

Miss Angela Brillo
550 Summit Ave
Schuylkill, Pa.

Monday, April 24, 1944.

Dear Frank,

I just finished writing to Ernie and as I'm answering your letter now - 'cause if I don't answer right away, I'll never answer it. I'm glad you wrote to Toni. She's really swell. I know you'll be glad to get mail from her. She's nothing like some of the girls are, if you know what I mean. She's on the up and up and you don't have to worry about her giving you a line, 'cause as I said, she's not the type. I'm also very glad you liked the picture I sent you of her. I'm enclosing another one. This one was taken at gold-tone - but it was taken up over again by a candid camera and this is how it turned out. How do you like it? I'll send you a picture of myself.

as soon as I have one taken.

I'm glad you liked the palm.
Frank, did Ernie get any mail from me yet? Did he get my picture yet? As many times as I wrote and asked him - he never answered that question, so try to find out and let me know.

I'm glad that you and Ernie get on so good together. It makes me feel good to know he's got a friend like you. By the way, how's Bill? I never heard anything about him anymore ever since the ship was commissioned so I should say, since you all went to sea. If you should see him, give him my regards and tell him I was asking about him.

How's everything with you? I was sorry to hear about you being sea-sick. I do hope you get used to it. I bet it's an awful awful feeling!! Well Frank, I do hope that you get used to it and I'm awfully glad that Ernie didn't get sick. I told him to stop teasing you — but I guess it's like talking to a brick wall!!

Well Franky I guess I'll close now and I'll write as soon as I hear from you again. So until then —

So long Frank,
God Bless you and take care of yourself.
I wish you the best of luck in getting over your sea-sickness.

So long Frank,
As Ever,

Angie.

"Give my love to Ernie."

P.S. I hope you don't ^{mind} my sending you pictures of Toni. But as soon as she gets to know you — she'll probably be doing the sending. But if you do mind, Let me ^{know} and I ~~will~~ won't so send any more. Frank, one thing, I want you to know is ~~that~~ don't think I'm trying to be Dan Cupid.

I'm not. The only reason I'm asking you to write to Toni was because she asked in a joking way to have you write to her and I took her up on it. It's ~~so~~ really all on friendly basis.
Now if anything else comes out of it — well — more power to both of you — but remember, I don't want to be forward about this.
I just want you to know that when I asked you to write to Toni, there wasn't any string attached. There's hoping you like the picture.

As Ever,

"Regie"
CH