Grace Moore, Opera Star And Movie Queen, Coming

Called "Fairy Princess"
Because of Charm
And Talent

APPEARS OCTOBER 24

Grace Moore, the Metropolitan Opera star and talking-screen queen, and one on Zeigfeld's list of the ten most beautiful women in the world, will give a concert here on October 24. Many saw and heard her in the talkies in "The Blue Moon" and "A Lady of Melody" and were charmed with her.

Her blond loveliness has made some call her the "fairy princess". She has golden hair, corn-flower blue eyes and is slim and graceful. She weaves her spell with voice, beauty and charm. Her voice has been likened to a vibrant Stradivarius—"not just a lovely voice, but an organ with a personality."

Her story reads like a fairy tale. She is a Southern girl from Tennessee, where as a girl she sang in the Baptist choir. She went to Ward-Belmont College in Nashville. She had her chance to sing in Washington, with Martinelli, and was encouraged to study for the concert stage.

She has achieved a three-fold success as an artist: on the screen, in grand opera, and in concert work, and added to these she has beauty and charm and is an all round lovely woman.

Her first successes were in musical comedy, then in grand opera and in concert work, and last, on the screen. She keeps busy in all three careers.

In the summer of 1931, she married Senor Valentino Parera, a wealthy Spaniard motion-picture star. She had claimed she was too busy to consider marriage but six weeks after she met the dashing Spaniard on an ocean liner, they were married.

Her husband will be in America with her and may accompany her on her coast to coast tour this fall. The two are said to have much in common but he is not going to be a prima donna obligato, but has a career of his own. Some day they may do a picture together.

Grace Moore has organized an efficient and smooth-running business that is called "Grace Moore, Inc.", with home office in New York and branches in Cannes, France, and Hollywood. She has regular business hours, with interviews by appointment, and her secretary is kept busy. In the summer, in her villa in Cannes, she works up her operatic roles and concert songs.

Dr. Wright Urges Attendance At Church Services

President Wright, in a Chapel talk before the entire student body on Saturday morning urged every student to attend church each Sunday during the school year.

Dr. Wright emphasized the fact that it makes no difference to which church one belongs, but that it does make a difference whether one attends that church or not.

"To be a good student," he said, "it is necessary to be well-rounded both mentally, physically, and morally. Since the State and the Church are separated and not joined together as in by-gone days, the general impression is that the State is not concerned with the religious life of its citizenship, but the State is concerned with anything pertaining to its welfare. It is of a great deal of importance to the State and the National Government that the individual develops his spiritual life."

He continued: "In no sense is the college concerned about what Church you go to. That is true in one sense only, but it is a great deal of concern to the College whether you go or not. The College insists that you go to Church since there is no way to grow except through action. If you grow morally, you must work and if you grow spiritually you must work in the Spirit field."

Professor's Son Is Killed Friday While Hunting

E. C. Hollar, Jr. Shot In Fall While Hunting

Youth Was Very Popular At High School and On Campus

The college community was greatly shocked Saturday morning to hear of the death of E. C. Hollar, Jr., who was accidentally killed while hunting Friday, 30th. He was the son of Professor E. C. Hollar, who has been a member of the faculty of this college for a number of years.

"E. C." as he was known to all his friends, left his home on the Winterville road about a mile from Greenville Friday afternoon attired in his hunting suit. As he did not return by supper time, the family became alarmed, and after ascertaining that he was not to be found at the home of any of his friends, instituted a search. About 9:30 his body was found some distance from the house. Coroner Ellwanger was called and immediately impelled a jury. The lay of the land, the position of the body and every evidence showed clearly that death came as a result of a fall. The coroner's jury immediately returned the verdict that the deceased died as result of accidental gunshot.

"E. C." was sixteen years of age and a prominent member of the present senior class of the high school. He stood high in the estimation of the faculty and his classmates. He possessed a fine mind and was universally liked by all who knew him. The passing of "E. C." is a real loss to the Greenville high school and particularly to the senior class. Since entering the high school, he has been prominently identified with all the activities of the class.

For a long time the family lived near the college and would get their mail from the college office. To many of the old students and the Alumnae, a familiar sight was to see Professor Hollar and "E. C.", father and son, coming together for the mail.

Mr. Hillman made a beautiful talk on the theme "The Spirit of Youth," or "Go Forward." He read the Lesson in the Old Testament when the children of Israel crossed over the river. The spirit of youth, he said, was exemplified in the life of "E. C."

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at three o'clock from the home on the Winterville road. The services were in charge of Rev. E. (Continued on Page Three)

DR. ROBERT H. WRIGHT
President

Inspiring Message Delivered By The College President

Points Out Requisition For Leadership And Life

An inspiring address was delivered by the President of the College at the first Sunday night Vesper Service of the year. The theme of his talk was "Preparedness for Life or Leadership."

The speaker asserted that the cause of the present economic condition is the lack of faith this generation was trained to exhibit. Nations of the world today cannot trust one another. Japan and China, he said, are constantly guarding against any suspicious move on the part of the other. Not only nations but people are now lacking in faith.

"The whole structure of human society has been built on faith," President Wright continued, "and it is necessary if we ever come back to a normal condition it is necessary to restore lost faith—faith in ourselves, faith in our fellowmen, faith in the Government, and faith in God."

The second requisition he mentioned was "Knowledge." He said the belief that the disciples were ignorant was erroneous. Matthew, Mark, Luke, John and Paul were given as examples of the type of educated men in those days. Moses, Dr. Wright declared, was probably the most highly educated man of his time and race, and knowledge is as essential today as in former times.

"Loyalty to a cause" was the third great factor considered. When man is willing to sacrifice himself for a cause, the world will be a better place in which to live.

The fourth division of the address was "Love," love that makes one willing to make almost any sacrifice, even for enemies.

These four points, Faith, Knowledge, Loyalty, and Love, are the qualities which make for successful lives and leadership. A feature of the evening program was a solo by La Rue Mangum. The Y. W. C. A. Choir furnished other music.

BIBLE IS OFFERED

A course in Bible is being offered this year for the first time. It is being taught by Dr. Meadows and Miss Turner and is a one hour course. The catalog course number is English 114.

The teaching of Bible here is the result of efforts on the part of the Y. W. C. A. and members of the faculty. If enough sign up for the course, it will become a standard college course here.

A true friend is one of your best assets throughout life. Your success or failure during this school year will depend largely upon the friends you choose now.

Members of The Faculty Report Varied Vacations

President Wright Has Been In Constant Demand As Speaker and
As Guest

MANY TEACHERS STUDY

Faculty members spent the summer months in various manners and places.

Dr. Wright has been in great demand since June. He has delivered a number of addresses among them to the Snow Hill Chapter of the D. A. R., to members at the Laymen's Meeting of the Vanceboro Methodist Church, and at the Methodist Church in Washington, at the Alderman's Reunion at Delaware, at the Cromarties' first reunion at South River Chapel, President Wright spoke. A high spot of the latter program was the unveiling of a tablet to William Cromartie, of whom President Wright is a lineal descendant.

He attended the Elementary Education Conference at Chapel Hill, and also spent four weeks at Atlantic Beach.

Mr. Henderson spent his vacation in Texas—two weeks on a farm and two weeks visiting. He says he "did a little of everything."

Mr. Haynes has just returned to our campus from Nashville, Tenn., where he has been in school for a year and a half.

Miss Hooper took over the business of managing her home while there last summer. But she did lots more than that. She visited several construction companies, some of which told her that the price of building materials was increasing rapidly, while others told her that the price had thus far remained about the same.

Miss Jenkins spent a very delightful summer visiting her brothers and friends in and around New York City and Baltimore. While there she visited the office of Grace Moore's business manager. Part of her vacation was taken up in a visit to the mountains of her own state.

Mr. and Mrs. Picklesiemer spent part of the summer at the Seashore Club at Atlantic Beach, where a group of our faculty members own a club house.

Miss Peterson enjoyed her vacation in the western part of N. C. and in Iowa.

TECO ECHO ISSUES FIRST NUMBER

The Teco Echo staff for this year, because of the extra training received through the recently organized Scribblers, is probably one of the most efficient bodies of workers the paper has had. Although it edited alone only one paper last year, it has assumed easily and quickly its work and has issued this paper as a record of its efforts.

Miss Elizabeth Haywood, Editor of the Teco Echo, served last year on the staff as Managing Editor. As Editor this year she is an ex-officio member of the Student Council.

Miss Myrtle Gray Hodges, Business Manager, was last year Assistant Business Manager of the Teco Echo. Although Miss Hodges was only a Sophomore at the time, she showed such capability that she was elected Business Manager for her Junior year.

The editorial staff of the paper is chosen from the members of the Scribblers, which trains its members for the places they will hold. Miss Willa Mitchell Dickey, by serving as typist for the Teco Echo last year, holds this year, position as Managing Editor of the paper and as secretary for the News Bureau. From the first she has proven her ability and efficiency, and the staff is indeed fortunate to claim her service.

Remember, freshmen, there is no harm in asking a question. You will probably be benefitted, and certainly no one else will lose anything.

Y. W. C. A. Extended Welcome To The Old And New Students

Girls Urged To Join

The Y. W. C. A. did much work during "Freshman Week" to make the new comers on our campus adjust themselves easily.

The Cabinet members wore white dresses and had blue ribbons with the letters "Y. W. C. A." printed on them so that new students could easily identify them.

After the formal introduction Tuesday night in the Campus building, the new girls whose last names began with "A" through the alphabet to those beginning with "N", were asked to go to the "Y" but for a party. The rest were asked to go Wednesday night. Numerous contests, games, and stunts were engaged in, after which the Cabinet members served punch and wafers.

Another feature on the program was the re-adoption of the "Little Sister" plan. Each member of the Senior-Normal Class and each member of the Junior Class was given the name of some member of the Junior-Normal Class or the Freshman Class to treat as a little sister.

The Y. W. C. A. invited all girls to join the organization and enjoy

Freshman Orientation Is Aided By Student Officers And Upper Classmen

CLASSES BEGUN FRIDAY

Classes at this college began on Friday morning, September 30, at 8:15, with enrollment nearing the nine hundred mark. Exact registration figures are not available at present.

Freshman orientation was completed at noon, Wednesday, with approximately 350 young men and women enrolled. Long lines of students filed through the Administration and Campus Buildings in the best organized registration period in years.

On Monday, officers of student organizations and upper-classmen arrived to welcome the freshmen to Greenville and assist them in becoming adjusted to their new environment.

The feature of Freshmen Week was the assembling of the new students in the auditorium of the Campus building on Tuesday afternoon for the first formal meeting of the scholastic year.

Dr. Leon R. Meadows, Chairman of the Freshman Program, opened the meeting with a talk on the Purpose of Freshman Week.

President Wright gave an inspiring talk of welcome and advice. He opened his address in an informal manner, assuring students that all possible would be done to make them feel at home in college, though they would soon find the difference between college and home and high school life. He said that he knew something of the tremendous sacrifice on the part of most of the folks back home, and pointed out the importance of their making good in their college careers.

He said: "The spirit of America is the spirit of people who broke away from home countries, cleared the forests, and built homes for themselves and established governments that each individual might have the privilege of making the most possible out of his life. That is the great spirit of our country. That is the great fundamental difference in America and any other nation on the face of the earth. There isn't any other place on earth where the individual has a wide open road in front of him with no handicaps except his own limitations. The colleges of America are wide open to boys and girls who have been able to complete the high school work."

That the future depends on the present generation of college people was a point on which he put emphasis. He expressed the belief that no other class of people have greater opportunities for service than teachers have. He assured the young men and women before him that the training they received in a teachers college would be valuable to them not only in teaching but in any profession, and would be the best possible preparation for home-making so they need have no fears about the future in case they changed their plans.

He pointed out ways in which one could succeed in college, stressing the importance of careful selection of friends and of making the most of opportunities.

This address was followed by talks by other college officers that would make the college machinery run smoothly. Mrs. Spilman talked on the student's relation to (Continued on Page Three)

The girls and boys in College are called on to help fill the house for lovely Grace Moore. We should give this Southern girl a warm welcome. We have just three weeks in which to advertise. Write letters to people you think will be interested, help distribute circulars, and send window cards to other towns. Watch for chances to send out material, and be ready to help when called upon.

Mr. Deal Outlines the Year's Activities

Phi Sigma and the Classical Clubs are planning for a most successful year in spite of the smaller personnel. The Foreign Language Department under Mr. R. C. Deal, is not only to continue the program begun last year, but will broaden its scope of activity.

There has been added to the Greenville High School an additional course in French. This will relieve congestion in the work of those high school majors who have elected French. Likewise arrangements are being made to have Elementary French taught to sixth and seventh grade students at the Training School.

Mr. Deal is soliciting the Manager of the State Theater to offer a picture in French. This will be a unique, as well as beneficial program.

"THE PENCIL" WAS VESPER THEME

Friday evening, September 30, Mrs. Howard spoke at the Vesper service of the Y. W. C. A., on "The Pencil."

She compared our lives with pencils.

"We can tell all about a pencil on the outside, but we cannot tell about the inside. We notice the color, decoration, and the eraser of the pencil, but we don't know what kind of mark it will make.

"People, as well as pencils, make marks, just as the pencil mark can be erased, so God will give us another chance to make our lives better.

The real purpose of a pencil is to make a mark and after the pencil is used up, the mark remains. So it is with our lives, for what we have done is what counts."

She also told a beautiful story to illustrate her point further. "The glory of life is: To love, not to be loved; To give, not to get; To serve, not to be served.

Alumnae

The Alumnae President Calls For Organization TO THE ALUMNAE:

The Alumnae Association has as a big objective for the next two years the establishment of the scholarship which we are trying to do by the end of the 25th year of the college. This can be done only through the active interest of the chapters and the members throughout the entire year, not just a month or so before commencement. Have you organized your chapter for the year? If you have not, let's get an early start and do some good work for the year. If there are no more than 5 E. C. T. C. girls in your community you can organize a small chapter or join with others in a county unit, but by all means get into an organization. We need the backing of every alumnae to carry out our project.

The offer made by the Teco Echo is explained elsewhere in this issue. For $2.00, you will get a year's subscription to the paper and pay your membership fee to the Association. The usual price is $1.50. Isn't this a fair offer and don't you think that we as loyal alumnae should by all means take advantage of it? If the $2.00 not available just now, a post-dated check will be acceptable. Send in your check now, so you will not miss a single copy of the paper.

Deanie Boone Haskett, President, Alumnae Association.

COMBINATION OFFER TO THE ALUMNAE

The Teco Echo and the Alumnae Association of East Carolina Teachers College are working a combination offer to the Alumnae. The subscription price of the paper has been reduced to the Alumnae who send in their subscription at the same time with Alumnae dues. Of the $2.00 sent in, one will go to the paper and the other to the Alumnae Association.

The Teco Echo agrees to keep up the Alumnae Department and offers its columns to the officers of the Association and college as a medium for reaching the Alumnae and, in turn, hopes to get the support of the Alumnae.

Miss Elizabeth Rolfe Hobbs, who has her normal school diploma and college and is working for her A. B. Degree, will be the Editor and is on the staff on the same basis as the other editors. She urges the chapters to send in news of their meetings and activities and would appreciate any news sent in by individuals.

Co-eds Sponsor Contest

Because the old co-ed room was too small to handle the new co-eds, the old infirmary has been cleaned and furnished for the young men. Dr. ReBarker, assisted by some of the old co-eds, literally had spring house cleaning. Dr. ReBarker also solicited furniture stores for furniture so that the co-eds would feel more at home. We thank the furniture stores for their co-operation in furnishing the building, and we thank Dr. ReBarker for making it possible that we have new quarters.

The question has arisen as to what it shall be called. Many names have been suggested, "The Lion's Den," "The Stag," etc. In all fairness we wish everyone to have a chance to express his or her choice of names. So, in our great contest we are going to offer the following prizes. As first prize we offer, a wind-blown bob (we have the fan if you have the bob). Second prize will be a beautiful water color (picture) of a vacuum, painted by that famous painter, Ur A. Hamm; third prize, a crate of bottled frog soup, labeled "Tramp's Delight." To all we extend the privilege of entering our Great Contest for a newer and better name for our new home.

NOTICE

The Teco Echo will be released on Tuesday Bi-weekly instead of on Saturday. This change offers to the student body and other readers of this paper better service and more recent news. It is hoped that this will cause the students to be more interested in campus activities than before.

MISS JULIA TAYLOR

Noted Alumnae Is Interviewed At Registration

JULIA TAYLOR DISCUSSES WORK

"The Campus is gorgeous and the pool in front of this (Campus) building is as lovely as any I have seen. The new buildings here are far beyond any I ever expected to see at East Carolina Teachers College," said Miss Julia Taylor of the class of '21 while visiting on campus during registration.

Miss Taylor was originally from Wilson, but she is now a resident of Albion, N. Y. After teaching for five years Miss Taylor entered Child Welfare Work in Orleans County, New York. Her work as County Children's Agent involves Juvenile Court, the placing of Julia Taylor of dependent children in institutions, probation work, and investigation into the home life of problem children.

She says about her work, "I enjoyed teaching, but this is a broader experience. I have taught me lessons in tolerance I never would have learned elsewhere. I have learned that it is during the early life of children that we should lend our effort to help the handicapped ones. Children born into poor environments have the same instincts, emotions, and desires as do children born into good homes, and if given a chance, they will do well."

Judge Bertram E. Harcourt of the Children's Court of Orleans County, is quoted in the Teco Echo of December 20, 1930, as saying: "I should not want to comment upon the work of the Children's Court without mentioning the County and Children's Agent, Miss Julia Taylor who is in many instances of greater service in handling children's cases than I could be as a judge. This primarily is because she through tactful handling of the situation corrects the cases which would otherwise be brought into court."

Miss Taylor came by plane from Newark, N. J. She stopped over at Cornell University with one of the Professors there. Her trip was exceedingly pleasant and her visit to her Alma Mater was "one of the high spots of the trip."

Alma McGinnis Married

Alma McGinnis, of the Class of '31, daughter of Mr. Howard D. J. McGinnis, Registrar, was married on Tuesday, October 4, to Mr. James Johnson of New York City, formerly of Greenville. Because of the recent death of the groom's father, they had a quiet ceremony at home.

Miss McGinnis was the honoree at a number of parties and showers. She is a very popular young Greenville girl.

Mr. Johnson has been making a reputation for himself with his work in commercial art.

They will live on West 84th Street, New York.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME AND THE BEDPOST

One freshman has at last found Charles Silas Edwards. We were just about to put an ad in the Lost and Found Column—

WANTED—A co-ed by name of Charles Silas Edwards, five feet, eyes of blue, has anybody seen that pal.

And then there were two co-eds, who, upon showing up where they were going to room, found quarters crowded. They moved across the street, to another house where one of the freshmen lives—the time she visited in Nashville, Tennessee, and in Clarksville, Virginia.

A freshman is green; a senior, merely dumb.

Mrs. Blaxton visited in Anson County, Virginia, and in Williamsburg.
Miss Lewis motored to Martinsville, Virginia, where she visited her niece, later returning to Danville, Virginia, and to Greensboro. Also she studied at the New York school of Fine Arts.
Miss Bonnewitz visited in her home in Bam Wert, Ohio.
Miss Graham spent her vacation at home in Warren, N. C.
Miss Kuykendall had a very restful vacation at her home in Lexington, Kentucky.
Miss Mead, with relatives and friends, spent the month of August, at Cannadigua Lake, N. Y. The rest of her time she stayed at home in Victor, N. Y.
Miss Somerville spent the first part of the summer in Michigan (and melted) and the last part at her home in Alabama.
Miss Hunter studied and taught at Peabody College for twelve weeks, and stayed at home in Clarksville, Tennessee, the remainder of the summer.
Miss Wadlington went home to

Cadiz, Kentucky, "to see my daddy."
Miss Scoville spent a week of her vacation on a house party at Virginia Beach.
Miss Bowen visited Chapel Hill, Boone, Valle Crucis, Winston-Salem, and Raleigh during the summer.
Miss Coates studied at Columbia University during her leave of absence for one year, but she is now ready to resume her work here.
Miss Hyman spent her vacation studying at Columbia University.
Miss Anne Robyne had a delightful visit at her home in Monroe.
Miss Nulton, second grade critic teacher, is now on a year's leave of absence. She is studying at Teachers College, Columbia University, N. Y. (Miss Herma Taylor of Commerce, Texas, will substitute for her.)
Mr. Metcalf had only two days of his vacation yet. He spent those squirrel hunting.
Miss Willis had a wonderful time in Raleigh where she spent her two weeks vacation.
Mr. A. A. Henderson spent most of his vacation traveling in this state. He went fishing several times, and said that on one trip he caught about a hundred fish. "Is that another fish tale?"
Miss Arley V. Moore had a very busy vacation at her home near Stokes.
Mr. Ginn visited Ocrakee Island during the summer and made several trips to Goldsboro, where his mother resides. He declares that he is the only member of the office staff who has not yet had all of his vacation. He has had only one week.
Miss Ross spent two weeks at her home in Bamerton, N. C.
Miss Morton stayed at home in Beaufort during her vacation. She said that it didn't sound very exciting but that it really was.
Mrs. Bradsher, Counselor of Wilson Hall, has been visiting relatives in Raleigh, N. C. She also spent one day at Duke University.
Miss Morris and Miss Annie Lea Smith traveled in the North Carolina mountains and visited Miss Davis. They spent some time at beautiful Camp Towaway before going to Wilson.
Mr. Deal taught in Summer school here, and enjoyed it as he always does. He spent the remainder of his time at Atlantic Beach.
Dr. Sly worked all summer cleaning house and is only starting on his vacation now, teaching school.
Mr. M. L. Wright taught in summer school and had a big time at the beach on week-ends.
Misses Williams, Rose, Nowell, Cassidy, Turner, Green, Grigely, Golphin and Hughes say they did nothing but remain at home. There must be something that they do not want to tell.
Mr. Hollar reports a very interesting summer sitting on the sandhills, meanwhile getting as tan as an Indian.
Dr. ReBarker did not have a vacation as he taught Math at Peabody College all summer.
Mr. Cummings joined the ranks of the unemployed—wonder if he joined the bread lines too.
Mr. Fort, after teaching here during the Summer Term, visiting in South Carolina and Eastern North Carolina.

Miss Correll took short courses in Modern Piano Teaching under Dr. Johnson. She then toured over 2,000 miles through the northern states with Miss Gray.
Dr. Meadows directed the Summer School and made two trips to Nashville, Tennessee.
Dr. Frank traveled over 400 miles through Tennessee, Louisiana and Kentucky; he reported a very nice trip, but too much eating.
Miss Smith, after a strenuous course as Dean of Summer School, had a trip to Canada and through the New England States.
Mrs. Jeter rocked "Home Sweet Home" on her front porch in Lynchburg, Va.
Miss Charlton taught in the Daily Vacation Bible School in Savannah.
Staying where he could eat most of the time, Mr. Flanagan traveled from Raleigh to Chatawauga.
Miss Johnson remained in the hospital all summer, recuperating.
Miss Taylor, who is with the Model School for the first time, gained her Master's Degree from Peabody, and then went to her home in Texas, where the remainder of the summer proved to be very eventful.
Misses McGee and Hyman were in Summer School at Columbia University.
Miss Rainwater taught at Waltham College, S. C., and spent the latter part of the summer with relatives in that state.
Miss Langston, who is also for the first time a member of the faculty, went to the Virginia Day Celebration at Roanoke Island.
Miss Wahl had a delightful trip through Kansas, Nebraska, and Colorado.

Freshmen usually make a good impression at first. Here is the test: Can they make that impression stick?
