STUDENT'S CORNER

If you don't know who Frances Sutherland is-it's hecause you don't keep up with what happens around your school If you don't know her-well, you have missed one of the friendliest personalities on the campus.

She's popular, proved by her being voted the most popular member of her class in the senior superlatives and she's pretty; she was featured in last year's annual. After my third trip to her room in Cotten Hall I was about to leave without my interview when I met her at the head of the stairs and although she was on her way to the movies with a friend, Frances graciously asked me into her friend's room and after much probing I finally got her to tell me about some of the things she has Frances is vice-president of the senior class, a member of the student council and Y. W. C. A. Cabinet.

Frances, who is practice teaching in eleventh grade English, says that hiking is her hobby. (All practice teachers will understand that) English and Science are her majors but she is planning to go into social welfare work.

Although she was a day student during her freshman year. Frances has been outstanding during her entire college career. A member of the May Court in her sophomore year and February 14. Ah, yes. Now I associate editor of the Techo Echo as a junior are among the remember. I'm going home! Go- activities in which she has participated.

Collecting monkeys is a hobby and I got it from her friends right. Maybe I'm supose to do that she also collects bobby pins.

Frances likes tennis, swimming, football and basketball

She likes bubble baths and detests snakes. Frances, who hails from Wilmington, was one of the few members of the senior class who were selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Last Year Frances was a delegate to the Intercollegiate Student Government Association in New Orleans. Frances is doing her bit for defense by knitting for the Red Cross, for sailors or aviators, I couldn't get which.

This Week's Outstanding Athlete

Introducing Jack "Father" Young, this week's outstandathlete. This popular football and basketball star was born Richmond, Va., from where he moved to Burnsville, a little! on situated in the towering Great Smokies of Western Caroa. He has lived here the greater part of his life. He attended school in Georgia.

This young man weighs 195 lb. and is over six feet in ght. Jack proved himself to be one of the most deadly! ckers on the Pirate eleven during the past football season. Whenever one of the gang intercepted a pass, "Father" miraculously appeared as a personal blocker; and he couldn't ave been more efective if he had had an ax. To see his big the body in action on a basketball court is a thrill. Jack has been one of Coach John's mainstays in the cage game for the past three winters, and he is proving himself just as capable

During last football season, while brother Bob was at Richmond in the hospital with a serious head injury, received the opening game with Tusculum College, Jack didn't miss a game-kept winning 'em for Robert, and the Rabbitt resuperated and came off the "cooling plank" okay. Big Jack, too, has to help the rest of the boys check Flem-

The intramural basketball tournament is meeting with great success these days. Every game has been hotly contested and the final round this week will afford students the chance to see some spirited rivalry.

The Tornadors led by Capt. Dick Gauldin have jumped into the lead with four straight victories against no defeats. The club is favored to cop the tournament with the help of its high scorer Dan Waddell. However the quint will receive stern competion from the up and coming Tarheels and also the Bobcats and Professors.

The mural boys will especially be playing their best to gain positions on the all-mural team. When selected at the conclusion of the current tournament the mural team will meet Coach Johns fine reserve team as a feature before one of the final varsity games.
