Dear ECU Faculty:

I am writing to encourage your attendance at a special event conducted by UNC President Erskine Bowles and the UNC Board of Governors. The UNC Tomorrow initiative seeks to determine how our university system can proactively anticipate and identify the needs facing our state over the next twenty years. As part of the initiative, President Bowles and a blue ribbon commission are traveling the state to hold faculty listening forums to hear your direct input and advice.

ECU will host a faculty forum on October 30th at 2:00 pm. On behalf of President Bowles and the Board of Governors, I would like to invite you to attend. This event is an opportunity to offer suggestions and thoughts from a faculty perspective on how to prepare our universities to meet the future needs of North Carolina.

If you plan to attend the forum, please register online at <http://www.ecu.edu/cs-admin/chancellor/facultyforum.cfm> to help us determine an appropriate location. We will distribute more information at a later date regarding the location. Should you have specific questions about the event, please contact Philip Rogers, policy analyst in my office, at 252-328-2582.

I encourage you to visit www.nctomorrow.org to learn more about the University of North Carolina Tomorrow initiative. We value your suggestions and welcome your participation in this important endeavor.

Sincerely,

Steve Ballard

Chancellor
