

The UNC-TLTC is finalizing plans for its annual conference to be held April 11-13, 2002, at the Koury Center in Greensboro. Noted below is an early announcement of this conference. The conference planners are seeking information from the campuses on what types of workshop/seminar topics would be of most interest to our faculty, staff, librarians and administrators - and if anyone would like to present on a specific topic at the conference.

Sandra Huskamp at ext. 328-6885 will be happy to pass along any information a faculty member would like to have forwarded to the Planning Committee.

Although all plans have not been finalized by the Planning Committee of the UNC-TLTC, this year's conference will be held April 11-13, 2002, at the Koury Center in Greensboro. ECU sent approximately 12 people to the conference in Wilmington last year. The 2002 conference will include a larger participation by faculty. As most of the expenses for conference participants (including lodging and food) are paid for by the TLTC, each campus will need to "select/recommend" its participants. It is planned now that the Faculty Assembly Technology Committee (or some other Faculty Assembly group) will select approximately 100 faculty participants. Each Board member will select 5 additional participants from each campus, and the remaining 75 or so will be distributed among the 16 campuses based on the number of applications received. The more interest shown in the conference, the greater our opportunity for participation.
