

Published at Greenville, N. C., at the postoffice for Greenville, N. C., under act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Truth in Reference to Fiction

GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, OCT. 25, 1907

Veritas liberabit vos, et non liberabit vos nisi fuerit liberatus. The truth will set you free, but it will not set you free unless the truth is first set free.

The editor of the Daily Reflector has been very kind to send me a copy of his paper. I have read it with interest and pleasure.

A Durham druggist is speculated in a notice in a side line. It is a pity that the editor should have done this.

There is a fine spirit of cooperation in the prohibitionists. It is a pity that the editor should have done this.

There is a fine spirit of cooperation in the prohibitionists. It is a pity that the editor should have done this.

There is a fine spirit of cooperation in the prohibitionists. It is a pity that the editor should have done this.

There is a fine spirit of cooperation in the prohibitionists. It is a pity that the editor should have done this.

There is a fine spirit of cooperation in the prohibitionists. It is a pity that the editor should have done this.

There is a fine spirit of cooperation in the prohibitionists. It is a pity that the editor should have done this.

There is a fine spirit of cooperation in the prohibitionists. It is a pity that the editor should have done this.

There is a fine spirit of cooperation in the prohibitionists. It is a pity that the editor should have done this.

There is a fine spirit of cooperation in the prohibitionists. It is a pity that the editor should have done this.

There is a fine spirit of cooperation in the prohibitionists. It is a pity that the editor should have done this.

There is a fine spirit of cooperation in the prohibitionists. It is a pity that the editor should have done this.

There is a fine spirit of cooperation in the prohibitionists. It is a pity that the editor should have done this.

There is a fine spirit of cooperation in the prohibitionists. It is a pity that the editor should have done this.

There is a fine spirit of cooperation in the prohibitionists. It is a pity that the editor should have done this.

This season's football is claiming its victims.

Isn't it nice to be a cabinet officer and junket around the world?

The two opposition Republican papers of Greensboro have come together. The Daily Industrial News, having absorbed The Semi-Weekly Star Tree. We suppose here will now be peace in the family.

The Reflector saved you anything by warning you not to know surplus money to the fair for the pockets to get, you might show your appreciation by bringing in part of the savings and swap it for a subscription receipt.

The question in the controversy at Wake Forest College seems to be whether the faculty or the students shall direct the policy of the college. We take it that public sentiment is on the side of the faculty.

RANDOM REFLECTIONS.

By a Contributor. "Heavy firing" has been reported from the president's camp in Louisiana, but it is only when heavy firing is reported from the white house that the officeholders begin to get uneasy.

Every time Hetty Green talks for publication, she betrays the fact that she is blessed with common sense as the ong green.

In Pittsburg twin brothers were whipped by their teacher in order to punish the guilty one. It is not likely that when they grow up the debtors will insist on paying both in order to satisfy their right one.

"Is a dinner ever a bribe?" asks an Oregon editor. It may be at times, but much oftener it may be regarded as a punishment.

Ocar Hammerstein has confessed that he has all the money he wants. He and Andrew Carnegie can now go somewhere and be lonesome for the rest of their lives.

Governor Deneen has submitted a 10,000 word message to the Illinois legislature. The charge that he has presidential aspirations, seems to be well founded.

Secretary Taft and Minister Wu haven't yet announced whether they intend to cut China into five or six. It is pretty big pile.

For Mr. Roosevelt, the bear, in the Louisiana carebrates. For Mr. Hearst, the elephant right in little old New York. The differences in mighty hunters.

It is doubtful that the New York Herald will be able to find anybody to whom we might even lend the Philippines.

It is again discovered that Shakespeare is not the author of his plays. However this thing of trying to make the Lord of Avon another Tomases is a different job.

In this State it is still the fashion to call extra terms of court and to permit terms to go by default on account of the sickness of a judge. Advertising to this condition of affairs, The Greenville Reflector says that to meet such emergencies, "the State could do no better than to elect an extra judge whose duty it shall be to hold the special terms of court and also take the place of any judge who may be sick, so that no courts may be missed." Efforts have been made for years past to induce the legislature to remedy this deficiency in our judicial system, but to no avail. As it is, important law suits are delayed and the State put to much expense every year that could be easily avoided. One or two extra judges are needed.—Charlotte Chronicle.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

The Quarrel of Dandy and Laddie and What Came of It.

Dandy and Laddie were collie dogs and brothers, and they were owned by brothers, too, farmers up in New Hampshire. The farms adjoined, and the farmers pastured their stock in common. The dogs visited each other frequently and were great friends. One day when Laddie was grazing in a field at Dandy's family came near, and Laddie snarled at her. Dandy instantly flew at his throat, and they had a hot fight before they could be separated.

It is said that neither dog ever crossed the boundary line between the two farms after that. Laddie daily drove his flock of sheep down the lane until he reached the dividing wall, where Dandy solemnly took charge and drove them to pasture. At night Dandy brought back the sheep, and Laddie would be waiting for them at the regular place. Not once after their fight did they take the slightest notice of each other.—Chicago News.

An Interesting Experiment. Water is composed of two elements, oxygen and hydrogen, and these two elements unite when the flame of the candle gives off its hydrogen into the oxygen of the air. You may prove this by a simple experiment. Hold a cool and perfectly dry tumbler over a burning candle, and the inner surface of the tumbler will soon become dimmed with moisture. Presently little drops of water will collect on it, and if it were possible to keep the tumbler cool all the time you might get enough water to fill another tumbler. This seems like a magician's trick, but it is a simple law of nature. The vapor given off in the burning is condensed into water by contact with the cool glass.

It is sometimes said of a timid person, "He looks as if he couldn't say 'No' to a goose." Did you ever hear how the expression originated? It may be found perhaps in the story of Bo, a great captain and a fierce one, who was son to Odin in the mythology of the north. His name was used by his soldiers to frighten the enemy. They tell a good story of Bo, the poet, in connection with the "Bo" saying. He was introduced to a Lord Somebody or other, and the nobleman was so much surprised at the homely appearance of the poet that he said: "What are you, Ben Jonson? You look as if you could not say 'No' to a goose!" "No," said Jonson, making a bow to his lordship.

The English Habit. The man from London passed in front of the little shop and read and reread this mysterious sign that was suspended from the wall. It read: "Englishmen will please not stand over this grating while talking."

The more the Londoner read the sign the more he was mystified. Finally he summoned up his courage and entered the shop. "Good afternoon," he greeted politely. "Could you tell me why you have that sign out there which reads, 'Englishmen will please not stand over this grating while talking?'"

"I can, sir," replied the shopkeeper. "And why, my good man?" "Well, you see, if they stood there talking they would drop their 'is,' and the porter would have to lose time going down in the basement looking for them."

And the man from London walked away at once, remarking that America was a "bloomin' queer country!"—Brooklyn Citizen.

It Did Not Fit Him. The Hartwells were entertaining a distant relative, a man of ponderous physical attainments, who weighed nearly 300 pounds. On the morning after his arrival he came down to breakfast rather late and looking as if he had not had a good night's rest.

"You are not feeling well this morning, are you, Mr. Barnes?" asked his host, with some anxiety. "Oh, it's nothing serious," said the guest. "I have caught a little cold, that is all."

"Papa," whispered Bobby, the rambunctious member of the family, loudly enough to be heard by the visitor, "how can a man as big as he is have a little cold?"—Youth's Companion.

It Wouldn't Work. The wise old doctor was impressing upon his little patient the essentials of mastication. "My lad," he advised, "no matter what you eat, always chew each mouthful thirty times."

But Jimmy shook his head significantly. "That wouldn't do at our house, doctor."

"And why not, my son?" "Because I'd always be hungry. The rest of the kids would clean 'No table off before I get through with that one mouthful."—Kansas City Independent.

Harking Back. Mrs. Adkins, don't want to be impertinent, but how old are you anyway? Some of the ladies were discussing your age at the club the other day, and several of them claimed that you were at least thirty-five, but I insisted that you were not more than thirty-three.

Mrs. Black, "I'm glad you were so kind. Of course you didn't mention the fact that you were ready to leave the grammar grade when I was in the primary class at school, did you?"

Nice lamps of all sizes, Harrington, Barber & Co.

Miss Rowland Cobb and Madeline Cox returned from Concord Sunday evening, where they spent Sunday at Miss Cobb's home.

WINTERTVILLE DEPARTMENT

This Department is in charge of F. C. NYE, who is authorized to represent the Eastern Reflector in Winterville and territory

We sell Lighthouse, Eclipse and Prker fountain pens. B. T. Cox & Bro. Dr. B. T. Cox left yesterday morning to accompany Mrs. Chas Aldridge to a hospital in Baltimore.

We have on hand a few copies of the history of the San Francisco co-disaster. Usual price $1.20. Our price, 75 cts. B. T. Cox & Bro. Rev. W. E. Cox was here Thursday.

The famous Hawks glasses at B. T. Cox & Bro. Don't neglect your eyes. The carpenters are erecting a steeple to the Episcopal church. This will add greatly to its appearance and convenience.

Harrington Barber & Co. have a complete stock of ready made clothing see him before you get your next suit. Miss Mollie Bryan came in from Stokes last night to spend Sunday at home.

FOR SALE—A two horse wagon and a disc harrow. Mrs. J. L. Butt, one mile from Winterville. J. L. Jackson went to Greenville yesterday.

Another large shipment of stove of all sizes just received at A. W. Anger & Co. Messdames W. H. Galloway and J. L. Gibson, of Grimesland, spent Friday with Mrs. R. G. Chapman.

Our fall stock of dry goods, shoes, notions are open for inspection. Come and see us before buying elsewhere. We are prepared to give you bargains. Harrington, Barber & Co.

Dr. Nash will continue services at the Methodist church on Sunday morning and Sunday night. He is doing some excellent preaching. There were our accessions to the church last night.

Moulding of all kinds prepared at the Carolina Milling & Mill Co. Miss Rowland Cobb, accompanied by Miss Magdaline Cox, left for her home at Concord Friday evening where they will spend Sunday.

Nice dress shoes for ladies and gentlemen just in at Harrington, Barber & Co. There have been many improvements made in the interior of the Baptist church here. It has been reseated, the walls papered and new carpeting put down.

Now is the time to purchase your Box Body Carts while they are cheap. The A. G. Cox Manufacturing Co. have plenty of them on hand. Call and see them. Have your carts, wagons and buggies put in good trim for the fall use. All kinds of repair work done promptly. Carolina Milling & Mill Co.

Try a tree brand pocket knife. They are sold under guarantee. They are kept in stock by B. T. Cox & Bro. L. L. Kittrell, R. Croom and G. E. Jackson left Tuesday morning for the exposition.

Now is the time to get single and double bedsteads low down at A. W. Angle & Co. Dr. B. T. Cox returned from Baltimore last night. The cold weather is coming on. See A. W. Angle & Co. for bargains on mattresses.

100 sacks of salt at Harrington Barber & Co. Chairs from the nicest willow rocker to the single stool chair. A. W. Angle & Co. Prof. and Mrs. G. E. Lineberry went to Greenville Saturday evening.

A new lot of best flour at Harrington Barber & Co. Misses Rowland Cobb and Madeline Cox returned from Concord Sunday evening, where they spent Sunday at Miss Cobb's home.

Nice lamps of all sizes, Harrington, Barber & Co.

Miss Rowland Cobb and Madeline Cox returned from Concord Sunday evening, where they spent Sunday at Miss Cobb's home.

Nice lamps of all sizes, Harrington, Barber & Co.

THE AYDEN DEPARTMENT

J. M. BLOW, Manager

As authorized agent for DAILY EASTERN REFLECTOR we take subscriptions and writing receipts for same in arrears. We also take orders for printing.

Mrs. Reuben Wall, a very estimable lady and the wife of a prosperous farmer living near here, died yesterday and will be buried today.

For fresh and cheap goods go to E. E. Dail & Co., they always have the best. H. D. Lilly, of Maple Cypress, father of our townsman, F. Lilly, has been here during the week selling cotton on our market.

Remember that the A. G. Cox Manufacturing company are still making their well known Tar Heel carts and wagons. "The Perfected Quality" dress shoes for gentlemen at B. F. Manning's & Co.

A new line of plaids and home spun at B. F. Manning & company. Gents dress shoes just arrived at Harrington Barber and company.

WAYS OF SAVING WASTE. Skimming River For a Living—Fishermen Who Net Corks. Skimming a river for a living may be said to be one of the most striking examples of the utilization of waste. This is done in Paris.

We are glad to inform our friends and depositors that the business of the bank is the greatest in its history. People are learning the convenience and safety of a bank. They soon catch on to a good thing. J. L. Jackson, cashier of the Bank of Winterville.

Miss Novella Bunting spent Sunday with friends in Greenville and returned Sunday evening. Mrs. Ed. Harris returned Wednesday from a visit to Kinston. Now for a new fall suit. Don't fail to see our line before you buy J. R. Turnage and company.

Buy a pair of our 400 patent leather shoes for men. Every pair guaranteed not to crack. R. Turnage and Company. Mrs. Ed. Harris returned Wednesday from a visit to Kinston. Now for a new fall suit. Don't fail to see our line before you buy J. R. Turnage and company.

Our line of 300 Hawes Hat just received. Any style and shape Guaranteed. J. R. Turnage and company. The Woman's Missionary Society will meet in the Methodist church next Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Everybody invited to attend.

J. J. Edwards & Son have just received a car load of Ellwood wire fence. Can furnish any quantity. See Wednesday. See our beautiful line of ladies dress goods before you buy. J. R. Turnage and company.

The Pythian banquet Wednesday evening was a delightful affair. After pleasant evenings in their hall they repaired to Hotel Blount where oysters were served in different forms and other delicacies were served.

Royal flour, always good and good always at J. R. Smith & Co. "Real y amusing as well as interesting at times, on our cotton market, to note the intensity with which each buyer seems imbued with his purpose to obtain the fleecy staple. Indeed it is a striking illustration of the scenes on the cotton exchange on Wall street. We have just simply got the hustlers and they are getting the cotton, for they pay the stuff that brings it.

Mrs. Asnes Blount and Miss Lee Nichols spent Thursday in Greenville. Keer Kutter, cutlery and hardware at J. R. Smith & Co. Don't forget the 4 Pickets, 21, 22 and 23. Mason fruit jars, taps and rubbers at J. R. Smith & Co. James Harris from over the river was here last Saturday. Smilys Linament and Gowans Pneumonia Cure at J. R. Smith & Co. Elder T. E. Eden has returned from Nashville. Saults guarantees all he sells, especially Lowndes candy.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, COUNTY OF LEE, J. R. Smith & Co., Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge; and before me, J. R. SMITH, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 27th day of Aug 1907. J. R. SMITH, Notary Public.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, COUNTY OF LEE, J. R. Smith & Co., Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge; and before me, J. R. SMITH, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 27th day of Aug 1907. J. R. SMITH, Notary Public.

Dr. Joseph Dixon

Physician and Surgeon

Office over Bank Building AYDEN, N. C.

W. T. Barnhill, and wife were here Tuesday. Mr. Stokes, of Greenville was here Tuesday.

Mr. J. Williams went to Wood County Monday. Good many of our young people were here Tuesday.

Mr. A. Gray and wife went to Bethel Tuesday. J. L. Jones is the chairman of the board of the extension of the water works here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Barnhill, of Winterville, spent Saturday and Sunday here with friends.

A NEIGHBORLY POSTAL CARD. For the sake of neighborhood peace names are omitted, but the contents of the following, which adorned a post card passed around from city to city, would not be found in the board of health, will serve to show how a few words of humor often helps to appreciate things they otherwise would not.

"Gentlemen," said the writer, who had his pen in the best of faith, as he posed his name, "Mr. Blank of Blank number, Blank street, is the proud possessor of four cows and two horses and two children and innumerable chickens. These are all a nuisance to the neighborhood. Horses run loose. Goats even out the porches. Chickens roost in the neighborhood, including flowers. Small favors kindly received.

"P. S.—They also sell milk which contains everything but butter."—Indianapolis News.

Fan Baths and Typhoid. Fan baths are the latest remedy employed by the Boston City hospital physicians in the treatment of typhoid fever. Heretofore the ice plunge was used, and a patient whose temperature had reached the danger point was consigned in a bathtub filled with broken ice until his teeth rattled. This treatment after a time was found to be too heroic, as the shock was too severe and pneumonia sometimes developed.

When ice water sponge baths were substituted, but fan baths, the doctors declare, are just the thing. The patient is sponged off with ice water first, then a sheet that has been soaked in ice water is wrapped about the body and more ice water is sprinkled on the sheet. The current of an electric fan is then turned on him, so that he is chilled by the rapid evaporation caused by the breeze. Recent experiments have proved this measure highly successful.

W. H. KILLAFRICK COTTON BUYER AND INSURANCE AGENT Office in National Bank Building

D. S. Moore & Son OFFER their entire stock of Notions, Groceries and Confectionaries for sale in bulk. Terms cash, call on them if you wish to bargain. A nice large large brick store in which to conduct business can be rented on easy terms.

D. S. Moore, Bro Moore, N. C.

STATEMENT OF THE BANK OF AYDEN At the close of business Aug. 22th, 1906.

Table with columns: LIABILITIES, RESOURCES. Loans and discounts, Overdrafts secured, Furniture and fixtures, Due from banks and bankers, Cash items, Gold coin, Silver coin, Nat. bil. notes & other U.S. notes.

Table with columns: LIABILITIES, RESOURCES. Loans and discounts, Overdrafts secured, Furniture and fixtures, Due from banks and bankers, Cash items, Gold coin, Silver coin, Nat. bil. notes & other U.S. notes.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, COUNTY OF LEE, J. R. Smith & Co., Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge; and before me, J. R. SMITH, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 27th day of Aug 1907. J. R. SMITH, Notary Public.

