To provide a better democracy, Prof. Mahoney claims, the social studies should play a big part, and this calls for the revolutionizing of the entire teaching scheme.

NICKNAMES DO A LOT MORE HARM THAN GOOD

New York—(IP)—Nicknames for children do a lot more harm than good, according to the results of a study reported by the American Orthopsychiatric Association.

The association watched the affect of nicknames on 235 boys and 75 girls living in cottage-plan institutions.

It found that more than 95 per cent of the nicknames only produced ill-feeling, resentment and fighting.

Among the boys, 39 per cent of the nicknames were taken from personality defects, 32 per cent from physical defects and only seven per cent were the result of affection for the individual.

WANT BIRTH CONTROL TAUGHT IN COLLEGES

Cincinnati, O.—(IP)—The teaching of birth control by every college was advocated editorially by the Cincinnati Bearcat, undergraduate newspaper of the University of Cincinnati.

The editorial asserted that the colleges today are full of "medieval taboos," and charged that suppression of birth control information results in "the survival of the unfit and a decline in the level of the race, is detrimental to the welfare of man and therefore is an anti-social measure."

It recited some of the details of the "safest and most efficient technique of contraception," and then concluded:

"Information on this important subject is too little known. Every college should offer instruction to its young men and women instead of continuing the present medieval taboos."

B. S. U. Conducts Church Services

Frances Edgerton, President Of B. S. U., Speaks To Memorial And Immanuel Baptist Churches.

The Baptist Student Union had charge of the Church Services at the Memorial Baptist Church on Sunday, February 24, and at the Immanuel Baptist Church, Sunday, March 3.

The students who took part in the service were the Baptist Student Union workers including the college students who sang in the choir, the ushers and the speakers on the program.

The service opened with a scripture reading by Delores Smith. Frances Edgerton, the president of the Baptist Student Union gave a talk on the work that it has done. "The B. S. U.", she stated, "is an organization formed on our campus to connect the students with the local Baptist Churches. The students need the help of the local church and the local churches need their youth."

The next speaker was Eleanor Cuthrell who gave a short talk on Ridgecrest, the seat of Baptist Student Union conventions. "Ridgecrest," said the speaker, "is not a large place, in fact, it has only one large hotel which is made of wood. It is not the appearance of Ridgecrest that counts, but the purpose and the work which it represents. When you are up on the hill or mountain, you are much nearer to God."

The last speaker was Ida Townsend. She enumerated the "Reasons for Going to Church."

Los Angeles—(IP)—Seventy-three-year-old Mrs. Adolphine Kaufman is grieving because her college days are over at last.

For the last ten years she has been a student at the University of Southern California. Last week she was standing in line, waiting to register for the next term, when someone jostled her, causing her to fall and break her hip.

She was taken to the hospital, weeping because she would have to stop studying at college now.

DESIRES AID FOR PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS

Columbus, O.—(IP)—For several years Ohio's Catholics have been attempting to get state aid for parochial schools. Always this state's rural, protestant legislators have defeated the attempt.

Now the Catholics are trying a new stunt. They have introduced a bill calling for state aid for parochial schools and for all colleges which give preliminary teacher training courses.

There are a lot of Protestant colleges in Ohio giving teacher training courses.

OUTSTANDING STUDENTS

The students pictures above have been elected by the student body as the ten most outstanding students in school. They were elected on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership in high standards of politics, athletics, and other forms of extra curricular activities, and possibility of future usefulness to business and society.

Second row: Melba O'Brien, former President of the Y. W. C. A.; Ellen Jenkins, member of the Student Council; Ethel Vick, former secretary of the Student Council; Hattie Pearl Mallard, member of Student Council; and Katie Lee Johnson, also a member of the Student Council.

These students will be awarded a place in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges." This compilation is being made by H. Pettus Randall of Alabama University. The plan has received highest approval by people who are outstanding in the college world of America.

"C-D" Party To Be Held On April 6th

Committees Have Been Appointed, And Work Has Begun On The Affair.

TO BE HELD IN THE CAMPUS BUILDING

No Definite Plans Have Been Made Yet Concerning The Orchestra.

The annual Junior-Senior Normal party will be held this year on April 6th. The date was first reserved for the Junior-Senior Banquet, but was changed so that arrangements with the orchestra could be made, and the date has been reserved for the "C-D" affair.

Eleanor Taylor, President of the Class has appointed committees to make arrangements for the occasion. Since the class has not definitely decided on what kind of party to have a committee composed of Betty Herring, Ella Turner Atkins, Billie Newell, Bertie Lee Sawyer, Ellis Jones, Betty Haywood, and Hazel Barbee has been appointed to make the decision.

The committee to engage an orchestra is made up of Billy Williams, Carolyn Riddick, Betty Lane, Margaret Hillburn and Doris Quinn.

Mildred Fuller, Lewellyn Thornton, Hazel Wilkerson, Priscilla West, Ida B. Stocks, Mildred Lassiter, Sallie Proctor, Martha Yelverton and Sue Abernethy compose the decoration committee.

Mary Banks is Chairman of the refreshment committee. Those assisting her are Hattie Hillburn, Sara Lee Yates, Sara Whitley, Mary Helen Hammond, Flora Teague, Ida Kay Hare, and Elizabeth Peables.

The program committee is composed of Lucy McLawhorn, Eleanor Hardy, Marilyn Henderson, Margaret Lewis and Texie Sowers.

The bid committee is composed of Elizabeth Singleton, Edith Morgan, Wilson Blalock and Kathleen Saunders.

The committee to collect class dues is composed of Rebecca Watson, Chairman, assisted by Ruby Lucas, Louise Sanderson, Henrietta Pritchard and Mary L. Banks.

These committees have organized and work has begun on the affair.

The men of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (Boston) and the women of Radcliffe College will have a debate on the advisability of "dutch treats" on "dates."

Mercola Speaks At Chapel Exercises

Raymond Mercola, Member Of Byrd Expedition Addresses Student Body In The Tuesday Morning Assembly.

Raymond Mercola who was a member of Byrd's first expedition to the Antarctic regions gave to the students of the College a thrilling account of his experiences on February 26th.

He first told of his efforts in getting accepted, showing his persistence. In spite of repeated failures, he followed the party to New Zealand where he joined them. He told of the conditions on which they were accepted and that the wages were a penny for two years, but said there was not one who went with the first expedition who would not go with the second. He not only gave a report of the scientific work of the Commission, but told of the daily life of the men and the ways in which they managed to pass the time during the six months of darkness. A school was formed, which saved some of them from going crazy, he believes.

He said there is no guess work about the findings of the Byrd expedition, because they were scientifically calculated and recorded from direct communication. He gave a brief report of what Byrd had done for the cause of science and for America.

He corrected a number of erroneous ideas that people have about it. There is no life there save whales, and penguins, and a few seals and birds, and explained why.

He closed by paying a most glowing tribute to Byrd and made the students want to hear about the present expedition. He excited great interest in students about the present expedition, so they will follow it more intelligently.

Ninety freshmen at Wellesley College (Mass.) have offered themselves as subjects for a cold preventive experiment being conducted there.

DANCING COURSE

A course in Natural Dancing will be offered by Miss Sara G. Summerville in the spring term. The course will be held on March 19th, and all those students who are eligible are urged to attend.

Victory does not count nearly so much as how you play the game.—Gene Tunney.

Change Made In Date Of Banquet

Junior-Senior Banquet Will Be Held April 13th Instead Of April 6th.

JIMMY POYNER TO PLAY

Idea Of French Cabaret To Be Carried Out In Modernistic Style. Entire Affair To Be Held In Campus Building.

The date of the Junior-Senior Banquet has been changed from April 6th, to one week later, April 13th. The change was made since the orchestra selected to play for the dancing could not come on the date first set.

Jimmy Joyner and his State College Collegians will play for the occasion.

The idea of a French Cabaret will be carried out. The entire program of the evening will be held in the Campus Building, none of it taking place in the Dining Room as has been the custom of former years. Guests will be seated at tables for four, and will be served by maids wearing the provincial black and white of French maids. Freshmen taking Home Economics will act as waitresses. Home Economics Sophomores will act as pages, wearing identical costumes with those of the waitresses. Two floor shows have been planned for.

The color scheme of black, white and red will be carried out in a modernistic style. Geometric figures will be used also for decorations.

Invitations for the affair have been selected, and all the needed decorations have been ordered. Actual work will be begun as soon as they arrive.

PITT COUNTY CLUB BEEN ORGANIZED

A Pitt County Club has been organized by the students who are attending East Carolina Teachers College from Pitt County. The initial meeting was held last week at which time the club was organized and officers were elected. Hyatt Forrest was elected President of the club and Esther Mae Dennis, Vice-President. Godfrey Oakley is serving as Secretary and Treasurer. The purpose of the club is entirely social, and all students from Pitt county are eligible for membership. The next meeting will be held on March 19th, and all those students who are eligible are urged to attend.

Senior Normal Class Will Present Three One-Act Plays

Piano Recital Is Well Attended

Piano Students Assisted By Glee Club And Violin Ensemble, Give Public Recital February 21st.

The public recital given February 21, by the members of the Piano Department assisted by the Glee Club and the Violin Ensemble was highly successful. It was well attended by the college students and Greenville people. The program was given in the Campus Building.

The first number on the program was "In the Canyon", a composition of Dennee played by Azalene Southerland. This number was followed by "Lullaby" from Schutt played by Xylida Cooper. "Forest Sprites", Torjussen, by Annie Lee Britt; "Nachtstuck", Opus 23, Number 4, from Schumann, by Clifton Crawford; "Etide in B Flat" from Schytte played by Elizabeth Tolson; "Arabesque 2, debussy by Nola Walters; "Music Box", from Liebach, by Edna Whitley; "To a Wild Rose", MacDowell, by Alma Winslow; "Hungarian", MacDowell, by Carolyn Hamric; "To a Water Lily", MacDowell, and "Country Gardens", Grainger, by Edith Marslander; and "Nocturne", Greig, and "March of the Dwarfs", also from Greig, and played by Edith Marslander, composed the part of the program given by the piano students.

The Glee Club under the direction of Miss Gussie Kuykendall sang "Love's A Merchant", written by Molly Carew and an English Hunting Song, "John Peel."

The Violin Ensemble rendered most beautifully a group of French Folk Tunes, Rondina, on a Beethoven Theme, by Grieler. This was the first public recital of the year. It is customary for the Music Department to give one or more public recitals during a school year. The department has progressed rapidly in the past year or so, so much so that it was necessary to engage another teacher of Piano to accommodate all those students who desired to take.

The Senior Normal Class will follow the precedence established several years ago of giving one-act plays instead of one long play. Every Senior-Normal class in the history of the school has had dramatic entertainment for the public. This includes a long list of successful performances reaching back to the very first classes to receive diplomas from the school.

BERTIE STUDENTS ORGANIZE CLUB

The students registered in college from Bertie County met Tuesday night, January 19th, to organize a club. The following officers were chosen. President, Janie Sessoms; Vice-President, Sara White; Secretary, Blanche White; Treasurer, Elizabeth Gilliam; Teco Echo Reporter, Sara White.

Suggestions were made relative to social activities during the Spring Quarter, including hikes, picnics and social meetings.

UNIVERSITY OF HAVANA STUDENTS GO ON STRIKE

The Duchess Says Her Prayers, "Job's Kinfolks," And "Rosalie" Will Be Presented March 21st.

MARY DIRNBERGER TO DIRECT PRODUCTION

Rehearsals Are Being Held Daily. Catherine Shute, Elma Joyner And Merle Sasser Are Acting As Assistants To The Director.

The Senior Normal Class of the College has chosen three one-act plays to be presented in the Austin Auditorium March 21. The play will be given one night only.

Mary Dirnberger, director of Community Drama, will direct the plays. This will be the fourth bill of plays directed by Miss Dirnberger, all of which have been highly successful.

The scene is laid in Renaissance Italy. The Duchess, Beatrice D'Este will be played by Polly Melvin. The part of Cecelia will be taken by Mary Elizabeth Barker. Lodevicio will be played by C. O. Armstrong.

Kathryn Shute is serving as the Assistant to the Director. The second play "Job's Kinfolks", is written by Loretta Carroll Bailey. Mrs. Bailey wrote "Cloy", billed in the first group of plays given under the community drama project presented here last fall, that proved to be such a popular success. This play is also a favorite of the Carolina Playmakers, and is presented quite often by them. The part of Kizzie will be played by Ina Tatam. Maribland Albritton will have the part of Kate, and Jackie Strickland will play the part of Katherine. Estelle will be played by Mary Credle. Perry King will have the part of Carl.

Elma Joyner will serve as the assistant to the director. The last play "Rosalie" is a French Farce written by Max Meure. Minnie Ross will play the part of Rosalie. Monsieur will be played by Billy Tolson.

Merle Sasser will be the assistant to the director. The Senior-Normal Class will follow the precedence established several years ago of giving one-act plays instead of one long play. Every Senior-Normal class in the history of the school has had dramatic entertainment for the public. CAMPUS OFFICIALS TO BE CHOSEN

Elections for campus officials for next year will be soon. The new system installed this year will eliminate the confusion of several election days since all major campus officials will be voted on the same day.

If East Carolina Teachers College continues to advance the way that she has in the last few years, capable student leaders are necessary. A well organized student council cannot function well if capable council members are not elected.

No doubt, as long as there have been organized units on the campus, the cry has always arose, imploring that students think twice before they vote. No matter how long East Carolina Teachers College lives, that plea will always be issued, and may we add, wisely.

There is a surprising lack of politics on this campus. That is well. Students are not in the clutches of persistent campaign managers, who are trying to get some particular person elected to a position.

An attractive personality, a jovial manner and a wide acquaintance are surely desirable traits, for an officer. But their requirements should not stop there.

He was assigned to the college hospital for measles a few days before a big wrestling meet. As the day drew near the boy grew more fidgety, afraid he would be in poor shape, even if he got out of his ward in time.

FOR MORE SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

East Carolina Teachers College has taken steps toward broadening social life on the campus. The formal dinner held recently was quite successful and the tea given last Sunday afternoon was most enjoyable.

The development of social ease should be a very important part of everyone's education, but even more so in that of the teachers, whose personality and conduct should be beyond reproach.

College life is a period of intensive training and culture. Certainly that includes social activity. Although having been somewhat lacking in the past, its necessity has been realized, and by mutual consent, we eagerly accept it as an enjoyable privilege.

WELCOME, ATHLETES

East Carolina Teachers College extends a cordial welcome to all high school students participating in the basketball tournament that is being held on the campus now.

We are glad that Greenville and East Carolina Teachers College are the hosts to the Eastern North Carolina High School Basketball Tournament. It is a pleasure to have the high school athletes on the campus and about the town.

Athletes are certainly an outstanding factor in any high school. They serve to develop a spirit of cooperation and to create a general friendly relationship between the members of the squad. Not only that but a fine physical body can result only through exercise.

This gathering of Eastern North Carolina athletes will not only create a strong competition for the best team but it will serve to broaden the acquaintances of the members of the squad.

East Carolina Teachers College is playing host to you, high school athletes. The campus is for your inspection. We hope that some day you will choose this college for your college. This is one reason why we are glad that the tournament is being held in Greenville this year.

May your stay here be pleasant. We, the students of East Carolina Teachers College, extend to you, Eastern Carolina High School athletes, a hearty welcome.

PLANS FOR HARVARD

Cambridge, Mass.—(IP)—In a recent address, Dr. James B. Conant, youthful president of Harvard University, indicated that he intends to make the ancient institution a truly "national university."

"The privately endowed universities in the United States," he said, "have a common duty to the country at large which differs in no significant way from the duty of the state universities.

"It is our task to provide the best possible higher education for the youths of the land who are anxious to obtain the training which a university affords. This opportunity should be open to all of promise without regard to the financial status of their parents.

"Anyone who looks at the geographical distribution of our students will agree that we are a national university.

"It is my desire to increase further the number of students who come from outside New England and, in particular, to make available our educational opportunities to those who would like to come to us from a distance but have little or no ready cash. To do this I have revised our scholarship policy and established for a period of years the Harvard College Prize Fellowships in the states of Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin."

Dr. Conant said he hoped to expand the plan to include all of the west as soon as funds became available.

WE NEED COOPERATION

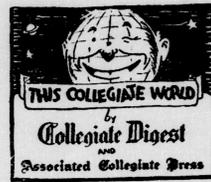

Cooperation is the central figure of achievement and a necessary element in any student body. Ours does not run contrary to the usual type. Without cooperation, organization would not be possible whether that organization refers to the class organizations, the clubs, or the college administration itself.

Cooperation serves to create a wider scope of friendship among fellow students. Certainly work on committees creates the need for cooperation, and surely such work brings individuals in closer contact with each other, making for better friends.

Cooperation can produce successful leaders, and certainly no organization can function without capable leaders. Cooperation of individuals is also a necessary factor.

Our own idea for a debate: "Resolved, That a Man Can Become a Bigger Fool Over a Woman than a Woman Can Become Over a Man."

Ruts are easy to get into. The way to get out is a sharp turn in a new direction. You may break a wheel, but you'll get out.

The co-ed with the most delicious sense of humor in all America, we think, is a girl, whose real name is unknown, at the University of Iowa (Iowa City).

A student Methodist convention was in progress on that campus the other day and dates were provided for some of the out-of-state boys. One of these young men was presented with a large boxum girl for the evening. Somehow he caught the phrase "Margaret Hall" and associated it with his new partner.

Think, then, of his consternation when he was informed hours later that "Margaret Hall" was the women's dormitory!

Simile: As cast down as the student who spent a year ridding himself of "b. o." and then found out people didn't like him anyway.

The annual winter fuss over the discharges and resignations of football coaches occupies student attention in a fistful of universities; but in nearly all schools the students, whose ranks provide the players and for whom the game originally was intended, have little or nothing to say about the affairs of their athletic departments.

At the University of Nevada (Reno) there is a body called the Associated Students who thought they had some control over the destiny of their coach—until an administrative committee stepped in.

Freshmen players at the University of Oklahoma (Norman) rose up in arms, too, about the possible resignation of their coach and no doubt many of the students at Louisiana State University (Baton Rouge) had some definite ideas about the parting of Biff Jones after his fight with Senator Long—but with a censored student press their ideas had to remain in their heads.

There is real student power at the University of Washington (Seattle), however. The student organization there not only hires, fires and determines pay of coaches, but runs all student activities, including mammoth co-operative book store.

Toast by the Daily Orange, of Syracuse University (N. Y.): "To the ladies, who are like watches, pretty enough to look at, sweet faces and delicate hands, but somewhat difficult to regulate when set going."

Optimism: Both James and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., filled in blanks on their Harvard matriculation record this year, and for "permanent address" wrote in "The White House, Washington."

There is a wrestler at the University of Minnesota (Minneapolis) who is going to amount to something some day.

He was consigned to the college hospital for measles a few days before a big wrestling meet. As the day drew near the boy grew more fidgety, afraid he would be in poor shape, even if he got out of his ward in time.

What is this rumor about Ellen Jenkins and the salesman from Ormond Wholesale Company?

In a "Guilfordian," official publication from Guilford College there appeared an excerpt in the gossip column, that one certain basketball player gave a tall waitress a break by taking her to a show when their team was down here. Yeah, gave her a break!!!

It happened about three weeks ago—you may have heard about it, or you may not have—anyway it happened like this—Mr. Flanagan, Doc Mathis and Miss Smith were seen riding. From all appearance it seems as if they were the only people in the car—however Mr. Flanagan doubts the veracity of this statement, and says that another girl was along. While we're on the subject, may we add that when the "cat's away the mice will play."

Aha! Sabotage! American students in German universities, it is said, when forced to salute Hitler demonstrations, raise their hands and shout, "Heel Hitler!"

Freshman at Harvard University (Cambridge, Mass.), noting a bulletin headed "Dates for English Examinations," remarked that there are hardly any functions to which a fellow can go stag anymore.

A psychology professor at Syracuse University, (N. Y.), was showing his class how sudden emotions will produce perspiration on the hands. A co-ed in the class was blindefolded and the instrument attached to her hand. Suddenly the male professor kissed her and the class swears the frantically waving needle on the instrument did not return to normal for a quarter of an hour.

Another argument for the virtue of higher education is seen in the recent statement by Warden Lewis E. Lawes, of Sing Sing prison, that college graduates make very good prisoners.

THE ULTIMA RATIO

The first choice bit that comes to me this week is "Who are the two girls in the new dining room who cannot keep from looking at Charles Ivey Bunn. I understand that one of them is from Spring Hope, and the other from Columbia.

And Catherine Woodall we hear almost broke her neck one morning last week to finish breakfast in order that she might go uptown and get back in a hurry. Catherine did just that only to find out when she got up there that the stores would not be open for about an hour.

We also see that some one has put a light in the region of yelde ice boxes. We wonder why? That corner surely is illuminated now. And one more quarter is gone. To the Practice Teachers that means heaven.

About the best one that we've heard in a long time is the one on one certain council member. She went to church one night and came back by her dormitory, and forgot to sign in until about ten o'clock. When she went down to the office to sign in some one made the remark that she didn't go to church. Well, the truth of the matter was; her father was a preacher and she outlined the sermon and sent it to him so that he might use it as one of his own some day. As for checking up, we never heard one any better than that.

It is rumored around campus that one certain Fran Ferebee really is in love. And from that far away look in Fran's eyes (sometime) we can easily confirm the statement. We wish that his girl would come to see him again—it might help matters a bit.

Helen Boomer and G. R. Gammon, Jr., are all washed up, we hear. Sad, but true. Theo Easom has been with the same girl twice in the last three weeks. We can't understand it.

Now that the end of the quarter is here, all we can here is "I've got to study, I've got to study." We hear that a few certain people are expecting to enjoy themselves immensely between terms.

What is this rumor about Ellen Jenkins and the salesman from Ormond Wholesale Company?

Sometimes when Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Wright are away there are frequently visitors at their table. Guests of the other members who make up the table we presume. One night we noticed that there were only two lady guests. Presumably guests of Bill and Dan. (Note: Miss Smith was away that night so Mr. Flanagan had no guest. Also conspicuous by his absence was "Doc" Mathis.) Mr. Flanagan surely has to get busy if he keeps up with the pace set by his—well, shall we say rival?

Bill Hearne, a popular ex-co-ed used to be seen places with Nellie Grissom. Now when he is passing through Greenville he comes over to the college to see all his old friends. Well, Nellie is teaching in Leggett's this year, and Bill continues to come to Greenville. It is rumored that some of the office officials receive a card from him quite frequently, and that he paid her quite a lengthy visit on this last trip. Of course now, he might have been on his way to Leggett's, but he did spend quite a while in Greenville, and around the college.

Speaking of Bill reminds us that we were quite glad to have Eric Tucker back with us on the campus this past week-end. The old grads are always welcome.

Sinnert caused quite a bit of excitement on the campus. From the answers given to the college girls, the student body will be somewhat diminished in a few months. It seems as if about half of the students registered here now as "Miss" will be registered as "Mr. and Mrs." Well, here's luck to them. It was quite an experience to go to a performance and listen at him read someone else's future. The theatre was full at every showing. Speaking of shows we'd say that "Imitation of Life" would rate four stars in any man's vocabulary.

"It's getting to be spring again. Last Sunday the campus looked like a veritable Easter Parade, with blues and yellow predominating all other colors. Speaking of spring, the campus couplets seem to be doing right well. Short shots? We wonder if Epstein has finally made up his mind—and Fran Ferebee too—"Red" Flanagan is still flitting around—Melba O'Brien and her "Lousy" are still that-a-way—Well, we can't blame them—Now that it is banquet time, we want to know who Kat Hines is going to ask—Theo Easom was seen with a new girl last Sunday—Wake Forest Junior Senior bids are still on the make—

We understand that the tea held last Sunday was well attended—We're glad to see such a movement on campus—and students are already talking about the college dance.

Since graduation is approaching it is thought that this would be of use to some people, since it is a model for filling out an application blank.

WANT REDS OUT OF STATE INSTITUTIONS

Madison, Wis.—Five of Wisconsin's famed "liberal" legislators have started on a ride through the state—and they have vowed to give a long "ride" to any reds that they may find in any of the state's educational institutions.
 Authorized by the Badger senate to investigate recurrent rumors and charges of communism, affiliations and the teaching of atheism and agnosticism in educational institutions in the state, the democratic leader of the investigating committee claims that the purpose of the trip is to clear, if possible, other than convict the schools of these charges.
 The hunt will lead across the University of Wisconsin campus and on to the several state teachers colleges. Even the school of Mines may demand a determination of whether or not burrowing there is on the level or the boring has been from within.
 And, to top it all off, a member of the Wisconsin assembly has introduced a bill to require all Wisconsin school buses to be painted red, white and blue.

PIRATES WIN TOTAL OF SIX GAMES

Stowe, Ferebee, And Ridenhour Turn In Good Work.

Last week saw the curtain brought down on Boys' basketball at E. C. T. C. for this season, when Coach Mathis' Pirates met Elon in the final game.
 Playing a schedule of nineteen games, the boys' quint improved by actual playing experience and expert coaching to finish the season in grand style. Although the Pirates met stiff opposition in such teams as Rocky Mount Y, Guilford, High Point, Davidson College Freshmen, William and Mary, A. C. C., and Lousburg, they won six of the last ten games played, and scored 320 points to their opponents' 308 points.
 Jimmie Johnson and "Jerry" Davis were the big scorers for the entire season and shared scoring honors with 159 points each. Both men turned in outstanding all-round play throughout the season, and it would be difficult to praise them enough.
 Stowe was next in the scoring line with 94 points, and credit for several wins is due largely to his excellent playing. "Lex" Ridenhour, Pirate guard, looped in a total of 75 points during the season and was the team's long-shot artist. "Fran" Ferebee, also a regular guard, played consistently in every game and also contributed his share in the scoring.
 Jack Dunn, Hassell, Calfee, Madrin and Nobles were perhaps the outstanding Pirate reserves.

NEW FORMULA FOR SUCCESS

Atlantic City, N. J.—A new formula for success for women graduates of the colleges and universities in the United States was advanced here recently by Miss Jean L. Shepard, a New York personnel director.
 And the reason most college women find it difficult to obtain jobs after graduation is because they neglect style consciousness for intellectual pursuits, she said.
 "To succeed in business," she advised, "the average college girl must give more attention to her appearance, and that means more than being well dressed. In sweater and skirt, the college girls look attractive on the campus, but I am shocked to see how lacking those same girls are in smartness and chic when they come to New York."

ENERGETIC CANDIDATE SELLS HUMOR MAGAZINE

Philadelphia, Pa.—An energetic candidate for The Owl, Temple University's humor magazine, sold Governor George H. Earle a year's subscription—and what's more, she collected the $1 fee.
 It all happened following the Commencement exercises held here recently, at which the commonwealth's first citizen was awarded the degree of doctor of laws. The governor and other distinguished guests were having luncheon as guest of Pres. and Mrs. Charles E. Boury, when the Owl's circulation staff suddenly decided it would make a good publicity stunt if they could photograph him with an Owl in hand. Followed a hurried hunt for an Owl, as the last few issues sold out on publication, and the discovery that the only copy was one of February, 1934.
 Miss Nadeine Reiter, attractive senior, was delegated to show the copy to the governor, while staff photographer Milton Standler snapped the camera.
 "Do you know," said Governor Earle when the ceremony ended, "I like this magazine." Borrowing a dollar from his secretary, he pressed it into the hands of Miss Reiter before she could protest, or before he could be reminded that as a member ex-officio of the board of trustees he would receive the Owl without cost from now on.

MAJORITY MEN STUDENTS HAVE BEEN BOY SCOUTS

Butler, Pa.—Exactly 65 per cent of the men attending American institutions of higher education were at one time Boy Scouts, according to William G. Heisel, president of the Butler-Armstrong Council of Scouts.
 Using figures obtained in a recent survey, Heisel stated that 60 per cent of all football captains on college teams were Scouts at one time during their careers.
 University sports in Germany are still in their infancy, having been introduced only about 14 years ago by ex-soldiers. Up to now they have considered dueling to be the only sport worthy of them.

EDUCATION REVOLUTION PROCLAIMED A SUCCESS

Chicago, Ill.—The widely discussed University of Chicago "revolution in education" has been proclaimed a success.
 "We do not claim to have discovered a mystic formula for painless education," said Dean Chauncey S. Boucher in a book titled "The Chicago College Plan," "but we do claim that for ten years and particularly during the last five years, we have studied our job in the manner of the most thorough job-analysis."
 Students and faculty alike agree that the plan has greatly improved student-faculty relations, the Dean says, because examinations are divorced from the teaching function, the competition between student and teacher is eliminated.

GOOD, EH WHAT?

W. O. Jolly, manager of the E. C. T. C. Pirates, claims that the boys are "plenty good" on a comparative basis, at least. Since the E. C. T. C. team beat Guilford, Guilford beat High Point, High Point won over Davidson, Davidson defeated N. C. State, State beat Carolina and also Duke. The Pirates could beat any team in the Big Five, comparatively speaking. Perhaps it follows that the Pirates are also unrecognized Southern Conference Champions.

WHAT COLLEGE STUDENTS DO WITH THEIR TIME

Mount Vernon, Ia.—What do college students do with their time? In answer to this none-too-important query, Prof. Russell Cooper, of Cornell College, gives us the following data from a survey conducted by him recently:

1. Senior men spend 55 hours of each week sleeping.
2. Women of Cornell College devote four hours per week more than the men to personal appearance.
3. Senior men are the most studious of the students, and they spend nine and one-half hours per week at the dining table.
4. Freshmen write home on the average of two and one-half hours a week.
5. Junior women consume nine hours and 30 minutes each week for "entertainment."

Bob Crosland To Give Instruction Spring Quarter

Appeared On College Courts Last Week.

An exceptional opportunity was offered tennis lovers at E. C. T. C. last week when the Athletic Committee secured the services of Bob Crosland, professional tennis player from Myers Park Club, Charlotte.
 All students interested in tennis were invited at this time to take advantage of Coach Crosland's instruction and several players were on hand at the time specified by the Athletic Committee.
 Crosland, who is one of the outstanding tennis players in this state, is a former Davidson College Coach and under his direction the Davidson team won a State championship.
 Mr. Deal, chairman of the E. C. T. C. Athletic Committee, states that Crosland will be back again in the Spring quarter, and students will once more have an opportunity to improve their tennis games under the direction of a professional player.

HARVEY ALLEN TURNS ATTENTION TO EDUCATION

Middlebury, Vt.—Harvey Allen, author extraordinary of encyclopedia-sized novels, has turned his attention to education, and in a Middlebury college bulletin calls those who teach "evildoers of the great racket of education."
 He threw many jibes at the professors and instructors who "every year invent a whole new dialect of terms and abstractions to describe even the most ordinary phenomena."
 In commenting upon the perfection of the Bread Loaf School of English, he said that at that school "No time is lost in purblind and 'finician' lectures on the psychology of the A-Z group in B-3 high school grade, fourth ward, soda centro, or upon the deep mysteries of how to attract attention or to ventilate a school room."

Site For The 1940 Olympics Are To Be Picked Next Year

Site of 1940 Olympic games will not be determined until next year, the International Olympic Congress decided recently, although it had formerly planned to name the site during the present meeting.
 Originally the games were unofficially set for Italy, but as a result of overtures from Japan, Italian officials decided to step aside so that the games could be held in Tokyo.
 Recently, however, it developed that there was some uncertainty as to Italy's exact position in the matter and it was decided to wait until the next meeting during the Olympic games at Berlin.

MANY PROFESSORS CALLED INTO SERVICE

New Haven, Conn.—Yale University has called a halt on furnishing brain trust material to the federal government.
 So many Yale professors have been called into government service during the past two years that Pres. James Rowland Angell has said that, "Fairness to the students requires that the university call a halt, despite its genuine desire to serve the public interest."
 Pointing out that the "situation has at times reached proportions which have not been free of embarrassment," President Angell said: "If such men as a consequence of the conscientious performance of their official duties become involved in highly controversial issues eliciting violent feeling, the university gets drawn into the picture in ways which may be quite prejudicial."

Ramblers Lose Hard Fought Game To A. S. T. C.

SINCLAIR AND ASKEW ARE HIGH SCORERS

Captain Briley Continues Good Playing.

Another seemingly impossible peak was successfully ascended by the E. C. T. C. girls' basketball team last week when they tied the varsity William and Mary team at Williamsburg, Va.
 Handicapped by a foreign court, three division play, and comparative diminitiveness, Coach Frank's team fought valiantly in the third quarter to change a one-sided score to a 25-all tie. The last half was played on a two division basis, and although William and Mary led 21-10 at the end of the third quarter, the Ramblers staged a thrilling comeback to score 15 points before the final whistle and limit the Virginia sextet to two action shots.

Horne, of William and Mary, was high scorer of the evening, with fifteen points, but she was closely paced by Sinclair, Rambler forward, who sank six long shots during the last half. Askev ranked next in the scoring with eleven points.
 The guards of both teams failed to weaken in any period, and Captain Briley turned in excellent all-around play for the teachers.

LOSE ONE

A strong A. S. T. C. team downed the Ramblers last Friday evening, 25-17, by virtue of it's playing in the first half while the E. C. T. C. team was firing on about "two cylinders."
 During the first period the teams jumped center, and the Ramblers received an advantage in ten toss-ups. As a result, although the E. C. T. C. forwards attempted several almost perfect shots, the score board reflected a 15-1 score at the turn in favor of the Boone Teachers.
 In their characteristic manner, the Ramblers staged a brilliant comeback in the final half, and even in defeat the team gave another demonstration that they never know when they're whipped. Led by Anne Askew, Coach Frank's forwards scored sixteen points in that final period. Askev netted 13 of her team's points, and looped through some beautiful shots.
 The A. S. T. C. team was outplayed in every division in the last half of the contest, but their 14 point lead proved too great for the Ramblers to overcome in the (Continued on page four)

Ruth Henderson, Reporter

A deputation team of three men from the Baptist Union of Wake Forest College conducted the Y. W. C. A. services of East Carolina Teachers College Sunday night, February 24th. Their subject was "Peace," subdivided into three topics, "World Peace," "Man Peace," and "Soul Peace."

Alfred Martin, of Lumberton, in talking on "World Peace" stated that it is evident that the majority of people want peace, and that one task before the student generation of today is to recognize the great problems that are confronting the nations and to think through them so that they can do something about them when they become leaders.

Only when people think in terms of Peace can World Peace come.

Junius Martin, of Adairsville, Ga., talked on "Man Peace." A vital personal question in every life, he said, is how to live in order to bring about a peaceful and abundant life. When one has learned to blend into harmonious living the secular with the sacred side of his being, then only does he attain peace in life.

W. R. Dixon, of Rocky Mount, developed the third topic as the climax of the series. He said it is the soul that controls the intellect and will; when it flows through the intellect it is called genius; and when through the affections, it is called love, which he interpreted in its greatest sense. Man, he said, does not realize the full potentialities of the soul, until he achieves peace of the soul. Then there is an influx of the divine, creating within one a desire to become Christ-like, and it is this which makes problems, both world and personal, seem to fade into nothing, and then only does the individual attain "Soul Peace."

The service was closed with a prayer-hymn sung by Alfred Martin, after which, W. R. Dixon gave the benediction.

PROMOTION OF WAR

Iowa City, Ia.—A "League for the promotion of War" has been organized at the University of Iowa.

Founded by a group of students who believe that dictatorship is the only solution for the complex of modern civilization, the new club is opposed to another group here which is advocating world peace.

Compulsory military training for all male citizens in the United States was one of the resolutions passed at the first meeting of the organization. In addition, if this club has its way, all college students, both men and women, would be required to take four years of military study.

The group leaders plan to invite Huey P. Long to become its honorary leader.

COLLEGE EDITORS HAIL END OF "RAH-RAH" ERA

The "Rah-Rah boy" who went to college to enjoy life and obtain some social luster, strain his vocal chords in the cheer gangs, and offer to die any time for dear old Alma Mater is disappearing from the campus. A student interested in world affairs, government, and social and political economy, is taking the campus play-boy's place.

This is the encouraging announcement of Dr. Walter A. Jessup in his first report as President of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. It is concurred in by a number of university and college editors who were queried by The Literary Digest.

Add this evidence to the indications brought out by the Literary Digest peace poll (that the students of to-day are more serious-minded than their predecessors of the 'twenties,) and the weight of testimony is overwhelmingly in support of Doctor Jessup's report.

That report, said the New York Times "furnishes profitable reading for the presidents, trustees, teachers, and graduates of the more than 800 colleges and universities in the United States. So valuable are its ten pages in general review of the world of the year—that they should be given wider circulation."

Sounds A Warning
While he was putting in a good word for the student of to-day, Doctor Jessup sounded a warning that a struggle for survival among American colleges was imminent. He pointed out that the United States had 800 institutions of higher education while in all England, Scotland, Wales, and Ireland there were fewer than twenty-five.

Already, he said, there were some American institutions which were so far from fulfilling their function that they might as well abandon the struggle. There would be others, he predicted, which would lose ground, and some which would disappear.

"The issue of the struggle, asserted Doctor Jessup, will not depend on money. 'Survival will be conditioned by intelligent leadership, high morale, and the courage to be sincere with the students by selecting and educating them only in the field of institutional competency and in that field doing a genuine and significant job.'

"In the long run, colleges will be evaluated by their success in maintaining themselves as seats of learning for students and staff.

Of special interest to parents whose sons are in college or preparing to matriculate is Doctor Jessup's description of the campus-boy of to-day. He "is no longer the blase, sophisticated student of the 'twenties; he is a hard-working, serious-minded person who demands more of the college library, the laboratory and the instructor than did his brother of a decade ago."

Views of Student Editors
Student editors from widely scattered campuses agree. In reply to The Literary Digest's question, D. B. Hardeman, Editor of The Daily Texan, student publication of the University of Texas, said the "rah-rah days are gone."

Mr. Hardeman, who is also President of the Intercollegiate Daily Editors' Association, wrote: "Greater use of libraries, better conduct of students, demand of newspaper readers for more serious articles, increased interest of students in politics, less emphasis on fraternity membership, less emphasis on athletics, greater independence of thought, less reverence for existing institutions, show the college man is thinking more and playing less."

"The passing of the 'rah-hah' era is a blessing of hard times," replied Albert Kosek, Editor of The Minnesota Daily, University of Minnesota. "Students now want dollar for dollar values in education."

"The student has been taken down from his pedestal and is no longer expected to be a magician. If universities can adhere to true liberalism and remain out of the clutches of politicians, they may yet save us from ourselves."

"The depression killed Joe College," wired Chandler Harris, Editor of The California Daily Brain, of the University of California at Los Angeles. "Economic necessity has forced thought into the life of college students. Foolish hazing and tradition, exorbitantly expensive fraternities, excessive drinking and gambling are disappearing. Serious thought on economics and political problems is increasing."

Equally emphatic was the reply from Janathan B. Bingham, Chairman of The Yale Daily News, who said that the most conclusive evidence of the change in student type "is that 'rah-rah' is now a term of derision. Yale's serious-mindedness is shown by tripling registration in government economics courses, a demand for small classes, and individual instruction."

"The founding of the Yale Political Union and liberal curricular changes are widely acclaimed here. The Yale Daily News resents exclusion of Yale in the list, and declares that there is great progress in students' awareness and thinking."

The resentment expressed by Mr. Bingham is evidently in reference to the statement by Doctor Jessup that the emergence of the serious-minded student "has been notably true at Chicago, Harvard, Minnesota, and Princeton."

A Marked Trend

The statement is borne out as it concerns the great university at Chicago. "Chicago is distinctly less 'rah-rah' since the depression and new plan," wired Howard P. Hudson, Editor of The Daily Maroon.

"There is a marked trend toward academic political and international discussions by students, rather than the campus politics of old days."

Less positive, but encouraging, is the message from the University of Virginia. The "rah-rah" era ended here years ago," replied Murat Williams, Editor of College Topics. "It still prevails farther South, and in some Virginia colleges. 'Rah-rahism' has been turned into superficial sophistication, which may be worse. However, the new era shows a strong minority interest in public affairs."

COLLEGE PROFESSORS INVESTIGATE DISMISSAL

Pittsburgh, Pa.—(IP)—A committee of college professors, investigating the dismissal of a professor at the University of Pittsburgh, issued a report that the university's administration was inimical to the welfare of the institution.

Dr. John G. Bowman, chancellor of the University, went before the Daughters of the American Revolution to be cheered as he announced:

"There has been a vast amount of destructive propaganda in the university lately. I think I am on solid ground when I insist that teachers must be patriotic and reverent. That is only common sense."

The biggest swarm of those who have crowded a full East Carolina Teachers College at one time in a good many swayed (as well as possible such a slick floor) Saturday night to the scintillating ball of Burt Repine and his High Pilots, from WRVA, Rich Virginia. Seen and heard in music producing array of stars were Glenn Roberson, eternal relation of Mary S and well-known in by-gone on the streets of Greenville, Billy Aiken, known to many our Wilsonians as the kid could always muster music of something, even though the old familiar saxophone tale is also out about his spelling every kid in the boro graded schools, through seventh grade, when he was in the third, and getting box of candy for it.
