Too little attention is given to the development of the body, although health is one thing necessary in a happy, serviceable life.

This weakness is not one to shake your head over and say, "Too bad, it can't be helped." It CAN be helped. It is a problem which needs serious and careful thinking and planning. Certain courses and concentrated work shall be required which not merely help in keeping the body fit but which will prepare the teacher to take part in the Physical Education program of the schools in which they teach.

Parker, Jr., of Hanover

President Parker has offered to accept land suitable for reacre for payment of college tuition fees. The plan is for the college to hold the land for future development and revenue from timber. The president said that there is much marginal land in the hills men and women to take advantage of his offer. Hanover, founded in 1827, is a co-educational college supported by the Presbyterian Church, and private endowment. It has a student body of 335.

The three one-act plays presented by the Senior Norma class formed an excellent ensem ble which will long be remen bered because of the skill of the actors and coaches, the beauty of the costumes, the excellency the lighting and the interesting intermissions. The three plays, varying from a Chinese garden scene to a Colonial dance, and then to a contemporary setting were very pleasing to the eye of the audience.

The first play, "Told in a Ch ese Garden," was directed b Miss Lorraine Hunter, class as viser. The setting was especially attractive. Richly costumed Chinese aroused the audience's interest in the plays. Althou there were a large number characters in the play, they mov
