

E. Davis Elected President By Women's Student Body

Estelle Davis, junior from Seaboard, N. C., and president of the Lanier Literary Society, was elected president of the Women's Student Government Association for 1942-43 in the recent campus elections held March 11, 1942. Estelle defeated Bessie Faye Hunt, from Wilmington, N. C., after a second counting of the ballots, for this office.

Jane Vann of Clinton was elected vice-president of the association; Joyce Watson of Morganton, secretary; and Virginia Cooke of Greenville will assume the duties of treasurer. Succeeding Frances Sutherland as Chairman of the Campus Committee, will be Katherine Sawyer of Greenville.

For the first time in the history of the W. S. G. A. there will be a day student representative on the Women's Council. Christine Hellen of Greenville was chosen for this office.

Ruth Tucker of Townsville and Merle Slater of Greenville were elected representatives to the Publications Board.

House presidents are: Cotten Hall, Kit Morton of Kinston, Dorothy Sasser of Wilmington, and Sue Parker of Pollockville; Fleming Hall, Arline Mercer of Black Creek and Doris Hockaday of Raleigh; Jarvis Hall, Lorraine Horne of Burgaw and Dorothy Shearin of Littleton; and Wilson Hall, Virgil Ward of Williamston and Helen Flynn of Washington, N. C.

Contest Play To Be Presented By Chi Pi Players

Under the direction of Clifton Britton, Rainbows in Heaven, a one act comedy by Weldon Stone, will be entered by the Chi Pi Players in the district preliminary for the North Carolina dramatics festival at Raleigh, N. C. on March 28, 1942. If the production receives a rating of a "one" at the Raleigh presentation, the play will go to the University of North Carolina, where at a later date it will compete for the State championship.

Russell Rogerson, well known on the ECTC stage, plays the leading role, that of Lem Scaggs, a whittler who carves fish so realistically that they come to life. Supporting Russell will be: Bernice Freeman as Myra Scaggs, Janie Eakes as Granny, Jack Young as Garne, Lois Sessoms as Littlun, and Fenly Spear as Parson.

Assisting Clifton Britton as director is Ruth Bray. Christine Hellen will serve as prompter and Ophelia Hooks as stage manager.

Mary Lee Ernest, Baptist Worker, Vespers Speaker

Speaker at the YWCA Vesper Service at the College Sunday evening, March 22 was Miss Mary Lee Ernest, Baptist Student Secretary, for the past three years.

Miss Ernest used as her theme "Going into the Deep with Jesus" and opened her talk by calling to mind an incident in the life of Jesus when he was pressed by the crowd waiting to hear his teachings, he borrowed a boat from Simon Peter and, pushing out into the deep and taught the crowd from there. "We need," Miss Ernest declared, "to go into the deep with Christ in thinking." A great need among college students is to think and to think creatively. We need to be open-minded. There is no danger in open-minded attitudes if Christ is there. The mind is at its highest when it is at the feet of Christ.

The second challenge offered by the speaker was to go into the depth of living with Christ. Most of us are not living; just existing. As a college student remember that Christ said, "I came that ye might have life, have it more abundantly."

Go into the depth with Christ in service, also, said Miss Ernest, "Is your life a Sea of Galilee or a Dead Sea?" Miss Ernest asked, "Is your channel of service choked? Is it big enough? How deep is your service?"

New Department Will Be Headed By Dr. F. P. Brooks

The college will begin next fall term with a new department of instruction in the important field of health, according to information received from President L. R. Meadows.

The new department, that of Health and Physical Education, will be headed by Dr. Frederick P. Brooks of Greenville, M. D. and Ph. D., and will coordinate the present student health program of the college, the work of the Physical Education Department, and the health courses that have previously been a part of the Science Department. To help get the department organized, the General Education Board of the Rockefeller Foundation has made a grant of $5,000 to the college, for use during the next biennium.

Composing the staff of the department in addition to Dr. Brooks will be O. A. Hankner, John B. Christenbury, and Miss Dorothy Parks, the present physical education faculty, who will continue with the work they are doing; Dr. E. B. Aycock of Greenville who will be assistant college physician; Miss Stella Grogan and Miss Mary R. Robertson, who will remain as head of the college infirmary and assistant nurse, respectively; and Miss Marguerite Austin, who will continue to teach the hygiene courses she has had in the Science department.

According to the plans outlined, Dr. Brooks, who has his degree of doctor of philosophy from the University of North Carolina and of doctor of medicine from the University of Virginia, will present a paper on "The Health of the Nation" at the SGA Convention on Page Four

Students Attend SGA Convention

Realizing the need for acquainting incoming Council officers with their duties as student government leaders, a Southern Inter-Collegiate Conference is held annually for this purpose with new officers representing their respective colleges as delegates.

On Thursday, March 19th through the 21st, the twenty-seventh annual conference was held at Randolph-Macon Woman's College in Lynchburg, Va. with a total representation of ninety three delegates.

Many phases of student government were discussed and ideas exchanged during informal meetings. Also playing a vital part in the conference discussion was the ever important place of the colleges and universities in national defense.

Speeches included a welcome by Dr. T. H. Jack, President of Randolph-Macon, "Defense Work" by Miss Jane Seaver, office of Civilian defense in Washington, D. C. and an address by Dean Harriet Elliott of WCUNC.

Delegates representing ECTC were Harriet Marshburn, president of the WSGA and Estelle Davis and Jane Vann, incoming president and president respectively.

Charlie Spivak

Charlie Spivak's Orchestra To Play Here March 31st

"Watch Charlie Spivak and his orchestra in 1942." That is becoming the by word in music circles everywhere. "The man who plays the sweetest trumpet in the world," and who has been acclaimed by the toughest music critics as "the band of 1942" will present a concert here March 31 at 8:30 p. m. and play for a tea dance in the afternoon from 4:30 until 5:30.

Spivak's rise to fame closely resembles Glenn Miller's bid for recognition. Before forming their own bands, both were high priced free lance musicians. Glenn first gained national prominence during his stay at Glen Island Casino and that's where Charlie, who proved to be the biggest draw ever to play at Glen Island Casino, first captured the ears of the nation's radio listeners. Another contrasting feature between Miller and Spivak is that they both made their stage debut at the Earle Theatre in Washington, D. C. It was Glenn Miller who suggested that Spivak leave Jack Teagarden's band and form a band of his own. He took this advice and last season he formed his own band which has made rapid strides toward the top.

The young orchestra leader is five feet eight inches tall, weighs 150 pounds, has brown hair and brown eyes, and is thirty years old. While playing with Benny Pollack's Band in St. Paul, Minn., he married after a whirlwind romance. They have one son, Joel, 6, and the biggest kick Spivak gets out of life is listening to and repeating the bright sayings of his son.

Charlie Spivak's biggest triumph to date is his engagement to play for the Harvest Moon Ball, sponsored by the New York Daily News, in Madison Square

Registration Small Spring Quarter

Approximately a little over one thousand students enrolled here for the spring quarter on March 19, 1942 though no accurate figures are yet available as to the number enrolled. Last quarter the enrollment was 1135.

Even though the size of the student body is to be somewhat below normal for the spring quarter, enrollment at this college has been affected less so far than that at most colleges and universities. According to statistics released by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the average loss in enrollment for the fall term in institutions of higher learning was approximately 15 per cent.

Teachers Meeting

Dr. Leon R. Meadows, Miss Alma Browning, Miss Eunice McGee, Dr. W. A. Browne, Dr. E. L. Henderson, and Miss Estelle McClees, represented East Carolina Teachers College at the State Teachers' meeting in Raleigh yesterday, where President Meadows was elected Chairman of the Department of Higher Education.

In the afternoon members of the ECTC delegation were entertained at a tea at the Hugh Morson High School given by the Raleigh branch of the college alumni. In the receiving line were the President and Mrs. Leon R. Meadows, the ECTC faculty members, and officers of the chapter.

High School Day Program To Be Suspended For 1942

World Situation Discussed Here By Kaltborn

"The United Nations should win the war in Europe in two more years," declared H. V. Kaltborn in his lecture in Wright Auditorium last Wednesday night. He also expressed the opinion that it would probably take a year longer to lick the Japs than it will to end the war with the Nazis. Mr. Kaltborn stressed the importance of the next few weeks in the battle for strategic positions in Germany occupied Russia. If the Russians can recapture key points such as Smolenisk, then the coming German offensive might be blocked. This famous radio commentator felt sure that Hitler did not have enough resources to fight on two major fronts, thus the importance of a new front in Europe. With his extensive background and knowledge of the peoples of Europe, he felt sure that Italy would be the place to launch such a drive because he thought the people of Italy were more nearly ready for a revolution which would throw out the dictators for good.

Mr. Kaltborn has met Hitler and Mussolini, and his description of the dictators was unique. Mussolini is more nearly a "human dictator" than is Hitler. Mussolini likes sports, languages, drinks, and knows something of foreign culture. Hitler is, according to our commentator, very narrow, limited and completely dominated by his emotions.

New Standards Of Scholarship To Be Required

In response to a recent feeling on the part of the college faculty that the standards of scholarship should be raised here, new regulations were made on grades and scholarship, at a meeting of the faculty last quarter.

The new regulations were made after the faculty had investigated the standards required by ninety other colleges. It was found that seventy-four of these schools used the new system or a similar one.

Students graduating in June will not be affected by this plan. It will go into effect next September and all students whether they have attended ECTC previously or not will be required to meet these standards.

The plan as it will appear in the new catalogue is as follows: Grades And Scholarship

A quality point system is used to calculate student scholarship standing. The grades 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and C are used; in which "1" is the highest grade given, "4" the lowest passing grade, and "5" is a failing grade. A grade of "C" indicates an incomplete or condition on a course.

The grade "1" gives 3 quality points a quarter hour for each course so marked; the grade "2" gives two quality points a quarter hour for each course so marked; the grade "3" gives one quality point a quarter hour for each course so marked; the grade "4" gives no quality points; and the grade "5" deducts one quality point a quarter hour for each course so marked.

When a student fails to maintain the minimum quality of scholarship indicated below, he shall be ineligible to re-register in the college:

(a) at the end of the first year (3 quarters)—35 quarters hours of credit and 30 quality points.

(b) at the end of the second year (6 quarters)—85 quarter hours of credit and 85 quality points.

(c) at the end of the third year (9 quarters)—135 quarter hours of credit and 135 quality points.

See Standard on Page Four

"For the first time in the past seven years due to the present world crisis, East Carolina Teachers College will not have its annual High School Day", stated Dr. Carl Adams, psychology instructor and former chairman of the High School Day Committee.

As the government has been insisting upon the cooperation of every institution as well as the citizens in the rationing of gas and tires, the committee has decided to suspend the High School Program for 1942 only, since it would take hundreds of gallons of gasoline and a great deal of wear on tires to transport such a large number of high school students to this institution.

In previous years the high schools have responded enthusiastically to this program. Last year 3,274 high school seniors attended this event.

The program usually consisted of Registration and an address by President Meadows in the mornings followed by a barbecue luncheon on back campus. The afternoon program featured a movie, baseball game, tennis games, and dancing in the Wright Building.

There was also a musical program presented by bands of the various High schools who also played for the parade led by the presidents of the Men's and Women's Student Government Associations.

According to Dr. Adams, this suspension is for one year only.

Fifteen Seniors Complete College Careers In March

According to Miss Ellen Bowen, Chairman of the College Placement Bureau, six of the fifteen students who graduated in March have jobs and are now working. It was also announced that all of the students who received their degrees in December have been placed.

Among the March graduates who have already been placed are: Norma Davis, teaching in Cleveland (Johnston County) School; Franklin Kyser, teaching in the Washington High School; Nina Gatling, teaching in Powellsville; Charles Marks, teaching in Roanoke Rapids; Christine Schrog, who is assistant Home Demonstration agent in Beaufort County; and David Watson, who is working at the Marine base at New River, N. C.

Others graduating in March were: Della Barkley, Charles Futrelle, Robert Hollar, Daisy Raye Jones, Leon Arthur Justice, Ada Savage, Mabel Kennedy, Elizabeth Merritt, Erlene Mitchell, and Margie Claire Spivey.

Music Festival To Be Held Here

A spring program of musical entertainment suggestive of various choral and band groups has been planned under the direction of Mr. A. L. Dittmer of ECTC, Miss Ona Shindler and Mr. J. H. Rose of the high school.

Though transportation has been curtailed; it is hoped that every high school district in eastern North Carolina will participate in the annual music festival and contest to be held at ECTC on March 27th and 28th.

On Friday morning, March 27th, the judging of all glee clubs will take place. In the afternoon, the festival chorus will have its rehearsal and will present a concert that night, directed by Mr. P. B. Oncley of WCUNC.

The various bands will follow a similar schedule with a parade arranged for Saturday morning, and a mass number played by all the bands immediately after their return to the school.

Easter Pageant To Be Presented April 4 and 5

"Victory Over Death," the Easter pageant which was presented by the YWCA and YMCA for the first time last year will be presented again this year on Easter Sunday and Monday evenings, April 4 and 5 at 8:30 o'clock in Austin Auditorium.

A large number of students and faculty members are working with this production. Clifton Britton wrote the script, basing it upon the story taken from the Bible. Much research and work has gone into the writing of "Victory Over Death," which Mr. Britton feels will bring to those who have never seen it before the true meaning of Easter.

Members of the cast are: John W. B. Harris; Peter Walter Mallard; Mary (Mother of Jesus) Martha Rice; Thomas Clyde Mann; Joanna Charlotte Shearin; Historian, Bessie Faye Hunt; First Priest, Billy Fowler; Second Priest, Kenneth Lane Henderson; Judas, Kenneth Woolard; Pilate, Mr. Rossell; First Guard, W. S. Johnson; Counsellor, Clyde Carter; Bengar, Henry Barkley; Medad, Jim White; Servant, Eloise Barefoot; Julia, Kate Brayn Parker; Ladies in waiting, Coral Humphries, Kathleen Barkley; Barabbas, Jack Young; Martan, Donald Perry; Mary Magdalene, Hazel Harris; The other Mary, Katherine Brown; See Pageant on Page Four

Senior Activities

In a recent interview with Ida Ruth Knowles, president of the senior class, concerning the activities of the class, Ida Ruth stated that Vivacious Lady had been selected for the senior play for 1942. The play will be directed by Clifton Britton and try-outs will be held some time next week. At the time of the interview, no definite date had been set, however, Ida Ruth stated that a notice concerning the try-outs would be placed on the bulletin board.

Seniors who wish to order graduation invitations are asked to place their orders at the college stationery store. Ida Ruth said that no deposit would be required and that all students who have not been measured for their caps and gowns should do so at once in the stationery store also.

Editor And Business Manager Of Three Publications Elected

Rosalie Brown

Rosalie Brown, Greenville Sophomore, and Harry Jarvis, Freshman from Hopewell, Va., were elected editor and business manager, respectively of the Teco Echo for 1942-43 in the recent publication elections.

Rosalie succeeds Mary Horne, and Harry will assume the duties of Mary Agnes Deal.

Janie Eakes, also of Greenville was chosen to succeed Lallah B. Watts as editor of the college yearbook, the Tecocon. The business staff of the Tecocon will be headed by Lois Sessoms of Ahoskie.

Heading the editorial and business staffs of Pieces of Eight, literary magazine, are Burchie Smith of Aurora and Mary Jordan of Aurora.

"Y" News

Holy Week Services: The YWCA and the YMCA and all of the denominational groups on the campus are cooperating in the observance of a noontime meditation during Holy Week which begins on Monday, March 30 and continues through Saturday, April 4. These meetings will be held in the "Y" hut from 1:30 P. M. to 1:45 P. M. They will begin and close on time in order that students who have afternoon classes may attend. Through these meditation periods an effort is being made to help prepare us for the observance of Easter.

Miss Jimmie Woodward, YWCA secretary of the University of North Carolina, was on the campus this past Friday afternoon, Saturday and Sunday morning. At 4:00 P. M. Friday the guest met with the "Y" cabinet and together they talked over problems that confront the cabinet. Miss Woodward was speaker at the Vesper Service Friday evening. From 10:30 Saturday morning until 12:30 P. M. Miss Woodward held open house in the "Y" reading room. A number of students dropped in to chat. All were impressed with her enthusiasm and by her knowledge of "Y" work. She doesn't believe in being idle, and as she talked to the interested students she was busy sewing. A tea was given in honor of the visitor in the "Y" hut Saturday afternoon.

Miss Woodward is an advocate of discussion groups. "The important thing," she said, "is to stop talking about having them and start doing something about it." She thinks it would be a good idea to substitute a discussion group every other Friday evening in place of the Vesper Service.

Rehearsals for the Easter pageant are in progress. The pageant has been somewhat revised, and it is expected to be fully as impressive and beautiful as it was last year.

Double Absences

Recently the following report was given to the student body in Mass Meeting, to the School Council, and to the College faculty. All three groups accepted the report and the suggested regulations therein are now in effect.

Findings of the Committee appointed by the president of the Women's Student Government, at the request of the student body, in Mass Meeting January 27, 1942, to discuss the cut situation and to report suggestions for a solution:

Because of pressure brought to bear by the Board of Trustees on the faculty and administration of East Carolina Teachers College some action had to be taken concerning the numerous absences from classes, especially on week-ends.

Therefore, the faculty and administration requested that Article IV, Section 8, of the College Regulations be enforced. This regulation reads: "Week-end permits do not excuse students from attending classes. When a week-end is referred to in this Handbook it must be construed as meaning the time intervening between the last class of one week and the first class of the next week."

Since the foregoing regulation would affect only dormitory students, it was, therefore, necessary, in fairness to dormitory students, for the faculty and administration to take some action to control the absences of day students. The regulation that all absences on Friday, Saturday, and Monday (and at a later date Tuesday was included) be considered as double absences unless due to an emergency or representation of the college or college activity.

The removal of the regulation in Article IV, Section 8, of the College Regulations, will have to be done by the School Council, which is scheduled to meet once each quarter and which is composed of the President of the College as chairman, the Dean of Women, Miss Annie L. Morton, the Dean of Men, Dr. Herbert ReBarker, three faculty members, Miss Dora Coates, Dr. R. L. Hilldrup, and Mrs. Adelaide Bloxton; the members of Women's Student Council; and the members of the Men's Student Council.

"My Grandmother Tol' Me"

by Dr. H. J. McGinnis

E. C. T. C. students, "they say", seem to be somewhat alarmed over a story that has leaked out to the effect that "My grandmother tol' me" that one of the janitors on the campus has it straight because he heard a stranger passing through the campus say he was talking with a marine visiting in Greenville over the week end who got a tip from a filling station operator who is in close touch with college affairs that a secret faculty meeting called by the campus policeman had decided that hereafter students would get credit only for courses on which they made grades of "one" or "five"; that a grade of "one" would carry the usual credit of the course and that a grade of "five" would entitle the student to double credit on the course. We can not vouch for the story, and it seems a bit over-drawn.

There are some facts for which we can vouch, viz: 1. There was a faculty meeting, 2. it was not secret, 3. it did consider certain matters concerning scholarship standards in the college, and 4. it did revise some of the regulations concerning scholarship and the calculating of scholastic standings of students.

Now, let's look into these rumored new regulations and see if the visions witches "conjured up" are as hideous as "My mammy tol' me" says they are. A quality point-credit hour plan is substituted for the former unsatisfactory grade-point plan, because the new plan is most commonly used among other state teachers colleges; it puts a premium on better than average grades; it puts a penalty on failures; it thus stimulates better scholarships; it is easily calculated by any student and his totals can be kept quarter by quarter in his course-book so he may know at all times where he stands scholastically. Basically, this plan is almost identical with the old plan.

Here is what the new plan is: Grades made on courses at E. C. T. C. shall have these values—a grade of "1" earns 3 quality points a quarter hour on the course; a grade of "2" earns 2 quality points a quarter hour on the course; a grade of "3" earns 1 quality point a quarter hour on the course; a grade of "4" earns no quality points; and a grade of "5" deducts 1 quality point a quarter hour on the course.

Now, to encourage any half-hearted students, who might be lurking around, to begin putting in some good ticks during the first and second years, or to encourage them to go home and help mother and dad instead of wasting time and dad's money, this further provision is made which is only slightly different from what is found in some of the better state teachers colleges.

"When a student fails to maintain the minimum standard of scholarship indicated below, he shall be ineligible to re-enroll in the college:

At the end of the first year (three quarters)—35 quarter hours and 30 quality points; at the end of the second year (six quarters)—85 quarters and 85 quality points; at the end of the third year (nine quarters)—135 quarter hours and 135 quality points.

How soon should one discover that he can not emulate the cow in the Mother Goose simile by jumping over the moon? Or how long should one fritter away time and money on a task before settling down to putting his best efforts into it? You will notice that what seems to be ample allowance is made for getting adjusted by setting the figures well below the average number of credits and quality points earned by students in a given period of time. During the first year it is about three fourths of the normal. And the standard is progressive, as it should be, by the beginning of the third (junior) year the student must have and maintain at least as many quality points as he has quarter hours earned. So—don't play around too much, or sleep through classes, or go off on many "weak" ends if you have a real burning desire, backed by sizeable amounts of gray matter, for a college degree.

And finally, dear brethren, though we believe Shakespeare had one of his characters say, "politics is an ass", it can be said, conversely, "colleges are not inhuman." They are reasonable things, or try to be; even college teachers and college administrators are human and have lucid moments, at least, occasionally. They have all experienced the struggles and known the anxieties as well as the joys of students days; all have been freshmen as well as seniors, and they are in full sympathy with those now in college, but—they must keep faith, not only with the students currently enrolled, but with those who have gone before and those yet to come; with the public as well which puts its money into financing the college; with the accrediting agencies that represent the public by improving the quality of the standards set up; with the parents, some of whom can't afford to send their children to college, and who do not want to do so unless the training received results in the acquiring of the knowledge and the skills that enable their sons and daughters to be self-supporting, good citizens, and worthy children of worthy parents.

STUDENT'S CORNER

May we present Edna Mitchell. Of course, if you readers are music or English majors, or frequent attendants at the Sunday night vesper services, such an introduction is superfluous. You'll readily associate the name Edna Mitchell with the quietly smiling face in the picture.

Everyone has read about people who were born with a silver spoon in their mouths. This is a different spoon. This time the spoon is a musical spoon and if such ability is innate Edna spends much of her time accompanying the glee club, the choir, the orchestra, and individuals as well as practicing for her own solo and duet piano work. She acts also as music chairman on the "Y" cabinet, having as one of her first duties to be pianist at the vesper services. Though the piano is her major instrument, this red haired musician does not confine her musical talents to one phase of the field. In the band she plays a French horn; in the choir she is a leading soprano. She admits shyly that besides being interested in piano "I like to try to sing a little." This quarter, her last at ECTC, she is studying voice under Mr. Denton Rossell.

Upon graduation this talented senior plans to teach, an ambition which she has cherished since she started to school. Teaching will be her profession but hidden deep in her heart is another desire . . . to play a pipe organ.

Poised and self confident, Edna has presided over the English Club and been responsible for numerous enlightening programs concerning literature and current magazines. Last year she was secretary of the Club. For two years Edna has done NYA work in the English department under Dr. Lucille Turner. So efficient and indispensable has she been that many times Dr. Turner has playfully spoken of her as "my private secretary."

Early this year Edna was selected to be in Who's Who among students in American Universities and Colleges on the basis of her character, leadership, and scholarship exhibited at ECTC.

In addition to the campus offices, Edna is the State secretary-treasurer of the North Carolina State Christian Movement, composed of all the "YW's" and "YM's" in the state.

When commencement rolls around, Edna will have earned her vacation, in which she will make up for lost loafing and reading. "There is nothing that I like better than to read . . . and it has to be a variety, autobiography, novels and poetry sometimes . . . unless its to work crossword puzzles. By summer I should have collected enough to last the entire vacation," she comments.

Edna excels in everything she does. She is noted for her efficiency and her desire to be accurate, as well as for her friendly attitude and her desire to please.

STUDENT OPINION

Greenville and the East Carolina Campus are so rarely the scene of concerts and semi-formal entertainments that the students does not often stop to unpack her Sunday manners.

For instance, at the concert given by the National Symphony Orchestra, the audience, though an appreciative one, did not entirely cooperate with Mr. Kindler.

Good music should be appreciated in silence. When the leader raises his baton, that is the signal for silence so that the music may begin. We students at the concert given recently, were so busy discussing the program with our neighbors that we did not notice this signal, and Mr. Kindler had to start the music to drown out the noise.

During the selections we were guilty of whispering and stirring about. This probably proclaims in Capital letters the fact that we are not oriented in proper social usage.

You cannot thoroughly appreciate the last chords of music if they are lost in the applause. Most conductors like to be the master of the situation, and therefore, we should wait until they turn around to face the audience to proclaim our praise.

And remember, if you must have a cold then you won't enjoy the concert and neither will your neighbors—probably you'd better depend upon the radio for entertainment.

Come on, students, next time our campus rates a really fine entertainment, let's let them rate an understanding and a courteous audience. We can shake the moth balls out of our manners at intervals and make ECTC a regular metropolis, at least from the standpoint of musical appreciation.

SCUMMING

by Uno Who

"What did you make on English?—You did? Well, CENSORED if I did. That old ALSO CENSORED gave me a 5 and I know . . . And what about Education? My gosh, I can't graduate now . . ." Well, frankly, people, I'm fed up with the subject of grades, so I think I'll turn from the highly serious to the lowly lower layer, that which is responsible for part of the grades—good 'er bad as they might be—to the dirt of this noble institution.

It's been rumored around all during my college career that Doug Jones was a fast worker, but mercy on us, I had no idea how fast. He must have the strength of Superman or the technique of Tyrone Power—anyway, it sho' didn't take him long to forget Dopey, look around a bit, and then literally grab Savonne right out of Woody's hands. Personally, I don't get it, but then I ain't a duck.

Mary Holland Ferrell isn't doing so bad for herself these days, the lucky man (Yeah, you might know there's a man connected with it somewhere) is Bob Adams, and "he's not a high school lad!" Mary emphasized.

"Lib" Thomason took the fatal step, or walked the last mile during Spring Holidays. What I mean is, she got married. Congratulations and all that stuff, "Lib".

Flash, Scoop and what have you, but listen, women. There's a new co-ed on campus, "Buddy" Murray from Raleigh, a transfer from Wake Forest. Now don't crowd girls, he'll keep. After all, selecting one out of 1,000 is quite a task, so give the guy a break . . . maybe you'll get the Jack-Pot, or should I say the Jack-Pot?

This sugar shortage, is getting desperate . . . in the eatable form, but from the looks of the front (and sometimes the back) campus, there definitely isn't a shortage of the other kind, if you get what I mean!

A desperate plea for the name of the brown eyed blond who works in the P. O. She's Minnie Quinn and resident of Jarvis Hall and a Senior. Hey what's this column getting to be? . . . an investigation bureau? Aw, gee, it's really nothing, just call me J. Edgar, Jr.

I never knew Cotton and Holly were classed together . . . in the biological sense . . . but it seem that a guy by the name of Holly is really inhabiting Cotten. The reason, "Hattie" Marshburn.

S'long, folks, and if you'll just bare with me, maybe this part of the rag won't die. You know what I mean when I say bare with me . . . not in the same way the burlesque queen meant when she said "Bare and Forbare" as she did her number . . . but gimme some dirt.

The North State Conference Question . . .

There is always some question arising about ECTC entering a conference. Despite efforts to make this a full realization the possibility is very remote, at least for the next few years. Near-ly is the North State Conference which includes many teams on ECTC's favorable opponents list. With Elon and West Carolina apparently out of the picture, it would seem a splendid chance to join the loop. However, the local athletic set up is not equipped to make such a venture.

Teams such as Appalachian, High Point, Catawba, and Lenoir-Rhyne provide scholarships for their athletes and several receive the inducement of an athletic aid fund. All the help an athlete receives here is the few spare jobs available on the campus. Despite this handicap, we have some mighty good athletes enrolled in our school—athletes who can hold their own in the North State Conference or any other similar loop. That's why it is so hard to schedule games with good conference teams—they simply fear the humiliation of being defeated by a rank outsider. However, by next fall, we may see some changes made. The Big Boys are finally having schedule trouble. In fact the four North State schools may even have to play each other twice to fill out a short schedule. It is terrible to think that they may finally have to drop down and ask ECTC officials for a game, but it is our guess that that is going to be the case.

Sometimes necessity will invite almost anything. Even to the extent of playing ECTC and when that becomes a necessity, it is not to be taken too lightly. Just ask the Bergen, Erskine, and Belmont gridders or the Elon basball nine.

Times do change, they do!

Going Places With Fewer Faces . . .

The scarcity of familiar faces was quite noticeable registration day, and if there was any concern noticed it might easily have been around the athletic office.

All told 61 male noses were counted in the fold at the end of the day and from this group rests the destiny of future ECTC athletic teams.

It is early to predict what effect the shortage of man power will have on the Pirate grid team next fall. However, the chances are that the squad won't be very seriously depleted—at least when compared with the wholesale athlete snatching which is being placed in all other colleges in the state. A nucleus for Coach John to build upon is the group of boys enlisted in the V-7 naval reserve class, Billy Greene, end, Jack Young, tackle, Floyd Woody, back, and Nick Zuras, back, are the future sailors who will be around for another grid team.

This Week's Outstanding Athlete

Pretty soon it's gonna get hot. What you do when the heats on is your business, but there's one fellow on our campus who looks forward to those scorching afternoons with pleasure. And unconsciously you may be helping him to greater success.

Don't be alarmed someday if you're standing on the corner eating a popsicle and a guy with a lot of blond hair walks up and smiles at you admiringly. It may be Floyd "Arky" Woody and why all the concern? Well he might just be admiring his own handiwork for you see he makes these ice cream sticks.

Up in Asheville he's known as the "Popsicle King" while lazing for (Plut) the famous Biltmore Dairies during the summer months.

"Arky" is quite an all-around talented young man as is evidenced by his many interests. He completed his high school education at Lee Edwards High in Asheville. Outstanding there was his record as a three letterman. He excelled best in baseball and before deciding to pursue a college career he had to turn down an offer to play professional ball with the Class B Asheville tourists.

Floyd prepped at Wake Forest for a year before coming down to ECTC. He claims he decided to come here after being hit by a bean ball in the N. C. State-Wake Forest frosh game last spring. It sorta left him groggy.

Since coming to ECTC, Woody has developed into a valuable cog on all of Coach John's teams. This spring will find him on short with the diamond team and his sparkling defensive play will be waited on to bolster the inner works of the club. As a member of the Naval V-7 class he will also be available next fall for football which will hardly make Coach John mad.

Like all rubes here this year, Floyd packs a mean appetite. His small frame can tear into a steak with the vengeance of a hungry giant.

For recreation he likes to trip the light fantastic at the campus building. He's really no mean dancer, especially when Glen Miller is at the helm. He says Miller's music "invigorates" him.

Although of a decidedly musical nature he doesn't play an instrument; however, the saxophone is his favorite horn.

Off hand, the best liked tune is "I Got it Bad and That Ain't Good." For radio programs the Fitch Band Wagon rolls in first—especially when a sweet and sentimental band is booked.

Woody plans to graduate in 1943 with a B. S. in Physical Education. After a sojourn with Uncle Sam's navy, he hopes to enter the coaching field probably in his own part of the state.

But right now we are more interested in his plugging that gap in the infield and finching a good .300 bat somewhere.

P. S. The accompanying picture is really Floyd. We couldn't get a recent one so we just settled for this picture of Woody at the ripe old age of four.

Rubber Shortage Hurts Current Baseball Schedule

The tire shortage is playing havoc with practically every collegiate baseball schedule in the state. So it can be of no great surprise that six games in the Pirate spring schedule have been cancelled. Take for instance, Duke University's inter-collegiate schedule. For the first time in years only one out of conference team will be met. Cornell's visiting nine will furnish the opposition in that case and all of the rest of the games will be with conference foes.

The University of Tennessee has dropped its entire baseball schedule due to the lack of diamond material and many other smaller schools are following suit.

Whatever may be the case ECTC will have a darn good baseball team this spring if the pitching holds up. The greatest interest will be in the three games scheduled during April with the Bucs' Arch rival Atlantic Christian College. At stake will be the Bohunk bucket and Coach John is already laying plans to snare that last game which will be played on the local field.

To fill up the break in the schedule left vacant by several colleges canceling engagements, Coach John is contacting six service teams to replace them. Games with these teams are almost assured and they will round out approximately a 20 game schedule. Most of the games will be played at home. The schedule was purposely arranged this way in order to gain greater student support. Last spring's attendance at local games was the poorest in many years, even with a fine team to back and it is hoped that the greater number of home games will awaken the students enthusiasm.

Included below is temporary ECTC baseball schedule which is being added to daily:

Campbell College	March 28	Here

A TRIPLE PLAY

We hope to see plenty of triple plays this season . . . plenty of both kinds. Uncle Sam and ECTC both need them.

Pirate Tennis Team Begins Practice For 1942 Season

It seems there's some hope for the tennis team after all. Dr. Hubert Haynes is organizing a squad and will more than likely attempt an inter-collegiate schedule.

Beginning this week a ladder tournament will be played to determine the ranking players. First round matches have already been arranged for Doug Glover, Norman Wilkerson, Everett Hudson, Doug Jones, Keith Hudson, Russell Rogerson, Bill Gaddy and Sidney Johnson.

It will be quite a task to build up as formidable a team as the racquet wielders of last spring. Most recent loss was Dopey Watson. He graduated last quarter, bringing the loss of seeded Varsity players to four. However, very few colleges will boast as good a tennis squad as they had last year and the job of coping with outside competition may not be too huge a one.

If any Eastern squads are on a trip through this section there is a strong possibility that they may be engaged for a match here.

The Varsity Courts will be in the finest shape ever and there is little of an overcrowding. Then ten courts beyond the training school will be in playing condition the first part of next week. Also ready for use will be the three courts in the back campus.

As yet no schedule has been arranged. According to recent reports the team is trying to secure games with State Freshman, the Citadel, and Clemson.

W. A. A. Planning Intramural Games

At a cabinet meeting Tuesday evening, March 24, the W. A. A. planned a vigorous program in athletics for the spring quarter. Soft ball practice under the direction of Esther Parker is scheduled for Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons from 4:30 until 5:30.

Students interested in tennis, archery, and individual sports should sign up for these activities as soon as a schedule is arranged. Head of tennis is Grace Westbrook; head of archery, Audrey Stanley; head of individual sports, Savonne Matthews.

With the coming of spring, hiking will be emphasized. Adminta Eure, head of hiking, advocates more and longer hikes for W. A. A. members.

Plans were also discussed for the annual beach trips the W. A. A. sponsors every spring quarter. The third week end in May was suggested as the most convenient time for the outing. Louise Lindsay together with Miss Parks will serve on the transportation committee. Delia Strickland was appointed head of the menu committee.

Physical Fitness Program To Help National Defense

At a meeting of all physical education instructors, it was decided to revise the recreational activity courses and thus be in better accord with national defense programs existing over a nation wide area.

O. A. Hankner head of the physical education department announced plans to encourage the physical fitness of all students participating in the physical education department. Setting up exercises will precede tennis, softball, soccer, baseball and all other activity classes.

It is argued that a person needs physical activity to maintain mental stability. Mr. Hankner cited instances when football players acknowledged that their grades fell somewhat during the off season if they engaged in little activity.

This is true in any number of cases. Bob Young, versatile athlete says, "When I'm not playing some sport, or at least taking a lot of exercise, I can't do my school work as efficiently as otherwise. It gives one a dull, lazy, feeling to do nothing but hide the time away."

If full cooperation is received a vigorous physical fitness program will be pursued during the quarter with the physical education department in the drivers seat.

When work is finally completed in the athletic field it will go far toward affording better facilities.

Duke Loses Coach

The Blue Devils of Duke University will be without the leadership of Coach Wallace Wade next fall as he is now a Major in the United States Army. News was recently released that the Duke mentor has taken over his duties at Fort Bragg.

Taking Mr. Wade's place as head coach at Duke will be Eddie Cameron, who placed the Duke basketballers in first place in the Southern Conference, and champions of the conference for the past season.

"The Home Of Values"

By Billy Greene

Well, the old baseball season has rolled around again, and things are looking good for the Pirates in the line of material. Twenty members have reported for regular practice according to Manager, "Dirty Bill" Lucas, this group being made up largely of newcomers. However, on the list from last year's aggregation we find Norman Mayo, an outfielder; "Big Ray" Sisk, catcher; Wiley Brown, outfielder; Sammy Crandall, who served as a second baseman and outfielder last Spring; W. B. Harris, outfielder; and G. Jerome Butler, catcher; and Bill Grant, pitcher. The newcomers to the "Pirate" squad are: Richard "Dick" Gauldin, Floyd Woody, Brandt Waters, Stewart Tripp, William Johnson, "Buddie" Murray, Jim Little, Warren Aldridge, Vern Keutemeyer, Bill Council, Bob "Pawnee" Young, Osbourne Lewis, and "Bolo" McLawhorn.

Just a few words about the pitching staff. Coach Christenbury announces that he plans to start "Dick" Gauldin in Saturday's engagement with Campbell. Gauldin is a transfer from Brevard Junior College, and he made a fine record while at Brevard. He won over three fourths of his games pitched for this college, and then in the summer pitched for the "Tan-ners", a team in the Textile League of Western North Carolina. This team, by the way, won the championship in 1940. Brother "Dick" pitching the entire game.

The rest of the pitching staff is made up of Vern Keutemeyer, Bill Council, and Warren Aldridge. Vern has not pitched in two or three years, but he's looking mighty fine in practice, and he should place the "Bucs" on the winning end several times this season. Bill Council, a Freshman, pitched for Durham High School and piled up a good record there. The fourth pitcher, Warren Aldridge, is also looking fine in practice. He has plenty of steam and looks like a winning pitcher.

Now for the schedule. War conditions have, of course, put a stop to athletics in several schools. This means that many scheduled teams are canceling games with the Pirates. However, several games are scheduled and more are being worked up.

CHAPTER MEETINGS

Charlotte—
The Charlotte chapter of East Carolina Teachers College Alumni Association held its regular meeting on February 10 at 8:00 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Lonnie W. Rogers (Nancy Brantley) with Miss Ruth Pierce as joint hostess.

Plans were made for the district banquet to be held on April 24 in the Barringer Hotel at 7:00 p. m. when Dr. Meadows will speak. Miss Ruth Pierce is chairman of the banquet committee with co-members Mrs. Alex Kohn (Clara Grissom) and Miss Lucy Hanks. Names for the Alumni Award were asked to be submitted for voting at the March meeting which will be the eighteenth in the home of Mrs. William T. Harding, Jr. (Alice Best).

The hostesses served delightful refreshments in keeping with the season: red and white cream, with Lincoln log cakes and nuts, using for favors miniature silk American flags.

The following members were present: Mrs. J. B. Davis (Evelyn Terry), Mrs. R. A. Hand (Pearl Daniels), Miss Lucy Hanks, Mrs. W. T. Harding, Jr. (Alice Best), Mrs. I. F. Masten (Fannie Johnson), Mrs. W. E. Love (Annie Lola Arnold), Miss Ruth Pierce, Mrs. Lonnie Rogers (Nancy Brantley), Mrs. H. T. Doty (Anne Kanoy), Mrs. T. Floyd Piper (Helen Lewis), Mrs. T. Reid Pruette (Bernadine Sumrell), Mrs. Kenneth D. Counts (Cornelia Rhyme).

Bridge was played and high score was awarded Mrs. Davis; second high went to the guest of the evening who was a former member, Mrs. Ina Whitaker Staples of Brevard; consolation, to Mrs. Masten.

Raleigh—
The Raleigh chapter of the East Carolina Teachers College Alumni Association met at the Country Club on Tuesday evening, March 10. Mrs. Charles M. Johnson (Ruth Moore) was hostess.

Miss Ruby Garris, president, presided during the business hour. Final plans were made for the tea to be held on March 20. Mrs. J. M. Newsome (Ellen Renfrew), Mrs. F. H. Shuford (May Renfrew), Mrs. J. L. Marcom (Augusta Woodward), and Mrs. C. J. Thoroughgood (Zelma Wester) were named as a committee on decorations; Mrs. J. C. Holland (Alla May Jordan), Miss Pattie Jenkins, Miss Ruby Garris, Miss Mildred Herring, Mrs. R. F. Noble (Mamie Cutler), as a committee on refreshments.

Chapter members voted to have a bridge tournament among the alumni group in May. The president appointed a nominating committee and designated the April meeting as the time to elect officers for the year 1942-'43.

Miss Estelle McClees, alumni secretary, met with the chapter members and told about the work in the various chapters and briefly reviewed the work of the year in the general Association.

Goldsboro—
Miss Mavis Evans was hostess to the members of the Goldsboro chapter on March 9 for the regular monthly meeting. The March project, Aiding in Red Cross and Defense Work, was discussed and various activities were suggested. The program for the evening centered around Ireland and St. Patrick's Day. Mrs. G. Bradford gave a very interesting talk. Irish songs were sung and an Irish dance.

Greenville—
Dr. Leon R. Meadows was guest speaker at the meeting of the Greenville alumni chapter which was held in the New Classroom building on Friday evening, March 7. Alumni were delighted to hear Dr. Meadows tell of some of the most interesting places that he and Mrs. Meadows visited on a recent trip to California. Mrs. Mildred Owens, president, presided during the business session. Alumni present voted on a nominee for the 1942 symbolic alumni award. A poem recently enclosed in a letter sent to the chapter presidents from Mrs. Holland entitled "Are You" was read by Mrs. Owens. Chapter members also welcomed Mrs. Meadows as a guest for the meeting.

Roanoke Rapids—
Members of the Roanoke Rapids alumni group held their March meeting, Thursday afternoon, March 5, at 4:15 p. m. in Coltrane Hall. Hostesses were Misses Ruth Dean, Ella Gibbs, Elizabeth Wilder, Rosina Pittman, and Carrie Smith. Prior to the business session and the program, refreshments were served.

Mrs. Telma Daughtry (Thelma Toler) presided during the meeting. The former president of the chapter, Mrs. A. C. Richardson (Margaret Eakes) is now teaching in Scotland Neck, N. C. Miss Estelle McClees, alumni secretary, visited with the group. She reviewed the reports of the Roanoke Rapids chapter given at commencement on each alumni day since the organization of the chapter in 1925.

Raleigh—
The Raleigh chapter of the East Carolina Teachers College Alumni Association met at the Country Club on Tuesday evening, March 10. Mrs. Charles M. Johnson (Ruth Moore) was hostess.

Miss Ruby Garris, president, presided during the business hour. Final plans were made for the tea to be held on March 20. Mrs. J. M. Newsome (Ellen Renfrew), Mrs. F. H. Shuford (May Renfrew), Mrs. J. Guess Who?

Well it's been sometime since the last Teco Echo came out but maybe you'll remember the cute little fellow with the dimpled knees. In case you didn't know who it was—it was none other than Charles Futrelle, president of the Varsity Club and star third baseman on the Pirate nine.

Students who won tickets for identifying the picture were Charlotte Grussner, Grace Ross and Nell Beddard. For this issue we have a girl for a change, and she looks as though she lived before the age of permanent waves. But after all we wouldn't know about that. If this regulation were to be removed by the School Council, the next step would be to recommend that this identical regulation be considered by the faculty and administration for removal from its records.

In view of the foregoing facts and in view of the opinion prevalent among the students that some check had to be placed upon "wholesale" absences, this committee offers the following plan for consideration:
1. That the Student Body recommend to the School Council for immediate consideration that Article IV, Section 8, of College Regulations be removed.
2. That the Student Body

3. That the following regulations covering absences be recommended to the School Council for consideration:

a. That the largest number of absences for any cause in a three-hour course be eight, if the student receives credit on the course.

b. That all absences count double whenever taken unless such absences are due to any of the following:

year (9 quarters)—135 quarter hours of credit and 135 quality points.
After the sophomore year a student shall have at all times at least as many quality points as he has credit hours, as one condition of re-enrollment in the college.

Exception to this regulation may be made only by the Committee on Classification and Credit on the written recommendation of the adviser of the student concerned and of the teachers under whom grades below average were made during his last quarter. If exception is made, the student may re-enroll only on probation and exception shall be made only once for the same student. The quality point—credit ratio of transfer students will be considered "1" or average for all credit hours accepted toward the completion of the student's curriculum.

The grade made on a course once passed in this college cannot be changed on the official record except to correct a manifest error, though a course may be repeated for a better knowledge of its content.

No credit will be given for courses that carry the lowest passing grade when submitted on transcript from another college.

A student shall have earned at least as many quality points as he has quarter hours of credit to be eligible for practice teaching and for graduation.
