Needle Threading Machine.
A machine which threads a thousand needles a minute is at work in a Swiss factory. The purpose of the machine is to thread needles that are placed afterward in a loom for making lace. The device is almost entirely automatic. It takes the needle, carries it along, threads it, ties the knot, cuts the thread of a uniform length, then carries the needle across an open space and places it in a rack. The work of threading these needles was formerly done by hand.

Telephone and Telegraph Poles.
Recent estimates give 800,000 miles of telephone and telegraph pole line in the United States. At an average of forty poles to the mile there are 32,000,000 in use, and, assuming that the life of a pole is twelve years, there are needed each year more than 2,650,000 poles.—Woodcraft.

MULES WERE REAL ONES.
"I saw a funny thing in the register of a hostelry in the Grand Canyon of the Colorado," said a man who has just returned from a trip through the west. "I stepped up to the desk to register when I saw an entry just above the space I was destined to fill. The line read as follows:
"Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, Arkansas. Two mules."
"The words 'two mules' were not in the same handwriting as that giving the names of the recent arrivals. A wild idea flashed through my mind that the hotel clerk must be in the habit of characterizing the guests. My natural curiosity prompted me to make inquiries.
"Oh, the mules?" replied the presiding genius of the hotel. "That means that Mr. Jones and his wife are going to ride down the canyon tomorrow morning. Quite a party making the trip. Would you like to go?"
"Yes," I said.
"And I had the pleasure of seeing him write one mule for my name."—New York Press.

Truth in Preference to Fiction

GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, DEC. 6, 1907

AS TO RAILROAD RATES.

The railroad rate question has been much discussed matter during recent month, and there have time and again been hints of suggested compromises...

While not a few of the people think the rate should not have been made lower than 2 1/2 cents, the legislature saw fit to make it lower, hence they believed as the law had been made the railroads should obey the law.

The country has congress on its hands once more.

The game law does not protect people against getting shot.

People will never get good roads until they want them and are no longer content to drive along through the mud.

In issuing bonds for currency in time of peace, Mr. Roosevelt has proved that he is not above purloining one article of Governor Cleveland's wardrobe.

"Uncle" Joe Cannon will be Speaker of the short session of congress, which convened at noon today. He has been selected by the Republican caucus as his own successor, and with the large Republican majority the nomination means an election.

The Democratic members of the House of Representatives in caucus named Hon. John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, as their candidate for speaker. This means that Mr. Williams will be the floor leader of the Democrats at the present session of congress and, in our opinion, a better selection could not have been made.

YOU CANNOT BLAME THE WHITE MEN.

Recently The Reflector printed a news item taken from an exchange in reference to the concern the government postal authorities are having over the fact that so few white men stand examinations and apply for positions in the railway mail service.

For some time one of the railway mail clerks on the run between Weldon and Kinston has been a negro, and recently another negro has been added.

Since the service has been open to them many negro schools are making instruction in the mail service course of study so as to force as many of the race into it as possible, but even with this school training they are inefficient as mail clerks, for they are incapable of performing the duties. No one can blame the white men for keeping out of it when the service is being crowded with negroes.

It is time the congressmen themselves were interfering and putting in some objections to this condition, unless they want to see the mail service further crippled.

Perhaps the reason that Mr. Bryan does not want a campaign committee next time he runs is that he may be able to let down Chairman James K. Jones without hurting his feelings.

After getting licked in the election, Asheville saloon keepers appealed to the aldermen to give them a few months longer to do business. The aldermen sat down on the proposition.

The Durham Herald intimates that the ministry is open to Governor Glenn if he does not get what he wants after his term expires. If the ministry should get him there is no question about it having a good man who would honor the calling.

A society has been organized at Paterson, N. J., that has for its object the breaking up of the secret orders of the country. Perhaps this is only another of the anarchistic eruptions for which Paterson has become famous in late years.

They never get too old, it seems. Announcement is made that Senator H. G. Davis, of West Virginia, who is 84 years old, will take unto himself a wife about New Year.

Cotton may be quoted at ten cents but no loyal farmer can be quoted as agreeing to that price.

Now it is claimed that the economy of the shopping women who used to spend their pin money more freely, is the real cause of the panic. We knew the men would succeed in putting the blame on the women some time.

The fact that the bonds to be issued by the government were over subscribed by people who want to invest in them, shows that there is yet money in the land. If the money in hiding was brought out and put in circulation there would be no more danger of financial panics.

A young man in Mecklenburg county shot and killed a young lady, and after being arrested confessed his crime. Yet when the coroner investigated the matter the verdict of the jury was that the young woman was shot by some party unknown. That seems to about reach the limit.

The Coastal Canal and Mr. Small. "To Abolish Cape Hatteras" is the title of an interesting article on the Atlantic inland water-way in The Technical World Magazine for December, which is accompanied by a picture of Hon. John H. Small, Representative in Congress of the first district of North Carolina, who is spoken of as "the father of the inland water-way" and the success of whose seven years' fight is confidently foreshadowed.

Whether we agree or disagree with the political theories of Mr. William J. Bryan, says the Baltimore Sun, no one can deny his marvelous power as an orator. And it is certain that such lectures as that which he delivered in Baltimore Sunday afternoon are a powerful influence upon young men for upholding and sustaining good morals and the Christian religion.

Should the proposed coastal canal become an accomplished fact in the near future, and there is reasonable ground for believing that it will, no small measure of credit therefor will be due Representative John H. Small, of the first North Carolina district. Ever since his initial entrance into Congress several years ago, Mr. Small, while striving particularly in behalf of the Norfolk Beaufort link, has labored indefatigably to impress upon his colleagues in that body and upon the country at large the importance and value of connecting up the chain of interior water-ways which nature has provided along the Atlantic seaboard from Massachusetts to Florida.

Some Chicago married women have agreed not to kiss their husbands if there is the odor of liquor on the masculine breath. Now suppose the husbands prefer the foaming beer to osculatory bliss!

Three hundred and fifty million cold storage eggs are to be turned loose in Chicago, to offset the supply taken from the hold of the Atlantic liner, which aided the British hen in becoming a contemporary of the American hen.

For once Speaker Cannon's streak of economy bubbled in the right direction. He says the parcels post matter is not to be considered now. And it should not be considered at any other time, except to put it in the pigeon hole and let it stay there.

The board of trade of Norfolk will hold a meeting next Tuesday to consider the matter of reopening the Jamestown exposition for four months during next summer. We hope the movement in that direction will reach success.

The second class battleship Texas, the first armor-clad vessel of the modern United States navy, has been placed on the retired list at the Norfolk navy-yard. The jacksies hail with delight the "Twenty-three" bells rung on the Texas, for although conspicuous in the battle of Santiago, the vessel has always been regarded as a "hoodoo."

MR. BRYAN'S SUNDAY LECTURE.

Whether we agree or disagree with the political theories of Mr. William J. Bryan, says the Baltimore Sun, no one can deny his marvelous power as an orator. And it is certain that such lectures as that which he delivered in Baltimore Sunday afternoon are a powerful influence upon young men for upholding and sustaining good morals and the Christian religion.

being endowed with the mind which has produced such wonders in this world? That there was such a creative power is certain. When we see a house we know that there was a builder, and all the theories of agnostics cannot destroy that knowledge and no argument can dispel that fact. When we see an oak tree we know that it was built after a fashion that no human builder could achieve, but is built by a Builder nevertheless.

Now, the question which the scientists and skeptics and agnostics have never even attempted to answer is, What has become of the great Builder of the universe? Is it reasonable to suppose that such a Being was mortal and has died or ceased to exist? Is it conceivable that after having created so prodigious and wonderful a man with a spirit for which a kingdom is too small a bond, that the Creator should, if living, retire and lose interest in the work of his hands?

And such a theory would be too hard a tax upon human credulity; What, though in solemn silence, all Move round the dark terrestrial ball; What though no real voice nor sound Amid their radiant orbs be found? In reason's ear they never cease, And utter forth a glorious voice Forever singing as they shine The Hand that makes us is divine.

Thanksgiving is past and all the merchants are back and are out at night, looking forward to the next mile post, Christmas. A good number of new pupils are engaged rooms for the spring term. T. W. Wood & Sons 1907 turkeys at a bargain sale can now be had at the drug store of Dr. B. T. Cox & Bro.

Miss Louise Fleming, of House, spent Monday night with Miss Janie Kittrell. Have all your wood turning work done at the Carolina Milling & Mfg. Co. First class work done.

A. G. Cox and R. H. Hunsucker attended the sale of the Ayden Milling and Manufacturing Co. Monday. G. Tucker & Co. have purchased the stock of goods owned by H. L. Johnson and will continue the business in the same place. We regret to see Mr. Johnson go out of business, as he is one of our cleverest and best business men.

Rev. N. C. Duncan filled his regular appointment at the Episcopal church Sunday morning. The A. G. Cox Manufacturing company have now on file orders for a few of their old reliable gun cotton planters and simple guano sowers for spring shipment.

A. G. Cox, Mrs. G. E. Jackson, J. R. and Spurgeon Carroll went to Greenville Sunday to visit relatives. Hunsucker buggies are still going, if you want a nice up-to-date runabout buggy you had better give him an early call.

Monday a strange negro came to our town and sold John Sparkman a bicycle for ten dollars. Sparkman suspected something wrong, as ten dollars was so cheap for a wheel of that grade. He immediately phoned to Kinston in regard to the matter and learned that a negro had stolen a wheel and some clothes there. Sparkman attempted to catch the negro but the latter had too much speed. Mr. Hines of Greenville, was phoned for immediately and came with blood hounds. They trailed the negro to a pocusin between Winterville and Greenville but had to stop on account of darkness.

Mrs. Susan Jackson is having a residence erected near Dr. Cox's place. A house and lot conveniently located to business section of town, for sale. For terms see Ed Nelson, [Winterville]. The cold weather brings no dread to those having plenty bedding, blankets and comfort; a specialty at A. W. Angle and Co.

A new line of plaids and home spun at B. F. Manning & company. Now is the time to purchase your Box Body Carts while they are cheap. The A. G. Cox Manufacturing Co., have plenty of them on hand. Call and see them.

Another large lot of Men's and Ladies' Shoes just opened. Come and examine them. Harrington, Barber & Co.

Notice. I wish to say to my many friends that I am now with the Carolina Milling and Manufacturing company, where you can get all kinds of repair work done on short notice. Thanking you for your past favors. I also solicit a liberal share of your future patronage. Yours to serve, Jas. A. Manning.

One of the worst things about having any money is how restless you are to spend it so you won't have any.

Rubber shoes of all sizes and rubber coats at B. F. Manning & Co. Mr. J. J. Edwards, of the Carolina Milling & Manufacturing Co., has a list of all who receive their mail at his office. We also take orders for printing.

The road hands were treated yesterday. They are now working on what is known as the Swamp section in the neighborhood. So well are they doing their work the citizens are them a dinner.

They had a fifty two pound quarter of beef and Mr. Dick Cox had thirty seven potato custards for them—one custard for each hand. The way these were their good things furnished for the occasion, disappeared in the morning. There was indeed convincing evidence that the poor fellows know how to appreciate a good dinner as well as their poor mortals if they could only have had so good man of God to have to them the meaning of Thanksgiving how much it might have added to the occasion.

For fresh and cheap goods go to E. E. Dail & Co., they always have the best. Cotton is coming in more rapidly than for some time past. George Cooper and family are visiting relatives in Greensboro.

A Tasteless Chili tonic with iron, positive permanent relief in all cases and f. v. medicinal tonic only 25c at M. M. Saults' drug store, Ayden, N. C. We gladly welcome the return of Walter Barfield and family to their old home, Ayden. They have been living near Norfolk for the last year.

Mrs. Martha Stocks is visiting friends in Williams. J. R. Smith & Co. have just received a car load of time. Mack Taylor, is we are pleased to learn, very much better. Now for a new fall suit. Don't fail to see our line before you buy J. R. Turnage and Company. Car load Portland Cement at J. R. Smith & Co.'s.

Frank Jordan is off for the holidays. Your lady friend would appreciate one of those fancy boxes of Roysters candy at Saults' drug store, Ayden, N. C. F. Lilly and Mrs. Lilly are spending Thanksgiving with their parents at Maple Cypress. See our beautiful line of ladies dress goods before you buy. J. R. Turnage and company.

Mrs. W. J. Boyd and Lalla Rook are in Greensboro visiting the family of E. G. Cox. Keen Kutter, cutlery and hardware at J. R. Smith & Co. A great many Aydenites left home yesterday and a large number of visitors came here to spend Thanksgiving.

Buy a pair of our 400 patent leather shoes for men. Every pair guaranteed not to crack. R. Turnage and Company. We spent the day yesterday with our relative, J. J. Edwards, and had an excellent dinner and a good time. This is the time of the year that your face and hands chap so badly don't suffer with it but call at M. M. Saults' drug store and get a bottle of violet cream, only 25 cts. per bottle.

Gray Moore, of Swift Creek, was here Thursday. Go to E. E. Dail & Co.'s new market for beef, fresh meats, sausage and fresh fish. If reports are true another of Ayden's prince merchants will be whisking "Only We Two."

If you want a new fall suit, we have them. Latest styles and prices reasonable. J. R. Turnage and company. Croup! Pneumonia! Dangerous diseases. Require prompt treatment. VICK'S CROUP-PNEUMONIA SALVE is Emergency Doctor in your home. Delights of your money back. 25c trial size at drug stores.

Sale of Personal Property. On Wednesday, Dec. 11th, at the late residence of H. H. Moore, deceased, near staton's mill, I will sell at public auction for cash a lot of household and kitchen furniture, farming utensils, team, hogs, cattle, corn and fodder. This 13th day of Nov. 1907. M. M. Saults, Admrx of D. H. Moore.

A LITTLE NONSENSE. Bobby's Reason For Telling His Mother a Falseness. Four-year-old Bob was playing with a little girl named May who lived next door when some one saw Little May begin to cry and hurry home. Knowing Mother Bob's propensity for rough games, his mother called him to her and questioned him carefully as to what he did to hurt May.

CONDENSED STORIES. A Little Boy's Method of Capturing a Refractory Mule. Augustus Heinze in the course of a dinner on his yacht Revolution said of a certain mottled mule named 'Refractory': 'Oh, yes, it would be a good thing if it could be done, but there is no possible way to do it. Ask these reformers how they are going to put their ideas in operation and they give you answers that are about as practical as the little boy's method of catching the mule.'

ALL OVER THE HOUSE. Treatment For Tender and Perspiring Feet—Domestic Hoop. A splendid footbath, cooling and healing, is made by dissolving two ounces each of rock salt and borax with one of powdered alum. Put this in a wide mouthed bottle and use a tablespoonful to each gallon of water, soaking the feet well. Where the feet perspire a great deal they are always tender and the skin soft. A healing, soothing powder that should be used after a thorough soaking and drying is made of ten grains each of powdered alum and naphthalin, two-thirds of an ounce each of powdered borax and starch, a fifth of an ounce of salicylic acid, sifted with two ounces of best talcum powder.

CONDENSED STORIES. A Touchy Student. 'Come on out with me to the club, sport.' 'Can't. Don't you see I'm studying.' 'Studying what, pray?' 'When I can 'touch' next.'—Fleegende Blatter.

CONDENSED STORIES. A Technical One. 'The late Angelo Heilprin,' said a Philadelphia scientist, 'had a most learned and a most lucid mind. He could not merely master a question, he could lay it so clearly before you that you in a short while became master of it too.'

CONDENSED STORIES. Rusty Nail Wound. Grate potato and thicken over the fire in vinegar until it becomes the consistency of salve. Apply as salve on cloth and bind to any rusty nail wound, wire cut, etc. This has been known to prevent lockjaw and blood poisoning until a physician could be called to give treatment.

CONDENSED STORIES. A Kitchen Hint. If a glass tumbler into which very hot water has been poured gets on a tray or table during the process of being held in the hand it is much less apt to break.
