

Fort Columbus

Oct. 29th 1861.

Capt. Sparrow has not congratulated, fruitably to express to "his friends the Misses Kendall", his sincere thankfulness for the timely & welcome offering of an excellent comforter & pillow.
His purpose to procure such necessaries would have been defeated by the unexpected order to pack up for Boston, but for the thoughtfulness of his new friends on the Island.
For this act of kindness, the Misses K. will be held in lasting remembrance by Capt.
S. and all his.

Most Sincerely

The
Misses Kendall
Gov's Island.

G. Sparrow

The
Miss Kendall

Mr Capt Sparrow please accept the Compliments & pillows for the Chairs to which you are referred to being much colder than this. You will require it. It was ~~Dr.~~ Dr. McDear's intention to supply you but he does not know of your removal. I am Yours Truly
James Kendall
