, a mother's love.

May God's comfort and blessing be with the stricken ones.

Mrs. D. J. Wichard, Mrs. J. W. Whedbee, Miss Hennie Ragdale, Com.

Grand Reunion of Confederate Veterans at Richmond.

Special to Reflector. Richmond, Va., May 30.—Today commences the celebration of the Confederate seventh annual reunion in this city, which will last from today until June 3. The crowd in the city is immense, all the South having turned out with full numbers of veterans and their friends, who have come from every town in the South.

The reunion seems to have been taken as the family gathering of the entire Confederacy, and no state has been lacking in sending here the boys in gray who survive. The city itself looks like the capital of some proud country that has called all its sons to the family fire, and then has dressed up the old town until she scarcely knows herself.

Every house in the city is believed to be decorated with flags and bunting and the people wear a gladsome air as though all business had been laid aside. Much curiosity has been manifested to see the statue of the president of the Confederacy, Jefferson Davis.

Charleston has sent a big crowd, as enthusiastic as though the reunion were in the Palmetto State, and Atlanta has a huge number here. Atlanta is after the next convention. Gen. Gordon commander of the Tennessee Division, is easily a marked man among the assembled hosts, and he is all alive over the presence of the comrades that old generals. He considers that the main event will be the unveiling of the statue of the former president of the Confederacy.

Card of Thanks. I wish to return sincere thanks to the people of Greenville and community for their attention and great kindness during the recent sickness and death of my husband. His mother, brothers and sister join with me in this expression of gratitude.

Mrs. R. S. Evans.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Greenville, N. C. June 3, 1907. To the officers and members of Jarvis Memorial Sunday school M. E. church, South. Again God has seen fit in His wisdom to visit our school with death, this time our senior class was the one to furnish the victim in the person of Brother R. S. Evans.

After a quiet night in the roads the dock passed into the vestibule of the canal before the assembled motley crew that comprises the population of the place.

From down at the end of the dark, unlighted streets, like the murrings of a stage mob, comes the noise of the coaling of ships. All day and all night they coal at Port Said.

Therefore resolved, 1st. That we tender to his wife and two little sons our heartfelt sympathy in this their sad hour and bid them go to the God he served for comfort.

Norfolk, Va. June 5.—The big military carnival and athletic carnivals scheduled for the Jamestown exposition, from June 5 to 11, began today. It is open to members of the regular army, who are classed as professionals, and members of the National Guard of the United States, who are amateurs in the eyes of the American athletic regulars. The carnival is divided into two parts of events one for regulars and the other for amateurs. Two days will be devoted to sports participated in by members of the regular army. These events will be similar to those held annually at Madison Square Garden, New York, which are pulled off during that period known as "military week". The remainder of the period for the carnival will be given over to the National guardsmen and this will be more of an amateur event. Three teams of six men each will be sent from New York alone for this event, and other cities are showing equal interest.

Wages, Men and Women...
The experience of the world shows that where the wages of men and women are equal the men get all the jobs, except in cases where the wages are so low that no competent men will accept them, in which case the women get them. Union printers, for instance, get the same wages for men and women but the men have almost all the jobs, in spite of the fact that the work is of a sort which women can do very well.
