

The Missionary Camera — War Babies, St. Elizabeth's, Shanghai

DR. LULA DISOSWAY (third from left) in THE SPIRIT OF MISSIONS for March (pages 105-107) told how St. Elizabeth's Hospital in the heart of the International Settlement of Shanghai, is meeting the strain placed upon it by the current conflict in the East. Greatest pressure of war was felt in the maternity department where cases increased by leaps and bounds—the record number of deliveries was twenty in twenty-four hours; the record number in the nursery at one time was ninety-one. As the babies outnumber the nursery cribs, camp cots are used. Identity of babies is safeguarded by using numbers affixed to forehead and feet by adhesive
