Dear Frank.

I'm here again, at last. Please forgive me for not writing sooner. I'm sorry, honestly.

No, I didn't get your address from Bill. But he mentioned that you were still with him, so I took a chance on sending it to the same place. Glad it reached you. (Gin's talking about the Christmas card!)

Do you suppose you'll still be together after you leave Norfolk? I hope so, for your sakes. Bill says he expects to be leaving Norfolk in a few weeks. Does that go for you, too?

Christmas is gone now - a whole month - but I must tell you how sorry I was not to be here to see you & Bill when you came home. I wish I could have met you, am awfully sorry I missed the chance. We went to Wilkes Barre for the holidays & had a wonderful time. It would have been pretty lonesome for us if we couldn't have gone.

The days seem to be getting longer, here now. It doesn't start to get dark until 6:30 - & just a few weeks ago it was dark at 5:00. Must be that Spring will soon be here. Hope so anyway!

School is still the same. We're having exams this week in our 2nd set of bookkeeping - & do I dread them! Report cards are due the first of next week.

How are you making out in school down there? Hope everything's okay - & that you're well and happy.

Everyone up here seems to have such awful colds. I'm just getting over one myself.

Our basketball team sure is swell this year. Wasn't lost one game yet this year & we don't expect them to. Looks as if we're going to take the championship again!

I'm still working at the Dixie, but I'm beginning to dislike it very much. It seems that everytime I go over to work something happens! Someone's always getting her fingers caught in the machines - & does that make me sick! Guess it's just as well I didn't go in training!

Well Frank, guess I'd have to close now, as I have quite a few more letters to write. Please write soon - and I'll try my best to answer immediately.

Until then - so long & be good.

Love,
Eddie

P.S. Maybe that chance of meeting you will come again sometime.

I hope so.
