Dr. William Bloodworth, Chair
Department of English
College of Arts and Sciences
East Carolina University

Dear Professor Bloodworth:

I have carefully reviewed the revised code of the Department of English which was approved by the Faculty Senate. With the following modifications, I approve this revised code.

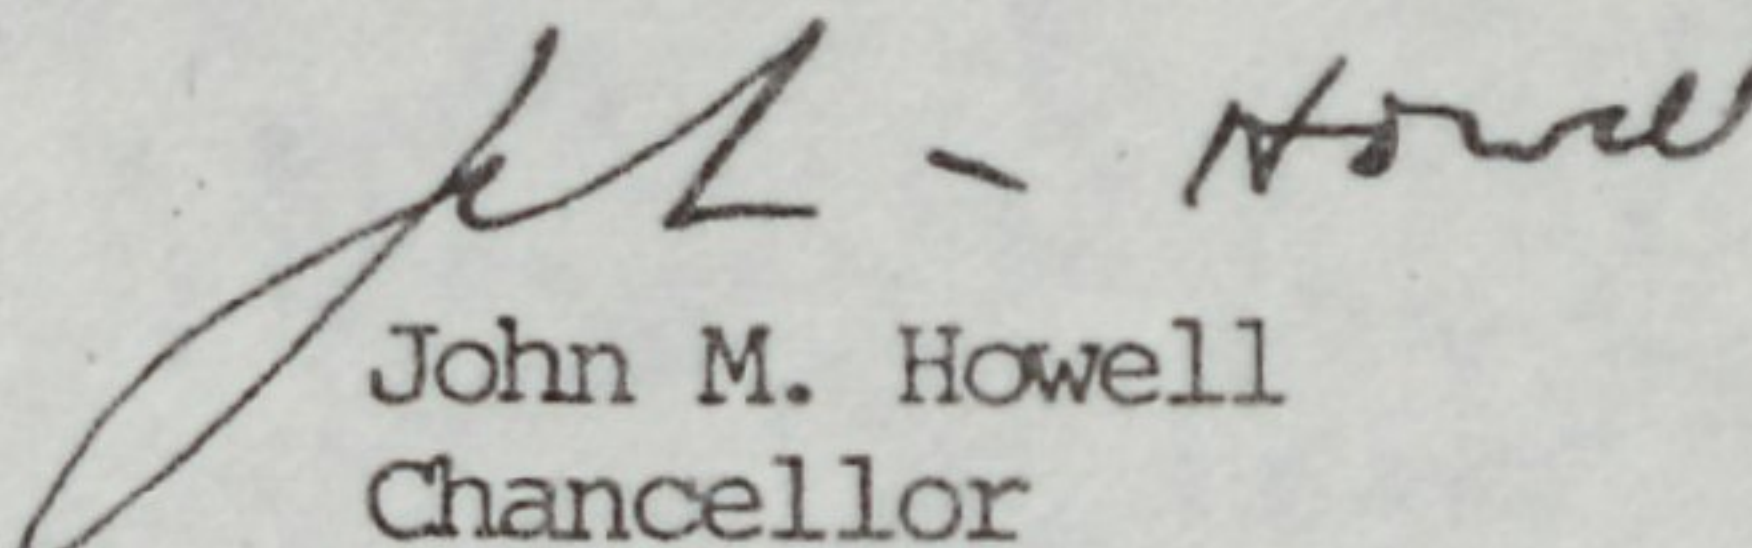

1. Section 1B, next to last paragraph. Omit everything up to line 5 through "that". The paragraph would then read "All University officials who hold tenured positions in the department, even if they have less than half a normal teaching or research program in the department, may vote on the matters listed above."

I believe this more accurately expresses what the code says and what you wish to do.

2. Section VII H. Please place the word "Departmental" following A at the beginning of the sentence. This makes it completely clear that a potential new appointee is not subject to the appeals process.

Both the content and written style of the code represent a new level of maturation of unit codes. You are to be commended for this achievement.

Sincerely,

John M. Howell
Chancellor
