Dear [illegible]:

Mrs Stark is annoyingly persistent in asking for money & pay bill amounting to about $175. Ainsworth says she will get her husbands written consent for this & be advanced. She has already over drawn as I previously stated to you about $200. How can it be done both amounts in this way? Or would it be best to settle with her at once? If you think it can be this and secure the $200. please see her at once.

I have written her today
