

this matter and should look to it.

OUR REPRESENTATIVES.—We are not in the habit of speaking flatteringly or extravagantly of our friends. It is too much like kissing one's own wife in company; but we must take a line to say that we feel a deal of County-pride at the many flattering expressions we hear from other quarters, of the industry, ability and high position of Mr. Donnell in the Senate, and Messrs. Sparrow and Windley in the Commons. It is not saying as much as might be truthfully said, to say that Mr. Donnell has not his superior in the Senate for legal ability, sound judgment and common sense, and the Commons has not a more useful, judicious and reliable member than Mr. Sparrow.

HOMICIDE.—A man by the name of Hogg killed another named Parish in the Planter's Hotel in Raleigh on the 11th inst. Hogg was a boarder and Parish the clerk.
